TEN CENTS

TWO SPINSTERS living in a beautiful big house turned it into a rooming and boarding house for gentlemen. A rule of the house forbid any entertaining by individuals. The women did not want a steady stream of strangers coming and going. They realized, however, that some social life was necessary so they designated one evening a month as a "social evening." On that evening all the gentlemen were permitted to bring their lady friends. But, the spinsters who were very prissy asked that the men bring only "nice" ladies. They didn't attend these socials nor were they to be seen anywhere while the men were entertaining in the big living room. They remained in their top floor apartment and watched T.V. on those evenings. So, imagine their surprise when the paddy wagon came and took a few drunks out - ladies. The red faced boarders wont be entertaining at home any more. The drunk and disorderly charge against the two women brought out sordid details of the monthly soirees the two spinsters can't live down even though they took no part in the shindigs. They asked the gentlemen to leave and have closed down the big house. . . .

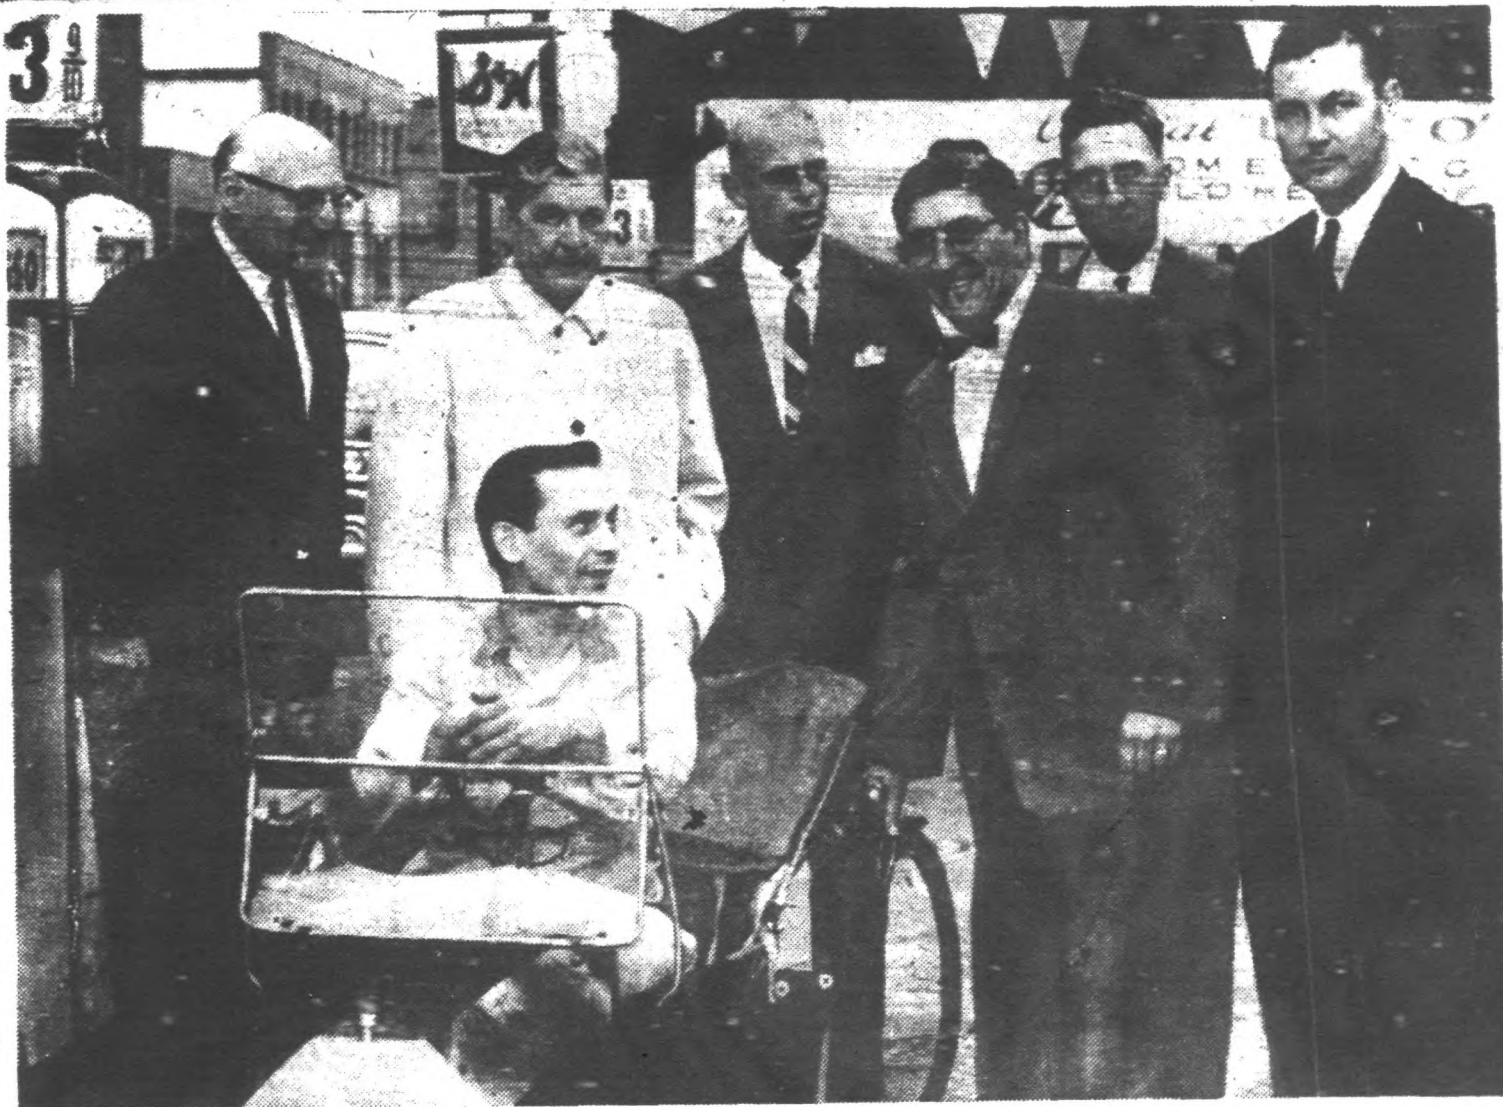

THEY BOTH WORKED - she as a secretary and he as a mechanic. She insisted he do the housework to "get his hands clean." He didn't mind doing the work inside the house but he hated to be seen hanging wash. But she insisted that while she worked he would have to do all the chores or hire a house keeper. One ayem he had the chance of a lifetime. He saw his wife standing under the window where he was hanging the wash from. He let a very wet heavy spread fall on her head. She had to fight her way out of it and hairdo, makeup and her general appearance brought her fighting mad back up to their second floor apartment. look at me, she screamed, now I have to change. I'll be late. Your're just a clumsy fool. Don't ever hang wash out again." That was exactly what the guy wanted - now he is figuring out a way of getting out of other chores. Perhaps something like leaving the floor wet and soapy? . . .

ALL DECKED out in new fall finery, a goodlooking dame in her early forties was window shopping on the main drag. She didn't notice a loose lid on a chute and down she went. Her surprise toboggan slide took her into the basement of the store where a man working there looked up in amazement to

FIRST DAY AT SCHOOL CAN BE FRIGHTENING

KINDERGARTEN, most exciting adventure in the life of a small child, affects all differently. Some are bold, others timid. But no matter what the youngster's reaction is to that all important first step to education, Mrs. O'Conner, a veteran at handling such matters, knows how to make each child love school. Mrs. O'Conner has been teaching in the Kindergarten at Our Lady of Grace School for 17 years. The children adjust quickly and at the end of the short session leave school eager to tell their parents about how wonderful it is. The two pictures tell their own story. In the one group, top picture, the youngsters seem a bit timid and in the lower picture, very, very sure of themselves. Children in the top picture are, front row, left to right, Joseph Sforza, Gianna Gelsi, Philip Cerria, James Corchran, and, back row, left to right, identical twins Ceasar and Alvarez, and James Moore. The children in the lower picture are, in front, Minotti Minutillo, and, left to right, Wayne Germinaro, Laurie Head, Debbie Kummer, and Rose Minutillo, not related to Minotti.

EDITOR'S CORNER

By Dorothy Sexton

THOMAS JEFFERSON SAID:

"I AM FOR A GOVERNMENT THAT IS RIGOROUSLY FRUGAL AND SIMPLE . . ."

While Port Authority continues expansion of its facilities, the latest being the annexation of Hudson-Manhattan Tubes, the citizenry affected by the operations of the Octopus are awakening from their lethargy. More and more people are asking, "Where will it lead to? Is it wise to vest so much power in any one group?" The people are fully aware of what has been going on. They realize they are paying, through increased taxation, for facilities they again pay for when they use them. Contrary to promises made by P. A., nothing is free - or even reduced.

P. A. has the Hudson - Manhattan Tubes. Will they be able to keep them. The New York and New Jersey legislatures have stipulated that the H & M tubes and the World Trade Center shall be a "single unified project" before the P. A. can undertake its $470,000,000 giant real estate plan. Mr. Oscar Nadel, chairman of the Downtown West Small Business Survival Committee, pointed out. Mr. Nadel thinks the P. A. may end up wagging a mad lion by the tail.

The 13 square block area which P. A. is trying to obtain for development of its proposed World Trade Center is the site of private enterprise. If P. A. wins its battle to obtain and condemn that area, 1,325 businessmen will have been deprived of their constitutional rights. Mr. Nadel and the members of his committee do not intend to give up their rights as citizens. "We will take our cause to the highest tribunal, the United States Supreme Court, if necessary," said Mr. Nadel.

In Fort Lee where P. A. opened the lower span on the George Washington Bridge, residents are not unaware of the cost of that facility to the taxpayers. Port Authority, along with Interstate Park Commission and New Jersey Highway Commission is taking 25 percent of the tax ratables away from that community. Taxpayers are beginning to ask, "Why doesn't Port Authority pay taxes?" As one citizen put it, "Fort Lee bears the burden of additional court costs and services such as police, ambulance and fire for the George Washington Bridge, Highways and Park. Why must Fort Lee bare this burden?" He suggested the other communities enjoying the facilities share the burden. We say, "Let P. A. pay its just share." Another Jerseyman, a resident of Hoboken decries the crushing of private enterprise. The passenger ferries, the electric vehicular ferry and the tubes gave commuters an alternative. They did not have to use tunnels or bridges if they did not wish to. Free enterprise and competition are conducive to a healthy economic status. Port Authority's critic in Hoboken points out that a working man often has to deprive his family of small luxuries to pay his taxes which are higher than they should be because of lost ratables. When will the people demand relief from this injustice, this critic wants to know.

Only through bringing pressure to bear on our lawmakers, is our answer to all these questions. We in New Jersey must demand that Port Authority be taxed. Small home owners and businessmen must be protected. To take a page from history at this point may be a good idea. The great Thomas Jefferson expressed a fundamental thought perfectly when he said: "I am for a government that is rigorously frugal and simple, and not for one that multiplies offices to make partisans, that is, to get votes, and by every device increases the public debt under the guise of being a public benefit." Are we gradually losing the liberties Jefferson and other great statesmen of the past held so dear?

LABOR LOG BY BERNARD LASKY

The Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America has a title almost as long as its existence.

The Amalgamated Association will celebrate its 70th anniversary on September 15 and the many transit workers affiliated with this union will honor the memory of the late W. D. Mahon, the first international president of the union who served from 1893 until 1946. A large portrait of W. D. Mahon will grace the lobby of the international headquarters building in Washington, D.C., in honor of the occasion of the union's 70th birthday.

The street car is now an antique item. Modern motor coaches are the luxury liners of the highways. Yet, there are retired motormen and conductors who recall the beginning of the Amalgamated Association. The first meeting of the group, according to "In Transit," the transit workers' magazine, was called to order in Mansur's Hall, Indianapolis, by the American Federation of Labor President Samuel Gompers. The small group at this meeting, built a foundation so firm that it not only endured, but also expanded over the 70 years.

Ironically, the Amalgamated Association was founded in a city that is in a state that has the so-called "Right-to-work" law. A law made to destroy the gains made by unions over years of hard-ship and struggle. Indiana is a "Right-to-Work" state and while the effect of this legislation has weakened unions in the area, it failed to destroy unionism.

It might be well to point out that, at the very first convention of the Amalgamated Association of Transit Workers, a policy of voluntary arbitration as a means of resolving any and all disputes was established, and never has the organization wavered in its belief that strikes should only be used as a last resort.

Nor has its dedication to the other items listed as the "Objects" of the Association ever lessened. The Association has continuously sought "to seek the improvement of social and economic conditions in the United States and Canada and to promote the interests of organized labor everywhere."

More important, it has never ceased in attempting "to secure employment and adequate pay for transit workers, including vacations with pay and old age pensions; to reduce the hours of labor and by all legal and proper means to elevate the moral, intellectual and social conditions of its members."

The success of the Amalgamated Association and how well it has succeeded can easily be seen when it is noted that at the time of its founding, members wages were a large 12 cents an hour, with 16-hour days, and those who worked "only" six days a week were employed by enlightened management.

According to "In Transit" it is hard to imagine, but in many cities which had not made the transition from the horse car to the new-fangled electric car, the horses which pulled the cars received better treatment than did the drivers of the car. The answer was a simple one in the mind of one employer of that era, who stated that he could get all the men he needed, but

HUDSON BERGEN

Pvt. Gus R. Lesnevich, son of former world light heavy-weight champion Gus Lesnevich of 50 Lawton Ave., Cliffside Park, has completed military police training at Fort Gordon. Morton London, a West New York business executive, has been elected national commander of the Jewish War Veterans at the recent convention in Detroit. London is now touring Europe and Israel,

"horses cost money!"

The many gains made by the Amalgamated members have undoubtedly surpassed the wildest dreams of any of those in attendance at that first convention in Indianapolis. Some of them, surely, hoped that some day they would enjoy vacations. But five-weeks vacation, such as have already been negotiated and part of the labor-management agreement covering thousands of transit workers, would have seemed incredulous.

Health and welfare items have always been the objective of the members because those early pioneers were firm in their belief that workers and their families were entitled to more than the mere "bread and butter on the table," wages and hours of work.

The transit workers should hold as a matter of pride the fact that according to historians at the U. S. Department of Labor, the very first agreement containing health and welfare provisions ever negotiated by any union with employers was negotiated in 1926, by a now defunct Amalgamated Division in Newburgh, New York.

Happy birthday to the Amalgamated.

returning later this month... Union City magistrate Frank G. Hahn, former state commander of the VFW, is chairman of the "Voice of Democracy" contest for the State VFW. Carol Smith, 244 Elsmere Pl., Fort Lee, won the annual beauty contest at Westmount Country Club. A former North Bergen resident, she is the daughter of Counselor and Mrs. Arthur Smith. Dr. Herman B. Kaplan, president of the Weehawken Board of Education, is recovering from two broken ribs he received in a fall in his home, 15 Columbia Terrace.

Happy birthday to Mrs. Elizabeth Masset, 523 St. Paul's Ave., Cliffside Park, her 90th; to Mrs. John Pulcio Sr., 288 Jefferson St., Hoboken, her 75th, and to Janet Serino also of Hoboken her 11th.

Dr. Anthony Grillo, 91 Logan Ave., Jersey City, is on duty as an Air Force dentist. Army Pfc. Edgar Edlund, 6716 Hudson Blvd., W. N.Y., has completed a driver's course with the 555th Engineers in Karlsruhe, Germany. Sp 4/c Ralph Mazzone, 31 28th St., Union City, is with the 256th Signal Co. in France. Wave Gertrude Schultz, 126 Sussex St., Jersey City, stationed with the Jersey City Naval Reserve unit, was high scorer in the recent advancement examinations. see a very angry woman trying to adjust her dress and hair. She really was a mess! "I'll sue, I'll make them pay, that's what I'll do," she screamed. Calm down, lady, I'm sure the store will take care of any damage. Are you hurt?" She looked at the man, noticing him for the first time. He was quite good looking and about her age. "Only my pride," she answered, and added, "Say, are you married." When the man said he wasn't, she suggested a night on the town and a new pair of stockings as reparations. They saw each other many times after that and it looks as though cupid had arranged that freak meeting. Marriage plans are in their future.

THE KID was a wise guy. He had seen his father with his pretty secretary a few times and thought he'd cash in on the knowledge. So he let his dad know a slight jump in the allowance would buy silence. "You little punk, said the father, tell your mother if you wish to. I have every right to be out with my secretary. It's necessary for her to take notes and draw up contracts and often she must accompany me. But why am I telling you this. You're not getting another cent from me. So the kid went to the mother and suggested she give him $5 a week for certain info about pop. He had to raise the ante because pop had already cut him off. The mother listened and knowing the truth about the secretary, pretended to go along with the kid until she was sure he was being a despicable little blackmailer, she let him in for the shock of his young life. There would be no more money shelled out unless it was in payment for a specific job. He was to mow the lawn or clean cellars or whatever there was to be done around the house if he expected to get any money from either his father or mother. It is hoped these wise parents have cured the kid and that he will never again try to make a buck in such a dirty way.

By BILL KUHN

Bill Kuhn, former resident of Hudson County who now lives in Pinellas County, the site of an encephalitis outbreak, has sent us this on the scene report of conditions in the popular vacation resort.

Says Bill:

That 'ole Encephalitis bug is still with us down here in Pinellas County and a few of the neighboring counties are now reporting cases and deaths. The City Council of St. Petersburg has passed an emergency ordinance making it a misdemeanor to feed birds since they are suspected of being the carriers of the disease. It is hoped that with their food supply cut off, the birds will seek other feeding grounds. There are 67 different species of mosquitos down here.

The three suspected mosquitos are the common southern house mosquito, the Yellow Fever mosquito and the most suspected one of the group - the Culex mosquito. She's an ugly looking little devil and as black and dangerous as a tarantula spider only you don't feel the bite. All the ducks and pigeons around the local lakes have been trapped and given blood tests. Those with a clean bill of health are returned to the place where they were trapped but those suspected of disease are destroyed.

It is claimed that the diseased birds act as a reservoir for the mosquitos and Pinellas County has the most dense bird population in the state. There is no known vaccine to prevent or cure Encephalitis and it usually hits the elderly people with the St. Louis Encephalitis.

The big fogging machines which throw out a fog of repellents 24 hours a day are really on the go and doing a great job. If this epidemic is not arrested you can bet your last dollar it is not their fault. So far they have sprayed 70,000 gallons of spray and are preparing to use about 200,000 gallons.

The hospital emergency rooms are full of people running in with simple mosquito bites and some with headache (the first sign of Encephalitis) which in some cases turn out to be "hang-over." Mosquito repellent is selling like never before. This Encephalitis is a yearly sickness down here, but this year topped them all. A 15 year old boy, here on vacation from Maryland, was taken ill enroute home. He collapsed in Orangeburg, So. Carolina, and died. Tourists are advised to postpone their vacations to these parts until the epidemic is over. Many of the hotels are temporarily closed. I'll tell you, through this column, when it's safe to come down. Florida is a wonderful place to spend a vacation but we want tourists to enjoy every minute of their visit, not get sick while here.

PUBLIC NOTICE TOWN of SECAUCUS

The Permanent Planning Board of the Town of Secaucus will conduct a Public Hearing on THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1962 at 8:00 P.M. in the Council Chambers of the Town Hall on the application for a major subdivision by Mario C. Greco for Lots 4 and 5 in Town Block 61, located north of Fairview Avenue, west of Radio Avenue and south of the extension of Huber Street, commonly known as the Brinkman Farm.

The proposed subdivision map is on file in the office of the Town Clerk and may be inspected by any interested persons during office hours.

ALEXANDER SCHIESEL
Town Clerk

Secaucus Town Council, at Tuesday night's meeting, introduced an ordinance establishing fire regulations covering the installation of gas tanks in the town. A public hearing will be held on the ordinance at next regular meeting, September 25. The ordinance also provides for payment of fees.

An amendment to a zoning ordinance passed Tuesday will regulate parking in the business areas. Amendment allows three hours parking at a time.

Members of the department of streets were officially named by resolution at the meeting for the first time. Also, Alexander Schiesel, the town clerk, was officially named tax research officer. A $400 annual salary goes with the title. Like the employees of the street department, Schiesel had held the job unofficially.

The meeting, one of the lengthiest in some time, was made so by the further discussion of a mound of earth

ONCE IN 50 YEARS

ARTHUR MANZO, Superintendent of Streets, examines excavation made by Al Lang shown behind dump truck. Lang is the only man working on replacement of water lines not a township employee. The pipe lines serving the Municipal Building are of the vintage of 1908 and had sprung several leaks. They are being replaced with new copper pipe lines and all the work is being done by Mr. Manzo's men, thus saving a considerable amount of money on installation. Replacement entailed the drilling of a trench under a 30 inch wide retaining wall. In a few days the new line from the street to the municipal building will be supplying the water. The new line runs parallel with the old line. It was quite a job but if it lasts as long as the old line, it won't have to be done again for another 50 or more years.

on the property of school architect Max Pollack. Complainant was Joseph Cirone of 326 Mansfield Ave., who said children throw stones at his wife and children from the mound. Removal of the mound, however, will introduce another hazard. The removal of the earth would leave a drop of seven feet along the edge of the adjoining playground.

The problem, at the suggestion of Mayor Moore, will be jointly studied by the persons involved.

CHURCH SERVICES

The Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, Second Street and Route Three, will observe the Thirteenth Sunday after Trinity with Holy Communion at 8 a.m., church school at 9:15 in charge of Harold Mac Cormack and family service with Holy Communion at 9:30 a.m.

The Rev. James N. MacKenzie, vicar, will be in charge of all services.

On Monday at 8 p.m. an executive meeting will be held.

BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

BY BOB AND TERRY DAVIS

BOWLING ETIQUETTE

Bowling has its own code of ethics; simple rules based largely on plain common sense and polite treatment of players in neighboring lanes. Constant use of these proprieties will speed up your game, keep tempers down and increase pleasure in the sport. Result will be better scores from better concentration. Some rules to abide by are: The bowler on the right has right of way. The bowler on the left should step back from the approach permitting the bowler on the right to be free of immediate distraction from movement, when both reach the approach simultaneously, however, the bowler to the left has certain rights. For example, when he steps up first and particularly when he is going for a spare while the bowler on the right is starting for a strike. Quiet should also prevail. Don't talk loudly on the bench when a bowler is ready to roll the ball, and don't heckle an opponent for failures. Never use another's bowling equipment unless you ask for and receive permission. If your ball fits you will never care to use any other ball. Check your bowling shoes to see that they are in good condition and have no gum or water, etc. on the soles. This is one reason why you should not wander around the establishment. You are apt to pick up something on your shoes. Stay near the bench on the lanes you are using when you are not bowling. Don't be boastful, nor moran, or cry about your tough luck. Confine antics. You can't coax a ball home by jumping about, but you can get in the way of the bowler on the next lane. Observe the foul line. This is actually a rule of the game particularly when the foul line lights are on. Also, when bowling open games with no light, make sure you observe the line so there will be no arguments. Be a good winner or a good loser! Roosevelt Lanes, Jersey City

The Joe Morley League opened its season with 12 teams. It will be the league's 4th year of competition, an average loop 810. Richie Clark is the newly elected president, Donald Hill is v.p., Jim Brennan and Joe Morley continue as treasurer and secretary. The Five Timers are the defending champs. A very happy and successful bowling season to you all.

Bowl O Rama, Secaucus

The latest report of the Wednesday Afternoon Teenage League shows John Wasko capturing the high game for the session with 202 and hi series with 539. Rich De Young rolled 196 and a 636 series, Bob Nuenendorff 183, Jack Brahdenburg 175, 179; Art Bonito 175, Bob O'Mara 171. The latest standings show the Colts leading the league by 4 1/2 games having won 23 1/2 and lost 6 1/2. The Colts will win the pennant if they make the magic number 4. Cardinals are in 2nd place thus far and the Indians in 3rd. John Wasko is tops in Hi-average, 185.15, Hi Game 258, and Hi 3rd game series with 639 thus far. A Double Five Star Salute to John and the Colts! John Wasko has a 59 pin lead over Art Bonito for hi average with 9 games left. The last say of bowling was September 12, when trophies were presented. Most of these boys bowl with the Secaucus PAL. Art Bonito was the top bowler last season but stiff competition is expected for him to defend his crown this season.

Secaucus P. A. L. Bowling

The seventh season of the Secaucus P. A. L. Bowling League was officially opened Saturday morning, at the Ed

Franco All-American Bowl O Rama. Chief Arthur H. Templer, P.A.L. Director, rolled the first ball striking out. The children were encouraged and amny rolled good games. In the Junior Girls, Ruth Koelle shot a 156, hi game, Patricia Guarino 137, and Teresa Smit 136. In the Junior Boys, Paul Havlicek rolled the hi game 197, closely followed by Paul Hemlar with 196, while Allen Caruso hit a 160. In the Senior Boys, John Wasko was tops again with a 200 hi game, Art Bonito shot a 197, and Bill DeYoung a 190. A Five Star Salute goes to Ruth Koelle, Paul Havlicek, Paul Hemlar, John Wasko, Art Bonito and Bill DeYoung!

The league will bowl for the next 30 weeks under the coaching and bowling instructions of PAL Director, Chief Arthur H. Temple, Lt. Edward Feinhals and Ass't. PAL Director Ptlm. Martin Hossann.

PUPPETS, those delightful little creatures of the make-believe world, have delighted children since audiences watched them from across a candle-light stage. But seldom do the children manipulate the strings above the puppet stage. Therefore, West New York Department of Parks and Public Property, of which Commissioner John E. Otis is director, is proud of the recent show sponsored by children attending the Donnelly Day Camp. All the youngsters took part in the show and audience was made up of parents and friends. The show was directed by West New York Recreation Department Supervisors Joan Monteferrario and Shelly Ruchlin, shown in the back row. The children are, first row, Steve Singer, Robert Morris, Gary Howe, Paul Modarelli, Ernest Modarelli, Richard Singer, Bruce Cristaldi, John Cristaldi, John Tott; middle row, Lance Modarelli, Phillip Schiller, Patricia Gough, Paula Morris, "Butchie" Wells, Susan Lott, Gary Wilson, Lorraine Erb, and back row, Robert Howe, Judith Schiller, the two counselors Joan Monteferrario and Shelly Ruchlin, and Joseph Cimino.
