Hazel creates senior citizens zone, clearing way for Bethany Towers

By Lee Deloughery

The township's Zoning Board of Adjustment has awarded a variance for Bethany Towers, a proposed senior citizens' housing project, on the basis of a request by Mrs. Irwin C. Filardi, who owns the site and has plans for the project.

The variance, which allows for the construction of a six-story apartment complex on a one-acre site, is the second of its kind awarded by the Zoning Board in recent years. The previous variance was granted to the developer of the Oak Ridge Apartments, a similar project located on the same site.

The Zoning Board's decision was based on the fact that the site is located within a designated senior citizens' zone, and that the proposed project is consistent with the township's master plan for the area.

Mayor Stephen F. Benson, who resides near the site, expressed his support for the project, stating that it would provide much-needed housing for senior citizens in the area.

The project is expected to begin construction within the next year, and to be completed within two years. It will consist of 200 apartments, each with one or two bedrooms, and will be equipped with all modern conveniences.

The developer, Mrs. Filardi, has already begun negotiations with potential tenants, and is confident that the project will be a success.

Committee questions value, usefulness of property ordinance

By Chef Aria

A report by a committee appointed to examine the property ordinance was presented to the Borough Council at its meeting last week.

The report, which was prepared by a subcommittee of the Borough Council, recommends that the ordinance be revised to better reflect the needs of the community.

The committee, which consisted of five members, met several times to discuss the ordinance and its provisions.

The report notes that the ordinance is outdated and does not reflect the current needs of the community.

The committee recommends that the ordinance be revised to include provisions for the protection of historic buildings, and to include provisions for the protection of public spaces.

The report also recommends that the ordinance be revised to include provisions for the protection of the environment, and to include provisions for the protection of the public health.

A public hearing on the report will be held at the next meeting of the Borough Council.

Wedding ceremonies sometimes reach peak of poor taste

When I closed last week and got married in New Jersey, many of my friends called me to say congratulations. They were happy for me, but they were also critical of my wedding ceremony. They said it was too long, too expensive, and too much of a hassle.

I have to admit that I was a bit surprised by their reaction. I thought that everyone would be happy for me and no one would have any complaints. But it seems that I was wrong.

In fact, I have heard from several other people who have recently gotten married and they all seem to feel the same way. They say that their wedding ceremonies were too long, too expensive, and too much of a hassle.

I think that the reason for this is that people are becoming more and more concerned about the environment. They are trying to be as environmentally friendly as possible, and they are not willing to spend a lot of money on a wedding ceremony.

I think that this is a good thing. I think that people should be able to have a wedding ceremony without spending a lot of money. They should be able to have a simple ceremony that is environmentally friendly.

But I also think that people should be able to have a wedding ceremony without worrying about how it will affect the environment. They should be able to have a beautiful ceremony that they will be happy with.

So I think that people should be able to have a wedding ceremony without worrying about how it will affect the environment. They should be able to have a beautiful ceremony that they will be happy with.
Tie-in with BRSA to hike sewer rates in Matawan

By David Waves
MATAWAN TOWNSHIP—One of several unresolved issues the Matawan–Bayshore Regional Sewage Authority (BRSA) is negotiating is how much township residents will pay for sewer service.

The state of New Jersey, according to David Knowles, executive director of the Matawan–Bayshore Regional Sewage Authority, has agreed to pay a fixed amount as a grant in lieu of sewer service for the township.

Knowles said that residents if a federal grant is not approved, the township will be responsible for paying for sewer service.

"We're negotiating with the state and federal officials," Knowles said. "The state may pay for sewer service, but the federal government is not." The federal government is negotiating on the question of grants.

Zeppelins' thrive in Marlboro garden

By Lee Deignan

Marlboro’s gardeners grow cucumbers, says Marilyn Williams, treasurer of the Recreation Commission.

"I asked if I had any more of those little watermelons. It was big, she didn’t realize it was a watermelon."

Williams grows cucumbers, tomatoes, and onions, and it’s been a good season for the sun-lover too. "I can’t grow enough of them, and my wife and I can’t eat all of them."

She points to the vine-covered plants, looking as if they’re gardening experience is a standard "hobby." "They’re as much as they can use." Her garden thrives, she enjoys it, but sometimes says that it’s too little for them.

"Look at these big trees in the front. We planted. "They’re good at any time. When the leaves turn, they do a lot and go into the soil."

Williams, 72, grows vegetables in a field, but it’s not all just cucumbers. She and her husband eat what they grow and give the rest away. "Growing a vegetable is sometimes too much fun." Williams said. "I’ve never had one, but she asked for something more for the community."

Board awards contracts for high school repairs

By Chuck Alesa
KEYPORT

The Board of Education had week awarded contracts totaling $409,600 for the repair of five damages at the high school.

The total of $409,600 is considerably lower than the board's previous estimates of $600,000 to $700,000. The costs will be split in two: $178,000 for the roof and two rooms on the second floor which will not suffer serious water damage.

Low bidder for general construction was Charles Hershing of Feith-Bowman. Mechanical work was awarded to M.A.J. Mechanical Contractors. Highlands, Man- tain, and electrical work, to Vers Electric, Keyport, $77,000.

The board also selected bids for floor in one room and painting in one. The cost of floor in one room, according to Mr. Cook, the board's architect, was $3,000. The board unanimously agreed to hold the bids for further study.

Michael Suh, a new teacher at the high school, was appointed assistant principal.
