REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Mr. Turner yelled at 3rd period English to shut up

Ms. Fitz had us "feel the room".

David Starr asked Mr. McKenna if he wanted to go Bunji jumping

Davie Starr farted and Sasha stated "I smell something warm!"

2nd period Physics H Lab Group #6 "Duhhhhh!"

Mr. McKenna had the breakthrough. "You can't add apples and oranges and get bananas!"

Barry Chu went berserk on Mr. McKenna and told him he was cynical.

On January 15th, 1991, Alice Tsao, our validictorian got her first detention.

Carolyn Winston saw the rebirth of Christ.

Lori Scherling and Meghan Horl were skipping down the hallway. Meghan grabbed Lori's foot, Lori went flying and Meghan landed on her.

1990 A.C.C.'s . . . We went, we kicked butt, we left, we got stuck, we were delicious, we relived the best Saturday Night Live 3 times, we ate chocolate babies, we had a cereal fight, we watched Michael Saffran (a.k.a. Mr. Happiness) have a cow, Mr. Vinci took people through a guided tour of the woods, Bimbo cheerleading try-outs . . . SKIP!

In October we had a 5 day weekend and the Marching Band had 5 days of 4hrs. practice.

All the Senior guys "came out of the closet."

We used to love school.

You went to your first Tree Lighting Ceremony and looked up at the huge tree while the smaller one was being lit.

Lakewood bit the dust!!!

Dave Starr told Gene "If you find a Shake-n-Bake pork chop right now, I'll give you $100."

Michelle Magenat's pocketbook went on fire in lunch Sophomore year.

Aimee Steinberg and Traci Lupi didn't sweat Mr. Martucci.

Ms. Fitz, fourth period class, turned their desks around to face the wall while she was out, then acted as if nothing was going on when she came back in.

We all argued over something stupid that broke up our friendship.

Einstein was hung upside down on the physics window. Where is Einstein?

Kristen Meyer's hair caught on fire in the Chemistry lab.

All the homcoming nights at Beth's house.

Freshman year when we were afraid to talk in the hallway.

Remember moshers!

When the Milbrook Passe attempted to do the Heinz Ketsup Commercial.

Vikki Caso's prom date fell down the stairs of the Garden Manor.

When we were young and all friends.

A Year In The Life Of A Junior

Many people say the Junior year is the most difficult in high school, and the Juniors at Matawan are no exception. Besides the events that occur exclusively at Matawan, such as paying for the prom, there are things that worry Juniors everywhere; The SAT, the Achievement Tests, Advanced Placement Tests, and the ACT give many of us cause to panic. Who can forget the three seemingly endless mornings spent taking the Due Notice HSPT?

Tests are not the only worries we've faced. Those of us who plan to attend college begin the selection process. Those who do not begin planning their post-high school careers.

However, this year has also been fun. We won the hallway competition for the third year in a row using "The Wizard of Oz" as our theme. We also showed our school spirit in the Silly Olympics and the Powder-Puff Football Game. The prom is always one of the highlights of the school year and this year's was no exception.

Next year we will look forward to being Seniors and will carry with us memories of a great Junior year at Matawan.

A Year In The Life Of A Sophomore

As we became Sophomores last September, a whole new light was shining on us and the things we did. As the year started, it was time for us to get our brains in gear. We started out taking the P-SAT and then the P-ACT.

As the year proceeded, we went on to fun and more exciting things. In November, the Sophomore class united as one big family during the Homecoming hallway and float competition. Although we came in third place in the hallway competition this year, we will be even more determined to do well in our Junior year. We all had a great time at The Silly Olympics and at The Powder-Puff Football where we did a great job as a class.

As the year progressed and finals drew near, the whole school seemed to be in a worried panic, but we got through it.

Being a Sophomore myself, I know that the class of '93 has a lot of spirit. Together, we are an awesome class with a bright future!

A Year In The Life Of A Freshman

Woke up an hour earlier than I did in eighth grade.
The first day of school,
And I needed first-aid.
I got the Freshman Blues!
Getting used to the hallways,
Tripping down the stairs.
Run around in a circle,
then I realize it's a square.
I got the Freshman Blues!
Having trouble opening my locker,
Took three days to get it right.
I need a place to sit for lunch,
and there's no place in sight!
I got the Freshman Blues!
The last bell rings,
And I'm through for the day.
I walk out the door,
A Senior says, "Get out of my way!"
I got the Freshman Blues!
Climb onto the bus,
I sit in a seat.
I think to myself,
"How can I do this all week?"
I got the Freshman Blues!

News

The Soviet Union today is a country with many of its economic and political institutions in turmoil. The economy of the country is suffering to the point of relying on foreign aid to survive the winter. The political system of the country is also in danger of collapse. The power of President Gorbachev is the source of constant argument among his opponents and many of the republics, including the Baltic states, continue to revolt against the established government. Whether or not Gorbachev will remain in power in the next few years is a question the world waits for an answer to.

When the Berlin Wall fell on Nov. 9, 1989, West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl jumped at the historic opportunity to bring his country back together again. He knew that German communism was gone and that unification was inevitable. Kohl had suggested a series of treaties to bring about unification beginning in 1993 or 1994, but the stampede of East Germans into the West (340,000 in 1989) convinced him that unification had to begin immediately.

In July, Helmut Kohl met with Mikhail Gorbachev in the Caucasus resort of Zheleznovodsk to negotiate Germany's future. They emerged with these agreements: A united Germany will be free to join NATO; the 380,000 Soviet troops in East Germany will be withdrawn within three to four years; NATO troops will stay out of East Germany for those years; the German armed forces will be cut from 590,000 to 370,000; and Germany will renounce nuclear, chemical and biological weapons.

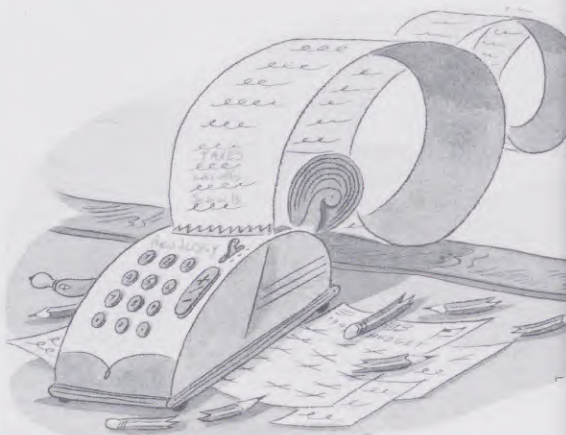

The future of Germany now lies in the hands of the people.

James Florio Favorite or Flop?

In the first year of his administration, Governor Florio made many changes in state policies. Most of the changes were unpopular and ill received. Lay offs, cuts in state aid, and an increase in taxes were included in his plan to pull New Jersey out of its fiscal woes.

There were also major changes in educational funding from the state. The distribution of monies throughout the state will be more evenly divided, taking some from wealthier districts and relocating funds to those in need.

It remains to be seen whether or not these changes will benefit the Garden State. Time will tell. Florio's political career will be decided in the next three years.

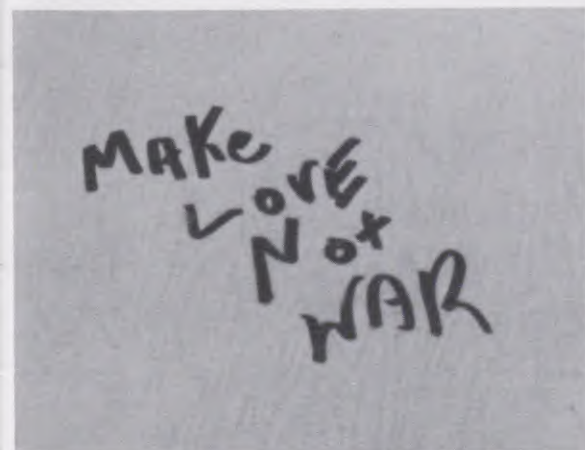

On Jan. 16, 1991 the United States went to war. For six months, American and Allied troops had been stationed in the Saudi desert, waiting for a confrontation that was, from the first, inevitable. Months before Saddam Hussein, Iraq's military dictator, seized the wealthy nation of Kuwait. Outraged by this overt act of belligerence, the international community banded together to defeat the Iraqis. Troops were deployed to Saudi Arabia and a policy of watchful waiting began. Economic sanctions were imposed in the hopes that violence would prove unnecessary. Operation Desert Shield was born.

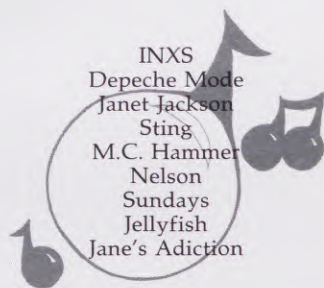

Three months later, the Allies had decided that they had waited long enough. Amid missile attacks and threats of chemical warfare, the battle was joined. The air attack was, by military standards, highly successful. With each successive day Saddam's forces were decimated the day ground war sealed his fate. The mother of all battles had proved to be a devastating defeat. The allies had triumphed.

Throughout the war, the climate at home had been wildly supportive. Approval ratings for President Bush were incredibly high; in one move he had seemingly divorced himself from his somewhat less impressive domestic record. The nation wrapped itself in the American flag. Yellow ribbons appeared on homes, in shop windows and on lapels. We were nation of patriots.

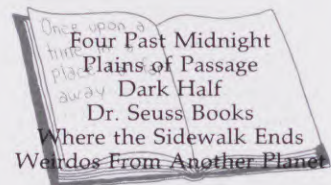

Victory was not had without cost. Aside from the astronomical sums spent in funding Desert Storm, there were prices paid in far more devastating occurrences. Kuwait had been raped. The nation was in ruins; citizens had been murdered in the streets. Israel had suffered millions of dollars of damage. Thousands of Iraqis were killed. Although these are grievous losses, the efficiency and swiftness of the campaign prevented further carnage.

The Freshmen Float.

The Juniors' Float took second place.

The Seniors' first place float.

Homecoming is without a doubt Matawan's best loved tradition. With each year, floats and hallways become increasingly elaborate. This year's was no disappointment. Each class began work months in advance, a spirit of friendly competition infected all the participants. With Candyland as their theme the Senior Class transformed the West Hallway into a vision of confectionery splendor. The Junior Class followed the yellow brick road with their Wizard of Oz motif. The Sophomore Class led us into a terrifyingly terrific walk through a haunted mansion. The Freshmen Class selected New York City, and adorned their hallway with relics of urban life.

The floats were equally as magnificent. The Senior Class followed through with Candyland while the Juniors constructed a giant's breakfast of champions. The Sophomores featured a giant dog bone, and the Freshmen depicted the famous New York skyline.

The winners of the float and hallway competitions were announced at the game on Thanksgiving Day. The Juniors took first in the hallways with the Seniors a close second. The Senior float took first and the Junior float took second.

During halftime, the Homecoming King and Queen were selected. Football captain Rich Slater was King and Amy Steinberg was crowned Queen. The Princess was Traci Lupi and Prince was Andrew Lasko.

The game itself played against traditional adversary Raritan was another triumph. After a series of unfortunate turnovers the Huskies came back to pummel the Rockets.

This year the African American Student Union was involved with numerous events. One of these events was a basketball game against a team sponsored by 98.7 KISS FM. The event was a great success. With just this one event, the A.A.S.U. raised upwards of a thousand dollars for the Hale House. Some members had the opportunity of delivering their contribution directly to the Hale House's organizers. The organization also toured some of the nations black colleges in February. This year has been a year of hard work, dedication, and reward for the members of the A.A.S.U.

Boys' Basketball

This year's varsity basketball team was a young squad composed mainly of juniors and sophomores. The team had to gain experience quickly to face the tough competition of the B-North division. The team showed great promise with solid performances by juniors Mike Power and James Fredricks and sophomore Nebraska Baker. This year's team was coached by Jack George and led by seniors Jon McKinney, Dan Presti, and Cory Northington. Junior varsity was coached by Wayne Spells and the freshmen were coached by William Newman.

Girls' Basketball

This year's girls' basketball team was like many other Matawan teams, young. However this year's team had experience with many varsity lettermen returning from last year. This season also saw the return of Coach Fleischer to the girls' basketball scene. Solid performances were turned in by Dina Scott, Marissa DeSimone, LaCretia McGhee, and Christine Slade. The leadership for this young team was provided by senior captain Dina Scott. The coaches for this year's team were Mr. Jim Lukach and Mrs. Ellen Fleischer.

Winter Track

With very few seniors, the boys' winter track team was composed mostly of inexperienced underclassmen. However these athletes competed very well against the difficult Shore competition. Outstanding team members were Leonard Terrell in the distance races, Tyrone Garland and Mark Ochinegro in the shot, and Jermaine Rice in the high jump. Scott Davis and Joe Malone helped to lead the freshmen to many medal winning performances. With these athletes talent and the leadership of coaches Charles Rego and Sam Turner and captains Greg Ulrich and Gene Luciani the winter track team had a very successful year.

Football

It did not appear to be the typical season for the Matawan football team. After consecutive years of dominating the "B" North division and memories of a state championship in 1988, a 5-4 record does not sound like much to be proud of. The record does not show it, but the Huskies had to fight from the depths of a 0-3 start to finish at 5-4. The record was an aberration, but the pride and dedication were characteristic of the great Matawan teams. "Each team is remembered for different reasons, this team will be remembered because it was the team with the most heart," said Coach Martucci.

The defense readies for action.

The varsity cheerleaders had a great season. "This was one of the best squads that Matawan has seen in the past few years," said captain Jodi Radzely. They went to cheerleading camp for four days over the summer and learned many new things. At the camp they won various awards such as, most creativity, and most improved squad. This years captains are Jodi Radzely and Jennifer Mazerkevich. The co-captain is Ricarda Lynn. This years squad worked and practiced hard together to accomplish all of their goals.

Boys' Cross Country

The team starting strong

This year's Cross-country team not only doubled in size from the previous year but made a strong showing in the competitive "B" North Conference. Every team member was dedicated to the team, giving their best at every meet. This year, the boys upset Rumson and St. John Vianney, Two teams that Matawan hasn't beaten in seven years. This year's captains were Barry Chu and Gene Luciani. The team placed fourth in the "B" North Conference with a 6-5 record. The JV team finished fourth in the county and sixth in the shore.

The 1990 season for the girls' cross country team was very successful. Although the team was young, basically composed of freshman and sophomores, "they worked harder than in previous years", according to captain Tammy Cheng. Even the veteran members improved their times under the guidance of Coaches Charles Rego and Faye Irons. The team's captains were Tammy Cheng, Juliet Warrington, and Onike McPherson. Sophomore Dina Ali was, once again, the leading runner, placing first for Matawan in every duel meet.

Field Hockey

This years field hockey team was the best team in three years. The team, still in its rebuilding stages, was far more competitive then teams recent years. A J.V. team was created because of a large number of new players. The team was coached by Dan Russell and Gail Bauwens. Leadership was provided by senior captains: Virginia Hamlin, Mary Hodes, and Margery Scanlon. Although a 1-13-2x record may not show it, this year was an exciting, promising, and competitive year for Matawan Field Hockey.

Boys' Soccer

The 1990 soccer team provided a unique season for Matawan fans. A controversy, stemming from a dispute over uniforms, arose early in the season. The issue involved the purchase of uniforms by the varsity team without direct consent from George Hart, the athletic director. After the suspension of four players, the issue was resolved through a Parents' Club compromise and the players were reinstated. The season itself was disappointing with a record. However outstanding performances by Rich Mould, Tom Sorenson, and Todd Lubeck were recognized by many area papers. Captains were and the team was coached by Jim Lukach.

Although the first match did not show a promising year for the Girls Tennis team they rose above their expectations to a 5-10 record. For Mr. McNick this was one of his most successful seasons in the past few years for the Girls Tennis Team. For Captains Elyssa Silverman and Carolyn Winston it was an unforgettable year. The Varsity team consisted of Lauren Dickey, Andrea Meyer, Marisa DeSimone, Ellen Weinshanker, Michelle Twigg, Kristen Perry, Elyssa Silverman, and Carolyn Winston. As for the next year it should be even more successful.
