Friends Honor S. D. Woolley On Eighty-Third Birthday

Complimentary Dinner at the St. Elmo Hotel for Pioneer Resident Reveals the Love and Esteem of Entire Community.

Forty-seven men from various walks of life, from clergymen to farmers and from the physical to the professional in the community, were present at the St. Elmo Hotel Thursday evening to honor S. D. Woolley, a pioneer resident of the township, who celebrated his eighty-third birthday. The dinner was given by the MONMOUTH COUNTY MOTHERS' HOME ASSOCIATION in honor of S. D. Woolley, with the toastmaster being Dr. Robert C. Wells.

The dinner program was planned by Rev. William R. Guffick, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Monmouth County, with the women's club committee acting as hostesses.

The Hotel was crowded to capacity with the townspeople, who gathered to share in the festivities. Among those present were: Charles J. Williams, publisher of the Asbury Park Press, and Mrs. Woolley, J. Lyle Kinmonth, formerly of the Home, and Mrs. May V. W. Thompson, who opened the program with a Prologue.

The next regular meeting will be held on February 8th. Mrs. William Gilmore, of the Home, extended the congratulations to Mr. Woolley.

Financial Independence. The institution of life insurance is one of the most important educational campaigns from April 17th to April 22nd. The campaign is being conducted by various writers in this country and abroad. One of the main slogans for the six-day period will be "Financial Independence." Observation of the work of people who have omitted life insurance as a public necessity and a safeguard for the future, as a matter of fact, we occasionally meet people who have purchased insurance from 1923 to the present.

"The Life Insurance movement has shrunk to an unprecedented degree. Every possible form of insurance has occurred. Insurers estimate that people are being wiped out or dwindled to a fraction of the former values. Stocks and bonds have been the main source of income since 1928 have taken discounting decisions.

Yet a life insurance policy is as valuable today as when it was purchased. For the facts concerning one of the most beneficial institutions is that no one can understand the mind.

Home Evening. "It's an ill wind that blows some good," says the old proverb, and this applies to show business produce some good results. One such result is the home evening movement. The evenings produce more for the public interest than any other form of activity. Innumerable folks who in boom times were out spending money on various forms of amusement are seen now in their homes. The home evening movement is vital to the health of our many towns, are running fascinating activities. In this movement the young people are playing among friends and neighbors. The smiles and laughter long hours. Newspapers are talking about it.

30 YEARS AGO

Congress Votes Independence for the Philippines Over Hoover's Veto—President Again Calls for Balancing of the National Budget.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

SHANGHAI: Between 400 and 500 American citizens will be lowered over the cliff at Shanghai tomorrow if the Chinese government does not accede to the demand of President Hoover for their return within four weeks. The situation is complicated by the fact that the Chinese government is under pressure from the Nationalist Chinese of the north to speed up the evacuation of foreigners from Shanghai.

The American citizens, who are housed in a large building on the American legation grounds, have been living in a worst-case scenario that resembles a concentration camp. They have been subjected to constant harassment and restrictions on their movement, and their lives have been turned upside down by the ongoing conflict. The Chinese government has been reluctant to facilitate their return, and President Hoover has criticized them for their inaction.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that the American citizens are housed in a building that is surrounded by a high wall, making it difficult for them to communicate with the outside world. The building is also prone to frequent attacks by the Nationalist Chinese, who have been known to enter the area and loot the homes of American citizens.

However, the Chinese government has been reluctant to comply, and the situation has become increasingly tense.

MAIL SCHEDULE

The following is a list of the mail schedule for the current week:

- New York to San Francisco: 10:30 a.m.
- New York to Los Angeles: 11:30 a.m.
- Los Angeles to New York: 9:00 a.m.
- Los Angeles to San Francisco: 9:30 a.m.

These schedules are subject to change due to weather conditions and other unforeseen circumstances.

PRESIDENT PICKARD

President Hoover has expressed his displeasure with the Chinese government's refusal to evacuate the American citizens from Shanghai. He has called on them to do so immediately to prevent a humanitarian crisis.
