Foreword

"Doors are like a road's bends Both beginnings and ends"

W. R. Cooney

During the past six years we have spent much of our time passing in and out of the various doors of Livingston High School. Each door has been a gateway to new experiences which have led us to the development of our character and a deeper awareness of our purpose in life. Every passageway left behind has served in some way to prepare us for the moment when we would pass from these familiar doors for the final time.

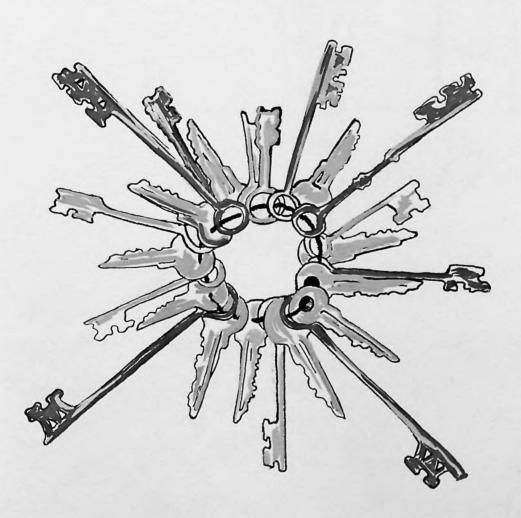

We ask you now to accompany us through these doors and share with us our memorable years at Livingston High School.

Dedication

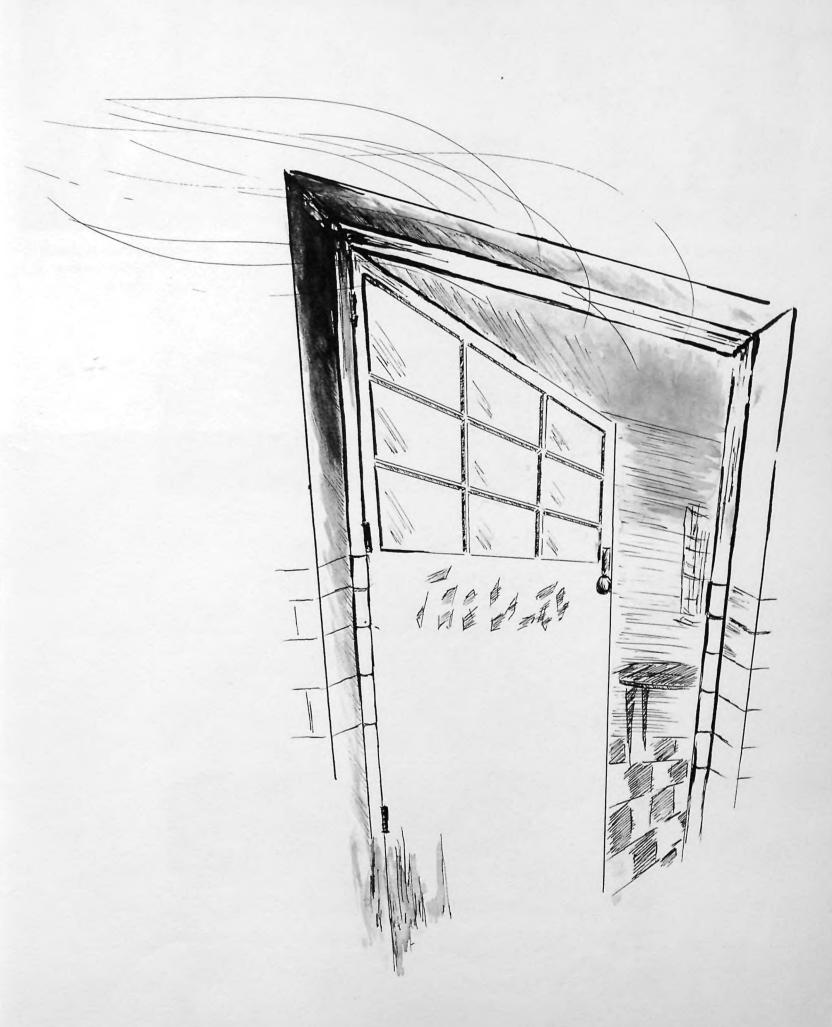

In our distressed world today, the power of determining one's own actions is a precious privilege valued by many and granted to few. With this as our Credo, we, the Class of 1963, dedicate our yearbook to Freedom.

For each person, Freedom has a different meaning. Those who are oppressed value Freedom as the ultimate goal, but those who enjoy Freedom as an everyday convenience are sometimes apathetic and neglectful, not realizing how fortunate they are to possess this priceless privilege.

Because Freedom is so important, and because constant travail is necessary for its preservation, we, the Class of 1963, in the years to come, will perpetually strive to protect the inviolable rights of the individual.

Principal's Message

There are multiple implications in your significant symbol of an open door. Each of us should have an open door in himself, one through which the thoughts and inspirations of others can enter our lives, and through which, at the same time, may shine forth those qualities and ideas which we can share with others.

Poets have always speculated on this problem. Robert Frost warns against not only what we shut out but also against what we shut in; Emily Dickinson finds unbearable suspense merely in the opening of a door. To these sensitive minds, the door holds promise when open and rejection when shut.

As you leave Livingston High School, our door is open for you to go ahead to the series of doors that will open up to you in succession in the future: office doors, college doors, factory doors, barracks doors, home doors, and the proverbial door on which opportunity is said to knock only once. However, our door will be open in welcome when you come back to visit us, and I hope you'll stop by to see me and say hello.

As our last year at Livingston High School draws to a close, we should take one last look backward before we depart. Many of us have grown up in Livingston, gone to schools in this town, and made our first friends here. However, quite likely when we are older, the years spent in Livingston High School will appear as insignificant to us as those spent in grade school seem now. We will probably never realize the extent of the influence these years have had on our lives.

We are now at the crossroads, each of us to depart in his own direction. The value of our years here can only be measured by which road we take and how far we travel on it. As we depart, we should go with the knowledge that we are well on our way to finding ourselves. May that which is meaningful be kept with us through the years to come, and when we meet again, let us be thankful that we have had the opportunity to be together.

SYNOPSIS

Act I

"Super res!

Act II

Three Months Later . . .

As our curtain rises, we find the cast assembled around a huge bonfire, which we discover is part of the traditional Junior Pep Rally scene. The next event in Act II is our play within a play, "Charley's Aunt", which will long be remembered by the audience as a smash comedy. In Act II, Scene III, we find ourselves underwater at the Junior Prom watching couples dancing to the rhythmic music. As the lights dim on this Aquamarine fantasy, the curtain falls; thus another act, another year has come to an end.

INTERMISSION

Act III

Three Months Later . . .

As the curtain rises on the final act, we see our cast assembled around the senior door awaiting the cue to begin. The success of their play, "My Three Angels", establishes the seniors as the undisputed leaders of the school. Lil Hanos, as the Campus Queen of Livingston High School, is the star of Act III, Scene II, typifying all the beauty that the Class of 1963 is known to possess. We can see that the cast has made a change in costumes to participate in the elegant Senior Prom, which is the social highlight of the act. The Senior Class Trip is one event anticipated throughout the play by the entire class, and as the scene shifts to Vacation Valley, we see the cast enthusiastically participating in varied outdoor activities. After an exciting and fatiguing day culminated by the poignant dinner-dance, we leave Vacation Valley behind, and we finally reach the climax of our production.

Listening to the somber strains of Pomp and Circumstance, we see our cast slowly walking down the aisle toward the last scene of the final act . . . Graduation! formal!

This year's junior class, the Class of 1964, is one of the preeminent and surely the largest of the classes in L.H.S.'s history.

After launching the football season with a sensational pep rally, the Class of '64 energetically undertook an endless series of projects: Junior Directories, class rings, the January dance, "Junior Frolics", the class play, Androcles and the Lion, and the always popular Junior Prom.

Now, with optimism arising from their successful past, the members of the Class of '64 are eagerly awaiting the joys and triumphs of their senior year.

Livingston Sesquicentennial

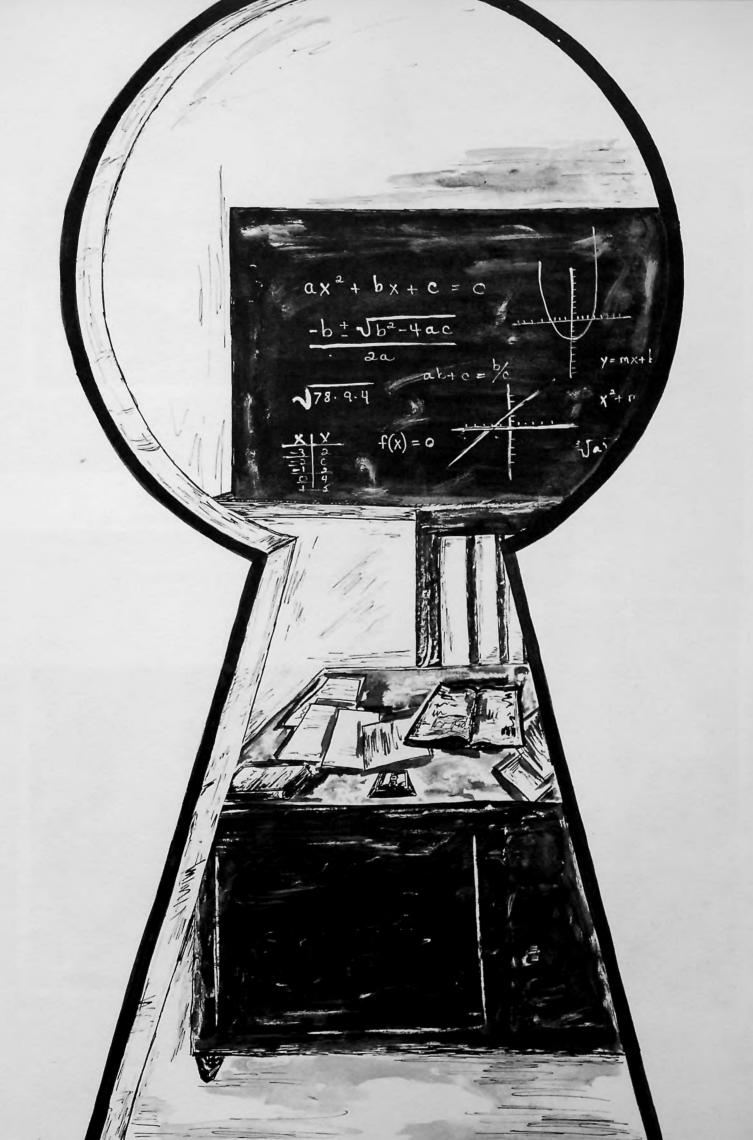

In the year of Our Lord the nineteen hundred and sixty-third, be it known to all readers that the Township of Livingston in the State of New Jersey celebrated the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its establishment.

As a part of the community-wide celebration, students of Livingston High School participated in a program conceived by William Cooney and Leroy Lenox. The show, which depicted Livingston from its earliest days to the present time, was presented to all Livingston school children, as well as the adults of the community, in a total of ten performances. A highlight of the celebration was the appearance of Governor Hughes at the special anniversary party performance.

The Lancer Football Team of '62 was mainly one of rebuilding. Under the watchful eyes of Coach Allen Jacobsen, the team turned out exciting games, proving themselves much better than their 3-4-2 record showed.

Outstanding seniors for the Lancers were Bill Dukiet, All-County back who placed ninth for scoring in Essex County, Captain "Skip" Reinhard, and Harry Coldreck, both All-County choices, Bill Fox, Frank Caroselli, Joe Garofalo, Henry Tygar, Bill Henthorn, Rick Knox, Tom Smigel, Doug Burnett, Ray Kother, and "Butch" Hain.

Others who played devastating games were juniors Rich Higgins, Bruce Herrmann, Craig O'Connor, Alan Burns, and John Krueger.

Looking into the future, sophomores Al Cece, Bob Biondi, and Dave Goble will adequately fill the shoes of those before them.

Much credit must be reserved for the fine coaches of the team: Head Coach Jacobsen, and Assistant Coaches Hope, Graham, Berry and Stanisci.

Capt. Skip Reinhard and Coach Jacobsen.

DOUG BURNETT — Blocking-Back — Doug's great blocking ability helped many Lancer marches.

FRANK CAROSELLI — Defensive Half-Back — Junior import from Kansas. Added great speed and depth to the team.

BILL DUKIET — Tailback — Honorable mention All County, Bill was the most versatile of entire team. True asset to the squad.

BOB FAAS — Defensive-End — What Bob lacks in weight he makes up for in his bruising tackles. ——

Football Seniors

BILL HAIN — Offensive-Tackle — One of the rocks of the line. Helped open many a hole.

RICK KNOX — Defensive-Tackle — One of the tough stalwarts of the line. Stopped many an opponent's advance.

EDWARD MAGUIRE — Defensive-End — Valuable asset of the reservists. What he lacks in size is made up for in team spirit.

HENRY TYGAR — Center — Sidelined with an injury for most of junior year, but surely made up for it in his senior year.

BILL FOX — Offensive-End — Former blocking back switched to end. Gave us those long gains.

JOE GAROFALO — Offensive-Guard — Weak side guard but really made it a strong side. Got lineman's dream — scored a touchdown in his last game.

BILL HENTHORN — Offensive Half-Back — Hard runner, many a time producing large gains.

RAY KOTHER — Wing Back — Ray's speed and agility got the Lancers out of many predicaments.

Here come the "Dead End" kids!

The Lancer Cross Country Team, led by captains Bill Klaber and Mike Dyer, finished the '62 season with a 4-9 record. Yet, under the expert coaching of Mr. Nilson, the team exerted its finest effort in each meet, though harassed by injuries to key men all season.

Outstanding for the Lancers were Fred Kalishman, Russ Genser, Bill Klaber, and Mike Dyer. Juniors looking forward to an excellent season in '63 are Pete Cacka, Bill Costelloe, and Bill Salmon.

SENIORS: M. Dyer, E. Ezell, F. Kalishman, R. Genser.

The Lancer soccer team, as always, gave a fine season's performance under the coaching of Mr. Edward McInroy. The team, led by senior co-captains Bob Perkins and Don Baubles, completed the '62 schedule with a record of nine wins, six defeats, and four ties. The six games lost were decided by a total of only seven points.

Turning out fine performances for the Lancer cause were Bob Perkins, who made first team All-County and third team All-State, Don Baubles, who made second team All-County and honorable mention All-State, and Bill Wells, who made third team All-County and honorable mention All-State.

Qualifying for the State Championship Group 4 playoffs, the Lancers beat Irvington 3-0. In the first game with Bloomfield, the team tied I-1, but in the playoff game the Lancers fell I-0.

The overall team success was attributed to the fine spirit of the boys, a great team effort, and the excellent coaching by Mr. McInroy and Mr. Lampeter.

Livingston's hockey team produced one of its finest teams during the 1963 season. Although missing the playoff by one game, they turned in a fine performance throughout.

The team was captained by playmaker Paul Scannell, whose many assists helped set up numerous scores. Norm Segall dented the nets many times. Defensively it was Harry Coldreck whose rough action kept many men out of our defensive zone. Assisting Harry was Bob Losey, who also proved a stalwart of the defense.

Underclassmen produced an outstanding effort. Juniors who helped the cause were Greg Polzer, Jim Greaves, Jay Merrigan, and Ray Lomax. Sophomores Joel Wolff, John Nickel and Dave Goble also turned in a tremendous effort.

Coach John Edack gave the team a tremendous boost with his outstanding coaching.

Others showing a great amount of wrestling ability were Pete Contuzzi (9-2-1); Jon Rosenkrantz, Livingston's first District Champ (4-1-3); Bill Fox (9-3); and Lee Parker, whose numerous victories decided many matches for the Green and White. Other seniors who contributed were Ken Fidali, Jim Cox, and Doug Rosenthal.

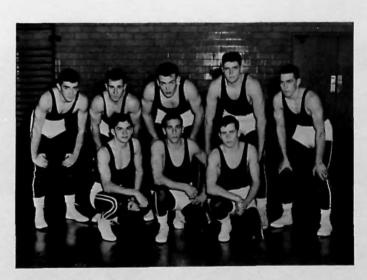

Coach Dave Wade should look forward to a successful season next winter, with over a dozen prospects with Varsity experience.

The club, captained by Russ Bosworth, had a lot of good material. Russ, being high scorer and chief playmaker, scored over 300 points in the 1963 season. Top rebounder for the team was Bill Dukiet, who averaged in double figures. Another mainstay under the boards was Skip Reinhard, who also averaged double figures. Bill and Skip proved a very valuable asset to the team. Bill Wells, Bob Perkins, John Ruderman, and Dave Kokalis added a great senior reserve.

Another impressive point about the team was the presence of Whitey Dukiet, Bill's freshman brother, who averaged eleven points per game.

Other underclassmen who aided the Lancers greatly were: juniors Dick Jones, Craig O'Connor, and Bruce Hazuka, and sophomore Greg Schultz.

Coach Jack Waddon, in his tenth year as Livingston mentor, may again be proud of a job well done. He was ably assisted by George Bacso, whose Jayvee team compiled an impressive 16-2 record.

Livingston turned in a fine season in 1962, coming in 2nd in the Jersey Hills Conference with a record of 7-3, and winning the State Group 3 Section Championship with a victory over Springfield 5-4. John Edack's nine compiled an overall record of 14-9.

Seniors were well represented by Bill Dukiet, a catcher who made second team Group III All-State and second team All-County, and by Bill Fox, a pitcher who had a 6-2 record and won both state tournament games for L. H. S. Two other mainstays of the Lancers' club were Don Baubles, a competent third baseman who was known for his defensive prowess, and George Howarth, a fleetfooted outfielder. Pete Zartin was the utility catcher who will always be remembered for his sterling performance in the Clifford Scott game, and Bryan Wahler contributed greatly to the team's effort. Bryan saw most of his action in relief performances as a pitcher.

The team should look forward to another successful season with numerous lettermen returning.

Once again Livingston almost had its first undefeated team. The Green and White compiled an excellent 15-1 record, losing to a strong and skillful Columbia team. The netmen advanced to the third round of the state tournament before losing to Teaneck.

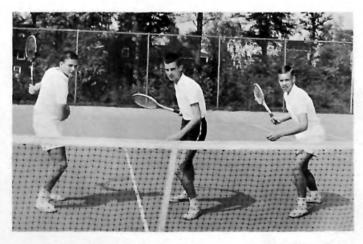

This year the team will be just as powerful, as primarily the entire team is returning.

Captain Bob Perkins will again lead the team through the season. He will be backed by Russ Bosworth, Bob Losey, Ken Van Ness, Rich Belford, Doug Burnett, and Jack Osmers.

Coach George Bacso should again be commended on his fine coaching job.

The L.H.S. Track Team, backed by strong performances in all events, came through the 1962 season with an excellent 12-1 record. The loss was incurred by only three points.

Coach Paul's team this year, being led by captains-elect Ray Kother and Fred Kalishman, is expected to better the '62 record. With such fine talent as Joe Garofalo in the high hurdles, Bill Henthorn in the lows, Ray Kother and Frank Caroselli in the sprints, Fred Kalishman running the 1/4 mile, and Genser, Ezell, and Dyer going the distance, the track records should fall. In the field, Jon Rosenkrantz hurling the discus and Paul Bagoon throwing the javelin offer a challenge to any competitor, while Paul Scannell will be vaulting for a record in a pole vault.

Coach Paul and his assistants, Mr. Berry and Mr. Del Vento, are to be commended for their fine job of directing the team.

Each fall the Varsity Cheerleaders, selected through rigorous tryouts the year before, prepare for a busy and exciting year of cheering for various athletic events — football, basketball, soccer, and ice hockey. This year's squad did a wonderful job of arousing school spirit; the huge crowds and enthusiastic response at the games were overwhelming. Besides coming up with new cheers throughout the year, the cheerleaders added a new touch to our home football games: each game was opened with the Lancers' breaking through a large paper hoop. It would be hard to imagine athletic events without the peppy contribution of this group of girls.

TWIRLERS

What would a football game be like without the twirlers' and majorettes' performance on the field during half-time? This year's twirling squad, led by our tall and smiling head majorette, Susie Joralemon, certainly added a lot to our exciting football season. The precision in their strutting and routines came from many long, hard hours of practice. Trying something new this year, they came up with some clever dance routines to the marching band's music. The squad had to fight bad weather conditions many a Saturday afternoon, but they always gave a top-notch performance.

Senior Assistant Head Majorette A. Soperstein.

MARCHING BAND

COLORGUARD: C. Schmidt, J. Reinert, C. Miller, J. Sisco.

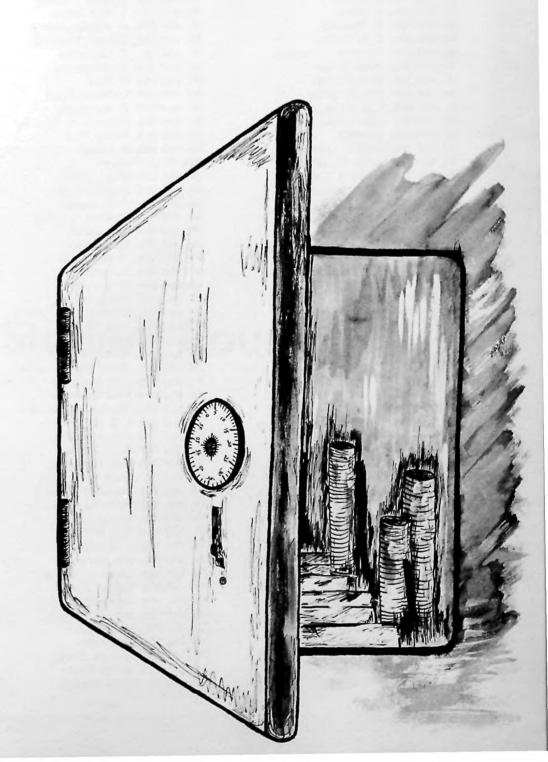

The spirited sound of the marching band created an air of excitement at every football game this season. This group, under the supervision of Mr. Ruch and our student conductor, Vernon Miller, worked very hard during school and on Saturdays to perfect their half-time performances. Combining patience and skill, they succeeded in producing high quality, both marching- and music-wise.

THE LEADERS OF TOMORROW

FAREWELL

At this important moment in our lives, as we leave Livingston High School and close the door of our high school careers behind us, we cannot help but stop to ponder all that we leave behind: important years of living and learning and growing together within these somewhat sheltering walls. While these have been painful and demanding years, they have also been happy and exciting years, filled with academic exploration and personal discovery.

Now, as we close this one important door, we look ahead and see countless new doors opening before us. Although we are all eager to move on to greater things, we feel a slight hesitation as we begin to appreciate the value of the things that have already been ours. However, we realize that all our lives we will be faced with new opportunities and challenged to make changes. Therefore, as we move on to enter new realms of living, we bid a final, affectionate farewell to Livingston High School.
