TTER 1973M

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 15.5 million by 2020, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 8.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the UK. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need; (3) to ensure that older people are protected from abuse and neglect; and (4) to ensure that older people are consulted on the services and support they need.

The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need; (3) to ensure that older people are protected from abuse and neglect; and (4) to ensure that older people are consulted on the services and support they need. ## CHANGES 1973

Meanings will change
as you learn to grow and that which you had to last you 'til the end turns out to be just a passing friend.
And would you spend your life away collecting great treasures
so you'd be safe someday?
And when you're old,
and when you're gray,
meanings will change;
life's just that way.
When you're finally sure,
you think you understand all about living
and life's demands,
someone will touch you
and you'll see again.
Meanings will change;
you just can't win.

—Paul Stookey

And gladly would he learn and gladly teach.
 Chaucer, Canterbury Tales

As the years pass us by and our dreams become reality, memories will drift away from us, but one memory will remain unchanged. When each of us thinks back upon the year of 1973, we will remember it all—our philosophies on life, the gaining of new teachers and administrators and one man. He has served Metuchen High School students not only in the professional sense, but also as a negotiator, advisor and just plain friend. He has become as much a part of the student life in Metuchen High School as every thought of that year has become a part of the walls of our memories. Therefore, the class of 1973 wishes to dedicate this year's edition of the Blue Letter to you, Thomas J. Lear. We will truly miss you.

Sit by my side, come as close as the air,
Share in a memory of gray,
And wonder in my words,
Dream about the pictures that I play
of changes.

Green leaves of summer turn red in the fall
To brown and to yellow they fade,
And then they have to die,
Trapped within the circletime parade
of changes.

—Phil Ochs

Scenes of my young years were warm in my mind, Visions of shadows that shine
Till one day I returned,
And found they were the victims of the vines
of changes.

—Phil Ochs

We're captive on the carousel
of time
We can't return
we can only look behind
From where we came
And go round and round
and round
In the circle game

—Joni Mitchell

Yesterday a child came out to wonder Caught a dragonfly inside a jar Fearful when the sky was full of thunder
And tearful at the falling of a star
Then the child moved ten times round the seasons Skated over ten clear frozen streams
Words like, when you're older, must appease him
And promises of someday make his dreams

—Joni Mitchell

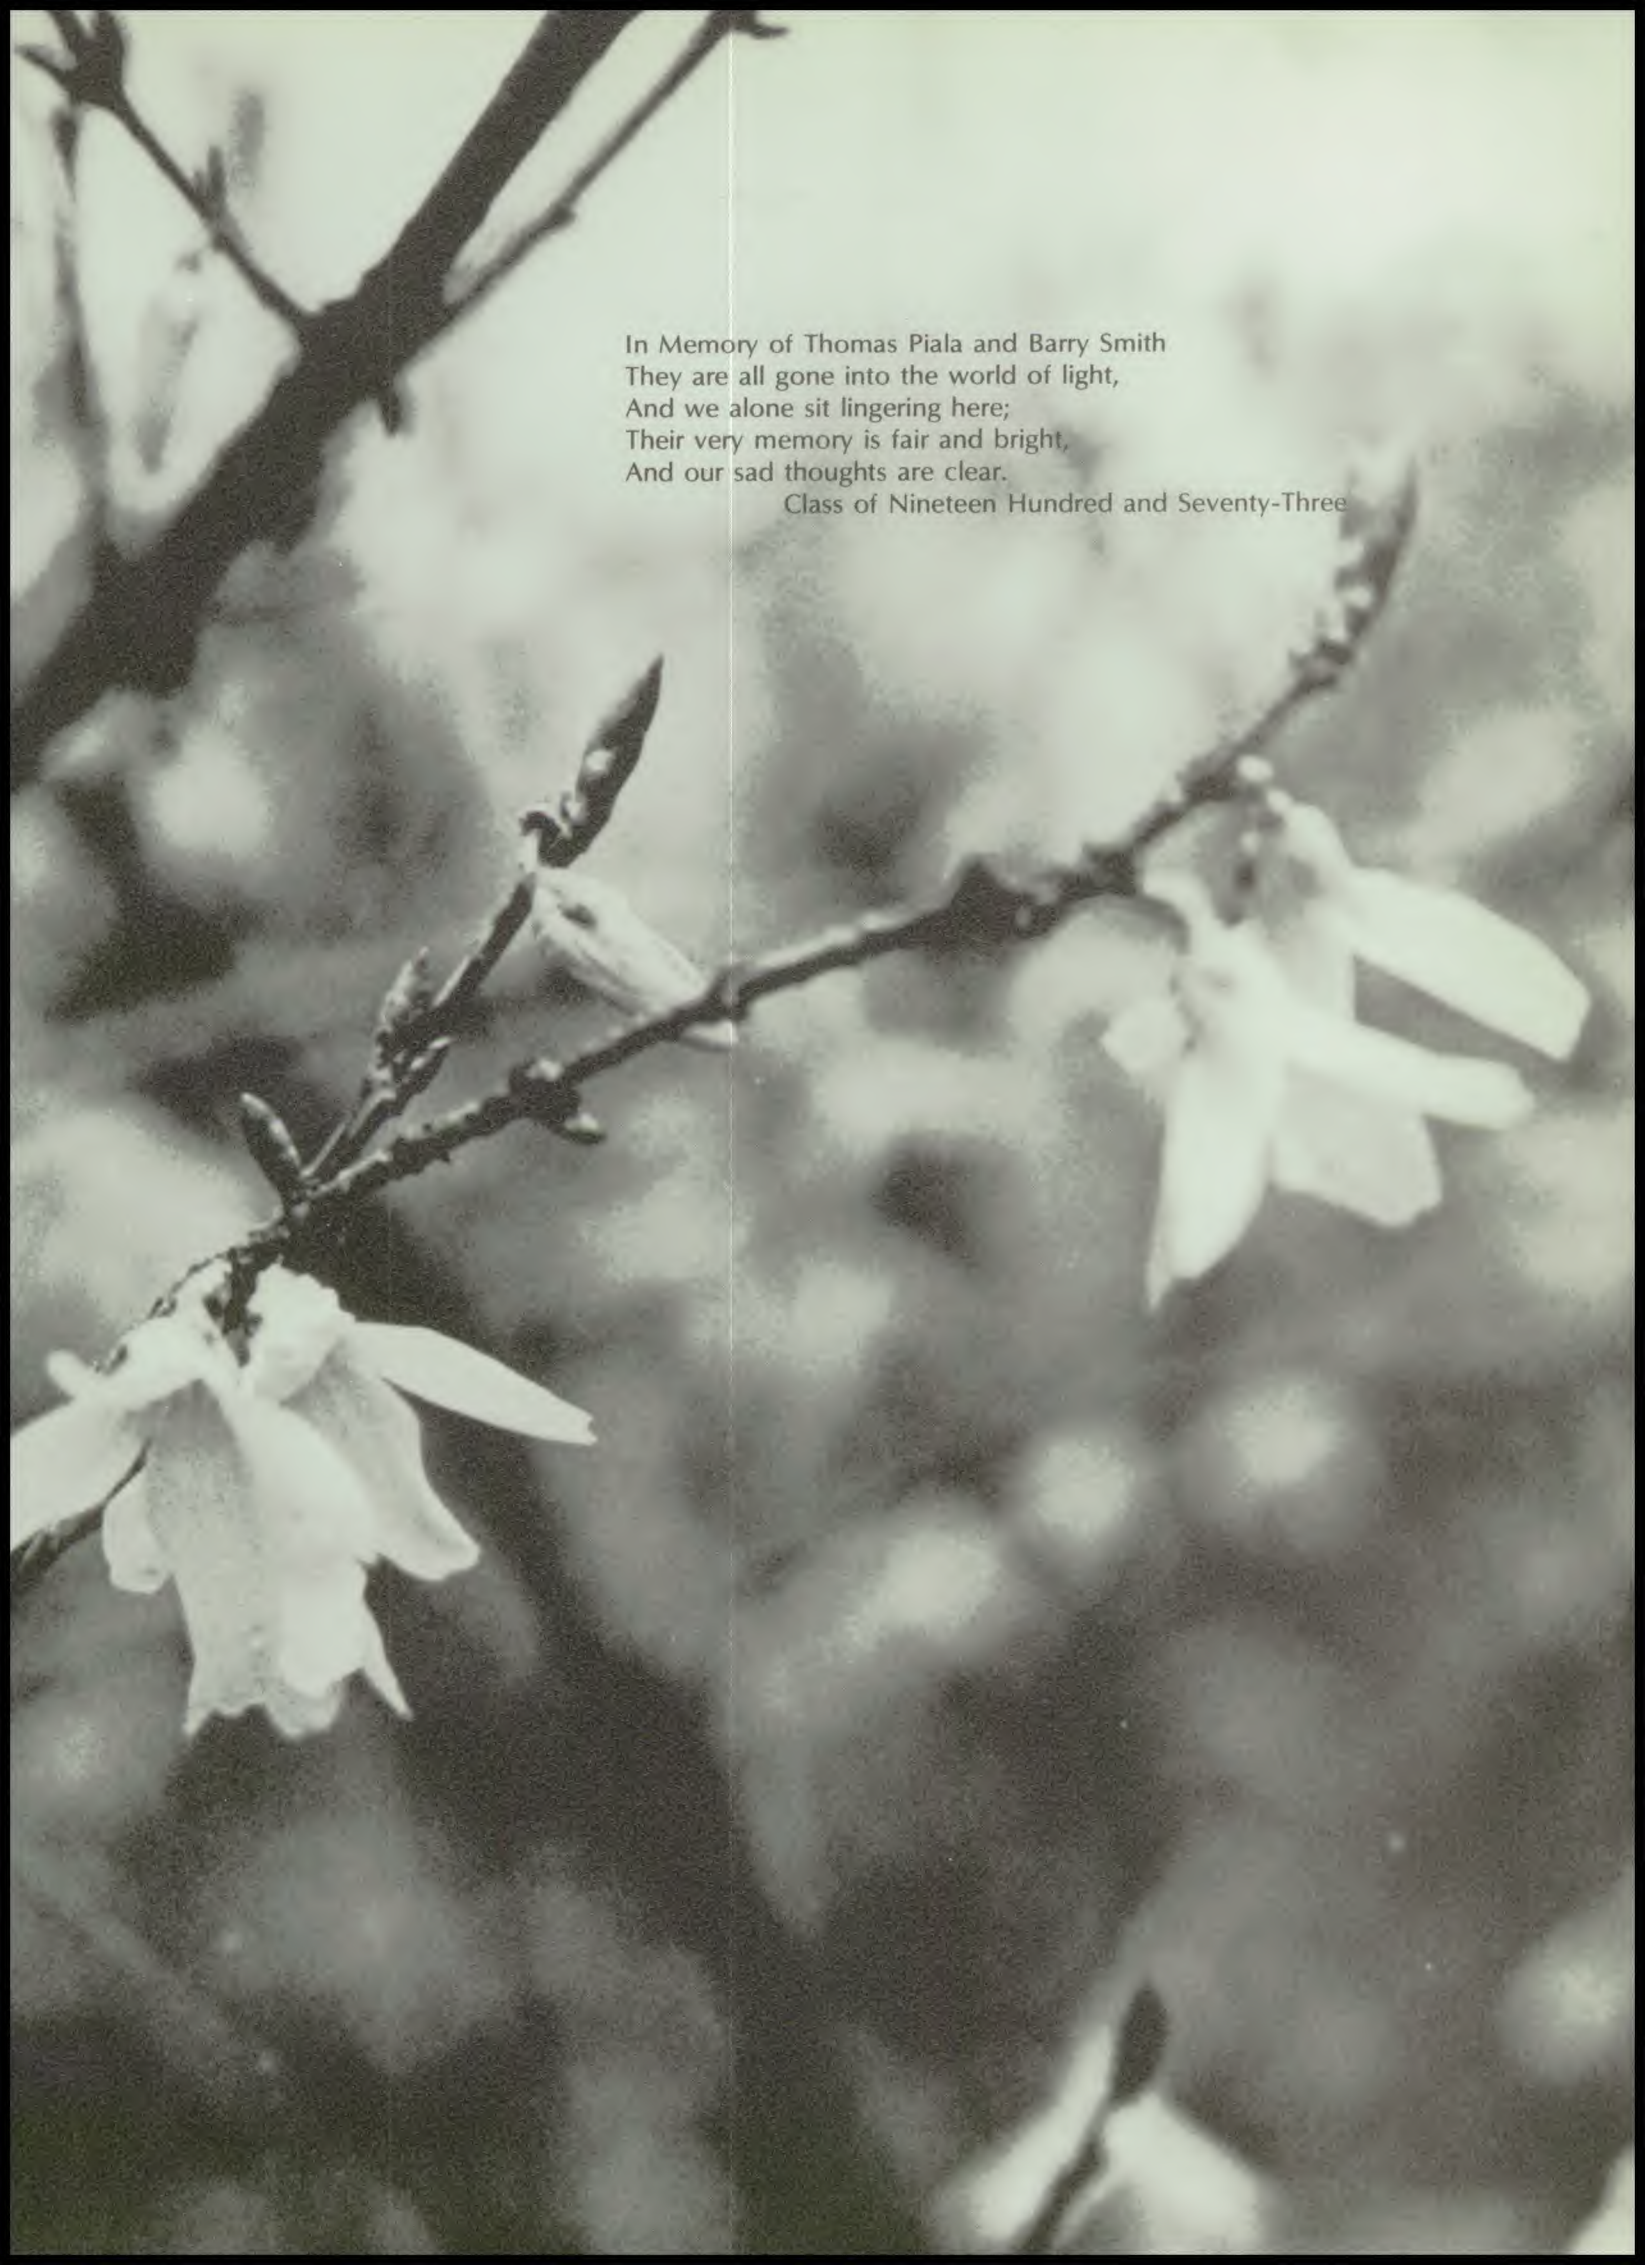

Who can do the things you do?
The Doors

In Memory of Thomas Piala and Barry Smith
They are all gone into the world of light,
And we alone sit lingering here;
Their very memory is fair and bright,
And our sad thoughts are clear.

Class of Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-Three

A black and white photograph of a forest floor. The ground is covered with a thick layer of fallen leaves, some of which are large and have prominent veins. Interspersed among the leaves are several small, white, star-shaped flowers. The background is a soft-focus view of more foliage and trees, creating a sense of depth. The overall tone is quiet and natural.

There are four sorts of men:
He who knows not and knows not he knows not:
he is a fool—shun him;
He who knows not and knows he knows not:
he is simple—teach him;
He who knows and knows not he knows:
he is asleep—wake him;
He who knows and knows he knows:
he is wise—follow him
