THE PATH OF

Can you remember what the beginning was really like?

The long anticipated sunshine days of autumn.

When the class of '88 consisted of several small Children bursting with eagerness to know and belong to M.H.S. . . .

As freshmen we discovered through blunder and triumph the spirit and meaning of this, our home for the next four years.

As we sang the still unfamiliar words to band songs and watched our football field dedication, the bulldog became the most important animal in the world . . .

The trials of being 15 years old were accentuated by the obviously countless number of strange faces.

Joining and practicing,

Proudly and gladly,

We became intimates and advocates of the way of life here —

The freshman football team scored a record of 6-3, the JV girls field hockey team a record of 9-3-1, and girls JV basketball a record of 14-5.

The newest band members soon learned how to march and play at the same time.

And we shone in our first Footlighter production, DON'T DRINK THE WATER, by Woody Allen.

We cheered for the freshman basketball team even though their records were not anything to record.

Then spring came upon us as we witnessed our first Musical HIGH BUTTON SHOES.

But with some wistfulness and much anticipation of the best to come, we bade a funny sad goodbye to our irretrievable freshmen selves.

As sophomores — we rated, and were distinctly contemptuous of those perfectly obnoxious freshmen and for the first time 8th graders.

The varsity football and soccer teams came through as Central Jersey Champs. The JV soccer team did well that fall also.

The drama season included a bit EXPERIMENT IN THEATER.

Which gave us all a chance to have a lead role.

Plunging ahead, we found ourselves concerned with a very vital list known as class rank & we casted some scattered through to a still safely distant future.

All year we saw our classmates actively involved in M.H.S. doings.

We were also happy to see girls and boys JV basketball do well that winter with records of 15-3 and 16-8.

Spring drama brought us M.H.S. footlighters masterpiece, PETER PAN.

As the end came — we happily envisioned ourselves as UPPERCLASSMEN, and anticipated a well deserved summer vacation.

September brought us together again, this time as buddies to show the way to others, very much younger than we, as we contentedly assumed the responsibility of our position in the scheme of things.

P.S.A.T.'s were to be hurdled, grades became all important, especially with senior year not so very far away anymore, and college but a year after that.

Football season brought us an 8-1-1 record, varsity soccer a record of 13-7, field hockey, 10-4-4, Cross Country track 10-3, and girls tennis a record of 11-12.

We saw the production of A NIGHT OF ONE ACTS, attended junior class meetings and talked about the prom.

We were very aware that fall, Aware of ourselves and our surroundings more intensely than ever — as junior year, jammed with the events of our discoveries, fleeting paraded past us.

We found ourselves sitting next to Mr. Campana — haunted by dreams of jingling car keys!!!

The musical bloomed into a stunning PIPPIN, and spring sports season found us playing hard as ever — baseball, tennis, track.

S.A.T.'s that April and May gave further indications of future plans.

As we hovered on the brink of senior year . . .

We elected our class representatives.

"We made it," we sighed, and we sped out the doors after exams for the summer vacation which preceded our final year here . . .

Walking through the front door down to senior hall that fall, we knew that this year promised the best — as each event took on special significance.

The future was so very near, but for the time being, still the future, as we enjoyed our last comfortably sheltered months before setting out on our own independent paths.

DISCOVERY

Senior poll named us with Cheryl Stanski and Mark Mandell as MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED, Billy Bandola and Jill Bangert as MOST ATHLETIC, Robin Sahn and Billy Weis as MOST ARTISTIC, Cathy Bonica and Knute Jensen as MOST VERSATILE, Susan Cotton and Tom Pfirmman as BEST DRESSED, Derek LaBarr and Veronica Ruth as NICEST SMILE, Beth Casey and Ron Greenberg DID MOST FOR MHS, Kerry Robinson and Chris Welch

HAD MOST SCHOOL SPIRIT, Maria Marquez and Kenny Kacani were MOST CONGENIAL, Debbie Widis and Terry Salmon have the BEST PERSONALITY, Ian Guarnieri and Tracey Brown were MOST DRAMATIC, Stefanie Stofa and Don Schutt were the MOST MUSICAL, Laura Kostic and Jason Coleman were the BIGGEST FLIRTS, Amy Parlow and Ken Habarta were the MOST ORIGINAL, Anjanette Farina and Eddie Angus were the CLASS COUPLE, Lisa Cassio and Earl Watson were TEACHERS TORMENTS, and Renee Tagliaboschi and Chris West were the CLASS CLOWNS.

Gwen Murphy was elected our class president, and self assuredly we marched down for the class meetings to discuss such thought provoking issues as the Senior trip and graduation.

Tons of thought went into our beloved senior interviews.

Teachers somehow became more human, and the guidance office took on a golden glow; we were now the privileged leaders (first pick in gym class), the looked up to — a position we certainly cherished and made the best possible use of.

As we contemplated the distance we'd come, and regarded openly the grand question mark which faced us.

We were actively involved in our sports, our clubs, our theater, but we were plagued with the insecurity of not quite knowing where we were going . . .

As decisions were made and applications flew out to institutions throughout the land we were still aware that the class of 1988 faced — what was to be remembered as the most difficult year to be accepted to the college of your choice.

Our homecoming game came upon us, as did the Thanksgiving game against H.P.H.S.

The footlighters enchanted us and Miss Merry Christmas stimulated us.

As seniorities set in a January's end, this year was going someplace at an unbelievable rate.

Spring was upon us again with our sports, and our last spring musical . . .

As we gazed toward June and beyond, everyday events took on special significance, for the little time left was precious.

We'd pause to recall the certain words and happenings which each one of us carries in his heart — the accumulation of 4 years . . . striving and discovering, schedules and programs, meetings, practices and rehearsals.

Our friendships were warmer than ever, as we realized we would soon part.

A conversation in the cafeteria, a rush in the locker room, all the familiar sounds and smells were behind us.

We were filled with the mixed emotions of melancholy and gladness, as the clocks ticked away out final hours here.

While we spoke of our graduation parties, and danced our way through the prom.

Then finally received our diplomas.

We have discovered much here, we thought in these vital four years of transition, our experiences here have taught us of ourselves, and our world, and our memories of M.H.S., though misted by time, are always vitally of us, to be recalled and cherished . . .

The confused bittersweetness of which growing up is compounded is what we were here, when we careened through our days — studying, cheering, giggling, weeping, hoping and achieving — through success and disappointment.

We have discovered much here, we thought, but a future of degrees and careers and children, a shining vision of what is to come, will keep us on the path of discovery.

SPECIAL EDITION

"REAL ESTATE MAXIMUMS"

★★ HOME DELIVERY

Agents personally vested in homes they list

When clients turn to RE/MAX to sell their homes, they know they will find a qualified professional who will do more than just plant a "for sale" sign and hope for the best.

RE/MAX Sales Associates out-sell other full-time agents because RE/MAX Associates make a personal investment in every listing they add to their inventory.

RE/MAX top producers don't merely list homes, they market homes. And that means investing time, ingenuity and advertising dollars to insure a speedy sale.

Under the RE/MAX Concept, RE/MAX Sales Associates control their own advertising expenditures. At most other companies, the broker decides how much money will be spent promoting a home. Some agents actually have to plead for advertising dollars. But not at RE/MAX.

Like RE/MAX Broker/Owners, RE/MAX Sales Associates are in business for themselves, but not by themselves. As independent contractors, RE/MAX Agents determine for themselves how much needs to be spent to market a home properly. After all, who knows more about a particular piece of real estate, the listing agent or the broker? Besides, under the RE/MAX Concept, every dollar expended on advertising comes out of the RE/MAX Associate's own pocket.

"Above the Crowd!" producers know the value of advertising. And they aren't afraid to use it. By 1991, RE/MAX Sales Associates are expected to spend $250 million per year in personal and group advertising.

That's commitment.

When a RE/MAX Sales Associate lists a home, he or she makes a personal financial investment. If the home doesn't sell, the agent can actually lose money. No wonder RE/MAX Associates are so determined to find the right buyers willing to pay the right price.

RE/MAX Concept attracts top agents

DENVER — RE/MAX is the only major real estate organization designed by top producers for top producers. While other companies rely heavily on beginners and part-timers to fill their ranks, RE/MAX is made up entirely of experienced, full-time professionals — the best in the business.

What attracts the industry's finest to RE/MAX is an innovative management plan called the RE/MAX Concept.

Under the RE/MAX Concept, Sales Associates receive up to 100 percent of every commission they earn. In exchange, they share office expenses and pay a set management fee.

In many ways, the RE/MAX Concept offers real estate salespeople the opportunity to work together in the same professional capacity as doctors, lawyers and others who have chosen to band together in pursuit of a common goal.

Most real estate organizations are run very differently from RE/MAX.

For example, many large conventional companies rely on sheer numbers of agents to reap a profit. Unlike RE/MAX Associates, conventional agents must surrender up to 50 percent of every commission they earn to their broker. Because many top producers are no longer willing to hand over half of their earnings, conventional companies are forced to recruit large numbers of inexperienced agents to generate income.

Individually, conventional agents may be involved in only a handful of home sales a year, but their companies still benefit from the overall volume of transactions.

This is good news for conventional companies, but it's bad news for serious agents and, especially, the consumer.

The RE/MAX Concept was designed to attract real estate's finest agents. It has. In the United States, RE/MAX Associates are number one in individual production, averaging more than 23 real estate transactions per year per agent.

Just as the RE/MAX Concept offers top producers fair compensation for their efforts, RE/MAX Associates offer the public unequalled excellence in real estate service.

RE/MAX stands for "real estate maximums," for RE/MAX Affiliates and their clients.
