Commuter lots may be coming to Sayreville

Borough exploring options with NJ Transit, Academy for new lots

BY JENNIFER DOME
Staff Writer

Sayreville commuters may soon get more options in terms of parking, as discussions with NJ Transit and Academy bus lines for new commuter lots move forward.

For the past month, the Borough Council has actively discussed creating at least two commuter parking lots for residents who use NJ Transit and Academy buses. These lots would be the first of their kind in the borough.

Councilman Thomas Marcinczyk said that during a recent meeting with Academy, the company expressed interest in working with the borough toward the construction of commuter lots. The borough has already been represented in similar discussions with NJ Transit by Marcinczyk, Chief Financial Officer and acting Business Administrator Wayne Krönowski and Borough Engineer Jay Cornell.

"This has been ongoing since (John) McCormack was mayor, and we still don't have a commuter parking lot," Marcinczyk said, referring to Mayor Kennedy O'Brien's predecessor.

Cornell told council members Jan. 22 that NJ Transit would be interested in working with the borough on building commuter parking lots.

Two sites that the council is looking at for the parking lots are on Ernston Road and Raritan Street, Cornell said. The Ernston Road site would have room for 200 parking spaces and the Raritan Street site could have 100 spaces, he said.

According to Cornell, there are three options for the control of the commuter lots. The first is for NJ Transit to construct and maintain the lots on its own. This would make the parking spaces available to anyone who bought a parking permit for the location, Cornell said.

The second option is for the borough to retain total control of the parking lots and permit only borough residents to park there. With this option, the borough may have to pay for the construction and maintenance of the lots on its own.

The last option is to negotiate with NJ Transit and share the cost of the construction and maintenance of the lots. Then, a percentage of the parking spaces could be reserved for borough residents, while the remaining spaces could be used by anyone.

Cornell said that the cost of construction and maintenance may determine the cost of parking permits.

"We do have a good share of commuters," Councilman John Melillo said.

Melillo, a past commuter and liaison to the borough's commuter advisory board, said that many residents use both the Academy and NJ Transit bus lines. He requested that the borough discuss the commuter lot issue with Academy as well,

Council questioned on potential $18.5M buy

Governing body intent on condemning land behind high school's east campus

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

Even though the projected cost of a 200-acre tract has increased with each new real estate appraisal, the Old Bridge Township Council remains firm in its resolve to eventually purchase the land for preservation as open space.

In a 6-1 vote on Monday night, the council amended, for the fourth time, a bond ordinance originally passed nearly two years ago to appropriate $18.5 million for the purchase of the property known as Cedar Ridge II, which is owned by developer Marvin Schmeltzer.

Township Attorney William Ruggiero, who has been negotiating the sale of the property, located between Morganville and Ticetown roads, had requested the amendment to the bond ordinance in order to bring it in line with its possible cost.

The $18.5 million figure, based on the determination of a condemnation panel of real estate experts, was given to Ruggiero in October. While the final cost of the land has yet to be decided, Ruggiero has continued to appeal the findings of the condemnation panel, which was formed in state Superior Court.

Of the $18.5 million, $927,500 would be used as a down payment. The remaining principal of more than $17.6 million would be paid out over 40 years, according to the amended ordinance.

In response to two residents who spoke out against the amended ordinance, Mayor Barbara Cannon and several council members reiterated the need to preserve open space in light of ongoing residential developments in the township.

In February 2001, the Planning Board denied Schmeltzer's application to construct a 139-unit development of single-family homes on the property. That application was denied due to Schmeltzer's failure to appear before the board at a Feb. 6, 2001, meeting.

During the past two years of negotiating to purchase the land through condemnation, most resi-

Gov. visits Peter Pank Diner for lunch and listening

BY JENNIFER DOME
Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — It's time to hold onto the reins, lest they get away from us, Gov. James E. McGreevey told the lunch crowd at the Peter Pank Diner on Route 9 yesterday.

Quoting a Sayreville senior, Annette Zeisler, who met with the governor to speak about his proposed state budget, McGreevey made the quote the day's catch phrase, explaining that it is now necessary for the state to live within its means.

"You can only spend money that you take in," McGreevey said after sitting down to a bowl of chicken noodle soup with the locals.

The governor's budget deals with the state's $5 billion deficit by nearly freezing aid to most public schools and cutting funds from several programs. However, the budget does give schools a $200 million increase in education aid over last year — half to be used toward new school construction and half for public education.

In order to provide the added aid to schools, the NJ SAVER program was cut for households with incomes above $100,000.

Nationwide, there are 46 states that are facing a total budget deficit of $75 billion, according to the governor's office. The combination of tough economic times, a downturn in the stock market, and the aftermath of the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11 have all contributed to the state's financial woes, the governor said.

Yesterday, McGreevey spoke to the diner's owner, Alex Panko, and manager, Mary Sohor, about how running the state is similar to running a diner.

"You need to be tied to the revenues you're bringing in," McGreevey said.

Sohor said that it's a shame that grants for programs dealing with culture and arts, as well as science and technology, had to be scaled back; however, she said she understands that the state needs to prioritize its spending.

"We made some really hard decisions, but everybody has to make hard decisions," the governor said.

One such decision was to save more than $100 million by cutting aid to colleges and universities.

Mark Duggan, a former student at Sayreville War Memorial High School, told the governor yesterday that he was disappointed state schools will lose funds since he plans to go back to school to attend Montclair State University, Upper Montclair. He said he was concerned about increased tuition as a result.

The governor told him that in spite of the funding cuts, money for tuition assistance grants will be increased this year.

Tony Malara, an Old Bridge resident and teacher at the Sayreville Middle School, supported Duggan's concerns about state aid for schools. Malara said that while the level of pay is better for teachers than in the past, there are still some teachers who must hold two jobs to sustain their families.

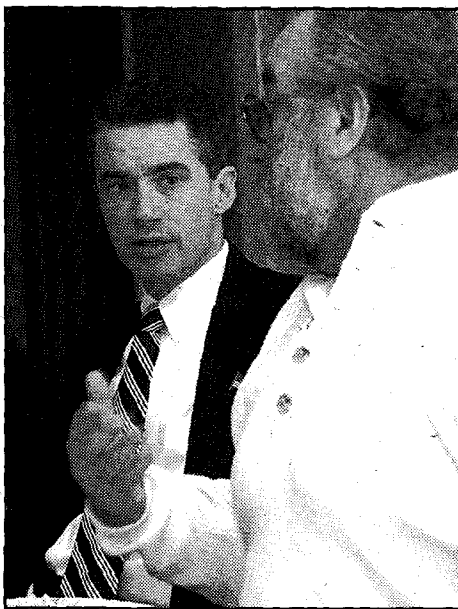

"It's all right. I guess it's livable," Malara said about the budget.

Another Sayreville resident, Joe Cuccinello, a steelworker in Perth Amboy, said his main concern about the budget is accountability. He wanted to know what assurance residents will have that, if the state holds back in their budget, the county and local governments will do the same.

Last year, the state cut its workforce by 2,000 employees, yet there were more than 5,000 new workers hired at municipal and school levels, the governor said. He told the state Assembly on Feb. 4 that local education employment grew by 50 percent in 2002 as well.

"You need to have that accountability at every level of the process," McGreevey said.

Another issue McGreevey touched on during his "listening tour" at Peter Pank was the increasing development seen across the state.

Annette Zeisler of Sayreville laughs with Gov. McGreevey about an old saying she used when referring to the governor's state budget proposal during his visit to Peter Pank.

The governor said he is working to pass anti-sprawl legislation that would provide for regional planning, impact fees and more power to municipalities to stop unwanted growth.

McGreevey said yesterday that development is not only a problem in towns like Sayreville but all over the state.

"Every day we lose 50 acres to increased development," he said.

McGreevey said he wants older communities to be revitalized with development occurring "in the right way in the right places."

Also included in McGreevey's budget is $18 million for cancer care and research, and a $2 million down payment on AIDS education and prevention programs.

The governor said he would also like to merge the New Jersey Turnpike Authority and the New Jersey Highway Authority to save money, and begin paying down a $4 million debt created by the installation of E-ZPass.

Another convenience store robbed by armed suspect

BY JENNIFER DOME
Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — A man holding a large knife and possessing a gun robbed the Reddy's convenience store on Route 35 north Feb. 7, according to police reports.

The black male, described as approximately 5 feet 9 inches tall with a medium build, entered the store at 7:50 p.m., approached an employee at the cash register and asked for the money inside, police reports said. When the employee could not open the drawer, the man asked the victim to get another employee to help.

The man, who wore a black jacket, black stocking hat and a shirt pulled over his mouth and nose, threatened the second employee by placing the knife at the employee's neck, according to police reports. The suspect also pulled up his shirt to show a pistol tucked into the waist band of his pants to the victim.

The man then cut the phone line and the line for the cash register, police reports said.

He took the entire cash register and several packs of Newport brand cigarettes and left the store, according to police reports.

The employees saw the man flee the scene on foot, heading south on Route 35 north, police reports said.

Although police searched the area, the suspect was not found. However, police believe that the suspect may have eventually gotten into a silver sport utility vehicle that was observed near the store, according to police reports.

A month earlier, on Jan. 7, another convenience store was burglarized by a man wielding a large knife. The suspect took an undetermined amount of money from the cash register at the Border Avenue Quick Chek and fled the store. There was no indication that the man had a gun in his possession during this incident.

The suspect in the January incident was described as a black male, approximately 5 feet 9 inches tall. He wore a dark-colored jacket, light-colored hat and a blue bandanna over his face, according to police reports.

Sayreville Police Detective Michael Bandurski said Wednesday that he has not determined there to be a connection between these two incidents, but both are under investigation.

Law panel plans estate and income tax seminar

The New Jersey State Bar Foundation will offer a free seminar on estate and federal income tax from 7-9 p.m. on Feb. 13 at the New Jersey Law Center, One Constitution Square (off Ryders Lane), New Brunswick.

Suspect accused of dealing in numerous communities

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

A fugitive accused of selling drugs in Old Bridge, Sayreville and other area communities remains incarcerated at Rahway State Prison following his Jan. 30 arrest and a subsequent raid on his Woodbridge Township apartment by narcotics officers from Old Bridge and other jurisdictions.

Guy C. Jackson, 30, was apprehended at approximately 9:30 p.m. Jan. 30 in the parking lot of a Woodbridge hotel by officers from the narcotics units of the Old Bridge and Woodbridge police departments, as well as from the Middlesex County Prosecutor's Office and the state Department of Corrections, police said.

Jackson, a convicted felon who in May 2000 escaped from Kintock, a drug abuse halfway house in Newark, had 28 bags of crack cocaine and approximately $2,900 in cash in his possession at the time of his arrest, police said. The cash is believed to be proceeds from drug sales, police said.

Police subsequently executed a search warrant at an apartment in the Fords section of Woodbridge that Jackson was reportedly renting. From that raid, police seized drugs believed to have a street value of more than $500,000, including 3.5 pounds of cocaine, a half pound of crack, 3 pounds of marijuana and approximately 120 ecstasy pills, reports state.

In addition, police also confiscated a .38-caliber semi-automatic handgun, digital scales and as much as $65,000 in diamond jewelry and Rolex watches from the apartment.

Five vehicles and seven motorcycles were also seized from outside the residence, according to Old Bridge Police Lt. William Volkert, who is in charge of the investigation.

Jackson was known to drive different vehicles including rental cars to travel to various communities to sell narcotics, Volkert said.

"He used several different rental cars and a number of cell phone numbers," Volkert said.

An additional $20,000 in cash, also believed by authorities to be profits from drugs sales, were seized from the same apartment, police reported.

Jackson was charged with possession of cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to distribute, possession of the drug ecstasy, possession of ecstasy with intent to distribute, possession of marijuana, possession of marijuana with intent to distribute, and possession of a weapon for unlawful use.

Jackson's girlfriend, Leshawn Mealing, 31, and cousin, Fareed Pitts, 22, who also reportedly resided with the suspect in the Fords apartment, were also arrested by Old Bridge police during the raid on various drug-related charges. Both Mealing and Pitts assisted Jackson in conducting drug sales, Volkert said.

Christopher Jackson, 52, of Perth Amboy, who police said is Guy Jackson's father, was also arrested at the apartment and charged with hindering apprehension of a felon, namely his son, by the Middlesex County Prosecutor's Office, Volkert said.

Mealing, Pitts and Christopher Jackson were later released on bail.

Mealing was charged with possession of cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to distribute, possession of ecstasy, possession of ecstasy with intent to distribute, possession of marijuana, possession of marijuana with intent to distribute and possession of a weapon for unlawful use.

Pitts was charged with possession of cocaine, and possession of cocaine with intention to distribute in a drug-free zone, police stated.

Guy Jackson has been known to conduct drug sales in Old Bridge, Sayreville, Perth Amboy, South Amboy and Woodbridge, Volkert said. His arrest came as the result of a three-month investigation into his reported drug-related activities within Old Bridge, he added.

The suspect has moved several times and has allegedly resided at multiple addresses in Woodbridge and other communities in Middlesex County, Volkert said.

Guy Jackson has also used various aliases in conducting his business and personal affairs, Volkert noted.

An investigation into the case involving Jackson's activities is ongoing, he added.

since both bus services would be permitted to use the stops at the commuter lots, according to Melillo.

The commuter advisory board is putting together a survey to determine the needs of commuters in the borough, Melillo said. The survey will be used in conjunction with assessments by NJ Transit and possibly Academy as well, the councilman said.

O'Brien said that commuter parking is an important issue in the borough, and not only for commuters. A resident recently complained that people taking the bus from Main Street are parking their vehicles on Avon Way. This has made it difficult for the residents of that street to back out of their driveways, the mayor said.

"We have a problem with commuter parking all over Sayreville," Avon Way resident Francis Pagliuco told the council at its Jan. 27 public meeting.

While the borough continues to discuss opening commuter parking lots with NJ Transit and Academy bus services, O'Brien has also instructed the Police Department's Traffic Safety Bureau to look into problems such as the one on Avon Way.

Officials may also try to move the bus stop on Main Street closer to the police station and further from the residential neighborhood and Avon Way, as per Marcinczyk's suggestion.

"People need to park somewhere, and these parking areas may be a solution," Melillo said.

O'Brien said the commuter parking lots will take some time since efforts must be coordinated with county and state transportation officials, as well as the bus companies.

Cultural panel to present Irish singer in concert

The Middlesex County Cultural and Heritage Commission will present Mick Moloney, "The Irish Renaissance Man," in concert at 7 p.m. on Feb. 26 at Middlesex County Vocational and Technical High School, 112 Rues Lane, East Brunswick.

Moloney is a tenor banjo player who also sings and plays the mandolin, mandola, bouzouki and guitar. He and his fellow performers will present an evening of music, stories and dance. Admission is free. Registration is required.

For more information and to reserve, call (732) 745-4489. Individuals with hearing impairments should call (732) 745-3888 TTY or 711 via the New Jersey Relay Service.

Funding for the concert is provided by the Middlesex County Cultural and Heritage Commission, the Middlesex County Board of Chosen Freeholders, and the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a partner agency of the National Endowment for the Arts.

"MY ASTONISHING TRUE STORY..."

"How I Lost 64 Lbs. and Gained My Self-Confidence!"

My name is Tania Olsson. I am a single mother. My son, Chaz, is eight years old. I am a customer service representative. I dropped 64 lbs. of fat in 11 short months. My story is so remarkable. I would like to share it with you.

By Tania Olsson

My cheeks burned with embarrassment as I stared at the television screen. We were watching a recent family video. "I'm huge!" I gasped.

I had always been tall and trim in high school. I was on the swim team and volleyball team. I was shocked and appalled to realize how fat I had become.

My folks never allowed junk food in the house. When I got old enough to make my own food choices, I went hog wild. Chips, ice cream and soda pop were my routine. When I was pregnant I started eating for two. After Chaz was born I cooked for two and ate for four!

I used food as comfort. I told myself it was just baby fat. It would go away. But it didn't go away. I was getting fatter every week.

With fat came anxiety and depression. My self-esteem was nil. I could see folks turning sideways to squeeze past me. I'd cringe inside.

My weight made me crazy. I refused to eat in public. I knew what people were thinking...Look at what you're eating...no wonder you're so fat. Go ahead, honey, have another cheeseburger.

"I was shocked when I saw my family video. How did I get so fat?"

Tania Olsson before shedding 64 lbs. with hypnosis.

I used to be so hard on fat people. Now I was fat, hurt and desperate.

Dieting Nightmares

I was always trying the next fad diet. I tried grueling exercise routines. It would never stick. When I didn't feel the results, I'd get discouraged. The cravings were unbearable.

I lost 30 pounds twice with weight loss drugs. My weight shot back up so fast it made my head spin. The drugs set me on an emotional rollercoaster. I couldn't bear the thought of a third go around. Nothing I do works, I told myself as I sat on the couch with a gallon of ice cream. What's the use of trying?

Ray of Sunshine

One day a close friend encouraged me to try hypnosis. I was skeptical. "I've heard they get great results," she said. I could only hope. The free screening was like a ray of sunshine. My consultant was caring and concerned. The office is professional and comfortable. Their level of confidentiality was impressive. I held my breath for the sales pitch. It didn't happen. They explained the program in detail. Left it for me to decide. The fee was much lower than I expected.

I signed up and lost 64 lbs. in 11 short months. I lost ten inches off my waist. My dress size plunged from a bulging 22 to sleek size 12.

Whole New Me!

Immediately after my first session my appetite diminished. I feel completely satisfied with small, healthy portions. Next my food choices changed. When I was fat I would not touch raw vegetables. With hypnosis I have developed this strange attraction to carrots! They're as appealing as potato chips used to be. I know I will never, ever gain the weight back. Now that I'm thin and happy with my body, I can't think of a single reason to overeat.

Hypnosis Delivers Benefits!

I used to feel sluggish by 9:00 a.m. I was so depressed. Even my hair drooped.

Since hypnosis I look and feel young, alive and vibrant. My skin is glowing. My hair is thick and shiny. I have tons of energy. I'm light on my feet.

My family and friends all want to know how I did it. They want to be like me. The other day a coworker said, "I wish I could have even half your energy." That was the best compliment of all.

When I was fat I smoked skinny cigarettes to make me feel thin. Quitting smoking was a side benefit I had not expected. I breathe better. Move better. Enjoy more activities.

I hated walking in and out of plus size stores. I would rush my shopping bags to the car. Everybody knows

"You can lose weight—because I did!"

Tania Olsson after hypnosis.

you're fat, but come on, that's the big girl's store. Shopping for a size 12 is the most wonderful feeling in the world. I no longer worry about eating in public. When eyes are on me, I know they're thinking, "Hey, she's got it together."

Chaz is tickled to see my biceps. We recently went rock climbing. We enjoy rollerblading. There's no way I could have done that before.

Recommends

I suffered when I was overweight. I lived in a state of overwhelming helplessness. I was out of control. It was frightening.

Hypnosis was the smartest investment of my life. My consultant took the time to listen to my fears. I never felt pressured. My success was their main concern.

I got more than I expected from my private hypnosis sessions. I feel wonderful about myself. If it wasn't for hypnosis I wouldn't be enjoying my slim, healthy body today. Don't think I'm a lone success story either. I meet other successful clients all the time.

My only regret is that I waited and suffered for months. You don't have to suffer another second. Call 732-308-3434 right now to schedule your free hypnotic screening. I know your consultant will answer all your questions and put your fears to rest. If they don't think hypnosis is right for you, they will tell you so. You owe it to yourself to find out. CALL NOW.

OUR NO-RISK GUARANTEE

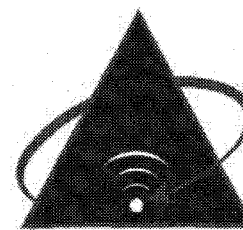

Your success is our top priority. If at your first program session you are not satisfied for any reason, we will refund 100% of your money before you leave the building. No questions asked. You risk nothing.

Billing patients subject of debate among officials

BY JENNIFER DOME
Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — Although the Borough Council has discussed using third-party billing to build up funds for the borough's first aid squads, members of the squads expressed disapproval of the idea at Monday's council meeting.

Sayreville First Aid Squad President Mary Novak said the squad's problem is not with money, but with the number of volunteers.

"We don't have a money problem," Novak said, adding that the generosity of borough residents allows them to purchase all the equipment they need.

The proposal from Councilman Thomas Marcinczyk was to enlist the help of an outside company to bill residents' insurance companies and Medicaid for the transportation expense.

Borough Chief Financial Officer and acting Business Administrator Wayne Kronowski said that the residents would not be billed directly for this service. Instead, Dynamic Claims Management (DCM) Inc., based in Toms River, would bill insurance companies and Medicaid for the cost to transport patients.

Kronowski said DCM estimates that the borough could raise $750,000 a year by billing for the emergency services. This information is based on census information, not on the Sayreville and Morgan first aid squads' actual calls, Kronowski said.

The money earned by the third-party billing would then be used to hire paid emergency medical technicians in the case that the volunteer numbers continue to dwindle.

Novak said that while the squads are in need of members, there are a lot of disadvantages to third-party billing. She said that while the billing company said it does not bill residents directly, she believes that, in essence, the residents are billed through their insurance companies or Medicaid.

Novak also said that once the patients are charged for the emergency services, the squads could no longer be considered a volunteer organization, even if the members are lending their time free of charge.

"We'll lose all the volunteer status and not get any money for it," Novak said.

Currently, the squads receive aid to pay for the training of their members. The volunteers also get help with college tuition for themselves and their family members, Novak said.

"If you charge one person one dollar, you lose your volunteer status," Novak said.

billing. Kronowski said that since the council needs the support of the first aid squads to pursue the idea, and since the squads are not interested, the council decided "not to pursue it any further."

At Monday's meeting, Councilman Thomas Pollando made a motion to take the idea of third-party billing off the table since the first aid squads were not interested in the program. Marcinczyk and Councilwoman Phyllis Batko voted against the motion, but it passed with the remaining four votes.

Marcinczyk said Wednesday that he intends to continue pursuing the idea since he does not feel the squads were provided with enough information about third-party billing. He said the council directed Kronowski and other borough officials to meet with the squads and fill them in, but the meeting had yet to take place.

"I'm going to continue to fight for it. I'm not backing down," Marcinczyk said.

Marcinczyk said he understands the concerns of the squad members, but his responsibility also lies with the other residents of the borough. He said that in the future, the number of volunteers could be so low that the borough would be forced to hire paid emergency medical technicians. If there is no money in a fund to pay for this cost, the borough would then have to increase taxes to compensate for it, Marcinczyk said.

He added that there was concern from the squads that the money would not go directly to the emergency services. He said that he wants all the money to be set aside for the squads, whether they need to pay for personnel or purchase equipment.

Marcinczyk said that neighboring towns that have implemented third-party billing, such as Monroe and Jamesburg, took months to negotiate with their first aid squads to gain approval. He said this may be just the first step in the process to implement third-party billing.

Soccer parent accepts pretrial intervention

BY MARK ROSMAN
Staff Writer

A Middletown resident who was charged with attacking a coach during a youth soccer tournament held in Marlboro in August has entered a pretrial intervention program.

According to Monmouth County First Assistant Prosecutor Robert A. Honecker Jr., John Nolan Jr. of Middletown was accepted into the program on Nov. 13. Under the terms of the program, which lasts at least one year and can last up to three years, Nolan must report to a probation officer on a regular basis and not have any other criminal involvement during the period of probation, according to Honecker.

If Nolan completes the program satisfactorily, the charges that were lodged against him in the wake of the incident that occurred at the Marlboro Middle School, Route 520, just after 2 p.m. Aug. 24 will be dismissed, Honecker said.

REGIONAL INTEREST

According to a story published by Greater Media Newspapers, the incident involving Nolan took place during a game at the 15th annual Marlboro Soccer Tournament, which features several age groups and teams from Marlboro and other communities. The contest in question was between two teams of 10-year-old boys — the Wall Raiders and the Hazlet United Metrostars.

Tournament co-director Len Parry said the conflict began after a Hazlet player went down with an injury and Wall coach Thomas Hasko made an insensitive remark about the player.

Hazlet coach Salvatore Ligouri was restrained from confronting Hasko, Parry said. The referees decided to address the situation by giving both coaches red cards, which would have resulted in their immediate ejection from that match and a suspension from their team's next game.

Hasko was called to the center of the field to receive his red card, but argued the referee against the call, Parry said.

According to Marlboro police, it was at that point that Nolan, the parent of a player, approached Hasko and struck him in the face. Police transported Nolan and Hasko to headquarters. Hasko was not charged with a crime. Nolan was charged with aggravated assault.

According to Honecker, in the past an incident such as the one that occurred at the Marlboro soccer match may have been recorded as a simple assault and could have been handled in municipal court. However, under a law signed by Gov. James E. McGreevey, incidents such as this that occur at youth sporting events are now regarded as criminal aggravated assaults and must come to the attention of the county prosecutor's office and the state Superior Court.

The pretrial intervention program is offered through the court to defendants who have no prior record of criminal acts. The diversion program allows a defendant to complete a probationary period, avoid a trial and possible incarceration and to eventually have the charges dismissed.

In this case Nolan was offered the option of entering the pretrial intervention program and accepted that offer last fall, Honecker said.

Mayor warns of more speeding enforcement

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — In response to concerns repeatedly raised by residents in many neighborhoods, township police will be increasing their efforts to enforce speed limits on local roads by expanding the use of radar and assigning two police units to monitor rates of speed, Mayor Barbara Cannon has announced.

Regular police patrols as well as traffic and safety officers will now be equipped with radar detection equipment and will be checking key roads in the township on a regular basis, according to the mayor.

Essentially, two different police units rather than just one unit will be responsible for ensuring that motorists adhere to posted speed limits, Cannon explained.

"More officers will be involved in targeted areas throughout the town," she said.

Police will also continue to use two speed-tracking trailers, and will usually station themselves near those devices to issue summonses to any motorist who exceeds posted speed limits, the mayor stated.

In addition, the township will purchase a traffic counter with a speed-tracking component. The counter as well as more radar units will be purchased by funds dedicated in last fiscal year's budget to the purchase of police equipment, Cannon said.

"We'll have more equipment and more police involved," Cannon pointed out.

The new practices and monitoring equipment are included in an intensive action program created to address excessive speeding on local roads, according to a press release issued Feb. 4 from the mayor's office.

The program consists of an enforcement component as well as an evaluation of suggested traffic-calming devices, such as speed humps and road reconfigurations, Cannon said.

To complement the stepped-up enforcement, the township will be testing the effectiveness of the suggested traffic-calming devices and redesigns to see if they actually cause motorists traveling on designated roads to slow down, the mayor's office indicated.

Besides speed bumps, intersection roundabouts will also be reviewed by police and officials, and a pilot program will be instituted once the necessary data is gathered, the mayor's office stated.

Any new equipment purchased for the program will be used by already existing traffic patrols, Cannon said.

"Speeding automobiles create hazardous situations and diminish the quality of life in residential neighborhoods," Cannon said. "Unfortunately, often the offenders live in the immediate area."

Worried residents, especially those with young children, have continuously called and e-mailed the mayor's office with concerns and complaints about motorists speeding through developed areas, Cannon said.

The mayor has also fielded some of the same concerns during town meetings she has held in various venues and at functions she attends throughout the sprawling township, Cannon said.

Morganville and Ticetown roads have often been named by residents as thoroughfares where speeding is out of control, Cannon said.

Princeton Road in the Madison Park section, Athens and Washington avenues in the Central Park neighborhood, Inverness Drive and Southwood Drive are also frequently mentioned by residents as roads locations where motorists often violate posted speed limits, Cannon added.

In general, speeding is an ongoing problem in all areas of the township, but particularly on roads that transverse residential neighborhoods, the mayor said.

"Most of the roads are in residential areas," Cannon said.

"It's the frequent users of the roads. It's not always the passers-by," she noted. "They have to be cognizant of the concerns of their neighbors."

Opinion

Our View

New law tough on 'sports rage'

People who think they could someday be inclined to cause a problem at a youth sports event should pay particular attention to an article in today's Suburban. Take note of a follow-up report on page 27 to a story that was first published last summer.

On Aug. 24, during a match at the Marlboro Soccer Tournament involving two teams of 10-year-old boys, the parent of a youth who was playing in the match was arrested and charged with striking an adult who was coaching.

According to Monmouth County First Assistant Prosecutor Robert A. Honecker Jr., in the past an incident such as the one that occurred at the Marlboro soccer match may have been recorded as a simple assault and have been handled in municipal court.

However, under a law signed by Gov. James E. McGreevey in response to so-called "sports rage," incidents such as this that occur at youth sports events are now regarded as criminal aggravated assault and must come to the attention of the county prosecutor and the state Superior Court.

That's exactly what happened in this case, and in November the person who was charged was accepted into a pretrial intervention program offered through the Superior Court to defendants who have no prior record of criminal acts. The probationary period will last from one to three years. There no doubt has been emotional and economic costs to that individual.

Think once, think twice, think three times before causing a problem at what is supposed to be a learning experience for youths, or else the lesson learned will not be for children, but a hard one for an adult who should know better.

Panel ought to be more knowledgeable

I am writing to agree with Ed Kryzkowski's opinion that the Sayreville Shade Tree Commission should be curbed or dismantled.

In Mr. Kryzkowski's letter in the Jan. 16 issue of the Suburban, he detailed all his problems with three locust trees planted on the public right of way on his property. He also explained his futile efforts of two years that were dismissed by the mayor and the Borough Council.

I, too, had a similar problem with a flowering pear tree planted on my property. This particular type of tree grows fast, is perfectly shaped, and has beautiful spring flowers — you can see them all over town. However, this tree has two character flaws — it has superficial roots that disrupt lawns, driveways and sidewalks, and its branches droop and then split. Trees that are planted should have roots that grow deep in the ground, like a pin oak or ash.

Several years ago, I had a flowering pear tree disrupting my lawn and sidewalk; even the garbage trucks kept hitting it. I kept trimming it, to no avail, and called the borough and asked them to remove it since they had planted it. I was told it was my responsibility. So I had it removed, but my sidewalk is still uneven.

When I tried to get a new homeowner's insurance policy, I was told the sidewalk needed to be repaired. At the time, I couldn't even get an estimate, so I gave up. However, when I saw the trees planted on Main Street, I became furious and called to complain. Again, it made no difference.

The Shade Tree Commission is a wonderful idea; however, the people on it should be knowledgeable about the trees planted. It is our tax money, and it should be used wisely.

African-Americans seen in forefront of United States' defense

The pages of history overflow with the heroic efforts of African-Americans who fought to preserve this great nation. They showed a sense of honor, duty and courage that exemplified the very best America represents. They were ordinary men and women who performed extraordinary deeds in extraordinary times.

In 1770 Crispus Attucks led an interracial attack against British troops to protest heavy taxation on the colonists. The weapons used by Attucks and his men were snowballs and stones. The British used their guns, and Crispus Attucks was among those killed in what was to become the Boston Massacre. In 1888 the city of Boston erected a statue to recognize Attucks as the "First to die for Independence."

Throughout every military conflict, African-Americans have served this nation with honor and glory. African-Americans were with the Continental Army at Bunker Hill and Lexington in America's struggle for independence. Twenty-four black soldiers were awarded the Medal of Honor during the Civil War for their exceptional valor. During the settlement of the American West, a group of black soldiers and scouts acted as a peacekeeping force. They were called the Buffalo Soldiers, and in commemoration of their brave deeds, a 12-foot statue was erected at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

During World War I, the 93rd Division — made up of all black troops — was awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French government for its exemplary bravery in battles at the Argonne, Chateau Thierry and other sites. During World War II black heroes abounded in all branches of service and were awarded high military honors for extraordinary heroism. Black women also joined the military and served their nation in this great battle for America's survival. During the Vietnam War thousands of African-Americans chose to serve the cause of America with courage and honor.

From the Civil War through the Vietnam conflict, 90 African-Americans have been given this nation's highest military award — the Medal of Honor — for their heroic deeds. The African-American community can look with pride to those who served in defense of this nation.

We can dwell on the negative aspects of history, or we can learn from history. As Carter Woodson, founder of Black History Week stated: "We should emphasize not black history, but the black in history. What we need is not a history of selected races or nations, but the history of the world void of national bias, race hate and religious prejudice."

Redmond sets record straight regarding Old Bridge YMCA

I would like to set the record straight regarding the proposed Old Bridge YMCA. A recent editorial has accused the Township Council and me in particular, of playing partisan politics over the placement of the Y at Manino Park.

First, I am not now nor have I ever been opposed to the development of Manino Park. On the contrary, I have consistently voted for funding for the park.

Second, when the mayor and her administration were failing in their attempts to purchase a vital piece of Perth Amboy real estate on Route 516 in order to gain access to the proposed park, I stepped up and personally lobbied Mayor Joseph Vas on the township's behalf. As a result, we were able to obtain the property from the city of Perth Amboy.

Third, I recently attended a meeting with the mayor and Tom Badcock from the Recreation Department, where he stated that the tennis courts were the most underutilized facility in town, so it seemed excessive to rule out town center because of the courts.

Finally, will Veteran's Park receive a much-needed overhaul or will it fall through the cracks during our quest to bring the YMCA to Manino Park?

I have no personal preference as to the location of the YMCA, but I have a responsibility to the taxpayers to determine the cost in tax dollars of any facility. The township has proposed to provide land and infrastructure for the project, but no one is willing to give me a cost estimate. The residents of Old Bridge have recently received the largest tax increase since the 33 percent they were handed during the mayor's first year in office. I am going to continue to ask these questions, and eventually I will get the answers that the residents deserve.

When you accuse people of playing partisan politics, remember it was the Democrat-controlled council that named and funded the park, and I personally attended the dedication. My job as an at-large councilman is to represent all of Old Bridge's residents.

MOM line will generate employment and revenue

I have written many letters to your newspaper over the years advocating the Monmouth-Ocean-Middlesex (MOM) passenger rail line project.

The MOM project is reactivation of approximately 40 miles of existing rail right of way. The line runs through southern Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean counties.

I am a Jamesburg resident who, along with others, supports this beneficial public transportation project for many positive reasons.

Currently, the MOM line is opposed by the Middlesex County Freeholders and the local governments of Jamesburg, South Brunswick and Monroe.

I respect the opposition of the mayor of Jamesburg and the Borough Council toward the MOM line.

However, I disagree with them on their position.

They do have valued concerns about the safety of our schoolchildren and property values. These concerns can be mitigated.

They were addressed in a microstudy done for Jamesburg some time ago and can be resolved.

Middlesex County should not take the position of opposing the MOM rail line. The Freeholders should take a position of neutrality.

The county is not made up of just three municipalities.

We did not know that the municipalities in Middlesex County that host passenger rail stations and lines, such as the Northeast Corridor Line and the New Jersey Coast Line, belong to a separate semi-autonomous region inside the county.

These municipalities receive the benefits of passenger rail service and the economic ripple that comes from them.

For Middlesex County to continue its opposition to the MOM project based on lower property values, traffic and overall safety is contradictory and not right.

Some speculate that there are special interest groups lobbying heavily and putting pressure on some of our elected officials because they fear that passenger rail service in southern Middlesex County will take away revenue from them. Far from it.

All forms of public/private transportation will benefit from this project.

The MOM passenger rail project is needed now.

Our region needs a comprehensive transportation network involving all forms.

The MOM line will generate fewer car trips and more employment, both union and private, long term and short term.

The MOM line will help revitalize Jamesburg's downtown business district and offer its residents more than 100 destinations in the tri-state region including New Brunswick and Newark Airport.

Middlesex County and the municipalities of Jamesburg, Monroe and South Brunswick will realize that the MOM line can aid them in providing another source of revenue for their coffers. Jamesburg cannot afford to oppose this project.

How many more tax increases can Jamesburg residents and business owners take before their economic backs are broken?

As a Jamesburg resident, I ask my mayor and council members to re-evaluate their position.

The concerns of property values and safety can be mitigated. The federal Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS), now ongoing, will address these concerns.

The economic revenue that is generated by a town center-type passenger station cannot be ignored.

Board hopefuls must join race by Feb. 24

With the deadline for filing for school board candidacy less than three weeks away, the president of the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) has urged citizens sincerely interested in education to consider school board candidacy.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions to appear on the ballot for this year's election is Feb. 24. The annual school election will take place on April 15.

"For the citizen who cares about children and their education, school board membership is a rewarding public office," said Glenn B. Ewan, president of the NJSBA. "Schools today face challenges, ranging from growing enrollment to higher academic standards and new technology.

Our communities need dedicated leaders on their boards of education to guide the schools through this time of change."

To help citizens make an informed decision on school board candidacy, the NJSBA has produced a "School Board Candidate Kit." The kit includes information on the requirements for school board candidacy, a calendar of important dates in the school election process and a sample nominating petition. It also provides information about the New Jersey School Ethics Act.

Candidate kits are available at local board of education offices or by calling the New Jersey School Boards Association at (609) 278-5202.

Bank, businesses and two homes OK'd for Rt. 516 site

BY SUE M. MORGAN
 Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — A retail and office center will replace eight billboards at the intersection of Route 516 and Jake Brown Road now that the Zoning Board of Adjustment has granted a use variance and site plan approval to an applicant seeking to construct the two-story structure.

With seven of its nine members present, the board voted unanimously to approve the 11,900-square-foot office/retail component of the combination commercial and residential application submitted by Jake Brown Plaza, LLC.

Hearings began on the application in July. A use variance to construct two single-family homes behind the office/retail building and fronting on Tuscarora Circle was approved in a 5-2 vote, with board members Jim Galante and Harold Reck dissenting.

The applicant had sought the variance to construct the homes because the land fronting Tuscarora Circle is actually zoned for an office/general (OG) use, despite it being in a residential neighborhood.

The placement of two homes behind the center would prevent any possible future commercial development on Tuscarora Circle and fit in with the residential homes already there, according to Jonathan Heilbrunn, the Old Bridge-based attorney who presented the applicant.

In stating his objection, Galante noted that the homes appeared to be within 40 feet of the parking lot of the retail/office center in spite of the 50-foot buffer required by the township.

Later, however, the board did grant preliminary and final site plan approval for the homes in a 6-1 vote with only Reck opposing. Included in that motion was an approval to subdivide the Tuscarora Circle land into two residential lots.

Building plans previously presented by Garry Wasko, a project architect, show that the retail/office center will house a bank. The other spaces will be leased to proprietors of small stores and businesses, Wasko has said.

Plans also previously presented by a traffic engineer call for the reconfiguring of a traffic signal at the intersection of Jake Brown Road and Route 516. The applicant will pay for that reconfiguration, which is needed so that drivers exiting the retail/office center's parking lot can safely turn onto the county road, Heilbrunn has said.

Fund-raiser to benefit Monroe letter carrier

The employees of the Monroe Township post office will hold a fund-raiser from 1-6 p.m. on Feb. 16 at the Jamesburg Elks Lodge, West Railroad Avenue, to raise money for a veteran post office employee who has been diagnosed with and is fighting cancer. All proceeds will be used to help offset the rural letter carrier's medical bills.

The event will feature music, food, etc. The Basement Musicians Guild, the Yingling Brothers and Ball 'n Chain will provide live entertainment.

A gift of $25 at the door would be appreciated. Additional donations may be mailed to Jamesburg Elks Lodge No. 2180, 74 W. Railroad Ave., Jamesburg, NJ 08831.

Former bowling alley OK'd for offices, more parking

BY JENNIFER DOME
Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — An old bowling alley will be replaced with an office building now that the Planning Board has approved an application filed by Pacific Realty and heard over three meetings since December.

Planning Board Chairman John Misiewicz said the board, which had requested more information from the applicant during the course of the last two months, approved of all architectural renderings and engineering details finally provided to the board at its Feb. 5 meeting.

Pacific Realty now has permission to demolish one section of a former bowling alley and bar on Jernee Mill Road and renovate another portion of the building into office space. The office building will have an area for storage space, and the parking lot will be expanded.

The proposed office building is a permitted use on the 8,790-square-foot site, said Michael Intile, the applicant's engineer. Since there is little parking on the site, the applicant's proposal includes demolishing 3,000 square feet of the existing building to make room for a parking lot. The remaining 3,200 square feet will be renovated, with new walls built on two sides and new stucco installed on all four sides, Intile said.

Though several of the walls on the existing building are closer to nearby residences than is permitted under code, the board saw the problem as an existing condition and allowed it to remain, officials said. Board members did request, however, that the applicant install a vinyl fence and additional buffering with landscaping to shield the building from residents.

Access into the office building, which will house the offices of Pacific Realty and Continental Construction, a construction management company, will be from Jernee Mill Road. Cars will enter and exit the site using the single-access drive, Intile said.

Applicant Joseph Yankilevich has said that the construction office will be strictly for managerial work. No dump trucks or other construction equipment will enter or be stored on the site, Yankilevich said. The storage area of the office building will be used for file storage by both businesses, he added.

In addition to the two partners who run the pair of businesses, there will be three employees working there, Intile said. Yankilevich said garbage on the site will be stored indoors until it is picked up by a private company for disposal.

The businesses will operate between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and occasionally on Saturdays, Yankilevich said.

In December, a Furman Avenue resident, Mike Fialo, questioned the board about traffic on Jernee Mill Road. He told board members he was concerned that the access into the office building's site from Jernee Mill would cause a problem.

Borough Engineer Jay Cornell said that if the access drive was moved to the Furman Avenue side of the property, it would create an even bigger problem for the residents of that road.

Currently, the borough is discussing making improvements to the intersection of Jernee Mill Road, MacArthur Avenue and Washington Road, which is not far from the office building's proposed site. Borough officials are hoping to work with Middlesex County officials on that project, since those roads are county owned.

On Campus

Monica Lucas of Sayreville was named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Quinnipiac University, Hamden, Conn.

Michelle Ferraro, formerly of Sayreville, has been awarded membership in the 2003 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges honors program. A senior at The College of New Jersey, Ewing, Ferraro earned the recognition based on her scholastic excellence and outstanding campus leadership.

The following students were named to the dean's list for the fall quarter at Northeastern University, Boston: Bethany Bandola of the Parlin section of Sayreville, majoring in speech-language pathology and audiology; Katherine O'Kelly of Sayreville; and Edward Siclari of Parlin.

Baby injured in Rt. 35 crash

SAYREVILLE — An infant boy was critically injured during a motor vehicle collision on Route 35 northbound on Feb. 7.

At about 6 p.m., Mustadha S. Sackor, of Jamaica, N.Y., whose infant son was a passenger in the back seat, allegedly made an illegal left turn at an intersection from the southbound side of Route 35 onto the northbound side. Sackor's 1997 Kia was hit on the rear passenger-side of the vehicle by a 2003 Ford driven by Matthew Y. O'Rourke, of South Amboy, according to police reports.

The 11-month-old infant, who was restrained in a child seat in the back of Sackor's vehicle, was ejected from the car and found on the roadway, police reports said.

The infant was transported by the Morgan First Aid Squad and then by helicopter to Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, New Brunswick, for treatment of possible life-threatening head injuries.

The infant's condition was still critical as of Saturday, police said.

Sackor was transported by the Morgan First Aid Squad to the Raritan Bay Medical Center, Perth Amboy division, for treatment.

O'Rourke and a passenger in his car were also transported to the Raritan Bay Medical Center for treatment of minor injuries.

The incident is under investigation by the police department's traffic and safety and detective bureaus.

EYESITE

By
Robert M. Scharfman, M.D., F.A.A.O.

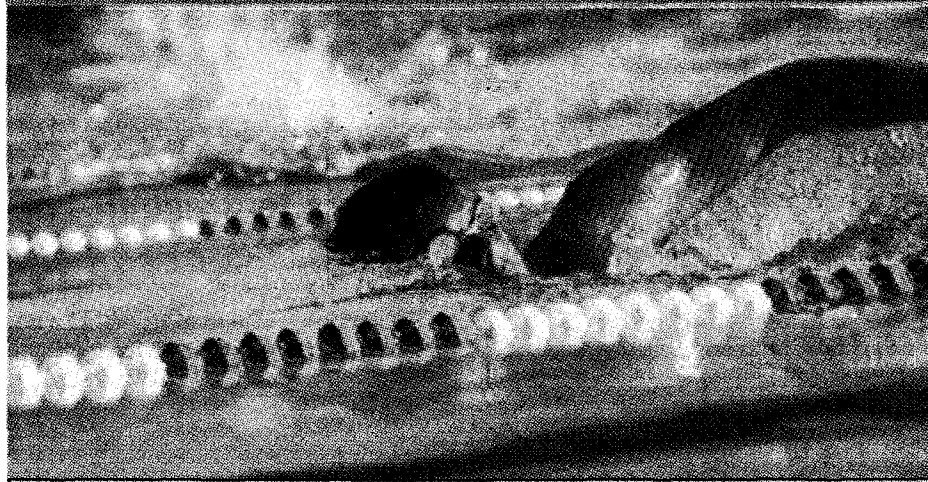

PRESBYOPIA

The focusing system inside the human eye works much like that of a camera. In order to see up close, such as when one reads, the lens inside the eye must change its shape. This shape change increases the power of the lens and is mediated through the ciliary muscle. Unfortunately, through a mechanism not fully understood, as we age, the lens loses this property. This is known as presbyopia. During cataract surgery it is customary to implant a plastic or acrylic lens inside the eye. Since this implanted lens does not change its shape it too induces presbyopia and therefore one must wear reading glasses to see up close after cataract surgery. However, a new lens currently in testing seems to have conquered this problem. By adhering to the surrounding tissues the lens can move forward and backwards inside the eye thereby changing its focusing power and allowing both good distance and near vision.

At Atlantic Medical Eye Care, our patients' needs and concerns are our top priority. We offer a wide range of eye care services to you and your family. Please call 732-607-0555 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 3 Hospital Plaza, Suite 310 in Old Bridge, where we can assist you in providing state-of-the-art, compassionate eye care. I am on the Board of Governors of the New Jersey Academy of Ophthalmology. Vote on Birch Hill homes pushed to April meeting

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — Citing the checkered past of the Birch Hill entertainment complex, a planner testifying on behalf of a developer who wants to build 285 age-restricted homes in place of the nightclub described the planned adult community as a "positive ratable."

Roy K. Deboer, a Monroe Township-based land use consultant, advised the Zoning Board of Adjustment last Thursday to approve the housing application submitted by Kara Homes in order to foster a beneficial use of the 55-acre tract now occupied by Birch Hill.

The active adult community of townhouses and mid-rise homes proposed by the East Brunswick-based developer would provide the township with a significant tax ratable without the liabilities now associated with the entertainment complex owned by nightclub impresario Art Stock, Deboer said.

"You have a ratable problem now," Deboer told the all-volunteer board. "The present-day Art Stock property is not a positive ratable."

Given the community's expected $3 million tax benefit and the absence of school-aged children in any of the homes, the board should strongly consider the application's benefits, Deboer said.

"There's no schoolchildren," Deboer said. "It's a tremendous ratable without the nuisances."

About 527 residents over age 55 would reside in the private, gated complex, Deboer stated. He based his projections on a community impact statement that he presented for review.

"It's less than two persons per unit," Deboer said.

"We think that this is going to be one of the most prestigious active adult communities in the state of New Jersey," Deboer said.

Deboer's statements, in which he also cited a need to serve the area's growing older-adult population, concluded the testimony presented by Kara Home's in-house attorney and Executive Vice President Robert McGowan.

With the board's 11 p.m. curfew already 10 minutes past its limitations, Board Attorney Jerome Convery advised McGowan that the application would be carried to an April 4 meeting.

Despite the applicant's conclusion of testimony for the use variance portion, the board still has many unanswered questions regarding the dimensions and density between the units, Convery said.

"It's unfair to ask the board to consider anything tonight," Convery told McGowan.

If constructed, 180 of the 285 units will be townhouses and the remaining 105 will be mid-rise houses, according to John Truhan, a civil engineer and licensed professional planner who testified on the applicant's behalf on Jan. 30.

Plans shown by the applicant at hearings also show that the private community would feature amenities including a 7,500-square-foot recreational center and a swimming pool, a putting green and two tennis courts.

The use variance is needed because age-restricted housing is not permitted in the R-120 zone where the Birch Hill complex is located.

Besides the use variance, the applicant will also need preliminary and final site plan approval from Old Bridge as well as approval from neighboring Marlboro Township.

Five of the site's 55 acres are in Marlboro, Monmouth County.

Other approvals must also come from both Middlesex and Monmouth counties as well as wetlands permits from the state's Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), McGowan has said.

The final sale of the Birch Hill property to Kara Homes hinges upon the applicant's securing of all approvals from the various jurisdictions, McGowan has said.

Stock placed his property, including the 32-year-old nightclub, on the real estate market for $5 million in January 2001.

The nightclub has been alcohol-free since September of that same year because the state's Alcoholic Beverage Commission (ABC) has prohibited Stock from owning a liquor license due to a 1990 horse racing fraud conviction.

The site, located between Route 9 southbound and Texas and Marlboro roads, has no municipal water and sewer service.

However, the applicant has met with representatives of the Old Bridge Municipal Utilities Authority (OBMUA) about extending water and sewer lines to the area, according to Truhan.

Although the township's master plan has placed the Birch Hill site in a commercial-office-industrial (COI) zone, a real estate expert has previously testified that it has little potential as a commercial site due to its poor roadside visibility and difficult market conditions.

Driver killed in collision on Route 18

EAST BRUNSWICK — A 41-year-old township man was killed when the minivan he was driving crashed into the rear of a tractor trailer that was stopped in traffic on Route 18 northbound Tuesday.

According to police, Stephen Yetman suffered fatal injuries after his Ford minivan rammed into the rear crash bar of the truck, which was being driven by Martin D. Jones, 52, of Edison. Jones received abdominal injuries in the accident and was transported for treatment at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, New Brunswick.

The accident occurred just before 6 p.m. at Route 18's intersection with West Amherst Street.

Police said the truck was stopped in rush-hour traffic that was likely backed up from the highway's intersection with Tices Lane.

It was not yet known yesterday how fast Yetman's vehicle was traveling at the time of the accident or whether he applied the brakes before the collision.

"The particulars are all under investigation," said East Brunswick Police Lt. Geraldine Garrett.

The accident is being investigated by Patrolman Kevin Steinbeck of the Police Department's Traffic and Safety Division. Any witnesses to the accident are asked to call the police at (732) 390-6969.

Members of the East Brunswick Rescue Squad, as well as TransMed, responded to the accident.

A section of Route 18 northbound was closed until the accident could be cleared.

Police: Suspects went on spree with stolen cards

EAST BRUNSWICK — Police officers investigating a suspicious vehicle in a Route 18 parking lot Feb. 5 found that its occupants had in their possession more than $1,000 worth of merchandise allegedly purchased with two credit cards that had been stolen that day from cars outside American Woman, Route 18.

Patrolmen Jeffrey Marino and Glen Furian approached the blue 1996 Caprice occupied by Eva Santiago and Gilbert Rodriguez Jr., both 48 and of New York, at 4:34 p.m. outside the Mid-State Mall in order to question the pair about "suspicious behavior."

Police claim that the pair had used master keys to break into cars outside the fitness gym and steal more than $300 in cash and two credit cards from women's pocketbooks in two separate vehicles, according to a police report. The suspects then allegedly used the credit cards at Best Buy, Pep Boys and KB Toys to buy Sony PlayStation equipment, Nintendo GameCube systems, memory cards, automobile tires, brake rotors and other items. Both Santiago and Rodriguez were charged with possession of burglary tools and possession of stolen property, while Santiago was additionally charged with credit card fraud, possession of cocaine and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Each suspect was lodged at the Middlesex County Adult Correction Center, North Brunswick, in lieu of $10,000 bail.

dents have supported the township's efforts in the name of open space preservation, Cannon said.

"We got a lot of public input," Cannon said.

"I don't recall anyone else from the public speaking against (the Cedar Ridge II purchase)," she added.

However, during a public hearing on the amendment to the original ordinance, township resident Gene Dunlop questioned the council's pursuit of the tract at the expected $18.5 million price.

The latest figure is a far cry from the $5.2 million value the tract was appraised at two years ago, Dunlop pointed out.

"It was only supposed to cost $5 million," he said. "How did $5 million go to $18.5 million?"

The township's own state-certified appraisers had placed the property's value at $5.2 million when the township first entered into purchase negotiations with Schmeltzer, Ruggiero explained.

Schmeltzer, however, refused to sell to the township and insisted that his land was worth nearly $14 million at that time, Ruggiero went on.

The highest of three estimates received in March 2002 from Schmeltzer's own appraisers had placed the property's value at $13.6 million, Ruggiero noted.

When the court-appointed three-member condemnation panel appraised the property later on, those three real estate experts pegged its value at nearly $17.8 million, based upon the notion that 138 lots could be developed as single-family homes, the attorney stated.

"We're currently appealing that," Ruggiero told Dunlap.

"I hope that we can bring it back (down)," Ruggiero said. "It will never be back to $5.5 (million). We were in the area of $14 million when we went forward with the taking of the property."

It was the projected number of homes that could be constructed on the tract, not the amount of land itself that drove up the price, Ward 4 Councilman G. Kevin Calogera told Dunlap.

"The builders and lawyers are more formidable than we thought," Calogera said. "I don't think their judgment was based on acreage, but on building lot."

Councilman Edward Testino also defended the purchase and stressed the importance of adding the land to the township's open space inventory.

"I agree with the acquisition. I don't agree with the price," Testino said.

"We have tried for many months to negotiate (with Schmeltzer)," Testino said. "We feel it is important to acquire the land in order to preserve it."

Ward 1 Councilman Joseph Hoff, who for two years has tried to discourage the council from proceeding with the Cedar Ridge II purchase, cast the lone dissenting vote against amending the bond ordinance to the increased allocation.

Unless the township could derive some income from the purchase, it is not worth pursuing, especially at the $18.5 million amount, Hoff said.

"Are you going to keep it as open space? We should have a Macy's or Gimbel's or something else go there," Hoff said.

Pointing to the long and contentious process of acquiring the land, Cannon expressed disappointment at Hoff's and Dunlop's protests.

"Everybody wants open space. It costs a lot of money," Cannon said.

"I find it disingenuous that at the 11th hour, we are discussing (not purchasing the property)."

To date, the township has received $2 million in funding from the Middlesex County Board of Chosen Freeholders, $1 million from its open space trust and $3.5 million in Green Acres grants toward the purchase of the Cedar Ridge II tract.

The state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has also agreed to lend $3 million to the township for the purchase. Those funds would be paid out in annual installments, not as a lump sum, and would be applied toward repayment of any private loans taken out to purchase the property, according to W. Thomas Badcock, the township's director of parks and recreation.

With the loan, the township will have $9.5 million to buy the land, which is located behind Old Bridge High School's east campus and Geick Park. It abuts the borders of Aberdeen and Marlboro townships in Monmouth County.

The township will be eligible for grants to cover up to 75 percent of the final purchase price based upon the municipality's status as an urban aid community, thanks to a state Green Acres-sanctioned appraisal which estimated the property's value in excess of $13 million, Badcock has said.

High-accident, traffic area focus of turnpike project

BY SANDI CARPELLO
Staff Writer

MONROE — Each morning, trucker Vinnie Asciolla dreads the gluttony merge that lies between interchanges 8A and 8 on the southbound New Jersey Turnpike.

"From 7 to 9 a.m. the traffic is horrible. I have to leave my house an hour earlier to get where I have to go," the Helmetta resident said.

Commuter Greg Pazlitz, a Bordentown resident who travels that section during the evening hours, said the merge is at its worse at 6 p.m.

"It's a horrendously long wait. ... As soon as I hit the merge, it takes me 30 or 40 minutes to go half a mile," he said.

Located in South Brunswick and Monroe, the merge is where the three southbound car lanes and two truck lanes fuse into one three-lane highway.

Gridlock traffic and frequent accidents have cars backed up as much as 10 miles, according to turnpike spokesman Joe Orlando.

However, the New Jersey Turnpike Authority plans to resolve the problem within the next two years, Orlando said.

Turnpike officials are in the process of examining seven different designs that would alleviate the congestion. The two-part project will include reconfiguring the merge and adding an extra lane from Interchange 8A to 8.

"We haven't settled on a design yet, but we're hoping to have one by fall," Orlando said.

The project, which will cost roughly $15 million, will be funded through the turnpike's Capital Improvement Budget, which is subsidized through the turnpike's recent toll increase.

While several improvements, including new substructures, bridge decks, drainage and the southern extension of the truck and car lanes were made between interchanges 9 and 8A in 1985, the Turnpike Authority still has about one more year of construction ahead.

"We still need to move the guardrails out and widen the shoulder of the roadway," Orlando said.

Officials said they would refrain from performing roadway construction during the summer, Orlando said.

Traffic accidents have been a major concern around Interchange 8A.

"The accidents are double what they were three miles before the merge and three miles after," Orlando said.

From January 2001 through July 31, 2002, there were 268 crashes in the 3-mile vicinity of the merge. In contrast, there were 130 crashes in the three miles north of it and 163 accidents over the three miles to the south, he said.

Preparing child to read will be topic at MOMTalk

East Brunswick resident Alan Degutz, a reading and writing teacher with more than 27 years experience, will be the guest presenter at the next meeting of the MOMTalk parenting education and support group, set for 10 a.m. on Feb. 18 at East Brunswick Congregational Church, 402 New Brunswick Ave.

Degutz will discuss how to prepare children, infant-grade school, to learn to read using age-appropriate activities. He also will offer tips on how to read to children. Parents with children of all ages are welcome to attend. Degutz plans to read a story to the children.

MOMTalk meets from 10 a.m. to noon on the first and third Tuesday of every month at the East Brunswick Congregational Church. Participants may drop in for any portion of the two-hour meeting.

Connecting industry is goal for independent producer

Old Bridge film company among those seeking to improve N.J. movie scene

BY CLARE MARIE CELANO
Staff Writer

What New Jersey resident wouldn't want to see the landscapes and scenery of their fair state on the silver screen?

How about sandy beaches, ocean sunrises, beautiful seashore cottages and stately mansions that line the Jersey shoreline as a backdrop for a film?

New Jersey residents may get an opportunity to experience just that if one man's vision becomes a reality.

The vision? To bring the film industry to New Jersey.

The man? George Taglianetti.

Taglianetti, a native New Yorker, is an independent writer, producer and director. He opened an office in Freehold three years ago to market his dream. He said he sees Monmouth and Ocean counties as the "Hollywood East" of the film industry.

Taglianetti, who operates New Generation Pictures, is now sponsoring events which will bring people in the entertainment industry together under one roof. He calls his idea the Entertainment Network and it is open to actors, directors, producers, musicians and cameramen; anyone and everyone connected with the making of a film.

"We want to bring all the talent in New Jersey all together in order to develop the product and distribute it entirely right here in the state," Taglianetti explained.

"There is so much talent in this state and it has nowhere to go," he said, adding that the talent on the east coast is the "best in the world."

Taglianetti believes he can help New Jersey develop a full-scale film industry.

Toward that end, he brought people together at the second meeting of the Entertainment Network, held Jan. 29 at the American Hotel, Freehold. Taglianetti reported that more than 200 of his friends and colleagues turned up to support the endeavor.

"Getting all the talent together in one forum will give us a voice and we can kick up some real dust and move forward with the arts," the producer explained.

Some notables attending the January event included Brian O'Halloran, who starred in Kevin Smith's film Clerks. Based in Red Bank, Smith operates one of only a few movie production companies in the state, according to Taglianetti. Another such company is Independent International Pictures in Old Bridge, guided by Samuel Sherman.

"This is the only other company that has had products done in entirety in this state," Taglianetti said.

Both O'Halloran and Sherman showed their support of Taglianetti's vision when they made an appearance at the event.

Taglianetti, who studied acting at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York, had several stints on television and was the lead singer of a band he'd formed, but his heart knew there was something else he needed to be doing.

George Taglianetti

After working in the garment industry in New York, Taglianetti decided to switch careers and make movies. For 10 years, he worked in every facet of the film industry — writing, directing and producing.

He wrote, directed and produced The Right Way in 1996. The movie which starred Joseph Campanella, Joe Santos and Cesar Romero in his final film role had a limited release in New York and New Jersey in 1997. The plot centered on a native son who returns to his old neighborhood, only to find it beset with crime and corruption. The plot focused on the young man's efforts to put things right.

Taglianetti is making an effort to make movies "the way they used to be made." Movies that "make you feel good, movies that entertain you, not scare the heck out of you."

"We want to touch people's lives with our movies, not involve sex and violence. This is a better direction for young people to go. It is their future," he said. "We want people to leave the theater with a positive message."

But, according to Taglianetti, the question is not what to make, but where to make it.

"We need a place for our actors to develop their craft," the producer explained. "We're inviting casting directors, agents, producers. If more people in the state will come to join us, we can help to develop our different talents here and interconnect everyone. This is what the Entertainment Network will do."

The next Entertainment Network event will be held on Feb. 14 at the Colts Neck Inn, Route 537, Colts Neck, 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Admission is $15. For information, call (732) 780-9179.

Middle Grades reading group to meet March 10

The Middle Grades Book Discussion Group will hold its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. March 10 at the Old Bridge Public Library Main Branch, Route 516 and Cottrell Road. The club is open to students in grades five through eight.

'School Board Candidate Kits' now available

The deadline for filing nominating petitions to appear on the ballot for the 2003 annual school election is Feb. 24, with the election scheduled for April 15.

The New Jersey School Boards Association urges residents interested in education to consider school board candidacy, and has produced a "School Board Candidate Kit" for interested residents.

The kit includes information on the requirements for school board candidacy, a calendar of important dates in the school election process, and a sample nominating petition. It also provides information about the New Jersey School Ethics Act.

Kits are available at local Board of Education offices or by calling the New Jersey School Boards Association at (609) 278-5202.

Artist's work celebrated at assisted living facility

BY SANDI CARPELLO
Staff Writer

MONROE — Though spectators have offered to pay big bucks for her original oil paintings, Jennie Poris, who says her age is "90-plus," refuses to make a sale.

"I have had many offers, but I don't want to sell my paintings," said Poris, a resident at Castle Senior Living at Forsgate. "I want to give them all to my children, especially now that the well has gone dry."

Over 100 people gathered at the assisted living facility early this month to view Poris' one-woman show titled, "Jennie Poris: Oils on Canvas." The four-day exhibit encompassed 70 years of works by the award-winning artist.

Sitting in her apartment, surrounded by little more than her own art works, a neatly stacked pile of art history books and a television set, Poris, who has lost much of her vision due to macular degeneration and can no longer paint, reminisced about her life as an artist.

"Every painting is from life," she said, pointing to a portrait of a red-haired woman that hangs above her bed. "When I painted, I did not see faces, but expressions in the faces."

After discovering her passion for painting, the Brooklyn-native studied painting and sculpture for several years at the Art

Students League in New York City, the Brooklyn Museum Art School, Brooklyn College, and the Art Colony of Woodstock, in New York, during the 1920s and 30s.

"I thought, 'Here is something that is so simple and so enjoyable,'" she said.

Through years of training her eye, drawing models and studying art history, Poris said she developed her own style — "realism with a splash of abstract impressionism." Developing an original style is "looking at something, loving it and feeling transported by it," she said.

Poris said it is her active lifestyle — she worked for many years as an executive secretary for the New York City Board of Education, is the former director of the Borough Park Volunteer Unit of the American Red Cross in Brooklyn, and also took on the role of a wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother — that is in part responsible for her longevity.

But that's not her only secret. "I always ate correctly," she said.

While she enjoys her time at Castle Senior Living, including her appreciation for the cafeteria food and the lecture meetings, Poris said she still yearns for the life of an artist.

"It's like an opera singer who has a polyp on a vocal chord," Poris says of her inability to continue painting. "[I wish] I had a nice studio."

New tool gives public info., voice on issues

BY VINCENT TODARO
Staff Writer

Residents who feel powerless in attempting to influence government officials regarding education issues may have a new weapon.

East Brunswick Board of Education member Patrick Sirm is an active proponent of a recently created information service called Citizen Action Project, designed to help provide residents with the ears of state and federal legislators.

Sirm, who is vice president of county activities for the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA), which created the service, said it is a computer-based effort that provides residents with information on important education bills pending with the state Legislature and Congress. It also provides information on the educational ideas and policies of the federal and state administrations.

"You go to the Web site [www.njsba.org] and click on the link. There's no charge at all," he said. "When bills come up in legislation that impact education, we send you an e-mail telling you what you can do."

"As more and more people become aware, hopefully we can have an impact to have more quality education and funding," he said. "We're trying to get information out to as many people as possible."

The service was started about two months ago. Most of the communication is done via e-mail in order to keep costs low and to disseminate the information quickly.

Actions taken by the state and federal governments often have a profound impact on the quality and cost of public education, according to the NJSBA.

"Many escape widespread public notice, or surface in the media only when it is too late to change the course of events, leaving citizens feeling frustrated and powerless," the organization states.

In addition to providing information, the service will also have sample letters available on its Web site so that residents can write to state and federal officials. The service may also include online petitions in the future.

Anyone who enlists in Citizen Action Project receives a free grassroots advocacy kit to provide them with ways to make their voice heard in both Trenton and Washington.

Sirm said there are many important education issues being debated, not the least of which is the funding of school aid under Gov. James McGreevey.

Bills regarding a possible state constitutional convention and funding for New Jersey education are being heard in Trenton. In addition, mandates for public schools are being discussed.

"Mandates have an impact on us," Sirm said. "We have to convey to legislators that they need to fund these mandates."

The federal government also needs to be stirred, he said, in part because of its refusal to fund the appropriate amount of costs associated with its own Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). The government was supposed to fund 40 percent of the costs, yet provides only about 17 percent.

Another federal program that could leave school districts scrambling for dollars is referred to as "No Child Left Behind." Sirm said the program, created by the Bush administration, sets difficult standards, stipulating that districts must reach "adequate yearly progress" standards despite whatever obstacles there may be.

School districts will be required to show yearly increases in the numbers of students who meet "achievement" levels. In other words, a certain percentage of students in a particular achievement range must reach the next achievement range every year.

"If, after two or three years, you don't achieve these goals," he said, "tuition and voucher issues kick in."

He said that, after 10 to 12 years, all of the students in any particular level must have advanced to the next one. That is an impossible standard for districts to reach, he said, especially for those that have a large number of transient students. Those students will be educated elsewhere, but the district that tests them will be responsible for their results.

"It's underfunded right off the bat," Sirm said.

"The mandates make sense, and we want to educate everyone," he said. "But there has to be some funding."

Sirm said the NJSBA was formed in the early 1900s. It works as an advocate of all school districts in the state and provides training for new Board of Education members.

12 Angry Men

Over the Rainbow Productions presents this classic drama based on the Emmy award-winning television movie. A 19-year-old man has just stood trial for the fatal stabbing of his father. During deliberations, each juror reveals his own character as the various testimonies are re-examined. Tempers get short, arguments grow heated, and the jurors become 12 angry men.

The drama will be presented Feb. 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 16 at 3 p.m., at the Eatontown Playhouse, 37-13 Route 35 north, in the Tower Market shopping center, Eatontown. Tickets are $15, $10 for seniors and students. For reservations, call (732) 888-0339.

Police Beat

All items in Police Beat are taken from police department records. All suspects are presumed innocent until found guilty in court.

OLD BRIDGE

Police arrested and charged Paul Burke, 18, of Harding Road in the Laurence Harbor section, with underage drinking and driving while intoxicated Saturday at 1:13 a.m. on Grace Drive. Burke was released on his own recognizance.

Police arrested and charged Scott Luhrmann, 40, of Secaucus, with driving while intoxicated Sunday at 1:02 a.m. during a traffic stop on Route 9. Luhrmann was released on his own recognizance.

Police arrested and charged Edward Iwantak Jr., 29, of Skytop Gardens in the Parlin section of Sayreville, with driving while intoxicated Sunday at 2:30 a.m. on Route 9 near Route 516. Iwantak was released on his own recognizance.

Police arrested George A. Garulle, 34, of Keansburg, Sunday at 1:25 a.m. after a motor vehicle stop for allegedly making an improper turn on Route 35 in Laurence Harbor. According to police, Garulle was charged with driving with a revoked California license and was found to have outstanding warrants from three jurisdictions. Garulle was later transferred to the Middlesex County Adult Correction Center, North Brunswick.

SAYREVILLE

Police arrested and charged Japan M. Thakar, 18, of Chattanooga, Tenn., with driving while intoxicated following a motor vehicle accident on Ernston Road Feb. 8, according to police reports.

Police arrested and charged Lorenzo Miceli, 23, of Edison, with driving while intoxicated following a motor vehicle accident Feb. 10, according to police reports.

A home on Washington Road was burglarized between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. Feb. 8, according to police reports. Unknown suspects took a black bag containing $10,000 in cash from a bedroom closet in the residence, police reports said.

Approximately $3,500 worth of office equipment was stolen from World Trucking Express, Bordentown Avenue, between 9 p.m. Feb. 7 and 4:30 p.m. Feb. 8, according to police reports. Among the missing items were a scanner, a fax machine and a television and VCR, police reports said.

Police charged four males with possession of heroin, possession of heroin with intent to distribute and conspiracy to distribute narcotics following a motor vehicle stop on Route 9 south at 9:30 p.m. Feb. 5. The individuals charged were John M. Koenig, 21, of Englishtown; Andrew R. Petrushun, 18, of Manalapan; Nicholas M. Sarro, 23, of Manalapan; and Alex I. Rosenthal, 20, of Manalapan. The four suspects were transported to the Middlesex County Adult Correction Center, North Brunswick, each in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Council eyes hotel tax as new revenue source

BY SANDI CARPELLO
Staff Writer

EAST BRUNSWICK — In an effort to bring much needed revenue to the local budget, township officials are supporting state legislation that would tax hotels with 100 or more units.

"It's a way to get revenue from people who live out of town," said Township Attorney Michael Baker.

Customers who stay at local hotels would be paying for municipal services including fire, police, water and sewer while providing property-tax relief for township residents, he said.

The council unanimously approved a resolution Monday night supporting legislation that would allow municipalities to impose up to a 2-percent occupancy room tax.

"Municipalities are in great need of additional funds to adequately support their infrastructures and to provide the necessary programs and services to residents during these stagnant economic times of the state and nation," the council's resolution states.

Co-sponsored by state Assemblyman Patrick Diegnan (D-19) in March, the legislation supports Gov. James E. McGreevey's proposed tax increases on hotels, which is part of his effort to close a $5 billion deficit in the state budget.

The township's five existing hotels — East Brunswick Hilton, Motel 6, Motel Suites, Ramada Inn and McIntosh Inn — would generate "just below $500,000 for the township," said Mayor William Neary.

This would result in a 2.5-cent reduction in the municipal tax rate per $100 of assessed valuation.

For a home assessed at the township average of $95,000, there would be a $25 decrease in municipal taxes.

The state Division of Taxation estimates that municipalities overall will gain a maximum of $13.5 million in 2003 and $28.6 million in 2004, assuming that all qualified municipalities levy the tax.

While no township residents voiced opposition to the council's resolution, members of the hotel and travel industry find the proposed measure to be unfair.

"The industry opposes a tax on an industry that is already taxed. It's just not fair," said Joe Simonetta, a spokesman for the New Jersey Hotel and Lodging Association.

"The hotel industry is an industry that's trying to survive, especially after Sept. 11," he said.

While the manner in which the funds would be collected is unclear, the township officials said they would prefer that the municipality collect and enforce the tax.

"We would prefer that the municipalities collected it. We feel we could keep a much closer watch on it," Neary said.

However, no decisions can be made until the measure is adopted by the state Legislature.

"We just don't know yet," Neary said.

Milestones

Lorentz-Martin

Sherri and Donald Lorentz

Sherri Martin, daughter of Lillian and Robert Martin of Sayreville, was married Aug. 3 to Donald Lorentz, son of Rosemary and the late Donald Lorentz of Saugerties, N.Y.

The Franciscan Rev. Francis Gunn, uncle of the groom, performed the ceremony at Our Lady Of Victories Roman Catholic Church, Sayreville, where the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Brandi Shaw of Robbinsville, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Dawn Wolski, Reyne Quackenbush, Candis Coffaro, Judy Milligan, and Joy Paola.

Best man was Edward Lorentz of Saugerties, brother of the groom. Ushers were Gerard Shirley of Lincoln Park, cousin of the groom; Terence Farley of Staten Island, N.Y., cousin of the groom; Edward Gunn of Saugerties, cousin of the groom; and Jay Shaw of Robbinsville, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Sayreville War Memorial High School. She received a bachelor's degree in elementary education from Trenton State College, Ewing. She is a teacher at the Sayreville Board of Education.

Her husband is a graduate of Saugerties High School, New York. He received a bachelor's degree in business administration from Ulster Community College, Stone Ridge, N.Y. He is a district manager at Confidence Management Systems, Brooklyn, N.Y.

The couple resides in Sayreville.

Witte-McCormack

C. Joseph and Moira Witte

Moira Elizabeth McCormack, daughter of Sandra and John McCormack of Sayreville, was married Aug. 17 to C. Joseph Witte, son of Barbara and Steve Traum of Clearwater, Fla., and Joyce and Carlton Witte of Lincoln University, Pa.

A ceremony was held at Our Lady of Victories Church, Sayreville.

Maid of honor was Maggie Shuler of Princeton, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Julie Shuler of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Jessica McCormack of Bay Head, both cousins of the bride; Terri Kelly of Sayreville; and Kristin Witte of Pennsylvania, sister of the bridegroom. Flower girl was Tess Shuler of Piedmont, Calif., cousin of the bride.

Best man was Ryan Jacobson of New York City. E.B. teams make waves at GMC championships

Boys second, girls fourth in team competitions

BY DOUG MCKENZIE
Staff Writer

There were no big surprises at last weekend's Greater Middlesex Conference Swimming Championships at North Brunswick High School, where the boys' team from St. Joseph's of Metuchen backed up its top ranking in the state, and the Raider girls came through with a dominant team effort to claim the team title.

St. Joseph's boys proved to be every bit as dominant as expected, getting top finishes in all but one event — the 50 freestyle.

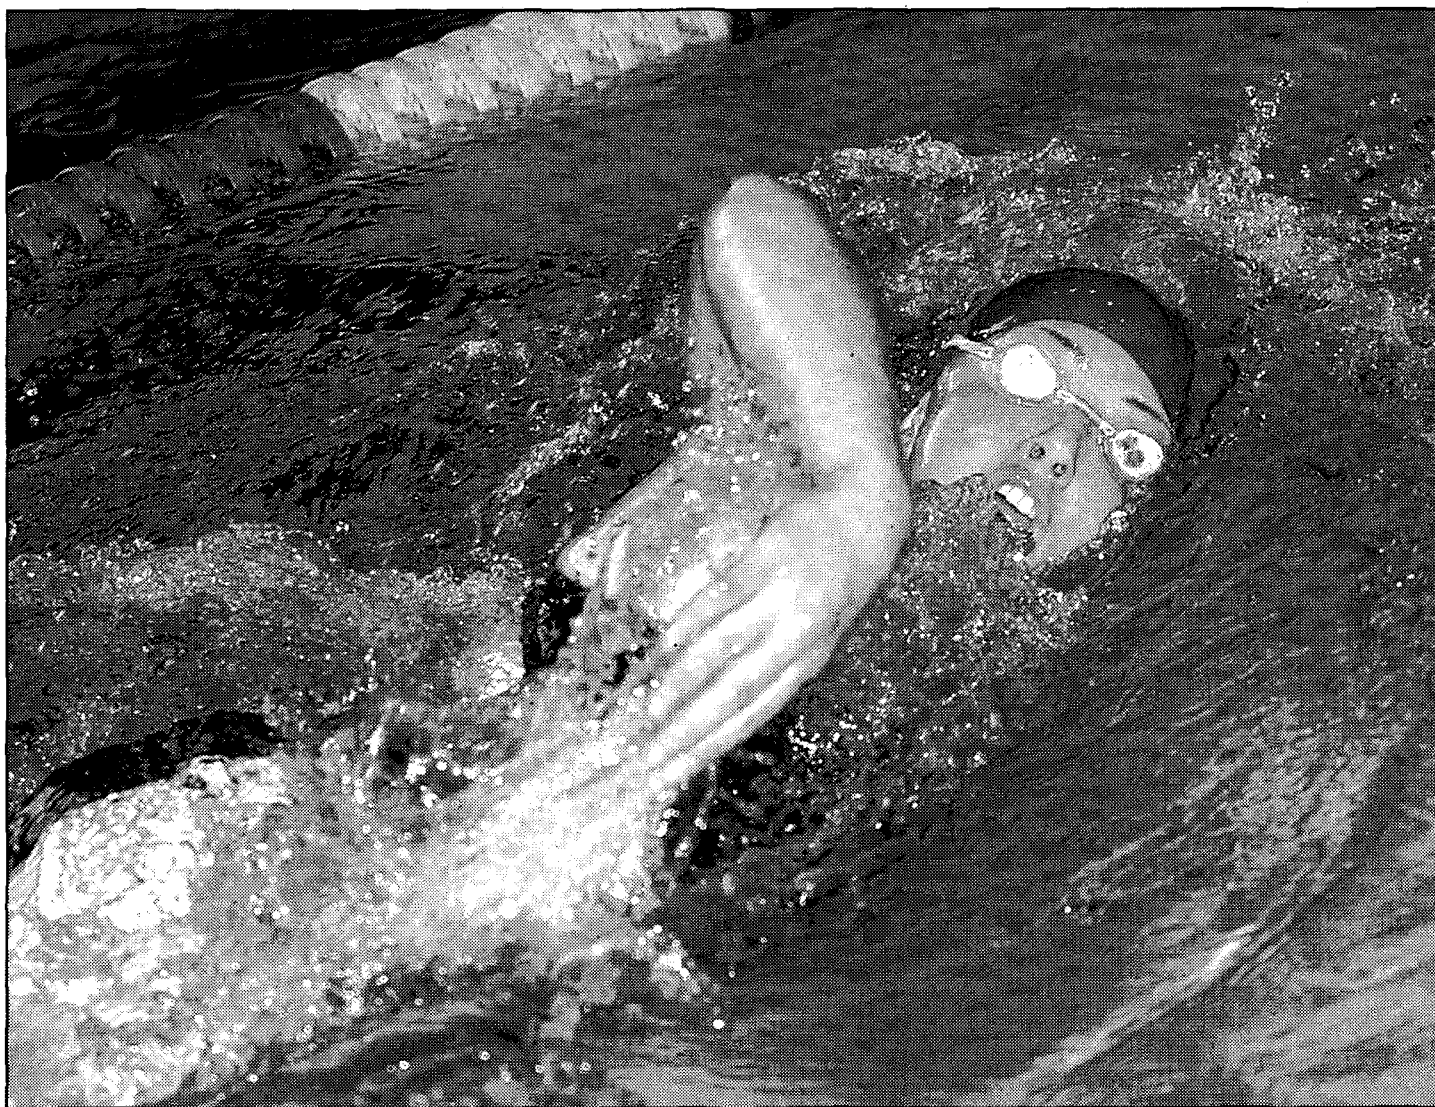

East Brunswick's Kyle King managed to beat St. Joe's Calvin-John Smiley to the wall, 22.34-23.29, in that event to help lead the Bears to a strong second-place showing with 281 points. St. Joe's had 541 points.

The Bears notched top finishes in a number of events, including second-place finishes in the 100 butterfly (Ryan Martinetti), 100 freestyle (Kyle King), the 200 medley relay (Tom Nawrot, Joel Maietta, Mark Rynone and King) and the 200 freestyle relay (Rynone, Martinetti, Schreyer and King).

Nawrot added a third-place finish in the 100 backstroke (59.71) while the Bears' 400 freestyle relay team also took third. In addition, Rynone and Martinetti finished third and fourth respectively in the 50 free, while Maietta got fifth-place finishes in both the 200 IM and 100 breaststroke.

It was a solid overall effort from a Bears team that proved to be the second-best team in the GMC, no dubious honor considering St. Joseph's is unquestionably the top team in the state.

The Lady Raiders entered the pool as the favorite to end Bishop Ahr's eight-year reign as conference champ, and they did not disappoint. The North Brunswick team won two relays and got a win from freshman Julie Rose in the 100 backstroke, as well as several top finishes in other events, to outscore Metuchen 308-253, with Bishop Ahr finishing third (235).

An improving East Brunswick squad managed to take fourth place with 196 points, led by Chrissy LeBlon's win in the 50 freestyle.

North Brunswick's depth was on display as a talented group of freshmen stepped up to push the Raiders over the top. While seniors Nicole Alicino and Allison Palladino continued to excel, a group of eight first-year swimmers gave the Raiders the edge they needed to come out on top.

Rose got the only individual win for the Raiders, but was also part of the winning 200 medley relay team (1:57.43), along with fellow freshmen Joan Baltazar and Nina Malanga, and Palladino. Malanga also anchored the winning 200 freestyle relay team (1:46.37).

North Brunswick did a solid job of earning points with top five finishes throughout the meet. While North Brunswick was the dominant team throughout the day, the young East Brunswick girls' team made some waves as well and showed the promise that head coach Charlie Ginex hopes will translate into future championships for the Bears.

While LeBlon set the tone with her meet record in the 50 free (25.37) and a third-place finish in the 100 freestyle (57.25), East Brunswick also notched some top finishes throughout the meet, especially in the relay events. The Bears took third in the 200 medley relay, and fourth in both the 200 and 400 freestyle relay.

Other area swimmers who performed well in the girls' meet include Monroe's Lisa Slover, who took second in the 500 freestyle and third in the 200 IM, and Sayreville's Laura Kuczynski (fourth in the 500 free) and Kerri Adams (sixth in the 100 butterfly).

East Brunswick's Stephanie Dunn competes in the 100 butterfly during the GMC Championships at North Brunswick High School on Saturday.

Old Bridge swim teams making some progress

BY WARREN RAPPLEYEA
Staff Writer

Although the Old Bridge High School swim team struggled this year, the future appears bright for the program due to an influx of young swimmers and with plans for a new YMCA on the horizon.

A local pool would greatly enhance the Knights' program, coach Bob Weiss noted. Currently, the high school team must travel to the Freehold Area YMCA to practice three times a week, which it often shares with another team.

A YMCA in Old Bridge would enable the Knights to practice more often while enabling swimmers to compete and practice year-round.

The Knights won just one meet this season, but Weiss said his team is a hard-working group. Old Bridge did take third place in the Wardlaw Relays and also had a good showing in the Raider Sprint Relays in North Brunswick, he added.

On the boys' side, top competitors included seniors Alex Hamburger (freestyle sprints), Chris Lee (breaststroke), Rob Ross (backstroke) and Chris Shurtleff (freestyle sprints); and versatile juniors Chris Reardon, John Richard and Alby Satku.

Top swimmers for the girls include seniors Lindsay Carlson (individual medley, breaststroke), Kathleen Fenelius and Beth Selcov (distance events), and Jen Pakidis, along with junior Martha Kloskowski (IM).

Weiss' roster also includes an array of up-and-coming swimmers, including sophomores Samantha Payton and Allison Smith, as well as freshmen Stephanie Cottino, Bree Kupfer, Michelle Hanley, twins Jennifer and Elyse Mannino, Dhiren Patel, Amy Sievert, Richie Sinowelo and Alicia Vazza.

"We've really stressed technique this year," Weiss said. "As a result, everyone has gotten better and I'm very excited about the future. We have a lot of good, young swimmers who will make their marks. And if we get a local pool, there's no telling what they will be able to accomplish."

Sport Shorts

The Sayreville Stingrays girls' fast-pitch softball organization currently has the following open positions: 12U, catcher; 14U Blue, one pitcher, two utility players; and 18U, pitcher. All teams play aggressive schedules and will attend a national tournament. Residency is not necessary. If interested, call Jim Makowski at (732) 651-0740.

The Old Bridge-based Battle of Monmouth Rockets U11 boys' travel soccer team took first place at the GoodSports Allaire Open Invitational Tournament on Feb. 7. The team trekked through the snow to face off against several tough competitors. The tournament hosted six teams and consisted of a three-game round-robin format with the top two teams facing off in a final match. The Rockets drew the only Premier and National 1 teams in the qualifying matches.

The first game was against an old nemesis — the Middletown Earthquakes. The second game was a rematch from the fall season against the Lakehurst Gunners. The Rockets won both games, clinching a place in the finals, and played their third game against a tough team from Tom's River. The game ended in a tie that sent home the Middletown and Lakehurst teams, who were hoping for another shot at the Rockets. The final game was a rematch of the previous qualifying game against Toms River. The Rockets won the final game to take first place. The Rockets were the only team to go undefeated in this event.

East Brunswick wrestlers capture GMC championship

BY GEORGE ALBANO
Staff Writer

It may have been the ultimate team effort in an individual sport. That might be the only way to describe the East Brunswick High School wrestling team winning its first Greater Middlesex Conference championship since 1993 last weekend.

You see, the Bears pulled off the trick without any individual champions, yet 12 of their 14 wrestlers placed in the top eight, and 11 of them in the top six.

The result was a seven-point victory over runner-up Old Bridge and nine points better than third-place South Plainfield, which had won the GMC championship the previous five years.

"Twelve guys in the top eight, that's really why we won," said head coach Glen Pazinko, who led the Bears to their second GMC crown in his 13 years at EBHS. "We haven't been there for a while. We had a little lull the past few years. But these kids have worked hard."

East Brunswick was only 7-13 a year ago but bounced back to finish 9-3 this season, losing only to defending champion South Plainfield, Old Bridge and Piscataway.

"The three matches we lost we could've easily won," Pazinko said. "The difference in all three losses was one match. We were kind of kicking ourselves in the head over those losses, but it was nice we got to redeem ourselves in the tournament."

Redemption was certainly sweet for the Bears, who placed first among the 21 teams with 172 points, while Old Bridge finished with 165 and South Plainfield with 163.

Still stinging from those three close regular-season losses, Pazinko knew his team could make a run at the title, with or without any individual champions.

"We had a lot of high seeds going into the tournament, and I talked to them about wanting to wrestle at their seeds or higher to be in the hunt. They pretty much did that, too. Almost everyone finished at or higher than their seed."

"We even had a 12th seed end up placing fifth. He beat some wrestlers he lost to during the season."

Pazinko and assistant coaches Joe Csatari, Andy Scanlon and brother Matt Pazinko certainly had the Bears ready to go, and the Green and White responded in a big way.

East Brunswick did advance two wrestlers to the GMC finals on Sunday. Junior Matt Merrigan, the No. 2 seed at 152 pounds, lost to the No. 1 seed, while senior John Clay, the top seed at 171, dropped a tough 3-1 decision. That was only Clay's second loss in 23 matches this season, while Merrigan fell to 16-6.

But it was in the consolation rounds where the Bears did their most damage.

Going into Sunday's matches for third, fifth and seventh place, East Brunswick trailed Old Bridge by five points. But the Bears had 10 wrestlers in the consolations and six of them won.

"Plus they got all kinds of bonus points which really helped," Pazinko pointed out.

Three of the six wins were by pin while the other three were by major decision. That gave the Bears 21 points in all while Old Bridge scored only four. The 17-point difference gave East Brunswick a 12-point edge heading into the finals.

Four EBHS grapplers finished third in their respective weight class as sophomore John Parke (119 pounds) and senior Jaime Guido (130), who were both seeded fourth, and junior Nick Marrone (145) and senior Dmitry Kuzinets (160), each seeded third, all won their consolation matches.

Sophomore Corey Ritchings, a four seed at 112 pounds, finished fourth, while junior Carmen Corona, another No. 4 seed at 125, won his consolation match to finish fifth.

The biggest surprise, however, was sophomore Ralph Danise, who was seeded 12th at 275 pounds, but finished fifth.

"All his wins were pins as well, which gave us more points," Pazinko noted.

Junior Tim Ackerman, a seven seed at 140 pounds, and senior Natt Mull, seeded ninth at 189, each stepped up and finished sixth. And freshman Mike Corona, another nine seed at 103 pounds, placed eighth.

But the Bears still had to wait out the finals, where Old Bridge had five wrestlers.

"But only one of them (Vin Iodaci) was a higher seed than his opponent, and that was the only match they won in the finals," Pazinko said. "They lost the first three matches in the finals, and once they lost those three we felt we were in pretty good shape. Old Bridge had to pin in their other two matches to have a chance, but they only got one win and it was by major decision so they picked up five points."

"It was really pretty exciting," Pazinko said. "The kids all went out to eat Sunday night, and they took the championship plaque with them to the restaurant."

That could be the first of a few celebrations for the Bears, who will be the fourth-seeded team in next week's Central Jersey Group IV Sectionals.

"Hopefully, we can do some nice things there," Pazinko said.

East Brunswick will wrestle the No. 5 seed, J.P. Stevens of Edison, and the winner will take on top-seed Old Bridge for the sectional title. The Central Jersey winner will then advance to the Group 4 state championships next weekend against the North I, North II and South sectional champs.

Then there's the District 20 championships the following weekend. The top three finishers in each weight class advance to the Regionals the following weekend, and the top three finishers there go to the state tournament the weekend after that.

"There's a lot of wrestling still to go," Pazinko said. "But these kids have been working hard all season, and even before in the off-season. Hopefully they see how much their hard work paid off."

Not to mention the value of teamwork in an individual sport.

"The kids all went out to eat Sunday night, and they took the championship plaque with them to the restaurant."

St. John Vianney team is ready for the postseason

BY WARREN RAPPLEYEA
Staff Writer

The St. John Vianney High School wrestling team heads into the NJSI-AA Parochial A team championships at CBA on Tuesday with six competitors who have 15 or more wins.

The Holmdel Lancers, 14-4 on the season, also finished atop the Shore Conference's Class A Central standings with a perfect 5-0 division record. However, the Shore Conference awarded the division crown to Wall, a public school, because SJV came out on top of the other two Parochial A schools in the conference, CBA and Red Bank Catholic.

"That's the way it is, but I don't agree with it because we beat Wall," Lancers' coach Jack Shepherd said. "Right now we're just ready to get going with the post-season."

SJV does have two regular season matches remaining this week against Brick Memorial and Monroe.

That will give its wrestlers a chance to add to their victory totals while working on things for the state tourney.

Junior Mike Brogan, a 135-pounder, leads the team with a 19-3 mark with 12 pins.

Senior Justin Algarin (140) and junior Anthony Castro (125) are both 18-3; freshman Ken Thoman (103) is 17-3, sophomore Kyle Pardun (130) is 16-4 and John Lazarchick (heavyweight) is 15-6. Each has 10 or more pins.

Juniors Brian Fasano (112) and Chris Swensen (215) are both in double figures with records of 12-9 and 11-10, respectively.

Other members of the team include seniors Eric Sebar (119), 9-10; and Louis Liberatore (171), 5-8; juniors Alex Renfro (145), 4-6; and Chris Rooney (152), 8-10; sophomore Jason Fischer (160), 7-5; and freshman Lou Calamucci (145), 2-3.

"We had a little tougher schedule this year with Brick Memorial, South Brunswick, Livingston and West Windsor," said Shepherd, whose team also won the Holmdel

Christmas tourney for the seventh straight time. "With all of our young wrestlers we'll be looking to make it even more competitive next year."

The Lancers gained valuable experience as a result, and it should help the SJV grapplers in the upcoming team and individual tournaments, he added.

Notes... The Lancers had a tough draw in last week's Shore Conference Tournament opening round, taking on a tough Toms River South squad, and falling 46-20.

Vianney got a technical fall win from Sebar at 119 (17-2), a major decision win from Castro at 125 (20-7), a technical fall (17-2) win from Mike Brogan at 140 and a pin from Algarin at 145, but could not match the Indians' overall depth. Toms River South went on to lose to eventual runner-up Jackson in the next round.

Vianney got the No. 3 seed in next week's Parochial A North tournament, and will take on Paul IV in the first round on Tuesday. The winner will get No. 2 seed CBA in the next round, that same night. Camden Catholic is the top seed in the bracket.

Also locally, the Old Bridge Knights got the top seed in the Central Jersey Group IV bracket, and will await the winner of the East Brunswick-J.P. Stevens match Tuesday night. This is a loaded bracket which also features Hunterdon Central as the No. 2 seed, and a Manalapan team coming off an upset of the state's second-ranked team, Jackson, in the Shore Conference Tournament finals. Manalapan may be the sleeper pick in this bracket.

However, whoever emerges from this CJ Group IV bracket will have their hands full when they travel to Trenton for the Group finals, where top-ranked Absegami will be waiting.

South River's wrestling team got the No. 2 seed in CJ Group I, and will face Highland Park on Tuesday in its opening-round match.

MORE HOMEOWNERS, MORE HOUSE

Following the old notion that "there's no place like home," increasing numbers of Americans are forgoing rented apartments in favor of homeownership. According to Census 2000, of the 105 million households in America, 70 million (66 percent) own their own homes. The remaining 34 percent live in rental quarters. In fact, between 1990 and 2000, the growth of owner-occupied homes in this country far outpaced growth in rentals (18.3 percent versus 8.3 percent). On top of that, homeowners are not settling for just any house, which is anything but small. In 2000, the typical newly constructed home was 2,265 square feet with three or more bedrooms, 2.5 baths, and a garage for two or more vehicles.

Owning real estate can make you feel financially active and secure if you go about it wisely. At ERA DINEEN REALTY, we hope you benefit from our columns. New owners will keep sub shop open

BY JENNIFER DOME
Staff Writer

SOUTH RIVER — Submarine sandwich lovers throughout the region will be happy to know that a 32-year-old borough mainstay will not be closing its doors after all.

The Riddle & Martin Sub Shop, located at the corner of Hillside Avenue and Old Bridge Turnpike, has been purchased by Joseph and Della Dufner of the Jodell Corp., New Brunswick.

The new owners will continue the operation of the shop opened in June 1970 by Ed Riddle and Chuck Martin.

"It has an excellent reputation," Joe Dufner said of the sub shop.

The Dufner family has worked in the restaurant and catering business for more than 70 years, Dufner said. His father, John, owned the Broad Diner and Tower Diner in Elizabeth, Union County, and the Raritan Gardens Restaurant in the Raritan Center, Edison, until he retired. His brother, Max, operates Max Dufner Inc. in Perth Amboy, which caters to the mobile food truck industry, he said.

"I was raised in the food business," Dufner said.

Riddle and Martin, who spent 32 years operating the shop after working together for eight years at the Nestle Co. plant in Freehold, announced last year that they may close their doors or sell the business.

The ownership of the apartment on the second floor of the building that houses the sub shop went to the new owners as well, Riddle and Martin said. Dufner said this week that the one-bedroom apartment is currently available for rent.

The Dufners said that Riddle, Martin and another longtime employee, Rob Staats, will continue to work at the sub shop with them.

The Dufners plan to serve up the same recipes that made the Riddle & Martin Sub Shop well known in the area, but they will add new selections, including Texas wieners. Takeout breakfast subs, coffee, pastries, muffins and doughnuts will also be available at the shop.

The sub shop will expand its hours under the new ownership, staying open from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. It will be open on Sundays during football season, Dufner said.

ERA Dineen names top 2002 associates

Three sales associates in the ERA Realty Dineen office, Parlin section of Sayreville, were recently recognized for industry achievements during 2002.

Michael Monetti received the Dineen Gold Award as the leader in closed sales for the year.

Diane Calamari earned the Dineen Silver Award, with 26 closed sales in 2002.

The Dineen Bronze Award was presented to Rochelle Bosco, who led the office in listings.

Monetti, Calamari and Bosco have qualified for the 2002 New Jersey Association of Realtors Circle of Excellence Award. All three recipients are members of the Middlesex County Board of Realtors and the Middlesex and Monmouth multiple listing services.

Mortgage

Monthly payments are for 30-year conventional fixed rate mortgages as detailed below. Ask about: Lower Downpayments • Lower Monthly Payments • Other Options
For purchase prices up to $403,375 monthly mortgage payments (principal + interest) quoted in our ads are to qualified buyers, based upon a 20% downpayment and a conventional 30-year fixed rate loan at 5.625% with 3 points, A.P.R. 5.958%. As an example, a $100,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $575.66. For purchase prices from $403,375 to $840,000, the monthly payments are to qualified buyers based upon a 20% downpayment and calculated at 5.75% with 3 points on a "Jumbo" 30-year fixed rate mortgage with an A.P.R. of 6.043%. An example of a $500,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $2917.86. Figures herein are approximate and do not include property taxes, hazard insurance, or homeowners association dues for a condominium purchase. Interest rates quoted are as of January 1, 2003, and subject to change. Not responsible for typographical errors. PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

On Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near Kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. This Novena has never been known to fail. This Novena must be said for nine consecutive days. Thanks.

ST. JUDE NOVENA

May the sacred heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred heart of Jesus pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, hope of the hopeless, pray for us. Say this prayer nine times a day. By the eighth day your prayer will be answered. Say it for nine days. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. Thank you St. Jude.
