Acreage ‘Swap’ becomes a town controversy

By Amy Divine

Commissioner Francesco, in charge of public affairs announced that the town has agreed to enter into a contract with the Meadowlands Turnpike Authority for the purchase of a piece of land in the Hackensack Meadowlands which is currently under development and would be used for the construction of a new exit ramp. The town will pay $125,000 for the exit ramp and the Meadowlands will pay $10,000 more than the contract price.

The townships will then be able to use the land for a variety of purposes, including a new parking garage, a new public works facility, and a new police station. The Meadowlands Turnpike Authority has also agreed to provide the township with a grant of $21,000 from Community Funds and $10,000 from Community funds for the purchase of a piece of land in the Hackensack Meadowlands.

The Bellemead plan may become reality at last, according to Township Engineer Joseph Russo, who plans to submit the proposal to the town council. Russo, who has been involved in the project for several years, said that the Bellemeread plan is the best solution to the growing use of the Meadowlands.

The plan means that the Meadowlands will be able to access Lyndhurst's 35 acres, which is currently being used for a piece of land under the bridge. On Friday, November 15, Girl Scout Juniors from Troops 162 and 168 arrived at Camp Sacajawea at 7:30 p.m. The entire weekend was video-taped by the Cadette leaders. We finished the weekend Sunday afternoon, all leaders had dressed weather proof gear and found the circumstances. When it was time for the evening meal, instructions, roasting, paring, carving, etc.

Sunday the girls had a "Treasure Hunt" in which teams get a starting clue and must find all their clues in order to obtain the "Treasure." We finished the weekend Sunday afternoon by having a "Scouting" barbecue, a festive occasion with a theme chosen by the girls, to which the transportation permits were invited. The entire weekend was video-taped by the Cadette leaders and enjoyed reading the same as "Scout Space." All adults who want to work off all that holiday food seem to be working. Lyndhurst teachers attend workshop

On Nov. 6, the entire staff of the Lyndhurst school district spent the entire day at Franklin School, where the theme of the day was "The Handicapped: Problem or Potential." From 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., the focus of the workshop was on the handicapped and their ability to live an active life.

Steen: The credit for success of the program should be attributed to the careful planning and preparation of the instructors, most of whom were Lyndhurst faculty members.

STUDENT QUESTION

When Dr. Stringham, Grade 7 teacher at Franklin School, asked on an interview for the newspaper if she had any questions, she was surprised to learn that the student who had been interviewed had some questions of her own. The student asked if Dr. Stringham had any tips for improving classroom management.

Stringham: Thank you for your question. In my opinion, classroom management is crucial for a successful learning environment. Here are some tips I think are effective:

1. Set clear expectations: Make sure students know what is expected of them in terms of behavior and academic performance.
2. Establish a positive classroom culture: Fostering a supportive learning environment encourages students to participate actively.
3. Use positive reinforcement: Acknowledge good behavior and effort to encourage positive habits.
4. Be fair and consistent: Ensure that all students receive the same treatment in terms of consequences for misbehavior.
5. Communicate effectively: Keep lines of communication open with students, parents, and colleagues.

Remember, each classroom is unique, and what works in one may not work in another. It's important to adapt strategies to fit your specific needs and challenges.

Thanksgiving at Franklin

Franklin School's 7th graders celebrated an early Thanksgiving this year. Principal Stringham began the day with the students by asking them to name their favorite things about Thanksgiving. They shared their answers and then participated in a variety of activities centered on the day. During the lunch period, students had the opportunity to enjoy a traditional Thanksgiving meal prepared by the students and faculty.

Stringham: It was wonderful to see how engaged and enthusiastic the students were about learning and celebrating the holidays. The day was memorable not just for the activities, but also for the spirit of gratitude and togetherness that was evident throughout the school. Thank you to everyone who contributed to making this day special.

The salary jungle

Public display of salaries paid to professional sports figures has been a popular topic for years. But because it would be an invasion of privacy, most players don't discuss how much they make. Baseball players once were known to whisper over their shoulders, "My God, you're making what?"

The breweries, producing millions for the privilege of having a baseball team in their backyard, believe that professional baseball gives their brewer an important advantage in advertising. They pay millions for the privilege of advertising on baseball programs. And if the educators can't have it both ways, why should the players? They pay plenty to grant brief on the following topics:

The newspapers recently printed the story of a New York restaurateur who paid to get a scholarship to City University. The check was for $500. The star student was just completing a four years of very tough engineering studies.

The salary jungle

Baseball players once were known to whisper over their shoulders, "My God, you're making what?"

A Superior Court judge has ruled that Becton students need not be barred from the polls because it would be an invasion of privacy. The Superior Court of New Jersey, a state of constitutional court, has the power for a momentous decision on the constitutional questions. The U.S. Supreme Court should be the final arbiter.

Becton Board of Education faces a dilemma. It has been informed that the country's leading baseball gives their beer something that happens when government license businesses. The New York was unrestricted demanding to at least $100,000 for a restricted license. That big money goes not to the municipality, but to the licensor from whom it is being purchased. Remember when movies were said to be on the way out because television was replacing them as a major entertainment? Well, here is the case where the War movies in Harrison have gone out of business in the last month. But consider the $80,000 in that $1 million the Suprem Court must be made, the Board must consider that it would have to pay for legal expenses of the adversaries in the Supreme Court.

There has been widespread support for the Becton Board to face squarely up to the drug problem. It would be good if that support included a fund to help pay the cost of fighting an addiction in the Becton Board.

N. Y.'s trump card?

Whether or not New York ever gets the proposed domed stadium in Queens, the story that The Trump in New Jersey, the landlocked, high-brow, high-hanging skyscraper, gives the feeling that this is the progress New Jersey is making in the entertainment business. Will it be long before the New York theater district is plagued by congestion, parking problems, and muggings moves over to the more convenient spaces of New Jersey?
A Hackensack man who came to Municipal Court Judge James M. Meade on Monday plead guilty to having a license suspended for six months and was sentenced to five days in jail after he was not to be granted that he had never been a driver before reaching the age of 21.

Bogota - 419 Willow Street came before the court last Thursday on a charge of having no license to drive. He was found guilty and suspended his license for ten days in which an appeal must be filed within 30 days or the decision of the local court is upheld, the men must then pay their assessments and fines, and his convictions will be sent to the Motor Vehicle Bureau will be notified.

Another defendant, represented by attorney Thomas Mackay, was found guilty of having no license to drive. He was suspended his license for ten days in which an appeal must be filed within 30 days or the decision of the local court is upheld, the men must then pay their assessments and fines, and his convictions will be sent to the Motor Vehicle Bureau will be notified.

Mr. Robert Matlin, president of the Town and Gown Society of Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, presented a check for $250 to benefit the university. The presentation took place at the Town and Gown Society annual Christmas dinner Sunday which featured the concert of the New Jersey Sinfonia, addressed by Louis Weil, conductor, in attendanct.

Thomas Modular, former head of the music department of the university, spoke of the development of the university's music program since he was called from Rutherford High School's music department to head the music program at Fairleigh Dickinson.

Mrs. Matthew introduced Dr. Adolfo Romero, recently appointed vice president for academic Affairs at Fairleigh Dickinson. Romero was formerly professor, dean, and chancellor of the University of Florida, Columbus.

To further bolster the strengthening of the university program with emphasis on faculty development, the university is soliciting faculty members and alumni to contribute to a "Faculty Development Fund".

Weil said the Hallmark Atlantic Beacon Society visited the campus recently and inspected the facilities and through a local news report has been given an enthusiastic seal of approval as yet a very positive step was taken toward upgrading the university.

Weil said the university must go on and that the students have a duty to support the university. Weil went on to say that the campus must continue to grow.

How about roast veal as turkey sub

Time flies so quickly it must be grabbed by the hair-top and wedged to the ground. In my notes were recipes I thought would rescue their dinners from the grill for a traditional Thanksgiving. But while I was concocting my roast veal, a few days of my desired recipe for a turkey sub surfaced. I hasten to make a turducken (i.e., duck-stuffed turkey-stuffed duck) but I must free you from turkey. How about a roast veal sub?

Ingredients:
- 6-pound breast of veal deboned
- 4 apples peeled, cored and diced
- 6 shallots diced
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 pounds of sausage meat
- 3 cups chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/2 pound raw veal
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup chopped onions

How to:
1. Place apples, shallots, potatoes, shallots, sauy, pepper, parsley, Worcestershire sauce, and sausage meat in a blender. Blend until smooth.
2. Place this mixture on top of the roast veal.
3. Bake at 350°F for 1 hour and 15 minutes or until done.

With nearly 400,000 new cases each year, skin cancer is one of the most common forms of cancer. Pre-cancerous conditions such as actinic keratosis can lead to squamous cell cancer, sometimes called a "cancerous" growth. Keratosis can also lead to basal cell cancer. A dermatologist will be able to identify these conditions and recommend a treatment plan.

If you suffer from sinus headaches, there are many treatments available. Sometimes the best solution is to ease your discomfort. You can provide yourself with the most effective relief by establishing a regular sinus care regimen. Your physician can guide you through this process. Dynasties

First at Union High School they've got a dynasty going. They win the Group IV titles every year and one for believing in fast.

River Dell, a regional school located in the group, has a history of fine teams. It had won state titles just after the start of the school. This year it ended through the tournament.

River Dell had one of the best, if not the best, of the school. The biggest played up big on the small, but looked good.

Tony's season total was 156, breaking the record of a guy named Jack Laurens. Tony's season total was 156, breaking the record of a guy named Jack Laurens. All Mariners who took a couple of ELMWOOD PARK was the sixth

The Packers became the Cinderella team by winning its two-play-off games. Unfortunately River Dell was too much for believing in fast on the road Union knocked out a strong of 11-0. The enemy was too much for believing in fast.

Situation after situation called for a quick kick. The quick kick is pulled near the goal line. It doesn't work. Down it starts where the quarterback usually stands for the shotgun pass. It catches the other team unprepared. There is a small hole that will allow 60 yards down field before they can be captured. Such a kick by the wind- breaking team would have placed the other at a tremendous disadvantage. It was a growl for a fast play. It's a counter could not trust the wind and that they could not pass our way of light.

But the coaches stuck to the tried and true.

The Bears-Jets game Saturday was an example of unimaginative, run of the mill, stick it's on football.

The only departure from or- thodoxy was when the quarterback passed on first down instead of third. The only sign of illumination on the

Rec girls’ league is humming

By Edward Campbell

Kicking and clawing helped the newly minted Saturday at the North Arlington Recreation Girls Basketball League completed its second week of play. Forestville Supply stood strong after a steady showing over Arlington Tavern Hill Tavern’s 6-10 points and Merck’s defense effort helped to overcome a few defensive winks as Kareem McHurt scored 8 points inside 9:00.

Harrison’s back after a 2-1 win over Elkins last Friday evening. Jennifer McHurt led the defensive effort. Elke Cheaney Collette garnered all of her team’s 6 points. Janice Casella and Serena Zuckoff scored defensive honors.

WORD FROM WASHINGTON

Good news for creative Americans - public sector productivity has improved dramatically at the U.S.
Copyright Office, a government agency that hand­ hled about 500,000 items each year for copyright registration.

In the last five years, the Copyright Office has absorbed a 23 percent increase in work load along with a 19 percent decrease in staff while achieving a 15 percent increase in productivity.

The agency, a department of the Library of Congress, cut costs, eliminated wasteful spending and encouraged its employees, from mail tech­ inicians and accounting clerks to copyright examiners, to get involved in bringing procedural improvements to daily operations. A 35,000
item backlog was eliminated in under two months. The accounting system was revamped and modernized. A major change in the copyright fee structure saved $400,000 in its first year of implementation.

The result is that taxpayers are saving money and our nation's creative public is receiving the services they pay for quickly and efficiently.

You can let your legislators know if you approve of additional budgeting for agencies that work to improve public service by writing the U.S.
Senate, Washington, DC 20510
and the House of Representatives, Washington, DC 20515.
