Garbage turns to $1M pot of gold

Mayor John E. Galajda, speaking at the Bergen County Utilities Authority's monthly meeting on Thursday, February 14, with pride from Vice President, Cumberland. During the meeting, Galajda noted that BCUA would receive a check for $1,000,000 on February 23.

For many Lyndhurstans, the news has been both welcome and surprising. The check was a result of the BCUA's efforts in the last year to recover the cost of clearing the town's trash. The town's garbage was transported to the Bergen County Utilities Authority facility, where it was processed and sold as fuel. The proceeds from the sale of the garbage were then returned to the town.

Oh, those women drivers!

It is Asta Stella of Paterson who says it all with his droop ear of car and the killer, with those flappers that are droning about the air. She has been getting a letter don't write for 100 days after the group of the Division of Motor Vehicles for one following the generation in Lyndhurst Municipal Court.

Mr. Wilson was charged with permitting an unlicensed person to operate his vehicle. He told Judge Richard F. Cullen of the Municipal Court that he was the driver, and will not meet if schools are closed for holidays, recess, or other reasons. The deadline for mail registration will be held open. Late registration will be held Feb. 13.

Recycling supported Equipped

Commissioner Louis J. Schmen, Jr., Public Works Director, wishes to express his thanks and appreciation to everyone in Lyndhurst for the recycling program. It appears once more that the residents of Lyndhurst are indeed community-minded and support local programs. The Commissioner is grateful for the support of the community and encourages everyone to continue participating in the recycling program. The program is available at the Lyndhurst Adult School and the Lyndhurst Community Center.

The Department of Public Works will be receiving new equipment and software to enhance its recycling activities. The new equipment will be installed in March, and will be available for public use. The program has been successful, and the Department is looking forward to continued success.

Boiling Springs savings announces strong year-end figures

Edward C. Gibney, President of Boiling Springs Savings and Loan Association, with offices located in Hackensack, New Jersey, is pleased to announce another outstanding year of financial success as the association has again been named a "High Performer" by the American Bankers Association for its performance during 1987. In addition, total assets of $334.8 million, reflecting the institution's growth, and its gross earnings of $1.4 million for the year just completed.

According to Gibney, total assets grew to $334,1 million, representing an increase of almost $1 million over 1986 year-end figure. More importantly, the Association's earnings rose to $1.6 million, a record high of $1.6 million. This amount represents more than $440 million in after-tax earnings, and is the highest inflation of any savings and loan in the state.

As a percentage of assets, the institution's net worth stood at 9.5%, representing a significant improvement of 5 percentage points in just one year. Boiling Springs Savings, Gibney noted, has added another $2.5 million to its net worth over the past five years.

The institution's mortgage loan portfolio also advanced more than $4 million, reaching a new high of $354.8 million, reflecting the institution's commitment to its local market and building strong relationships with its customers. The savings deposits grew as well, topping $70 million.

The first step on the way to the highest ranking in the New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Bankers association is the "Superlative Savings Account," which includes a free checking account, access to a local bank, and another savings account.

The "High Performer" designation, Gibney noted, is the highest ranking that a savings and loan can receive. The institution has been honored with this recognition for the past five years.

The association's management team, Gibney said, has been recognized for its exceptional accomplishments, including the introduction of new products and services to its customers.

According to Gibney, the association's success is attributed to its commitment to customer service and its dedication to the local community.

IRA's are very much alive

By Gay Servin, Jr.

The law, in fact, would agree with this viewpoint, believing Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) now do the same thing of which the investments garner only the fact. The truth is, they are still very much alive.

This year, retirement accounts have been the hot trend for many investors and accountants, but sometimes, it seems like IRA's still carry an important aspect. Earning an account is tax-deferred. So, before, you very likely thought of making your own individual IRA contribution, make sure you know all the facts.

Whether or not you are able to claim an IRA deduction depends on your income level. You can claim any IRA contribution as a tax write-off, but only if you are covered by a pension plan. The deduction is completely eliminated, however, even without the self-employment deduction, IRA's remain a solid vehicle for long-term savings.

Are you eligible for the annual deduction? You can claim deductions in three different ways that may be the best tax shelter available. Earning coverage based on your contribution includes tax-exempt mutual funds, tax-deferred investments are held completely tax-free until withdrawals begin.

The notion that once you commit your money you can't touch it until you retire, is completely false. The truth is, if all the taxes are paid, then your funds should stay in the IRA until you need them during retirement. However, you can write them off in any given year. Prior to age 59 1/2, your penalty may be 10 percent of the amount withdrawn if the IRA fund is not in a trust.

The penalty can be avoided, however, if you plan ahead and set up a periodic withdrawal program based on your life expectancy. And finally, you will need to keep track of your deductible contributions since you won't owe taxes on the latter, unless you plan to make withdrawals. (Some IRA's are set up to segregate your taxable versus nontaxable contributions. Check with your Financial Consultant.)

In short, even though you may not yet have the immediate benefits of an IRA, it's never too early to start because the long-awaited benefits of contributing are simply the discipline of contributing to your IRA every year and being for ahead of the game when you retire.

Secret schemes

Senator Bill Bradley has finally decided that the Presi­dent's course of action in Nicaragua is a judicial rather than a military one. He feels that it has taken so long to see the light is a mystery; none-the­less it should be backed for as little a frame of crumbly hope that comes our way.

In the past the Senator supported the efforts of the Contras because he sincerely regarded them as the only way to stop the spread of Communism in South America. He feels that the actual events led to a possible peace treaty in Nicaragua between the Sandinista Leonides Aras that would end the bloodshed. In his opinion, this hope grew in the hearts of North Americans as well as the Salvadorans themselves. Senator Reagan made it obvious he did not want a peace that

An insidious policy

State Education Commis­sioner John V. Lynch has done a commendable job as the top school administrator of the state. His efforts to pursue the raising of the level of education are the admiration of all of us.

However, we are in full disagreement with his latest plan to eliminate the three-year principal's license as a qualification for being a school principal.

He proposes that new regulations be drawn requiring prospects to pass an advanced master's degree in administra­tion, management, and pedagogical studies, as well as a performance assessment and undergo intensive orientation. This intensive orientation internship would require 30 to 40 days in a class training before beginning as principal.

What is amiss in Mr. Cooper­man's plan for school principals? It is by no means an insidious policy of dividing school adminis­tration from scholastic education. We object to this policy because it bodies more good for school teaching. During the last 20 years we have seen some notable advances in non-teaching personnel in our school system. While teachers are being held to a ridiculously low wage scale the non-teaching managers, supervi­sors, etc., enjoy a much higher salary. There is a visible difference if you are going to spend 20 years in the same room staying out of the classroom. The non-teachers have to be dependent on senatorial courts to get their positions in as vacancies arise in areas, at the taxpayers' expense.

Talk to any teacher and he/she will confirm this. You must spend time in class understanding the problems in principal's responsibility, self discipline, self­ishness, and committees. Now the position that the future teacher should be made to require is

That lovely billion dollar surplus

Dear Editor:

New Jersey has a rated 1.2 billion dollar surplus. This new tax measure is an example of excellence joy by state and local officials. Senate Majority Leader John Lynch has taken the initiative of getting the big apple in the Senate. But then again, when cases like SCR43 locked up in committee. I publicly call on Senator Edward O'Conner, the Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, to take SCR43 in a public call on all my colleagues in both branches of the legislature to help me amend the State Constitution so that the people are protected against judicial appointment.

Until the people are protected by a different process, we will continue to be dependent on seasonal court­ers for as long as which cause to stop such action. I suggest that the people won't be able to vote. My seat during around the issue.

Trivial pursuit

School Trustee James Dombrowski of North Arlington is being unfairly harassed by the city council. The fact is that Town, Dombrowski, an energetic young man who has shown a great interest in North Arlington affairs since he was a vote, no one knows the prob­lems of North Arlington be­known.

Dombrowski was single when elected to the Board of Education and lived with his mother on Riverwood Avenue. He later married a young woman who had her own home in River­hurst. The couple are trying to buy a home of their own in the city, but feel it is what they should know. Meanwhile, the Lyndhurst apartment had his still living. There must be more along circumstances sound like a legal federal case? You would have to be able to think as

Dear Editor:

Governor Kean's announcement of Superior Court Judge Richard E. Hyland of Cherry Hill, proposes to give lifetime tenure on the bench to a man whose past record includes the finding of official misconduct. Judge Hyland was appointed in 1985 by his former county circuit judge, an accused sexual harassment. This is very distressing to me, considering that no one in New Jersey history has a judicial misconduct been so honored by either the Senate Judiciary Committee or the full Senate. Another court to the New Jersey model of an outstanding woman, a Representative in the House of Representatives, a Federal Judge, and a Democrat, is a poor choice. We object to this action because the judicial arm must be able to say that for five years, low tax rate, we would have one less office after this in the judicial remuneration process. The legislation proposes re­formed process, we will continue to monitor the public commitment to keeping the public re­port about a judicial reappointment. The legislation proposes to estab­lish a judicial reappointment com­mittee to review judicial perfor­mance and to help selecting judges if a Superior Court judge or Superior Court Judge should be reappointed. The proposed commitment would consist of six non-partisan members of the Legislature who are not lawyers and who are not related to lawyers. The committee also has the power to conduct an informal interview of the judge in the general direction by the voters.

In half of our water source the problem has been resolved by some means of judicial review of the people on the judges, because judges become accessible for their beh­avior. Very few judges are ever driven out of office in terms of the Mis­term, where the last imply judicial review in a public affin­ity, but then again, when cases like Hyland's occur in these issues, judges with records like Hyland's are unlikely to be em­ployed.

Publically call on Senate President John Russo and Senate Majority Leader John Lynch to withdraw their public commitment to keeping SCR43 locked up in committee. I publicly call on Senator Edward O'Connor, the Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, to take SCR43 in a public call on all my colleagues in both branches of the legislature to help me amend the State Constitution so that the people are protected against judicial appointments. It is very difficult to see the good we have in the heart of North Americans as well as the Salvadorans themselves. Senator Reagan made it obvious he did not want a peace that

We do not care so much of what is called judicial misconduct, we simply accept that many are ignorant of their public re­port about a judicial reappointment. A1331 a worthwhile measure. Good luck.

Preparation eats up the time

I am always amazed at the people who seem to have enough time to toil on a large scale. I wonder only a few minutes to cook. They seem to make all the other meals in the world, at least on a regular basis, and still find time to prepare food for cooking. The actual cooking is the last. We are not the only ones who have found this out. I remember watching some friends wash, cook, and serve their meals in record time. But the art of cooking has changed to fit the fast-paced society, cooking at a much later time. When you watch a good cook on television, it is a treat to see how much time is saved by having the preparation finished before the cooking. It is also important to know how much of the food you have to keep in mind. If you are busy, it is easy to forget that you need to keep your interests first in mind.

An interesting recipe from the Southern Cornbread Center of Arkansas: WITTIP TOMATO CHICK

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon pepper
3/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons corn oil
1/4 cup chopped green onions
1 cup chopped tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons corn oil or
1 teaspoon sugar

In a pie plate with fork, combine flour, sugar, and corn oil with 1/2 cup of water, and add the remaining ingredients. Mix well. Place two tablespoons of fat in each plate, heat until the mixture is completely cooked. In a bowl, add salt, pepper, and corn oil. Place in hot oil, heat until white, and serve over butter.

Fry all ingredients in a large skillet, stirring constantly. Reduce heat to medium low, and let the mixture simmer for about five minutes. Remove to paper towels to drain, keeping warm. Pour all but 1/4 cup of the tomato sauce over the chicken, and bake until the chicken is done.

2 tablespoons corn oil

1 teaspoon dry mustard

1 teaspoon sugar

1 teaspoon paprika

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon black pepper

Remove to paper towels to drain and keep warm. Pour all but 1/4 cup of the tomato sauce over the chicken, and bake until the chicken is done. Serve with a side of rice and vegetables.

Mard Gras motif will welcome 21's Carnevale

The share the spotlight during the Feb. 12-16 celebration of the Carnevale at Don's 21 Cafe, 65 Washington Ave., Kearny, the last week before Lent, a time of fasting and feasting before the start of the penitential season.

"We call it the feast before the fast," said Francello, recalling the holidays of his childhood in Pennsylvania. "My mother would always prepare the best and serve it to the best. We'd have spaghetti and meatballs, grilled cheese and pasta sauce, and delta and beans.

The unusual feature of the place is the large tables surrounded by bars at which the food is served. These 20-footh tables have always been a feature of the place. Among the regulars at the long bar is a man who proudly shows albums of photos he took over the years, many years ago, when he was a regular for the Jackie Gleason Show.

And partaking of the fare there are many who served in the military during the time of the Vietnam War. "They are everything in sight and for mom," said Jack.

I have devised a menu I am sure will please the public and prices are reasonable, service fast and ingredients and food of the highest quality," said Jack. Seniors send tea bags to raise money

The Rutherford Senior Citizen Club, a "Saturday-only" program for seniors, began its annual fund- raising drive with a "Bowl-A-Rama" Tea. Letter were sent to over 1,000 homes with a tea bag and poem urg- ing that on Valentine's Day a "cup of tea and chat of tea" be taken. For viewing of the concerts the Senior Citizens have requested a donation to the Center which serves senior citizens in the northwest Bergen area. Also included in the mailing was the February schedule explaining the activities and operation of the Center. Along with special fund- raising projects, the Board of Rutherford, churches and local organi- zations also contribute to the Center's funds. The morning programs are usually in the areas of health, current events, historical, or cultural, with demonstrations, orchestras, etc. with arts and crafts, book discussion and others running off their com- prehensive day.

As a recent Council of Represen- tatives honoring a new slate of offic­ ees was elected: Joseph Fallon, pres- ident; Helen Shaw, vice president; secretary, Elise Miller, and treas­ urer, Anna Prengelan. A with past assis­ tant, Kaye Tucker, center director, and a founding group of food supervi­ sors, Cena Pion, Dick Mroz, Bari­ brie Taylor and Hannah Galagher, volunteers Louise Sammis, regul­ ars; and Jane Fiamma, arts and crafts instructor, and many others who give of their time, make Satur­ days the place to be for seniors in the area. February 13th's program, "The Black Woman Today," presented by Barbara Warren is provided through the Bergen Community College Speaker's Bureau. The lunch will be held by the United Methodist Church. Book discussion and arts and crafts are the scheduled activities for the afternoon. For lunch reservations and fur­ ther information about the Center and its programs, call 438-4521. Any persons wishing to contribute to the Center may do so by sending a tax- deductible donation to Rutherford. Senior Citizens Center, 33 Ridge Road, Rutherford, NJ 07070.

Sex pervert

A pervert allegedly accosted a group of young men in the area of the Mountain Avenue bridge in East Rutherford.

According to police, the man stepped toward the teenagers and offered them money in exchange for their underwear. When the teenagers rejected his offer, he then said that he would give them one dollar each to spit in his face.

The teenagers accepted his second offer. As one spat in his face, the man used a pair of sunglasses to wipe the spittle from his face.

Lyndhurst AARP has waiting list

By Evelyn D. Stawicki

Four hundred members of the Lyndhurst Chapter of AARP recently attended the annual tax preparation clinic held at the AARP center. Yolanda Wicks of the Internal Revenue Service spoke about the changes in the tax laws. She especially cautioned those 65 years of age and older about the section 1250 issues.

The next clinic will take place on May 5 and May 12 between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Advance reservations must be made. For information on programs where tickets are sold, and the schedule is available from the IRS Taxpayers Service Department whose purpose is to assist taxpayers in resolving any tax problems they may have in the lowest priced services. The number of tickets available has been increased and the fairly new Problem Resolution Department has been added to the waiting list. Also, there are still a few seats available for the February 25 bus rides to Caesar's in Atlantic City. Advance reservations must be made.

Cats must be licensed

Public Affairs Commissioner孔珍 P. Cullinane announced oral licenses for cats and dogs that each pet owner in the Township of Lyndhurst must obtain. All illegally parked vehicles will be towed at owners' expense and summons will be issued. The towing fee is $35 and the cost of re-registration is $1.50. In addition, storage fees will be charged.

There is a varied schedule of rabies clinics for both dogs and cats. More information about the changes in the tax laws. She especially cautioned those 65 years of age and older about the section 1250 issues.

Rutherford Art meets

On Thursday, February 18, at 9 p.m., at the Rutherford Public Library, Park Avenue, the Art Association of Rutherford will hold its monthly meeting.

George Tucker of Rutherford will give his presentation on water color painting, using the wet-on-wet as well as the dry brush technique. He began painting in 1977 at the Rutherford Adult Education School with Lavina Johnson, an artist residing in Lynbrook. Then he attended sessions at Upsala College, given by Ferdinand Piñas, a Rutherford artist, he also studied briefly with well-known artists such as John Fau and Arthur Bartholomew.

Dean has published his paintings at the Hackensack Library, William Carlos Williams Center, Rutherford Library, and Continental Can Company Headquarters. He has won numerous awards including grants to paint in Europe in 1984. His paintings are in a number of private collections in New Jersey and New York.

Incentives can be effective

The old concept that a disabled person required special treatment because of physical and notional handicaps is being replaced by a more realistic approach. Disabled people want to be regarded as normal persons capable of being productive and useful in their families and to society. Most would like to go to school and make their own medical care. Many are concerned about earning their own living. Their future is in their hands if they are given the opportunity to fulfill their human potential.

Sports Arena, Morristown, in late November will host the Special Olympics, an international competition for human potential. The program is for people with mental deficiencies. It is through participation in these games that physical fitness of disabled people can be obtained. The games are offered to area residents.

Hudson County Medical Center in the first hospital in the country to begin an innovative program involving new techniques and Social Security disability payments. The program is already in effect at the medical center and the Hunterdon Medical Center. The_office of the Social Security Administration, the application process for the program is simple.

Who is eligible? William W. Brown, D.D.S. and Lee T. Fish have joined a wide-spread group of dentists in offering their services to area residents. The dentists are offering their services to area residents. The dentists are offering their services to area residents.

Free dental care offered

Free dental care is being offered to people who have to apply for benefits. If they are still on the rolls, they are no longer entitled to receive Social Security checks for up to nine months after the rolls are reduced. Once a person is off the rolls, he or she can receive Social Security disability payments, but if the person medically improves or is no longer disabled, Social Security benefits are discontinued.

An incentive program for working disabled people whose SSI payments will end after a three-month period and lose their disability checks, if they want to work. This is a new program aimed at helping disabled people find employment.

It is through participation in these games that enriched lives are shared with area residents and other members of the community. It is through participation in these games that enriched lives are shared with area residents and other members of the community.

Rutherford stages musical performance

Rutherford High School class of 1988's musical production of MY FAIR LADY is taking on every performance. The cast, under the direction of Broadway-quality characters, is proving that it is no longer a first-time show.

For self-employed people, net earnings count as trial work months. If the person works 15 hours with the business, the additional amount of earnings is being replaced by a more realistic approach.
