MCS CELEBRATES 75th ANNIVERSARY

In 1908, a normal school was founded in Upper Montclair, New Jersey, on the slope of the first Watchung Ridge. Today, after many additions and several name changes, that original teacher training school is now Montclair State College, a multi-purpose institution of higher learning. With the beginning of the new academic year, Montclair State College launches a year-long celebration of its 75th Anniversary.

Today, Montclair State College is the largest of the nine state colleges, offering a broad range of opportunities for students in both graduate and undergraduate programs. The college is organized into five distinct schools; Business Administration, Fine and Performing Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Mathamatical and Natural Sciences and Professional Studies, as well as a Division of Graduate Studies. Montclair also offers undergraduate degrees through the Weekend College, Second Careers Program (for students over age 25) and the Center for Continuing Education. The College is a state-designated Center of Influence for the Fine and Performing Arts in Northern New Jersey. In response to the special significance the 1983-84 year holds for Montclair State College, many new programs are being inaugurated and many special 75th Anniversary events planned. More information about the 75th Anniversary celebration is available by contacting the Office of Public Information at (201) 893-4333.

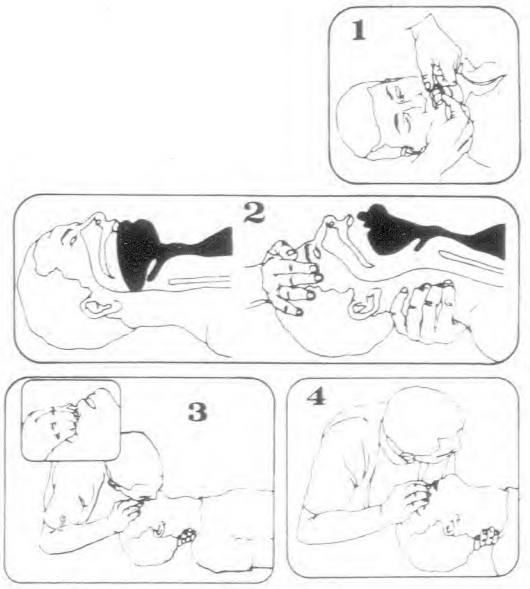
IMPORTANT CONSUMER INFORMATION

WHEN BREATHING STOPS, SECONDS COUNT...

Save a Life by Artificial Respiration



MOUTH-TO-MOUTH METHOD

1. If foreign matter is visible in the mouth, wipe it out quickly with your fingers, wrapped in a cloth, if possible.

2. Tilt the victim's head backward so that his chin is pointing upward. This is accomplished by placing one hand under the victim's neck and lifting, while the other hand is placed on his forehead and pressing. This procedure should provide an open airway by moving the tongue away from the back of the throat.

3. Maintain the backward head-tilt position and, to prevent leakage of air, pinch the victim's nostrils with the fingers of the hand that is pressing on the forehead.

Open your mouth wide; take a deep breath; and seal your mouth tightly around the victim's mouth with a wide-open circle and blow into his mouth. If the airway is clear, only moderate resistance to the blowing effort is felt.

If you are not getting air exchange, check to see if there is a foreign body in the back of the mouth obstructing the air passages. Reposition the head and resume the blowing effort.

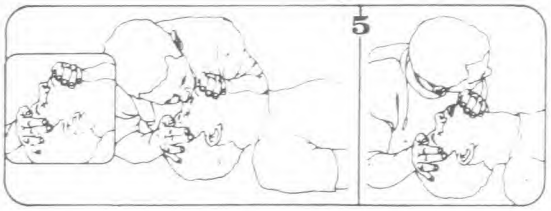
4. Watch the victim's chest, and when you see it rise, stop inflation, raise your mouth, turn your head to the side, and listen for exhalation. Watch the chest to see that it falls.

When his exhalation is finished, repeat the blowing cycle. Volume is important. You should start at a high rate and then provide at least one breath every 5 seconds for adults (or 12 per minute).

When mouth-to-mouth and/or mouth-to-nose resuscitation is administered to small children or infants, the backward head-tilt should not be as extensive as that for adults or large children.

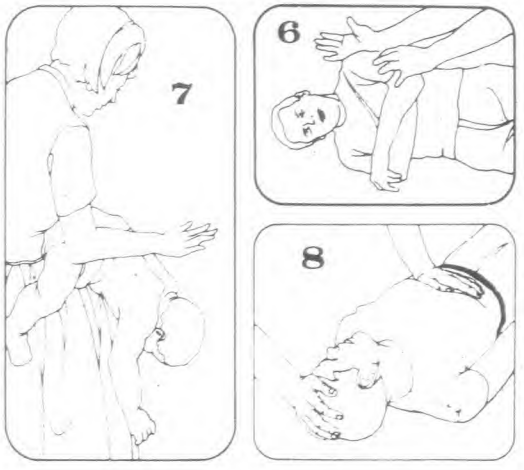
The mouth and nose of the infant or small child should be sealed by your mouth. Blow into the mouth and/or nose every 3 seconds (or 20 breaths per minute) with less pressure and volume than for adults, the amount determined by the size of the child.

If vomiting occurs, quickly turn the victim on his side, wipe out the mouth, and then reposition him.



MOUTH-TO-NOSE METHOD

5. For the mouth-to-nose method, maintain the backward head-tilt position by placing the heel of the hand on the forehead. Use the other hand to close the mouth. Blow into the victim's nose. On the exhalation phase, open the victim's mouth to allow air to escape.



RELATED INFORMATION

6. If a foreign body is prohibiting ventilation, as a last resort, turn the victim on his side and administer sharp blows between the shoulder blades to jar the material free.

7. A child may be suspended momentarily by the ankles or turned upside down over one arm and given two or three sharp pats between the shoulder blades. Clear the mouth again, reposition, and repeat the blowing effort.

8. Air may be blown into the victim's stomach, particularly when the air passage is obstructed or the inflation pressure is excessive. Although inflation of the stomach is not dangerous, it may make lung ventilation more difficult and increase the likelihood of vomiting. When the victim's stomach is bulging, always turn the victim's head to one side and be prepared to clear his mouth before pressing your hand briefly over the stomach. This will force air out of the stomach but may cause vomiting.

When a victim is revived, keep him as quiet as possible until he is breathing regularly. Keep him from becoming chilled and otherwise treat him for shock. Continue artificial respiration until the victim begins to breathe for himself or a physician pronounces him dead or he appears to be dead beyond any doubt.

Because respiratory and other disturbances may develop as an aftermath, a doctor's care is necessary during the recovery period.

IMPORTANT CONSUMER INFORMATION

First Aid for Poisoning

IS IT POISON? Symptoms vary greatly. Base your suspicion that a person has swallowed poison on—

- Information from the victim or an observer
- Presence of a poison container
- Sudden onset of pain or illness
- Burns around the lips or mouth
- Chemical odor on the breath
- Pupils contracted or dilated

FIRST AID FOR POISON BY MOUTH

Conscious victim:

Dilute the poison with a glass of water or milk if the victim is not having convulsions.

Call the poison control center or your doctor or dial 0 or 911; call the emergency rescue squad.

Save the label or container for identification; save vomited material for analysis.

Do not neutralize with counteragents. Do not give oils.

If the victim becomes unconscious, keep his airway open.

Unconscious victim:

Maintain an open airway.

Call the emergency rescue squad.

Give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation or cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) if necessary.

Do not give fluids; do not induce vomiting; if the victim is vomiting, position his head so that vomit drains from his mouth.

Save the label or the container for identification; save vomited material for analysis.

Convulsions:

Call the emergency squad as soon as possible.

Do not attempt to restrain the victim; try to position him so that he will not injure himself.

Loosen tight clothing.

Watch for obstruction of the airway and correct it by tilting the head; give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation or CPR if necessary.

Do not force a hard object or finger between the teeth.

Do not give any fluids.

Do not induce vomiting.

After a convulsion, turn the victim on his side or in the prone position, with his head turned to allow fluid to drain from his mouth.

Instructions on product labels for specific treatment of poisoning may be wrong; contact your doctor or a poison control center for instructions.

Have on hand:

These products should be used only on the advice of your doctor or the poison control center.
1. Syrup of ipecac (to induce vomiting)
2. Activated charcoal (to bind, or deactivate poison)
3. Epsom salts (a laxative)

If poisoning occurs where medical help is unavailable (e.g., camping), you may induce vomiting if the victim has taken an overdose of drugs or medication, but not if a strong acid, alkali, or petroleum product has been swallowed. Then get the victim to a hospital as quickly as possible.

CLARA MAASS MEDICAL CENTER

Clara Maass Medical Center, 1 Franklin Avenue, Belleville, New Jersey, is a 570-bed, non-profit medical center. For 110 years, it has provided complete health care services for the afflicted for every nationality, race and creed.

The medical center was founded in 1870 as the Newark German Hospital with facilities for about 50 patients. After World War I, the name was changed to Newark Memorial.

The hospital grew and expanded services, but financial problems beset the institution after the Depression. The Lutheran Church assumed operation of Newark Memorial Hospital in 1945, and the hospital's name was changed to Lutheran Memorial.

In the early 1950's, it became apparent the hospital had outgrown its home in Newark. A large tract of land overlooking scenic Branch Brook Park on the Belleville-Newark borderline was purchased. The hospital now know as Clara Maass moved to its present home on Franklin Avenue in 1958.

The hospital's name was again changed in the 50's. Clara Louise Maass, one of the first graduates of the nursing school in Newark, was honored for her heroism and dedication to the nursing profession. Nurse Maass gave her life in 1901 as a volunteer in the Cuban yellow fever experiments.

Tel-Med at Clara Maass Medical Center is the first phase of a community Health Education Center. Tel-Med has been made possible at Clara Maass Medical Center through funds from the Florence & John Schumann Foundation, The Fannie E. Rippel Foundation and the Center For Health Affairs.

As business grows in desire and ability to resolve consumer complaints, knowing how to complain becomes increasingly important. Following these tips not only will save you time, money, and frustration, but also help the marketplace be more efficient and responsive to you, the consumer

Save all documents associated with products you buy, including sales receipts, repair records, contracts, guarantees and warranties, model numbers and serial codes, cancelled checks or payment proof, copies of promotional material, and any information concerning a contact you may have had regarding the product (time, date, person, facts given and received, etc.)

In the event of a problem, first contact the store where you made the purchase, having all relevant information handy. State facts clearly and concisely, and be patient; give the retailer a chance to respond. The situation may be aggravating and inconvenient, but getting angry may only compound the problem. Be reasonable.

If your first contact was by phone, briefly confirm in writing any agreements or information received, noting the time and date of the conversation and person with whom you spoke. Keep a copy of this letter for your records.

If your first contact is by letter, address it to a company's consumer representative or business's owner or manager. Enclose copies of all supporting information and documents, and include the information mentioned above for contact by phone. Keep a copy. Timing of the letter could become important if failure occurs during a warranty period.

As always, should you find no satisfaction through the retailer and manufacturer, contact BBB/Chicago for assistance. Remember, the most sure way to avoid complaints is to "Investigate Before You Invest."

RULE OF "78" ON FINANCE CHARGES

BBB/Chicago receives many calls every day from people who think they have been bilked on an interest rebate when paying off a finance contract early. A rebate must be made on unused finance charges, but most people don't understand the procedure which determines the rebate.

The procedure is called the "Rule of 78," derived from the fact that the sum of the digits from 1 to 12 is 78. Thus, an installment note made for 12 months will use up 12/78 of the interest charge in the first month, 11/78 the second month, and so on. Consequently, 12 times as much of the finance charge is earned during the first month as during the 12th month.

For example, if you took out a 12-month loan with finance charges of $100 and then paid off the loan in 6 months, you would receive a rebate of only $26.93 — not $50 as many people would expect. This figure is arrived at by adding the interest used for the first 6 months and subtracting it from the $100, as follows:

1st Month	$15.38
2nd Month	14.11
3rd Month	12.81
4th Month	11.50
5th Month	10.25
6th Month	8.98
Total Earned Charge	$73.07
Total Rebate	$26.93

REFUND OR EXCHANGE A PRIVILEGE - NOT A RIGHT

It is important to remember that refunds and/or exchanges are voluntarily provided by stores with which you may do business. They are privileges, not rights. In making purchasing decisions, a store's policies concerning refunds/exchanges are considerations you should keep in mind.

When shopping, check the following:

Does the store have an exchange policy? Will they give refunds, or will they credit your account or supply a credit slip?

To effect an adjustment, will you need a sales receipt? Most stores will not make an exchange or adjustment without one.

Is there a time limit in which you have to return the merchandise? If so, is it also applicable to gift items?

Will the store accept return of personal apparel, e.g. nightgowns, etc.?

Are there delivery charges for packages, or is delivery included?

Does the store have a policy of "satisfaction guaranteed" or your money back?

As a privilege, the consumer should respond to refund/exchange options with respect to the store providing this service. Return merchandise as promptly as possible, and if returning a sealed item, don't break the seal.

CHART FOR THE MOST FREQUENTLY RECOMMENDED STAIN REMOVAL METHODS FOR RUGS AND CARPETS

NOTE: FOR BEST STAIN REMOVAL, WORK FAST—DON'T LET STAIN SET. IN TREATING ANY STAIN, WORK FROM OUTER AREA TOWARD MIDDLE TO KEEP STAIN FROM SPREADING FURTHER.

STAIN	REMOVAL METHOD
Blood	Place ice cube quickly over spot to keep stain from setting. Use warm sudsy water . . . blot . . . rinse. If spot has set, use dry paint remover.
Chewing Gum	Scrape off gum without damaging fibers. Rub ice cube over area to harden gum and make scraping easier. Sponge off remainder.
Chocolate	Sponge with cool water. Work detergent into stain. Rinse with cool water. Allow to dry and repeat if stain persists.
Ink	Apply small amount of fresh milk. Cover with cornstarch . . . remove and apply solution of mild soap and water. If stain has set, use warm water and mild suds . . . scrub in circular motion.
Iodine	Soak in cool water. Use tablespoon of lemon juice in sudsy water. Rub mildly. If stain persists, see removal method for rust stains.
Mildew	Brush away surface mold. Vacuum . . . lightly sponge with detergent . . . rinse . . . dry immediately with electric heater or fan. Air out room.
Mud	Let dry . . . brush off. Any remaining stain can be cleaned with mild soap and water.
Milk	Pour table salt on stain immedately. Salt acts as sponge and will soak up milk. Vaccum. If stain has set, use lemon juice in warm water containing mild suds . . . rinse.
Nail Polish	Apply small amount of nail polish remover. Sponge with warm water. Test remover to see if safe for dye on rug or carpet. (See "Note" below.)
Oil Stains	For fiber rugs only. Apply cleaning fluid. Test fluid to see if safe for dye on rug or carpet. (See "Note" below.)
Rust	Sprinkle warm water over stain . . . squeeze lemon juice on . . . allow to dry. Repeat adding salt to warm water . . . allow to dry. Rinse with warm water.
Shoe Polish	Use dry cleaning fluid only. Test to see if dye on the rug or carpet is safe for fluid use. (See "Note" below.)
Pet Stains	Sponge with cool water . . . add ¼ cup white vinegar to quart of water . . . sponge again. Let solution remain on stain 15 minutes. Sponge with detergent suds . . . use damp cloths for rinsing.

NOTE: When using commercial cleaners, solvents or alcohol, test carpet's ability to retain color by dabbing a little of cleaner on inconspicuous area of rug before using on stain itself. Methods described above are considered safest for most fibers. No method described above may remove a deeply imbedded stain.

UPHOLSTERY STAIN REMOVAL GUIDE

Stain	Cleaning Method	Cleaning Agents
Chewing gum	If the gum is soft, lay an ice cube on it until it hardens. Scrape off as much as you can with a dull knife or putty knife. If any remains, moisten it with a volatile cleaner and use the knife again while the spot is still wet.	Ice cube; volatile cleaner
Shoe polish	Water-soluble polishes (usually white) are easily removed by simply brushing them vigorously. Paste or wax polish can be removed with an application of volatile cleaner.	Volatile cleaner
Lipstick	This is the toughest of all stains to remove since lipsticks vary in chemical makeup. Scrape up excess with a dull or putty knife and follow with an application of volatile cleaner.	Volatile cleaner
Blood	Rub with clean cloth saturated with cold water. If this fails to remove the stain, apply a little household ammonia with a rag or brush and follow with a cold water wash (wait about two minutes for the ammonia to do its job). If the stain is still there, make a thick paste from corn starch and cold water and apply to the stain. Let it set until dry—then pick it off and brush away particles. Keep applying until stain disappears.	Cold water; household ammonia; corn starch and cold water paste
Nausea	Sponge the area with a clean cloth saturated with cold water. Follow with a washing of neutral soap suds in warm water. If the stain remains rub lightly with a cloth dipped in a volatile cleaner.	Neutral soap; volatile cleaner
Ice cream	Scrape off excess with dull knife and rub with cloth dipped in very hot water. If the stain persists, rub the spot with a cloth dipped in warm soap suds. Follow by rubbing with a clean cloth moistened in cold water. After this is done, rub the area lightly with volatile cleaner.	Hot water; volatile cleaner; neutral soap
Candy other than chocolate	Soak a cloth in very hot water and rub the spot.	Hot water
Grease, oil	Scrape off as much as possible with a dull or putty knife. Rub lightly with a clean cloth saturated with volatile cleaner. Make sure your rubbing motions are toward the center of the stain to keep the stain from spreading.	Volatile cleaner
Tar	Remove as much as possible with a dull or putty knife. Apply volatile cleaner, let it dry and use the knife again. Repeat as required.	Volatile cleaner
Chocolate	Rub the spot with lukewarm water and follow with a light rubbing of volatile cleaner.	Lukewarm water; volatile cleaner

MCS CELEBRATES 75th ANNIVERSARY

In 1908, a normal school was founded in Upper Montclair, New Jersey, on the slope of the first Watchung Ridge. Today, after many additions and several name changes, that original teacher training school is now Montclair State College, a multi-purpose institution of higher learning. With the beginning of the new academic year, Montclair State College launches a year-long celebration of its 75th Anniversary.

Today, Montclair State College is the largest of the nine state colleges, offering a broad range of opportunities for students in both graduate and undergraduate programs. The college is organized into five distinct schools; Business Administration, Fine and Performing Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Mathamatical and Natural Sciences and Professional Studies, as well as a Division of Graduate Studies. Montclair also offers undergraduate degrees through the Weekend College, Second Careers Program (for students over age 25) and the Center for Continuing Education. The College is a state-designated Center of Influence for the Fine and Performing Arts in Northern New Jersey. In response to the special significance the 1983-84 year holds for Montclair State College, many new programs are being inaugurated and many special 75th Anniversary events planned. More information about the 75th Anniversary celebration is available by contacting the Office of Public Information at (201) 893-4333.

MANDATORY PENALTIES ISSUED FOR DRUNK DRIVING

New Jersey has the toughest drunk driving laws of any state in the Union. In some cases, even passengers aren't immune from mandatory penalties. Just carrying an open bottle or can of an alcoholic beverage in a car can spell trouble for travelers in the Garden State.

Persons shall be presumed to have consumed an alcoholic beverage in violation of the law if an unsealed container of any alcoholic beverage is located in the passenger compartment of the motor vehicle, the contents of the alcoholic beverage have been partially consumed and the physical appearance or the conduct of the operator or any passenger is associated with the consumption of an alcoholic beverage.

"Unsealed" means a container with the original seal broken or a container such as a glass or cup.

The New Jersey Department of Motor Vehicles provides the following list of penalities for drunk driving:

FIRST OFFENSE:

IMPORTANT CONSUMER INFORMATION

First Aid for Poisoning

IS IT POISON? Symptoms vary greatly. Base your suspicion that a person has swallowed poison on—

- Information from the victim or an observer
- Presence of a poison container
- Sudden onset of pain or illness
- Burns around the lips or mouth
- Chemical odor on the breath
- Pupils contracted or dilated

FIRST AID FOR POISON BY MOUTH

Conscious victim:

Dilute the poison with a glass of water or milk if the victim is not having convulsions.

Call the poison control center or your doctor or dial 0 or 911; call the emergency rescue squad.

Save the label or container for identification; save vomited material for analysis.

Do not neutralize with counteragents. Do not give oils.

If the victim becomes unconscious, keep his airway open.

Unconscious victim:

Maintain an open airway.

Call the emergency rescue squad.

Give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation or cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) if necessary.

Do not give fluids; do not induce vomiting; if the victim is vomiting, position his head so that vomit drains from his mouth.

Save the label or the container for identification; save vomited material for analysis.

Convulsions:

Call the emergency squad as soon as possible.

Do not attempt to restrain the victim; try to position him so that he will not injure himself.

Loosen tight clothing.

Watch for obstruction of the airway and correct it by tilting the head; give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation or CPR if necessary.

Do not force a hard object or finger between the teeth.

Do not give any fluids.

Do not induce vomiting.

After a convulsion, turn the victim on his side or in the prone position, with his head turned to allow fluid to drain from his mouth.

Instructions on product labels for specific treatment of poisoning may be wrong; contact your doctor or a poison control center for instructions.

Have on hand:

These products should be used only on the advice of your doctor or the poison control center.
1. Syrup of ipecac (to induce vomiting)
2. Activated charcoal (to bind, or deactivate poison)
3. Epsom salts (a laxative)

If poisoning occurs where medical help is unavailable (e.g., camping), you may induce vomiting if the victim has taken an overdose of drugs or medication, but not if a strong acid, alkali, or petroleum product has been swallowed. Then get the victim to a hospital as quickly as possible.

(NO ONE REMEMBERS I WAS LOSING MY HAIR...)

The new prosthetic hair addition process added hair to my bald spots so naturally people don't remember I was going bald. It recreated a frontal hairline and crown, just like the one I had before. It appears as though my hair is actually growing out of my scalp. You can sleep, swim, or play any sport in it! Shampoo in the shower and blow it dry! It is your choice!

MANDATORY PENALTIES ISSUED FOR DRUNK DRIVING

New Jersey has the toughest drunk driving laws of any state in the Union. In some cases, even passengers aren't immune from mandatory penalties. Just carrying an open bottle or can of an alcoholic beverage in a car can spell trouble for travelers in the Garden State.

Persons shall be presumed to have consumed an alcoholic beverage in violation of the law if an unsealed container of any alcoholic beverage is located in the passenger compartment of the motor vehicle, the contents of the alcoholic beverage have been partially consumed and the physical appearance or the conduct of the operator or any passenger is associated with the consumption of an alcoholic beverage.

"Unsealed" means a container with the original seal broken or a container such as a glass or cup.

The New Jersey Department of Motor Vehicles provides the following list of penalities for drunk driving:

FIRST OFFENSE:
$250 to $400 fine, six months to one year license suspension, discretionary imprisonment not to exceed 30 days and 12 to 48 hours detainment in an Intoxicated Driver Resource Center at a charge of $25 a day.

SECOND OFFENSE:
$500 to $1,000 fine, 30 days of community service, two-year license suspension, imprisonment of not less than 48 consecutive hours or more than 90 days.

THIRD OFFENSE:
$1,000 fine, 10-year license suspension, 180 days imprisonment.

PLUS: A $100 surcharge to be deposited in Drunk Driving Enforcement Fund on all offenses.

Successful completion of DMV Alcohol Countermeasure Screening and Evaluation Program.

An auto insurance surcharge of $1,000 a year for three years to be assessed on first and second offenses.

Surcharge on third offense of $1,500 a year for three years.

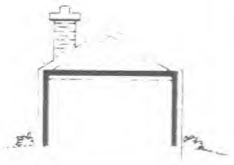
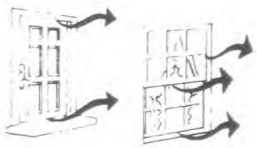
Energy Saving Tips for the Home

Protect from outside heat and cold

About 40 million single-family homes in the United States are not adequately protected from outside weather, according to Federal Energy Administration estimates. Here are some tips to make sure yours is not one of them.





Insulate

No matter how you heat or cool your home, you can reduce the load on your heating and cooling equipment by as much as 20 to 30 percent by investing a few hundred dollars in insulation. That's about as much as it would cost you to buy a color television set. But the benefits of insulation—lower utility costs—continue for years

Find out if your home needs insulation. Your needs will depend on the climate in which you live and the amount of insulation, if any, you already have. For guidance, consult with a reputable insulation dealer in your community or with your local building inspector or county agent.

If attic insulation were added to the 15 million single-family homes that need it, we'd save about 8 percent in your heating oil each winter day.

Draft-proof windows and doors

Test your windows and doors for airtightness. Move a lighted candle around the frames and sashes of your windows. If the flame dances around, you need caulking and/or weatherstripping.

Try slipping a quarter under the door. If it goes through easily, you need weatherstripping.

Caulk and weatherstrip doors and windows. It's easy to do yourself. Caulking and weatherstripping materials cost about $25 for the average house (12 windows, 2 doors). Savings in annual energy costs could amount to 10 percent or more.

If every gas-heated home were properly caulked and weatherstripped, we'd save enough natural gas each year to heat about 4 million homes.

Heating and cooling

Heating and cooling our homes account for most of our residential energy costs. Don't waste any of that precious conditioned air, whether you pay for it yourself or pay your landlord for it.

During both heating and cooling seasons . . .

Close off unoccupied rooms and shut their heat or air-conditioning vents; or turn off room air-conditioners.

Heating energy savers

Don't turn the heat on until you have to. On cool evenings use your fireplace instead and add a blanket at night.

Lower your thermostat to 65 degrees during the day and 55 degrees at night. You can save about 3 percent on your fuel costs for every degree you reduce the average temperature in your home. In addition, you can save about 1 percent on your heating bills for every degree you dial down only at night.

For comfort in cooler indoor temperatures, use the best insulation of all — warm clothing.

If every household in the United States lowered its average heating temperature 6 degrees over a 24-hour period, we would save more than 570,000 barrels of oil per day or more than 3.5 percent of our current oil imports.

Cooling energy savers

Overcooling is expensive and wastes energy. Don't use or buy more cooling equipment capacity than you actually need.

When you use air-conditioning . . .

Set your thermostat at 78 degrees a reasonably comfortable and energy-efficient indoor temperature.

Don't set your thermostat at a colder setting than normal when you turn your air-conditioner on. It will NOT cool faster. It WILL cool to a lower temperature than you need and use more energy.

Set the fan speed on high except in very humid weather. When it's humid, set the fan speed at low; you'll get less cooling but more moisture will be removed from the air.

Clean or replace air-conditioning filters at least once a month. When the filter is dirty, the fan has to run longer to move the same amount of air, and this takes more electricity.

If everyone raised air-conditioning temperatures 6 degrees, we'd save the equivalent of 36 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity used in the Nation in 1 year.

Kitchen energy savers

Cooking energy savers

Never boil water in an open pan. Water will come to a boiler faster and use less energy in a kettle or covered pan.

Match the size pan to the heating element. More heat will get to the pan; less will be lost to surrounding air.

When using the oven, make the most of the heat from that single source. Cook as many foods as you can at one time. Prepare dishes that can be stored or frozen for later use or make all oven-cooked meals.

Repair leaky faucets promptly. One drop a second can waste as much as 60 gallons of hot or cold water a week.

Dishwashing energy savers

The average dishwasher uses 14 gallons of hot water per load. Use it energy efficiently.

Be sure your dishwasher is full, but not overloaded, when you turn it on.

Let your dishes air dry. If you don't have an automatic air-dry switch, turn off the control knob after the final rinse. Prop the door open a little and the dishes will dry faster.

If every dishwasher user in the country cut out just one load a week, we'd save almost 15 million kilowatt-hours of electricity every day or the equivalent of about 9,000 barrels of oil a day.

CLARA MAASS MEDICAL CENTER

Clara Maass Medical Center, 1 Franklin Avenue, Belleville, New Jersey, is a 570-bed, non-profit medical center. For 110 years, it has provided complete health care services for the afflicted for every nationality, race and creed.

The medical center was founded in 1870 as the Newark German Hospital with facilities for about 50 patients. After World War I, the name was changed to Newark Memorial.

The hospital grew and expanded services, but financial problems beset the institution after the Depression. The Lutheran Church assumed operation of Newark Memorial Hospital in 1945, and the hospital's name was changed to Lutheran Memorial.

In the early 1950's, it became apparent the hospital had outgrown its home in Newark. A large tract of land overlooking scenic Branch Brook Park on the Belleville-Newark borderline was purchased. The hospital now know as Clara Maass moved to its present home on Franklin Avenue in 1958.

The hospital's name was again changed in the 50's. Clara Louise Maass, one of the first graduates of the nursing school in Newark, was honored for her heroism and dedication to the nursing profession. Nurse Maass gave her life in 1901 as a volunteer in the Cuban yellow fever experiments.

Tel-Med at Clara Maass Medical Center is the first phase of a community Health Education Center. Tel-Med has been made possible at Clara Maass Medical Center through funds from the Florence & John Schumann Foundation, The Fannie E. Rippel Foundation and the Center For Health Affairs.
