ON TIME

You would measure time the measureless and the immeasurable.

You would adjust your conduct and even direct the course of your spirit according to hours and seasons.

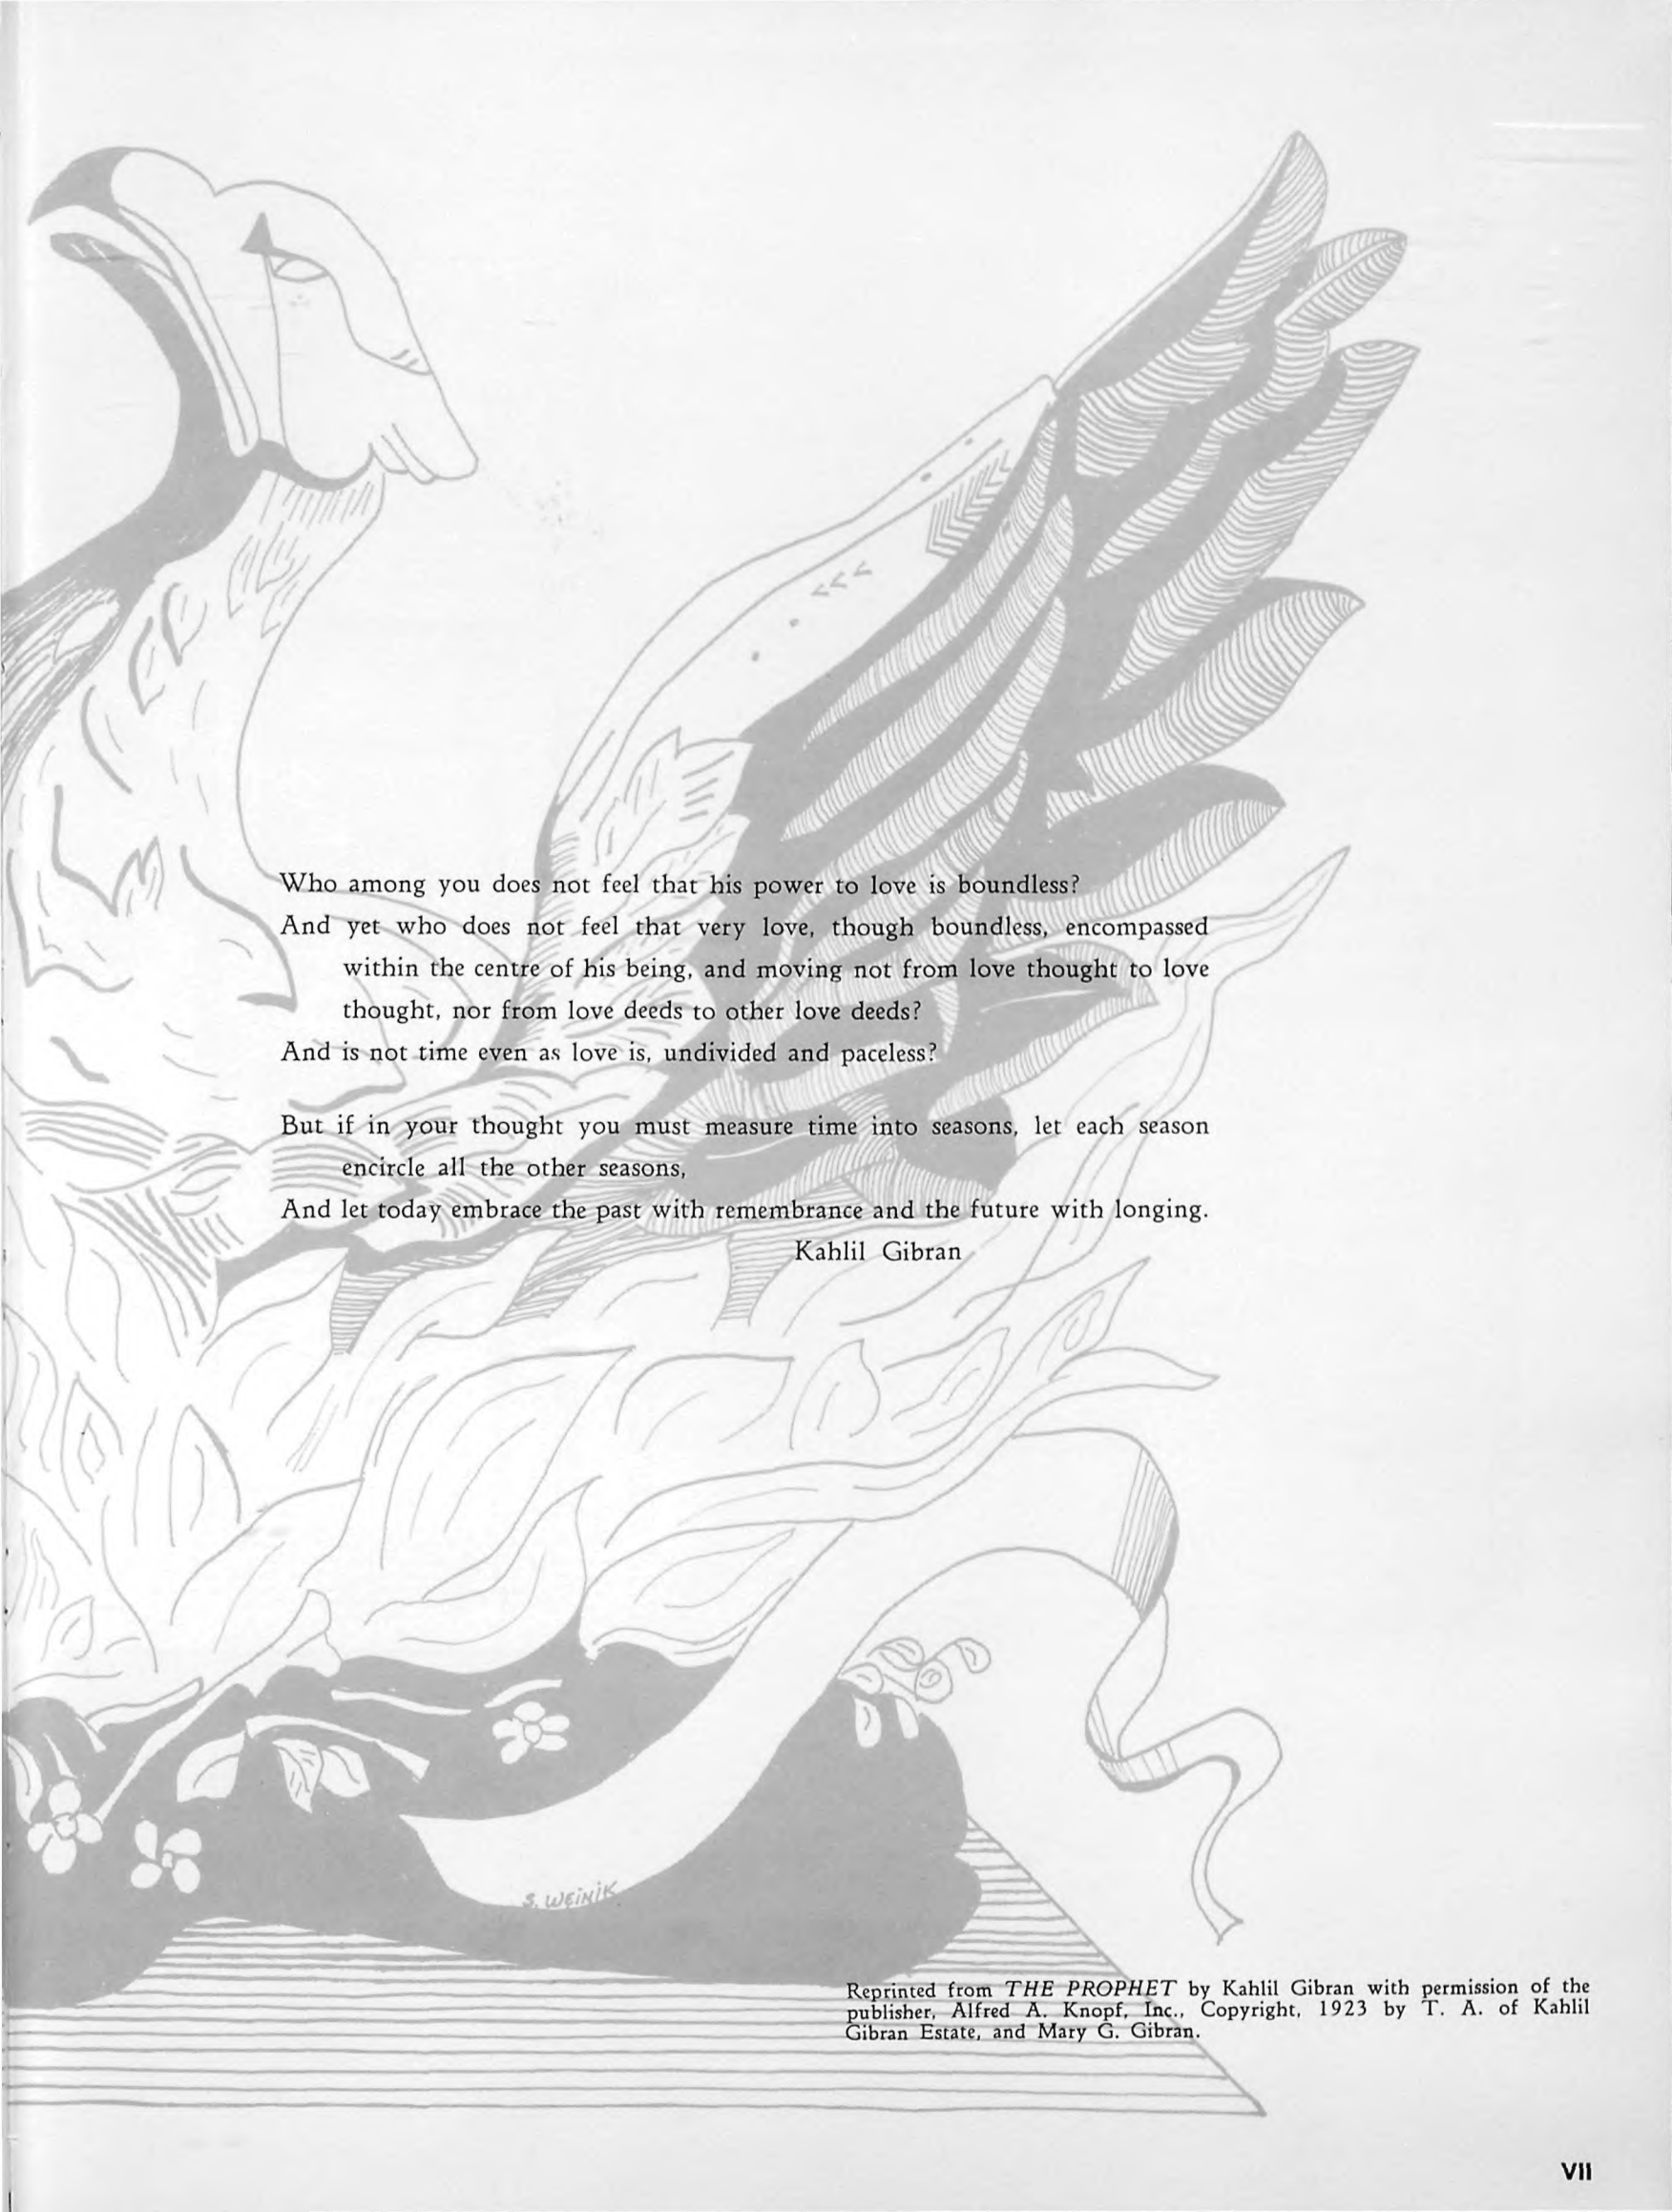

Of time you would make a stream upon whose bank you would sit and watch its flowing.

Yet the timeless in you is aware of life's timelessness,

And knows that yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream.

And that that which sings and contemplates in you is still dwelling within the bounds of that first moment which scattered the stars into space.

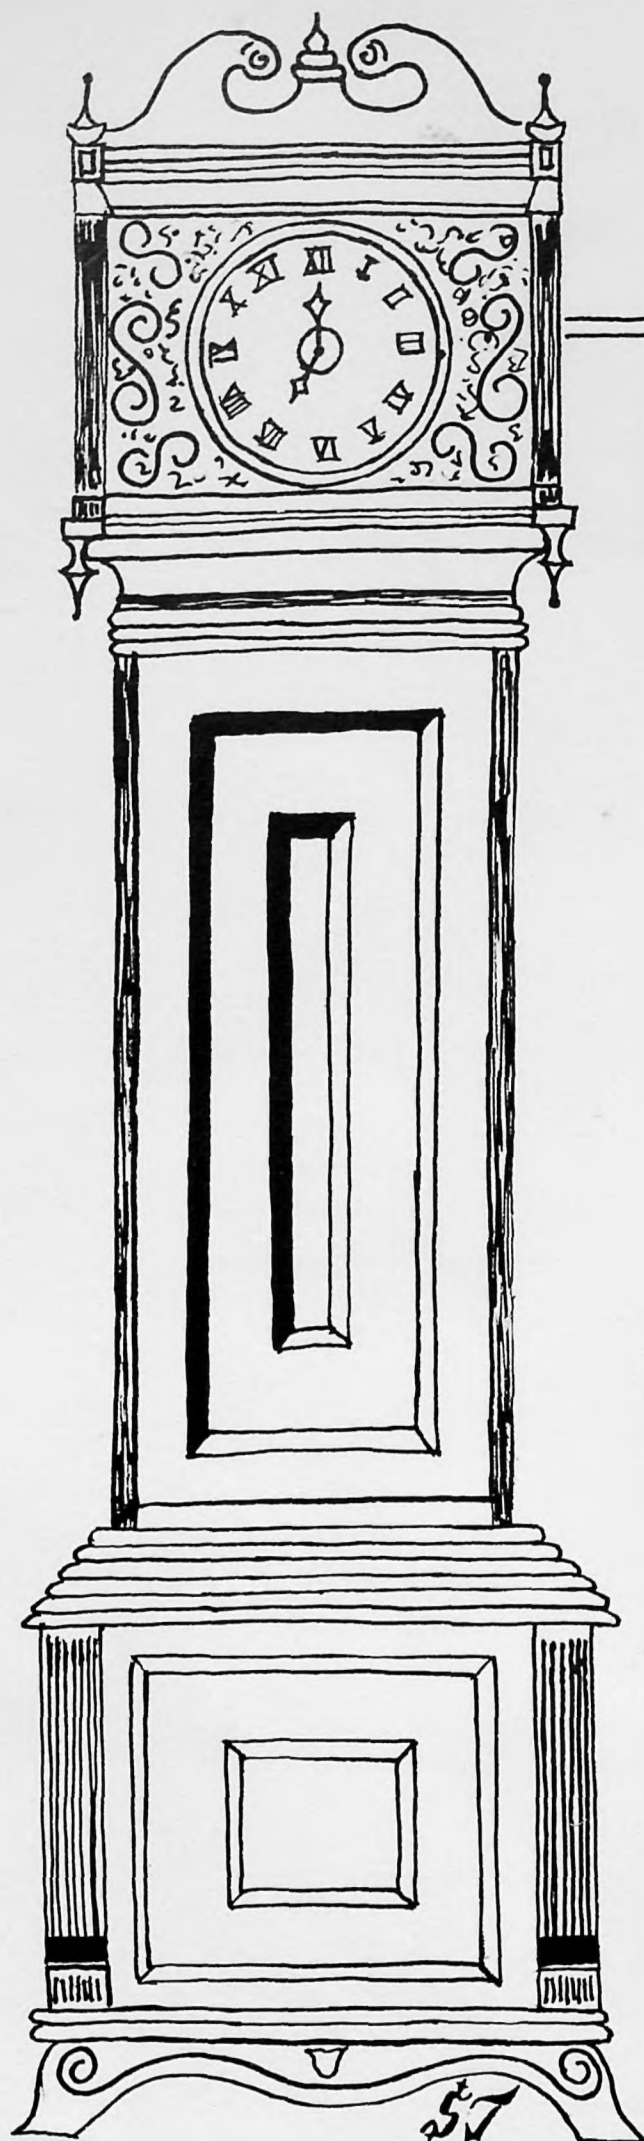

Who among you does not feel that his power to love is boundless?
And yet who does not feel that very love, though boundless, encompassed within the centre of his being, and moving not from love thought to love thought, nor from love deeds to other love deeds?
And is not time even as love is, undivided and paceless?
But if in your thought you must measure time into seasons, let each season encircle all the other seasons,
And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing.

DEDICATION

Every human being is characterized by a diversity of traits, and just as a particular society is defined by its customs, the individual is defined by his personal characteristics. Both society and the individual attempt to improve their fundamental qualities; the society is bettered by people who seek a more enlightened and meaningful world; the individual is bettered by changes in attitude which are fostered by the review of past accomplishments and future goals. At the first threshold of independence and responsibility, the graduating student has an opportunity to rediscover and re-evaluate his ideals before accepting an active role in modern society. The process of self-scrutiny is arduous, for the truth about one's own personality is often discouraging; but the optimism of youth permits a complete, profound, and profitable evaluation.

Thus, at this crossroads of life, the question one asks should not be "what am I now?" but rather "what can I be?" An appraisal of inner thoughts is important, not for present constancy but for future improvement. There are four fundamental qualities that should be developed or strengthened in the human being at this time. The first of these traits is vigor — the enthusiasm to challenge, the spirit to question, and the strength to defend. Directly related to this primary attitude is the necessity for involvement in one's environment. There are moments when one must take a stand on an issue and resolutely support it rather than hide behind a mask of indifference. Wisdom and truth are embodied in the development of discernment, which is the third outstanding trait of the exemplary individual. A final and most important quality that one should develop is the dignity that is born through the awareness of selecting an honorable and moral code of living.

Resulting from this search for improvement is a oneness of self, a summation that encompasses the best parts of the moral, physical, and intellectual factors of a person. The achievement of this unity is the ultimate goal toward which any young person can strive, and it is to this ideal that we dedicate our 1967 Crossroads — the new integrity of the individual.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Your class's yearbook is really a time-capsule that preserves unchanged a wonderful time of life so that you may look at it again and again in the years to come. You will show it to friends who will want to know what you looked like when you were younger; you will look it over to remind yourself of activities and events that you knew in the happy years of high school; you will take it to reunions and exclaim in wonder over who is now fatter, better looking or balder. The inhabitants of this yearbook like those of Peter Pan's Never-never Land will never grow older, and though time may pass on, the ideas, the thoughts, the humor, such as it is, and the events will remain unchanged, perhaps to be laughed at or wondered at by the older self that looks at them.

Take good care of the bit of history that is preserved within the covers of this book, and you will find it is something you may look back upon in later years with some amusement, much enjoyment, and a little regret.

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Now that our last year at Livingston High School has come to a close, we must leave behind us the many wonderful experiences which have been so close to us for the past few years. We must say good-bye to the friendships and to the traditions which have so greatly influenced us, some of which will continue to affect us throughout life.

We have all reached the crossroads and must make those decisions which will determine the course of our futures. The training that we have received at Livingston High School is our key to success and the basis of our future accomplishments. The times we have known, the friends we have made, and the education we have obtained, all have contributed to building our characters so that we may hopefully make the decisions which will lead to success.

The sadness of leaving L. H. S. is compensated for by the realization that it will always remain in our hearts and minds. The good experiences which we have shared here give us the confidence we need to face the crossroads.

We hope that the precedents established by our class in academics, athletics, and in school spirit, may serve as an example for following classes to emulate. I am sure that the members of the class of '67 join with me in expressing the gratitude and appreciation we feel toward the faculty and administration for all the help they have so willingly given us through a most crucial time of our lives.

— Chuck Schilling

and fancy-free, unsuspecting of the turmoil to ensue, the Mounties joined the Lancers to form the "fated" Class of 1966. Not knowing what to expect, we were "herded" into the cafeteria to proceed with the important business of electing class officers. After numerous run-off elections, Chris Casciano emerged as president, Jay Masucci as "veep," Linda Martin as secretary, and Jay Schnell as treasurer. We immediately catalogued and classified everyone, compiling the Sophomore Class Directory — according to which poor Jack McCarthy would not have a birthday until next February 31st!

Enlisting Jeff Krouk as our "Marryin' Sam," the Class of '66 presented its first money-making venture, the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. With very little effort, our good ol' stand-by, the cafeteria, was transformed into Dogpatch, U.S.A., and for once the femme fatales could do the "choosin'!"

Following an unsuccessful engagement of white mice and other assorted vermin, We're Off to Sea (a quaint story about a group of Gracenotes traveling to Europe), written by Mr. Cooney and Mr. Lenox (L.H.S.'s own answer to Gilbert and Sullivan) sailed into the auditorium, directed by our illustrious Yearbook advisor, Mr. Misurella, who made us tell you this . . .

With the advent of spring, the A.F.S. Club sponsored its first annual Bermuda Day (in 40-degree weather). "Never had so many paid so much to wear so little!" Following the first (It was a big year for firsts.) All School Production, Arsenic and Old Lace, the Class of '66, back to its old tricks, came up with a "Carnival." In case any of you have forgotten, "Carnival" was the dance that sunk while you were all enjoying yourselves at the "Y" swim party.

However, we finally knew that we were ready to assume our roles as juniors when Andrea Stolese finally mastered the spelling of S-O-P-H-E (oops!) S-O-P-H-O-M-O-R-E!

Junior Year was all that the Guidance Department had promised: with PSAT's, college conferences, and college check lists, we barely had time to organize the Junior "Pep" Rally. Our clairvoyant officers, however, Jack McCarthy, Jay Masucci, Diane Fineran, and "besaddle-shoed" Bob Young, foreseeing our predicament, had begun casting roles late in the summer. The histrionic aspects of the rally were never fully appreciated, though, due to some typical antics on the part of the Class of '65, who — true to senior form — resented relinquishing the limelight even for one short evening. Despite their horns and noisemakers, they failed to dampen the junior spirit, and the profits from the Pep Rally substantially increased our dwindling resources.

Borrowing a line from the "mop-headed" Beatles, we staged A Hard Day's Night, which, unfortunately, did not receive the rave reviews of its namesake. The Class of '66 couldn't afford to indulge in many more expensive endeavors that might only serve to further deplete the treasure chest; so, once Mr. Lenox had discovered Where is the Mayor?, we put out an A.P.B. for all budding thespians, casting for the Junior Class Play, George Bernard Shaw's Saint Joan. Marianne Rapicano, our leading lady, made the supreme sacrifice of shearing off her flowing tresses, thus successfully assuming the vestige of the Maid of Orleans.

Midwinter dreariness was broken by the sparkling (cokebottle stoned) Junior Class rings; and, amid much hand-waving and finger-pointing, Juniors proudly displayed their first signs of seniority. Our Junior Prom, Return to Paradise, was naturally the highlight of the "social season," but no amount of decorating could convince even the starry-eyed Juniors that the cafeteria could be transformed into any paradise except the "good ol' cafeteria."

Our final year was upon us at last, and the Class of '66 was determined to do everything in its power to make it "unforgettable." For a change, we elected Chris Casciano, Jay Masucci, Diane Fineran, and Stan Filip as Senior Class officers, all of whom cordially opened the front door in September (Now we could use it legitimately!) to Inger Ericsson, our golden girl from Sweden.

The first two months of our final year were frantic with college applications, football games, and trivia contests. ("How many times does the Lorstan man say 'smile'?") However, after class ranks were given out, at least a few attempted to stem the tide of Senior Slump — till after second marking period. Anyway, the pranks of Jeff Krouk and Steve Brick in Shakespeare's Twelfth Night were well received, and, under the direction of Mr. Sherburne, the entire cast did a magnificent job of presenting their (happily in keeping with the theme of our yearbook) "midsummer madness."

At the Home Coming Dance, Home for the Holidays, returning alumnae had the chance to discuss how much they had matured during their first semester at college. In an about face the Senior Class matched anything the collegians could ever bring home by choosing spectacular Campus Queen Betsy Monk, at the annual Queen of Hearts Dance. As assurance that ignoring them was an impossibility, the Senior Class went on its annual trip to Washington, D.C., in February: it proved to be the greatest, most successful trek, and promised to be the last in the history of L.H.S.!

The experience of Once in a Lifetime was the magic of the Senior Prom, held at the Bow and Arrow in April, and in May L.H.S. theatregoers were treated to "You Can't Take It With You, the third annual All School Production. (The Seniors, of course, were living examples that we could take anything!)

"Anything" includes that final rush of Senior Trip, a whirl of Yearbook Signing Parties, the Senior Assembly, wet handkerchiefs, and an "icy" graduation in South Mountain Arena . . . With no "slips" on the ice, we graduated, and . . .

All's Well that Ends Well!

At the Sadie Hawkins dance, our first social event, we proved ourselves sophisticated adults when Marryin' Sam handed out our licenses and rings . . .

From the dance, we went on to bigger and better things, such as that publication of great literary merit — the Sophomore Directory. Rivaling the New York Times in scope and breadth, the Lance served one purpose at the beginning of our sophomore year — an introduction to

L. H. S. — and another purpose later on — an emergency bookcover! John Feu Rosa shared with us the excitement of our and his first year at L. H. S. as our A. F. S. exchange student from Argentina.

September's pep rally saw us exuberant, cheering under the guidance of our Junior Class officers, Bruce Altshuler, Mark Blumenthal, Barbara Tsairis, and Louis Tsien.

Our first experience with the drive-trainer was frightening, but by the end of the year, most of us were zooming in and out of the pool parking lot.

. . . but Bermuda Day cooled us off as we breezed into school in shorts of numerous styles, multitudes of eye-catching colors, and various lengths. (But none more than 3 inches above the knee?!) One event, however, our Junior Prom, brought out the sophisticated charm of girls in flowing gowns and the gallantry of boys in their handsome tuxedos. The Days of Wine and Roses had captured the excitement of our junior year.

from eight o'clock
until midnight*

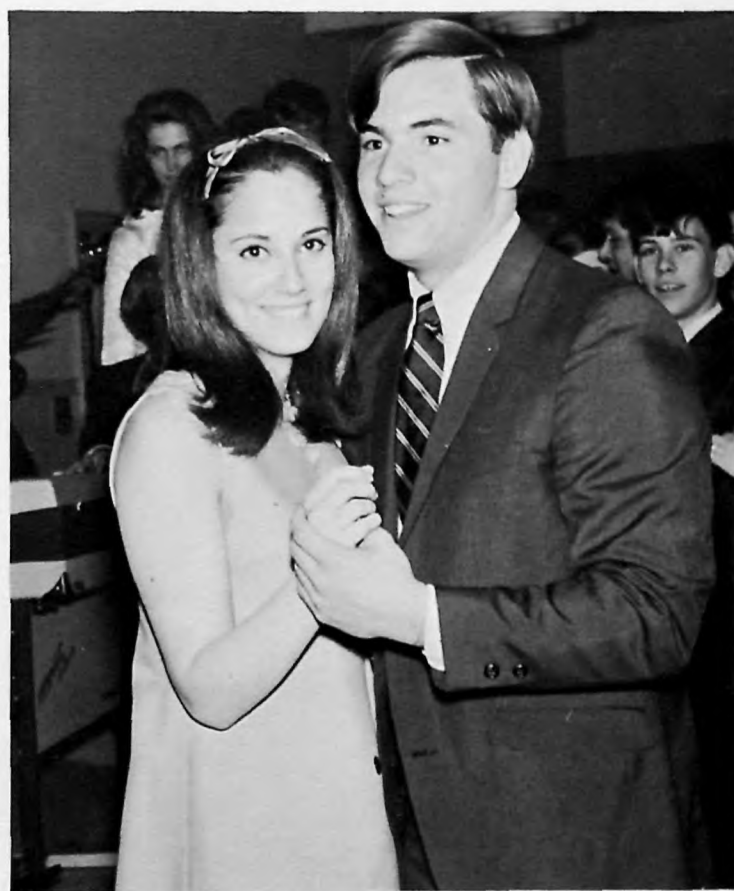

Giving us the opportunity to meet old friends and hear their evaluations on college life, Homecoming highlighted the Christmas week.

The announcement in February of our beautiful Campus Queen, Nancy Freeman, was second in suspense only to that of the Miss America Pageant.

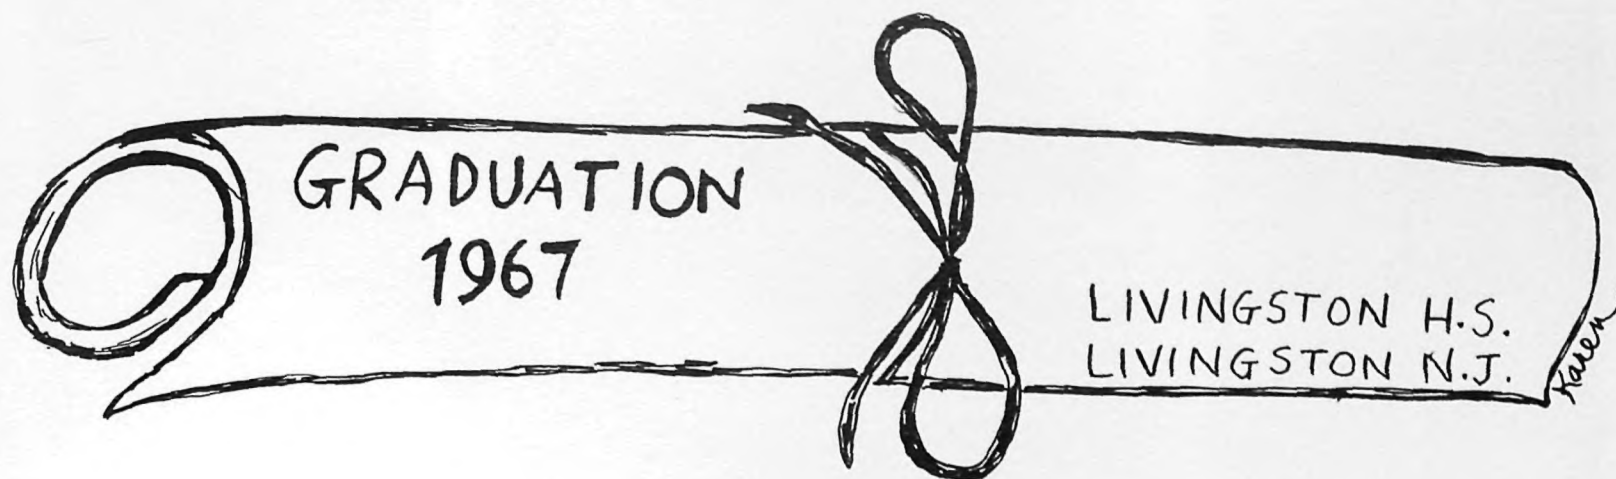

Before we knew it, April had arrived, and with it came the exhilaration of our senior prom. Tender Is The Night was held at the Westmont Country Club in a romantic setting of candle-lit tables and starry skies.

The all-school play, Ring Round the Moon, continued our tradition of fine productions, and Vacation Valley's many pleasures provided us with a day of colorful memories, for it was our last class gathering before graduation. A conglomeration of irreverent but censored satire, the senior assembly was our main chance in L. H. S. to poke fun at the faculty and at the administration. Our final weeks passed swiftly with the rush of yearbook signing parties, graduation rehearsals, and finally the poignancy of those last steps to receive our treasured diplomas.

By graduation, we knew the corridors well; we were the "towering" seniors and were again facing the prospect of a new experience.

In September, a new class would take our seats, but our three years had been unique, and ours alone.

Exchange Teacher

Dear Carrie,
I'm not too
good at writing
these sort of things,
but I'll try.
It has always been nice talking to you, and I think that you're the only one who really understand me, in that class. MEH
was a much better
class with you in it, because you are truly a great girl.
I hope that our close friendship can continue and that you (and your family) will come and visit us - in not so long. Love

Best of Luck
in future
Always
Paul.

We take back to England wonderful memories of Livingston — both town and high school.

I will long remember WLIV and morning announcements, math classes in 112, and advice to "bounce" Boonton and "mince" Millburn. Cathy and Paul have met overwhelming friendliness from the faculty and students who have made this year an outstanding experience. Cathy now goes to Kings College Hospital, London, to train as a nurse, and Paul returns to his boys' grammar school at Stamford.

My wife has made many friends through the Livingston Women's Club, whose members have been so kind to her.

We hope that many of our Livingston friends will visit us in Oakham, Rutland, in the years ahead. Our best wishes to Livingston High School, Mr. Bernstein and the faculty, and the students for further success in the future.

This has been a very worthwhile and prosperous first year in Livingston High School for the Class of '68. Early in the year, as a result of the belief of your class officers that as many students as possible should participate in class activities and decisions, Sophomore Council was formed. This council, working with the officers, planned our very successful Sadie Hawkins Day Dance and, at the time of this writing, is planning another dance, a Sophomore Directory, and has decided to have our class adopt an orphan through the voluntary contributions of Sophomores. I hope and I believe that our class will be able to continue its success, not only in class-sponsored and other extra-curricular activities, but also in scholarship and athletics.

Finally, I would like to extend, on behalf of all Sophomores, the heartiest congratulations of our class to the graduating Seniors, and to wish them the best possible luck in their post-graduation life.

Cal Nordt

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS AND ADVISORS

Advisors: Miss Riggio, Mr. Batitto.

We, the Class of 1967, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath to those we leave behind in Livingston High School the following:

Arlene Packles leaves Mr. Batitto forever — after having him for six years.

Barbara Wilson and Joanne Baron leave all the forks in the cafeteria to Shelly Kent.

Maxine Wolt leaves her chauffeur service to Rich Mercurio.

Susan Hammer leaves her sexy character roles to Phyllis Sobo.

Judy Katz and Roz Goodman leave next year's will to the unfortunate and mistreated literary editors of the '68 Crossroads.

Sue Mascuch leaves her high hopes and long rehearsals to Mally Simon.

Joyce Glassman leaves her gym sneakers to anyone who is unfortunate enough to fit into them.

Martha Stroup leaves her father — at last!

Barbara Tsairis leaves all her Beatle buttons to Gale Bravakis.

Larry Ripley leaves his white hat to Jay Soperstein, the only one with a head big enough to wear it. "Epsi Phi" leaves "Baby Huey" and the White Sands Manor to the rats.

Nancy Garvey and Kathy Wood leave all their adventures and bad luck to Susan Reock and Barbara Walsh.

Sally Comando and Susan Hammer leave the laundromat to any junior stupid enough to spend the night before the junior prom dying a worthless sky.

Louise, Jean, Joan, and Melody, being as sound as seniors can be, leave their lunch table to whoever is willing to find it.

Larry Ripley leaves his bass to Ken Segall in hopes he will give up on the drums.

The senior girls leave President Johnson the Girls' Locker Room to use in fighting the Viet Cong.

Kerry Costelloe, Arlene Packles, and Nancy Nelson leave a year's supply of late excuses to Mrs. Almond and Mr. Winters.

Lorrie Monprode leaves the folk music club to Lenny Frieling.

Chuck Schilling, Roz Goodman, Janet Jacobs, and Sheldon Roseman leave the "Critters" to next year's senior officers.

Tom Scarponcini bequeaths his physics books to Miss Coury.

Alan Cooper and Marvin Kierstead leave their presidential candidacies to anyone insane enough to want them.

Abbie Michelson leaves her non-conformity to Roberta Merrington and Lois Godel.

The senior girls leave 67 brushes, 18 cans of paint, and THE ROCK to L.H. S.

Class

The senior girls leave the "Chumps" to any underclassmen who will take them.

Nancy Wainio leaves her absentee slips to any junior who can beat her record!

Cheryl Winter leaves patience, gray hair, and a calendar of deadlines to the much to-be-pitied editor of the 1968 Crossroads.

Epsi Phi leaves the "teenyboppers" to join the "hippy chippies."

Nancy Irwin and Nancy Peterman leave Cyrano de Bergerac and all his psychological problems to Mrs. Baker.

The senior girls of the fourth and fifth period lunch leave everyone in line while they cut.

Don Schellhardt leaves the Lance to the Republican Party, and the Republican Party to anyone who will take it.

Mr. Stroup's physiology classes leave him 2167 inches of cat intestine.

Bruce Bresin, Dave Bini, Jim Mariani, and Dave Gusk leave an alarm clock and permanent passes to Room 119 to anyone stupid enough to skip school.

Eleanor Jennings leaves her back window to anyone who can crawl out of it in ten seconds.

Arlene Packles leaves her contact lenses to Diane Sommers if she can find them.

Joyce Glassman and Karen Gavrich leave their great athletic prowess to next year's "Senior Slumps."

Tom Scarponcini leaves to next year's layout editor this question: "Ovals or squares?"

Tricia Johnson and Eleanor Jennings leave Nancy Garvey's bedroom door to anyone who can fix it.

Irene Swansiger leaves her campaign speeches to the next born loser.

David Kasliner leaves the junior play, the senior play, and the all-school production to anyone who wants them.

The senior class leaves the Livingston police, the West Orange police, the Verona police . . . all in two weeks.

Sue Kreinberg leaves her hot magazines and newspapers to Chris Vitella.

Martha Stroup and Eleanor Jennings leave cheerleader coats, white socks, and sneakers to anyone brave enough to sneak into a game.

Madelane Shane leaves Barbara Messina a can of fish, if she still wants it.

Bonnie Gellas and Barbara Tsairis leave "Zorba" to the sophomore Greeks.

We, the Class of '67, leave to become the class of '71, with sympathy for L. H. S., which has lost its greatest class.

Starting slowly with two tough losses to Millburn and state-ranked Morris Hills, the '65 grid-men roared back for an outstanding 6-3 record. Coach Jacobsen's legions were particularly strong in their overwhelming defeats of Morristown, Parsippany, and arch-rival Mountain.

While a team effort was continually apparent, several individuals displayed outstanding prowess. John Reock, at quarterback, spearheaded the Lancer offense with exceptional running and deft passes to his sure-handed ends, Jeff Bradshaw and Bob Cece. The offensive unit produced three all-county choices: Joe Ryan, at center, opened the holes, while co-captain Jim "Gar" Higgins and Rich Rizzo endlessly plowed through the line for sizable gains. Also leading the way for the running backs were linemen Ronnie Allan, Chris Graf, Jay Jensen, and Jack McCarthy. Higgins also distinguished himself on defense, leading his unit to a most successful season. Pitching in with clutch-tackles in the defensive secondary and with commendable punt returns were Jay Masucci and co-captain Chris Casciano. Dan "Fudge" Esposito and Bill "Badooper" Ewald, standouts on the defensive front four, were responsible for persistent pressure applied to the opposition's ground-attack. Other senior standouts were Stan Filip, Bill Vidal, Bob Spiro, and Jay Schnell.

Coach Jacobsen is looking forward to another successful season in '66 with returning lettermen Tony Foti, Jay Salmon, and Jerry Muto (next year's co-captains), Chuck Schilling, Steve De Dominico, and Randy "Gerber" Barrett.

Congratulations to the Lancer football squad for a fruitful season! We hope that next year's team will duplicate this year's successes.

Coach Berry and his harriers galloped to a very creditable season this year, with 7 victories against 4 setbacks and 1 tie. Co-captains Mark Schocken and Bob Young (Bob presently holds the course record), Dave Bjorkman, and Pete Schmiedel set the pace most of the time as they rambled over the challenging course. Tom Manzi, Denis Kade, Pete Dotto, Jeff Ontell, Ken Short, Dave Bertsch, and Dennis Scott were also in evidence on weekday afternoons, testing their endurance over the rugged 2½ mile trail. Promising Juniors, Don Salmon and Ken Schuyler, should provide the Lancers and Coach Berry with another successful season next year.

DANCE BAND

While the Concert Band, the Dance Band, and the Orchestra are heard only during school assemblies and special performances, their members actually devote much more time to music than is perceived. During weekly rehearsals, the Concert Band and Orchestra bring to perfection the performance of a variety of famous marches and classical pieces. The repertoire of the Dance Band includes jazz, dixieland, rhythm and blues, as well as talented improvisations. Student participants appreciate most the opportunity of playing with a group that enjoys and is enthusiastic about music.

VARSITY

It was a season of many contrasts for the fine Lancer hoopmen. There were outstanding highlights, such as the 50 point performance of Whitey Dukiet against Morris Hills, Jim Kranz's clutch scoring spree at Mountain, and the great team efforts in the victories over Mountain and Morristown. The Essex County Tournament jinx again prevailed as the 6th seeded Lancers were beaten by a scrappy Montclair ball club. At present, the Green Giants own a 16-3 record and are eagerly awaiting a second round clash with East Orange in the state tourney.

Next year's team will be sorely hurt by the loss of the aggressive seniors. Ronnie Greenstein and Mark Grisar played important roles in backing up the first five. When called upon, they showed great prowess and dumped in many valuable baskets.

The big rebounder for the Lancers was consistently Jeff "Jonah" Feldman. He chipped in with a multitude of clutch rebounds and his accomplishments were decisive factors in the club's many victories. Big things can be expected from Jonah next year. In '67, the scoring lead should be carried by deadeye Mike Weinstein. Mike's a real scrapper and with a bit more experience, will be a consistent double-figures man.

The men responsible for getting the ball to the big scorers near the basket were Jim Hill and Jim Higgins. Little Jimmy also possessed just about the best shooting percentage on the team and was mainly responsible for bringing the ball upcourt past pressing defenders. Higgins, on the other hand, was the team's most aggressive defensive ballplayer, and very often supplied the team with a rallying spark.

In the past, Livingston High has graduated basketball players of exceptional ability. (Steve Nisenson, Rick Bresin, Greg Shultz, etc.). But never has there been a fearsome duo the likes of Jim "Stick" Kranz and Bob "Whitey" Dukiet.

Kranz possesses one of the most effective jump shots from the corner, in the state. His 22 point scoring average is in the top ten in Essex County and his brilliant all-around play has lured many college coaches to the Livingston gym. Jim plans to attend the University of Connecticut or Lehigh and should provide his college with a great deal of basketball notoriety.

This June, the best high school basketball player in the state of New Jersey will graduate from Livingston High. His diploma will bear the name of Robert Dukiet. He has been called "another Bill Bradley" by most people who have seen him play and he can do almost anything with a basketball. It has been rare occasions throughout high school when Whitey has not been guarded by two and sometimes three defenders. Yet he still managed a 34 point average and a multitude of assists. He can dribble with the best of them, and has often been called upon to bring the ball up-court in tight situations. There is no doubt that he will make a first rate college guard. The unending number of college scouts, including Bob Cousy, who have come to see him play can attest to that.

Our sincere congratulations to the Lancer basketball team on their very outstanding performance in '66 and best wishes to the team of '67.

At Livingston High School, there is a club suited for every interest. When the Bridge Club meets, the stakes are high, the bids are low, and the tension increases hand after hand. Wherever the Chess Club holds its tournaments, the air is heavy with studious contemplation. Members of the Secretary Club get practice in their chosen field by typing for teachers and learning office procedure at L.H.S. At Livingston High there are various active groups formed to promote athletics. Of these, the Girls' Leaders Club, the Varsity Club, and the Pep Club are the most notable. The Girls' Leaders Club is an organization which supports girls' sports, trains referees, and gives its members a taste of physical education instruction. All boys who have earned their varsity letters on any of Livingston High's athletic teams are members of the Varsity Club. The Pep Club, the most vociferous of all, has as its prime purpose the engendering of wholehearted support for all Livingston High sports teams.

The Livingston icemen won a very hard fought berth in the playoffs of the North Jersey Scholastic Hockey League this season. Coach, Edack's skaters were led by high-scorer Roger Treat who on several occasions scored three or more goals in a game. Adding to the scoring impetus were Chip Garnet, Steve Todd, Carl Shabica, and Dan Measday. Treat also played great defense and, with the aid of defenseman Randy Sommers, provided the fine Lancer goalie, George Van Cott, with many easy games. Reserve goalie Steve Sobel also sparkled in the nets.

The highlights of the season were the victories over league-leading Montclair and South Jersey powerhouse Princeton. Everyone is hoping that these successes are a sample of what may occur when the Lancers take the ice in the playoffs. Good luck!

The baseball team, under the direction of Coach Edack, posed itself as a threat for the title in the Jersey Hills Conference last season with an overall record of 13-9 and a conference record of 9-5. Leading the way in the field for the Lancers with spectacular grabs and all-around great defensive play were Chris Casciano, Jim Hart, Pete Schmiedel, Rich Rizzo and all-state selection Ron Greenstein. Any long drive to the outfield was quickly grabbed by either Frank Daidone or Bob Cece who both maintained creditable fielding averages throughout the season. Roger Treat, behind the plate, had a tough time hauling in the sweeping curves and blazing fast balls from Whitey Dukiet, Ron Greenstein, and relief pitcher Ken Richardson, notable on the mound for the Lancers. All in all, it looks like another great year for Coach Edack and his squad in '66.

CROSS COUNTRY

Although the cross-country team did not produce a winning record this year, much of a favorable nature can be said about the team coached by Mr. Berry. The members of the team never quit, even when the "going got rough." A fine competitive attitude, along with high spirits and the will to win, enabled the up-to-then winless team to finally succeed in their last meet of the season. Captain George Van Cott, along with seniors Sandy Schram, Bill Mayerick, Jim Cloer, Bill Koch, and Bill Figley, saw action on the varsity level. Coach Berry is looking forward to next year and expects a fine performance from Co-Captains Jim Beverly and Peter Desch, as well as Greg Hughan, Rand Helfont, and sophomore Dan Chadwick.

The Lancer linksmen, on the strength of their showing last year, should be real contenders for the Jersey Hills crown this spring. Last year's seniors showed they could handle almost all the shots, carding nine hole scores as low as 39. Leading the charges this year will be captain Bill "Goofy" Shedden, Guy Michael, and Charlie Howe, the number three, four, and five men last year. Shedden has two years experience and should be the hub of the offensive. However, Michal and Howe were very impressive last year and should help to solidify the attack. Another senior, Bob Adler, has a picture swing, good potential, and may be used effectively by Coach McNroy this season.

Fine ability, good balance, and a strong team effort, enabled the Livingston Lancers to complete a successful basketball season.

Under Coach Waddon, the varsity, consisting of seven seniors and five juniors, won 12 games while losing only 5. Two close defeats came from the evenly matched Knights of Morris Hills, and two defeats came from the highly ranked Mountain team.

Jeff Feldman, Mike Weinstein, and Bill "Alpaca" Kieran were the strong seniors for the Lancers, and averaged 14, 13, and 12 points, respectively. Throughout the season Jeff showed fine ability as a center and was consistently the big rebounder for the team. Mike proved to all that he was a real aggressive dribbler and ball handler and very often came through with clutch baskets and timely assists. Bill proved to be a key figure in many Livingston games. While displaying good rebounding and dribbling ability, he has really paid off for the team with a fine, well developed jump shot.

Buddy Wolfe and Jim Koss were juniors who started on the varsity level. Buddy did a great job of getting the ball up the court and passing off to the big scorers. Jim had a fine season, displaying excellent shooting and rebounding ability, and will probably be quite an asset next year.

Donnie Salmon, Dave Thurston, Ray Bretzman and Tim Hoffman are the remaining seniors on the team. Each boy is a well rounded athlete, and Livingston will miss them all in the forthcoming seasons.

For 1967-68, Coach Waddon is looking forward to working with a great group of boys. Buddy Wolfe, Jim Snyder, Jim Koss, G. J. Semler, and Charlie Black will all return and could very well sew up the Jersey Hills Conference.

Congratulations to the class of '67 for their fine season, and best wishes to the class of '68 for future success.

Although in his rookie season at the helm Coach Lampeter optimistically looks forward to bouncing back from last year's nine to twelve showing with good reason. This year's squad features a strong pitching staff led by veterans Dan Newman, Jim Durkin, Don Salmon, and Ray Bretzman. Dennis "Mac" McBride is expected to hold down the catching position with seniors K. C. Tindall and Mike Weinstein and junior Greg Wolfe in the infield. Patrolling the outfield, Dave Thurston and Ken Hall are expected to star. With Weinstein supplying the power at the bat, the team is looking forward to a successful season.

LIVINGSTON

FAREWELL

Our dreams of June, 1966, of the magic of graduation, are now swiftly becoming realities; and it is now that the Crossroads, much more than a simple title, becomes a symbol of our lives. We look toward the unknown future with anticipation; yet — somehow — our memories of friends, of teachers, of the many wonderful and not-so-wonderful experiences that we have shared, make us pause — perhaps only for a moment — and wish that the final day would not come and be gone just quite so soon.

Thus, at our Crossroads of mixed emotions, with eager dreams for the future, with warm memories of the years that have just passed, we fondly bid our final farewell to Livingston High School.

Andrea Heaps
Editor-in-Chief

If we shadows have offended,
Think but this, and all is mended,
That you have but slumbered here,
While these visions did appear.
And this weak and idle theme,
No more yielding but a dream,
Gentles, do not reprehend.
If you pardon, we will mend...

So good-night unto you all.
Give me your hands, if we be friends,
And Robin shall restore amends.

To these words of Puck from the finale of A Midsummer Night's Dream, I would like to add my sincere thanks and deep appreciation to all of those who have in any and in every way helped us to transform our own visions of this yearbook into realities. To my staff editors — Carole, Diane, Rosalie, Jill, Janie, Kit, Larry, and Dick — to the entire yearbook staff; and to our advisor, Mr. Misurella, whose guidance has been invaluable, especially during a few extremely hectic weeks, I can only say, "Thank you all so very much!"

Come mothers and fathers throughout the land
An' don't criticize what you can't understand
Your sons and your daughters are beyond your command
The old road is rapidly aging
Please get out of the new one if you can't lend your hand
For th' times they are a'changin'.

Th' line it is drawn, th' curse it is cast
The slow one now will after be fast
As the present now will later be past,
The order is rapidly fadin'
An' the first one now will later be last,

FAREWELL

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence;
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

— ROBERT FROST

We, the class of 1967, stand united for perhaps the last time as we face the diverse paths of THE Crossroads. Pausing for a moment we pensively recall those memorable events which we have experienced as a class through the years — each thought more cherished than the last.

As we leave the past behind us, replete with wondrous memories of L. H. S., and turn to face the realities which our dreams will become, the time has come when each of us, alone, must confront his future and in parting from Livingston High School, seek his own path as he bids a final farewell.

Cheryl Winter

I screamed, and — lo! — Infinity
Came down and settled over me;
Forced back my scream into my chest;
Bent back my arm upon my breast;
And, pressing of the Undefined
The definition on my mind,
Held up before my eyes a glass
Through which my shrinking sight did pass
Until it seemed I must behold
Immensity made manifold;
Whispered to me a word whose sound
Deafened the air for worlds around,
And brought unmuffled to my ears
The gossiping of friendly spheres,
The creaking of the tented sky,
The ticking of Eternity.
I saw and heard,
And knew at last
The How and Why of all things, past,
And present, and forevermore.
