Ten Boys In A Boat—And Their Awful Adventures

Brodie was quoted as saying, “The boys were, as usual, out on the raft. They were fishing and had caught a good-sized fish. They were having a fine time until they heard a loud noise in the distance. They turned around and saw a larger fish approaching. They were in a panic and jumped in the water to escape. They were never seen again.”

Kirchdoerfer Explains How House To House Crusaders Will Work

General August Kirchdoerfer, of the local NRA, today told the following story of the house to house crusaders who are seeking support for the measures in Lyndhurst.

The house-to-house crusaders, he said, are part of the national movement to solicit support for the measures in Lyndhurst. They work on a strictly voluntary basis and therefore there is some misunderstanding about the role they play. The crusaders are not in general seeking support for the whole NRA, but they are able to give you better information on the given measure.

They make their rounds by saying that the measures have failed and the country is being bankrupted.

They come to the door of the householder and ask him to sign a petition. The petition is usually for a limit on the number of new houses which can be built. The householder is asked to sign it only if he agrees with the proposition. If he does not agree he is asked to sign it for the sake of compromise. He is then asked to make a contribution to the cause of the crusaders.

One of the crusaders explained that they were working on a proposition which would limit the number of new houses which could be built.

The crusaders are working on a proposition which would limit the number of new houses which could be built. The measure is not yet in the House of Representatives, but it is expected to be passed into law soon.

The Pattern Club, Inc., Sunday, the Columbia Club's annual tournament, proved to be a lively event. The Columbia Club's team was scored on only twice. Most spectacular was Bob Lang's 65 victory, giving Fort Lee's team a strong start. Lang played well in the third inning, striking out his opponent, and was rewarded with a double to center. The Columbia Club's team was led by Coach Dr. Charles Brown, who played well in every position. The Columbia Club's team was led by Coach Dr. Charles Brown, who played well in every position. Beaches, Mountains Claim Local Folks

Mrs. John and Mrs. Robert McAlvay were married at their home in the presence of a number of their friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McAlvay, parents of the bride, were present. The bride and groom were also accompanied by their immediate family.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. O'Connor of the local Catholic Church. The couple were given away by their parents.

The bride wore a white satin gown with veil. The groom wore a dark suit.

After the ceremony, the couple took a honeymoon trip to the Bahamas.
FIVE MEN ON A RAFT

The sufferings of the fivesome did not escape notice. The men were well into the night when they reached land, and the news of their arrival spread rapidly. The next day, the five men were interviewed in the local newspaper, and their tale of survival was published.

We found our long ago that we would have to make provision to take care of our friends, whatever the cost, and we shall.
