The 171st anniversary of the adoption of the American flag by the Continental Congress in 1777 was celebrated at the Saybrook School on Flag Day, June 14, by a flag presentation and flag burning ceremony. The exercises were held at the base of the flagpole and attended by the children of the school. The exercises were held under the auspices of the Hurden-Looker Post 50, American Legion, and its auxiliary with direct plans being formulated and conducted by Walter Howell, representing the American Legion.

The ceremony brought to a climax a unit of study conducted through the school since the beginning of May on the significance of the American flag. The children have been studying the history of the flags of all nations as well as the history and meaning of our American flag. A unit has been worked in the hall of the school depicting the following flags: the flags of 1775-1777 which included "The Flag of Liberty," "An Appeal to Heaven" and "Don't Tread on Me." In another spot in the hall, the history of our American flag shows how it began in 1775, what it was like in 1777, the flag of 1795, 1818 and the present day flag of 1948. The children have been studying the meaning of each. It has been brought out, through their study, that the flag at first had only thirteen stars for the thirteen original states. The 48th star, for Arizona, was added in 1912. Never before has so long a period as thirty-six years

See Accredited Rating Threatened If School Facilities Are Inadequate

Ballots in last Tuesday's referendum on adding a wing to the high school had hardly been counted before sentiment appeared at Thursday night's meeting of the Board of Education either for re-submission of the same referendum or some other plan that would be likely to meet with the approval of the voters.

Walter Leibo kept the topic alive when, as chairman of the board's Sites and New Buildings Committee, he thanked board members and Dr. Wayne T. Branom, supervising principal of schools, for presenting the picture of the school problem to parent-teacher organizations. He admitted he was disappointed in the turnout for the vote on the referendum.

He declared, however, that he was not discouraged. He charged the opposition to the high school wing with misquoting the truth and asserted one member of the Township Committee fought against the plan without having appeared at a single meeting at which it was discussed. He did not identify the official.

Leibo branded as an "absolute lie" stories that he was to receive a job as special attorney for the projected wing and that there was absolutely no foundation for the rumor. He denied the reports of heavy tax increases, declaring the rate would have been increased by only six points, or about $400 on the average annual tax bill.

The result of the referendum, Leibo declared, did not express the feelings of all the citizens, and "if that's all the opposition can get, if the question is put up again it will go over overwhelmingly." He pointed out that voters on the north side tried to help the people in the Saybrook area, but that the Saybrook people themselves failed to cooperate.

As for making use of the vacant rooms in the Hillside Avenue School, Leibo said many of those who used the rooms as an excuse to vote against the high school wing had never attended a meeting to contradict the plans of those who had given their life work to education. "If the Saybrook children have to be sent to the Hillside Avenue School, what will the Saybrook people say then?" Leibo asked. "Perhaps the opposition will give us some formula. They have played with the future of the children and it's a dangerous thing. Let them come out in the open. I am ready

Zoning Ordinance Revision Proposed

Mayor Says Changes Over Period Of Years Require Attention

Necessity for revision of the existing zoning ordinance to recognize changes which have come with the years throughout the township was cited by Mayor Raymond R. King at the meeting of the Township Committee last night. The mayor's statement was made during discussion of a recommendation by the Zoning Board of Adjustment to permit an exception to the prevailing zone at Sweetland avenue and Paul street for the erection of a diner.

There has been a constantly increasing number of requests for exceptions to existing zones, Mayor King declared, and added it was his hope that work of revising the zoning ordinance would get under way in the early fall.

Argue Over Diner

The particular case before the committee was the effort of Nicholas and Alfred Marcinkowski, of 556 Leo street, to erect a diner in a Residence B zone. Ellsworth J. Sterner, representing the petitioners, pointed out that on the basis of petitions signed in favor of the diner by residents of the area a diner had already been purchased. Another petition, presented by Edward B. Miller, president of the Hillside Heights Civic Association, opposed granting the exception.

Communication from various industries in the area favored the diner as an accommodation for their employees and Leslie Reed, a resident of the section, pointed out that lack of dining facilities increased the traffic hazard by forcing workers to drive to eating places further away. Action on the petition was tabled.

King Street Objects

Residents of King street presented a petition objecting to use of the street by Public Service buses since it is a light traffic street and not part of the bus route. The petition was referred to the Transportation Committee.

The committee voted to advertise for public sale the offer of the Jerome Corp. to purchase 210 feet on Jerome avenue at $30 a foot.

A communication from the Hillside Heights Civic Association thanked the committee for improvements made to the playground at Calvin Coolidge School.

Inadequate Play Areas Continue To Plague Officials

Constantly increasing pressure for more adequate recreation facilities in the township again came to the fore at the Board of Education meeting last Thursday night in the high school.

Peter Arlauckas, representing the Aztec A. A., requested the board to grant the Aztecs the use of Woodfield Stadium on Conant street for Sunday football, declaring he would finance all legal costs if approval of his request involved the board in court action.

Joseph G. Scheu, board member who has just resigned as chairman of the Hillside Recreation Board, urged granting Arlauckas' request, pointing out that the Hillside team in the Union County Baseball League recently transferred its franchise to Roselle Park, inferring that one of the reasons was lack of a local playing field. Mrs. Emma W. Knox, another board member, also indicated she favored the idea.

Earlier in the meeting Jack J. Rosenberg had read from a copy of an agreement between the Board of Education and property owners in the vicinity of Woodfield Stadium, signed in 1937 when the stadium was erected, in which the property owners agreed to drop an injunction suit on the understanding that the stadium would be used only for the comparatively few home football games of the high school eleven on Saturday afternoons. Arnold H. McGlow pointed out that last year, when a similar request was made on behalf of the Newark East Siders, managed by Vito Robertozzi of Hillside, residents near the stadium were preparing to fight the move. Harlow H. Curtis expressed the opinion that Arlauckas' offer to fight any court action was impossible, since it would be the board that would become involved in the suit and not Arlauckas.

Arlauckas, realizing that there would be considerable delay in any attempt to obtain use of the stadium by an outside team and considering that he would have to start soon to equip the team and make all necessary arrangements, finally told the board "to forget about the whole thing."

Scheu brought up the question of keeping the school playgrounds open after the close of the regular playground season in mid-August, on Saturdays and after school when weather permits. Three boys in the sixth grade class of Saybrook School, Frank Gianforte, of 336 Leland place; Jerry Kaplan, of 361 Conant street; and Gilbert Lehr, of 575 Riverside drive, had broached the subject to the board, pointing out they were having difficulty finding a place to play baseball when the playgrounds are not open. As a temporary expedient they were advised to obtain a permit for use of the Central Avenue field from the Recreation Board.

Scheu's idea, however, was more in line with what these and other boys throughout the township desire. Dr. Wayne T. Branom, supervising principal, pointed out that there is always difficulty obtaining personnel to supervise the school grounds except during the summer vacation and Scheu proposed that the grounds might be kept open without supervision. Other members cited the increasing hazard of accident with unsupervised play and the probable increased cost of liability insurance. Mrs. Knox agreed with Scheu that more extensive use of the playgrounds is desirable and she was designated to obtain information on the cost of insurance to protect the board if the playgrounds are kept open as Scheu proposed.

Overflow Attendance At High School Commencement

Hillside High School's 25th anniversary class passed into the realm of the alumni last night at the annual commencement exercises before an overflow attendance in the auditorium. Diplomas were awarded to 223 graduates.

Four scholarships were awarded at the exercises. Beatrice Levy won the Milton Singer Memorial Scholarship of $200. Elaine Wagner won the $100 Rotary Scholarship and two additional Rotary nurses' scholarships, worth $150 each, were presented to Angela Casciano and Alyce Toth.

A cash gift was presented by the class to the school's organ fund which will eventually provide a new Hammond organ for the auditorium.

As has been the custom for several years now, the program was entirely in the hands of the students. The student speakers were Lorraine Williams, Elaine Wagner, and Rita Feldman. The musical portion of the program was presented by June Jajovsky, Paul Janzak and Edwin Rothfeld.

The class gift, presented by Robert Tabit, class president, was accepted by Ruhl Custer, principal, who also presented the scholarships. The class was presented by Dr. Wayne T. Branom, supervising principal, and diplomas were presented by Edward W. Earle, president of the Board of Education.

Doctors In Tribute To Dr. Wm. Zimmer

A tribute to the civic consciousness of Dr. William Zimmer, who died on June 8, was paid by the Clinical Society of the Elizabeth General Hospital last Wednesday night at its annual dinner meeting at the Plainfield Country Club.

The society adopted a resolution of sympathy on Dr. Zimmer's death which declared in part: "He was interested in the welfare of his fellow man and in bettering society. His enthusiasm and idealism will be greatly missed."

Preparation of the resolution was by a group of physicians which included Dr. Edward J. Mores and Dr. William F. Wacker, both of Hillside. Dr. Wacker was a classmate of Dr. Zimmer at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University.

It was pointed out that with the constantly shifting Jewish population away from Newark to the suburbs there should be a corresponding de-emphasis away from Newark as the center of all activity, although Newark would remain the focal point.

At the same time, as far as Hillside is concerned, it was brought out that the youth program here seems to have brought much greater response than the adult program with the result that there should be greater concentration on the youth program. This can be accomplished, it is believed, with the same local organization with some modifications.

In order to bring the proposal before the membership at large of the Jewish Council, a meeting will be held next Tuesday night in the vestry of Sinai Congregation, 1581 Maple avenue, at 8:45 o'clock.

Attending the special committee meeting were Pat Goldberg, area advisor; George Handler, Mrs. Anne Jaffe, Mrs. Clair Miller, Mrs. Martha Diamond, Walter Leibo, Edward Gottlieb, Mrs. Cell Abramowitz, Mrs. Rose Berger, Leo Arch, Rabbi Eliezer Cohen, Harry Melzer, Harry Cohn, Benjamin S. Berkowitz and Herbert Cohen.

Will Cooperate In Battle On Rabies

In order to cooperate with a proposal of the State Department of Health urging a program for the inoculation of dogs against rabies, Samuel M. Jowitz, secretary was directed by the Board of Health last night to investigate the possibility of obtaining a veterinarian to administer the inoculations. The State Department, Jowitz declared, would furnish the vaccine so the cost would be reduced.

It was pointed out by Dr. Henry J. Konzelmann, board president, that Hillside's problem is chiefly that of stray dogs rather than those privately owned, and that adequate action against the stray animals would probably make a widespread campaign for inoculation unnecessary.

Due to receipt of numerous complaints from residents in various sections of the township against extensive growth of ragweed and poison ivy, Jowitz was authorized to order a spraying attachment for use on municipal trucks to spray the obnoxious weeds.

Object To Noise

The secretary was directed to write the Supreme Cleaners & Dyers, of 309 Hillside avenue, of complaints of noise of plant operation as early as 4 a.m. and as late as midnight, and requesting that the working hours be adjusted to more normal practices.

Permission was granted to C. Coleman, of 1432 Orchard terrace, to connect with the sewer main on Compton terrace, due to a difficulty in elevation which makes connecting with the sewer in front of the property impossible without special pumping devices.

Brown Grid Coach At Caldwell High

Township Committeeman John M. Brown was appointed head football coach at Caldwell High School by the Caldwell Board of Education Tuesday night. Brown is a physical education instructor in the Caldwell school and coached jayvee football the past season, the team being undefeated and untied.

Brown, former halfback on the Hillside eleven, played varsity football here for three years and on the basketball team also. He studied coaching under Lynn Waldorf at Northwestern University and later played football at the University of Florida. He was graduated from Teachers College of Columbia University.

Don't Mention It

Hillside Needs A UN Slogan For Voters Public Comes First

Events following in the wake of the recent referendum on the proposed high school wing convince us that relations between our two elective official boards, the Township Committee and Board of Education, have deteriorated to the point where the ministrations of a board of arbitration or mediation are advisable. At the last meeting of the Board of Education, Walter Leibo, chairman of the Sites and New Buildings Committee, charged that a township committee had worked against the referendum without having once attended a meeting at which the proposition was discussed. During the time preceding the referendum and since, there were—and still are—rumors that township officials felt if the Board of Education was going to spend right up to the hilt of its legal debt-incurring capacity, the Township Committee might as well go out and do likewise. In discussing the referendum with another local official, we are under the impression that he is almost as much in the dark over the whole thing as the most uninformed layman.

There is something about this situation that bodes no good for the community's welfare. These two official boards should be working in harmony and unison. Time and again we have suggested that they have joint meetings occasionally to map out future projects which the community sadly needs. Instead of getting together on a friendly basis, they seem to be drifting apart in a spirit of acrimony, jealousy and standing on their individual rights like a bunch of kids. That way they will get nowhere and residents of the township—and the community's good name—will be the sufferers.

If the people of Hillside can't depend on their officials to see eye to eye with them on the community's needs and requirements, then perhaps the voters of Hillside should clear them all out and put in some new ones. A good slogan for the citizen-voters might be, "Get together—or get out."

And that reminds us—what has happened to the Planning Board or Commission that was supposed to have been appointed? If the Township Committee has neither the time nor desire to plan for the community's future, why not turn the work over to a group of citizens who might be able to give it some attention? After all, it's only about the most important thing in the life of the community.

Getting back to the school referendum, Pete Arlauckas, Chairman of the Zoning Board of Adjustment, admits he was the one responsible for the sound truck which went around the day of the election urging people to vote against the referendum on the ground that its passage would jump taxes way up. Confronted with the statement of school officials that the tax increase would be only 6 to 7 points the first two years and less after that, Arlauckas insisted that whatever money had to be spent would be spent. He apparently gave little consideration to the idea that bond issues for the purpose are spread over periods of as much as 30 to 40 years.

At the last school board meeting residents of Tudor Court in Westminster, urged re-submission of the referendum and said, if necessary, they would hire two sound trucks next time. When informed of this Arlauckas declared in that case he would get four! We should have quite a time.

But all this will get us nowhere. People of the community must be given the facts straight. We want to know how much truth there is in statements by school officials that the accredited rating of our school system is in danger unless certain things are done. No one—but no one—must play with the future welfare of the youngsters.

This whole situation should be straightened out between the two official groups and the people—and we must go forward in the best interests of all. There must be no petty rivalry and seeking for individual glory. This is public business—and the public comes first.

Little Lucille Davino, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davino, of 1241 Baker street, at this writing is in the Elizabeth General Hospital, victim of Cooley's anemia, a disease similar to and probably just as incurable as leukemia. She has already received a number of blood transfusions and needs them constantly to remain alive. Her parents have arrived at the point where they must rely on the generosity of friends, neighbors and others to provide life blood for the child. Weds Capt. Smolenski In Tokyo Ceremony

GHQ SPECIAL NEWS SERVICE, TOKYO, JAPAN.—The GHQ Chapel Center in Tokyo was the setting for one of the Orient's loveliest late spring weddings, when on Saturday, May 15, during a four p.m. candlelit, double-ring ceremony, Miss Eva L. Maxwell, of Glendale, Utah, became the bride of Captain Felix S. Smolenski, of Hillside, New Jersey.

Reading the solemn and beautiful Protestant nuptials, was the Rev. E. L. Chissold, Protestant Missionary in Japan, from Honolulu, T. H., and a friend of the bride. He is in Japan as a missionary for the Latter Day Saints Church of America. The nuptial vows were pledged before an altar banked with mixed spring floral blossoms. Preceding the ceremony, the chapel organist played traditional wedding selections, and favorite songs of the bride and groom.

Miss Maxwell was given in marriage by Lt. Col. Ernest B. Stevenson, Judge Advocate, Headquarters and Service Group, of Marion, South Carolina. She chose a suit of pale blue wool crepe fashioned on tailored lines. Her suit was headed on the lapels, and she wore matching accessories in shell pink and grey. Her hat was off-face crown sailor in pale blue straw. An arch of pale pink camellias trimmed her hat. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, fastened with narrow white silk streamers.

Her attendant, Miss Ottila Brueggemann, maid of honor, of St. Louis, Missouri, wore a pale yellow gabardine suit, with cocoa brown accessories. She carried a bouquet of baby yellow orchids, and wore a small, off the face yellow straw hat.

Performing the duties of groomsmen was Captain Jack, Sexton, Spokane, Washington, presently attached to General Headquarters in Tokyo with the Adjutant General's Office.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Gold Room of the stately American Club, located in downtown Tokyo. The newly wedded couple, aided by their attendants, received hosts of friends and well-wishers. Among distinguished guests at the wedding and reception were: Colonel T. F. Taylor, Deputy Commander, Headquarters and Service Group, of Winchester, Tennessee; Colonel R. M. Levy, Adjutant General, General MacArthur's Headquarters; members of the Navy Staff Command in Tokyo, and the Allied diplomatic corps.

Marks 76th Birthday

A beautifully white draped oval table was an impressive five tiered wedding cake. In the cutting of the cake, the couple used a historic Samurai sword. A Japanese string ensemble provided background melodies for dancing.

For traveling, the bride wore orchids from her bridal bouquet pinned to her shoulder. Following the reception, the pair departed for the famed resort of Aso Kanko, located amidst picturesque mountain ranges on the island of Kyushu, southern-most Japanese island. Upon returning from their wedding trip, the couple will make their residence in Tokyo.

The former Miss Maxwell is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Maxwell, of Glendale, Utah. Captain Smolenski is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Smolenski, 18 Cedar street, Hillside.

Prior to arriving at General MacArthur's Headquarters in Tokyo during the latter part of 1946, Miss Maxwell was employed with the United States Air Forces as War Department civilian employee at Hickam Field, Honolulu, T. H., as stenographer, for two years. Her sister, Mrs. R. L. McGookin, now resides at 3135 Muanuan avenue, Honolulu, T. H. SUMMER CIRCUS PARTY

LIKE many other events, the circus season comes but once a year, but memories linger and all year round circus-minded youngsters play at being ring masters, lion tamers, clowns and all the rest of the familiar, glamorous figures of the big tent. For children's parties circus decorations are exciting and colorful. But don't be surprised if the party turns into an impromptu circus, roaring lions and all.

Party food for children should be plain and wholesome, but attractive to the eye. You'll find that youngsters are a thirsty crowd, so provide them with a good, cooling beverage, and plenty of it. If you choose easy-to-make drinks, you might even offer a choice. Best for children are drinks made from fresh fruit juices and sparkling water or ginger ale. Fruit juices are healthful, and children like the fizz of sparkling water and the tang of ginger ale. Grapefruit juice and sparkling water in half and half proportions, with a little sweetening, is a simple and delightful drink. Here's another, place three tablespoons each of orange juice and grape juice, sweetened to taste, in a tall glass. Add ice cubes and fill the glass with ginger ale. Citrus fruits, vitamin-packed, are excellent for children's party drinks, and you might try this one made with oranges and limes.

Citrus Egg Nog. 4 eggs, well beaten. 1 cup light corn syrup. Juice of 4 oranges. Juice of 2 limes. 1/2 teaspoon salt. 1 cup evaporated milk. Sparkling water. Combine eggs, corn syrup, orange and lime juices, salt and evaporated milk. Beat thoroughly. Pour over ice in eight tall glasses and fill the glasses with sparkling water.

Bride's Cake. 1/2 cup butter or 3 tsp. baking powder. 1 1/2 cups sugar. 1/4 cup milk. 2 1/2 cups sifted flour. 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar. 1/2 tsp. salt. 6 egg whites. 1 tsp. vanilla. Cream butter or margarine and sugar. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until stiff. Fold egg whites into cake mixture. Add flavoring. Prepare two times the recipe for a three-tiered cake, pans measuring 10", 8", 6" in diameter by 3" deep. Pour into pans that have been greased and lined with waxed paper. Bake at 325°F. for 60 minutes. When cool frost layers lightly with Ornamental Frosting. When dry, refrost cake with a generous amount of icing. Decorate cake with Pearl Frosting.

Ornamental Frosting. 4 egg whites. 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar. 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. 1 tsp. vanilla. Beat egg whites with 2 tsp. sugar for 3 minutes; continue to beat and add a small amount of sugar at a time beating thoroughly after each addition, until a knife cut down into frosting makes a clear cut. Add vanilla. The success depends entirely on the thorough beating after each addition of sugar. Keep frosting bowl covered with a damp cloth to prevent a crust forming.

Pearl Frosting. 2 egg whites. 1/4 cup shortening. 2 cups sifted icing confectioners' sugar. 1 tsp. glycerine. 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Beat egg whites stiff, gradually adding 1 cup of sugar. Beat until smooth and thick. Cream shortening. Add 1/2 cup sugar. Mix well. Combine two mixtures. Add glycerine and flavoring. Gradually add remaining sugar beating thoroughly, until a knife cut down into frosting makes a clear cut.

Chicken Leaf Salad. 7 tbsp. gelatine. 1 cup chopped green peppers. 2 cups cold water. 6 tbsp. chopped pimiento. 2 1/2 qts. boiling chicken broth. 3 cups chopped stuffed olives. 1 cup vinegar. 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper. 3 tsp. salt. 1 1/2 qts. diced chicken. 1 tbsp. onion juice. 3 cups chopped pecans. 1/4 tsp. Worcester-shire sauce. 6 cups diced celery. Lettuce. Soften gelatine in cold water 5 minutes; add to boiling chicken broth stirring until dissolved. Add vinegar and salt. Cool. When cool and slightly thickened add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Turn into three 13"x9"x2" pans, lightly greased with oil. Chill until firm. When ready to serve cut into 3" squares, unmold on lettuce cups and garnish. Serves 50.

Angel Cup Cakes. 1/2 cup milk. 1 tsp. vanilla. 2 tsp. butter or 1 tsp. baking powder. 1 cup sugar. 1/4 tsp. salt. 1 cup sifted enriched flour. 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar. Heat milk, butter or margarine slowly to boiling point. Beat in sugar. Add sifted dry ingredients. Mix well. Beat egg whites slightly, add cream of tartar. Beat until stiff. Fold egg whites into cake mixture, add flavoring. Pour into greased cup cake tins or paper cups. Bake at 350°F. for 20 minutes. Makes 24 small cup cakes.

Winning County Title Highlights Comet Baseball Season

Pitching Staff Credited With Outstanding Record

Won Fourteen Games And Lost Only Three

By HERB MAX

With the conclusion of the baseball season, another chapter has been written into the book of Hillside's sports history. This year featured a championship football combine and the best baseball team since 1941 as far as Union County competition goes. Both were coached by "Red" Weiner.

Surveying the past baseball season, a somewhat confusing picture is seen. The Comets were definitely capable. This year's team is the product of three-year's work for Weiner, who returned from the Navy to resume the reins of Comet sport destiny. This team has rapidly improved in the past three years and went farther this year than in the past.

The prime achievement of the team was the winning of the Union County Interscholastic Baseball League championship. This is the first time since 1941 that the Comets have walked off with this honor. Prior to 1941 the county had "A" and "B" leagues but after both were consolidated Hillside was crowned first champion. They also won the Greater Newark Tournament that year, the last time the Comets accomplished this. The Maroon and Grey took the crown in 1941 and advanced to the finals twice afterward only to lose to Kearny and Calwell in both engagements. They still are just one championship behind the leading Irvington record as far as total laurels won. They have participated one more time in the finals than their Campion neighbor. Only once, last year, did they fail to receive a bid from the choosing committee to enter into the tournament.

Union Comes Obstacle

Although they took the county championship, the Comets failed to be selected for the Group III Section 2 crown. Ironically, Union captured the honor. The Union team won because of their victory over the Comets. The committee thought that the fact that the Comets beat two teams which humbled the Farmers was not as important. These two teams are Group IV. They are Thomas Jefferson of Elizabeth and Plainfield High Schools.

Because the Union County schools are largely Group III, the Comets were considered to have the inside track on the award but were disappointed. The Comets copped the first place spot in the county league with an eleven won—one lost record. The second place clubs, Thomas Jefferson and Union, both turned in ten wins—two defeats as a mark, giving the Comets clear possession. Hillside High was awarded a gold figure of a batter on a wooden stand with an engraved plate to signify the victory.

For an overall record this year the Comets boast a fourteen won—three lost record. The Comets overcome aggregations representing St. Mary's of Elizabeth, Roselle, St. Patrick's, also of Elizabeth; Thomas Jefferson, Weequahic, Plainfield, Cranford, Roselle Park, Barringer, and Newark, Linden, Edison, Regional and Rahway. Except for Barringer and Weequahic, both Newark schools, these victories accounted for the Union title. Only Union beat the Comets in the county circuit. They share the honor of besting the Hillside in regular competition with Columbia of South Orange-Maplewood which topped the local team. In tournament competition, the Comets beat West Side of Newark before bowing to Union in a return performance. Irvington and Westfield both cancelled their games for the season because of continuous inclement weather which

Win Ten Straight

The victims of the Comets suffered some humiliating defeats as the Comets, who were extremely torrid in the middle of the season, went on winning ten in a row before losing their first game. They licked the traditional rival Weequahic combine 19-2 for the most lopsided victory scored this season. Their losses were all close games while only one victory was a hair breadth affair. This was the vital, early season meeting with Thomas Jefferson's highly touted nine, which succumbed, 3-2, in an exciting seventh inning finish.

The Comets can put most of the credit for this outstanding record on the quality of the pitching staff. The 48 Comets had a most effective one-two punch in Ed Jasinski and Phil Amato. The Comet staff again became the envy of almost every other coach in this area as it has been consistently in the past. Ed was the dean of the mound staff. He recorded eight victories against no defeats before losing the vital Union Greater Newark game. He threw one no-hitter, against Plainfield, and won, easily, 5-0. He almost repeated his last year no-hit effort against Regional this year. In the seventh inning, with two outs, a Regional batter got the first safety off Jasinski to rob him of a second no-hitter. Jasinski maintained an average of 2.25 strikeouts an inning and whiffed sixteen men in one game. The opposition scored fourteen off Ed all season.

Far from the weak link in the chain, Phil Amato, phenomenal soph athlete, earned his third varsity letter in his first year of competition, a feat unequalled in the last few years at least. Phil, when he picks up the sassy and alertness of Jasinski's experience, should turn out to be a terror for opposing batters. He has a ripping fast ball and a good curve. Since his coming to the high school Phil has improved greatly since his days at junior high. Phil won four of the remaining Comet's six victories. He threw two no-hitters this year. In his first high school start, Amato set down a supposedly strong St. Patrick's team hitless. Then Rahway fell without a safety late in the season to assure the Comets of at least a tie in the county league. Weequahic tallied two runs on two hits in the rout that Hillside enacted at the Indians' expense. Barringer collected three safeties off the star football fullback. In all, he gave up five hits in his four victories. Quite a mark for a soph. Phil also struck out approximately two batters an inning to keep close to Jasinski. Union beat him on an error, 1-0 and Columbia, a hard slugging outfit, rattled him for a 4-2 victory. Phil is expected to be the mainstay of next year's hurlers. Herky Schickedanz and Len Bierman are also logical replacements for the two graduating hurlers.

Kull Won Two

The third Comet hurler, Paul Kull, having a spotless record, holds two decisions over Roselle and Edison of Elizabeth. A lanky senior, Paul filled in capably for the Comets although he was third pitcher. Kull also served as reserve first baseman and saw action at that post. He collected a few hits in his at bats, giving him a high average.

Behind the plate, a most important position, was Joe D'Amiano, a smart receiver who came along nicely this season. An All-State football player, D'Amiano proved his versatility by being the only Hillside catcher able to hold Jasinski effectively. He also hit fairly well and his clutch double in the West Side game sent in the winning run to keep the Comets in the tourney. D'Amiano stole twenty-two bases all season. Rupert Sierra, who also played this year, is expected to fill in next year. Rupert has a good eye and fair arm.

Leading the Comet batters was Ben Scasserra, right fielder. Ben rapped off twenty-four safeties in fifty-nine trips to the plate. This gave him an impressive .407 mark for the season. In County competition, Scasserra batted a lousy .450. This is an achievement for high school batters when the pitchers are so far ahead of the hitters in general. Ben also led in hits but his average was only second on the club. He batted out fourteen safeties and hit a 290 clip. He hit a home run, his only one of the season, against Rahway. Phil Amato is the only other Comet to smash a circuit clout. This boy, the only left-handed Hillside batter is also to be graduated.

Fortunato Fills Bill

Second to Scasserra is second baseman Angelo Fortunato, the unknown quantity that filled in a spot in a broken up infield and held secure to it. Had it not been for Jack Sellick hurting his hand Fortunato might have had to wait for his chance. Ang took over second base and made only one error all season. He hit a hearty .370 in his first year at the High School. He is also a three letter man in his soph year. Twice he got three hits in four at bats. He collected one triple and three doubles. All the Comets who played last year picked up their averages amazingly higher and fielded sufficiently well to make the team a standout in the section. Beside Scasserra and Fortunato, Jack Sellick gave a sudden burst of batting at the close of the season to bring his average to .375. Jack, a smooth fielding shortstop, had his best day against Columbia when he got three hits. The Comet first stringers batted in order of percentages: Scasserra, .407; Fortunato, .380; Sellick, .375; Ondilla, .290; D'Amiano, .270; Kent, .240; Keen, .234; Norwitz, .230. The pitchers hit approximately .300.

In fielding, the Comets left little to be desired except in the last Union game. The outfield was excellent and the infield smooth working. Bob Keen, completing his third year as varsity first baseman, continued to make almost unbelievable stops. Jack Sellick covered the shortfield most capably. These two were the standout performers but Bob Ondilla and Ang Fortunato are far from ignored.

Capture Two Relays

They first tasted victory at Long Branch in the state relays. Many thought this to be an accident, occurring because the other combines were not at perfection so early in the season. The Comets riddled this opinion as they romped to victory in the vaunted West New York meet. This victory was the result of a concerted effort of four runners. Since each of the men run different events, it is difficult to tell which is more effective. The first runner may be up against the best runners of his distance and not fare well while a fair runner may seem competent because of lack of competition in his division.

The Hillside runners that captured the gold cups in the two relay meets were Marty Borsky, Eugene Stietz, Bill Duphorn and Don Shanks. Borsky traversed 220 yards in his task while Stietz has to go twice that distance. Duphorn is the half miler and Shanks traverses the whole mile. In the West New York meet, as in all the Comets battles, this miler was the bright spot, particularly at West New York where Shanks broke a school record and was individually responsible for the breaking of the meet record for the Comets.

Duphorn, starting the first distance, the half mile, put the Comets in sixth as he passes the baton to Eugene Stietz, Stietz, a lanky runner, not resembling the logical 440 man, pushes the Comets into fourth with a swift quarter mile. Then Marty Borsky assumes command of the bamboo stick and closes the distance between the fourth place Comets and the other three teams ahead considerably. There were seven teams entered in the race had the Comets any other high school miler but Shanks, they would not have won, but Don, breaking a school record he set earlier this year, turned in an amazing 4:28 performance, phenomenal for a high school runner, to capture the crown for the Comets and a memorable record for himself.

Receives Citadel Football Letter

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 16—Veteran Student Melmoth Adams Lewis, Jr., of 1437 Bond street, Hillside, N. J., was the recipient of the varsity letter award, a block C, given at a review at The Citadel, the Military College of South Carolina, recently for membership on the varsity football team, participating in sufficient games to entitle him to this award.

Lewis is majoring in civil engineering at The Citadel. He entered as a cadet in September, 1942, and left the following February to enter active military service. He returned to The Citadel after being honorably discharged from the service in July, 1946.

Yednak Pitches To Bears In Practice

Willie Yednak Jr., pitcher for the Hillside Social Club, threw them over the plate in batting practice for the Newark Bears Tuesday before their night game with Buffalo. It was reported Manager Bill Skiff of the Bears considers Yednak a good prospect and will have him down for further workouts.

Shanks Led Comet Harriers With Almost Perfect Record

By HERB MAX

The completion of May signifies the conclusion of dual meet competition in New Jersey track but a few remaining state and other wide area conclaves remained to be run. The Comets did very well in these extra-season activities. They entered the West New York Board of Education meet and the state meet in the West New York area.

The West New York affair is considered the post-season relay meet. The State relays are too early in the season, some complain, to show the real peak performances of the runners. These West New York conclaves are thought of as the true valuation of the Northern New Jersey teams, excluding the official state meet. The Northern New Jersey offers the majority of the outstanding tracksters.

This year the Comets turned up with one of the most unusual combinations in the history of Hillside modern track. Usually the only Comet relay team worth mentioning consists of four men who run almost equal quarter miles and manages to take a place in a meet on occasions. This year Coach Ferrigno, recognizing the fact that his runners covered all distances and that a quartet of 40 men would not do so well, organized a medley relay team which is quite a feat if the team is anywhere near effective. Strangely enough, the four boys who run the mile and seven-eighths track turned in some outstanding successes.

Dual Meet Record

The Comets took four out of six dual meets. Cranford nosed them out by six points and Thomas Jefferson of Elizabeth virtually trampled the Comets. The Comets gave Rahway worse treatment than they received from Jefferson, topped Irvington, Weequahic decidedly. Union also fell to the Comets.

Fifth In AAU Meet

After making his mark in schoolboy circles, Shanks tried to run against the best amateurs in the state as he was entered in the Amateur Athletic Union meet at Woodman Field, Montclair. The meet took place Saturday. Running against the best college, high school and affiliated athletic club millers, Shanks turned in a commendable 4:33 mark. This put him fifth in the AAU meet which is not done by the average school boy. First place went to Phil Thigpen, renowned Seton Hall College runner who completed his run in eleven seconds less than Shanks. Affiliated with the Jersey Athletic Club, Shanks was spectacular against this sort of competition.

In the West New York Meet, two other Comets marked and others might have had they known the lack of talent, particularly in the novice events. Jim Mahoney took second in the novice 220 yard dash and Joe Scheu took second in the novice mile. Scheu ran a 4:54 race.

Social Club Beats North Elizabeth

The diamond representatives of the Hillside Social Club swamped North Elizabeth, 7-0, in an exciting game at Morris Avenue Field Saturday. The Social Club nine is improving with every game and appeared in top form.

This Sunday the Hillside boys meet the Kenilworth Firemen at Kenilworth. This should be a terrific game and Hillside followers of the team are urged to attend.

Other Comets entered in the various events but who did not score were Marty Borsky, 100 yard dash; Harry Yeager, shot put; Bill Dup-

Schickedanz, on the mound for the Tramps, allowed one hit and made 13 Pros hit the breeze. Nulton started on the mound for the Pros and struck out five men, but was a bit wild.

Baseball Acrobat At Bears Stadium

Rain curtailed the crucial series between your Newark Bears and the Montreal Royals last weekend with the result that neither team could get a jump on the other and a virtual tie for first place in the International League still existed.

The Bears are currently meeting another tough challenge in the form of the red hot Rochester Red Wings. The Wings have come up fast in recent weeks and have definite ambitions of sweeping right to the top of the heap. They move into Ruppert Stadium, Newark tonight to open hostilities with a single game at 8:45 p.m.

A sure-fire added attraction precedes Friday night's Newark-Rochester contest. Jackie Price, sensational baseball acrobat of the Cleveland Indians, will be on hand to present his repertoire of amazing tricks at 8:15 p.m. Price is a smash hit with baseball audiences everywhere and his thrilling act is in constant demand in ball parks from coast to coast.

The series concludes with a single game Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., after which the Bears take to the road for a swing through Montreal, Rochester, Buffalo and Toronto. They return to Ruppert Stadium Sunday, July 4 for a double-header with Jersey City. Another two-inning bill with the Little Giants follows on Monday, July 5 (Independence Day).

Fans are now able to follow the Bears' games both at home and on the road, over radio station WNJR (1430 kc). Harry Nash, noted sports commentator, describes the play-by-play action during every game, week days and Sundays.

In the early stages of colonization of New Jersey, the Swedes were driven from the region by a more formidable enemy than either the Dutch or Indians—a large and invincible army of mosquitoes against which their guns and weapons had no power.

The unit, headed by Miss Mary McDermott, R.N., will return to headquarters after four and a half years in the historic building on East Jersey street. ### Nominating Head Of Cancer Society

Arnold H. McCloy, member of the Board of Education, was named Thursday as chairman of the nominating committee of the Union County Chapter of the American Cancer Society at a meeting of the chapter board of managers, on which he is Hillside's representative.

Plan Annual Grant

Each will receive an annual basic grant of $520 a year. Dr. Wuester said, which may be increased to meet heavy demands at the centers. For each medically indigent patient treated at the clinics, he continued.

the cancer society will allow $2.50 for the initial visit and 50 cents for each additional one, in addition to allowances for tests required in diagnosis.

He described the plan as a sound, basic financial program standardized for all clinics.

Dr. Wuester reported cancer clinics in the State had 1,980 patients referred by family physicians last year, nearly two-thirds of the number who used the clinics. This, he said, indicates the service is needed by physicians. To stimulate interest, he said, all physicians who cooperate with the State program of examinations for cancer diagnosis will be given scrolls to display in their offices.

Harry W. Kohler, president of the chapter, said the cancer fund drive in the county had reached $45,794.59, or about 76 per cent of the goal. He urged that local chairmen follow up previous appeals to attempt to reach their quotas.

Your Garden This Week

By FRED. D. OSMAN
Union County Agricultural Agent
Bearded iris will shortly finish bloom, and promptly after that is the time to divide and transplant them. Division should take place every three or four years. You can do much to control the borer by dividing stems before they are cut. If left too long without dividing, stems become shorter and flowers smaller.

vision with two fans of leaves for resetting. At this time you can get rid of borers in the rhizome or thick fleshy root. Trim the leaves back to about half their length. Prepare the soil with well-decomposed organic material, add pulverized limestone if the soil is very acid. Set the divisions about a foot apart. In setting, do not bury the piece of rhizome attached to the leaf fans. The rhizome or thick fleshy root naturally grows on the surface. So set your division shallow. They will make a good showing next year, if the work is completed by about the first of August, but the earlier it is done the better. A bulletin giving details on iris is available free on request from the Agricultural Agent, Courthouse, Elizabeth 4, New Jersey.

Hillside High-Lights Moving Up Exercises - Many Entering College

By BEA LEVY

Tomorrow will be the culmination of the school term 1947-48 but today will end the weekly columns of your writer who was one of the senior students to graduate from Hillside High School last night.

Every Thursday for two years your writer has devoted her column to news events of the high school and next September when she departs for college the column will be resumed by her successor, Richard Chaiken.

Terminating the assembly programs for this school year was the annual moving up exercises conducted Friday. The traditional ceremony calls for the seniors to vacate their assembly seats to make an arc around the room while the juniors and sophomores move into the upperclassmen's places. This is followed by the singing of the alma mater and the recessional of the seniors who are dressed in their graduation robes.

Highlighting this ceremony is the awarding of various honors to outstanding members of the senior class. In order to shorten the length of the program the administration followed a procedure set last year by awarding all music department and athletic awards before the formal exercises.

On behalf of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, Walter Howell presented the Joe Dill Memorial Medal for outstanding athletic ability to Ed Jasinski. Howell also awarded the Legion's Oratory Medal to Richard Connington, junior, for his excellence in that field.

Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick, representing the women's auxiliaries of the the veteran groups, made the presentation of a new annual medal to Julia Zemanovich. This first medal was presented to Julia for her unselfish service to the school and her cooperation as voted by the faculty.

Bernard Gecker was awarded the Bessalger medal for achievement in the field of mathematics. The medal was presented by Ruhl L. Custer, principal, because of the absence of Henry J. Altherrn, math instructor. Elaine Wagner, in recognition of her all A record, was given the annual Readers Digest award of a year's subscription to the magazine.

George Hintenberger, next year's S.G.A. president, presented the S.G.A. awards and the gold H's. The S.G.A. honors went to Frank Corso, Bernard Gecker and Anthony Palmisano. The highest school award, a gold H, was presented to four seniors: Herbert Max, Arnold Blum, Wilma Sahnner and Robert Tabit.

Quill and Scroll pins and membership cards were awarded to the ten senior editors of the Hiller. Those who received them are Beatrice Levy, Rita Feldman, Betty Ann Rosner, Judy Farmer, Carol Wagman, Norma Kasoff, Rhoda Merlis, Adele Schwartz, Herbert Max and Ernest Prupis.

Each of the editors of the 1948 Epoch staff received a pin in recognition of his services. Miss Barbara Bolash, yearbook adviser, gave the following students awards: Elaine Wagner, Laverne Smith, Lorraine Williams, Barry Siegel, Donald Davey, Patricia Caine, Muriel Goodman, Paul Jansak, Arnold Blum and Blanche Fedorczyk.

Miss Olive Rapp, dramatic instructor, made presentations of pins to the following seniors: Rita Feldman, Joyce Perselay, Gloria Tipping, Harriet Popick, Janet Gentile, Betsy Goldsmith and Rita Adler.

Honor Society Elects

As the year draws to a close, many of the clubs hold final meetings at which time the members elect new officers. Most of these concluding gatherings were held last week.

Raymond Alexander was chosen to replace Lorraine Williams as president of the National Honor Society. Robert Lilien was chosen as vice-president; Marion Nitzelman, secretary, and Alice Zerwick, treasurer.

These new officers were selected from the nine juniors admitted to the society recently. Both senior and junior members participated in the voting which was conducted by secret balloting. Miss Barbara Bolash, N.H.S. adviser, presided over the meeting.

Besides Lorraine, the three officers to be replaced are Janet Gentile, vice-president; Julia Zemanovich, secretary, and Katherine Zweidinger, treasurer. They all expressed their satisfaction at the selection of students to act in official positions next year.

G.A.A. Officers Elected

Because of the rainy weather, the members of the Girls' Athletic Association were compelled to call off their annual picnic for the seniors and instead merely hold a final meeting for the purpose of electing new officers.

For the year of 1948-49, Mary Ann Schirm will act in the capacity of president. Assisting her will be Anne Benfer, vice-president; Stephanie Majeckie, secretary, and Madeline Urbine, treasurer and credit manager. They replaced Vilma Dunlap, Genevieve Corsano and Barbara Virtue, respectively.

Also at this meeting the girls decided to open each new sport's season next year with a special meeting at which time there will be a demonstration game and a complete explanation and discussion of the rules. Sports leaders will be chosen by the officers in September.

"The sophomores have been so responsive this year and it has been a pleasure working with them as well as the upperclassmen," said Mrs. Anita Herman, G.A.A. adviser. "I hope the incoming sophomores show as much interest in sports as these girls did."

Twirling Finals Held

At a final elimination contest last week, eleven junior and sophomore girls were chosen as twirlers and four more were picked as alternates. The squad next fall will consist of twenty-four girls. Robert Diamond will be drum major and Dolores Gerlach will be drum majorette.

Harriet Chimacoff, Joan Deininger, Ilean Dobossy, Grace Douglas, Beverly Howell, Rose Lavitola, Carol Leisten, Joan Lewis, Patricia McGarrigle, Barbara Steinberg and Joan Muszynski were chosen as regular twirlers, while Betty Blazier, Janet Golum, Beverly Teitelbaum and Betty Vincent were selected as alternates.

New uniforms will be visible on the field next year. The marching band will wear heavy maroon V neck sweaters with white trousers or skirts. The sweaters will be trimmed with grey and will be worn with grey ties. The uniforms were purchased with money from the music fund.

New Yearbook Editor

Arlene Krasser was recently chosen by Miss Barbara Bolash as editor for the 1949 yearbook. She was considered the most noteworthy of the six applicants who submitted letters of application to the publication's adviser.

All juniors who are interested in any of the department editorships have been requested to submit letters also and the new staff will be picked by Miss Bolash and Arlene on the basis of their experience, present interest, past record and scholastic achievement.

This week Arlene met with Laverne Smith and Elaine Wagner, co-editors of the 1948 Epoch, to learn the techniques of editing the book. The new editor has participated in many HHS activities during her two years at the high school. She has been very active in the S.G.A. as a cabinet member and head of the Service Squad. She has also been selected to represent Hillside at the Girls' State in Trenton this year.

To Uphold Constitution

In the Hiller which was distributed last week, George Hintenberger, new S.G.A. president, published his first article for the President's Corner, an established feature of the paper. In it he explained the projects he plans to set forth during his administration.

"The purpose of the President's Corner is to inform the student body of the coming events and to report on the S.G.A. in general. It is my duty to report on my following projects for the coming year: 1. To raise the price of the ticket so as to give more to the students who have already been granted scholarships. The sources of these financial aids are numerous, ranging from the colleges themselves to the national Pepsi-Cola board.

Rita Feldman received a scholarship from Upsala College in East Orange which entitles her to free tuition in her freshman year. The monetary value is approximately $500. Lorraine Williams was awarded a similar grant by the New Jersey College for Women. She will receive $300 which will almost cover her tuition expenses.

Arnold Blum was presented with the Charles Hayden Memorial Scholarship for $250 by New York University. Elaine Wagner will receive $100 annually from Moravian College for Women providing she can maintain high grades.

Edward Jasinski is the recipient of a scholarship from the University of Vermont on the basis of his athletic ability. Bernard Gecker shall be given $50 toward the tuition at the college of his choice because of his runner-up position in the recent Pepsi-Cola contest.

package, paid for by contributions from members of the club, all senior girls. Selection of the place, contents and recipient of the package was left for the CARE organization to decide.

Proper grooming has been the main project of the club all year. Through the courtesy of Bristol-Myers Company, the girls received pamphlets, wall charts and samples of products to use for their discussions of good grooming.

With personality rating charts they determined the quality of their own characters and discussed the points in which they each needed improving. The girls also purchased and applied make-up to find the type most suitable to each of them.

Colleges Accept Sixty

At the last count of senior students who had been accepted to college the total had reached sixty, which is almost two-thirds of the entire group which plans to attend higher schools of education this fall. Many others are still awaiting acceptance.

Included in this group of education seekers are several students who have already been granted scholarships. The sources of these financial aids are numerous, ranging from the colleges themselves to the national Pepsi-Cola board.

NOW IS THE TIME

New Jersey had better take a cue from Washington and get itself a hard-boiled, non-partisan, and unbiased commission to study its State government as it is being reorganized under the mandate of the new constitution. In Washington a commission under former President Hoover is probing into every angle of the executive branch of the Federal Government, examining functions, costs, overlapping activities, and other factors contributing to waste and inefficiency.

Needed in New Jersey is a "Little Hoover Commission" to scrutinize State government as it is being reorganized under the dictate of the 1947 constitution. Such a commission should be authorized to go into action immediately to pass judgment on what the State Legislature had "accomplished" in reorganizing and consolidating. Now is the time to determine the value of every reorganization bill that has gone through and is being prepared to go through the Legislature—not years later when New Jersey State government might find itself shackled by a structure as unwieldy as the present one.

In his first annual message to the Legislature, Governor Driscoll called for reorganization of State government to "secure a maximum of efficiency and economy." And this was the hope of the many thousands of New Jersey citizens who backed the constitution from its birth last summer.

Will these good citizens get what they asked for? Not if reorganization is guided by guesswork and political expediency. The new constitution requires that the State's mammoth and sprawling departmental structure be consolidated to not more than 20 departments. While the idea is to effect efficiency and economy, thus far bills passed by the Legislature have merely "lunched" departments—none have provided for eliminations.

Just before the Legislature adjourned until the August 16 session both Houses of the Legislature passed a Senate Joint Resolution which provides for a commission to study "the cost of maintaining the State government." But this commission was granted no funds to bring in independent administrative engineering organizations to do an efficient job. The resolution provides only for a nine-man commission whose appointments are divided between the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the Assembly, and the Governor. All appointments could easily come via political expediency just as political expediency has regulated reorganization to date.

Under the resolution the commission is not specifically instructed to study current reorganization bills. The commission should be set up as a primary advisor to the Legislature on reorganization.

If this isn't done, the citizens of this State had better brace themselves for a distorted ghost of the State administration as it functioned under the 1844 constitution.

AMERICA IS HILLSIDE

Abram P. Morris Jr. High School June 12, 1948

Editor, Hillside Times, For two years the French classes of this school have been sending boxes of food and clothing to a family in France, whose name we obtained from the Red Cross. A pleasant correspondence has sprung up, the little girl who has been the main recipient of the gifts having begun the study of English. I wish every mother of every pupil who so generously has contributed clothing, canned goods and sewing materials, could know how her efforts have been appreciated.

The little girl was the daughter of a young soldier who belonged to the Resistance movement. He was a secret worker against the Germans who invaded Paris. But he was betrayed by a treacherous Frenchman, and with fourteen of his intimates was sent to a German concentration camp, where he perished. No word of him ever came to his parents, except after two years, when the war was over, and they were notified of his death.

The grandfather and grandmother of the child took her into their home, in a tiny village of northern France, while the young widow got a position in the telephone company in Paris. The old Grandpere gave the little girl's name to the Red Cross, as it is so hard to get food and clothing, and many French children are dying of tuberculosis. The climate there is severe.

Our generous Hillsideers have sent dolls, crayon-books, and other toys, and last Christmas they collected enough money to buy her a new snowsuit, besides sending candies and warm sweaters and coats. All that has been so generously given by the mothers has been beautifully mended and dry-cleaned. I would like to thank them all for their kindness. A beautiful pair of new shoes was donated by Mrs. Farmer, whose shoe-shop for young people is located on Chancellor avenue and is well-known to many mothers. We got a tracing of the little girl's foot, and had some fun putting "centimetres" over into inches.

Another source of amusement we have had has been translating directions for "Jello" into French, or telling the family how to use packages of "Hot Roll Mix"; for the French market does not have all these short-cut foods that we Americans use.

The old gentleman writes that when they listen to "La Voix d'Amérique" they think of Hillside, for we have sent a box every two months, for two years. We did not confine ourselves to the child only, but have sent things for the three adults as well.

One of the things they enjoyed the most was a couple of pounds of coffee donated by a pupil. It was almost a ceremony, for the "petite maman," the young mother, had come on the train from Paris to pay her little daughter a visit, and the old grandfather had opened the "A and P" bag containing the coffee, and had brewed some. He wrote me that they just smelled it a long time before drinking any, and thanked the people of Hillside—for the French have practically no coffee, but for several years now have used a horrible brew called "Cafe National," made of scorched beans and peas—a black and bitter drink. Many thanks to the children and parents who have helped these good people, caught in hard circumstances through the misfortunes of war.

PROPOSES YOUTH CLUB

Editor, Hillside Times, I would like to use your column to speak to the young folks of Hillside.

All of us are complaining of the lack of recreation in this town. The boys you see hanging on corners are evidence. The girls taking strolls from one part of town to the other is an example, and it's a shame! We'd even side with a politician if he would help us (not promise us) with a place to have our recreation, wouldn't we?

Well, listen, why don't you kids do something? Wake up! Why not start a town social club for fellows and girls—an American organization with all nationalities and religions? If enough of us can get together and we get enough petitions we can go to that town meeting and do something for once.

Who'll be the good citizens and speak for something that will make a better community for our country? A HILLSIDER

A CHILD SHALL LEAD

Editor, Hillside Times, I would like to congratulate those courageous boys who went to the Board of Education to plead for the playgrounds to be kept open until school reopens.

What a sorry state of affairs when children find the adults of Hillside so lacking in foresight that they find it necessary to take the initiative!

Perhaps this same group of boys, or others like them, may be able to help us parents with the question of the referendum, which we failed so miserably to see through.

How about it, boys? Very truly yours, ELEANOR CHASMAN

Enamel Siding Eliminates Painting

A product of war time research, this new baked enamel aluminum siding has just been put on the market in this area by Reliable Construction Co., of 207 Clinton avenue, Newark, exclusive dealers for New Jersey. The infra-red baked enamel finish means that the paint is fused to the aluminum, guaranteeing it not to crack, peel or chip. Its insulative value cuts winter fuel bills. In the summer the aluminum deflects the hot rays of the sun, making it cooler inside. It is fire-proof, weathertight, rust-proof, rot-proof, water-proof and termite-proof.

William Diamond, president of Reliable, just back from a tour of inspection of baked enamel aluminum sided homes from Detroit to Newark, made this comment: "There's nothing like it on the market today that gives the home owner an opportunity to cut expenses on painting and maintenance of his home. The praises from home owners were highly gratifying."

Automatic locking of panels and corners to prevent weathering from underneath is only one of the many patented features. Each panel is locked to the side of the house—over. The fused baked enamel colors are white, cream and gray.

WESLEY F. ROBBINS

Wesley F. Robbins, of 49 Hillside avenue, was honored by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co on reaching the quarter century mark in telephone service this month. He was presented a gold service emblem by company officials in recognition of his work.

Robbins began his telephone career as a splicer's helper in the company's central division and served as wireman, insideman and framer in the company's central and metropolitan divisions. He is presently an installer in the Newark area. A resident of Hillside for six years, his favorite outside recreational interests include hunting and fishing.

Stupendous Circus Performs At School

The kindergarten teachers, Mrs. Hildegard Bull and Mrs. Jean Johnson, of the George Washington School recently prepared a huge circus program. An actual circus was enacted right in the kindergarten room with kindergarten performers. The room was decorated with lively circus scenes and animal drawings. Stuffed toys and circus trinkets appeared on the shelves and mantel.

The room was filled with circus folk. There was an announcer with a gay hat and a real uniformed band led by an able conductor playing lively tunes. There were fully costumed clowns and ballet dancers. There was a snake charmer and tight rope artists, complete with parasols, who were delicately balanced on a chalk line. There was a daring bicycle rider, and a strong man, well union suited, who lifted tremendous paper weights.

There were also cowboys and Indians, not to mention a lone little cowgirl carrying a dainty pocket book. There was an elephant parade composed of the tiny performers wearing great trunks and elephant heads pinned onto paper bags, and there were lively prancing ponies imitated so well one would scarcely believe they were actually children. This and more made the kindergarten circus a stupendous spectacle as well as an enormous success.

There were performances held for the parents to see as well as the entire student body of the school.

Just as I swore I'd quit using puns a Jersey judge sends a girdle thief up for a stretch.

Clubs Outing
The annual outing of the Science Excursion Club will take place on June 21 at Olympic Park. This is the last event for the club this year. The club is under the supervision of Mrs. S. Riley. Wayne T. Brannon Jr. is president.

Moving up exercises took place this morning. Saul Plinder spoke for the ninth graders and Virginia Winstead as the eighth grade representative.

The 9F6's had a picnic and day's outing at Lake Hopatcong on Saturday, with Mr. Hoppenstedt.

had a real experience with book binding.

Mrs. Marion Van Allen's fourth grade class presented a Flag Day program which also commemorated the end of the school year. There was music and entertainment and participation by all the members of the class. Awards were given for the winners of the spelling bee, the social studies quiz and the popularity contest. The respective winners were: Jane Rappaport, Michael Zuckerman and Phyllis Kaplan.

Closing Activity At George Washington

Mrs. Grace Housen, fifth grade teacher of the George Washington School, has climaxed the year's spelling work with a spelling bee that included her own fifth grade spelling group and Mrs. Biswanger's sixth grade group, which Mrs. Housen instructed during the year in spelling. This set-up proved an added challenge to both the fifth and sixth graders and spelling books were to be seen everywhere while the children studied diligently in preparation for the contest. Marlene Cohen of the sixth grade was the winner and the 8th grade children, David Heller, Ellen Schultzer, Carol Weick and Marvin Kaleyky who did outstandingly well were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Housen at a baseball game.

Mrs. Rose Cohen's fourth grade class presented a series of performances of their marionette program. The play was "Hansel and Gretel."

Entirely By Class
The entire marionette project was executed by the members of the class. The elaborate stage, including professional lighting arrangements and stage curtain among many props, was built and decorated by the children. The marionettes also were designed and constructed by the children. Four different and beautifully painted backdrops were used. There were eleven marionettes in the show, each authentically and colorfully clad in the costume of the Hansel and Gretel era. These marionettes were cleverly manipulated by the children who lent their voices in speech and song to the actors they had created.

The show was seen by all the children of the George Washington School and by the parents of Mrs. Cohen's fourth grade children.

Mrs. Muriel Barnhardt's second grade has presented a closing day program. This program included songs, dances, recitations and piano selections by the members of the class. The entertainment was followed by a picnic. The mothers of the children were invited.

Cover Project
Mrs. Henrietta Schutte's third grade has completed book covers which began as finger paint work. The book covers were designed by the children who first expressed their ideas in finger paint. These designs were mounted on cardboard and lined with white paper. These hand-made covers were put over the year's collection of Weekly Reader Magazines and bound together with colorful shoelaces. Thus the third grade children, have

A Quiet Talk

"And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless." Luke 1:6. Read Luke 1:1-16.

What a tribute to this God fearing Hebrew husband and wife.

It is clear that Zacharias and Elizabeth maintained in their home an altar to the living God. Into such a home, God sent a son whose name was John. God needed a man for a particular task, but the making of this man had to take place amid the right kind of family life.

The home is the place of beginnings, not only does life start there, but everything else about a man also begins there; religion is taught there; ideals instilled; attributes established; habits formed and character developed. The home should be a family shrine with its altar to the living God. Upon that altar devotion and sacrifice should be offered continually. If the spiritual fires burn low, then God's way of life will be forgotten and the end thereof will be disaster and death. No nation can long survive the decay of the home.

The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob should be our God and the God of our children. Forbid that we should forget Him or fail to walk in His ways. By thus walking, our homes will be lighted by His presence.

"Four things in any land must dwell, If it endures and prospers well: One is manhood, true and good; One is noble womanhood; One is childlike clean and bright; And one, an altar kept alight."

The Human Element

By SUSAN BOND

When folks get along in years it's not unusual to read the name of a friend in the obituary column of the paper. But when I read about Helene Hillian French, it was different. I got to thinking:

"Forty-five years ago we had been chums in college, got our first jobs and confided in each other. Helene Hillian (that was her name then) wanted a fur coat like the one I bought from a credit house, but she wouldn't buy 'on time'."

"No, sir," she told me, "I'd love to have one, but I'll wait until I can pay cash for it."

The years were kind to us... no war, good jobs and good health. I was wearing my second fur coat when I met Helene again.

"What," I asked, "no coat yet? don't you like them anymore?"

"I'd dearly delight to have one," said Helene, "but I'm engaged and I'm going to let my husband buy me one."

Several years later we met again. We exchanged admiration of our first born children and chatted about our busy lives.

"I still don't have that fur coat," Helene said, "But I'm hoping for it on my tenth anniversary."

The years rolled along. Our chil-

Mario & Francisco, hand balancers, and Ross & Ross, man and woman bag punchers, conclude the show which will be presented each afternoon and evening for the entire week.
