Town may get new post office

BY KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

EDISON — Federal officials are now determining whether the need exists in North Edison for a full-service post office, an addition that could ease traffic congestion and facilitate service between residents and postal staff members.

The township's four post offices are situated far away from the growing North Edison section, in which 45,000 residents live, a scenario which precipitates late mail deliveries.

It could take postal carriers as long as 45 minutes to reach their neighborhoods from the main office on Route 27.

Township Councilwoman Eileen Teffenhart, who is also a mayoral candidate, recognized the need for a facility in North Edison while campaigning in the area. After hearing repeated complaints from residents, she started a petition and received some 1,500 signatures in three weeks.

She brought these signatures to U.S. Congressman Bob Franks.

"Because it's a federal agency, it's out of my domain so I contacted Bob Franks who was my link with the post office," she said.

Edison Postmaster Glen Mahoney will now compile information for the Central Jersey Regional Branch on the need for the post office.

"It's too soon to say if there's a need," he said. "There's no historical perspective so it's hard to say."

Once the regional office reviews the information submitted by Mr. Mahoney, it will either kill the project or send it to the Real Estate branch of the Postal Service in Hoboken, where officials there may opt to choose a site for the post office, Janet Thompson, spokeswoman for Rep. Franks said. The process takes about three years.

The petition signatures could be the catalyst for action in the project.

"Petitions are very helpful in showing there is strong public support for the project," Ms. Thompson said.

Rep. Franks and his staff have worked with many municipalities in trying to establish postal facilities.

North Edison resident John Richardson said he feels a post office is definitely needed in North Edison.

"Some people don't get mail until 5:30 at night because it takes the mailmen 30 to 45 minutes to pick up the mail," he said. "The population (in North Edison) has balanced the rest of town but the services haven't kept pace."

Mr. Richardson helped Ms. Teffenhart circulate the petitions throughout North Edison.

Wolf selected to fill seat on council

By DEBRA RUBIN
CORRESPONDENT

HIGHLAND PARK — Nancy Wolf, chairwoman of the Zoning Board of Adjustment, has been unanimously elected by the Borough Council to fill the vacant seat on the governing body.

She was the only candidate nominated at Tuesday's Borough Council meeting and was promptly approved without discussion. Mrs. Wolf will resign from the Zoning Board and is expected to be sworn in to her seat before a budget work session Nov. 12 or the regular meeting Nov. 18.

The new councilwoman had her name, plus those of Zoning Board members Sal Raspa and Robert Brennan, submitted to the Borough Council by the Democratic Municipal Committee for the unexpired term of Gene Young, who resigned Sept. 30.

"I'm confident that she will be a competent member of the governing body," said Mayor H. James Polos.

Mayor Polos said he also thought Mr. Raspa and Mr. Brennan also were extremely qualified.

Mrs. Wolf is a planning specialist with the Board of Public Utilities and a past president of the Middlesex County Committee on the Status of Women.

She is a member of the Highland Park Block Grant Committee, Highland Park Rent Leveling Board and Middlesex County Women's Political Caucus.

Councilman Frank Reff, who nominated Mrs. Wolf's name, cited his own track record as an indicator of the expected success she would have on the council.

"I had the distinct pleasure of nominating Sarah Clarke six years ago to an unexpired term," he said. "She has turned out to be a really superb person and a credit to the mayor, council and community.

"Four years ago I had the distinct pleasure of nominating Bruce Kaczynski. He has done a superb job on the governing body.

"I would like to continue my record with Nancy Wolf," Mr. Reff said. "She has been a credit to the community on the Rent (Leveling) Board and Zoning Board and a hard-working person for Highland Park.

Mrs. Clarke praised Mrs. Wolf's history of volunteerism in the borough and expressed confidence she would capably serve in her new position.

Councilman Leon Cohen said he was particularly pleased to have someone with the new councilwoman's background in municipal finance join the governing body.

"I spent a lot of time with her reviewing budgets," said Mr. Cohen, chairman of the council Finance Committee. "I believe her knowledge of budget and finance is something that most councils do not have."

Mrs. Wolf has taken a course in municipal finance while studying for a master's degree in public administration at Rutgers University.

"They (the Zoning Board) are very disappointed to lose her," said Borough Administrator Evelyn Sedehi, "although they are pleased she's coming over here (to the council)."

YMCA keeps getter bigger

Center is expanding to handle more programs and children

METUCHEN — Construction that will make the Metuchen-Edison YMCA one of the most premier facilities in the state is more than half-way complete.

The 13,000 square-foot addition will increase the facility, which is now about 28,000 square feet, by almost 50 percent, Executive Director Bill Lovett said. The project, at an estimated cost is $2.5 million, is scheduled to be complete by April 1998.

"I would really like to have the building on-line by the start of the summer because we have so many children coming here in the summer," he said.

The project will add a huge multi-purpose room, a weight room and programming and office space. The new administrative space replaces old offices which were gutted to make child care space in the renovation part of the project.

"We have increased our child care space by 50 percent," spokeswoman Bobbie Keers-Flood said.

The YMCA sponsors a profusion of childcare program both on and off-site. In addition to preschool and after-school program held at the High Street location, the YMCA also hold five daycare programs at location in Metuchen and Edison.

With increasing demands in fitness, much of the project is dedicated to making fitness facilities state-of-the-art, Assistant Director Megan LaBarr said.

"We have doubled our fitness center due to increasing demands," she said. "Approximately one-third of our members join the fitness center."

A pool, which has been closed off since the construction of a new pool in 1965, will also be reopened. This pool will be kept warmer for the YMCA's special population including young children and senior citizens, Ms. LaBarr said.

"By moving our special population to the second pool, we are taking demands off of the other pool to keep it free for lap-swimming," she said.

The YMCA is also making steps to make the fitness center accessible for its handicapped members. Equipment for this commitment includes exercise bicycles with adjustable seats and arm cranks and a Cybex machine low enough to be accessed via wheelchair.

"We go to some great lengths in our commitment to the handicapped," Fitness Director Janice Garbalino said. "We want more people to use our equipment regardless of what their abilities are."

The equipment was purchased through a $4,000 grant from the New York Mercantile Exchange Charitable Foundation through board member Brian Hand.

Additional funding for the project was raised through private and corporate sponsors, Mr. Lovett said.

"We made a commitment to our members that this would not be financed through membership dues," he said.

The YMCA also promised members their fees would not increase the year following the project.

Library to get helping hand from 'Friends'

BY KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

METUCHEN — The public library is getting more money from the Friends of the Library than from the state, and there is no doubt that the friends is significant to the literary climate of the borough.

At its annual meeting last week the Friends of the Library donated $15,000 to the library a sum somewhat higher than the $14,669 the system received this year in state aid. This year's donation was the largest ever, Library Director Melody Kokola said.

The donation will mostly fund special programs at the library such as the foreign films festival, arts shows and children's program.

"We are not 100 percent funded by the town so in order to provide extra things we need extra funds," Ms. Kokola said.

The Borough Council allotted $492,211 to the library in its 1997 annual budget. In 1996,. the library spent $76,000 above the borough allotment. The excess was collected through fines, feels, state aid and gifts.

"Our library is really a little beehive of cultural activity," Friends President Irene Kutner said. "I've lived in a lot of different towns and I've never seen such activity in a library. It shows the kinds of people we have — they're very literate, very current and very interested in the cultural arts."

A 100 plus member organization, the Friends of the Library raise money by selling donated used books, by running bus trips and through membership dues. Since 1985, the Friends of the Library have given some $135,000 to the library.

Last week's meeting was also dedicated to recognizing the organization's many volunteers.

"What amazed me was all of their committee chairs read lists of volunteers and the list was endless," Ms. Kokola said. "There are more people doing volunteer work for us than I would have guessed."

In terms of size and success the Metuchen Friends program is second only to East Brunswick in Middlesex County, Ms. Kokola said.

Members pay an annual dues of $5. For more information on the organization contact the library at (732) 632-8526.

Many local races will be decided by voters Tuesday

No election races for Borough Council

By DEBRA RUBIN
CORRESPONDENT

ELECTION '97

HIGHLAND PARK — For the second year in a row, voters heading for the polls will find no Republican candidates for Borough Council on the Election Day ballot.

Without a municipal Republican chairman and with apparently little organized support on the part of local Republicans, Bruce Kuczynski and Leon Cohen are expected to be easily re-elected, ensuring that the governing body will remain solidly Democratic for another year.

Mr. Cohen, who has been on the Borough Council six years, oversees development of the municipal budget as chairman of the council Finance Committee. He served on the Planning Board for nine years and was a former state representative to the Housing Authority.

He cites the council's stewardship of fiscal matters through innovative budgeting and by sharing services with other municipalities as one of the major reasons why there is little opposition to the current governing body.

"I think most residents of Highland Park want these policies to continue," Mr. Cohen said. "Despite the loss of $1 million in state discretionary aid, we've held the line on taxes."

When asked about the lack of Republican opposition, Mr. Cohen joked, "Didn't you hear? We've passed an ordinance outlawing them in the borough."

Mr. Kuczynski has been on the Borough Council four years and last year served as president. The former two-year member of the Zoning Board of Adjustment also focused on the handling of fiscal matters as a key reason for the council's support by the public.

"It took hard work to hold the line on taxes considering the discretionary aid we've lost over the last 3-4 years," he said.

Mr. Cohen said his other thrust would be to continue to concentrate on maintaining and improving Highland Park's infrastructure and streets, which he termed "more mundane and not too glamorous but very important."

A semiretired chemical researcher and consultant, Mr. Cohen said he would "continue to do what we're doing" to attract additional business and improve the economic outlook in the business district.

Mr. Kuczynski, a scientist in nuclear medicine with a specialty in systems management, said his "personal objective" would be to have the computer systems in municipal offices and departments upgraded. He has been in charge of the Police Department, Fire Department and Rescue Squad as chairman of the Safety Committee.

He also has been the council liaison to the Board of Education, Arts Commission and Rent Leveling Board.

"I have been intimately involved with the development of our Senior/Youth Center," Mr. Kuczynski said. "It was a major project of my first term and it still continues.

"Even if we have no opponents, this is our one time of the year to talk to our constituents face-to-face and find out their concerns," he said. "I've enjoyed that."

PSE&G honors Mayor Polos for program

HIGHLAND PARK — Borough Mayor H. James Polos was recently honored with the Progressive Leader Award for developing the idea of having the borough's water meters red by PSE&G.

The borough saves $77,000 with this program and improved services as well.

The award ceremony was held Oct. 23 at Borough Hall. John Jensen, PSE&G's director of measurement business presented the award to Mayor Polos, Commissioner Jane Kenny of the department of Community Affairs and Middlesex County Freeholder David B. Crabiel.

"Mayor Polos was the first mayor in New Jersey to realize the potential of partnership with PSE&G," Mr. Jensen said. "Thanks to his leadership and insight in helping to establish this program, Highland Park residents have had the same high level of service for their water bills that PSE&G provides for their energy bills."

Commissioner Kenny thanked Mayor Polos for instituting this innovative program and noted that the partnership between Highland Park and PSE&G is a fine example of how a municipality can improve the delivery of services, while reducing the cost of taxpayers.

"I was seeking opportunities to reduce operating costs for the borough and improve services for residents," Mayor Polos said. "I am proud that Highland Park is a model for other towns and that other municipalities have joined us in using this cost effective approach."

PSE&G has been providing water meter reading and billing served for 3,500 Highland Park residents since August 1995. Highland Park was the first municipality in New Jersey to enter into an agreements with PSE&G to read its water meters.

Highland Park resident places third in competition

HIGHLAND PARK — Dennis M. Lee has been awarded third place in a research paper competition sponsored by Psi Beta, the national honor society in psychology, and the Allyn & Bacon publishing house.

He received $200 and a certificate of recognition during the American Psychological Association convention this summer in Chicago, Ill. Mr. Lee's paper on "Death Anxiety and Job Satisfaction Among Workers in Death Exposure Professions" was distributed to convention delegates as part of a compilation with other prize-winning articles.

The paper by the Highland Park resident was based on a survey Mr. Lee conducted under the supervision of his classroom instructor at Rutgers University, Norman Poppel, and the Psi Beta faculty advisor at Rutgers, John Gutowski.

Mr. Lee graduated with highest honors in 1977 from Middlesex County College, where he received an award for general academic excellence in psychology. He is majoring in psychology at Rutgers and is scheduled to enter the Rutgers Graduate School of Education next year.

Field crowded in mayoral race

By KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

GEORGE SPADORO

EILEEN TEFFENHART

EDISON — When election day approaches, voters will weed through a slew of candidates to cast their choice for Edison's top job.

The candidates include an incumbent Democrat, a Republican and five independents. Edison could see its first Republican mayor, its first woman mayor or its first full-time mayor. Issues for this year's campaign are attendance at meetings, traffic control, property taxes, over-development and the environment.

After beating contender Don Hansen in the June primary election, incumbent Mayor George Spadoro has continued his business as usual approach to the campaign. He feels his every day actions as mayor, which most recently include the creation of the Edison Bill of Rights and a commitment to putting an end to illegal signs in the township, will show voters the he is the top candidate.

"In my first four years I introduced a broad plan of initiatives to help Edison citizens, most of which require more than four years," he said. " we need another four years of concerted effort. I have unfinished business and I feel I am the most qualified to do it."

Republican Councilwoman Eileen Germaine Teffenhart is running to become the first woman to hold Edison's top job. She said she would like to bring full-time hands-on management to the mayor's office.

As councilwoman, a post she is now serving, Ms. Teffenhart has lobbied against overdevelopment, illegal zoning and environmental issues. Ms. Teffenhart beat Republican David Papi in the June Primary election.

"My record and actions, speak louder than words," she said. "I have been in public service since I was 14 years old."

She would like to solve the problems of mismanagement in the Municipal Building, overdevelopment and traffic congestion throughout the township.

Mayor Spadoro and Councilwoman Teffenhart are vying for the position with five independent candidates.

He is not backed by a major party, but John Hogan feels he has years of experience in the Edison political scene, including 17 years of service on the Township Council.

Mr. Hogan, who is retired from Bell Atlantic, said he would give up his job of running the Edison Sheltered Workshop to become Edison's first full time mayor.

Cleaning up the township is one reason why Joe Coyle said he wants to be mayor.

"I want to clean up neighborhoods and improve the recreation facilities that suffer from vandalism and poor maintenance," he said.

Cleaning the community is something Mr. Coyle has experience in as the executive director of Operation Get Done, a non-profit agency that works to rid the streets, parks and intersection of litter and graffiti.

Karl Kovack calls himself a long time watchdog of what goes on in the township. He feels the township's government has been corrupted by what he calls special interest politics whereby officials hire the wrong employees and purchase unneeded equipment.

"I know I could do something more in two years than these people have in the past years," he said.

At 76, Mr. Kovack said he needs the job of mayor like he needs a whole in his head but he is running for the job to help out his fellow community members.

"I've served a lot of people and that's what this is about," he said.

Rounding out the independent ticket are John Richardson and Peter Cerrato.

Book group will next discuss Conroy's 'Beach Music'

The Edison Book Discussion will meet 11:30 a.m. Monday in the North Edison Library, 777 Grove Avenue.

"Beach Music" by Pat Conroy will be discussed.

Township resident named scholar

Township resident Neha Pathak has been named an Advanced Placement Scholar by the College Board for her exceptional achievement on the college-level Advanced Placement examinations.

Neha is a student at the Pingry School in Martinsville. She is the daughter of Ramanaresh and Surekha Pathak of Edison.

Chiropractic for Health
by Dr. Ron Meola
EAR-LY TREATMENT
According to the inter national Chiropractors Association (ICA) pediatrics council, more children receive chiropractic treatment for ear pain than for any other reason. Many practitioners believe there is a link between the birthing process and recurrent middle-ear infections (acute otitis media). When the head pushes through the birth canal, the cervical vertebrae (at the base of the head and upper-neck area often become misaligned, disrupting nerve function in this region. This interference compromises function of the Eustachain tube that leads to middle-ear fluid buildup. By stretching the soft tissue around the ear canal, chiropractic treatment facilitates the draining of fluid and thereby reduces bacterial buildup and risk of infection.
Children usually respond quickly to light adjustments and other chiropractic care. At GREEN BROOK CHIROPRACTIC CENTER, we feel periodic checks by your doctor of chiropractic can help identify problems-the chiropractic way-without drugs or surgery. We're located at 927 N. Washington Ave., Green Brook, where we treat the cause, not just the symptoms. Call 752-2220 to schedule an appointment. Board Eligible Clinical Neurology.
P.S. In the September '97 issue of the Journal of Chiropractic Pediatrics, a study involving 400 children shows that chiropractic treatment helped prevent ear infections nearly 80% of those with histories of chronic middle-ear infections.

New building will replace trailer at train station

BY KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

EDISON — A trailer, which has been servicing commuters for ten years at the Plainfield Avenue train station, will soon be replaced with a 1,700 square foot building.

The NJ Transit Board of Directors last week awarded a $5.2 million contract to Terminal Construction Corp. of Wood Ridge to construct a 1,760 square foot building next to the tracks and two pedestrian crossing bridges across Plainfield Avenue.

The building will include a 600-square-foot waiting room, a concession area and space for ticket sales, said Ken Miller, a spokesman for NJ Transit. The enclosed pedestrian-crossing bridges will connect residential neighborhoods and parking areas with the station.

The project, which will begin this month, is scheduled to be complete in the spring 1999.

"We're looking throughout the system to find areas where transit improvements can be made to approve amenities for passengers," Mr. Miller said.

With 2,293 commuters boarding the Northeast Corridor line at the Edison station daily, ridership is on the rise. The Northeast Corridor line runs from Trenton to Penn Station New York City.

NJ Transit worked with township officials on the final plan for the station which includes Victorian-style diamond mutten windows and cut stone surface.

"The idea was to build a railroad station that represents the historical aspect of the station and the town," Mr. Miller said.

Last year, NJ Transit installed 14 bicycle racks and 10 lockers at the station to cut down on vehicles commuting between home and the station.

Last week, the board also awarded a $2 million contract to Halmar Builders to Mount Vernon, N.Y. to design and build new high-level platforms with access ramps at the Avenel Station. The work also includes rehabilitation of the existing stairs at the station.

Two-party government, downtown top issues

BY KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

METUCHEN — This year's Borough Council race is chock full of newcomers to the borough's political circuit.

Republican Councilmen Peter Trecolis and Kenneth Hoffman are not running for reelection leaving two seats open for new blood. Mr. Trecolis and Mr. Hoffman are the governing body's only Republican's.

"I think the biggest issue is fundamentally whether we're going to keep two-party government in the borough," Republican candidate Steve Warner said. "There needs to be more than one view to have constructive debate on an issue."

Mr. Warner and Republican running-mate Tom Frey are vying against Democrats Richard Dyas and Michael Smoot. The republicans ran unsuccessfully last year.

The republicans platform stands to reevaluate the current tradition of putting high density housing on the borough's open space.

"I favor decreasing the tax burden but I worry about the impact on the schools and the traffic congestion," Mr. Warner said.

The Democratic candidates are concentrating on downtown issues in their campaigns.

"I think the continuation of the growth of the downtown is key because by having a viable central business district you raise the value of homes," Mr. Dyas said.

Mr. Dyas was on the development commission in the late 1980's when it approved new light posts and benches in the downtown.

His running-mate also stressed the viability of the downtown.

"We need to maintain an open, friendly relationship between government and the business community," he said.

Both Democrats have served on the Planning Board.

Some question date for referendum

BY KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

METUCHEN — The Board of Education passed a resolution Tuesday authorizing a $22.3 millino bond referendum to finance the renovation of the borough's schools.

The referendum is scheduled for Dec. 18, a date that has been met with criticism from the public.

About 50 residents attended the meeting with only a handful of them standing up to express their opinion on the plan. The Board of Education sent letters to every home in the borough informing them they would vote on amount of the bond Tuesday night.

Critics say the Board of Education chose the date so close to the holidays to discourage people from voting and thus sneaking it through.

"You had this in bad weather so seniors can't vote," Senior Citizen Ruth Supko said. "People with arthritis and broken hips can't get out."

Supporters say the date was chosen to ensure that the project could begin during summer vacation.

"I am very happy the capital improvement plan was moving forward," Dan Seigel said. "It speaks volumes on the success of the plan that we don't have 300 of 400 people here."

The referendum will ask residents to support the $22.3 million bond to finance capital improvements to the district's four buildings. If passed, the bond would cost the average homeowner an additional $284 per year.

"I'm going to lose my raise from social security," Ms. Supko said.

Housing, downtown topics of debate

BY KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

METUCHEN — Two issues kept popping up at last week's Candidates Night: high-density housing and downtown revitalization.

Republicans Steven Warner and Thomas Frey repeatedly argued that their Democratic opponents, Michael Smoot and Richard Dyas, would ultimately increase taxes by favoring such high-density developments as proposed for the Franklin School property and Homestead on Metuchen.

"High density housing often has negative impacts on the community," Mr. Warner said. "Tax revenue is outweighed by strains on school, traffic congestion and municipal services.

But, Mr. Dyas contended that the proposed development does not fall outside the borough's master plan and would enhance Metuchen's community.

"The population has dropped from 16,000 to 13,000 in the past six years," Mr. Dyas said. "Right now there is no area for empty nesters to buy or rent a condo. The Franklin School proposal will enhance the pedestrian atmosphere of our town."

The proposal for the Franklin School property calls for 110 single-family units to be built. The development would bring in an estimated $400,000 in tax revenues. Contracted experts have estimated the development would add two-tenths of the school-aged child per unit to the school system.

All four of the candidates agreed the viability of the downtown area was relative to property values and taxes and should, therefore, be handled to some degree by the Borough Council. It wasn't until during the public question portion of the debate, when a Democratic Committee member posed a question, that controversy broke out over the candidate's involvement in the recent revitalization of the area.

Claire Eisenstein asked the candidates to outline their participation in the revitalization effort.

The less-involved Republican contestants charge they were kept from involvement by the Democratic majority.

"In December 1996 I wrote a letter to the mayor requesting an appointment on various boards and commission but I have yet to receive an answer," Mr. Warner said.

Mr. Warner outlined a four-point approach to maintaining the downtown's viability which includes streamlining the development application process, expanding parking facilities, providing financial incentives for low-interest loans to downtown businesses and promoting the downtown as a regional center.

"I've had to do this from the outside looking in," he said.

Mr. Smoot said his opponents' conception of exclusion through partisanship was ridiculous.

"Usually when someone shows up and works (for a commission) they're usually asked to join," he said. "It doesn't take an official appointment."

Election day is Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Strike up the band

Edison's J.P. Stevens High School marching band performed Sunday at the Hillsborough High School Band Festival.

Gas station employee is assaulted

An employee working at Edison Friendly Service station on Route 27 was assaulted and robbed Friday night, police said.

Two men reportedly approached the employee around 10 p.m. while he was in the attendant booth and knocked him to the ground. One of the attackers then held the victim down while the other stole $75 from his pocket, according to reports.

After the incident, the two attackers fled to a wooded area behind the gas station.

When police arrived they made a thorough search of the area with no result, officials said. The investigation into the case continues.

Metuchen: Dyas, Smoot

Metuchen is a small community with a unique character.

It is surrounded by the sprawling communities of Edison, Woodbridge and South Plainfield. County and state roads dissect through the town bringing traffic and outsiders through the area.

Despite traffic and being situated in the confines of larger towns, Metuchen is a small community with a flavor all its own.

It's a residential town, with single-family homes more prevalent than townshouses, condominiums and apartments.

Borough officials have worked to create a downtown that will ultimately be a vital force in the economic development of the borough as well as a social destination for all.

Despite a thriving downtown and the lack of open space, development is not a major concern. The Franklin School development and the Homestead on Metuchen, which will bring about 180 condominium units to the borough, are the only residential development that are currently underway.

To ensure that the borough maintains its residential flavor and small-town feel, experience is essential.

Democratic candidates Richard Dyas and Michael Smoot will be newcomers to the Borough Council, but are not new to serving the borough and the town.

Both have served on various boards and commissions including the Planning Board, and the Metuchen Development Commission. They have knowledge of the Master Plan and ordinances which are necessary tools to help the Borough Council guide the town thorough changes.

Republican candidates Steve Warner and Tom Frey would also be new to the Borough Council, but their only intent is to see that the Borough Council is represented by a two-parties. Mr. Warner and Mr. Frey don't have a clear cut agenda on how to deal with the issues that face Metuchen.

The election of Mr. Dyas and Mr. Smoot would create an all Democratic Borough Council, but it doesn't mean the governing body would have one voice.

There would be differing opinions and different voices that will help make the decisions that would be right for Metuchen.

Every vote counts

No more accusations, no more praises, no more campaign signs and no more letters to the editor. It al culminated with Election Day on Tuesday. Election Day is like the end to a long-distance foot race. The race starts slowly and then builds to a feverish pace, only to stop at a finish line.

Voters have some tough decisions to make. It's hard to know which candidate will do the best job for your town. It can be difficult to tell who's for real and who's trying to pull the wool over your eyes. To make the decisions easier, voters should pay close attention to the newspapers and to what the candidates have to say when they go door to door.

It's important to pick the right candidate, but it's more important to exercise your right to vote. We believe that if you don't vote, you don't have a right to complain.

All registered voters should have received a sample ballot by now. The ballot says who's running for what office and what the ballot questions are. The sample ballot also tells you where your polling place is. Polls are open 7 a.m.-8 p.m. Tuesday.

Don't forget every vote counts — even yours.

Tousman, Both will make a difference

To The Editor:

Recently there were published pictures of and information about all candidates running for Edison Township Council. Thank you for making me aware of the platform of each candidate.

After reading the article, I am supporting Eleanore Both and Jane Tousman.

Mrs. Tousman is well known as a person dedicated to high ideals in township government. Her record as a former councilwoman attests to this.

If you ever attended a council meeting or watched the meetings on television, you know who Eleanore Both is. Long a citizen activist, Mrs. Both, by attending these council meetings, has already had her basic training in how local government is (or should be) run. Eleanore Both is not an unknown quantity.

What you see is what you get. She seeks a council seat to make a difference for all Edison residents — young and old alike. She is not seeking public office for personal gain.

Both Mrs. Tousman and Mrs. Both need a vote at council meetings, as well as a voice. Your vote is very important. Please use it wisely. Vote for Eleanore Both and Jane Tousman, true public servants.

Multi-party government not an issue

To The Editor:

I am pleased that candidates Frey And Warner have taken their campaign to print instead of METV, but I find their sole argument for election, two-party representation, weak and unsupported by the facts. I say this despite a life-long dedication to multi-party government.

I have attended almost every council meeting for the past six years. Since the election of the present administration, I have not seen a single resident ignored, stifled or cut short at a council meeting as were common practices during the last Republican administration.

The advent of real-time METV coverage makes it easy for every citizen to be a watchdog, so I see no real need to elect council members without some other, better justification.

Their condemnation of the present administration for "putting high-density housing on every square inch...." rings rather hollow when the truth is that the highest density development in the area was supported and endorsed by the previous (Republican) administration which actively and rather nastily contested other, lower density, proposals for reasons still not clear, at least to me.

Traffic, you say? From representative of Party that wanted to plunk a world-class supermarket in the middle of residential areas of Metuchen? I'm willing to grant you some license as political candidates, gentlemen, but please try to stay in touch with reality!

Our present population is down almost 25 percent from its high due to normal attrition. It must grow again, or Metuchen will die. If we are lucky, our school population, too, will grow. That is inevitable and has nothing to do with new development which is automatically curtailed by the very limited usable space in our community. Sure we need new and better schools, particularly because the Franklin School was closed. We're going to need them regardless of the ratio of Republicans to Democrats in Borough Hall, so that's a non-issue, politically.

Democrats run positive campaign

To The Editor:

In these times of negative campaigning, it is very refreshing to see the positive campaign literature and TV commercials of Mayor George Spadoro and the Democratic Council candidates. Mayor Spadoro, Bill Stephens and the council candidates are focusing on their records and accomplishments and sticking to the issues.

Each piece of literature does not even mention their opponents. All positive and that's what we in Edison deserve.

Hats off to Mayor Spadoro and the Democratic Council candidates for running a campaign that makes Edison proud!

Visit the new site in plant reserve

To The Editor:

There's a new nature site in the green strip along the Raritan River in Highland Park: the Native Plant Reserve.

If you've passed River Road and seen people out with wheel barrows, it's the Shade Tree Advisory Committee starting fall work with support from the borough and the Green Communities program. Already there are some 50 species, marked with their stories as well as names; and we're preparing expanded display beds and a fence supporting native vines.

It's self-guiding, so drop by and watch the work in progress (River Road at Harrison).

Sinagra, Buono support the environment

To The Editor:

The 18th District is lucky. We have two of the strongest environmental champions in the Legislature representing us — one Republican and one Democrat — Sen. Jack Sinagra and Assemblywoman Barbara Buono. That's why New Jersey's largest environmental group, the New Jersey Environmental Federation, has endorsed both for re-election.

Sinagra and Buono have been leaders against the unprecedented assault on New Jersey's environmental laws. And now that we have stopped this assault, they are leading us forward again.

Jack Sinagra's record and vision speaks for itself:

- Personally blocked polluters' efforts to weaken the rights of victims of environmental crimes.
- Sponsor of a bill to strengthen the 1991 Pollution Prevention Act to further reduce industry's use of toxins and save businesses money.
- Champion of the right of all New Jersey citizens to know what contaminates their drinking water.
- Sponsor of a bill to expand notification about mercury-contaminated fish to those most vulnerable, including pregnant women, nursing mothers and children under 5.

Barbara Buono's record and vision are also second to none:

- Fought disposal of contaminated dredged materials on (the) Edison waterfront and in Sayreville residential areas.
- Helped stopped efforts to permit polluters to dump more cancer-causing agents into New Jersey waters.
- Led the Assembly effort to defeat a 30 percent cut in funding for environmental protection.
- Committed to expanding our right to safe drinking water and our right to know our drinking water is safe.

Although they come from different parties, Sinagra and Buono both are leading the fight for more, not less, environmental protection, and that polluters, not taxpayers, pay for it. So please vote for Sinagra for Senate on Line B and Buono for Assembly on Line A on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Improve the old

Somewhere on a postcard or a snapshot you will see the eccentric spread of the building which used to sit at Route 27 and Main Street. What remains of it now is a flowering cherry tree of some sort, still growing at the sidewalk location which once served as the rambling entrance to the old structure. The bank building currently on the corner hardly replaces what was lost.

As late as the mid-Seventies, this structure still stood. It had been used, at various times late in its existence, as a theater, a small-time rock and roll band concert hub, a coffeehouse and a community center. I can recall ending up there a few times on summer afternoons in the late 1960s to hang around the watch the proceedings as one or another local rock band took to the stage in front of a few assembled metal chairs on which sat Metuchen's version of a hippie community of sorts. The building leaked, both water and sound, so I can only surmise the gasps that passersby probably gave as they heard the sounds from within. The rambling dreck of a building was a combined effort of wood, concrete and stucco; pseudo-stained glass windows; and wall-bench seats within fronted by a lesser but still impressive entrance area.

What got me to thinking about it was the equally complete removal, some two weeks ago, of the old camera shop house that stood at Center Street and Route 27. The two structures, in their own ways, resembled each other and met the same end. They simply became "out of time." Having outlived both their usefulness and their time, there was nothing more to do than to cede them to the ages by demolition. We all know that whatever follows will never match what it replaces, but time has, once again, moved on.

Towns and cities are built by this process, constantly. Often times the sequence of events operates much swifter. In these two cases we were left, at least, with a few dwindling years of abandonment and neglect with which to judge and muse over the old places as they prepared, slowly, for the demise that was due them. Modernization makes its own definitions of what counts and what doesn't as it goes along. Low ceilings, gabled roofs, small rooms, poor lighting — all these are sometimes seen as quaint and curious holdovers from times past. They are the sort of things that modern use cannot abide. "Tear down and replace" is today's credo. The squared or retro-vintage styling of new buildings, as they replace these sorts of old buildings, never do justice to the times and efforts which were lived within the old. Ways of living and attitudes of operation that once were acceptable and commonplace are quickly usurped amid today's work of instant access, optimum light and parking, and multi-use format. An old house, a tippling old playhouse or tiny, warrened homestead just won't do.

I try to remain optimistic in the face of change, even when I know, sometimes, that the older was probably the better. I can only hope for the future in terms of this town and the Metuchen I know — as being better for being combined with wisdom and forethought both before and during the changes. The old house that eventually is abandoned and neglected does become an eyesore as it crumbles. Removal, however, is only one of the ways to approach improvement. As first this place, then that place are destroyed or removed, we lose, one by one, the tiles and pieces that make the mosaic of disorder and variety by which towns and boroughs such as Metuchen maintain their steely character and indulgent sense of variety. Blandness lurks just around the corner. We don't always have to like everything we see, but we should be willing, at the least, to allow improvement of the old to keep it in existence.

Act now on new drunk driving laws

To The Editor:

New Jersey used to be a leader in setting public policy for the safety of its residents. Now, at a time when New Jersey can lead the way with tougher drunk driving legislation, our state fails to act.

The New Jersey Legislature voted to create a commission to study whether our state should adopt a lower blood alcohol limit. The proposal would lower the current .10 blood alcohol concentration to .08 BAC. Of course, we all know what a commission is intended to do: Simply ignore the problem until some other time.

The evidence for adopting .08 BAC is convincing. Twice the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has produced reports recommending .08 BAC as the legal limit. Most other industrialized nations have set the BAC at .08 or lower. Fifteen states have already adopted .08 BAC. California experienced a 12 percent reduction in alcohol-related fatalities after .08 BAC went into effect and a recent study by Boston University of five states that lowered the BAC to .08 showed a 16 percent reduction in the amount of crashes involving fatally injured drivers whose BAC was .08 or higher.

Recently, President Clinton endorsed the .08 BAC as a national standard making states that fail to adopt this level risk losing a portion of their federal highway dollars. The only opposition to this bill comes from the restaurant and beverage industries who fear that responsible social drinkers would be penalized. Evidence in the states who have adopted this level proves otherwise. Further, it would take a 170-pound man four drinks in one hour and a 137-pound woman three drinks in one hour on an empty stomach to reach this level. This is hardly the level of someone who has a drink or two with dinner.

Legislation I have sponsored would make .08 BAC the legal limit in New Jersey. We should pass this bill as soon as the Legislature returns in November. Enough with our studies and commissions!

Vote for Smith for the Assembly

To The Editor:

The Vote Environment Committee of the New Jersey Environmental Federation has endorsed Assemblyman Bob Smith for re-election in the 17th District.

Assemblyman Smith has been the strongest environmental advocate in the Legislature and an outspoken opponent of the unprecedented assault over the past few years on our environmental laws.

Most importantly, Bob Smith has the vision to bring New Jersey into the 21st century. He will support legislation to expand the 1991 Pollution Prevention Act, which will reduce industry's use of toxics and save businesses money. He will also work to close loopholes in drinking water law identified from the Toms River cancer cluster, protect citizens' right to know about toxic chemicals that threaten their health and safety at home and in the workplace, and ensure that polluters, not taxpayers, pay for environmental cleanup.

We need Bob Smith in the Assembly to move a proactive environmental agenda forward, get tough on polluters and fight for clean air, clean water and healthy workplaces and communities. He is committed to ensuring that the public's health and safety are never compromised, and will fight for more environmental protections, with polluters paying for it. That's why VEC-NJEF urges you to re-elect Bob Smith on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Re-elect Buono and Barnes

To The Editor:

Many elected officials and candidates seem to focus their attention only on statewide problems such as the tax burden and auto insurance costs. However, Assemblypersons Barbara Buono and Peter Barnes, who are up for re-election, have been outstanding in spending much additional time and effort on solving local problems.

For example, they have been of enormous help in securing, from the New Jersey Department of Transportation, sound barriers to protect homeowners along Route 287 in Edison and Metuchen. In addition, they have energetically pursued the proposed 3.5-mile rails-to-trails greenway int he heart of Middlesex County, and have defended it from disruptive construction by the New Jersey DOT. They have also strongly supported the replacement of a condemned vehicle bridge in Metuchen with a much-needed pedestrian/bicycle bridge between the two halves of the town, and have extended their concern for pedestrian safety to statewide legislation. There are many other examples.

Ms. Buono and Mr. Barnes do not, in my experience, talk vaguely about fuzzy solutions to distant problems. We need more of their imagination and their vigorous letter writing, telephone calls and meeting attendance on our behalf to develop specific problem remedies at the local and state levels. Please, let's re-elect them.

Candidates must stick to the issues

To The Editor:

Around election time, I typically get negative, mean-spirited mail that doesn't deal with anything I care about. I'm happy to report that Mayor Spadoro's campaign is different. This past week, I received two "issue papers" from Mayor Spadoro, one dealing with the environment and the other about public safety. I have to say that its refreshing to get some positive, serious, issue-oriented election mail. Isn't this how everyone should be running their campaigns? Let's all hope that Edison's local race stays clean, and that all the candidates stick to the issues.

Both is knowledeable about town

To The Editor:

The residents of Edison need Eleanore Both for council. She has common sense and is not afraid to take on the elected officials and hold them accountable for their actions.

We have allowed the Board of Education and the township employees to bankrupt this municipality with their high pay, perks and demands. Eleanore Both is very knowledgeable of township affairs. So give her the power to do something about their outrageous decision, being made in our council every day. A vote for her is a vote for our rights.

Buono and Barnes plan for future

To The Editor:

No one cares more about our children in our Legislature than Assemblywoman Buono and Assemblyman Barnes. Wendy Wiebalk and Tom Toto are desperate politicians distorting the truth to further themselves. Barbara and Peter made the right call for our children.

What the Republicans fail to mention in their deceptive claims is that Buono and Barnes voted against borrowing $2.8 billion to pay for our daily state expenses. In the best possible scenario, our children will be saddled with over $10 billion in future debt. They've introduced numerous bills which would protect our children, such as legislation which would implement playground safety measures. It is clear who is looking out for the best interests of our children. It is not Wiebalk and Toto, it's Assemblywoman Buono and Assemblyman Barnes.

Non-custodial parents are responsible

To The Editor:

Assemblywoman Barbara Buono's letter (Sept. 19), "Non-custodial parents must be responsible," certainly does not address the heart of the issue, in my longstanding position as a non-custodial parent. The vast and overwhelming mainstream of us not only pay what the court decides but in addition to that the many extras — from Halloween costumes to class trips to shoes in which our child's feet don't fold over and she walks on her toes — that child support, however large it may be (and in some cases criminally so), just doesn't seem to cover. We do so because of love for our child as well as concern that they not be deprived just because the relationship soured.

I believe also that The Review and Herald should initiate a new trail: Each week should feature a different non-custodial parent who faithfully pays and loves their offspring. There are many of us (and we are women, too!) who live in miniscule apartments or with their aging, adult parents, because our obligation to our child comes first, that live in Edison, Metuchen and Highland Park.

Gee, what a concept! Profiling the vast majority, instead of the nefarious minority.

Edison needs a full-time mayor

To The Editor:

This November the residents of Edison have the opportunity to elect Eileen Teffenhart as a full-time mayor for the township of Edison. With an estimated population of 92,000, we deserve a mayor who will be accessible to us on a fulltime basis.

As a sitting councilwoman, Eileen Teffenhart is familiar with the important issues facing the residents, has always been available to listen to the residents of Edison and has worked diligently to help them find a solution to their problem, regardless of their party affiliation.

Anyone who has attended council meetings or viewed them on television has repeatedly heard the question "Where's George?" The real question should be "Where has George been for the past four years?"

He has not attended council meetings and not always been available at the time he has set aside to meet with residents. Countless times, residents have come before (the) council desperately seeking their help to resolve problems that this administration should have handled quickly and efficiently.

To make matters worse, Mayor Spadoro keep referring to Edison as a "city"; it is hard to believe that someone who has been a former councilman and served four years as the mayor still does not know (Edison is) not a city!

All of us want a better quality of life and to be proud of the township we live (in). To achieve this, we need to elect Jane Tousman, Carl Perlin and John Palmer for council and Eileen Teffenhart for mayor.

Protect the New Jersey black bear

To The Editor:

Plans on the Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife drawing board call for a possible hunt of New Jersey Black bear next year because of bear conflicts with humans. Sound familiar? It should. The same agency "manages" the white-tailed deer in our state. Under Fish and Game "management" the deer herd has increased from 75,000 in 1975 to 150,000 in 1996 in New Jersey despite killing 60,000 each year.

The fact is the indiscriminate "harvest" of black bears would alleviate conflicts with humans no more than the random elimination of humans would eradicate criminals.

Let your state Assembly representative and senators know how you feel; also send a copy to Governor Whitman.

Keep New Jersey black bears protected.

Gov. Whitman supports fishermen

To The Editor:

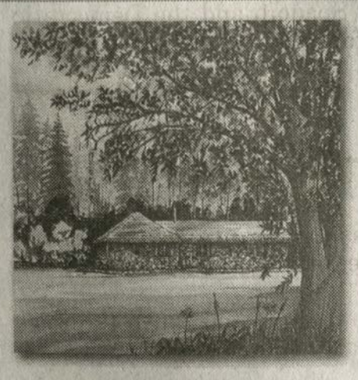

As the 1997 gubernatorial election draws near, recreational fishermen across the Garden State will select a governor to lead us into the next century. This candidate should be a person who has supported not only recreational fishermen but also the marine industry as well. Gov. Christine Todd Whitman is such a candidate. In the past the governor has stood behind recreational fishermen numerous times. Gov. Whitman has:

- Refused to issue a joint venture processing permit that would have allowed Russian ships to harvest mackerel and herring caught off our coast. As a result of this action we enjoyed one of the best mackerel runs in recent memory this past spring.
- Fought to continue the ban on ocean dumping off the New Jersey coast, keeping the coastline clean for swimming and fishing. No longer will industry be allowed to treat our ocean like a toxic waste dump. Her Democratic opponent fought to allow ocean dumping of hazardous waste off our coast while he was a corporate lobbyist.
- Directed New York to cease dumping raw sewage in the Hudson River as well as off the coast of the Garden State where this pollution has a direct impact on not only near-shore game fish, but forage species as well.

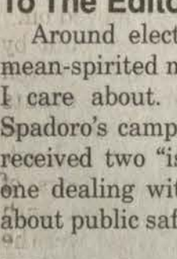

As one can see Gov. Whitman is a friend of the recreational angler. She's an avid angler in her own right who's comfortable standing inone of the state's trout streams on opening day, wading the surf casting for bass and bluefish or walking the docks in Cape May after a day on the water during the Mid-Atlantic $500,000 big game fishing tournament. She's been there for us. Now we need to be there for her. The recreational anglers of the Garden State should support Christine Todd Whitman for governor.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

Location, price, and features are certainly foremost on the minds of homebuyers, but good neighbors help make a happy home as well. According to a new poll conducted by Yankelovich Partners, a majority of Americans say they live in true neighborhoods in which they feel safe and help each other out. Nearly seven in ten of those polled (69%) have either offered to give or received help from their neighbors in the past year. About two-fifths (43%) say their present neighborhoods are as friendly as the ones in which they grew up. And, nearly two-thirds (61%) say they new their neighbors either very or fairly well. Nearly half chat with their neighbors five or more times a month.

To successfully participate in today's real estate market, both buyers and sellers require the assistance and guidance of professionals. Breakroom gives parents a breather

BY KAREN BITZ
STAFF WRITER

METUCHEN — All parents need a little time from their children from time to time, but parents of disabled children rarely get to take this break.

It was with this in mind that Robin Read-Giase began the Break Room program through the Metuchen-Edison YMCA's Franklin Family Center. The program gives parents a night off from the rigorous demands of raising a special needs child while giving the disabled children exposure to non-disabled children.

Ms. Read-Giase has believed in including disabled children with non-disabled children for most of her professional career and is convinced of its benefits she requested that her disabled daughter be put into a regular classroom at her New Brunswick School.

"My daughter and other people do a lot better when they're with their non-disabled peers," she said. "It's also good for non-disabled children because they learn how to be in society with different types of individuals."

This approach of working with disabled people is not-run-of-the-mill in special education. Many educators still feel their needs can best be addressed through segregation.

Upon coming to the YMCA two years ago, Ms. Read-Giase changed the name of the special needs program to the League of Inclusive Recreation. Since then she has worked to transform all of the programs formerly for special needs people into inclusive programs.

"We are now in a growth period I am very pleased with," she said.

YMCA Director Bill Lovett said he is thrilled with the innovative ideas Ms. Read-Giase is bringing to the YMCA.

"We have some pretty strong feelings about the physically and mentally challenged," he said. "This is just another example of the kind of commitment we have."

Once an expansion and renovation project, now underway, is complete, Mr. Lovett said he hopes to see the inclusion program to grow.

Now in its second 10-week session, the Break Room recently received a cluster award from the Garden State cluster of YMCA's for offering support to families. The program is a structured night of specific activities, including arts and crafts, games and projects. To help her with the children, Ms. Read-Giase has enlisted a group of students from J.P. Stevens High School in Edison.

Rupal Patel, a senior at J.P. Stevens, coordinated the program with Ms. Read-Giase when she realized the strains parents of special needs children face while volunteering at the Special Olympics last year.

"A mother asked me to baby-sit on Saturdays to give her a break," she said. These children spend so much time with parents because they have no outlet like this."

Ms. Patel mobilized several of her friends and classmates to volunteer at the program.

Fariah Sheikh, a senior, began volunteering at Break Room because she was interested in showing the children art skills.

"We do things like paintings and collage — things that help kids interact with their own lives," she said. "It's interesting to see at what different levels the children are."

So far mostly disabled children and their siblings have been coming to the program, but Ms. Read-Giase said she hopes more children who don't have exposure to their special needs peers will come in the future.

"One of the nicest things I've seen are the disabled children becoming friends with non-disabled kids," she said. "Children want to do what other children are doing."

Ms. Read-Giase has no doubt inclusion has worked for her daughter who is now in first grade and has been included with non-disabled children since her participation in the YMCA's Kinderconnection program at age four.

"(Inclusion) was very important for me," she said. "I saw she could learn better with the others. She started to talk and verbalize more and this has made her very independent."

Before leaving for motherhood, Ms. Read-Giase worked with special needs adults including them in an adult vocational program.

The Break Room program is held 6 - 8 p.m. Thursdays at the Franklin Family Center in Franklin School on Middlesex Avenue. For more information call the YMCA at (732) 548-2044.

Kevin and Holly Berrey; died in Colorado blizzard

EDISON — Joint services have been held for Kevin Berrey, 29, and Holly Berrey, 30, former area residents who died last weekend in the blizzard that shut down Colorado.

According to reports, the Berreys were returning to their Colorado Springs home to feed their pets when the couple's truck got stuck near Pikes Peak. The truck was not found until Sunday because it had been covered by snowdrifts.

Mr. Berrey, who was born in New Brunswick, once lived in Metuchen and Edison. He graduated from Metuchen High School in 1986 and had been a computer consultant to the Intersolve Computer Co. of Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Berrey also was born in New Brunswick and once lived in Edison. She had been a business administrator for Penrose Hospital in Colorado Springs.

The Berreys were active in Edison First Aid Squad No. 1 until they moved to Colorado Springs in 1990.

Mr. Berrey is survived by his mother, Elinor of Metuchen; his father, William, and a brother, William, both of Florida; a sister, Debra Pippin of Metuchen; and a niece.

Mrs. Berrey is survived by her father, Harry Peckham of Sterling, Colo.; her mother, Cathy Small of East Brunswick; a brother, Robert Peckham of Sayreville; two stepbrothers, Thomas Small and Jon Small; a stepsister, Jennifer Small; and her grandparents, Elinor and Frank Peckham of Ringwood.

Services were held yesterday at the Rezem Funeral Home in East Brunswick. Burial was in Lake Nelson Memorial Park, Piscataway.

Judith Joann Klinger, 59

Rutgers clerk; directory operator

EDISON — Judith Joann Smith Klinger, 59, died Oct. 24, 1997 at the Barbara E. Cheung Memorial Hospice. She had been a clerk in the administration office of Rutgers University from 1979 until retiring in 1982.

She was born in Elizabeth and had lived in Edison since 1961.

Mrs. Klinger earlier was a directory assistance operator for more than six years with New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. (now Bell Atlantic-New Jersey) in Elizabeth. She was a parishioner of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church.

Surviving are her husband, Dominick; two sons, Robert Allen at home and Andrew of Edison; a daughter, Carol J. Sattler of Pembroke Pines, Fla.; two brothers, Wayne Smith of Harvey, La., and Craig Smith of Edison; two sisters, Diane Stropkai of Clearwater, Fla., and Darlene Andreosky of Englewood, Fla.; and a grandchild.

Services were held Monday at the Flynn & Son Funeral Home, Fords, followed by a funeral Mass at St. Matthew's Church. Memorial contributions may be made to the Middlesex County unit of the American Cancer Society.

UNIVERSAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Consider These Thoughts
by Jay Costello

Jonathan Swift once wrote, "It is impossible that anything so natural, so necessary, and so universal as death should ever have been designed by Providence as an evil to mankind." These remarks might bring us closer to the notion that it is our reaction to death that is its most terrible element. No other living thing brings such anxiety to thoughts of its demise. This most likely stems from the fact that no other living being is capable of such reflection of life and its place in it. If we humans were to relinquish our dread over death for a moment and see it for what is actually is, we might come to regard it more as part of life than the absence of it.

As creatures of intelligence and thought, we find that healing from the loss of a loved one requires reflection, support from friends and family, and time to adjust. At COSTELLO-RUNYON FUNERAL HOME, we strive to bring you peace of mind by knowing that your needs in regards to funeral arrangements will be met by caring professionals with a reputation for providing quality services. We're conveniently located at 568 Middlesex Avenue, Metuchen (548-0149). All faiths are served.

Quote: "Yet nightly pitch my moving tent A day's march nearer home."

Edward Oleskie, officer in dairy associations; 73

PISCATAWAY — Edward T. Oleskie, 73, an officer in several regional dairy associations and an extension specialist in dairy science at Rutgers University, died Oct. 21 at his home.

He joined the Rutgers faculty in 1953 as an instructor in dairy science at what is now Cook College. There Mr. Oleskie taught undergraduate courses, coached a judging unit and served as a faculty adviser to student dairy organizationss. He also arranged major portions of field laboratories for courses and was a faculty co-sponsor of students in the university's cooperative education program.

A former assistant extension specialist in dairy science, Mr. Oleskie was promoted to extension specialist in 1960 and remained on the Rutgers faculty until his retirement in 1987. He was honored for his accomplishments by the Cook College Board of Managers, New Jersey Guernsey Association, New Jersey Holstein Association, New Jersey Future Farmers of America and American Jersey Cattle Club. In 1984 he was appointed to the executive committee of the Rutgers Alumni Association and elected to the Princeton Agricultural Society.

Mr. Oleskie, who earned a bachelor's degree in agriculture from Rutgers in 1943, began his career after World War II as registration manager of the American Jersey Cattle Club. He was general manager and assistant to the owner of the Heep Farms from 1949-53.

Mr. Oleskie was born in Bayonne and had lived most recently in Piscataway. He served in the Marine Corps during World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Margery Kerr Oleskie; two daughters, Alice S. Raine of Chatham, Mass., and Margery E. Hayes of Jacksonville, Fla.; three grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews.

A memorial service will be 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 11 in Kirkpatrick Chapel, on the New Brunswick campus of Rutgers University.

Arrangements are by the Crabiel Parkwest Funeral Chapel in New Brunswick. Memorial contributions may be made to the New Jersey Holstein Association, c/o Margery Oleskie, 509 Willow Ave., Piscataway, N.J. 08854, or the Deborah Hospital Foundation, P.O. Box 820, Browns Mills, N.J. 08015-0820.

Metuchen library continues film festival

METUCHEN — The Metuchen Public Library will continue its annual Fall Foreign Film Festival Nov. 10.

The festival will consist of three films shown one a month through December. Three more films will make up a Spring Foreign Film Festival from March through May 1998.

Each film will be shown twice, at 2 and 7:30 p.m. The movies will be shown in the library's Community Room. Admission is free to all, but space is limited. Free tickets will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis one hour before performance time.

The French thriller La Ceremonie (French, 1996) follows on Nov. 10. Directed by Claude Chabrol and based on Ruth Rendell's "A Judgement in Stone," the film begins as Sophie, taciturn, emotionless but self-assured, is hired as housekeeper by the bourgeois, self-absorbed Levievre family. Sophie is illiterate and will go to any lengths to conceal this fact from her new employers. Sophie is befriended by a ragtag troublemaker who despises the family and will do anything to anger them. The film builds to a stunning climax scored to Don Giovanni.

The fall portion of the festival closes on Dec. 1 with the Italian film Mediterraneo (Italian, 1991). Set on a beautiful Greek island, Mediterraneo, winner of the 1992 Academy Award for Best Foreign Film, chronicles the exploits of a platoon of war-weary Italian soldiers during World War Ii who have been stationed on an exotic Aegean island in the Mediterranean. While there, they find it much too easy to lay down their arms and succumb to the kindness of the natives. Gabriele Salvatores directs this emotionally sentimental comedy.

All films will be shown in their original languages with English subtitles. The festival is co-sponsored by the Friends of the Metuchen Public Library and the Metuchen Public Library Board of Trustees Endowment Fund.

For more information, call John McBride, adult services librarian at the Metuchen Public Library, at 632-8526.

Two township youths receive Eagle Scout awards

EDISON—Two township residents received their Eagle Scout award Sunday at St. St. Nicholas Byzantine Catholic Church.

Jason W. Frey, 17, is a member of Boy Scout Troop 66 under the guidance of Scoutmaster Manuel Coelho. For his Eagle Scout project, Jason cleaned up a run-down area at St. Nicholas Byzantine Catholic Church, where he is a parishioner.

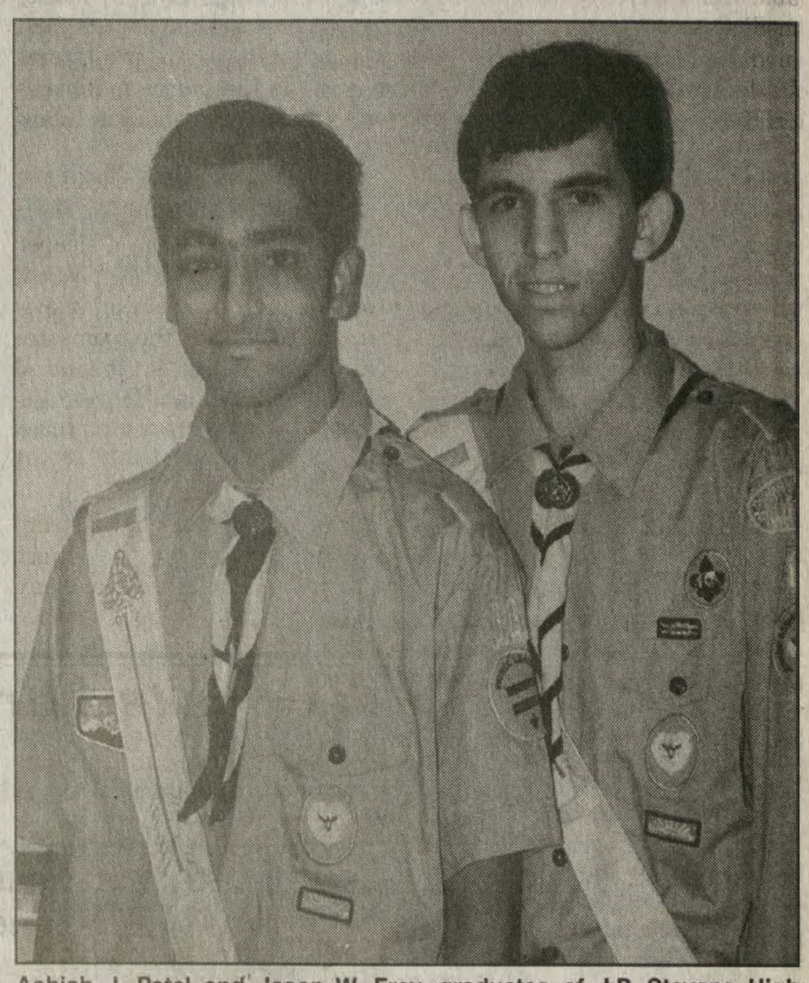

After clearing out weeds and debris, Jason and his troop planted 10 crabapple trees.

Jason, the son of Beverly and William Frey, currently attends Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken.

Ashish J. Patel, 18, renovated a library at the Inman Grove Senior Citizens Residence in Edison. He renovated the book room by adding support to existing shelves, build new shelves, labeled books and organized the materials. He also built a new bookcase for paperback books which was placed in the recreation room.

Ashish is the son of Pragno and Jayant Patel.

Both youths are 1997 graduates of J.P. Stevens High School.

Ashish J. Patel and Jason W. Frey, graduates of J.P. Stevens High School, received their Eagle Scout awards last Sunday.

JFK opens childbirth suites

EDISON—JFK Medical Center has opened The Family suite, a new maternity unit that provides families with a comfortable atmosphere, state-of-the-art medical technology and a team of medical and nursing experts skilled to handle all types of childbirth experiences.

The Family suite contains eight tastefully decorated labor, delivery and recovery (LDR) rooms; 16 homelike private or semi-private post-partum rooms where mothers recuperate; two rooms for cesarean sections; and a new nursery.

A wide range of childbirth preparation classes for parents, grandparents and siblings are available at The Family suite, as well as breastfeeding and baby care classes.

"Families who plan to deliver a baby at JFK now have access to one of the most modern, state-of-the-art facilities in the area," says Charles Fleisch, M.D., director of obstetrics and gynecology for JFK. "Traditionally, a woman used to labor and then deliver in separate rooms, requiring an uncomfortable move down the hall.

"These new labor, delivery and recovery rooms enable a woman to stay in the same suite during all stages of childbirth."

Dr. Fleisch points out that because anesthesiologists killed in obstetrical analgesia are available around the clock, a laboring woman does not need to wait for pain medications or an epidural if she requests them.

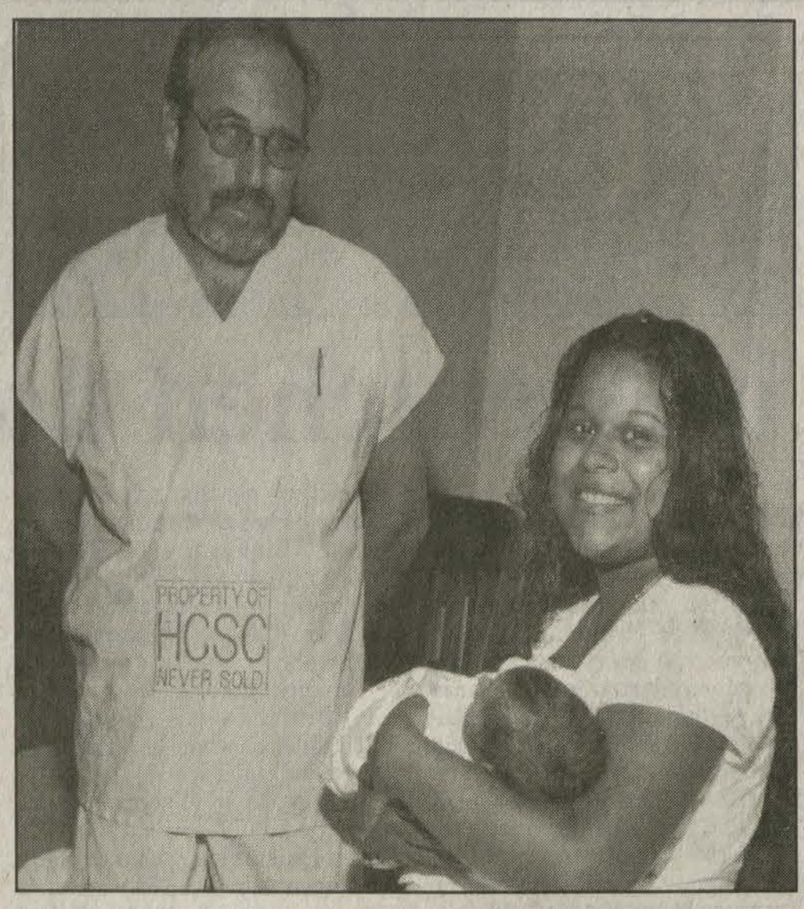

"Or, if the need arises for a cesarean section, we are ready to begin right away," he says, adding that having perinatologists and neonatologists on site at all times adds to the specialized maternal-fetal medical care that is available at JFK.

In The Family Suite, each LDR room reflects a cheerful, spacious atmosphere, containing a sleeper chair for the father or labor coach, a private bath and shower, television and telephone. the rooms are centrally monitored at the nurses' station so that even when a nurse is not present in the room, there is constant supervision of all patients.

Each room's homelike setting is equipped with the most advanced technology, so that any emergency can be handled right away. Immediately following delivery, newborns are evaluated in the LDR room. mothers can then be moved to recuperate in comfortable homelike private or semi-private rooms. Doctors, nurses and counselors are available to help new mothers with any physical or emotional concerns. Families can choose how much time they wish to spend with their newborns, with an attentive nursery staff nearby to assist as needed.

The Family Suite at JFK Medical Center is located at 65 James St., Edison.

For more information on The Family Suite, tours, or to receive a listing of expectant family classes, call JFK's Perinatal Education Office at (732) 632-1632.

Doctors, patients and new arrivals are all enjoying JFK Medical Center's new birthing suites.

Democrats for Sinagra
an open letter to Middlesex County voters

Our Numbers Are Growing...

We are registered Democrats in the 18th District who acknowledge that party affiliation doesn't make a candidate good -- or a vote right.

In reviewing the choices for state senator, we have considered the candidates' records, leadership qualities, responsiveness, and sincerity. On every point, Senator Jack Sinagra comes out ahead. Without a doubt, we believe Senator Sinagra is the candidate who should represent our district for the next four years.

During his first two terms as state senator, Jack Sinagra has shown time and time again that he is a leader who puts the needs of his constituents first. He is not afraid to place people before party and ultimately, his choices have been the best ones for those he represents.

Senator Sinagra is a legislative leader on key issues that impact our families and our children: keeping cigarettes away from kids, protecting the rights of managed care patients, mandating insurance coverage for two day hospital stays for mothers and newborns, and improving our school districts.

Senator Sinagra has not hesitated to speak out and vote independently when he knows it is the right thing to do for the people of our state.

We strongly urge our fellow Democrats in the 18th District to join us in supporting Jack Sinagra for another term in the New Jersey State Senate on Election Day, November 4.

Cabaret in Metuchen does more than entertain

By DAVID LEARN
WEEKEND PLUS

METUCHEN — Life is not a nightclub to be entertained at.

That is the message of Cabaret, now playing at the Forum Theatre. Cabaret is, among other things, a musical about the romance between American novelist Cliff Bradshaw (George Merrick) and Sally Bowles (Danica Connors), a British woman he meets at a Berlin nightclub. Set in 1929-1930, the play traces the development of its characters as the Nazis rise to prominence and power. Cabaret is the winner of eight Tony Awards, including one for best musical.

The stage for Forum Theatre's Cabaret is dominated by the Kit Kat Klub, which separates Cliff Bradshaw's boarding room from the living room of Fraulein Schneider's (Mona Hennessy) boarding house. Behind the club is a large mirror, which rises to reveal the orchestra. The club itself is marked by a large metal frame with the club sign; a backdrop of windows is hung from the Kit Kat sign to indicate scenes that take place in Herr Schultz's (Dimitri Christy) fruit store.

Master of Ceremonies at the Kit Kat Klub, and thereby for the play, is actor Todd Heughens. As the emcee, Heughens oversees the nightly decadence of the Kit Kat Klub, the cabaret of the play's title. Heughens initially presents the emcee as a clown, a behavior reflected in the character's makeup. And he certainly does clown around, using facial expressions to elicit laughter from the audience when he introduces Sally, and cavorting on stage and behind curtains during "Two Ladies," which he performs with two of the Kit Kat girls.

But Heughens's emcee is also unsettling. He gives the first hint of Nazism with a single goose-step at the end of "Tomorrow belongs to me" and follows it with a perfectly diabolical smile.

Director Peter Loewy gets even more use from the emcee by having him on stage with Sally and Cliff during their final numbers. This works especially well during Connors' performance of "Cabaret," in which the two stand back-to-back and begin to slowly turn in place until only Heughens is visible, lip-synching perfectly to Connors's singing.

Connors delivers an extraordinary performance as Sally, a woman who claims to want only to live as wildly as possible. Yet her Sally is not that simple; when Cliff asks her to stay, her expression of disinterest melts. And as powerfully as she performs that scene, the intensity of her final number, "Cabaret" is unmatched in the play.

Merrick does a solid job as Cliff Bradshaw. His general lack of confidence when he arrives in Berlin is realistically played, as is his sense of disappointment when he finally leaves it. There is also no mistaking the effect Sally has upon his Cliff; the moment she appears on stage at the cabaret, he watches her the entire time.

Oddly, despite Connors and Merrick's performances, the relationship their characters share is a little hard to see on stage. Cliff's excitement is evident when they first meet, and Sally's own feeling for Cliff is evident when he first asks her to stay and in their fight during Act 2. But between those two, there is little done to show the audience that there is any affection felt.

Raymond Marks plays Ernst, the Nazi who starts off as likable as your next-door neighbor. While his German accent is often unconvincing, Marks does a superb job at playing the "friendly Nazi"; I actually heard surprise from my fellow theatergoers when he appeared wearing a swastika.

Mona Hennessy and Dimitri Christy play the elderly couple of Fraulein Schneider and Herr Schultz. The two are the most innocent in the play, and are plainly the biggest victims as the atmosphere steadily darkens. But in keeping with Loewy's emphasis on Berlin's decadence, even the relationship between Fraulein Schneider and Herr Schultz, the most innocent relationship in the play, is one in which there is pronounced sexual tension.

In the final analysis, Loewy's vision of the play is disturbing, and laced with sensuality, but nonetheless a production well worth seeing.

Cabaret is playing through Sunday, Nov. 23 at the Forum Theatre, 314 Main St., Metuchen. Showtimes are 8 p.m. Thursdays through Saturdays and 2:30 p.m. Sundays. Tickets cost $25-$29. For more information, call the theater at (908) 548-0582.

Nothing ordinary about late Michener's work

By CARL RESNICK
SPECIAL TO WEEKEND PLUS

He was one of America's greatest storytellers. For more than two generations, he has been a legend. Most of his books were long sagas telling majestic tales and were an inspiration.

After 75 million copies the heart is at rest, the pain is over, the dialysis ended by his own request. The author of 40 books, James Michener can now weave his tales to a higher authority.

To paraphrase Shakespeare, I come to praise Michener, not to bury him. The man might be dead, but the body of literature he left behind will never die. When we walk into a home we often glance the bookshelves and judge the home by the books we see. It is rare that any home library would not have several books by Michener.

I can picture him leaning over a desk and drawing pictures with words and in the process making us the lovers of his panoramic tales. His stories were often history lessons blending together fact and fantasy. Often the stories were long and were aimed at our optimistic nature.

In at least one book, The Bridge at Andua, he tore at our hearts with an attack on the Russian bear and how the old Soviet Union dealt with anyone who dared rebel. The book was based on the 1956 Hungarian revolution.

There was nothing dull or boring about anything he wrote. His books were instant bestsellers. His first literary success was written while he was in the Navy during World War II: Tales of the South Pacific earned him a Pulitzer Prize. Rodgers and Hammerstein adopted the book into a musical and his career was launched.

When he was once asked about what made him successful, his answer was to have Rodgers and Hammerstein turn his Tales of the South Pacific into a musical.

Maybe it was the other way around. Maybe Rodgers and Hammerstein could see through his shell and see the genius that was the storyteller with rich characters.

In 1959, with his classic Hawaii, he became a household name. The book was a tremendous success and the rest, shall we say, was history. He quickly developed a large following of readers who anxiously awaited his next novel.

Many times I can remember being at airports or sitting on a beach with volumes of Michener's works nearby in someone's hands. Readers of his books were looking for something better; his books were alive and were not smut-driven as many of today's books are.

His material underscored the necessity of doing plenty of research. When it came to research, he was among the best. He would actually move into an area and immerse himself in information gathering. He attended Swarthmore College on a scholarship and graduated with highest honors in 1929. At college he majored in English and history.

As a young man, he traveled extensively. He claimed that by the time he was 20 he had been in all but a few states.

Michener considered himself a liberal. He was a strong supporter of John F. Kennedy in 1960. In 1962, he got involved and ran unsuccessfully for Congress.

He amassed a fortune, then proceeded to give away more than $100 million. The major beneficiaries were the University of Texas, Swarthmore College and several writers' workshops. His donation to the University of Texas was more than $37 million. That figure represents the largest single donation in the school's history.

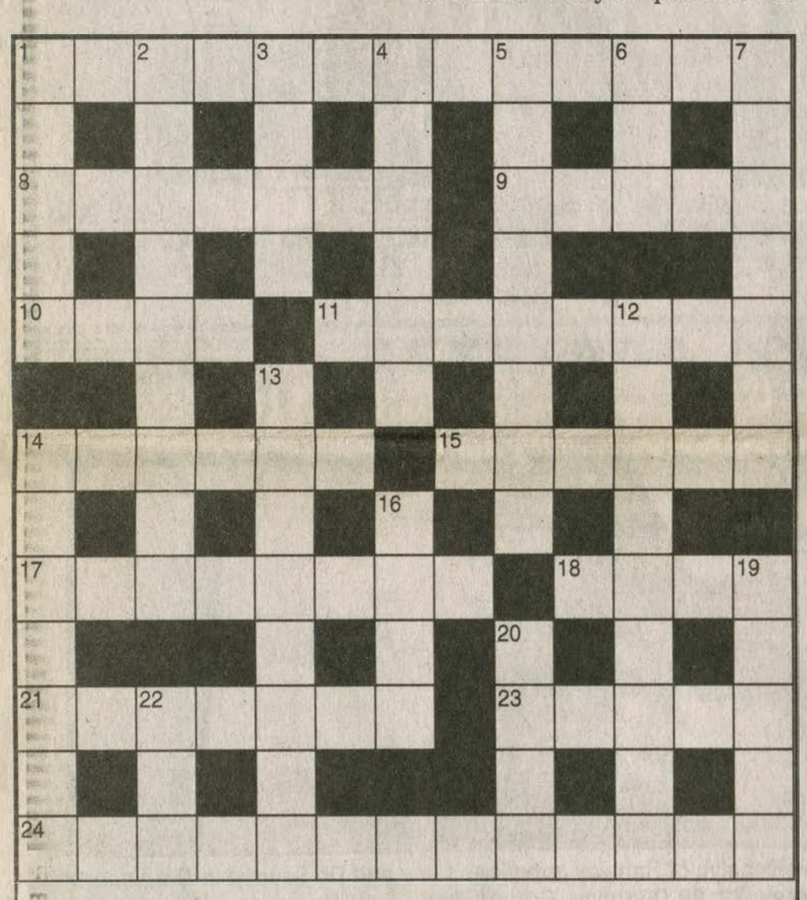

Michener was twice divorced and his third wife died in 1994. He had no surviving children.

What seems so amazing is the vastness of his books. Most famous authors stick to a single formula. With Michener the formula constantly changed as he explored topics that he wanted to write about.

His books were often in-depth portrayals of life in different times and different in a variety of locations around the well as well as, in the novel Space, outside our world.

His characters were real and not evil, even in The Source when he speaks of human sacrifice in early forms of religion. He put a human face on the people and story line. His material also sought out toleration in our differences.

One point we should all remember is that great writers like Michener leave behind a wealth of enjoyment for us. With his passing, we will have to turn and look for a successor to America's best storyteller.

Il Pomodoro marks 4 years of northern Italian cuisine

By CATHERINE ADAMS GASKIN
WEEKEND PLUS

Restaurateurs Dino and Sam Khedr, owners of Il Pomodoro in Somerville, just reached a milestone in business by celebrating the restaurant's fourth anniversary.

The brothers, natives of Egypt, captured the American dream by making their passion for great food and excellent service a reality. In their homeland, Dino was an agricultural engineer and Sam was an attorney. They came to this country some 15 years ago and did whatever it took to learn the restaurant business, including working at La Cocina in Somerville and Max's in Raritan.

At Il Pomodoro, Dino works the floor, handling multiple business decisions while simultaneously overseeing the staff and ensuring complete customer satisfaction. Sam, the chief chef, works the kitchen, creating 18 specials daily in the restaurant's Northern Italian cuisine genre.

Il Pomodoro, which translates as The Tomato, has earned the respect of both individual diners and corporate accounts during the past four years.

"National Starch of Raritan is our biggest client," said Dino. "Since La Cocina closed, I picked up all of its former clients and they've begun to trust me more. My customers know me now. They know they can come into my restaurant and count on a good meal at a good price."

RANDALL MILLER/WEEKEND PLUS
Sam and Dino Khedr present some of the restaurant's mouth-watering food.

Il Pomodoro's success is equally based on its service and predictably fine cuisine.

"I have people come here once a month from New Hampshire. Another group comes once a week from Atlantic City. Our corporate clients include Athicon, Orthos and Johnson & Johnson," Dino said.

The professionally trained waiters and staff members all work under the strict and watchful eye of Dino Khedr, himself a master of customer service.

"One a week, my waiters go into the kitchen to learn how meals are prepared because they are the ones who communicate with the customers," he said. "They are the middlemen. They need to be able to explain how the sauce was prepared. I need them to be knowlegeable about the food we offer."

The service begins at the door, where Dino welcomes each diner with warm professionalism.

"They appreciate that. My customers don't have to open a menu because they always come back after the first time and they know then can always count on fresh fish and fresh meat here. And, we can make anything they want. That's my key to success," he said.

Dino Khedr said one of Il Pomodoro's most famous dishes is St. Peter's Fish, a light whitefish served over linguini with oil and garlic. Other specials include Farfalle con Gamberi, which Dino calls a "big hit." This dish, priced at $9.95, is bow-tie pasta and shrimp with roasted garlic and sun-dried tomatoes and a touch of cream.

Linguine con Rugola e Gamberi, another pasta dish, is arugula, shrimp and garlic in a plum tomato sauce. It is priced at $12.95. Pollo Pomodoro, a pan-seared breast of chicken, plum tomato, basil and garlic topped with fresh mozzarella, is priced at $9.95.

Appetizers include Portobello Milanese, lightly breaded portobello mushrooms sautéed with shallots, diced tomato and fresh basil in a lemon demi-glace sauce. It is priced at $7.95. Fromaggio Brie al Forno, priced at $6.95, is a lightly breaded and baked Brie cheese accompanied by a cranberry glaze.

Dino also recommends Insalata Il Pomodoro, the house salad, which includes fresh baby organic greens tossed in raspberry vinaigrette and is priced at $4.95.

Il Pomodoro customers may also enjoy sandwiches, including grilled chicken breast and grilled filet mignon. Dining is also available at the bar. In the near future, Dino said he plans to open a cigar and cognac room.

Although the 20 tables and bar accommodate an ample amount of diners, reservations are recommended. The restaurant also offers a private room for special parties of up to 30 guests. The room may be used noon-5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays for baby showers and small wedding receptions.

The building, now owned by the Khedr brothers, was formerly the Somerset County Jail and a library. It is more than 100 years old.

"I fell in love with the building," Dino said.

Other restaurants, including Cafe Amelia and La Brochette, previously occupied the building. Diners may enjoy sidewalk cafe dining when weather permits. In other seasons, patrons drink in the ambiance of warm honey oak wood paneling, which matches the color of the centerpiece bar.

Brass wall sconces, beige wallpaper and rustic brick amid plant and floral arrangements, accent the dining room. Celebrity photos unobtrusively stand along entry walls and around the bar. Autographed photos of TV newscaster Ernie Anastos can be seen along with boxer Bobby Chase and Good Fellas star Tony Darrow.

Il Pomodoro is open 10:30 a.m.-10 p.m. daily. For reservations or information, (908) 526-4466.

Eagles, Chiefs look to rebound from losses

By DAN ARKANS
STAFF WRITER

Friday's Greater Middlesex Conference-Red Division matchup between Piscataway and Edison may not have state playoff implications but it's still crucial to both football programs.

A loss could send either team on a tailspin that both squads don't want to consider.

The Chiefs (4-2) aren't used to being in the position of playing for a winning season but with two undefeated teams in Central Jersey Group 4, Piscataway will need a lot of help to make the state playoffs. With only the Eagles (2-3), Sayreville and Franklin left on their schedule, a loss to Edison could mean a losing season in Piscataway.

For the Eagles, memories of last year's 1-8 season are reminded every time they take the field and have their hats handed to them. In the midst of a three-game losing streak, Edison is hoping to get back on track. With games left against Old Bridge, Bishop Ahr and J.P. Stevens, a winning season will certainly be a challenge.

"There was a little notion of pointing fingers and not blaming themselves," said Eagle Head Coach Tom Gargiulo. "We enforced to them that you have to play a complete game. It's Monday through Thursday. It's the preparation. It's not a negative attitude or an `I give up attitude' that Edison has had in the past. They know they can succeed if they work hard."

It's been a long week for the Chiefs, who keep replaying that 35-7 loss to J.P. Stevens in their heads. Edison will either run into an extremely angry ballclub with something to prove or a team that has lost its confidence.

"We definitely have to rebound," said Chiefs senior running back Vincent Wilson. "We already proved something, making it this far, knowing we've been the underdog in every game. We weren't supposed to have a .500 season. We've proved a lot."

The Eagles also having something to prove, like last week's 30-6 loss to Carteret wasn't a preview of things to come. Edison's goal Friday night will be to find a way to contain the speed of Wilson and the Chiefs.

"We know they have good overall speed," Gargiulo said. "We're always concerned with their team speed. We don't have that kind of team speed. We showed that against Carteret, letting them get to the outside. We did shut down (Omar) Joseph (of Sayreville)."

The only team to slow down Wilson this season was Stevens on Saturday which had the athletes to contain Piscataway's star running back. But the Hawks also put a spy on Wilson. Might the Eagles do the same?

"We don't play gimmick defenses," Gargiulo said. "We'll play our straight defense. Hopefully, if we read our keys, we should be able to stay in the ballgame."

For Piscataway, it's back to basics which means letting the offensive line open up some gaping holes for Wilson to bust through and for the defensive line to neutralize Edison's ground attack.

"High school kids are very resilient, " said Chief Head Coach Joe Kuronyi. "They can bounce back. They've seen the films. They realize the mistakes that were made."

Gargiulo has been pleased with the play of his defensive front but hasn't seen enough consistency in the offensive line. With junior Tom Kim (5-foot-8, 225), junior Jim Luongo (5-11, 280) and sophomore Joel Batista (6-1, 230), the Eagles certainly have some beef up front.

Edison High's Rob Roma makes the tackle in recent Eagle action.

"With the size of our line, we looked at our offensive line as a strength (entering the season), Gargiulo said. "The first two games, we drove people off the line. We thought it'd be an advantage. We've had a little complacency. I think we're ready to give someone a real good game."

Luke and the boys scoring big for PHS

By DAN ARKANS
STAFF WRITER

Senior midfielder Luke Serafin may be the catalyst for Piscataway High's boys soccer team but he's getting plenty of help.

Serafin is the leading scorer on the Chiefs with 14 goals and 21 assists through their first 16 games. He's the playmaker on the field, often making defenders swipe at air with his uncanny ability to keep his foot glued to the soccer ball.

Serafin's talent was a given going into the season after scoring 10 goals last season. What wasn't a given was the emergence of several seniors, who struggled to find the net with any regularity last season.

One of the surprises is senior Dave Hilgert (11 G, 10 A) who moved up from midfield after the first game of the season. In his first start as a forward, he responded with a three-goal performance in a 6-0 victory over Edison.

Other offensive contributors for the Chiefs have been senior Matt Bardar (9 G, 6 A), senior Jason Moreno (10 G, 6 A) and senior Scott Maynor (7 G, 6 A). Thanks to these surprising offensive stars, the Chiefs are the Greater Middlesex Conference-Red Division champs and are sitting with a 13-2-1 record after Monday's victory over Woodbridge.

"None of them scored last season, except Luke," said Chief Head Coach Denis Mayer. "The rest of them have really stepped up and done a good job. Seniors for some reason take the responsibility. Juniors are just along for the ride. Seniors have the attitude this is their last chance and let's get something done.

Hilgert has certainly made Mayer seem like a coaching genius, moving up to the front line, giving the Chiefs a much-needed physical presence.

"I took a look at what happened in the first game," said Mayer of the Chiefs 6-1 season-opening victory over Perth Amboy. "Here's Dave, who's a defensive midfielder and he has two assists. He was involved in that game. He was the third leading scorer from a defensive position last season. He gets involved."

Of course, Mayer was concerned how the move would affect his defense but junior Josh Wesnesky has been able to replace Hilgert at midfield and the Chiefs haven't lost a beat.

After a 7-2 victory over Woodbridge in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament, the second-seeded Chiefs seem to certainly be a favorite to capture the school's first county title since 1984.

"I don't think there's any team there that can beat us," said Hilgert of the Chiefs GMC-title hopes. "We should do really well. We're all veterans now. We know what to expect. We know what to do."

The Chiefs seem to be gaining momentum for their postseason run and the sky could be the limit not only for the GMC's but the state tournament as well.

"I felt all along that we're getting better as time goes on," Mayer said. "We're peaking at the right time. This team has the potential to win the counties and maybe set some other records and do things other teams haven't."

Piscataway 7, Woodbridge 2 — Luke Serafin scored four goals as the second-seeded Chiefs coasted to the victory Monday in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. Matt Bardar and Jason Moreno added a goal and an assist apiece and Scott Maynor also scored. Dave Hilgert added two assists and Duane Burton had one for the Chiefs.

Garvin scores three touchdowns as Owls roll to 19-0 victory

Darius Garvin caught three touchdown passes for 96 yards as the Highland Park High football team coasted to a 19-0 victory over New Brunswick Friday. HP (2-3) scored its first touchdown on a third-and-13 frm the Zebra 47 as Williams hit Garvin about 17 yards downfield and the junior wideout went untouched into the end zone as the Owls took a 7-0 second quarter advantage. Garvin also scored touchdown receptions of 30 and 19 yards on Highland Park's next two drives. The Park defense held New Brunswick to just 85 yards of total offense.

GIRLS SOCCER

Rebecca Bergknoff scored off her own corner kick in the first half as the host Owls tied Mother Seton 1-1 Tuesday. Michelle Friedman made eight saves in goal for the Park (8-7-1).

Highland Park 2, Dunellen 0 — Junior Christina Croft made nine saves in goal to record the shutout as the Park was victorious Oct. 23. Highland Park, which has won four consecutive games, received goals from Leah Lebowitz and Julia Swee. Ann Marie Sabovick and CeCe Bathory were credited with assists for the Owls.

HIGHLAND PARK H.S. Roundup

BOYS SOCCER

The eighth-seeded Owls fell behind 3-0 after the first half in dropping a 4-0 decision to ninth-seeded South River Monday in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. Justin Grabelle made 10 saves in goal for Highland Park (11-7).

Highland Park 9, Perth Amboy Tech 2 — David Scharf scored five goals and two assists as the host Owls coasted to the victory Oct. 23. Dan McCarthy added two goals and three assists for the Park.

GIRLS TENNIS

The Owls swept the doubles matches en route to a 4-1 victory over St. Mary Tuesday. Winning for HP (14-3) were Merav Lichenstein at No. 2 singles (6-1, 6-2), Julie Tsakon at No. 3 singles (6-0, 6-0), the No. 1 doubles team of Emma Garrett-Beth Kressel (6-2, 6-0) and the No. 2 duo of Caroline Li-Rebecca Glazer-Swift (6-1, 6-1).

Montgomery 4 1/2, Highland Park 1/2 — The Owls were swept in the doubles positions and fell to Montgomery in the Central Jersey Group 1 finals Oct. 23. Tsakon split sets winning the first and dropping the second but the match had already been determined. Losing for the Owls were Julia Friedman (6-1, 6-2), Lichenstein (6-1, 6-1), the No. 1 doubles team of Beth Kressel-Emma Garrett (6-1, 6-1) and the No. 2 duo of Caroline Li-Laura Kressel (6-3, 6-2).

J.P. Stevens explodes past Piscataway, 35-7

By DAN ARKANS
STAFF WRITER

PISCATAWAY — It's difficult to pinpoint the turning point of Saturday's much anticipated Greater Middlesex-Conference Red Division football showdown between Piscataway and J.P. Stevens.

It could've been the Hawks opening drive of the game which didn't even last three minutes and ended when senior quarterback Mike Giuliano found junior running back Shaquan Lane out of the backfield for a five-yard touchdown toss.

Or it could've been the opening series of the second half which went 65 yards in six plays and featured a beautiful 28-yard run from Giuliano. That concluded with a four-yard touchdown run from senior Henry Braxton, one of two touchdowns on the day for the bullheaded runner.

Braxton then took the handoff on the two point conversion, ran to his left and hit a wide open Giuliano across the field for a 21-7 lead as Stevens got a stranglehold on first place in the Red Division with a dominating 35-7 victory.

"Beating Piscataway feels very good," Giuliano said. "I've been waiting for this game all season. I can't even explain how good this feels."

But the play that exemplifies what the Hawks (4-0, 4-1) are all about this season ended with Lane fumbling in the end zone in the first half. Leading 13-7 towards the end of the second quarter, Lane took off on a 29-yard scamper, but apparently fumbled the ball before he crossed the goal line and Piscataway recovered in the end zone.

It certainly was a debatable call by the officials as the ground appeared to cause the fumble but the Hawks didn't let Piscataway (3-1, 4-2) get any momentum from the ruling and just kept working and hitting for the victory which puts Stevens in great position to get a birth in the state playoffs and win the GMC-Red Division title.

"Our kids didn't dwell on that play," said Hawks Head Coach Frank Zarro. "They love to play football. These kids are hungry. Now, we've arrived. Beating Piscataway is a big step in our program."

Although Stevens led just 13-7 at the half, the Hawks were never really stopped offensively and the Chiefs struggled to get anything going. After scoring on their first two possessions and holding Piscataway to just one first down on its first three drives, it looked like this could be a certain blowout for Stevens before the half rolled around.

But Giuliano made his only mistake of the day, getting intercepted by freshman Larry Lester and the Chiefs turned that into a quick score as quarterback Jeff Keller found a wide open Lester for a 31-yard touchdown.

The second half was completely controlled by the Hawks as they scored on their first three possessions in taking a 35-7 lead. Giuliano was the story of the game, passing for 146 yards at a 9-for-11 clip with two touchdowns and rushing the ball for 59 yards on 11 carries and also finding the end zone twice himself.

"We had to stop them in the third quarter," said Chief Head Coach Joe Kuronyi. "We couldn't come up with the big plays. Their balance is the problem. They have strengths in all positions. You have to defend the entire field."

Four of the Hawks rushed for over 30 yards, anchored by 117 yards and 10 carries from the explosive Lane. For the game, Stevens had 272 yards on the ground on 40 carries, an average of 6.8 yards per carry.

"We weren't going to let them do what Sayreville did to us," said Giuliano, referring to a 24-14 Bomber victory which the Hawks led 14-3 at the half. "We came out fired up in the third quarter and that was the game."

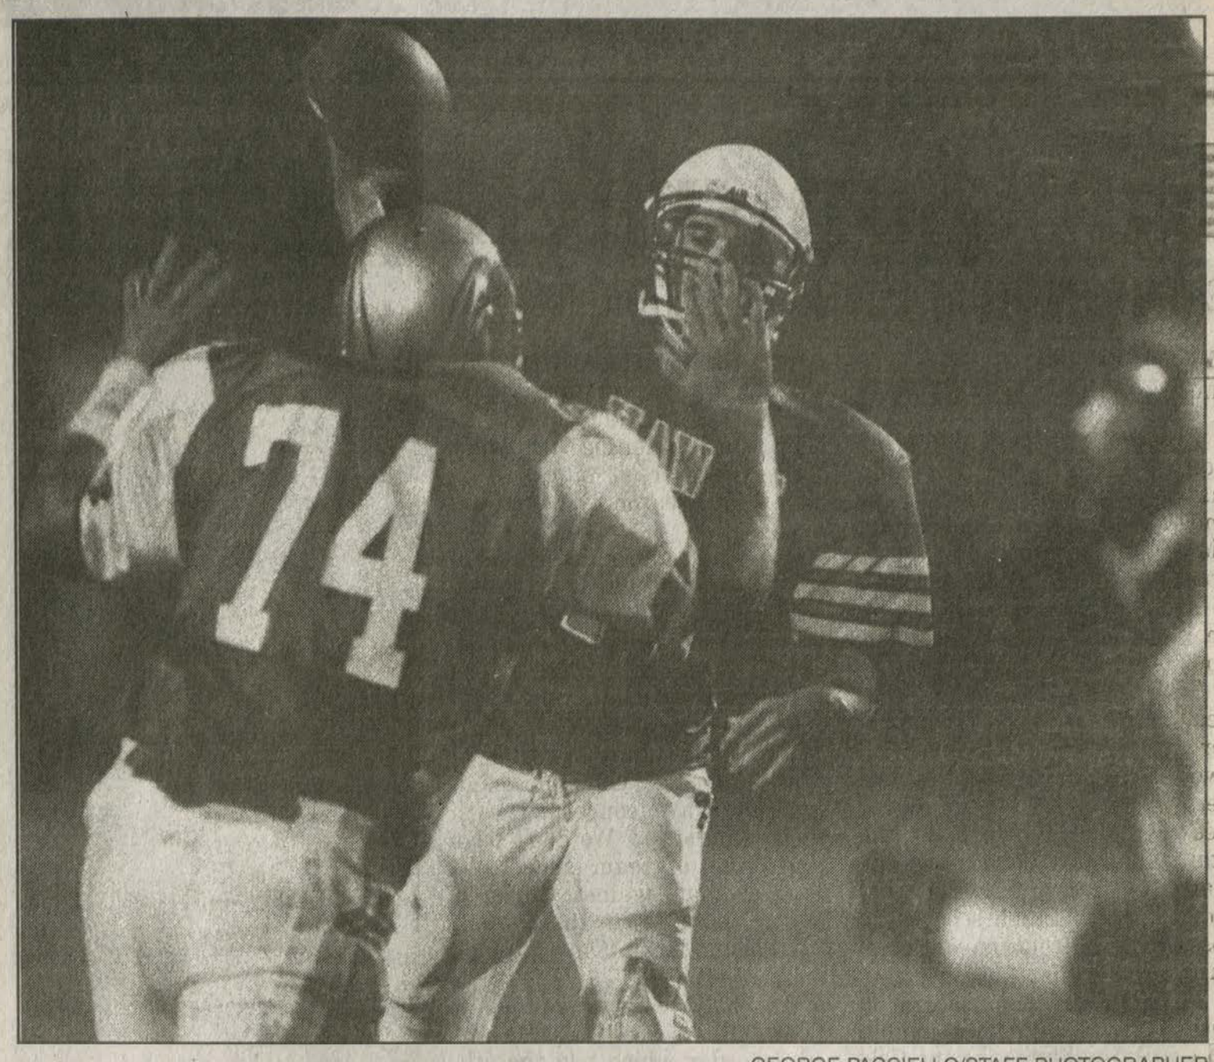

Despite some amazing running by Lane, Davis (8-76), Giuliano and Braxton (8-31), the Hawks also got another exceptional game from their offensive line. Making up that unit were junior Lou Riggi, senior Maulin Shah, senior Andre Ugbomah, senior Jeran Crawford and senior Ron Darnowski.

Stevens also got some serious blocking downfield from wide receivers Frank Powell, Gary Lamb and Chris Greenhouse.

"We spread the wealth," said Zarro of his variety of offensive weapons. "These guys could care less who scores touchdowns. It's a great team effort. As long as we get in the end zone, they don't care."

Conversely, the Chiefs superback Vincent Wilson, who had over 700 yards rushing on the season entering the game, was held to 36 yards on 13 carries as the Chiefs managed just 70 yards on the ground and a grand total of 109 yards of offense.

Giuliano spied on Wilson in certain rushing situations, never allowing the senior to get any momentum going and the Hawks never let the speedy back get outside. When Keller went back to pass, linebackers Henry Braxton, Kaleef Johnson, Gary Lamb and Vito Marcogliese were in his face. The Hawks forced two turnovers in the game, one an interception by Jamil Davis and Lamb recovered a fumble.

Hawks place three in top-25, take fourth at GMC's

By DAN ARKANS

MONROE — With a little more depth, a Greater Middlesex Conference title could have had been in the realm of possibility for J.P. Stevens High's boys cross country team.

But to battle with the likes of St. Joseph's and Old Bridge, the Hawks needed a couple of more experienced runners. Instead, Stevens did finish with a very respectable fourth place finish, 96 points behind first place St. Joseph's.

Finishing in the top-25 for Stevens were Dan Babich (7, 16:37), Steve Sanabria (17, 17:01) and Lewis Fonseca (23, 17:24).

"There are big schools with some very good runners," said Hawks Head Coach Leon Reimer. "Only three teams beat us (during the dual meet season) and they beat us again. They're very talented teams. I would've liked to done better but we're up against very good competition."

Reimer was very pleased with the effort of his super-sophomore Sanabria, who constantly improved during the course of the season.

"He's a dream," said Reimer of Sanabria. "He'll shock some people in the next couple of years."

Ray Driscoll of St. Joseph's blitzed the competition with a sparkling time of 16:01 with Jason DeAngelo of Carteret taking second, 14 seconds behind Driscoll. Phil Vazquez of Edison, who placed third last season, turned his ankle about one mile into the race and couldn't finish.

The Eagles, who placed 10th overall, were also competing without Joe Cagney, who strained a knee ligament prior to the race.

"We lost about 120 points off the team score," said Edison Head Coach Art Rostel. "I've been coaching for 31 years and it was one of the most depressing days I've ever had. I was a little depressed before the race not having Joe. When I didn't see Phil at the mile and a half mark, I knew something was wrong."

Josh White paced the Eagles by finishing 19th in 17:09. Rostel had hopes of White placing in the top-10 but not having Vazquez out on the course may have hurt White's overall time as he's used to pacing himself with Vazquez.

On the girls side, the Chiefs of Piscataway were not able to defend their GMC championship of last year, taking third, 59 points behind first place South Brunswick.

The Chiefs did get a solid pack going with Julie Carlisle placing ninth (20:42), Geertje Zeegers 10th (20:44) and Krishna Patel 11th (20:47). But no one was prepared for South Brunswick taking 1-2-3 in the race.

"It's disappointing to lose when you're hoping that you'll be champion," said Piscataway Head Coach Judy Legenhausen. "We knew we'd have to keep our eyes on South Brunswick and Old Bridge. All the girls ran faster on Saturday than they did on Tuesday. They ran the best they could. That's all you can ask for."

SP's offense sparkles in 39-6 victory

By HOWARD PRINCZ
CORRESPONDENT

SOUTH PLAINFIELD — Friday night at Frank R. Jost Memorial Field, the big play offense of South Plainfield High's football team struck quickly and the Monroe Falcons never recovered.

The Tigers seized a 26-0 halftime advantage and rolled to a 39-6 victory over Monroe in a Greater Middlesex Conference-Blue Division contest.

"I harped to our players on the fact that we'd never beaten Monroe," said Tiger Head Coach Flip McGuane. "Monroe played hard up until the end and there was no quit in them. Our kids stepped it up."

South Plainfield (3-2, 1-1) took a 7-0 lead on its first offensive series, scoring on an eight-play, 65-yard drive. Senior running back Mark Rennie gained 41 yards on the drive, including the last 11 on a quick burst up the middle for the touchdown with 2:47 remaining in the first period. Overall, Rennie rushed for 55 yards on eight carries.

Senior safety Mike Francis intercepted Falcon quarterback Kevin Eppinger on fourth down on Monroe's first possession of the second period at the Tiger 19. South Plainfield needed just three plays to score.

Rennie ran for 10 yards to the Monroe 29, sophomore fullback Chris Francis rumbled for 21 yards to midfield, a facemask penalty on Monroe pushed the ball to the 35 and senior running back Joe Harrah capped the drive off with a 35-yard touchdown run for a 14-0 Tiger lead.

Monroe (0-6) had a chance to score after linebacker Wayne Stark recovered a Chris Francis fumble at the Tiger 21. The Falcons moved three plays to the one yard line but a touchdown run by tailback Brian Criss was nullified by an illegal motion penalty.

On fourth-and-five, Stark booted a 22-yard field goal but South Plainfield was flagged for a personal foul. The Falcons went for the touchdown but were denied several plays later when Harrah picked off an errant Eppinger pass in the end zone and raced 57 yards to the Monroe 45.

On the next play, junior quarterback Glenn Thimons (4 of 5, 117 yards, two touchdowns) hit a streaking Mike Francis down the right sideline on a 45-yard scoring bomb for a 20-0 Tigers lead.

With 15 seconds remaining in the half, Thimons connected with Mike Francis on a 48-yard touchdown pass for a 26-0 halftime advantage. The Tigers scored on a 12-play, 58-yard drive to start the second half. Chris Francis, who rushed for 56 yards on eight carries, capped the drive with a 10-yard touchdown run, making the score 33-0.

Reserve quarterback Dan Czaplinski finished off the scoring for South Plainfield with a 22-yard touchdown run with 2:53 remaining in the contest. South Plainfield outgained Monroe 337-210 in total yards.

In their last two games, the Tigers have outscored their opponents 62-12. Senior defensive end Nick Clay recorded 2 1/2 sacks for South Plainfield.

The Tigers will face New Brunswick at Memorial Stadium tonight in another crucial Greater Middlesex Conference-Blue Division tilt.

Trojans can't hold fourth quarter lead, fall to Colonia

BISHOP AHR
H.S. Roundup

Despite holding a 7-6 lead late in the fourth quarter, the visiting Trojans dropped a 19-7 decision to Colonia Saturday in a crucial Greater Middlesex Conference-White Division football battle. In the end, the Patriots had a little too much Nick Ruta, who finished the game with 226 yards on 26 carries and two touchdowns. After Colonia (4-1) jumped to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, Jason Frabisile returned the ensuing kickoff 70 yards for a touchdown as Ahr (3-3) took a 7-6 advantage which held up until the fourth quarter. After Colonia took a 12-7 lead in the final quarter, Ahr looked to be gaining some momentum offensively, advancing the ball to the Colonia 47. But facing a fourth-and-five from the Patriots' 42, senior running back Mike Abbate (53 yards) was stopped and the Trojans turned the ball over on downs.

GYMNASTICS

Meghan Dunham took second on the balance beam (8.6), first on vault (9.05), first on floor exercises (9.1) and first all-around (34.8) as the Trojans edged South Brunswick 101.5-99.1 to remain undefeated at 8-0. Lisa Robak also placed third on beam (8.45) and Lauren D'Aprile was third on vault (8.35) and third on bars (8.5).

GMC'S — Jamie McNally captured her third consecutive Greater Middlesex Conference all-around title with a score of 37.2 to claim the individual championship Oct. 23. Sophomore Meghan Dunham added a fifth-place finish in all-around (34.5) and Lisa Robak added a third place finish in all-around (36.15). McNally tied for first on the balance beam (9.2), won the vault competition (9.65), placed third on the uneven bars (8.9) and took first in the floor exercises (9.45). Robak was fourth on the beam (8.9), third on the vault (8.95), second on the bars (8.9) and second on floors (9.4). Dunham added a fourth place finish on floors (9.25). Lacey Walter of South Plainfield took fifth on vault (8.9) and Lisa Peterson of Piscataway took fifth on floors (9.25).

GIRLS SOCCER

Kristen Feeney scored off an assist from Stefanie Robinson as the 15th-seeded Trojans battled back from a one-goal deficit but eventually dropped a 2-1 decision to second-seeded Sayreville in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament Tuesday. Erica Noel saved 11 shots in goal for Ahr (5-14).

Bishop Ahr 7, Woodbridge 2 — Stefanie Robinson scored three goals with two assists and Kristen Feeney added two goals and three assists as the 15th-seeded Trojans knocked off 18th-seeded Woodbridge Saturday in the preliminary round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. Cheryl Zonkowski and Joyce Alexander also scored for Ahr while Lauren Lockie added two assists.

BOYS SOCCER

Phil Malcolm, Phil Tobias and Gary Read each tallied goals as the host Trojans knocked off Perth Amboy 3-2. Tobias, David Braine and Joe Abromaitis were credited with assists for Ahr (9-7-1) while goalkeeper Josh Tobias made six saves in goal.

GIRLS TENNIS

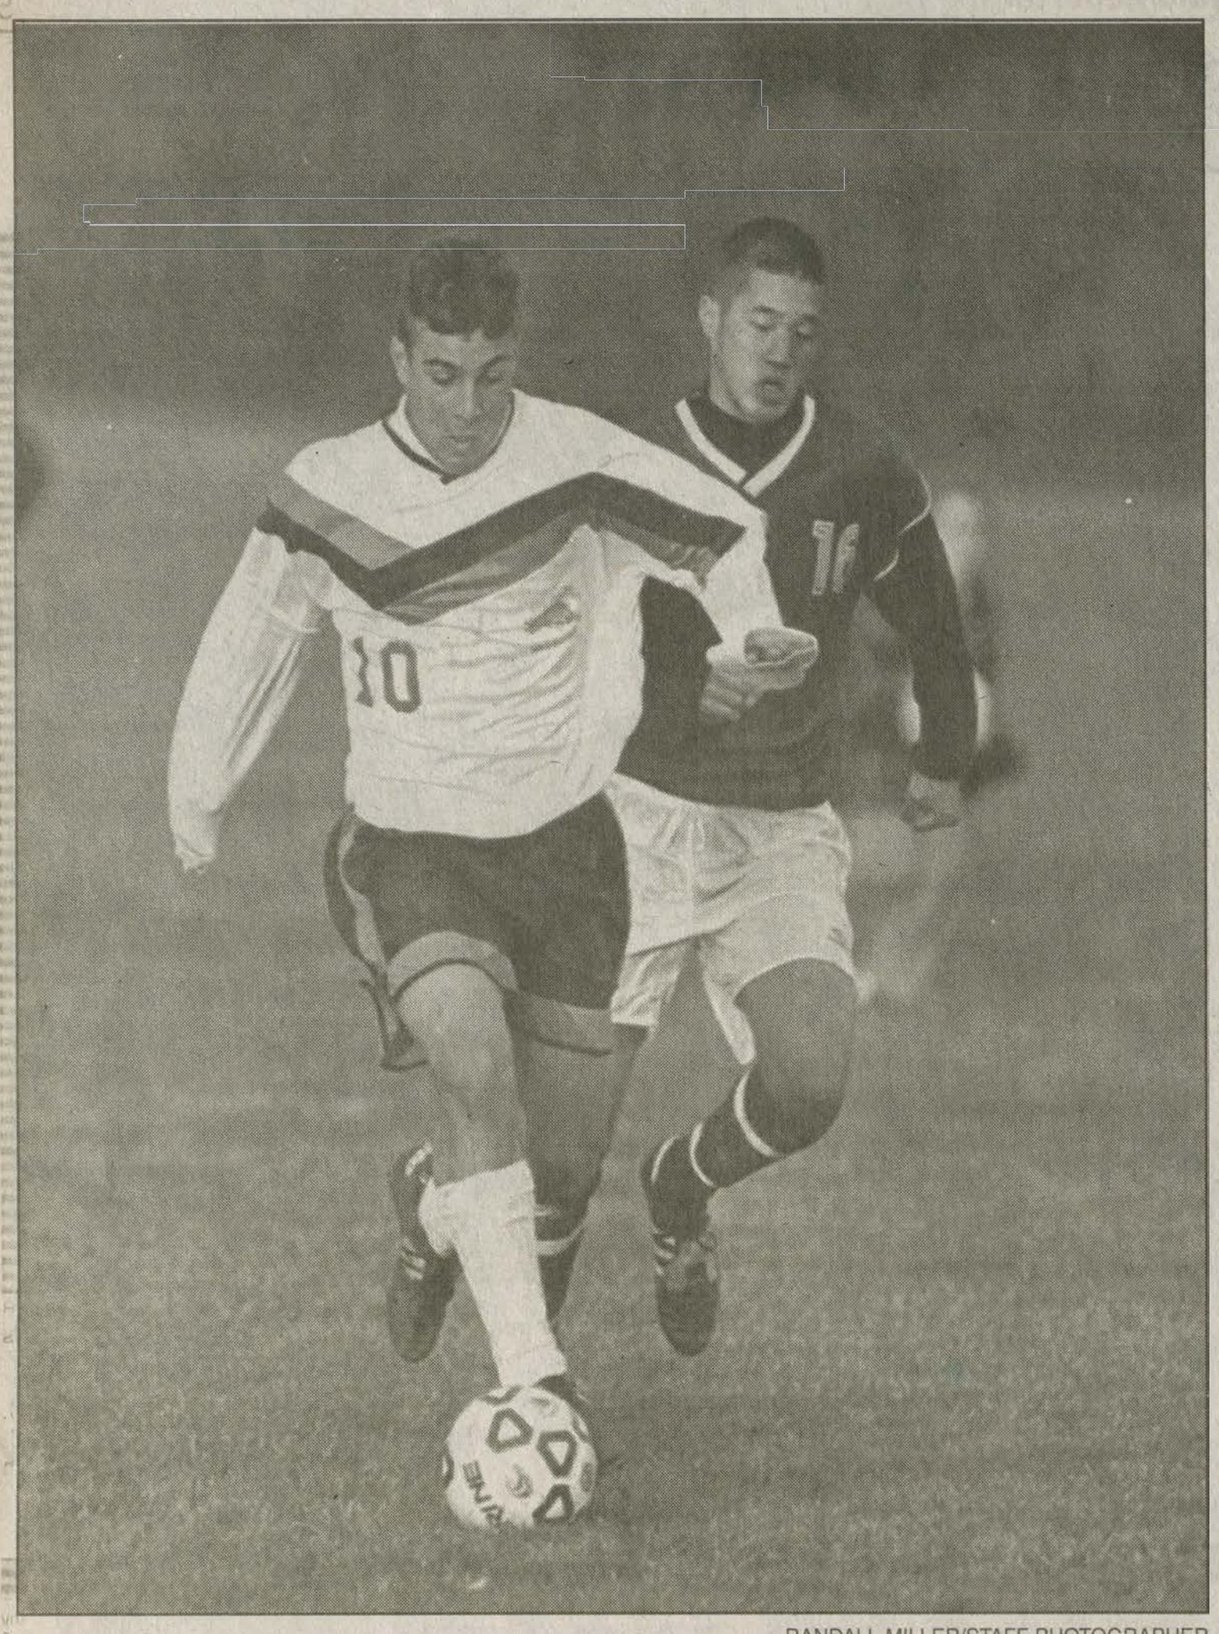

The No. 1 doubles team of Grace Bayan-Monica Mays posted a 2-6, 6-4, 6-3 victory but the Trojans dropped a 4-1 decision to Colonia Friday. Losing for Ahr (3-13) were Maryann Zaleski (6-2, 6-1), Lisa Pazmino (6-1, 6-3), Kristen Petenko (6-3, 6-1) and the No. 2 duo of Tatiana Martin-Liz McKevitt (6-0, 6-4).

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Wyatt Clifford took first in 16:50 Tuesday as the Trojans defeated St. Mary 18-41 to remain undefeated in dual meets with a perfect 9-0 record. Also placing for Ahr were Mike Panzarella (2, 17:36), Justin Brown (4, 17:42), Justin Gentles (5, 18:25), Brannon Gerling (6, 18:28) and Mark Bubnis (7, 18:41).

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Dorothy LaPointe placed first in 22:07 as the Trojans coasted past St. Mary 15-50 Tuesday. Also placing for Ahr were Jessica Wilbur (2, 22:33), Kelly Brown (3, 22:54), Lori Balderose (4, 23:13), Kristine Noel (5, 23:21), Leah Smith (6, 23:47), Donna Westerman (8, 24:02) and Nicole Short-Shefton (10, 24:49).

SP gets its revenge against J.P. Stevens

Tigers enjoy 3-0 victory in GMC Tournament

By DAN ARKANS
STAFF WRITER

SOUTH PLAINFIELD — That South Plainfield High boys soccer team that opened the season with two consecutive losses is not the same squad that has been taking the field lately.

This Tigers squad has won 14 of their last 15 games, including a 3-0 victory over J.P. Stevens in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament Monday afternoon. The Hawks spoiled South Plainfield's season-opener by knocking off the Tigers 2-1.

The combination of sophomore Edwin Diaz and senior John Vasiliadis proved fatal for the 11th-seeded Hawks (7-9-1). Diaz recorded the hat trick off three assists from Vasiliadis as the sixth-seeded Tigers (14-3) avenged that earlier loss to the Hawks.

"We weren't playing together then," said Vasiliadis of the first defeat to Stevens. "We're a totally different team now. We really wanted to play them twice. We wanted to beat them. We knew we were better than them."

25 minutes into the first half, junior midfielder Trevor Willis got things going on the first goal, moving the ball upfield to Vasiliadis who slid the ball to Diaz, who put it past Stevens goalkeeper Chris Gesualdo.

25 minutes into the second half, the Tigers speedy duo struck again as Vasiliadis launched a shot on goal and Diaz flicked it in for a 2-0 lead. The Tigers got some insurance 20 minutes later as Vasiliadis fed Diaz, who blasted a shot from the box, past Gesualdo.

Kris Nagy recorded his seventh shutout of the season by making six saves in goal while Gesualdo came up with 13 stops.

"The first goal is really important," said third-year Tiger Head Coach Drew Smith. "It sets the tone. The second goal kind of took them out of the game a bit."

Although South Plainfield has certainly improved, it's been a trying season for the Hawks, who just missed out on qualifying for the state playoffs. The Hawks have been hit by the injury bug this season and just got senior sweeper Joe Gallo back from a three-week hiatus for the Tiger game.

"We started off real well," said Stevens Head Coach Bill McMullen. "We had problems through the season. Playing in the (GMC) Red Division, there isn't a letdown at any moment."

The Hawks have received strong play from Marco Nigro, Rich Reba, Alex Valcourt (8G, 6A) and Oliver Lester (8G).

For the Tigers, this season has been anything but disappointing. South Plainfield captured its first divisional title and with each victory sets a new school record for wins, surpassing the old mark of 12.

With the GMC's heading into full force, the Tigers may start contemplating the unthinkable, a possible GMC title.

"If we stick together and play strong, we could probably do it," said Vasiliadis of the Tigers' GMC-title hopes. "I think we're capable of it. We have skill. We have one of the best defenses. We're not weak in any one spot. One weak spot can kill you. We don't have any weak spots."

The Tigers do seem to be peaking at the right time and with seven shutouts this season, there's no question that the defense of South Plainfield has been a strength. That unit consists of senior sweeper Keith Palmer, senior Stephen Cisz and juniors Matt Wojcik and Eric Johansen.

Doing the job in the middle have been seniors Jairo Giraldo, Anthony Moreira, Jeff Noll and Willis, who's a junior.

And as far as being inexperienced about this level of success, that hasn't seem to hit the Tigers yet.

"The kids weren't nervous," said Smith after the GMC victory Monday afternoon. "They're really confident right now. I have to be nervous for them. I prepare them on what the other team's strengths are. They didn't get nervous as a result."

South Plainfield 7, Perth Amboy 1 — Diaz scored twice and added two assists as the visting Tigers set a school record for wins, breaking the mark of 12 set in 1981. Anthony Moreira, Ivan Corredor and Vasiliadis each contributed a goal and an assist while Willis and Dan Chazo also scored. Nagy made 11 saves in goal for South Plainfield.

Losing streak reaches three as Eagles fall to Carteret

CARTERET — This time, there were no excuses.

They weren't flat. They didn't make mental mistakes.

Friday night, the Eagles of Edison were beat in every facet of the game in dropping a 30-6 decision to Carteret in a Greater Middlesex Conference crossover battle. at Walter Overhold Memorial Field.

It was the third consecutive loss for Edison after beginning the season 2-0. The Eagles (2-3) weren't ready to play in a 28-13 loss to East Brunswick and followed that with a game filled with sloppy errors in a 23-6 defeat to Sayreville.

"We got beat today," said Eagle Head Coach Tom Gargiulo. "We got beat by a better ballclub. They beat us up front. They have real, tough kids. Many people want to say they're just a Group 2 school. They're not a Group 2 school. They're a Group 2 school with Group 4 talent."

Although only trailing 8-6 at the half, the Ramblers of Carteret (6-0) scored on their first two drives in the second half to take a commanding 22-6 lead and coasted to the victory.

Although the Eagles were outplayed in the second half, they had their opportunites in the first half. Edison did make the most of its first chance.

The Eagles took a 6-0 lead after recovering a Rambler fumble at the Edison 42. The Eagles put their only points of the board on a stop-and-go pattern from quarterback Bob Brownlie to Harish Mansharami on a fourth down play from 16 yards out.

That lead hardly lasted two minutes as Carteret scored on a six-play, 60-yard drive which featured three runs of over 15 yards, including a 14-yard burst from senior running back Alcides Vasquez, who finished the game with three touchdowns and 174 yards rushing on 16 carries. Senior quarterback Mike Morton ran in the extra point for an 8-6 Carteret advantage.

High School Football

The Eagles were then forced to punt from inside their 30 and Morton returned the punt 70 yards for a touchdown but holding was called prior to the snap. Edison kicked again but this time, Morton fumbled the punt and junior Will Hawthorne recovered the ball at the Rambler 21.

Edison drove the ball inside the 10 but Brownlie was picked off by Rashiem Reed in the end zone. Despite that lost chance, the Eagles got the ball back at the Carteret 34-yard line thanks to a big punt return from Hawthorne after holding Carteret without a first down on its next series. After a one-yard run from senior Mike Johnson, Brownlie was picked off, attempting to go deep to Mansharamani.

The second half was never a contest as Carteret opened up the scoring with a seven-play, 60-yard drive which featured a 23-yard run by Vasquez and a nine-yard touchdown scamper from Reed.

""We thought we were right in the ballgame after the first half," Gargiulo said. "We thought if we could hold them on the first drive and get something going, we'd be right in the game."

Offensively, the Ramblers finished with 266 yards rushing on 39 carries, an average of 6.8 yards per carry. Defensively, Carteret held Edison to just two yards rushing, posted seven sacks and forced five turnovers.

The Ramblers hurried Brownlie into an 8-for-21 performance for 96 yards. The Eagles could muster just 27 yards of total offense in the second half.

Despite the loss, the Eagle defense did perform admirably in the first half, forcing two fumbles. Edison also posted three sacks for the game. Recording the big hits were Mike Allen, Joe Margaritondo and Nick Kilroy.

"If they can honestly say that the guy over there beat them and not look to make excuses, that would be the first positive step," said Gargiulo of Edison's third consecutive defeat. "That's the first thing we have to say — we got beat. If they look for excuses and start pointing fingers, then we're going to have a long season."

Faulkner, Spotswood knocks off MHS

SPOTSWOOD — Metuchen High's football team came into Saturday's game against Spotswood with a 2-2 record and needing a victory to keep its Greater Middlesex Conference-Gold Division title hopes alive.

Senior quarterback Kevin Faulkner had other ideas, scoring on a 27-yard run with 2:11 remaining to play to lift Spotswood to a 13-7 victory at Charger Field.

With 6:10 left in the contest and the score tied at 7-7, Spotswood (3-2, 1-1) could gain just one yard on three plays inside its own 16 yard line. But a key mental mistake proved fatal for the Metuchen.

The Bulldogs were whistled for a personal foul penalty on fourth down after a Sal Petruzzi punt, giving Spotswood an automatic first down at the Bulldog 35 yard line.

After a Metuchen sack backed the Chargers to the 32, Faulkner, who rushed for 137 yards on 19 carries, hit tight end Matt Lazar on a quick slant over the middle. Lazar raced 41 yards to the Metuchen 27- yard line.

On the next play, Faulkner faked a pitch to fullback Dan Mar, rolled around the left sideline on the option sweep and raced into the end zone despite the efforts of Metuchen defensive back Anquae Freeland to make the tackle.

"We made some very critical errors," said Head Coach Ned Ennis. "We never saw it (referring to Faulkner's pass to Matt Lazar over the middle for 41 yards)."

Spotswood took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on a two-yard run by Faulkner, capping a seven-play, 83-yard drive. The key plays included a 53-yard run by Petruzzi and a 14-yard run by Faulkner.

Metuchen (2-3, 1-1) tied the score at 7-7 with 7:03 in the third quarter. Ryan Toth (5 of 11, 733 yards) hit Dion Toth on a quick slant over the middle for a 54-yard touchdown.

The score came two plays after junior linebacker Jason Gibbons, who recorded seven tackles, recovered a fumble by Charger halfback Dave Durski at the Bulldog 45 yard line. The Metuchen offense could muster just 37 yards of offense in the first half, 137 overall. Spotswood recorded 292 total yards.

"Spotswood played a very good game and beat us on the line of scrimmage," Ennis said.

The Metuchen defense recovered three fumbles and received three sacks from senior linebacker Abiola Ijalana.

It doesn't get any easier for the visiting Bulldogs who face the Mustangs of John F. Kennedy in Iselin tomorrow at 2.

SCORING SUMMARY
FIRST QUARTER
S: Faulkner 2 run (Dyckman kick). Spotswood 7-0.
THIRD QUARTER
M: Dion Toth 54 pass from Ryan Toth (Hwang kick). Tied 7-7.
FOURTH QUARTER
S: Faulkner 27 run (kick failed). Spotswood 13-7.

GIRLS TENNIS

Shreya and Nita Patel pulled out a 5-7, 6-3, 7-6 (10-8) triumph at No. 2 doubles as the Chiefs knocked off Middlesex 4-1 Friday. Also winning for Piscataway (6-10) were Jocelin Solema (6-2, 6-3), Mahati Guttikonda (6-4, 6-2) and the No. 1 doubles team of Candice Mickle-Jigna Patel (6-4, 6-1).

FIELD HOCKEY

Rae Ann English and Carly Campana each scored as the Chiefs knocked off Sayreville 2-1 Tuesday in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. English scored the gamewinner off Katie Keimel's penalty corner with 10:57 left in the second half. English assisted on Campana's goal. Jessica Guarneri made seven saves in goal for the Chiefs (7-8-1).

Piscataway 1, Union 0 — English scored from a penalty corner off an assist from Keimel in the first half as Piscataway slipped past Union Friday. Guarneri recorded the shutout for the Chiefs with three saves.

Brodamdo, Ayansola score but Eagles fall in GMC tourney

Shimad Brodamdo and John Ayansola scored first half goals but fourth-seeded Old Bridge had enough firepower to knock off the 13th-seeded Eagles 3-2 in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Boys Soccer Tournament Tuesday. Josh Schuck made three saves in goal for the Eagles.

Edison 2, New Brunswick 1 — Robert Mayer and Ayansola scored goals as the 13th-seeded Eagles edged the 20th-seeded Zebras Saturday in a Greater Middlesex Conference preliminary contest. Chimaobi Odumko and Isaac Mantey were credited with assists for Edison. Schuck made three saves in goal for the Eagles.

GIRLS SOCCER

Erin Connolly scored on a corner kick but the 11th-seeded Eagles couldn't rebound from a 2-0 first half deficit and dropped a 3-1 decision to sixth-seeded South Brunswick in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. Nicole Stasik made 25 saves in goal for the Eagles.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Meagan Ross took second with 22:15 as the Eagles edged J.P. Stevens 26-29 Tuesday. Also placing for Edison (6-4) were Jessica Leschek (3, 22:32), Linda Lazzaro (5, 22:45) and Hae Jin Kang (6, 22:46). Placing for Stevens (2-5) were Christine Brower (1, 22:07), Melody Yuen (4, 22:33) and Erica Shein (7, 23:06).

Middlesex opens GMCs with a bang

Bulldogs dominate South Amboy in first round

By DAN ARKANS

METUCHEN — Sometimes, the best thing that can happen to a team is a loss.

Metuchen High's girls soccer team had won its first 13 games of the season, including knocking off Piscataway in an overtime thriller Oct. 20. But then the Bulldogs had to fight through some injuries and fell to South Brunswick Oct. 22 which forced Metuchen to share the Greater Middlesex Conference-Blue Division title with the Vikings.

With that loss fresh in their heads, the third-seeded Bulldogs began play in the Greater Middlsex Conference Tournament with a dominating 4-0 victory over 14th-seeded South Amboy Tuesday in first round action.

Stephanie Baran scored twice while Carrie Stevens and freshman Megan Powell also tallied goals in Tuesday's victory for the Bulldogs. Baran and Stevens also picked up one assist apiece.

"After the South Brunswick game, it was a reality check," Baran said. "We realized that we weren't invincible. Basically, it woke us up. We got a better feeling that we're doing a lot better (against South Amboy). That was a big game for us."

The Bulldogs (15-1) posted their 10th shutout of the season and freshman goalkeeper Amy Kalista was forced to make just one save as Metuchen outshot its opponents 35-1.

"When you're playing a team with not too much skill, they tend to bunch," said MHS Head Coach Val Gazda. "You get thrown out of sorts. When you get a seed like that, you can only hope to come out on top. We definitely have to step it up. We could play better."

With the Bulldogs at full strength again, Gazda is looking for the performance like they displayed against Piscataway. With Metuchen set to play sixth-seeded South Brunswick yesterday and possibly Sayreville Saturday, a date with East Brunswick in the GMC Finals Sunday, Nov. 9 is not out of the question.

"I think we have a great shot of getting to the finals," Baran said. "All of us do. I don't think we could get a better seed. We know how well we can play. We just need to start talking."

With 10 shutouts in 16 games, Metuchen's defense has certainly been doing the job. Making up that unit have been freshman Lindsay Thiel, senior Theresa Sprunger, senior Jessica Akey, senior Sara Ziznewski and freshman goalkeeper Amy Kalista.

As a freshman playing goalie, Kalista was the unknown entering the season and she has responded, but Gazda would like to see her budding star be a little more vocal in goal.

"She has a church mouth," Gazda said. "She's very, very quiet. The day she starts yelling for the ball, I'll be a very happy person."

Kalista's teammates are thrilled to have her in the net, posting shutout after shutout.

"Amy's been great," Baran said. "We can't ask for much more from her. She's pulled out some amazing saves. We're lucky to have her. She'll be such a great player by the time she becomes a senior."

Metuchen 3, Colonia 0 — Baran scored three goals as the visiting Bulldogs recorded the victory Friday. Kalista recorded the shutout in goal, making six saves.

BOYS SOCCER

10th-seeded Metuchen was held without a shot in the second half and dropped a 1-0 decision to seventh-seeded John F. Kennedy in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament Monday. Metuchen (8-9-1) actually had a man advantage for the final 4:30 when Kennedy forward Rod Carrera was issued a red card after getting tangled up with Bulldog goalkeeper Frank Carniglia, who made eight saves on the day.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

David Stein took first in 17:19 as the Bulldogs defeated North Brunswick 23-34 Tuesday. Also placing for Metuchen (7-0) were Ben Spector (3, 17:31), Steve Poandl (4, 17:35) and Brendan Regan (7, 17:47).

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Katarina Jimenez placed third (21:38) to help the Bulldogs sweep Highland Park (19-45) and North Brunswick (19-35) in the tri-meet Tuesday. Also placing for Metuchen (8-0) were Lauren Durgin (5, 22:05), Lea Ruddy (6, 22:13), Cozette Ruddy (7, 22:13), Jen Mateicka (8, 22:23) and Sarah Goldfarb (10, 22:34). Rebecca Levy paced the Owls (6-3) with a fourth-place finish (21:53).

Elwood's goal lifts Hawks to victory

Lauren Elwood converted a penalty kick with 5:55 remaining in the game as the eighth-seeded J.P. Stevens High's girls soccer team slipped past ninth-seeded Monroe 1-0 Tuesday in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. Hawks freshman Lori George was tripped in the box, setting up Elwood's shot. Dana Honcharuk came up huge for the Hawks (8-7-2), making nine saves in goal.

GIRLS TENNIS

The Hawks didn't drop a set in routing Woodbridge 5-0 Tuesday. Winning for Stevens (16-3) were Julia Fu (6-1, 6-0), Ellyn Poltrock (6-0, 6-0), Randi Gladstone (6-1, 6-3), the No. 1 doubles team of Aparna DeSai-Alessandra Chan (6-1, 6-0) and the No. 2 duo of Smita Srinivassan-Jessica Ling (6-1, 6-0).

J.P. Stevens 3, North Brunswick 2 — Fu coasted to a 6-1, 6-3 victory at No. 1 singles as the Hawks nipped North Brunswick Friday. Also winning for Stevens were Gladstone (6-1, 6-0) at No. 3 singles and the No. 1 doubles team of Desai-Chan (6-4, 6-4).

J.P. Stevens 5, Metuchen 0 — Gladstone pulled out a 6-4, 4-6, 6-2 victory at No. 3 singles over Jaime Diken as the Hawks coasted to the victory Oct. 23. Fu defeated Kristin Haring at No. 1 singles (6-1, 6-0), Poltrock coasted past Claudio Lombardo at No. 2 singles (6-2, 6-0), the No. 1 doubles team of Desai-Chan knocked off Michelle Chen-Anne Werkman (6-1, 6-1) and the No. 2 duo of Srinivassan-Ling defeated Liz Kuchar-Emily Mertz (6-2, 6-3).

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Steve Sanabria took second in 17:36 as the Hawks knocked off Edison 20-35 Tuesday. Also placing for Stevens (4-3) were Lee Goldblatt (3, 18:05), Mike Sanabria (4, 18:17), Rupa Jagernouth (5, 18:24) and Lewis Fonseca (6, 18:45). Placing for the Eagles (6-5) were Josh White (1, 17:32) and Paul Perez (7, 19:10).

Dynamite keeps on winning

Kim Miranowic scored twice as the Edison Dynamite coasted to a 5-0 victory over the Cougars Spikes. Also scoring for Edison were Kayla Duncan, Brittany Mullings and Jillian Wade. Picking up assists were Miranowic, Mullings, Ashley Cunha and Loretta Viento. The defense of Erika Hartmann, Alexis Taylor, Lauren McMahon and Caitlin Lashley once again helped Viento and Duncan hold the Spikes scoreless. Dani Westphal and Stephanie Collins also played well.

Edison Dynamite 4, South Brunswick Stars 0 — Kim Miranowic, Jillian Wade, Erika Hartmann and Brittany Mullings scored as the Dynamite recorded another shutout. Stephanie Collings was credited with an assist on Miranowic's goal. Also playing well for the Dynamite were Dani Westphal, Caitlin Lashley, Ashley Cunha, Alexis Taylor, Loretta Viento and Kay Duncan.

Lady Knights don't get spooked

The Crimson Lady Knights went undefeated to take first place in the first annual North Brunswick Spookarama Soccer Tournament. The players are Nicole Aquila, Teri Burton, Jessica Capurso, Melissa Dziowgo, Megan Fenton, Rebecca Ferraro, Rachel Harrington, Courtney Jackson, Mary Jennings, Jillian Maderia, Jessica Martin, Suzzette Mills, Danielle Phillips and Sara Soden. The team is coached by Maggie Kessler.

Striking quickly

The Edison Strikers defeated the Watchung Hills Destroyers 4-0 behind goals by Collin Creange, Erik Swanstrom, Drew Bonner and Thomas Chmielewski. The Striker defensive unit of Erik Finkelstein, Mike Rohal, Anthony Lambiase and Marty Henry were able to control the Destroyer offense and feed the ball to the Striker offense. Erik Swanstrom and Collin Creange controlled the midfield and Joe Caiola, Scott Cohen and Brian Sadej played well on offense. The goalkeepers were Drew Bonner, Scott Cohen and Anthony Lambiase.

Black Knights win

John Manzo and Chris Jennings each scored goals as the Under-13 Black Knights came from behind to edge the Cranford Blaze 2-1 Sunday. Mike Robles and Manzo picked up assists. After a slow beginning, the Blaze went up 1-0 in the first half. Then the Cranford offense was shut down thanks to the sucessful defense produced by Jarrod Marshall, Peter Medeiros, David Milazzo, Chris Nugent, Rishi Wadhera, Ryan Walsh and Lucas Welsh. Kyle Rowe was required to make just two saves for the game. Playing well offensively for the Knights were Sean Cameron, Joe Giordano, Nick Andrews, Dan Schmidt and Mike Robles.

Black Knights 5, Hopwell Valley 1 — Dan Schmidt scored twice as the Knights were victorious Saturday. Also tallying goals for the winners were Matt Pepin, Alex Guyton and Mike Robles. Picking up assists were Robles (2), Cameron and Guyton.

Predators prey on Hawks

Jason Bonnel scored three times, one on a penalty kick as the Edison Predators coasted to a 5-2 victory over the Monroe Hawks. Brian Callahan and Sean Farrell also tallied goals. Adam Young and Sam Marshall each chipped in with two assists. Farrell, Paul D'Orio and Andrew Jacobs each had an assist apiece.

Mustangs tie Fury

Dan Ziznewski scored off an assist from Dan O'Connell as the Metuchen Mustangs tied the Franklin Fury 1-1. Playing well for Metuchen were Chris Martin, Mike Piekarski, Jeff Ostermueller, Paul Tibok, Keith Walker, Andrew Petrakakos, Darren Bisogno, Shawn Murtagh, Ken Baxer, Luke Taliaferro, Dan Stempinski and goalkeepers Noah Fessler and Zach Weiner.

Eagles crash Thunder

Picking up assists were Ryan Patel, Ankur Patel (2) and Jarred Kalmanson. The offense received strong performances from Dennis Shannon, Mike Westphal, Sean Adams, Zack Rubenstein and Keith Redler. Defense kept the Thunder at only two goals with strong performances from Chris Bressaw, Andy Chessen, Jarred Kalmanson, Tim Ryan and goalkeeper Luke Conklin.

Arsenal blanks Attack

Yogesh Ravanan and Mike Lettieri eash scored as the Edison Arsenal blanked the Millburn Attack 2-0 Sunday. Getting credited for assists were Bobby Beyer, Marcus Johnson, Alex Rayner and Tommy Deamus. Playing well for the Arsenal were Ben Zisman, Joe Persico, Cory Latham, Jason Alexander, David Perrone, Nick Cennamo, Matt Petti, Neal Jordan and Zach Miller.

Edison Arsenal 2, Woodbridge United 2 — Yogesh Ravanan and Marc Wilken each scored as the Arsenal tied Woodbridge. Marcus Johnson and Tommy Deamus were credited with assists. Jason Alexander played well defensively.

Cobras spook competition

The Edison Cobras defeated Old Bridge 2-1 to take third place in the North Brunswick Spook-a-rama Classic Tournament. Mac McCutcheon scored twice in the victory over Old Bridge off two assists from J.C. Bandiero. The Cobras got strong performances from Garrett Chavez, Lee Guray, Kevin Ryan and Matt Young, who all played well defensively. Todd Kalmanson also provided a spark offensively.

Franklin 5, Edison 0 — The Cobras received strong all-around play from Andy Dudas, Robert Hala, Billy Iafe, Frank Pinho and Garrett Seiger.

Edison 3, Princeton Orioles 2 — J.C. Bandeiro, Todd Kalmanson and Garrett Chavez each tallied goals as the Cobras fought back to avenge an earlier defeat to the Orioles. Mac McCutcheon had two assists and Kevin Ryan also picked up an assists. Garrett Seiger played a strong game in defense for the Cobras. Billy Iafe finished the game in goal for Edison and stopped many Princeton shots to preserve the victory.

Quest finds its way past Monroe

Paul Kulbida rebounded Ram Krishnan's shot as the Edison Quest edged Monroe 1-0. Michael Erps threaded a pass to Krishnan, who booted the ball off the post and Kulbida punched it in. Playing well for Edison were Jack Petty, Steven Esposito, Arinze Nwadiogbu, Judd Rosengart, Nihal Shah, Ryan Conklin, Damani Aaron, Chris James, Michael Birch, Seth Horwitz and Brian Smith.

Tornadoes thwart Stars' effort

The EUSA Shooting Stars played a strong defensive game but came up short in a 1-0 defeat to the Millburn Tornadoes. Playing well for the Stars were Raquel Dittel, Nicole Mayer, Karema Moheisen, Amanda Sanzone, Morgan Finkel and Wendy Schiffman.

FOOTBALL

Park wins playoff game

LaQuan Fowler and Louis Malave each scored touchdowns as the Highland Park Pop Warner Midgets won their second playoff game, defeating a tough South River team 14-8 at the South River High School football field Sunday.

Nothing was decided after the first quarter as the two teams battled to a scoreless tie. Highland Park linebacker Sam Feika ended the quarter with an interception which gave his team good field position.

In the second quarter, both teams opened up their offensive games, scoring a total of three touchdowns. Highland Park struck early with an 18-yard sweep around the left end by Fowler, followed by a failed extra point attempt.

After an exchange of downs, South River flawlessly executed a double reverse pass play that covered 45 yards, followed by a successful extra point attempt to go ahead 8-6. After the pursuing kickoff, Highland Park responded with a 40-yard pass play from quarterback Terrence Highsmith to tight end Louis Malave followed by a successful extra point attempt to go ahead 14-8.

Highland Park Head Coach Jerome White was pleased with his team's running game which drew South River's defense in and set up the passing game. Coach White was also pleased with his defense for successfully containing South River's offense which used several different formations and deceptive plays.

Highland Park's running game was led by Amir White and Jonathan Barnes behind the blocking of Anthony Scaletti, Darryl Ingram and Hamzah Attiyeh. The Owls defensive standouts included Darnell Goodman, Roman Batista, Eugene Garcia and Joshua Ciafullo. White also had praise for his special teams led by Chris Lyons, Francisco Acevedo, Keston Joseph and Billy Loughney.

SP Junior Pee Wee's roll along

The South Plainfield Eagle Junior Pee Wee's started the scoring with Steve Turrise taking a pass, 65 yards for the score. The defense held the entire game with a fine play by Fernando Sandoval and Kevin Crilley. With the opening of the fourth quarter, Dwayne LaMont ran the ball 50 yards for the second Eagles score. Steve Turrise added the extra point. Blocking for the scores were Ryan Kenny and Nick Grego. Later in the period, Mike Downes ran the ball off tackle for the Eagles score. The final score was a 20-yard interception return by Steve Turrise.

Flemington 21, South Plainfield 6 — Sean Grevious took a handoff from Nick Ronzo and ran off tackle for a touchdown off some solid blocks from Mike Towers and Kyle Prendergast but that was all the scoring on the day for the Eagle Junior Midgets. Steven Johnson provided the defensive highlights for South Plainfield, recovering a fumble.

Flemington 22, South Plainfield 6 — Tommy Toolan scored off a pass from Andrew Fyffe but the Eagle Midgets dropped the game. Rafel Diaz and the Demarest brothers played well.

Hillsborough 28, South Plainfield 12 — Joe Turrise and Chris Pollin scored touchdowns but the Eagle Mighty Mites dropped the contest. Turrise opened the scoring for the Eagles with a run off the right end. A.J. Barylsky provided the blocking. Late in the third period, Nick Dorey recovered a fumble. This lead to an Eagles drive where Pollin ran it in for the scored. Providing the blocking were Rocco Petriello, Jeff Cianfronca and Chris Spayder.

The Flag Eagles continued their good time with a single game against the young Flemington Falcons. Turning in a fine performance were Richard Harzula, Tim Lester and Joe Laceria.

The Eagles are away at Hillsborough for the final game of the season. The Eagles will have uniform collection for the Midges and Junior Midget Football and Cheerleading Thursday Nov. 6 from 6-7 p.m. Junior Pee Wee. Mighty Mite and Flag squads can turn there uniforms in Friday Nov. 7 from 6-7 p.m. Uniforms from any squads can also be turned in Saturday Nov. 8 from 10-noon. Bond money can be returned at this time. Registration for the 1998 season will also be taken. The Eagles pizza party will be held Nov. 8 at the PAL.

N.Edison Midgets blank Carteret

Omar Copeland, Nick Ogunlade and Matt Stanzione each scored as the North Edison Shamrock Midgets crushed Carteret 20-0. Mike Maffucci got the ball rolling for the Shamrocks (7-3), tossing a 45-yard touchdown pass to Omar Copeland. Maffucci then kicked the extra point. Maffucci also had completions to Tony Smith and Nick Ogunlade on the drive. Ogunlade ran 40 yards for the Shamrocks second touchdown. Matt Stanzione scored North Edison's final touchdown on a halfback option pass from Tony Smith. Omar Copeland had two interceptions to pace the defense. Also playing well defensively were Dan Sica, John Loguidice, Kelvin Dumo, Joe Rocco, Brian Cirri, Tony Smith, Nick Ogunalde, Bryan Alabado, Matt Stanzione and Maffucci.

North Edison 7, Carteret 0 — Greg Sica scored the lone touchdown of the game in the fourth quarter as the Shamrock Mighty Mites (9-0-1) were victorious. On fourth-and-11, Joey Rovito ran for a clutch first down to make room for Sica's score. The offensive line opened up huge holes on the left side for Rovito to roam free. Defensively, Sica had a touchdown-saving tackle. Chris Scerbo added three sacks and Jayhere Bryant and Joey Rovito also played strong defensive games. With two minutes to go in the game, Antonio Barker intercepted a pass to seal the victory. It was North Edison's eighth shutout in 10 games.

Carteret 26, North Edison 14 — Touchdowns by Tamar Robinson and Patrick Duffy were the only scores the Shamrock Junior Pee Wee;s could muster in falling to Carteret. Offensively, good blocks were made by Robert Handley, Matt DeZaio, Jonathan Campbell and John Hobaika. A 20-yard pass reception by Gary Turner set up the first score. Defensive highlights were the two sacks by Harland Bower and good tackles by James Bethea, Jeff Zannetti, Mark Farrari and Nick Allan.

Piscataway Midgets prove to be brave

Sal Mastrogiovanni and Scott Marchie led the Piscataway Braves Midgets to a 32-14 over North Brunswick. Mastrogiovanni opened up the scoring with touchdown behind the blocks of Diondrae Riley and Duone Smith. After some tough running by Dennis Leftwich and Darnell Yancey and a pass for 18 yards from Derek Tranchina to Kevin Haynoski, Scott Marchie ran 32 yards for another Piscataway touchdown. In the second half, Mastrogiovanni ran behind blocks of Daniel Cox and Rufus Hammond, 27 yards for the score. After some good running from Kevin Griffin, Matthew Goumas and Roy Naccarato, Marchie went 39 yards for another touchdowns behind blocks of James Robinson Jr., Mastrogiovanni, Duone Smith and Craig Rawles.Marchie kicked four extra points on the day. Playing well on both sides of the ball were Craig Rawles, Sal Mastrogiovanni, Duone Smith, Diondrae Riley, Derek Tranchina, Scott Marchie, Dwan Taylor, Kevin Griffin, Darnell Yancey and Jonathan Mink. Dennis Leftwich added a key interception for Piscataway.

Piscataway 7, North Brunswick 0 — Mikey Howard found the end zone from two yards out for the lone score of the game in Mitey Mites action. Anthony Hrabar and Howard provided a solid ground attack. Maurice Jackson, Michael Patishnock, Tariq Cooper, Rocco Contessa, Terence Fox and Travis Reed paced the defense and held the Indians scoreless.

Hall, Kipila carry Tigers to GMC Tournament victory

Kelly Hall and Natalie Kipila scored second half goals to lift the second-seeded Tiger field hockey squad to a 2-0 victory over seventh-seeded Metuchen Tuesday in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. Hall came off the bench to score for SP (10-4-1). Kipila and Joy Walter were credited with assists. Chrissy Buteas made two saves in goal to record the shutout. Kim Penny made three saves for the Bulldogs (1-14-1).

S. PLAINFIELD H.S. Roundup

South Plainfield 3, Sayreville 0 — Kipila scored twice and Christine Smalley added a goal and an assist as the host Tigers recorded the victory Oct. 23. Buteas made nine saves in goal to record the shutout.

GIRLS TENNIS

The Tigers did not drop a set in routing Middlesex 5-0 Oct. 23. Winning for SP (13-5) were Amanda Bremer (6-2, 6-1), Jill Catarino (6-1, 6-1), Alison Barrett (6-0, 6-2), the No. 1 doubles team of Leyna Bollwage-Erin Walter (6-2, 6-1) and the No. 2 duo of Judy Wang-Pattie Walter (6-1, 6-1).

GIRLS SOCCER

The 16h-seeded Tigers fell behind 3-0 after the first half and dropped a 4-0 decision to first-seeded East Brunswick Tuesday in the first round of the Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament. South Plainfield goalkeeper Jamie Graham did her part, making 20 saves in goal.

GYMNASTICS

Lacey Walter took third on the balance beam (8.3), first on the vault (9.0), third on uneven bars (7.9), second on floor exercises (8.9) and second all-around (34.5) as the Tigers knocked off Piscataway 99.1-90.1 Tuesday. Theresa Vitelli also placed second on beam (8.4), third on vault (8.5) and third on floors (8.9) for the Tigers (3-5). Rachel Denno added a third place finish on vault (8.5) and Veronica Zappi was second on bars (8.0) and third all-around (31.8) for SP. Padcing the Chiefs (0-8) was Lisa Peterson, who was first on beam (8.9), second on vault (8.8), first on bars (8.3), first on floors (9.2) and first all-around (35.2).

Abrams scores twice as N. Edison Pee Wees capture CJ title

Josh Abrams scored on two touchdown runs as the North Edison Shamrocks Pee Wee's clinched the 1997 Central Jersey Pop Warner championship for the second year with a 19-13 victory over the Plainfield Cardinals.

The Shamrock defensive line and linebacking corps of Michael Lewis, Anthony Miller, Nico Sharp, Kevin Adleman, Vinnie Lombardi, Sean Bell, Josh Abrams, Chris Kirsch, Joey Scerbo, Ibn Sampson and Syr Stewart countered Plainfield's high powered offense by containing their running game to the inside of the field. The secondary of Gary Dragona and Joey Giardano allowed just one pass completion in the contest.

Offensively, the Shamrocks unit of Adam Lewis, Chris Petruzzi, Evan Cress and Kareem Ibrahim utilized different formations to keep the hard-hitting Cardinals on their heels. Miller opened up the scoring for North Edison with a 60-yard run and Abrams scored on runs of 45 and 30 yards respectively.

The Gold offensive unit also moved the ball effectively, behind the efforts of Anthony Maffucci, D'Madrio Viera, Kashif Salahuddin, Justin Hinds, Frank Darabos, Michael Curtin, Danny LaBacz, Martin Duffy and Carmine Gaudio in this total team effort.

The Rocks now take their 10-0 record to begin their quest for the New Jersey State Pee Wee championship.

SPORTSCENE

SOCCER REGISTRATION

The Metuchen Soccer Association is looking for players to join its Division 4 and 5 (12 and under) traveling teams. If you are interested, please call the MSA phone mailbox at 494-9093 and leave a message in box six. Out of town players are welcome but there are a limited number of spots. The club teams are trained by Mike Romeo who recently returned from coahing the NJ Under-19's at the National finals. There will be a one-day tryout in November.

Help stamp out hunger by donating food

Hunger is a problem affecting almost a million people in New Jersey. The unemployment rate is the lowest it has been in many years, but the state's housing costs are higher than the national average. As a result, low-wage workers have to choose between paying rent and utilities or buying food.

The elderly poor also face hunger without the assistance of local charitable feeding programs.

The Community FoodBank of New Jersey and major supermarkets _ A&P, Acme, Foodtown, Grand Union, Kings, Pathmark and ShopRite- are looking for volunteers to join forces in the Check-Out Hunger campaign in communities in New Jersey.

Check-Out Hunger is a statewide program that makes it easy for supermarket shoppers to help fight hunger locally.

Beginning in October through mid-December, at more than 500 supermarkets, shoppers will find Check-Out Hunger placards at every checkout aisle. Attached to the placards will be $1, $2 and $5 donations slips on tear-off pads. To help people in need, the customer gives one or more donation slips to the cashier for scanning. The donation will be added to the purchase total. One hundred percent of all donations will go to the Community FoodBank of New Jersey and its associated food banks.

Volunteers are the key to Check-Out Hunger's success. Starting in late September, volunteers are needed in several key positions in their own communities.

Team leaders will oversee a local group of about 10 store volunteers, assisting in recruitment and materials distribution. Store volunteers set up, maintain and dismantle placard displays at check-out aisles in about two supermarkets.

Awareness volunteers will serve as public relations liaisons in their communities, working with local newspapers, places of worship and schools to foster awareness about the Check-Out Hunger campaign.

The Community FoodBank of New Jersey is a private, nonprofit organization and is the state's largest provider of donated food to 1,500 charities where people in need turn to for help. They include homeless and battered women's shelters, emergency pantries, soup kitchens, rehabilitation centers, child care and senior citizen programs. Based in Hillside, the FoodBank has a Southern branch in Egg Harbor Township and three other sites in central New Jersey.

Join the Community FoodBank of New Jersey and your local supermarket in the fight against hunger. For more information, call Athea or Barbara at 355-3663.

Fifth-generation Corvette will quick become classic

By JOHN EATON
Denver Post

Available as a coupe and now a convertible for 1998, the Chevrolet Corvette offers many improvements over its fourth-generation predecessor. The fifth-generation Corvette has a structure more than four times stiffer than its predecessor for improved ride and handling characteristics. Other advantages include twice the cargo capacity and better overall performance.

Not unlike a recalcitrant child, the 1998 Chevrolet Corvette Convertible is something to both love and reprimand. It's beautiful beyond belief, automotive art with lines that promise to become classic.

But it's also large for a car that seats only two; since its beginning in 1953 the Corvette has continued to gain visual mass. One wonders if, like an amoeba, it eventually will divide and become two sports cars.

But despite its bulk, it remains one of the most beautiful and easily distinguishable cars in the world. The new Fifth Generation Corvette, introduced as a 1997 model, is an unusual package of both beauty and brawn.

And now the newest variation of the Corvette, the 1998 convertible model, has just been introduced, the first Corvette convertible offered since 1996.

The wind-in-hair group will welcome it. The test car was base priced at $44,425, a shade less than the 1996 model sold for, and for that price the new convertible will run wheels off more expensive sports touring cars. The test car finally totaled $47,964 after some options were added.

How about a top speed of 175 miles an hour, or 0-60 mph in 4.7 seconds with the six-speed manual transmission? All of this sits on tires that look as if they would require the annual rubber production of a tropical rain forest.

And hidden beneath the sleek hood of fiberglass reinforced plastic is the big Chevrolet 5.7-liter aluminum V-8. Remember, the Corvette, whose outer skin is of fiberglass and plastic, was a pioneer in the use of such material. Earlier test Corvettes have taken a beating from hail that would have shredded many cars.

This huge V-8, whose melodic warble seemed a tad muted when compared with earlier test Corvettes, coughs out 350 foot pounds of torque at 4,400 rpm and 345 horsepower at 5,600 rpm. And all of this fires a car that weighs in at only 3,246 pounds.

Compare those figures with the ca[r] you drive and [y]ou'll understan[d] [t]his car is a bullet in a barrel.

Turn the key and listen to the sound of a race car growling in the pits. Except you are behind the wheel. And therein lies the attraction of a Corvette.

Acceleration, as noted, is blinding. And the suspension is nicely mated with the variable-effort power rack and pinion steering.

The six-speed manual transmission on the test car was pure silk, despite the fact the car was fresh off the line. But the short of leg seriously should consider an automatic transmission in the Corvette. This may be considered a sacrilege in a sports car, but consider: The clutch has a long and hard throw and for the short-legged this necessitates a forward seat position, which places the steering wheel too close for comfort.

The Corvette's really high marks are won on the highway at high speeds with its great on-center feel. Braking, like the acceleration, is straight and fast.

An annoyance in town driving is that this car is a "nose scraper." When you exit a thoroughfare and enter a shopping mall, there's usually a slight grinding, scraping sound in the frontal area. Even at low speeds. And again when nosing into a curb or crossing a street dip. Scrape, scape.

Top-down driving is relatively free of wind (as if Corvette drivers even cared). But the top design, although easy to raise and lower, raises a question: Why should a car whose price gobbles up most of a $50,000 bill have a manual top? In areas with instant changes in weather, one would hope for a quick power top that didn't require exiting the car to raise or lower the top. A plus for the top is that it has a wide, clear glass window with a defroster.

On the subject of entering and exiting, let's give the Corvette about a D- grade. And, for an experience that will set your heart aflutter, try exiting and entering in a parking lot when the door can't be swung totally open.

The Corvette's interior is a mixed bag. The seats are well designed and cradle you with comfort and multiple positions, and the complete, big and clear, white-on-black analog instruments set the standard for the industry. They tell all regarding the heartbeat of this big engine. And if the analogs don't have the answer, push a button for an illuminated display.

HIGHBEAMS: Appearance, although it's putting on a little around the waist with age. Regardless, its lines are absolutely smashing. Acceleration, handling and braking. Price. And Chevrolet claims the cargo space will now hold two golf bags.

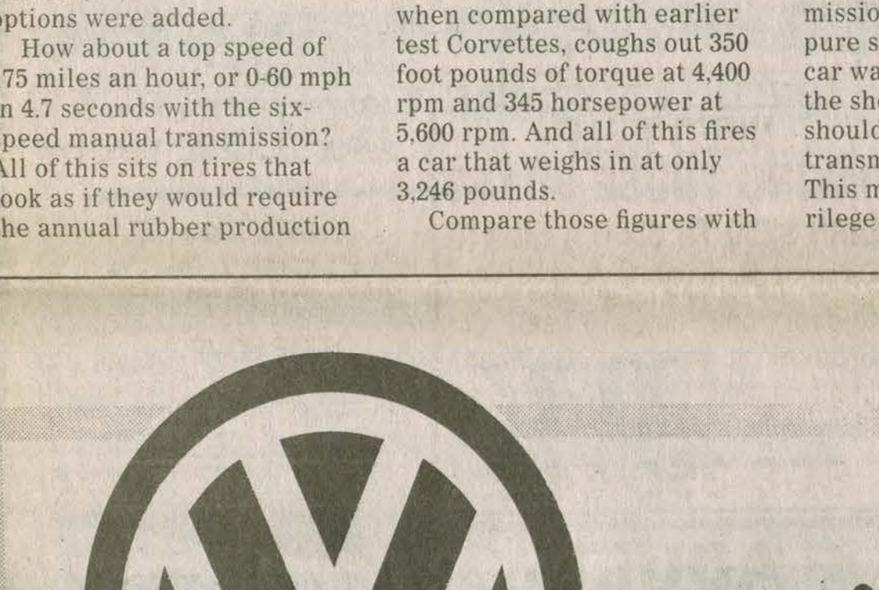

LOWBEAMS: Entry, exit, limited interior space and storage, and poor outward visibility.

Community profile: Highland Park

The Borough of Highland Park was so named because the area was high ground overlooking New Brunswick and with its scattering of homes and wooded areas it had a park-like appearance.

Today Highland Park is a residential community approximately two square miles in size and centrally located in Middlesex County.

Highland Park is a close-knit community rich in diversity and history. Its heart is the bustling downtown central business district on the main streets of Raritan Avenue and Woodbridge Avenue.

The best way to get a feel for the borough is to take a stroll by the small mom-and-pop stores in the business district, which for the past two years has been the focus of concerted downtown revitialization efforts.

What you should know about pricing your home

Pricing is crucial when selling a home and the cost of home improvements can be much more than the value they add to a property.

* Builders' profits run around 10-percent, remodelers' run around 50-percent and some jobs are more difficult and more costly on a completed house.

* Value is the buyer's estimate of future benefits; cost is the seller's measure of past expenditures.

* The amount paid for a property (price) may or may not reflect value.

* Some forces which affect price are: social ideals and standards; economic changes (ie. a major employer left the area); political or governmental regulations; physical or natural forces (ie. flood plain, earthquake region).

* Sellers would be well advised to accept the objective advise of an experienced Realtor using all the tools of his trade or get an appraisal from a qualified local appraiser.

* Realistic thinking at the beginning of the sales transaction will save a seller a lot of time and money.

Lead-based paint regulations

HUD and the EPA have issued further clarification on some questions about compliance with lead-based paint disclosure regulations:

* The regulations apply to both oral and month-to-month leases. They apply to the creation of a month-to-month lease, including a month-to-month tenancy which automatically follows the expiration of a stated lease term

The regulations need not be satisfied repeatedly each month of a month-to-month lease, but must be fulfilled again if any terms and conditions of the lease are changed or if new information about lead-based paint or lead-based paint hazards comes into the possession of the property owner.

* The regulations also apply to mobile homes (manufactured housing) even if it is known or believed not to contain any paint whatsoever (lead-based or otherwise).

Monthly payments are for 30-year conventional fixed rate mortgages as detailed below. Please ask about: Lower Downpayments • Lower Monthly Payments • Other Options

For purchase prices up to $268,375, monthly mortgage payments (principal+interest) quoted in our ads are to qualified buyers, based upon a 20% downpayment and a conventional 30-year fixed rate loan at 6.875% with 3 points, A.P.R. 7.229%. As an example, a $100,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $656.93. For purchase prices from $268,375 to $625,000, the monthly payments are to qualified buyers based upon a 20% downpayment and calculated at 7.125% with 3 points on a "Jumbo" 30-year fixed rate mortgage with an A.P.R. of 7.442%. An example of a $500,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $3,368.59. Figures herein are approximate and do not include property taxes, hazard insurance, or homeowners association dues for a condominium purchase. Interest rates quoted are as of Oct. 2, 1997, and subject to change. Not responsible for typographical errors; while information is believed accurate, we request that the payment be validated with a mortgage provider prior to purchase.
