Metuchen Schools Rank 'Above Average' in Magazine Survey

Metuchen's schools rank above the average in the country, according to results of an educational test prepared by Life Magazine with the assistance of experts in the field.

School ratings are determined from answers to a questionnaire. The answers locally were provided by Walter E. Wilson, superintendent of schools.

The test was published in the October 16, 1950 issue of Life Magazine. It is designed, according to Life, to give parents a practical way of measuring the education their children are getting.

The Life test is a simple yes-or-no questionnaire. It concentrates on the tangible qualities that make up a good school. It does not measure the intangibles, such as faculty personality and school spirit. The test's workability has been analyzed and proved by the Education Testing Service in Princeton.

Scores throughout the country have ranged from 45 to 147. The higher the score, the better the school, according to this test.

For elementary schools, the best school got scores between 115 and 142. Metuchen's score was 116, according to Mr. Wilson's answers. Average schools nationally have achieved scores between 90 and 115.

For high schools, the best schools got scores between 127 and 147. Mr. Wilson ranked Metuchen High at 127. Average high schools nationally score between 105 and 127.

Borough Council to Ask For Boost on February 7

Metuchen's tax rate probably will go up this year to $10.34 for every $100 of assessed valuation.

Increases are contemplated in all three parts of the budget, the municipal tax, the school tax and the county tax. The new budget will represent a 70-point increase over last year's tax rate of $9.64.

The Borough Council will introduce its budget on February 7. Mayor Earl E. Metzger announced this week. The council's budget will call for taxes of $3.49 for every $100 of assessed valuation, an increase of 36 points over last year's rate for local purposes.

The Board of Education already has adopted a budget calling for $4.95 for every $100 of assessed valuation. This is a 25-point increase over last year's budget.

The County Board of Freeholders has introduced a budget calling for a $1.90 county tax rate here, a nine-point increase over last year's county rate.

THESE FIGURES are not definite official until the voters approve it. The school board's budget is not at the polls. An election is scheduled for February 8.

The county tax rate may be changed after a series of hearings by the County Board of Taxation. If tax assessments are changed, this could alter Metuchen's share of the county tax.

The Borough Council's budget was completed over the weekend. It was trimmed down at two public meetings, one on Friday and one on Sunday. The meetings followed four public pre-budget hearings at which the council heard budget requests, suggestions and questions.

THE COUNCIL'S budget holds operating costs to the same level as last year's budget. Here is where the increases come:

1. County and school budgets. The council has no control over these parts of its budget, merely adding them to its own budget for municipal services.

2. Police Department. This cost will rise about $8,200 because of the new 40-hour week which the voters approved last November. Few men had to be hired.

3. The surplus. This year's budget increases the surplus revenue fund from $69,000 to $108,000.

Last year's tax cut was achieved by taking $150,000 from the surplus. The Democratic minority on the Republican-controlled council complained when the departmental surplus fund by that much was poor financing. Now that the Democrats have control of the council, they plan to replenish the surplus fund gradually, a little each year.

Mayor Metzger said that the surplus is necessary in case of financial trouble in future years. The council might need its surplus, he said, in case of any sort of business depression, or when bills for the trunk sewer start coming, or when the bill for a new school arrives. He added that a surplus cushion would enable the council to stabilize the tax rate and prevent big fluctuations.

WHEN THE COUNCIL added up the requests of its departments and worked out a tax figure, the result was "frightening," according to the mayor. Then they went to work cutting it down.

They sliced off five percent from requests wherever possible, taking care not to affect salaries or wages. This cut $8,000 out of the budget requests as published previously in The Recorder.

Then the council cut out the suggested appropriation for a traffic light at Amboy and Lake Avenue. The council doubts the wisdom of the light, a spokesman said, in spite of the fact that Police Chief Enos J. Fouratt has recommended it. The council feels that the light might complicate the traffic problem rather than alleviating it.

BIGGEST CUT from last year's budget is in the Department of Public Works. In street repair and maintenance, the department plans to save $11,300 from last year's expenses.

In garbage and trash removal, the department plans to spend about $1,300 less than last year. The cost of sewer treatment also is expected to drop by $3,050 from last year. All these savings are in the Department of Public Works under the chairmanship of Councilman Samuel P. Owen. Mr. Owen believes his department will perform its functions just as well as in the past in spite of the financial savings.

THE NEW BUDGET will be introduced on February 7. It will be advertised so that everybody will have a chance to see it. Then a public hearing will be held, probably on February 21, at which citizens can suggest changes or ask questions.

Suz-Anne School Had Merry Year

Santa Claus was good to the Suz-Anne School for Retarded Children this year, according to Mrs. Jean McGurty, director.

Mrs. McGurty has been busy all month saying "thank you" to area organizations and individuals who gave gifts and sent cards to the school. But there were so many anonymous gifts that she asked The Recorder to pass along her appreciation—for those, too.

Biggest gift, Mrs. McGurty said, was $1,000 from Johnson & Johnson. Other gifts included cash, candy, cake and cookies.

Molineux Wins Press Contest

Will Molineux of Washington Street, a junior at William and Mary College in Williamsburg, was awarded a first-place rating last week by the Virginia Press Association for a sports story he submitted in a state-wide newspaper-writing contest.

The story, which first appeared in a Baltimore newspaper, covered the Rutgers-Williamsburg game of last fall. Will is news editor of his college weekly and a reporter for a Baltimore daily paper.

Priscoe May End Coaching Career

The Woodbridge Board of Education has not yet acted on the resignation of Nicholas A. Priscoe as football and baseball coach.

M. Priscoe, a member of the Metuchen Borough Council, has coached football for 20 years in Woodbridge. He is a former Rutgers University star and played with the Philadelphia Eagles, a professional team.

A recent salary adjustment raised Mr. Priscoe's pay from $400 to $500 for coaching each sport. He reportedly was dissatisfied with the pay.

The next board meeting is scheduled on February 14.

Mr. Priscoe has been selling real estate in the Metuchen area.

With a pool of almost 200 registered boys, including the regulars from 1953 rosters, six teams of fifteen boys each played a 45-game schedule at Oakland Field.

As a matter of public interest, the League did not seek any financial aid from the Boro for umpire expense.

During the year, the Women's Service Club aided materially by making the game collections and conducting the Annual Tag Days with the help of the "Little Leaguers".

We are duly grateful to these Ladies, to the Sponsors, to our Parent Advertisers, to the many "Boosters", and to the Citizens of Metuchen in general for the financial and moral support given the League in 1954.

Respectfully, George T. McLaughlin, President.

The Editor's Column

No Excuse for Ignorance

If local taxpayers don't have a better idea than ever before as to where their tax dollars go, it is not the fault of the Borough Council and the Board of Education, or of Edison Township's Board of Commissioners.

The Borough Council met four times, in full view of the public, to draw up a rough draft of its new budget. Every spectator who had a suggestion, or a question, was heard. The meetings have been covered thoroughly in The Recorder and in other newspapers serving this area.

Residents will have still another chance to ask questions, offer suggestions or criticisms. That will be at the public hearing on the final budget, which probably will be conducted on February 17.

The Board of Education has been true to its promise of last year. It has conducted all public business in public.

Although the law requires one public hearing on a budget, the Metuchen school board has held two, so that everybody had a chance to have his question answered or his objection heard.

The board also went to considerable trouble to publish a 20-page booklet, 3,000 copies of which are being distributed throughout the borough. This booklet separates the facts from the confusing official terminology, and explains the proposed budget clearly. Every single increase and decrease in the budget is explained in the board's booklet.

The township commissioners conducted a frank, friendly public forum two weeks ago, explaining their budget problems and telling what they plan to do in this year's budget. They heard questions and suggestions, and said afterwards that the meeting had been very useful.

As in Metuchen, everybody was heard who had a question or a criticism. The general public will have another chance to discuss the budget with the commissioners—after the final budget is introduced.

In the past, citizens have known little and cared less about their tax money. Today there is no excuse for such ignorance.

Now it is easy for citizens to understand what is being done with their tax money. With that understanding, they can actively support or oppose expenditures. Only the ignorant and the indifferent will remain neutral.

Our public officials are doing their share. Now it's up to us to do our part.—H.R.

HIGH SCHOOL JOTTINGS:

Frosh Plan 1st Dance

By SANDY LAWSON

The freshman class, striving to meet expenses, is putting forth not only their first class dance of their high school career, but also the first class dance of the season.

Working furiously to provide a proper setting for their theme, "Blue Heaven," the freshmen will labor 'til roughly 15 minutes before eight (when the dance opens), February 4.

Not to be outdone, the seniors are already holding general meetings for their class dance, slated for March 18.

Proceeds from the dance will help defray the expenses of the class trip, caps and gowns, and all the other expenses that go with being a senior.

That isn't the only factor keeping many seniors busy these days. During this week English 4 classes are giving dramatic readings of "Macbeth," or, as it is affectionately known to the seniors, "Is this a dagger I see before me?"

The English 5 class has asked the student government to finance a short documentary film (written, scenarioed and filmed by the class itself) dealing with student government and its effects on the average student.

Another suggestion was to have interested Metuchen High students make arrangements to appear on "Teen Bandstand," a TV show on Channel 9, which features a party (complete with contests, prizes and guest stars) for teen-agers. Lack of time prevented any discussion of this matter.

The Jay-Vee cheerleaders, experimenting during one basketball game are going to sell items like carrot and celery sticks and popcorn in order to raise revenue to buy jackets for the football season. Although this request was readily passed by the legislature, it met with resistance in the cabinet, which felt that the cheerleaders were in direct competition with the Student Government concession, which sells soda and potato chips. The whole affair ended in a stalemate.

Speaking of dances, last Sat-

Army Weighs Fate Of Camp Kilmer In Secret Survey

Rumors that Camp Kilmer will be closed were described this week as "rumor" by an assistant secretary of the Army.

Pred Seaton assistant secretary in charge of the Army's public relations, said the fate of the camp in Edison Township depends on a classified survey that is being made. The survey is a result of the announced reduction of Army troop strength in the United States.

Camp Kilmer is only one of the many posts included in the survey. Mr. Seaton said.

The big installation was closed once before, in 1949, but was reopened the following year when the Korean War broke out. At present there are 3,000 enlisted men and 300 officers assigned to Kilmer. About one-third of these are Air Force men, but they already have orders to move out by the end of the year.

Camp Kilmer is a personnel center. Recruits from overseas are received here for processing. Replacements go overseas from this camp.

Concert Assists Church, Victim Of Arsonists

The Piscatawaytown Baptist Church, seriously damaged by a fire which police termed the work of an arsonist, benefited from the sacred concert last Sunday in the Piscatawaytown school, which was sponsored by 11 area churches.

Anton Marco, former San Carlos Opera Singer and now a gospel singer with the Word of Life Fellowship of New York City, was featured. The 30-voice choir of the Northeastern Bible Institute in Essex Falls, under the direction of John Hallet, also sang.

According to police Capt. Harold Peterson, the $10,000 fire on January 10 in the white wooden church "was definitely arson." He said that investigation showed that two fires were started on different floors in the church and at opposite ends of the building. There was no electrical wiring or other such structural device at either spot that could have started the fires, he added.

The building had been renovated about a year and a half ago, and the basement rooms had been redecorated about a month ago.

Services of the church are being conducted in the Piscatawaytown School.

The churches which sponsored the concert are: Woodbridge Gospel Church, Old Bridge Baptist Church, Russian Baptist Church of South River, High Street Baptist Church and the New Brunswick Bible Church, both of New Brunswick; George Road Baptist Church, North Brunswick, First Baptist Church of Metuchen, Tabernacle Baptist Church of South River, First Baptist Church of South Amboy, New Durham Chapel of Nixon, and the Piscatawaytown Church.
