'Thine is the Glory'

The Youth Choir of the First Presbyterian Church of Metuchen rehearses Handel's "Thine is the Glory," a traditional Easter hymn which it will sing at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, when all area churches will celebrate the Resurrection of Christ. Members of the choir are (rear l-r) Linda Black, Arlene Dana, Dawn Steinbeck, Laura Smith, Wendy Magee; (center) Joseph Highfill, Richard Burns, James Burns, Robert Smith; (front) Denise Scotland, Ingrid Kaehlert, Lisa Cobb, and Dina Carpenter. Missing from the picture are Terry Illick, Sue Vincke, Gail Hoffman and Ellen Doerr. The choir is under the direction of Mrs. June Potter Durkee.

SAVING THE TREES—Members of the Key Club at Metuchen High School load bundled newspapers and magazines into a 40-foot trailer parked at the Center street entrance to Franklin School. The collection activity nets about $100 monthly, with the profits being divided among the club and the high school PTA, which both supply manpower, and the scholarship fund of the Metuchen PTA Council. Working this past Saturday were, Tom Lupfer (foreground) and Richard Mayo.

Playground safety pressed

Mrs. Barbara Lorenz of Bounty street in Metuchen, has made a fourth plea to members of the Borough Council to install safety devices at the Moss School playground to protect children on weekends and after school hours.

Mrs. Lorenz says that automobiles often use the parking and play area as a short cut from Simpson place to Hunt place, and although a barrier was recently put up at the Hunt place entrance to the school yard she contends that cars still drive around the building from the Simpson place entrance.

The latest instance was last Saturday when a car was observed racing around the yard at about 7 p.m., a time when children might be at the site. She suggests that either mobile pipes be rolled out across the entrance at the close of school or that a chain be installed so that cars cannot gain access. These barriers, she said, could easily be put out by maintenance men at the school and be removed in time to allow teachers to enter the parking lot for the start of school the next day.

Mrs. Lorenz complained that she had spoken publicly on three previous occasions to Councilman Leonard J. Roseman, liaison to the Police Department, about the situation and each time had been assured that safety measures would be taken.

"Are we to wait until a child is killed?" she asked Monday night.

Mrs. Lorenz also deplored the lack of communication between the council and the Board of Education, explaining that she had spoken to James Wilson, chairman of the building and grounds committee for the board, at a meeting last week and he said he had not been informed of the problem.

Because of the absence of some borough officials Monday night, Acting Mayor S. Elliott Mayo and Fred Keiser, borough prosecutor serving as attorney, were not able to get information from council or police sources on the situation. The council, however, did authorize Harold Klein to telephone the Board of Education, asking that it look into the problem and enact some temporary safety measures until a permanent solution could be found.

2 police jobs open

The Metuchen Police Department is now accepting applications for two patrolmen.

According to Chief of Police Edward Leiss, application forms are available at the police desk. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 30 years of age, with five years additional allowed for time spent in the service.

In addition, applicants must have 20-20 vision, be a minimum of five feet, eight inches tall and have received a high school diploma. The next police examination is slated to be given in the latter part of May or early June.

First year patrolmen earn $9,934.

Recall drive goes on

by Ruth Mihalenko

Petitions for signatures aimed at removing three incumbents elected to the Metuchen Board of Education and scheduling a new school board election continue to be circulated in the borough. Their two instigators, John Strelecki and Walter Magdich are expected to make a decision later this week as to when to file the papers with the local board.

Only 50 signatures are required on such petitions and by Monday the pair had well over 100, but they were determined to continue the signature-seeking to gain what they termed "a good representation of what the people of Metuchen really think of the Board of Education."

Strelecki and Magdich, who were both defeated in the February 13 school board election, began their efforts for a recall following last Tuesday night's public meeting of the board where they claim they were not given adequate opportunity to ask questions and receive answers in connection with the board's overexpenditure of funds during 1971 and 1972.

They feel that if the public had known about the overexpenditure prior to the election, the three incumbents, board president William Cummings, Mrs. Sally Slobodien and Frank Cammarano, would not have regained their seats. Both say they are sure they would have won, with a victory for Strelecki at least having been a sure thing because of his narrow margin of defeat.

The fourth newly-elected member of the board, James

Wilson, is not named in the petition because he was not an incumbent. At last week's meeting of the board, Wilson said he was not aware of the overexpenditure during the campaign, although Cummings had previously indicated that all candidates did know.

Strelecki says the completed petitions will be filed with the board, but he is sure that the board attorney, Richard Powell, is advising members not to accept them. They would go next to the county superintendent and then on to the state commissioner of education.

If blocked all down the line, Strelecki and Magdich have promised they will continue their fight in the courts.

At the next public meeting of the board in May, Strelecki intends to ask board members why an audit report was not printed up and made available to the public in October as provided for in state law 18A:23-4.

He says that he and Magdich face no particular deadline as far as filing the petitions is concerned, only that a special election could not be held within 20 days of a primary or general election. This year's primary is slated for June 5.

"One hundred names in a week may not seem like much," Magdich says, "but John and I can only do this in the evenings and we were interrupted this past weekend by a holiday."

"When we visit people in their homes," he adds, "they ask many questions and sometimes it takes as long as one-half hour to get two signatures."

Paper profits pile up

There's a lot more to ecology than just the saving of the environment.

For members of the Key Club at Metuchen High School and the high school PTA, it is also a matter of money.

Each month for the past several years, these two groups have joined forces to organize a collection of bundled newspapers for recycling. In doing so, they have also realized a profit for both organizations as well as for the scholarship fund administered by the Metuchen PTA Council.

The drive, held the second Saturday of each month at the Center street entrance of Franklin Middle School, nets about $100 on an average collection day. These funds, which averaged about $1,200 last year, are equally divided among the three groups and represent a fairly large portion of their yearly budgets.

According to Mr. and Mrs. Hans Schafft, who have been involved with the recycling since it began four years ago, adults used to drive station wagons back and forth between the collection site and recycling center. Later the firm of Bruno and D'Lia of Hackensack, through which the newspapers are recycled, made a trailer available.

Most of the manpower is provided by the students from the Key Club, but four adults are always present. About 18 months ago, the Mayor's Committee on Environmental Action was formed and the newspaper recycling was soon joined by the collection of glass.

Schafft says about eight tons of paper and magazines have been collected in the past 18 months, the equivalent of 24 trees. He says that the citizens turn out in a steady stream on collection day, filling the 40-foot trailer and many leaving their papers at the site even before it opens at 9 a.m.

"But," he laments, "if only 50 percent of the community cooperated, we could fill two trailers every month."

Trevor Wright, who keeps the financial records, agrees that the groups are only scratching the surface.

"We could do it every week with what is available in Metuchen," he says. "It is just a matter of getting the people educated, getting them to save their papers and magazines in bags or boxes or anything."

"There's a wealth of money just disappearing."

Signals urged at 5 corners

Five busy intersections in Metuchen have been pinpointed as problem areas by the Traffic Study Committee and a list has been forwarded to the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders for possible aid in financing lights for the sites.

According to Councilman Leonard Roseman, the five include three intersections previously cited as dangerous by the Traffic Operations Programs to Increase Capacity and Safety (TOPICS). These are Bridge street and New Durham avenue, Central and Plainfield avenues, and Eggert and Amboy avenues.

Added to these were the intersections of Mason drive and Grove avenue, and Lake avenue and New street.

The cost of one lighting installation is quoted as between $17,000 and $20,000, with the possibility that under the TOPICS program some federal money might be available. In the case of Mason and Grove, both municipal streets, the borough would have to bear all the cost and the possibility is being explored that temporary lighting might be utilized to ease severe congestion.

It has also been suggested that access to Lake avenue at the railroad bridge be cut off from the end of Central avenue. The space could be utilized for parking by customers of the businesses in that area and the state might agree to providing curbing to keep cars from using that route illegally.

BIG WHEELS—Bruce McRae (l) and George Reid (r) of the Metuchen First Aid Squad run through a practice session with Robert McRae using equipment from the group's newly-purchased ambulance. The new rig, which arrived about three weeks ago, cost about $21,000, most of which was raised by the squad during its annual fund drive activities. This year's drive is slated for April 28 and 29. The money will be used to purchase two resuscitation units.

HUNTING BAN BANNED—Edison's attempts to have its ban on hunting reinstated have been rebuffed by an appellate panel of the state Superior Court. Following another court action which overturned the ban but retained the prohibition against the use of firearms, Edison turned without success to the state Fish and Game Council.

RENT CONTROL ORDINANCE—Public hearing is scheduled April 25 on a rent control ordinance introduced by the council last week. If the code is adopted rents will be frozen as of that date. All increases then must receive the approval of a five-man rent control board to be appointed by the mayor. Increases will have to be tied to the cost of living index on all buildings containing three or more rental units.

If the applicant is unsatisfied with the decision of the rent control board, he may appeal to the council and then to the courts. A suggested maximum increase is 15 percent, according to Roland A. Winter, township attorney.

DEPUTY CHIEFS—Public hearing will be held April 25 on an ordinance establishing salaries of $15,677 and $17,434 respectively for the newly created posts of deputy fire chief and deputy police chief and providing for the following guide for police: chief, $19,190; captain, $15,677; lieutenants, $13,921; sergeants, $12,813; first-year patrolman, $7,643; second-year patrolman, $9,383; third year patrolman, $10,190; fourth-year patrolman, $11,098; fifth year patrolman, $12,106.

The salary guide for firemen includes $18,555 for the chief; $13,931 for captains; $12,913 for fire inspectors, and the same guide for firemen, first through fifth year as for the police.

The ordinance creating the deputy positions was adopted last week after strong criticism from Robert Brown, 38 Wayne street, who said that since more money will be needed for the additional officers (two more police captains and nine more fire captains) funds should have been included in the municipal budget adopted less than one month ago. Noting that he approved of the changes, he labeled the council's action 'devious' in not budgeting the almost $50,000 needed to pay the higher ranked personnel. Captain William E. Pinter will be named deputy police chief and the deputy fire chief will be selected shortly.

ORDINANCES ADOPTED—The council adopted last week an ordinance vacating, releasing and extinguishing the rights of the public in a 15-foot wide storm sewer easement in the Inman avenue industrial park. The ordinance affects an area of about 4,000 square feet and corrects a map error.

Another ordinance authorizes the issuance of $600,000 in school bonds or notes to finance the cost of improvements at various schools in the district.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE—The Township Council will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. on April 25 on an ordinance authorizing the construction and acquisition of sanitary sewers at an estimated cost of $45,000. The affected areas include Beatrice Parkway, south from Inman avenue, Darwin boulevard, north of Curtis avenue, Procter avenue westerly to Park way and Walton street and an easement between Pierson avenue and Goodwill place.

CONTRACT SETTLEMENT—The contract between the Board of Education and the Edison Township Education Association will be approved by the board at its May 14 public meeting. The contract, containing a two-year salary guide was ratified last week by the teachers.

The 13-step guide for 1973-74 includes: BA, $8,950 to $15,214; MA, $9,578 to $16,163; MA plus 30, $10,205 to $17,113; MA plus 60, $10,833 to $18,062; PhD., $11,461 to $19,012.

The guide for 1974-75 includes: BA, $9,380 to $15,974; MA, $10,118 to $16,923; MA plus 30, $10,635 to $17,873; MA plus 60, $11,263 to $18,822; PhD, $11,891 to $19,772.

The contract also includes expanded Blue Cross-Blue Shield major medical coverage for the teachers and their dependents as well as a basic dental plan for teachers only, effective July 1, 1974.

HEARING TONIGHT—The Planning Board will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. today in the municipal building on an application from Pumpton Associates, Inc. to subdivide 1.58 acres on Jean place for the construction of four single family residences.

AUTO WRECKER REGULATION—The Township Council has agreed to give further consideration to a proposed ordinance from attorney Gerry Gordon to license and regulate the activities of auto wrecking operations in the township. The ordinance was suggested because, according to Gordon, only two or three wreckers are regularly called by police.

SUITS FILED—Two recent applicants before the zoning board have filed suits in Superior Court. The Holiday Inn owners are challenging the denial of a use variance by the council, terming the action arbitrary, capricious and unconstitutional. The zoning board had approved the inn's request to expand its operation in a light industrial area at Cortland street and Patriot avenue.

Dajohn Corp. of Dunellen took similar action regarding a denial by the board to permit a 12-unit garden apartment project on Plainfield and Runyon avenues. Noting the scarcity of apartments in the township, the corporation contends that its plan is compatible with the surrounding area and would assist those in the middle income bracket.

ROMAN CANDLES—Mrs. Tony DeStefano, Mrs. George Kagdis and Mrs. Edward Sliva (l-r) assemble Roman candles for the "Holiday in Rome" annual card party to be held Tuesday by St. Matthew's Rosary-Altar Society of Edison. The event will be held in the church hall, Seymour avenue at 8 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 each and may be purchased from Mrs. Thomas Penny, 985-2280. Proceeds will be towards payment of the new church organ.

45 policemen elevated

by Marjorie Feinson

Forty-five newly promoted members of the Edison police department were sworn in at noon yesterday in the municipal building.

Under the reorganization William E. Pinter has been elevated from captain to deputy chief, a newly created position designed to assist and relieve Chief William Fisher from the increased administrative and operating duties of the department. The deputy will coordinate and assist all bureau commanders within the department and will assist in the development of staff and procedural meetings.

Pinter, 52, has been in charge of the uniform patrol division since 1959. In addition to attending numerous police schools, Pinter was graduated from the FBI National Academy in Washington and the Middlesex County Police School.

George V. Miller and Joseph Marino have been raised from lieutenants to captains. Richard McGinnis will replace Pinter as a captain while Peter Quagliariello will fill the spot left vacant by Fisher. This brings the total number of captains to six with three of them slated to be watch commanders. This new post will result in direct field supervision available in all police situations from 8 a.m. until midnight seven days per week. The commanders coordinate the entire police operation in the field. Lieutenant detectives working as supervisors for the various investigative units will also be on patrol within the community.

Five of the 14 elevated lieutenants are new positions while the remainder are rank replacements. Robert Krog, Victor Schuster, Robert Palko, Richard Kermes and Richard Williams are filling the new spots while Bernard Gockel, Paul Jenney, Joseph Shirley, George Dudics, Charles Peterson, James Madarasz, Joseph Seroka, Garrett Voorhees and Anthony Calamoneri are filling lieutenant vacancies.

New sergeants are Forman Kozal, William Quigley, Robert Bobik and Anthony Landi. The 15 replacements include James Vargo, Daniel Miller, Charles Salvemini, Al Ruggiero, George Cook, Fred Pfeiffer, Fred Lacik, George Robinson, Angelo Bekiarian, Walter Seredy, Ernest Yancsek, George Burrue, Louis LaPlaga, George Macechok and Manuel Rodriques.

The seven men performing as acting detectives for the past 48 months who will now receive the rank and pay of sergeant include Thomas Bryan, Richard Barrett, Andrew Nagy, Ralph Wuest, George Bandics, Martin Berlinski and Arpad Marics.

The reorganization abolishes the detective rank and incorporates all investigative ranks under one control command.

As a direct result of these promotions, Fisher said that investigative personnel will be on duty from 8 a.m. to midnight, seven days per week instead of the usual 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with someone on call during the evening. Thus there will be 16 hour coverage in all specialized areas such as juvenile, narcotics, general detective, auto and vice duties. These officers will be in unmarked police cars. In addition identification services (including fingerprinting, applicant processing and firearms permits) will be available to the public during the 16 hour span.

Dems mum on Lukacs

by Brenda Lewis

Dr. Joseph Lukacs, incumbent Highland Park Democratic councilman who recently announced that he planned to run for re-election, released a statement today reaffirming his decision.

Party officials, however, said only they are "still screening" candidates, who must file by April 26. Harold Berman, the other Democratic incumbent whose term ends this year, has not yet announced whether he will seek party nomination.

Released with the Lukacs statement was an endorsement by Mayor G. Paul Beck.

"Over the years many outstanding people helped provide and maintain good government in Highland Park," Beck said. "Whenever a Democratic incumbent indicated interest and willingness to continue his services to the community he always received the support of the Democratic organization, the governing body and the people who elected him. Dr. Joe Lukacs has indicated his desire to continue to serve."

Beck cited Lukacs' service this year as council president and chairman of the Public Works Committee, and as a member of the Public Safety and Health and Welfare he was instrumental in obtaining the services of the county health department "at no cost to the taxpayer." "These are just some of the facts why I wholeheartedly support Dr. Joe Lukacs as a candidate for re-election to council," Beck concluded.

"I consider myself fortunate in having been able to serve the people of Highland Park for the past three years as a member of the Borough Council," Lukacs said. "I welcome the opportunity to serve my community again and the people of Highland Park. I pledge to make every effort to serve all the people of Highland Park to the utmost of my ability as a dedicated, responsive public official."

Lukacs, a dentist practicing in the borough, is a life-long resident who resides with his wife and daughter at 12 N. 8th

avenue. He attended St. Paul's grammar school and Highland Park High School and is a graduate of the University of Delaware and the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry.

A former captain in the army dental corps, he is a member of St. Paul's Catholic Church and was a member of the Parish Council for three years, serving as chairman of the Constitutional Committee.

He was first elected to the council in 1970.

Heavy agenda for planners

Six subdivision requests, including four which were postponed last month pending review by the Middlesex County Planning Board, will be considered tomorrow by the Highland Park Planning Board.

Meyerson Builders of New Brunswick, under contract to purchase from Philip and Jane Cantor, has requested permission to divide property at Montgomery street and Parkway into three lots with frontage on Montgomery street of approximately 42, 58 and 164 feet and a depth of 85, 70 and 90 feet respectively.

Albert Muglia will submit two minor subdivision applications, one combining five odd-shaped lots on the corner of Exeter street and Central avenue into two lots approximately 84 by 60 feet, and the other dividing the lot at 1705 Central avenue into two lots measuring 48 by 130 feet and 78 by 130 feet. Muglia is under contract to purchase the lots from Michael and Jenny Horvath.

The fourth application was submitted by the Stanpat Construction and Investment Company, which seeks to divide the lot at 200 S. 8th avenue into two lots with frontage of 75 and 50 feet on Benner street with a depth of 100 feet along S. 8th.

Hyman Weiss of New Brunswick has applied to subdivide the lot at 603 S. 3rd avenue, on the corner of Valentine street, into two lots by cutting a corner lot measuring 75 by 100 feet from the larger area of approximately 250 feet frontage and a depth of 250 feet.

Mendel Shapiro of Elizabeth requested permission to subdivide a vacant lot on the first block of Lexington avenue into three lots, two with frontage of 50 feet on Lexington with an average depth of 179 feet, and the third with a frontage on Lexington of 92 feet and depth of approximately 190 feet.

Because a portion of the lot lies in Edison, Shapiro submitted a letter from the township planning board confirming that it does not have to approve the subdivision.

Philip Attardo of 208 Raritan avenue submitted a site plan for an addition to his building to the board for review. The 25-by-20-foot, one-story addition will be used for business purposes as part of Attardo's beauty salon.

Market rated 'conditional'

The Foodtown Supermarket on Raritan avenue in Highland Park has until the week of May 14 to improve the conditions which resulted in a less than satisfactory health rating this week.

The market was rated "conditionally satisfactory" under the state's retail food establishment inspection and posting program after an inspection Monday morning by George Jackow, borough sanitarian.

However, conditions in the store show "a definite improvement" since last June, when Jackow threatened to close it down because of negligence in complying with health standards. Since that time, store management has instituted regular housekeeping practices which Jackow said improved maintenance and cleanliness.

In the latest inspection, the report notes cracked and missing tiles in the produce and meat preparation rooms, personal belongings stored in food preparation areas, produce stored on the floor in the walk-in refrigerator, a rear door not flush with the floor allowing possible entrance of rodents and vermin, dust and grease accumulation on the ice machine, grease, dirt and debris accumulated in stairwells, food debris particles in the delicatessen reach-in refrigerator, too much hand contact by employees working with luncheon meats, foods on display not protected from exposure to dust and contamination, a dirty floor in the delicatessen walk-in refrigerator, broken and rusty hinges on the door to a fish storage unit, a stove not vented to the exterior of the premises, dirty floors in the basement, thermometers not visible, food debris inside all refrigerator units in the store, and a dirty and unrepaired garbage receptacle.

Only one other retail food establishment, Noshers' Heaven at 237 Raritan avenue, awaits a reinspection in order to be raised to a rating of "satisfactory." That will be checked again on April 30.

All other establishments inspected so far this year have now been rated satisfactory and seven remain to be inspected.

GETTING THE POINT—Amy Rotheim, 5, watches apprehensively as she receives an inoculation from a county Board of Health officer at a clinic Saturday in Highland Park. The 180 borough youngsters who attended the free immunization clinic received a total of 284 shots.

Board okays 2 rent hikes

Al Rieder, manager of the Magnolia Apartments on Woodbridge avenue, submitted three requests concerning rent increases to the Highland Park Rent Leveling Board last week and he received approval on two.

Rieder, who is also an alternate member of the board, asked if the rent control ordinance would allow an increase from $155 a month to $170 at the expiration of a two-year lease. The board ruled that the 10 percent increase came within the guidelines of the Consumer Price Index, which rose by approximately five percent a year, as stipulated by the ordinance.

A second increase from $205 to $221, approximately eight percent, was also approved.

Rieder was turned down, however, when he asked if an increase could be based on the rent stipulated in a lease rather than on the actual, lower rent being paid by the tenant under special circumstances.

A complaint by a tenant of an apartment at 469 S. 2nd avenue was settled when representatives of Feist and Feist of Newark, manager for the units, admitted that a recent rent increase was in error which would be corrected.

In other business, board member Donald Getzin of 303 D South 11th avenue, appointed as a representative of tenants, resigned because he recently purchased a home.

Parking ban will be lifted

A resolution to restore partial parking to the north side of Raritan avenue between first and second avenues was expected to be introduced last night by the Highland Park Borough Council.

The resolution would allow parking at all hours except between 7 and 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. At present, no parking is allowed on the north side.

In other business, the council was expected to approve renewal of the borough's dog warden contract with Edison.

The contract, first signed last March, cost the borough $200 a month, and provided for the pick-up of stray animals as well as other pet-related health services.

Council was expected to accept bids for gas and fuel oil, pass the yearly salary ordinance, and approve an amendment to the human rights ordinance which would forbid discrimination based on age, sex, marital status or liability for military service.

'Fling' wins top honor

"Fling," the Highland Park High School student newspaper, has received a first place rating of 946 out of a possible 1,000 points in the competition sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Entries were submitted at a convention which was held last month. Students who attended were: Sam Freedman, outgoing editor-in-chief; Jeff Natter, incoming editor-in-chief; David L. Cohen, managing editor; Mark Schoilet, sports

In other honors, Marc Plescia has been named a national winner in the sports writing division by Quill and Scroll, a national honor society for high school journalism students. His winning entry was entitled "Alumni Recall Past Metuchen Games."

FIRST TRIP—Lloyd Young, public works department employee, prepares to take Highland Park's new $23,000 garbage compactor out on the road for the first time this week. The new truck, ordered last July and delivered last week, has a 25 cubic foot capacity compared to 20 cubic feet for the old borough trucks.

Hopefuls wait it out

Edison Democrats and Republicans are expected to wait until just prior to the April 26 filing deadline before announcing their candidates for mayor and council.

According to Dr. Thomas H. Paterniti, municipal chairman, he is the only person who will be screened as a mayoral candidate. As one local official expressed it: "How many people are there in the township who have the time, money and energy that Paterniti has to devote to the job?"

The mayoral race was thrown open when Mayor Bernard J. Dwyer announced his candidacy for the senate from the 18th district. If Paterniti is elected, four council seats will be available. Incumbents William Toth and Edward Grygo Jr. are expected to seek re-election and James J. McDonnell resigned last week.

One hopeful who expects to appear before the screening committee with the backing of the United Democrats of Edison is high school teacher Paul A. Nuzzo, 38, who also served as the president of the Edison Township Education Association. He has been a resident in Edison for the past 22 years.

One resident who has denied being a contender for a council seat is Joseph Sherber, director of John F. Kennedy Community Hospital and former Board of Education president. "I did not give up a labor of love with the board to do anything but attend to the construction at the hospital," said Sherber. Besides, nobody even asked me about running and I'm not available."

The Republicans have screened about 40 candidates. One woman widely mentioned is Mrs. Marti Plager, a regular observer at council meetings and an active member of the League of Women Voters. Several sources indicated that the Republicans are going to concentrate their efforts in capturing the council seats while conceding the mayoral spot to Paterniti.

Chorale plans two concerts

Free concerts by the Middlesex County Chorale will be offered on April 29 at 4 p.m. in Kirkpatrick Chapel, Rutgers, and on May 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the Trinity Methodist Church in Highland Park.

The singers will present the Schubert "Mass in G," American folk songs, some Latin American songs and selections from "Carousel."

Area members of the chorale include Marge Kordecki,

Salute to Roseman

Leonard J. Roseman, councilman and former Democratic municipal chairman in Metuchen, will be honored at a testimonial dinner on Sunday, May 20, in The Pines, Edison.

The committee includes Robert Johnson, present Democratic municipal chairman, John Wiley, president of the Democratic Club, and Mayor Donald J. Wernik.

Letters of invitation and tickets were mailed out earlier this week with May 10 set as deadline for reservations. Emphasizing the dinner will be a "non-partisan" tribute to Roseman, Johnson says the whole community is invited and anyone wishing to attend and not receiving tickets may contact him.

Besides people from Metuchen, the committee has invited representatives from the county Democratic organization and Congressman Edward Patten.

Roseman, who is currently serving his third term on the Borough Council, served as municipal chairman from 1970 until January of this year.

Ellen Nemeth, Agnes Bertlesen, Judianne Godinez, Kelsey Hamilton, Judy Lewenczuk, Catherine Potts, Roy Bertlesen, George Lewenczuk, Robert Hamilton, Jean St. George, Sharon Lawrence, Maria Bayer, Lynn Friese, Nancy McIlroy, all from Highland Park; Dorothy Smith, Bob Grandjean, Cliff Leahey, Nancy Martz from Edison; Rose Burns and Celeste LaPointe of Metuchen.

The chorale is conducted by Brent Miller, who will also direct the PhiloMusica, a 22-member chorus of mostly professional musicians, at two concerts to be held on April 28 at Kirkpatrick Chapel and on May 8 at Voorhees Chapel, Douglass College, both at 8 p.m.

Area members of the PhiloMusica include Harriet Lindblom, Kathy Hogt, Christine Yuhas, Deiter Zimmer, Paul Schnitzler from Highland Park, and Robert Martin of Edison.

Tag days

The New Brunswick chapter of B'nai B'rith will conduct a series of tag days on April 25, 26 and 27. Mrs. Morris Shiff of Edison is chairman.

Home Improvement Loan save up to $514.16

Perhaps this is the year you can add those new rooms, or complete that dormer area. Maybe it's that free-form inground swimming pool you've been promising the family. Whatever the improvement, it's a sure bet that you will plan and design and seek qualified estimates before you begin work. However, many people do not take the same necessary time and planning required for smart financing of a project, and agree to the convenient yet costly financing plans available elsewhere. The National Bank of New Jersey can offer professional consultation and the low rate to the home improvement buyer.

Crime has its ups and downs

Crime in Edison increased last year in aggravated assaults, burglaries, larcenies, narcotics and disorderly conduct while it declined in criminal homicide and manslaughter by negligence, robberies, shoplifting and gambling.

A comparison of statistics supplied by the police department reveals that aggravated assaults more than tripled from 17 in 1971 to 56 in 1972. Narcotic cases also increased significantly from 96 in 1971 to 143 last year. Most cases were solved with 93 arrests in 1971 and 135 in 1972. The number of disorderly cases also increased from 275 in 1971 to 469 in 1972.

In the area of burglary and/ or breaking and entering the number of incidents rose from 690 in 1971 to 701 in 1972. Value of stolen goods jumped from $235,604 in 1971 to $296,016 in 1972. All other offenses increased from 93 in 1971 to 232 in 1972.

While there was an increase in larceny from 953 in 1971 to 1,036 in 1972, the value of goods decreased from $204,472 to $197,032 in 1972.

Shoplifting crimes decreased from 120 in 1971 to 54 last year, the number of gambling cases declined from three in 1971 to none in 1972; and criminal homicide or manslaughter by negligence dropped from 11 in 1971 to three last year. Robberies also declined from 52 in 1971 to 43.

In 1971, there were no cases of conspiracy or attempted bribery of a police officer while there was one last year. In 1971 there were no cases involving contributing to the delinquency of a minor, but last year there were four. In 1971 there were also no violations of the driving laws and last year there were three. All of these cases resulted in arrests.

The number of offenses involving child brutality dipped from 38 in 1971 to 32 last year. Buying and receiving stolen property declined from 21 to 19 last year. Cases of carrying weapons increased from 16 to 18 in 1972 and forcible rape and attempts increased from nine to ten.

Forgery and counterfeiting decreased from six to five in 1972, worthless checks, embezzlement and fraud decreased from 42 to 41 and sex offenses declined from 40 to 39.

The one area in which there were no reported cases in either year was prostitution and vice. Police managed to recover $41,095 worth of property in 1971 and $50,933 in 1972.

Buckeye, borough won't budge

Borough officials in Metuchen refuse to accept the explanation from Buckeye Pipe Line Company as to why the proposed new 20-inch line could not follow the right-of-way of railroad property and they continue to press for the firm to change its route which now affects 58 property owners as well as the Board of Education.

Council president S. Elliott Mayo explains that Buckeye officials say they would rather not deal with a bankrupt railroad which, in essence, is not a free agent.

"We just can't buy this reasoning," Mayo says. "We told them to go back and study this alternative again."

In the meantime, council members have agreed that the borough should examine its own zoning ordinance and permit-issuing agencies to insure that adequate protection is provided and to raise any legal questions about the pipe line to block the actual construction.

"However," Mayo cautions, "this action by the council does by no means take the responsibility from the property owner to protect his own rights."

Mayo strongly urges the residents to employ their own attorneys to consider the matter.

Representatives from the council and the pipe line company held a meeting last Wednesday at which Buckeye presented its explanation for not laying the pipe in the right-of-way of the Port Reading Railroad. Borough officials, in addition, had presented some suggestions for alternate routes and had given Buckeye a list of questions to which they requested answers.

In response, Buckeye informed the borough that it would erect temporary snow fences along the work area to protect the people from hazards during construction and would restore the land to its original contour immediately. This would be followed by work on the turf, ground cover, shrubs, trees and fences by a qualified landscape contractor as soon as the season and weather permitted.

Buckeye also said it would give property owners at least one week notice before beginning construction and promised to take precautions to prevent damage to dwellings, garages and other permanent structures. Buckeye also said it would use no other area for the movement of men and machines during construction, that it has no plans to lay more lines through the borough and that confusion about its requirements was due to the use of a standard form in requesting rights-of-way, one usually reserved for agricultural areas.

The council still awaits an environmental impact study report showing that the pipe line is necessary and no threat to nature, but has discussed the possibility of notifying the Office of Pipe Line Safety, the Corps of Engineers and the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection that alternate routes do exist.

In addition to the Port Reading line, borough officials feel the pipe could be laid along the Penn Central tracks to the Lehigh Valley Railroad and hook up to the same site the proposed route would take.

Wallace George, one of the affected property owners, announced Monday night that a Norris Avenue Association was in the process of being formed and that officers and other details of organization would be available by the end of the week.

The borough has offered the use of Borough Hall to both the residents and the Buckeye people for meetings and other information sessions to clear up misunderstandings about where the line will go and what the company will do.

THE EASTER HAT—Mrs. Betty Allen's third grade class at James Madison Intermediate School in Edison presented "The Easter Hat" to third and fourth graders last Friday. The play was directed by student Renee Jankowski, including casting and rehearsals, with costumes assembled by the children. Here, in a nostalgic scene, are two of the main characters, Anat Kendal (l) as Mrs. Stella Johns and Amy Lewis as Nurse Meade.

Bids received on firehouse

Bids for four separate contracts involving improvements to the Metuchen Firehouse on Middlesex avenue are under consideration of the borough attorney and architect Irving Woerner.

Opened at Monday night's council meeting, the bids were for general construction, plumbing, air conditioning and electric work. This is the third stage in a series of capital improvements to the building, with last year's work including the complete renovation of the heating system.

For general construction, the bids were Joseph Fenyo of Somerset, $23,837, Joe Giacomo Construction Company of Edison, $18,300, Lanfrut Construction Company of New Brunswick, $21,409 and Teneralli Construction Inc. of Edison $23,900.

For the plumbing work, bids included Norkin Engineering Company of Chatham, $3,128, Nicholas Schwalje of Metuchen, $3,716, Pizzolatto Inc. of Middlesex, $4,501, and Farneski Plumbing and Heating Company of Manville, $5,296.

Electrical bids included Anthony Ensana of Edison, $9,250, J. L. and F Electric Company of East Brunswick, $9,975, John Schwartz of Clark, $10,450, and Edison Electric of Fords, $11,000.

Bids for air conditioning were Allied Conditioning of Metuchen, $8,978, Sarbo Company of Middletown, $10,874, Nicholas Schwalje of Metuchen, $10,997, and Norkin, $10,953.

In other business, the council passed a resolution authorizing the signing of a contract for dog warden services with Edison Township at a cost of $2,400 for the year 1973. This is $200 per month as compared to last year's contract for the service with Edison at a cost of $125 per month.

Five resolutions were passed approving recommendations from the Planning Board involving two minor subdivision applications of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, a minor subdivision for Leon A. Walters III, a site plan application from Central Pentecostal Assembly and a preliminary sketch plat application of Redfield Village. This latter resolution carried with it the provision that any variances be granted as to density, side yard and rear yard requirements arising from the action.

Two ordinances were introduced, the first lowering the speed limit on Central avenue from its intersection with Middlesex avenue to Plainfield avenue from 40 miles per hour to 35 and the second placing responsibilities regarding the licensing and accounting for dogs and cats in the borough on the Board of Health rather than the Police Department.

Public hearings on the two measures were scheduled for May 7 at 8 p.m.

To view 3 variances

Three applications for variances will be considered Monday night by the Highland Park Board of Adjustment.

Joseph Burke seeks to build a 16 by 26 foot addition to his house at 1711 Parker road which would violate the front yard 25 foot setback regulation of the zoning ordinance.

Marpet Company has requested a variance to convert a single-family house at 15 S. 3rd avenue into a two-family dwelling. The home, located in a commercial zone, is a nonconforming use since it was built before passage of the zoning ordinance.

Hyman and Charlotte Weiss, who will appear tomorrow before the Planning Board to request a subdivision of their land at 603 S. 3rd avenue, will also ask the zoners for any variances deemed necessary by George Terwilliger, building inspector.

At their reorganization meeting last month, members of the board re-elected Lee Jacobs, chairman, Robert Milch, vice-chairman and Mrs. Carol Ilinsky, secretary.

Ground rules for netmen

A new system for allocating playing time at the Oakland avenue tennis courts for periods when there is no attendant on duty has been devised by the Metuchen Tennis Association and is being put into effect with the approval of the Recreation Commission.

The new system, which will be used in the spring and fall months and on weekdays during the summer, was begun on a trial basis last Saturday and will be in full operation in a week or two when the new tennis badges are available.

Under the system, when a player goes on a court he hangs his badge on a hook and marks down his starting time. Players are limited to one hour for singles and two hours for doubles. Waiting players hang their badges on numbered hooks to establish their places in line.

It is hoped that this procedure will aid in distributing the playing time more fairly.

VASCAR case to be appealed

Attorney Manny Gerstein of Edison will appeal the speeding conviction against his client, Theodore White of Metuchen, which was based on a VASCAR reading by Highland Park traffic officers.

Even if the county court rules that VASCAR, the electronic speed measuring device, is scientifically accurate and therefore acceptable in evidence, Gerstein hopes to overturn the conviction on other grounds, he said.

To the phone repairman, you're a problem.

True

False

Every time the telephone repairman goes out on a job, it's to solve a problem. Usually it's a minor technical one that any trained repairman can handle. But sometimes the problem is more involved. And the customer is without phone service for a time. Now he's upset at the phone company. And in turn, at the repairman. The situation calls for tact as well as technical skill.

That's a pretty big responsibility to shoulder. But people have always expected more from the telephone company. So being good isn't good enough.

Our repairmen know this. And because they're committed to satisfying each and every customer, telephone repairmen are going all out to do the job like they want it done in their own homes.

To see that it is, we spent 124,000 hours last year training repair people. We're also building a new training center with the latest, most modern equipment, including three practice homes.

All these things will help us do a good job. But people make the difference. And because telephone people are genuinely concerned about providing good service, they're going all out to live up to the high standard we've set for New Jersey phone service.

Board president versus the public

Public sessions of boards and commissions are held for two reasons: to have the groups conduct business in an open fashion and to receive feedback in the form of questions or debate from the people they serve.

The Metuchen Board of Education flagrantly violated this second right of the citizen to ask questions at its public meeting last week.

After patiently sitting through a multi-paged statement from the board president defending board members in their over-expenditure of funds during 1971-72, citizens of Metuchen were denied a full explanation of the situation when the president cut off debate as the questions became too pointed and the going got too rough.

We could also take issue with the president's feeling that additional information was unnecessary since the question had been answered to his satisfaction when there were still legitimate concerns in the minds of those in the audience.

And we might also take offense at his suggestion that those who disagreed with him "tell it to the press," since, while we are a public forum of sorts, we don't take the place of frank, honest discussion on the part of elected officials and we are hardly the "catch-all" he indicated.

But we will stick to the issue of denying citizens the right to ask questions and to receive answers by suggesting that the board president take lessons from Mayor Donald J. Wernik in conducting public portions of meetings. When this same issue of budget spending and its disclosure at a midnight press conference came up at a public meeting of the Borough Council, each citizen who wished to speak was given full opportunity to address the councilmen.

The few times that Wernik has curtailed debate were instances where remarks from the public were bordering on abuse to public officials or when public hearings on the subject matter were to be held at other times. The board president's additional excuse that the board had another meeting following the public one is also irrelevant since, on many occasions, the work of the council has also extended into the wee hours of the morning.

A board of education which is available to the public only one night a month must make that encounter one which will help to satisfy the public's need to know. Otherwise, citizens can only come away with the feeling that they are no more important than their ability to produce revenue and that the board is ruled by the principle of "the public be damned."

Metuchen citizens support the school system with their hard-earned tax dollars and it is to their benefit that they show an interest in the administration of education in the community.

They have concerns and questions, and they deserve $4.6 million worth of answers.

Of brotherhood and love

This week people of two great religions celebrate the miracles of their faiths.

The week-long celebration of Passover began with family seders at sundown Monday during which Jews recalled the exodus of ancient Israelites from Egyptian bondage and oppression.

The Christian Holy Week, which began with Palm Sunday, will culminate in the celebration of the Resurrection of Jesus on Easter Sunday.

For millions, it is a time of faith and brotherhood and love.

Creative power

TO THE EDITOR:

The creative power of Shakespeare united enthusiastic and appreciative audiences during the performances of "The Winter's Tale" at Metuchen High School last weekend. This was also a result of the cooperative spirit engendered by the director, producer and the rest of the talented creators.

Our congratulations and warmest thanks to all involved in the production.

Loss to the county

TO THE EDITOR:

Area newspapers recently carried the announcement of the appointment of an artistic director-producer for the Plays in the Park series. But there is another aspect of the story which was not reported and which deserves to be told.

For the first time in nine years, Austin Gumbs has been omitted from the list of directors. The chronicle of his past productions is a list of outstanding successes and crowd favorites: "West Side Story," "Carousel," "Wizard of Oz," "Carnival," "Oliver"—and last year's "Fiddler on the Roof" which drew the largest crowds ever! We, the undersigned, who have worked, sweated, laughed, cried, and experienced the warm glow of artistic accomplishment with this talented man in various productions across the years, feel that the elimination of Austin Gumbs from this year's roster of directors is not only our loss, but a loss to the theater-going public of Middlesex County.

Bad manners

TO THE EDITOR:

On April 10, for the first time, I attended a Board of Education meeting in Metuchen. Putting aside the issue of overexpenditure, I should like to address myself to Mr. Cummings' attitude in answering some of the board's critics.

I do not know Mr. Magdich or Mr. Strelecki, and though they may be a thorn in the side of the board, I feel that Mr. Cummings showed a lack of good manners in his statement to one of the men in which he said "there are many people in town whose opinion I value greatly—and yours is not one of them." Or in another instance a critic was told by Mr. Cummings that his questions were always answered but he (the critic) did not understand the answers. Surely, the discussion had nowhere to go after that. All of us can learn from intelligent criticism of our opinions, but ridicule brings an end to civilized discussion.

Polarization then, is the price we pay when true communication breaks down and frustration sets in.

A real choice

TO THE EDITOR:

Christine Van Lenten of Edison, is running against two organization candidates for Democratic nomination for Assembly in District 18. Some party people have the idea that a primary contest is somehow bad. But if they will reflect for a moment, they will remember the basic reason for a primary: it's to give rank and file voters, like themselves, the chance to choose nominees for the November elections.

John and Shirley Koyen, owners of the Koyen Funeral

Home on Amboy avenue, have returned to the borough from a weekend in Washington, D.C., where they attended a reception of the Hereditary Society of the United States.

Also attending was Mrs. Douglas MacArthur to whom the society's Hereditary Register, a listing of the line of ancestry from the American Revolution, was dedicated. Koyen is listed in the volume.

In order to make sure members of the Democratic Club meet the newly-chosen Democratic council candidates, the club meeting scheduled for tomorrow night at the American-Italian Club on Martin street has been postponed until next Thursday, April 26, at 8:30 p.m.

Councilman Joseph Schwalje, liaison to the Recreation Commission, has announced that tennis badges will be available beginning Tuesday, May 1, at Borough Hall.

Chief of Police Edward Leiss of Metuchen has issued a last call to purchase tickets from him for the dinner and dance to be held by the Middlesex County Chiefs of Police Association at the Greenbrier in North Brunswick on April 27. Tickets are priced at $5 each.

The public library will have a film program next Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. for children from ages four-12. The films to be shown are "The Doughnuts" and "I'm No Fool With Fire."

Proceeds from a recent fund-raising event of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Italian Civic League were used for the Metuchen scholarship fund and not the building fund as previously mentioned.

The idea of choosing implies a contest. Choosing two assembly candidates out of two is no choice at all, but a rubber stamp. Choosing two candidates out of three means that the voters can make a real judgment.

I think that primary contests are a sign of health and life in the party, and I fully support Christine Van Lenten's efforts to bring new talent into the party. I hope the organization will welcome her and the people who are working for her election. They are Democrats, too, and the fact they've entered the primary demonstrates that they have spirit and determination and conviction—qualities that political parties always need.

Unreal

TO THE EDITOR:

I think it is unreal to think that Mr. Smida and the Board of Education, having overspent the 1971-72 budget, should have presented a 1972-73 budget with the hope of having it passed, without first admitting that the last budget had not been enough.

However, I think two more things are unreal.

First, that parents expect Mr. Smida and the Board of Education to maintain discipline through the schools in spite of court rulings which give them little chance of maintaining any rules.

Second, that teachers who know that Mr. Smida and the Board of Education have to set up a budget before the February election—must have more and more each year so will not be realistic.

Complete confidence

TO THE EDITOR:

Although having lived in Metuchen for a number of years, the school board meeting of April 10 was the first I attended. After observing the conduct of the board at this meeting, I wish to express my complete confidence in their competence.

Jean Kuchek will be one of the soloists in "The Crucifixion" by John Stainer to be sung by the Dunellen Presbyterian Chancel Choir Good Friday at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, Dunellen.

Mrs. Marcia Salton, former member and public relations chairman of the Board of Education, remains one of the board's most loyal observers and contributors of ideas.

Her latest suggestion at last week's public meeting was that the board employ a person trained in public relations to improve communications between board members and the public.

Mrs. Lynn Miller of Metuchen, a reference librarian at Douglass College, recently attended a symposium at Rutgers University sponsored by the Graduate School of Library Service Alumni Association and the Faculty of the School.

About 15 bicycles and a 1963 Ford automobile will be auctioned off on Saturday, May 5, beginning at 9 a.m. in the parking lot at Borough Hall. In charge of the bidding will be Captain Joseph Perrino from the Police Department and Harold Klein, borough administrator.

The bicycles are those picked up by patrolmen. The car is an abandoned one.

The public library will be closed on Good Friday, April 20 and Easter Sunday.

The children's department of the library will be closed for repainting Thursday, April 19 and will reopen Monday, April 23.

Also, borough offices will be closed on Good Friday.

Applications for membership in the municipal pool will be reaching all borough residents this week. The cost will remain the same as last year, $70 per family.

Harold Klein, borough administrator, says anyone who does not receive an application may pick one up at his office in Borough Hall any day between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Property owners who do not live within the borough will be given their chance to become pool members in June.

Special evening hours for voter registration will be held in Borough Hall by Mrs. Eleanor Brennan, acting borough clerk. Her office will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. on April 23, 24, 25 and 26, which is the deadline for registering for the June 5 primary election.

In addition, Mrs. Brennan is available every day from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Prospective voters must have lived in the state and county for 40 days and must reach the age of 18 years by June 5 in order to be eligible.

There's more to eggs than eating

by Brenda Lewis

To most of us, the sight of a brightly-colored egg brings thoughts of Easter.

For Miss Pat Saunders of 39 Redcliff avenue, Highland Park, however, egg decoration is a year-round activity. Her creations cost as much as $20, and are given as gifts, displayed in shows, and admired for their beauty and craftsmanship.

Miss Saunders works with the shells of eggs from geese, turkeys, ducks, pigeons and quail, and is presently at work on an ostrich egg.

She plans to stud the shell with holes in an intricate design, and then light it from inside, so that the shape of the shell will not be obscured.

"I think it will take me months, because the shell is so hard and thick," she explained. She also plans to keep the completed shell herself rather than offer it for sale as she does with most of her creations.

The ostrich shell, which cost more than $15, was ordered from a woman she calls "my egg lady," who lives in Iowa. Miss Saunders orders approximately 50 shells a year, paying $5 to $8 for large double-yolk goose eggs, 60 cents for regular goose eggs and turkey eggs, and 40 cents for duck, pigeon and quail eggs.

She doesn't buy hen egg shells, finding them easier to obtain through her own grocery shopping. She and her roommate, Miss Dorothy Simpson, say they eat many egg dishes to keep up with her hobby, and their friends have learned to cut holes in their eggs and shake the insides out instead of cracking them.

Miss Saunders' hobby was launched 15 years ago. She felt that Christmas had become too commercial and she wanted a substitute for sending cards.

"I decided on eggs after reading about Ukrainian painted eggs, but I chose to put jewels on instead. At that time I had to do it one at a time, but now I can buy strings of beads."

She made less than 15 decorated eggs that year, finding that it was slow going. "I cut them by hand, using cuticle scissors," she said. "Now I use a drill and tools given to me by my dentist."

Several years ago, Miss Saunders began selling her egg shells to friends who admired them, and in 1971 she was invited to enter her first exhibit.

Recently, she visited a friend in the hospital and gave her a "get well" egg. "Friends of the other patient saw the egg and asked to see more," Miss Saunders said. "I brought some in and immediately sold six, plus I got some orders for more."

Selling the eggs, she says, brings in just about enough money so that her hobby pays for itself, at the rate of about $500 a year.

Since last Christmas, she estimates she has decorated approximately 100 hens eggs and 40 larger ones. She had a show at Rossmoor in February and will exhibit her handiwork at a show in Phillipsburg this month. She also plans a one-man show at the New Brunswick library this spring, and will be in others before the end of the year. The shows are not competitive, but rather allow "egggers," as they call themselves, to exchange ideas and take orders.

"When I started, nobody was doing this," Miss Saunders said. "In the last four or five years it has caught on, and everyone is getting on the bandwagon. Now hatcheries send out price lists to egggers, and we're all getting to know each other."

Miss Saunders' eggs, however, are in a class by themselves.

Many of the larger goose eggs are covered with graceful designs in beads, around which she has cut holes. She doesn't draw the design on the shell first, but rather begins with one line and continues until the whole thing is covered with intricate whorls.

Many are lighted from the inside, some are mounted on music boxes, and one of her most intricate is a pigeon egg with a nativity scene inside, decorated and mounted inside a hen's egg which in turn is inside a goose egg. Each egg rotates separately in jeweled splendor.

Miss Saunders buys the jewels, paint and other items used in decorating the shells from Christmas stores, crafts shops and "any other store where I happen to see something I can use."

She says that she has spent as long as 16 hours decorating one goose egg. Happily, she has more time for her hobby since she retired several years ago from her job at Union Carbide.

EGG CREATIONS—Miss Pat Saunders of Highland Park works on her latest egg design using an ostrich egg. In the foreground are a few of her intricate designs.

Police Chief William Cuddy and detectives Jack Tunison and Gary Handernan last week attended a seminar given by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company for county police departments on how to handle annoying and obscene phone calls.

The detective bureau said that approximately 30 annoying or obscene phone calls are reported in the average year.

The local courtroom in police headquarters was filled to overflowing last Thursday night and more than 20 people were forced to wait their turn in the hall. This recurring situation has led to speculation that the borough may relocate court facilities to more spacious quarters.

Copies of "An American Traveler's Guide to Black History" was presented to Mayor G. Paul Beck and the council last night by Reverend Irving Decker, chairman of the Human Rights Commission.

The book, written by Philip Drotning with a preface by Senator Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, is a history of the contributions of black individuals and groups to all 50 states.

Copies have also been presented by the commission to the public library and to all borough schools including St. Paul's.

Three new members of the volunteer fire department added to the roster last night are under 21. Jeff Spezio, 18, Gary Panichella, 19, and Tom VanLiew, 19, are the first residents to join since the amendment to the fire department ordinance was passed by council two weeks ago. The amendment lowers the minimum age to 18.

A major award from Douglass College was presented today to Sophie Coppersmith Plechner, at Founders Day ceremonies.

Mrs. Plechner of Metuchen, a graduate of the class of 1923, was elected to The Douglass Society, a society formed this year and co-sponsored by both the Associate Alumnae and the college, to honor alumnae who have reached distinction in their career or in their roles as community leaders.

She served on the scientific advisory committee of the toilet goods association for more than 20 years, and was the first woman to hold the office of the chairman of the scientific section of the association. She was elected director of the society of cosmetic chemists and later became the first woman to hold the National Presidency of that body. In 1965 the society of cosmetic chemists awarded her its medal and in 1967 its silver plaque.

ADVICE to the LOVE LAWN

Fred Diegel

Bob Carroll

It is not necessary to have a degree in advanced mathematics in order to read a grass seed package label, but it does help. Because of labeling procedures accepted by the seed industry and enforced by the government, a grass seed label can be confusing to the untrained eye.

The percentages in grass seed labels are represented in pounds; when in actuality, they should be expressed in seed count. Remember, "Pounds do not grow, seeds do". Allow me to give you an example: In a one pound box of seed labeled 95% Merion, 5% bent, here's what could happen; Merion Bluegrass contains about 2 million seeds to the pound, some bent grasses contain as much as 10 million seeds per pound. Therefore, the actual percentage by seed count could come out to approximately 80% Merion and 20% bent. Again assuming that you attain 100% germination, that is, all the seed grows, you would have an 80%/20% mixture in your lawn---not the 95%-5% mixture represented on the box.

Another method used to cheapen seed and confuse the consumer is the addition of inert material. Such fillers as chaff and ground corn cob are actually mixed in with the seed. Such fillers are light and provide no growth. Therefore, a 5% inert could represent 20% to 30% of the size of the package if light enough material is used.

In some locales, packagers are required to list seed count for annual bluegrass or poa annua. Never buy seed with this impurity if you are seeking a fine, lasting turf. Annual blue is a very prolific seed manufacturer. It dies in the warmer months leaving ugly patches in the lawn, only to once again appear in cool weather when the previously produced seed germinates.

To help alleviate this problem somewhat, buy your seed from a reputable dealer who can answer questions as to what is actually in the box.

Women's privileges' vs. equal rights law

Dear Assemblyman Black:

The fact that you have introduced a bill that would repeal New Jersey's ratification of the constitutional amendment granting equal rights to women, must mean that you think women have something better than equal rights.

If this is so, perhaps I could swap my "privilege" as a woman for your equal rights as a man, under the United States Constitution.

Let's begin small. I will hold the car door for you and light your cigarette. Would you swap for that?

About 30 years ago when I was young and not so wrinkled, a man in a subway offered me his seat. Is that a fair trade? Last month at a press conference, a male reporter asked me if I believed in equal rights for women. When I admitted I did, he angrily responded: "Well, in that case, I'll ask the first question."

How's that for a trade--a chance to ask the first question?

In 1778, Abigail Adams wrote to her husband, then attending the Constitutional Convention, asking him to "speak a word on behalf of our sex, who are hardly dealt with by the law of England." He responded that there was no need for constitutional equality "since women have ascendancy over men's hearts."

As a woman whose husband has had ascendancy over her heart for 28 years, I know that for many women, this is a sometime thing and a bad bargain--as well as an attitude that prolonged the battle for the vote to 1920.

But there are weightier things. How about alimony? Many feel the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) will affect alimony laws. And it probably will. But then, judges are already disregarding the tradition that says a husband must pay regardless of his wife's financial status, and the mother must get the child no matter what her character. Alimony judgments are being based on the financial capacity of each spouse. Under the ERA, each case in domestic relations court would be decided on its merits according to the circumstances of the man and woman involved.

Others feel passage of the ERA would result in the integration of women's colleges. For once men are admitted to women's colleges, they will take over, leaving hordes of women deans and college presidents jobless in their wake.

I do not believe this would happen (and a recent court decision in South Carolina, where a man lost a suit to get into a woman's college because he was not educationally deprived, backs my premise), but I am not willing to trade constitutional equality to keep our women's colleges intact.

And the draft. Would you swap your equal rights to keep from being drafted?

Now that there is no draft, we could bypass this one. But let's not, for the fact is that Congress has had the power to draft women since 1940. During World War II, there was such a shortage of overseas nurses that a bill drafting nurses passed the House of Representatives. The war ended before it was up for a final vote in the Senate.

But equal rights bring equal responsibilities, and that's the way it should be. If the country faced a crisis and women were needed--as they once were in defense plants--they will be, and should be, willing to participate as full citizens. Allowances will continue to be made for those with minor dependents, and the armed forces will continue to make efforts to match jobs and talents.

I do not believe that any male born and raised in the democratic tradition would willingly swap his equality for "privilege." The trouble with privilege is that it is granted the weak at the discretion of the strong and, of course, can be removed by the latter. And for ages, "privilege" has been used as an excuse of oppressors and an opiate to placate the oppressed.

And it is needed. It is necessary to give a woman legal status which was not defined by the Constitution. The list of inequities that still exist are too long to itemize. But there are states in which a husband is the owner of his wife's property, in which a wife may not start a business without her husband's written consent, and where criminal statutes require longer sentences for women than men for the same crime. There are hundreds of these laws which women could now fight through our courts. But that takes time, money, and unnecessary heartache.

It is incredible that in 1973, we could debate the advisability of amending the constitution with a bi-partisan proposal providing: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

How incredible this is, can best be illustrated by changing the word sex to religion, race, or color, and then considering if one could or would dare debate that issue.

And how debasing that with the goal in sight, we should founder on such burning issues as whether toilet facilities will be coed--completely disregarding the Constitutional right to privacy which would negate such a possibility.

Most of the things being said now in opposition to the ERA were used against the suffrage amendment, inspiring its founder, Susan B. Anthony, to declare: "There is not one foot of advanced ground upon which women stand today that has not been obtained through the hard-fought battles of other women."

As a human being, wife, mother, and working woman (in that order of importance), I know that men who care about equality have also been part of that hard-fought battle, and would hope that we could add men like you and your colleagues to that list

County candidate countdown is on

by Diane Forgrieve

New state legislative districts are slowing down the process of selection of candidates for state and assembly seats. Each new court-ordered district will be represented in Trenton by one Senator and two Assemblymen, but the new districts ordered to equalize representation by population, cut across county boundaries in many instances, making the selection process less orderly than in the past, when county organizations screened candidates.

In addition, a recent Supreme Court decision declared screening committees, as such, illegal, resulting in the formation of "candidate encouragement Committees" (Republicans), and legislative district working committees (Democrats.)

Middlesex County leaders are faced with choosing two candidates for the Board of Chosen Freeholders, and one person to run for the five-year term of county clerk. With the filing deadline for the June 5 primary election only eight days away, the committees and party officials are meeting frequently in an effort to complete their slates.

Freeholder Louis May, former East Brunswick mayor, announced last week he will not seek re-election. John Rooney, president of the East Brunswick Township Council, is reported to be the front-runner for a nomination in May's stead, but the final decision was not to be made until last night at a meeting of the executive committee, and announced tonight at a county-wide Democratic meeting at the Greenbrier in North Brunswick.

Retiring assemblyman Edwin Kolodziej of Sayreville said that he would propose Robert E. Bailey for May's seat. Bailey currently serves as finance chairman of the Sayreville Council, and May fills that post for the Freeholders. Sayreville Democratic leaders feel also, that they ought to be represented on the county ticket, since Kolodziej is not running again.

Freeholder Director Peter Daly Campbell of New

Brunswick, still "soul searching," planned to let the executive committee know last night whether or not he will seek re-election to the other board seat. He acknowledged that he was under pressure to run again, but wanted to get his family's feelings before deciding.

One Democratic spot which seems to be certain is the County Clerk's seat; Frank Schatzman will seek re-election. And state committee posts will again be filled by Mayor Patricia Sheehan of New Brunswick and Harold L. Herbert, Democratic Municipal Chairman in Milltown, both of whom have the unanimous backing of party leaders for reappointment.

Republicans have not zeroed in on their county-wide candidates, and are still interviewing all this week; the final announcement will be made next Tuesday night, according to Harry Richardson, County GOP chairman. The committee has interviewed George Meyer, former municipal chairman in North Brunswick, Mayor Joseph Indyk of Monroe, Mayor John Leach of Helmetta, and Councilman Steve Semanski of South Plainfield for the two freeholder spots and job of county clerk.

Democrats will choose a new county chairman tonight. Richard V. Mulligan cited ill health as his reason for resigning before his term expired in June. Mulligan assumed the chairmanship in June, 1970, but illness has shifted many of his duties to Thomas Kistner, the party's executive director, this year.

G. Nicholas Venezia, chairman of the Middlesex County College board of trustees, who has been active in fund raising for the party in Woodbridge, is a leading contender for the post. William Kurtz, who retired in January as director of budget and finance for the state Legislative Services Agency, had been mentioned. Kurtz is currently a staff aide to State Sen. J. Edward Crabel of Milltown in his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination.

In the legislative districts, nominations for GOP spots are "still wide open," says chairman Harry Richardson, except for District 12, where Richard Cooper (R) of Madison expects to face fellow councilman William Flynn (D) for one of the Assembly seats. Michael Di Piero, former mayor of Monroe, might get the Democrats' nod here, over Flynn. District 12, with Madison, Monroe and Jamesburg in Middlesex County, also takes in a portion of Monmouth County. Republicans had agreed that one Assembly candidate would come from each county; the Monmouth candidate is Dr. Michael Arnone, a dentist in Red Bank. Senator Joseph Azzolina, the incumbent, will vie for the Senate seat, probably opposed by a Monmouth Democrat.

In District 18, which includes East Brunswick, South River, Milltown, North Brunswick, Metuchen, Edison and South Brunswick, Edison mayor Bernard Dwyer seems likely to be the Democratic candidate for Senate, to succeed Crabel. There are three contenders for the Assembly slots: John Froude of South River and James Bornheimer are seeking re-election; Christene Van Lenten of Edison has vowed a primary fight.

The GOP will meet Friday night to interview more candidates for Senate and Assembly; already interviewed: are George Luke, former mayor of North Brunswick; John R. Giaquinto of Edison, and Col. John A. Bradley of Milltown, state committeeman. Politicos are speculating that Fuller "Bud" Brooks of Edison will get the nod to oppose Democrat Dwyer for Senate.

In District 17, John Lynch (D), the incumbent senator, is expected to seek re-election, as is Democratic Assemblyman William Hamilton. Both are from New Brunswick. Eight people were interviewed for the second assembly seat; front-runners are Roy Oake, township attorney in Piscataway, Richard Driver, mayor of Franklin, and Joseph Paterno, mayor of Manville.

GOP contenders in #17 are Cy Rubin of Highland Park, Dorothy Sonnenberg, and Charles H. Garrod Jr. of Piscataway, and Bruce H. Williams, Franklin councilman.

Sen. Norman Tanzman of Woodbridge expects to get the Democratic nod for re-election in District 19. John J. Fay is an incumbent assemblyman, certain to run again. With Kolodziej retiring from the other assembly seat, the nomination is reportedly set for former Freeholder Director George Ollowski of Perth Amboy. Assemblyman Thomas Deverin of Carteret, formerly in this district, is now in District 21 (Union County) where he's expected to seek re-election.

Republicans will interview tomorrow night for the Senate and Assembly seats in 19; already screened are Henry Billemeyer, former GOP county chairman and former mayor of Sayreville and Mrs. Marianne Brehun of Perth Amboy.

Cedar Manor, on the lake: a warm spot for all seasons

by Louise Saul

Like some people are born beautiful, some restaurants are blessed by a perfect location. A case in point is Cedar Manor, on Farrington Lake in North Brunswick.

Owners Joseph D'Alessandro and Frank DeRosa have parlayed their lovely view of the wooded lake into an integral part of the restaurant. There is almost no place in the 90-seat patio room in the rear of the restaurant that does not offer a view of the waters. And if you want to press your nose against the glass and contemplate the serenity of outdoors, call ahead for a window table. You'll never believe Route 130 is just a few blocks away.

If nature isn't your thing, there is another charming dining room with red warmth—beamed ceilings, fireplace, and bay window. Or maybe you'll never want to leave the bar—that too has a fireplace with a friendly seating arrangement in front of it, and tables for 12 more diners.

D'Alessandro and DeRosa bought Cedar Manor 10 years ago today. At that time, it was a small nondescript restaurant, with the same incandescent location. "We figured," D'Alessandro said, "that with a view like this, we really had potential."

Because the restaurant is tucked away off the beaten track, the management has to count on steady customers—which means the food and service must be good.

Lunch is a busy time of day, with a menu that runs the gamut from an egg salad sandwich (95¢) to filet mignon ($5.75.)

The dinner menu offers a wide selection. Beside the usual seafood, steaks, chops, roast and poultry, there is a complete Flambe Italiano menu, most of which is prepared at your table with a dramatic dash of this and that, and a healthy portion of wine. A recent innovation, the Italian menu is especially good, and hovers around the $5 mark.

A free salad bar that's really much more than a salad bar is an additional feature.

On Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. the "We Three," combo plays for dancing—and we do mean dancing. Singer Iris Daniels belts out a swinging version of "Bye Bye Black Bird," and you sit back and enjoy.

If you're a repeater at the Manor, you begin to notice familiar faces, like Josephine and Michael Parla of North Brunswick. They discovered the place two years ago, and have been going there every Friday and Saturday night since.

"It's the combination they have at Cedar Manor—good food, great atmosphere, warm hostesses and waiters and the chance to dance to the kind of music we love that keeps us coming," Mrs. Parla said. "We used to go all over Jersey looking for good restaurants—but no more. I can't get Mike past Cedar Manor. And to tell the truth, I don't want to."

Spring is a beautiful time on Farrington Lake, and customers can take their drinks out to tables by the lake. It's only a little better than sitting inside, and looking out on a cold, still, starry night. Or watching the autumn greet the lake. Or Spring pushing its inevitable way through the gloom. Cedar Manor is a restaurant for most palates, a good many pocketbooks—but most of all, all seasons.

Renovations at the Dorian Manor (formerly the Madison Restaurant) on Route 9 are almost completed, and late this month its two dining areas, the Beef n' Prawn room, and the Intimate Lounge, will open. The Dorian Manor can accommodate up to 2,000 people. The architecture and decor are patterned after the ancient Doric civilization in Greece, complete to the columns flanking the entrance.

Trackmen vs. freeze

by Jimmy Allinder

What a crazy winter for track! Winter weather seemed more like Spring, and now that Spring is here, it's cold out! To gauge the impact of cold, take a look at recent times: Reggie Blackshear of Metuchen recently ran a 10.9 in the 100-yard dash. He could do that in a brisk walk on a warm day. And Rick Buckstad, J.P. Stevens' fine distance runner, didn't even break two minutes for the half-mile.

Times should improve vastly, especially at the Highland Park Relays drawing top talent from all over New Jersey this Saturday. And the Penn Relays, with a chance for some national recognition, the following weekend.

One of the highlights of the high school track season, the Highland Park Relays, will be staged at HPHS all day Saturday, starting at 9:30 a.m.

Meet Director Marshall Berman announced invitations have been extended to top high school track teams throughout New Jersey, with a few invitations also sent to New York teams.

Competition will begin among Groups I-II in the morning, and Groups III-IV in the afternoon.

Here's a look at the Spring track teams of the six schools in the Recorder area:

Highland Park

The Owls were 2-1 as of this weekend. Coach John Silagyi has a young, spirited group, with little depth. "We don't have more than one boy who can score points for us, in most events," Silagyi said. "We'll scratch for every point we get."

Top athletes are hurdler Charlie Devich, a junior who could be one of the county's best, if it weren't for Blackshear, or St. Joe's Tom Mendel. Ray Meyers, HPHS' distance threat, has already broken two minutes in the half-mile, and Silagyi expects a 4:20's mile this season.

The main threat in the sprints is Art Rausch. Jay Japka is another good half-miler. Blake McGrath, out for his first try at long jumping, has leaped 21'. In the pole vault, Vince Raspa and Steve Fargua could score points.

"I don't know how we'll fare in the county meets, but we could win some dual meets if our top-liners come through," said Silagyi.

St. Joseph's

For as long as it's fielded a track team, St. Joe's has won the big meets with its runners. Not that the Falcons don't have strength in the field events (assistant coach Chris Halpin claims there are some future stars) but sometimes the sprints, and always the distance events, have been the reasons they're at the top in Middlesex County track.

This year is no exception. The shuttle-relay team of Tom Mendel, Greg King, Bill Toyne and Greg Barney have set numerous county records. Don Nizolek, a tough customer in the 440, also runs the 100 and 220.

In long-distance running, St. Joe's is loaded. Gary Gajewski is the leading candidate in the 880, having run a 1:59 this year. John Kelsh and Al Stianchi may be two of the state's best in either the mile or two-mile.

In field events, John Weithel has vaulted 12'0" this Spring, and Tom Senko has tossed the javelin 160'. Both are only sophomores. Bob Throne is the top high and long jumper.

Metuchen

Metuchen's super senior, Reggie Blackshear, has already broken nearly every record at MHS. Now he's knocking down state and national hurdles, and will clear them if last spring's shin splints don't recur. He hurdles, sprints, and long-jumps.

Duane Brockman, another talented runner, sustained a disabling injury earlier in the year, and could be through for this spring.

Larry Taylor is another sprinter with top ability, with Dave Gross, Tom Alicino and Dave Clyburn able hurdlers. A good 440 runner is Kevin Gaffney, and Tim Halpin runs the half. Mike Laazar and Billy Schwartz are the milers.

In field events, Alicino is a good high jumper. After that, the Bulldogs are weak.

MHS came close to winning Group I-II honors in the winter state meet, so it's shooting for a title this spring. If Blackshear sweeps everything, it could be in the offing.

J. P. Stevens

With just a little luck, J.P. Stevens could be one of the top track schools in the county this year. The Hawks have a great distance duo in Tim Doyle and Rick Buckstad, backed up by Keith Haenel.

Buckstad, just a soph, set national records in the mile as a freshman. Coach Tony Simonelli expects big things from the blond speedster. Doyle finished third in the county cross country meet, but has yet to hit his peak.

A pleasant surprise has been Noel Barbo's speed in the sprints—10.2 for the 100. Jimmy Grubbs also will score points here.

In the field events, Barbo has long-jumped over 20'; Bill Kovach has the best distance for the shotput in the county, 55'5", and also excels in the discus.

Edison

Edison's strength in running, Joe Hummell, excels in hurdling and the long jump. Darden Kelly is a top distance runner, Tom Stampiglia runs the dashes and 440, and could be the top quarter-miler in Middlesex. Brian Scanlon and Billy Taylor are other distancemen; Don Meany runs the 100 and 220.

In the field, Edison has no one exceptional, but Joe Jennings pole vaults 12'.

sport shorts

The Metuchen-Edison YMCA diving team competed in the Middle Atlantic Region North-South Sectional Championship March 30 at Peddie School, Hightstown, with the following winners: 10 and under, first place Charles Pettis, second Steven Riddle; 13-14, second Ken Riddle; 15-17, second Rob Reid, fourth Bill Degan, sixth Brian Delaney.

this spring, younger brother Bruce leads the MHS netmen.

Several top swimmers received recognition at an Awards Dinner held for the swimming and diving teams of the Central Jersey YWCA Friday night, including Tarra Daley, Grace Gavin, Karen Locha, Donna Kwiatkowski, Pat Rowland, Kathy Kells, Debbie Carkhuff, Caryn Pinella, and Carolyn Vaccaro.

The Wernik boys of Metuchen are #1. Hal is top singles player at Rutgers

HAIR PROBLEMS ARE ERASED WITH NEW PROTEIN

A young man with a mission is Mr. Andre, proprietor of the Plaza Salon, Milltown, New Jersey; who takes the guesswork out of hair treatment, with a scientific approach. Mr. Andre has been analyzing and conditioning both women's and men's hair for over two years with great success.

"Remember how it used to be," he went on to say, "a customer would complain that their hair was dry or brittle; and both she and the salon would try one treatment after another with no success. It was also a guessing game for the beautician to tell the true condition of a patron's hair. Those days are gone forever."

Miss Denise Blajan, a customer of the Plaza Beauty Salon, said she could prove the effectiveness of this approach and would gladly offer her endorsement. Miss Blajan further went on to explain the problem she was having with her hair. "Approximately two years ago my hair had broken off very badly in the crown area. Each time I would brush my hair you could stuff a pillow. After many attempts to correct this damage with no success I went down to speak to Mr. Andre. I had my hair analyzed, found it lacking in protein and immediately started the treatments with Redken Products and they worked. My hair is now strong, has all grown back and has a sheen. The most amazing part is I haven't lost anymore hair."

This sensational conditioner, treatment and analysis is available at Plaza Beauty Salon. Analysis is done through a microscope which tells Mr. Andre if your hair is lacking protein, the main substance from which your hair is composed; a microgram scale which explores the strength, elasticity and tensile strength, all a major roll in having healthy, shiny hair.

Mr. Andre further says that, "most hair problems, particularly dryness, are due to shampoos, setting lotions and creme rinses with too much alkaline. Too much direct sunlight can also cause damage. Likewise improper tinting or permanent waving procedures. The application of oil to the hair is not necessarily the cure for dryness. The oil will smooth the hair shaft and make it shiny but there are no lasting benefits. You have to first find the cause (it could be pills being taken by the customer, foods, liquids, tension) and then try to eliminate it by treating the hair with acid balanced, protein products."

No effort, he emphasizes, is made to diagnose or suggest that physical ailments are present. "That's a doctor's job. The cosmetologist only wants to know if the customer is aware of any disorders to help pinpoint a hair problem."

Why be a victim of dry, brittle and ugly hair when with the help of Mr. Andre and Plaza Beauty Salon there is no excuse.

Because of the superlative response to hair conditioning with Redken's one hundred per cent organic products, an entire new line of skin treatment care is now available.

So while you are at Plaza beauty Salon having you hair conditioned why not be just as nice to your face and have an organic facial.

For an appointment call Plaza Beauty Salon at 828-0436.

Want to Sell Your House in a Hurry?

Get Expert Help. Selling a house in today's highly competitive market is no do-it-yourself exercise. Your first step should be to place your home with a reliable realtor and give him an "exclusive" for 30 to 90 days. That will give him extra incentive. "But why a realtor?" many owners inquire. "I can sell it myself and save the commission." Do you have the time and ability to negotiate and bargain? Can you handle the intricacies of financing?

A bona fide realtor will screen your prospects and give your house maximum exposure; he's familiar with market conditions, zoning and financing; and finally he's usually able to command enough more for your house to pay the commission, and then some.

"Select the realtor with the best combination of aggressiveness, integrity and know-how to do the job." Consult your bank about the best qualified firms. Make sure your man is a realtor, a term registered with the U.S. Patent Office. A realtor is a member of the local real-estate board and the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and—really important to you—he subscribes to a nationally recognized Code of Ethics.

The value of your house is not what you think it is, or the buyer thinks. It is determined chiefly by the location, the neighborhood and the current market. So, first you must get in line with the market.

Teenagers help teenagers in BIC project

by Lisa Borman

If you still think all teenagers are no good, pay a visit to the Elks Lodge some Tuesday night and watch members of the East Brunswick High School Key Club in action. Always involved in some sort of service project, the boys have been working with the Elk's Auxiliary Brain Injured Children program since October.

"The Auxiliary wanted high school kids to help out and we decided to make it our human relations project for the year," president-elect John Nielsen explained. Club members are now at ease and able to relate to their not-quite-normal peers, but at first "we were as scared of them as they were of us," according to club president Gerry Sudowski.

"Our goal is not training, it is acceptance," auxiliary chairwoman and coordinator of the program Eileen Zahn explained. "We fill a void—we provide these kids with a social evening, a place for them to get together and mix with each other. With the Key Club boys here, they can relate to kids their own age."

"At first we tried some educational projects, but they get enough education at school. Our activities help to make each child more of a whole person. We help them find victory and success, when all they have met is failure," Mrs. Zahn said. The program is now in its fourth year.

Activities include singing and dancing, ping-pong, pool, and parties for most holidays. The atmosphere is relaxed and the youngsters mostly participate in group activities. Refreshments are served and there is always time to munch a few potato chips and sit around and chat.

The Key Club's participation has proved beneficial beyond the Tuesday night program. About half of the twenty BIC youngsters attend the high school and they now have more friends to meet between classes, to eat lunch with, and to say hello to in the hallways. "At school, the kids are rejected," Bill Stafford pointed out. "Because we've gotten to know them they can relate to us, and they confide in us."

Key Club members agree that the experience has changed them for the better. "In the past I would have no feeling for the kids," Stafford said. "After working with them I have developed—not a love, but a like—for them. After an experience like this you are very grateful that you're normal. You value life more."

"I now understand the problems that these kids have," Sudowski said. "When I used to hear about retarded people I thought they were freaks. Now that I know them I consider them my equals."

"Some of them are so near normal, but they are not totally accepted because of something in their personality, or the way they act," Stafford added. Although the boys do not plan careers in special education, their experience has brought them a new awareness of the plight of the brain injured. "I will always do anything I can to help them," Stafford vowed.

"The boys are beautiful," Mrs. Zahn lauded, "they're concerned and they really care. In an age when you hear of so much trouble, they really give you a sense of pride."

High school girls also participate in the program, but are not permitted to join the Key Club. There is a non-functioning Keyette's Club for service minded girls, Sudowski said, but the Key Club does not condone the group or consider it a "sister" organization. Every year the Key Club membership votes overwhelmingly against admitting girls, he explained, because the women would make it too much of a social gathering.

About 40 boys participate in the club's activities under the direction of faculty advisor Al Siscaro and the parent Kiwanis Club. The East Brunswick group has received recognition from the state organization for its achievement in human relations.
