Closing is bittersweet for veteran promoter

Birch Hill's final concerts scheduled for Oct. 25-26

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

A veteran promoter who's been booking shows at the soon-to-close Birch Hill Nite Club for years has a message for his patrons: The soon-to-open Starland Ballroom will more than meet your musical needs.

Stan Levinstone, co-president of Concerts East, said he will miss Birch Hill's spacious interior and excellent sound system, but he believes that those who have flocked to the Route 9 concert hall will enjoy going to the Starland when it opens next month in Sayreville.

Levinstone, who has been booking concerts at Birch Hill for about nine years, is in the process of lining up local talent for Birch Hill's final weekend, being called the "Wrecking Ball," scheduled for Oct. 25-26.

At the same time, Levinstone and his staff at Red Bank-based Concerts East are booking acts to play the Starland Ballroom, which is scheduled to open in late November in the Jernee Mill Road building that formerly housed the Hunka Bunka Ballroom.

"The Starland Ballroom will be everything that Birch Hill was and more," Levinstone explained in a telephone interview Tuesday.

"It will be more conducive for the bands to play there," he said. "It's a much nicer venue with a higher stage."

Birch Hill will close forever this month to make way for a new age-restricted housing community that will span the area between Route 9, Texas Road and Marlboro Road, adjacent to Old Bridge's border with Marlboro Township.

On Oct. 24, the last night before the two-night Wrecking Ball finale, three bands, Kittie, Motograter, and 40 Below Summer, will play Birch Hill.

As for the Wrecking Ball shows, Concerts East plans to book several "local bands" who first got exposure at the club, but the promoter is not yet identifying the acts.

Through the years, Birch Hill has been the starting point for many local and national acts, Levinstone explained.

In the 1990s, bands such as Korn, Marilyn Manson and the Goo Goo Dolls played at Birch Hill when they were first on their way to fame and fortune, thanks to Levinstone.

"Birch Hill was all about breaking bands into this market," he said. "It was about developing bands so they could go into Convention Hall [in Asbury Park]."

Before that, artists such as Joan Jett, Eddie Money, Cinderella and Iron Maiden played the venue before hitting their stride in the 1980s. Levinstone was behind those bookings as well, as he owned his own concert promotion firm, Stan Levinstone Presents, at that time. He merged his business with Concerts East in 1999.

Altogether, Levinstone, a resident of Edison, has spent 24 years in the concert promotion business, having started as a

Old Bridge man faces pornography charges

Authorities charge he distributed photos of young girls over Internet

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

An Old Bridge man could face up to 15 years in a federal prison if he is convicted of possessing and distributing child pornography over the Internet.

Some of the photographic and video images collected and distributed by the suspect, who is the married father of two small children, feature children as young as 9 months old engaged in sexual activity, according to a federal agent who investigated the case.

Richard Mason, 34, was arrested at his Buttonwood Drive home Friday evening when agents from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement, accompanied by local police, confronted him about images that have been intercepted by investigators since late September.

Mason was charged with receiving and distributing child pornography, and with possessing a computer that held images of child pornography, according to a criminal complaint filed in U.S. District Court in Newark on Saturday.

Mason reportedly cooperated with federal agents. Authorities reported in the complaint that he had been collecting child pornography downloaded from the Internet for about two years. Mason favored images of pre-pubescent females engaged in sexual acts with adult males, the complaint states.

Many of the images were downloaded from a Web site and server located in California, according to the complaint.

During a review of one of Mason's computer hard drives, federal agents said they discovered more than 100 photo images and more than 50 video clips showing adult males engaging in sexual acts with mostly toddler girls.

Tom Manifase, the associate special agent who directs the Newark office of the Department's Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement, described the images collected from Mason's hard drive as graphic and shocking to even the most seasoned investigator.

Some of the children in the photos and video clips appeared to be as young as 9 months old, according to Manifase, a federal agent for 25 years.

"These pictures are the most disgusting and vile I've ever seen," Manifase said. "I've never seen children that young before (in pornography)."

Federal authorities are now trying to identify the children pictured in the images they said they discovered on Mason's computer and determine who originally produced them, Manifase noted.

Candidates share views on past record, future

BY JOLENE HART
 Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — With less than four weeks until the election, borough candidates are intensifying their campaigns, hoping to secure the attention and votes of residents who remain undecided.

The seats of Mayor Kennedy O'Brien and council members John Melillo and Phyllis Batko are up for re-election. O'Brien and Melillo are running on the Republican ticket with Stanley Drwal, while Batko is running as a Democrat along with Hector DeFino and current Councilman Thomas Marcinczyk, who is challenging O'Brien for the mayor's seat.

Melillo, a councilman for the past 3 years, is a life-long New Jersey resident and has lived in Sayreville since 1992. He and his wife, Patricia, have two children, Jaclyn, 15, and John, 13. Melillo spent 21 years as an employee of the Depository Trust Co. in New York City before moving to his current position at McDonagh Chrysler and Jeep in East Brunswick.

At the close of his first term on the council, Melillo recalled that during his tenure a new law was passed requiring all bars and clubs to close at 2 a.m., which was a platform issue in his 2000 campaign. There have also been several improvements in borough recreation, notably the opening of a popular skate park and the addition of events such as the Sayreville 5-miler race.

Looking ahead at the issues that will be meaningful for the borough, Melillo said that land preservation, reducing the number of new homes built, and the improvement of Sayreville's current traffic situation will be his concentrations.

According to Melillo, the old National Lead site, being looked at for remediation and economic development, is also a central issue that he hopes to "see to its fruition."

"We are working hard to make it easier for the town to achieve the condemnation of the National Lead site," he said. "This project will bring revenue into the borough and stabilize taxes. The proposed arena (a baseball stadium that is part arena) is a solid idea that will boost sports and recreation and provide enjoyment. It should come to light in the not-too-distant future."

Melillo also awaits the results of the Sayreville Commuter Survey that he conducted as councilman, predicting that the results will encourage the development of a park-and-ride facility and additional bus services for local residents.

Republican candidate Stanley Drwal was born in Sayreville, where he lived until joining the Army at age 18.

Drwal graduated from West Point with an engineering degree and went on to earn a degree in international relations and a master's degree in national security. He served in the Army for 24 years, retiring in 1997. Drwal contributed two more years of foreign service before returning to live in Sayreville. Drwal is married and is currently a teacher at Cardinal McCarrick High School in South Amboy.

Drwal said he plans to focus his efforts on control of property taxes in the borough, open space preservation and his own personal platform, the general clean-up of the borough.

"Taxes are going up too fast.

The seats of Mayor Kennedy O'Brien and council members John Melillo and Phyllis Batko are up for re-election.

This is a problem that relates to open space preservation and reduction of residential housing in the area," Drwal said.

Of his Republican running mate, Melillo said, "Drwal has the town in his heart and his heart in the town ... He has been all over the world and returned to live in Sayreville, his home."

Batko, Democratic incumbent who has served on the council for three years, is a Sayreville resident of 34 years. She is married and has two children, Michael, 13, and Kristin, 11, who attend Sayreville Middle School.

Batko is a graduate of Sayreville War Memorial High School and Rutgers University, New Brunswick. She obtained a master of business administration degree in finance from the Rutgers Graduate School of Management. Batko is a certified public accountant and was a finance manager at AT&T Corp. before her retirement.

According to Batko, her first term as councilwoman saw through to completion many of her campaign pledges from the 2000 election, when she ran as a Republican. She cited the earlier bar closings and the enforcement of regulations to protect residents from abusive patrons, as well as the initiation of open space efforts and steps toward the stabilization of property taxes.

"I led the charge on this year's budget ... to provide a zero municipal tax increase for the taxpayers of Sayreville. After a trip to Trenton, I was able to assure the taxpayers they would receive state aid as well as no municipal tax increase," Batko said.

Regarding the issues that she hopes to focus on if re-elected, Batko said she hopes to "promote smart economic growth, as opposed to sprawl," and to "end runaway consultant costs." She also wants to continue work on stabilizing taxes and developing and implementing an open space plan.

"She is sharp with the budget, can work out problems, and consistently moves forward with projects," Marcinczyk said of Batko. "She is an asset to the council and the entire town."

DeFino, a Sayreville resident since 1974, has been married for 18 years and has four children. He attended Sayreville High School and Middlesex County College. DeFino also contributes his time to local Little League, basketball and church organizations. He is the owner of DeFino Contracting Co. and deals with municipal, county and state construction projects.

DeFino said he plans to focus on stabilizing taxes and local redevelopment, including repairs that need to be made to the local infrastructure.

"We need to take a serious look at the redevelopment of Sayreville. This is a matter that needs to be attended to both before and after the election," according to DeFino.

On local redevelopment, DeFino said that "all roads 35 years old and older need to be repaired. We also need to construct paths to schools for the safety of children."

He also supports Marcinczyk's proposal to introduce a ferry service for commuters, according to DeFino.

"[DeFino] knows how to set goals for a project, see the project through to completion, and strives to do so under cost," Batko said of her running mate. "He brings a refreshing new perspective to municipal government."

The election is scheduled for Nov. 4.

Boro officer fears revenge for doing job

Marcinczyk: Recent events are 100 percent 'political harassment'

BY JOLENE HART
Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — Saying he was treated in a "belligerent, intimidating" manner by a councilman and business owner, the borough's zoning officer said he fears political ramifications related to his job.

The allegations brought by the zoning officer are against Thomas Marcinczyk, the councilman and current Democratic mayoral candidate whose Bordentown Avenue business was found not to be in compliance with zoning regulations.

The owner of the T. Marcinczyk and Sons monument business and floralscapes shop was issued a notice of zoning violation on June 16 as the result of a March 31 inspection by Andrew Mashanski, borough zoning officer, and

SAYREVILLE

Thomas Pollando of the Borough Council, planning and zoning boards.

Mashanski again cited Marcinczyk on Aug. 8 because the violations had not been fully addressed.

The summonses state that Marcinczyk had too many monuments displayed outdoors, did not provide enough on-site parking, and exceeded the number of signs permitted by the zoning board. Outdoor storage at the site and a buffer of evergreen trees also did not comply with conditions established by the zoning board when Marcinczyk received a use variance for his business last year.

The issue surfaced at the Sept. 22 Borough Council meeting when it was announced that Mashanski filed a general complaint with the borough. The complaint chronicles the alleged treatment by Marcinczyk toward Mashanski during a field inspection. The matter was considered by the council after Mashanski requested that it be addressed during an open session.

Marcinczyk said he was not aware of the complaint until it was brought up at the Sept. 22 meeting.

"Mr. Mashanski inspected my property in March. I have not spoken to him since then," Marcinczyk said this week.

The notification filed by Mashanski officially documents his concerns regarding his alleged treatment and the future security of his job with the borough, should Marcinczyk be elected as mayor in the Nov. 4 election.

According to the memo written by Mashanski and dated Aug. 13, Marcinczyk acted in a "belligerent, intimidating manner" when notified that he was out of compliance.

"Simply said, the political ramifications as a result of performing my duties can conceivably create undue harm in my position directly and indirectly. Therefore, for your file, I will keep you informed on any future retaliatory proliferation as a result of this office's aforementioned actions," Mashanski wrote.

Mashanski would not comment on the situation for this story.

During the Sept. 22 meeting, Marcinczyk denied that Mashanski's job would be in jeopardy.

He also denied Mashanski's allegations about what transpired during the site visit.

"This is 100 percent political harassment," Marcinczyk said.

Marcinczyk said he has not made the necessary improvements to his property in compliance with zoning laws because he is awaiting physical changes that will be made to the sewer system on portions of his property.

"There is a $2.2 million bond, which taxpayers are paying for, that covers improvements to the sewer lines that run down Bordentown Avenue. This project has been tied up for 18 to 20 months," said Marcinczyk.

He said he agreed to allow the lines to be installed in portions of his property and will wait for those improvements to be completed before putting down new blacktop and fixing parking violations at his businesses.

Though he said he has plans to make all the necessary improvements, he is awaiting completion of the county and borough projects so that he will not have to perform his own improvements twice.

"Now, the county has announced the need to put in storm sewers and curbing on Bordentown Avenue. How can I be in compliance while all of this is tied up? The county engineer and my engineer are working together to solve this."

Fines issued to Marcinczyk, totaling $50,000 to $60,000, are pending a Nov. 12 court date.

booking agent for several New Jersey nightclubs including the former Capitol Theatre in Passaic.

"I developed a love of music," he said.

While he regrets having left college after two years, Levinstone is grateful for his success in an extremely competitive business.

"I got my education by working," he said.

From 1984 to 1991, Levinstone booked acts at Asbury Park's famed Stone Pony. There, he met Warren Zevon and formed a friendship that lasted until the singer died of cancer on Sept. 7.

"I had a really close friendship with him," Levinstone said, adding that he attended Zevon's funeral last month in Los Angeles.

In September 2001, the state Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) revoked the liquor license held by Birch Hill owner Art Stock. The longtime nightclub impresario is prohibited by the state from owning a liquor license due to a 1990 horse racing fraud conviction.

As a result, Birch Hill began holding strictly all-ages shows and Concerts East has been booking acts that appealed to an under-21 crowd. The strategy has worked because the clientele comes to see the bands, not to drink, Levinstone pointed out.

"People come here for the bands. They're actually paying attention to them," Levinstone said.

Parents of club patrons also feel secure about letting their young adults go to Birch Hill, he noted.

"The parents feel very comfortable knowing that there is no alcohol in the building," Levinstone said. "It's actually been a good thing because the key is to keep a safe environment."

After last winter's nightclub fire in Warwick, R.I., Birch Hill underwent frequent inspection by the township's code enforcement officers. For safety reasons, the club's management opened the often-empty "Stingrays" room in order to provide more space and better access to fire exits, Levinstone said.

"The fire marshals keep you to strict capacities," he said. "We've been inspected numerous times."

It's the main concert room and the sound system that Levinstone will miss the most about Birch Hill.

"We'll miss the room. The bands loved playing there," Levinstone said.

"The room was such a great sounding room. There's plenty of room to move around," he continued. "It's a good concert venue and has a good P.A. system."

Nonetheless, Levinstone believes the bands will be equally pleased with the new amenities they will find at Starland Ballroom. Concerts East will do whatever it takes to ensure a smooth transition for the acts, he said.

"We try to do everything right for the bands," he said. "We try to treat the bands with equal respect whether they are the opening band or the main act."

Concerts East is part of Gate to Wire LLC, which is purchasing the former Hunka Bunka Ballroom and is also obtaining the previous owners' liquor license.

While booking bands there, Concerts East will also continue booking at other venues throughout New Jersey and in New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Connecticut, Levinstone stated. The company's clientele includes Asbury Park's Convention Hall, the Count Basie Theatre in Red Bank and the State Theatre in New Brunswick.

Birch Hill has 10 concerts scheduled between this weekend and Wrecking Ball weekend, including appearances by national acts such as Mudvayne, Anthrax and MXPX.

OPINION

Your Turn

Unsettled by lack of concern

My wife and I bought a house in Old Bridge six and a half years ago. This past August we had a bike stolen from our yard.

We reported this bike stolen to the Old Bridge Police Department and thought of it as an isolated incident. We went out and bought our son another bike for his birthday. We felt that he shouldn't be punished because of what had happened.

He had that bike five days, and it was stolen. Again, we reported the incident to the Old Bridge Police Department, and again, all that was done was that a police report was filed. Nobody is investigating what is going on in our neighborhood. This second bike was stolen right out of our back yard, which is fenced.

We came to realize that living in Old Bridge, we had to lock up our things — not exactly what we thought raising a family here was going to be like.

We did go out and buy our son a third bike and told him he had to lock up his bike in the shed. We also bought him a chain with a lock for his bike. He had this bike locked up to the fence, and guess what? That bike was stolen, chain and all.

The police department has yet to do anything to stop the criminals who have stolen a total of 10 bikes (that we know of so far) from this neighborhood. The police told us to lock up the bikes, which we did, and that didn't stop these criminals from entering our property and stealing from us or our neighbors.

I would like to know that I live in a safe environment and that we are bringing up our children in a safe environment, one that would be a joy to live in and grow up in, without worrying about what is going to happen next.

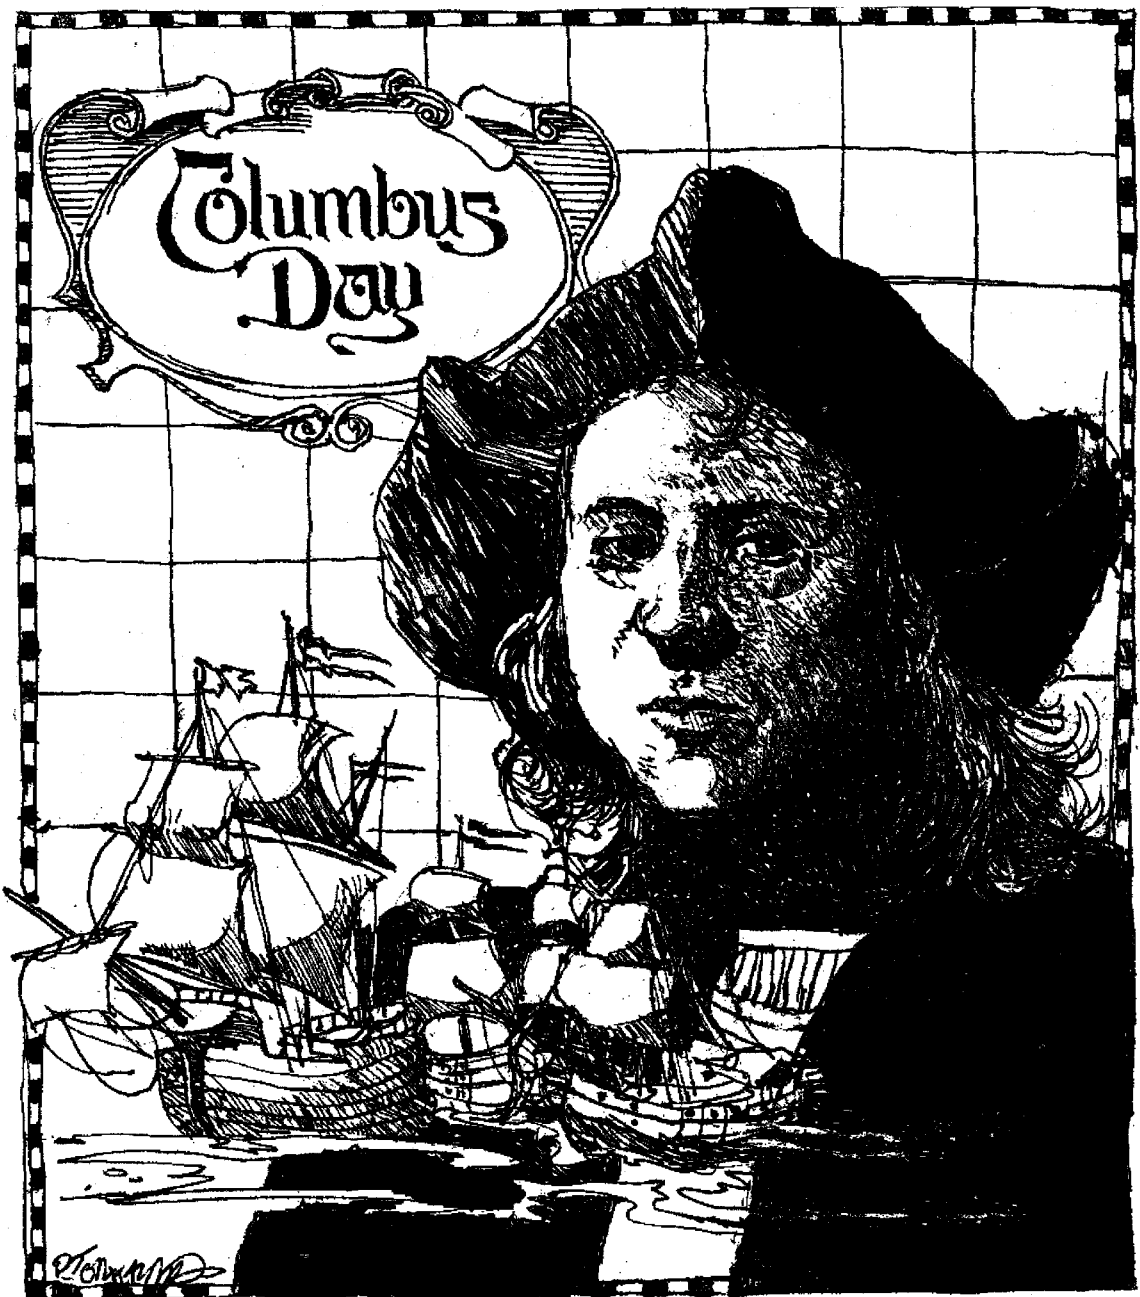

Timothy Ryan
Guest Column

We've had enough and have decided that bringing up our children in a community where we as homeowners have to police our own property isn't for us. It's a shame that it has come down to this because we and our children are very happy and active here.

We just wanted to express our concerns about what is happening here to us and others in Old Bridge in hopes that someone in the police department or the mayor's office would take an issue such as a stolen bike seriously because what's going to be next? Will criminals steal cars or break into our homes and have the chance to hurt our families? This is only the beginning for these criminals, and nothing is being done about it other than homeowners filing police reports.

Someone should be investigating what is happening in our community, our neighborhood and our town.

Timothy Ryan is a resident of Old Bridge

Your Turn

Commuters should respect homeowners, use the park-and-ride

I must respond to Susan Mulligan's "Your Turn" guest column, "Parking Issues Cause Loss of Faith," that appeared in the Sept. 11 issue of the Suburban.

Ms. Mulligan doesn't seem to understand why anyone would mind if she parks her car in front of their house for 11 hours per day, three-five days per week. Is she for real? Perhaps she should try another point of view.

You own a house and you have a parking space (or two) in front of it. Some stranger parks his/her car there for the entire daylight portion of the day, every day. It's a beautiful day, the sun is shining, you have your windows open, and each and every time you pass by or look out your front windows, you are forced to see someone's SUV or van or banged-up car. What an eyesore. Would you want to see that each and every day as your view of your lovely neighborhood?

My friend who has had spinal surgery and cannot walk far cannot come to visit me because you always take up my available parking space, your fellow commuters have taken the available spaces of my neighbors, and my friend's sister has no place to park.

Likewise, my relatives who come to my house for a special holiday have no place to park because you and your fellow parkers have taken away our available parking. My holidays are ruined, and my friends and family are loathe to come to visit me because there's always a problem finding a parking space.

It is wintertime, and your car is parked in front of my house. It snows, and your snowed-in car remains in front of my house. The snowplow cannot plow in front of my house because your car is blocking the way. Eventually you will shovel out your car and throw the snow on my front walk, in the apron of my driveway or elsewhere in front of my house. It soon turns to rock-hard ice that remains there until the thaw, sometime in May.

These are just some examples of what residents have to deal with because other people think they are entitled to take up the space in front of homes that do not belong to them. Ms. Mulligan doesn't personally park in front of my home, but a whole bunch of people like Ms. Mulligan do, so I know how these homeowners feel. I paid for this house, and dang it, give me some courtesy. I agree, no one has the right to damage anyone's car or yell obscenities at another person. But, Ms. Mulligan, have these people already asked you not to consistently take up their available parking, and you've refused?

It's not about parking or cars or whether you get to spend another 20 minutes a day with your children, Ms. Mulligan. It's about showing some respect for people and their property — that's the issue here.

You know how the homeowners feel, so why do you continue to be so obstinate? I would think you would have learned from your past when you claim that, as a child, you watched grown adults "end relationships because of car parking issues."

Do yourself and the residents of Sayreville a favor, Ms. Mulligan. Drive to the park-and-ride lot like the rest of us. You can park anywhere you like, and no one will complain — unless, of course, you don't pay your dollar.

Margaret M. Jelcich is a resident of Old Bridge

Thinks Old Bridge issue should be looked at seriously

I am writing to take exception to your editorial in the Oct. 2 Suburban, about a very serious situation in Old Bridge.

It is unfortunate that your editorial writer tried to trivialize a matter that has been tied to a criminal investigation, by using the tired cliché, "silly season." That is the kind of catch phrase used as a crutch by a writer unwilling to explore the serious nature of a problem.

There is nothing "silly" about a politically appointed Zoning Board bending over backward to help enrich some of Gov. James McGreevey's closest political allies and campaign contributors. The Democratic-controlled Zoning Board of Adjustment voted to allow a gigantic billboard to be put up in Old Bridge, against the wishes of most residents.

Newspapers vigorously defend freedom of speech and the First Amendment whenever they feel threatened. So, how come your editorial tries to trivialize a blatant attempt by the Democratic majority on the Old Bridge Township Council to stifle debate on this issue? Freedom of speech should not be limited to editorial writers, but also should be extended to elected officials.

Richard A. Cannon
Old Bridge

Sayreville needs new, responsible leadership

We need to elect a Sayreville mayor and Borough Council who are willing to do things right for the residents of Sayreville.

We have a mayor who wants to raise taxes, build a stadium we don't need and neglects our streets. My street, Marsh Avenue, is in need of repair.

We need a mayor and council who will be responsible and support our town. Sayreville is great place to live, and we want to maintain our pride. It's time for the voters to elect Democrats Tom Marcinczyk for mayor and Phyliss Batko and Hector Defino for council.

As a Korean War veteran, I have attended many affairs for veterans, and the Democrats were there to support us. Sayreville veterans need their support.

On Election Day, Nov. 4, let's do away with the old and elect the new who are willing to help the people of Sayreville.

Man critical after accident

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — A township man who was struck by a vehicle as he attempted to cross Route 18 remained in critical condition yesterday.

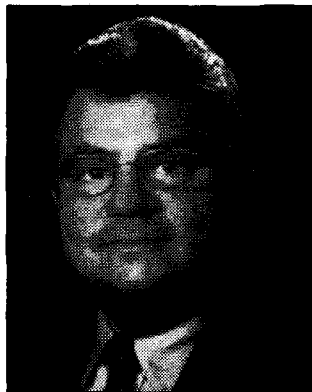

Township police are still seeking witnesses to the accident, which occurred Monday morning.

Shane Tice, 20, was struck by a 1996 Toyota Avalon as he tried to cross the southbound lanes of Route 18 near Pinetree Boulevard at 10:10 a.m., according to Old Bridge police Detective John Doherty. Tice was thrown onto the grass median after he was hit.

The driver of the Toyota, Joseph Visichio, 36, of Shirley Boulevard, Old Bridge, reportedly stopped and pulled over onto the median after the accident. No charges have been filed against him, Doherty said.

Paramedics transported Tice to Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, New Brunswick, where he underwent surgery, police said. As of Wednesday afternoon, his condition remained critical, according to a hospital spokeswoman.

Anyone who witnessed the accident is asked to contact Detective Doherty at (732) 721-5600, ext. 3390.

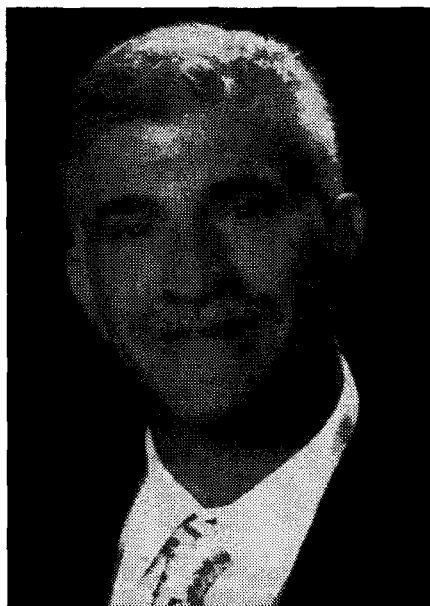

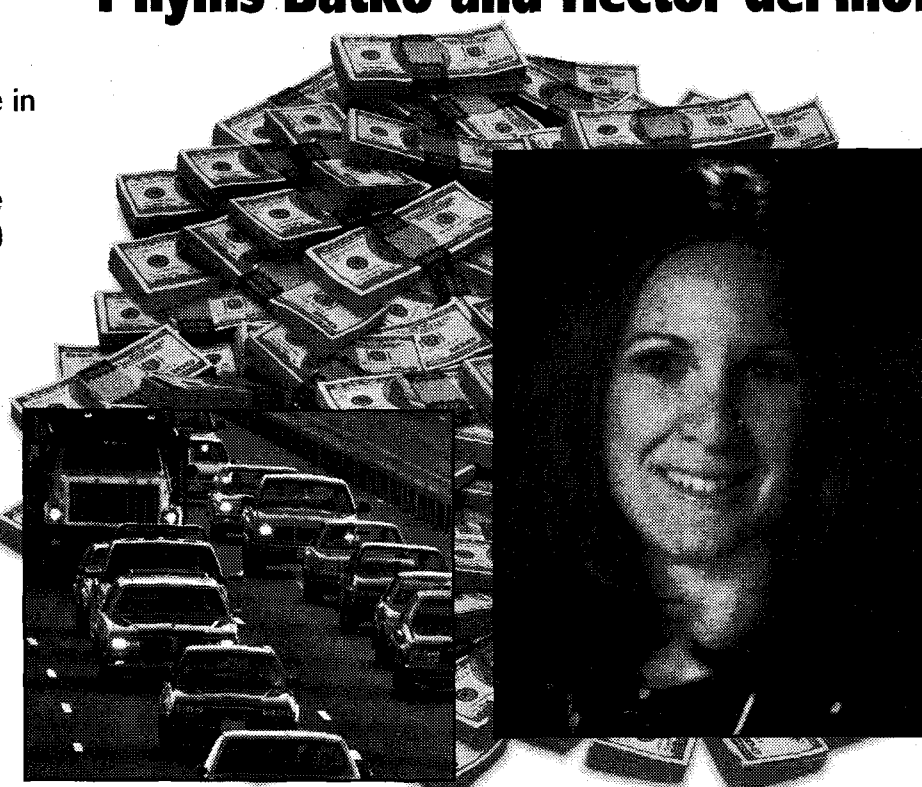

The Higher Property Taxes and More Development TEAM.

That's Tom Marcinczyk, Phyllis Batko and Hector deFino.

Phyllis Batko is suing Sayreville in a politically motivated lawsuit.

A lawsuit that has cost Sayreville taxpayers more than $40,000 and counting.

Tell Batko to stop draining our tax money with her frivolous lawsuits.

Worried about overdevelopment? Then you should be worried about Hector deFino.

Do we really want someone who owns a construction company on Sayreville Borough Council? Talk about a fox in the hen house!

Who do you think construction company owner deFino will side with when the big developers come looking for more housing approvals?

... You can bet it won't be us.

This Election Day...

You Too Can Lose All The Weight You Want..

by Douglas Richard

Ellen Bragg is a customer service representative and a mother of four. Like many of us, Ellen has been struggling with weight for most of her life. "At age 12, I gained weight virtually overnight. When I was 13, the doctor had to put me on a diet because I was nearly 200 pounds! He and my mother tried to keep me on the diet, but I lost only 5 pounds. By the age of 18, I was heavy, uncomfortable and utterly miserable!" Despite her best efforts, Ellen could not bring her weight back under control. "I never ate breakfast and rarely ate lunch. At night, the boredom set in. I'd eat nonstop. Chips...sweets... whatever I could get my hands on." The extra weight eventually began to erode her health. Severe arthritis set in, her blood pressure rose, and her energy plummeted. "I felt tired all the time", Ellen recalls.

In addition to the physical pain, Ellen was also trying to cope with the emotional pain of being overweight. "I was embarrassed and self-conscious. I obsessed about what other people thought of me. I was suffering with no end in sight", Ellen lamented. "To put it mildly, I was unhappy, unhealthy and downright fed-up."

Dieting Madness

Ellen tried almost everything to bring her weight under control including most of the national diet chains and the latest fad diets. Nothing worked. "I went on a cabbage diet, a watermelon diet, and a soup and Melba toast diet. Sometimes I'd lose weight, but the pounds were always right back plus more. I felt out of control. It was like a madness." She knew something had to change, but what?

One day Ellen was reading about Positive Changes Hypnosis in the newspaper. The story described about a dozen people who had received excellent results after being hypnotized. At first she was skeptical. "It sounded too good to be true", she recalled. But then Ellen began thinking about her future. "What will happen to me if I stay fat? Suppose I gain even more weight?" She picked up the telephone and scheduled her free hypnosis screening.

My Best Gift Ever...

Ellen was immediately impressed with the warm and professional environment at Positive Changes Hypnosis. "The entire staff made me feel at home. There were no hard sales tactics. My consultant explained the program and what I could expect." She was impressed, but still uncertain. In the end, Ellen's skepticism won out. She went home, but she could not stop thinking about what she saw and heard at Positive Changes. She told her mother how she had witnessed hundreds of testimonials...on video and in writing. "I honestly think hypnosis can help me," she said. Her mother encouraged her to give Positive Changes a try and even paid for the program as a gift. "It was my best gift ever!"

Bless the Day...

After her first session, Ellen knew hypnosis was the answer for her. "I bless the day I started at Positive Changes Hypnosis", she says. "On my way home that evening, I made a quick stop at the corner grocery. I walked right past the chips and made a beeline for the fruit. My cart was full of fruit and bottled water. My skepticism vanished!"

Her attitude toward food changed completely. "I crave fresh fruits and vegetables. I only want to drink water and juices. My desire for soft drinks has vanished." Three months into the program, she had lost 50 lbs and her energy level skyrocketed. "For the first time in my life, I was actually enjoying long walks and exercise." After seven short months, she had lost 100 lbs. and dropped 5 dress sizes! "It was a milestone I never dreamed I'd reach."

Hypnosis did away with the cravings, night binges, and poor eating habits. "I have no desire for the chips and sweets that had made me fat. I take pleasure in preparing focus on anything. The last time I tried to quit, Kathee told me I had to start again because I was too hard to live with."

There are many methods available to help quit smoking. Kathee, "tried to stop smoking using the gum, the patch, and cold turkey. I couldn't get rid of the desire." She says, "I wanted a cigarette all the time."

Kathee told Jeff, "We are going to Positive Changes Hypnosis today." Jeff was a little surprised. They both signed up and did a hypnosis session.

"Positive Changes Hypnosis took away the desire," says confident Kathee. "I was waiting for the headache or other symptoms of withdrawal. I never got them. I was amazed, I had no withdrawals and for that I am grateful."

Jeff found "it was easy to stop smoking using hypnosis. I kept waiting for these big cravings to come about and they never did. We also noticed an increase in our energy level. Our boss says we smell better!"

People receive many benefits after they quit smoking. Kathee describes even more benefits they received after their hypnosis sessions. "Besides the health benefit, we are saving money, and have experienced boosts to our confidence and self-esteem," says Kathee. "We recommend Positive Changes Hypnosis to anyone who wants to quit smoking as easily as we did. We recommend it to folks all the time." healthy, nourishing meals. I never feel deprived. I relax and savor the flavor of food." Today, Ellen is 149 lbs. lighter (actually exceeding her weight loss goal) and her dress size plunged from an obese 26 to a lean 10.

New Life!

Hypnosis not only helped Ellen reduce her weight and improve her health, hypnosis helped her change her life. "Before hypnosis, I had no life. I was inactive due to advanced arthritis in my feet, hands, and knees. I lived in constant pain. It was an effort for me to do laundry or to climb stairs. My blood pressure was high and my energy was low. Now I can go for long walks and out-do just about anybody. Most days my energy level is so high that I can barely sit still. I was elated when my doctor took me off my blood pressure medication. She was surprised when I told her how hypnosis had helped me. Now she is advising her patients to try the Positive Changes Hypnosis free hypnosis screening."

She was surprised when I told her how hypnosis had helped me. Now she is advising her patients to try the Positive Changes Hypnosis free hypnosis screening."

You Can Lose Weight Too

Ellen is looking looking forward to her new future. "I set a goal of shedding 140 Lbs. I've exceeded that goal. Best of all, I know that I will keep my weight off forever. What fun I will have this summer with my eight grandchildren doing what I thought I would never do again...swimming, picnics, long walks." Ellen encourages others to at least call Positive Changes Hypnosis and schedule a free hypnotic evaluation. "I say do yourself the biggest favor and GO! Talk to them. Then decide that this is what you want to do. If you want to be a thin person, you can be. You can feel good about yourself again." Above all, don't wait and don't continue to live with the pain. "Ask yourself the questions I asked myself - What will happen if I stay fat? Suppose I gain even more weight? Then pick up the telephone and call Positive Changes Hypnosis. It'll be the best gift you ever give yourself!"

Stop Smoking Made Easy Hypnosis Kicks 25 Year Habit

Jeff and Kathee Clarke kicked their smoking habit instantly after being hypnotized. The Clarkes have been married for seven years and work together at an aerial photography company. Kathee smoked a pack a day and Jeff was up to a pack and a half. "Whenever I'd try to quit, I would become very irritable," says Jeff. "And I couldn't Vote on Raceway Park track put off 'til Dec.

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — The owners of Raceway Park will have to wait until early December to find out if they are allowed to finish building a multi-use track at the Pension Road site.

After hearing most of the testimony on the application Tuesday night, the Planning Board chose to carry the hearing to its Dec. 2 meeting.

Board members are expected to vote on the final site plan for the 1.3-mile demonstration course at that meeting, Planning Board Chairman George Koehler announced.

OLD BRIDGE

The multi-use track is reportedly partially laid out, with further construction dependent upon the Planning Board's vote.

David Panas, a chief steward for the Sports Car Club of America, testified in support of Raceway Park's application. He told the board that none of the events planned for the multi-use track would generate excessive noise.

Street-legal sports cars, not loud drag strip cars, would be used on the track, he said.

The course is also designed for use by defensive-driving training programs, driving schools and automobile manufacturers seeking to demonstrate new vehicles, according to Kenneth Pape, an Old Bridge-based attorney who testified for Raceway Park.

The 40-year-old drag strip is located just over the border of Manalapan Township, Monmouth County.

About 35 people from Manalapan attended the hearing, according to Koehler. While some of those residents, apparently familiar with the type of events that the proposed track would host, testified in favor of the application, others spoke against the plan.

At a previous hearing in June, several Manalapan residents who live near Raceway Park voiced concerns that the multi-use course would add to the noise produced by races at the drag strip.

Only muffled vehicles will use the 12-turn track, which will not be used for any racing events, Pape said.

Construction on the new track stopped in January and the course is not in use, according to Raceway Park owner Michael Napp.

Napp has also said the course will be a boost to the local economy by bringing trade show visitors and sports car enthusiasts to Old Bridge and neighboring towns.

Old Bridge Library plans October programs

The Old Bridge Public Library Main Branch, Route 516 and Cottrell Road, has scheduled several upcoming events.

The Savvy Seniors discussion group will hold a meeting at 10:30 a.m. on Oct. 14. The group meets every month in the library's large meeting room to discuss previously selected topics.

Lunch dates and trips to Broadway shows, movies, etc., are scheduled throughout the year.

A meeting of the Gardening Club is set for 7 p.m. on Oct. 15 in the library conference room. Participants will trade secrets and plants, plan visits to gardening centers and discuss how to remake the library garden.

The Mystery Book Discussion Group will meet at 7 p.m. on Oct. 15. For title to be discussed, call Marcy at (732) 721-5600, ext. 5034.

A meeting of the Original Book Discussion Group of Old Bridge is set for 7:30-8:45 p.m. on Oct. 16 in the library conference room. All book lovers are welcome.

The People Poets of Old Bridge will hold a meeting at 7 p.m. on Oct. 16. Participants are invited to share their personal creations or the work of other poets. New members and listeners are welcome.

The Coffeehouse Board Game Club of Old Bridge will meet at 1 p.m. on Oct. 18. The club concentrates on classic board games, but community members are welcome to bring in a wide variety of games for everyone to try. Individuals of all ages are welcome. The library asks that participants bring their own games, if possible.

The library's Genealogy Club will hold its next meeting at 7 p.m. on Oct. 22. The club is made up of individuals who enjoy family history. Members bring different projects to monthly meetings and share research ideas and goals. New members are sought.

A meeting of the new Science Fiction Book Discussion Group is set for 7 p.m. on Oct. 23. Topic will be "Calculating God" by Robert Sawyer.

For more information on all programs, call Tim at (732) 721-5600, ext. 2313; e-mail timnil@lmcac.org.

Businesses join hands in helping hairstylist

Fund-raiser to be held Sunday in Old Bridge for Aluisio Rocha

BY SUE M. MORGAN
 Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — Competing beauty salons in the township are coming together to help out a fellow hairstylist.

As he recovers from recent surgery to remove a malignant brain tumor, Aluisio Rocha, a popular hairdresser at Vogue Hair & Nails, is struggling with a mountain of medical bills and living expenses, according to Steve and Christine Rowbotham, owners of the salon at Route 9 and Ticetown Road.

"We're hoping he's going to get better and come back to work," Christine Rowbotham said.

A native of Brazil who plans to become an American citizen, Rocha, 38, returned to his home country on Sept. 4 to undergo the surgery, according to the Rowbothams.

Rocha is now receiving radiation therapy in a Brazilian hospital. Although he underwent the surgery at no cost under Brazil's system of socialized medicine, he and his family still must pay the bills for his stays in two New Jersey hospitals as well as their living expenses for their home in Kearny.

Because Rocha is not yet a U.S. citizen, he does not qualify for disability or Social Security. He also does not have health insurance.

That's where his employer and many other businesses want to help.

At 2 p.m. Sunday, Vogue Hair & Nails will host a fund-raiser to benefit Rocha and his family at the Friendly Sons of the Shillelagh banquet hall, 18 Oak St., Old Bridge.

The $25 admission price includes a buffet, cash bar, entertainment, raffles and prizes.

All of the proceeds will go to Rocha, his wife and two children to help defray their expenses, the Rowbothams said.

Tickets can be purchased in advance at Vogue, as well as at many of their competitors' salons.

Overall, as many as nine beauty salons in town are selling tickets and posting the flier bearing Rocha's photo.

"The competition came together," Steve Rowbotham said. "They've put the business needs aside to help one of our own."

Many of Vogue's neighbors in the Ticetown Shopping Center and other Old Bridge businesses are also pitching in.

La Dolce Bakery will donate baked goods, while Ciccone's Italian Deli, Old Bridge Pizza, D's Dollar Store and Fiftyoffcards will contribute gift certificates and other prizes.

ShopRite at Route 9 and Fairway Lane, Old New York Steakhouse on Route 516, and Trabelli's Restaurant on Route 9 are also donating gift certificates. Mattsson's Auto Tech in South Amboy will contribute gift certificates for free oil changes.

Almost Original Entertainment will provide a disc jockey free of charge. Old Bridge native Rob Magnotti, a comedian who has appeared at clubs such as Catch a Rising Star, will donate his time and talents.

Top Hat Caterers, the in-house catering service for the Friendly Sons, is offering the buffet at a reduced rate, the Rowbothams pointed out. In addition, the on-line advertising service Old-bridge411.com has posted the benefit on its Web site free of charge.

Many of the Rocha's customers have contributed generously to a donation box set up at the salon, the Rowbothams said.

"The customers have been giving money for his wife," Christine Rowbotham said. "He's incurred over $10,000 worth of medical expenses."

One of Vogue's suppliers, John Andre Enterprises, Manalapan, plans to match the donations in the box, she added.

The Rowbothams took Rocha on as their employee in February when they took over the salon, formerly known as Harlow International.

Rocha is a well-liked stylist with a steady clientele, the owners said. One of his customers even travels from upstate

New York to have him cut her hair, Christine stated.

"He's a phenomenal hairdresser," she noted. "Some of his customers have even said they will keep letting their hair grow until he comes back."

On Aug. 29, Rocha underwent an emergency MRI at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ) in Newark, Christine recalled. Doctors then found the brain tumor and admitted Rocha to the hospital where he remained over Labor Day weekend.

Surgery was scheduled for Sept. 11, but Rocha instead chose to return to Brazil so he could have the tumor removed immediately at no cost, Christine explained.

"The owner of a Brazilian salon in Newark paid for his plane ticket," Christine said.

The Rowbothams have been sponsoring his U.S. citizenship.

"He is definitely needed here,"

Christine said.

Rocha, who speaks Portuguese, was taking English as a Second Language (ESL) classes before falling ill. Often he would bring his books to work and study in between appointments, Christine said.

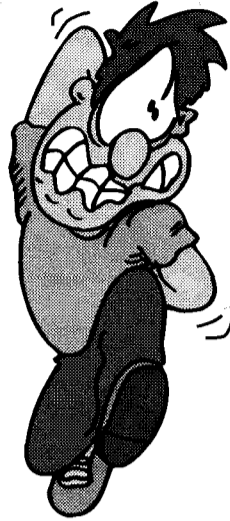

"He speaks English very well," she said. "Every night he was studying."

Anyone wishing to donate money for the family can contribute to the Aluisio Rocha Fund at the Amboy National Bank branch in the Ticetown Shopping Center, according to the Rowbothams.

Because Aluisio Rocha is not yet a U.S. citizen, he does not qualify for disability or Social Security. He also does not have health insurance.

Lautenberg back in town to endorse fellow Dems

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — For the second straight year, U.S. Senator Frank Lautenberg came to Old Bridge Day as a man on a mission.

Last October, Lautenberg, having entered the senatorial race days before as a replacement Democratic candidate, briefly debated his then-opponent, Republican Douglas Forrester, at the community fair.

On Saturday, Lautenberg came not to conquer, but rather to assist fellow Democrats hoping to take the mayor's office held for 16 years by Republicans and to retain control of the Township Council.

A jovial Lautenberg marched in the 16th annual Old Bridge Day parade on Saturday morning alongside Democratic mayoral candidate James T. "Jim" Phillips, incumbent Councilman Edward Testino and council candidate Patrick Gillespie.

Phillips, the Middlesex County treasurer and a former freeholder, is seeking the office being vacated after 12 years by Mayor Barbara Cannon, who is not seeking re-election.

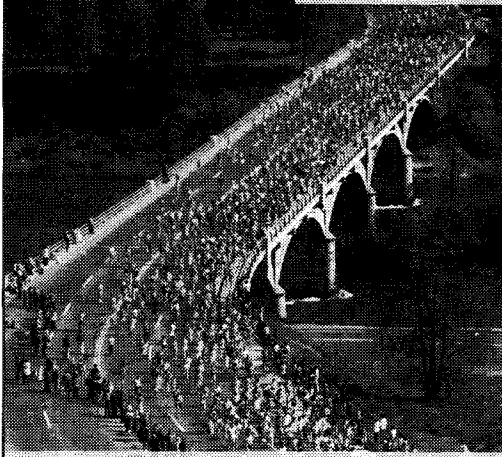

Testino and Councilman Dennis Maher, who was absent from the event due to work commitments, are both seeking re-election to their at-large council seats. Gillespie, a former councilman who serves as president of the township's Economic Development Corp. (EDC), is seeking a non-consecutive term.

Lautenberg who later defeated Forrester in a controversial Senate contest, made an impromptu appearance at last year's street fair, much to the surprise of many spectators.

The then-retired senator had entered the race earlier that week as the replacement candidate for U.S. Sen. Robert Torricelli, who withdrew from the contest due to allegations of wrongdoing.

Lautenberg was pleased to come back to Old Bridge Day and noted the significance of coming back to stump for local Democrats.

"A year ago, coming to Old Bridge was such a new experience even though I had done it so many times," Lautenberg said in a brief post-parade interview.

Lautenberg was pleased with the reception he received last year in spite of the controversy surrounding his last-minute entrance in the race as Torricelli's replacement.

"It was a very positive experience. I was very well received," Lautenberg said.

Lautenberg expressed hope that by marching with Phillips and his team, he would be able to show voters that he is paying attention to issues directly affecting Old Bridge and will assist local Democrats as they try to resolve them.

"It's nice to be in Old Bridge again," Lautenberg said. "I've been here looking at the various problems such as overpopulation, traffic and the environment."

"We're here to listen and learn and say hello to everyone," he added.

Middlesex County Freeholders Camille Fernicola and John Pulomena also joined Lautenberg and others along the parade route.

Pulomena and Freeholder H. James Polos are seeking re-election to the county board, which is now entirely composed of Democrats.

"The Democrats are important to me," Lautenberg said. "I fully support the ticket."

"Jim is a fine man and he's running a great issue-oriented campaign," the senator said. "I am delighted to be here walking and visiting with him and his running mates."

Equally pleased by Lautenberg's company, Phillips thanked the senator for coming to Old Bridge to endorse him and the three Democratic council candidates.

"For Senator Lautenberg to find the time in his busy schedule to come down here and be with us on Old Bridge Day shows just how much he cares about our residents," Phillips said.

Marchers, including Scout troops, athletic teams, dancers, fire companies and first aid squads, as well as the Old Bridge High School Marching Knights Band, walked under cloudy skies from Browntown Shopping Center on Route 516 to Gaub Road to Throckmorton Lane, ending at the high school's west campus.

Phillips' Republican opponent, Ward 5 Councilman Richard Greene, also marched in Saturday morning's parade several yards and marching units ahead of the Democrats.

The three Republican council candidates — Amelia Mannino-Pellicone, Robert Sucarato and Peter Trabucco — accompanied Greene on the route, as did Cannon.

Cannon, a popular mayor, who was elected three times, endorsed Greene and the Republican ticket last week.

Independent candidate and former Republican councilman Camillo Vitale is also running against Phillips and Greene in the Nov. 4 election.

Hospice nurse sees life at other end of cycle

Friends, families also come to terms with the end of life's journey

BY DICK METZGAR
Staff Writer

EAST BRUNSWICK — Barbara Sorkin has seen life at the beginning and at the end. The East Brunswick nurse, 51, said she has found both experiences extremely rewarding.

On Sept. 11 she helped deliver a baby in a rest room at the Olive Garden restaurant on Route 18 in East Brunswick. Connor Evan Cairns was born at 7 p.m. while Sorkin, her husband, Howard, and daughter, Alli, a 16-year-old junior at East Brunswick High School, were having dinner at the restaurant.

Since January, Sorkin has been general manager for Odyssey HealthCare of New Jersey, one of the largest hospice providers in the country, offering care and support to terminally ill people and their families and friends.

"It was kind of funny helping with the birth of the baby," Sorkin said. "My job deals with people who are near the end of life, and here I was helping with the birth of a baby, experiencing the beginning of life. The beautiful thing about it was that the birth was uncomplicated."

Sorkin recalled that the birth caused considerable excitement among the dinner customers. Connor was born to Randi Cairns, with the assistance of his father, Ian, and a culinary assistant, Doris Cuffie, 49.

"Alli had gone to the ladies' room when she heard noises and someone calling for help," Sorkin said. "Alli asked what the problem was, and this lady said she was having a baby. We told restaurant management what was happening, and then I went in. I didn't know the Cairns, but we became very intimate quickly. It was an experience that I will never forget. It was a double miracle because it happened on 9/11."

However, her immediate goal in life is providing care for terminally ill people, many of them elderly. "Our mission is to serve all people during the end of life's journey," said Sorkin, who received her nursing education after her kids were grown. "My goal is to educate people that hospice care is available to all elderly people who are terminally ill and who have Medicare or Medicaid, and to people of all ages who are covered by health insurance that includes hospice care," she said. Odyssey's literature points out that hospice is not a place; rather it is a concept about the quality of life as it nears its end for the patients and their families and friends. Even when medicine cannot provide a cure, it can offer other comfort, care and assistance that can help maintain a better quality of life for the patient. "We have a slogan YCCOM (you can count on me)," Sorkin said. "For me, that now also means helping to deliver a baby."

Odyssey, which has been in existence since 1996, and whose home base in New Jersey is in Piscataway, is operational in eight counties — Middlesex, Monmouth, Ocean, Essex, Somerset, Union, Mercer, and Hunterdon.

For more information, call Odyssey at 1-888-556-8880 or 1-732-562-8800. "There are currently 8.5 million people in New Jersey," Sorkin said. "By 2002, 25 percent of these people will be 65 or older. There were 2.3 million deaths in the country in 2002 with 200,000 of these from suicide or accidents. Of the remaining 2.1 million who died, only 700,000 were under hospice care. It's important that we get the word out to more people that this service is available to them."

Odyssey's staff includes nurses, home health aides, social workers, a chaplain and a medical director (doctor), Sorkin said. Medical supplies and equipment associated with terminal illness are also provided by the hospice service, she said. "Our staff members have a special attitude," she said. "They must have compassion and empathy for what our patients have gone through during their lives."

“When she tried to tell me her medical history, she burst into tears.”

She found a lump in her breast and her doctor sent her to us for testing. She was frightened and embarrassed and confused. I understood completely and held her hand while I told her not to worry, and exactly what to expect. At Raritan Bay, we focus on women's health care needs by offering the latest in testing, like Mammography and Bone Densitometry. Education, counseling and prevention are provided in a compassionate, private and supportive atmosphere. Her test came back negative, thank goodness.

When we say Pride in Caring we mean going that extra step, or that extra mile to make a patient feel comfortable and cared for. We don't even think about it. It comes so naturally.

Call (732) 360-4232 to contact the Center for Women. We understand.

FYI:

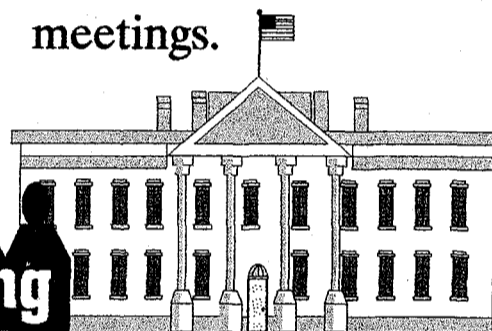

Mayor O'Brien's self-appointed planning board approved 765 new homes during his tenure, with 200 more currently awaiting approval.

The Mayor is a voting member of the planning board.

Mayor O'Brien has missed 59 of the 66 planning board meetings.

Commendable ideals, but WHAT HAPPENED?

QUESTION:

If Kennedy O'Brien is so concerned with development, traffic, and the over-crowding of our schools, why is his planning board approving so many new homes?

QUESTION:

If Kennedy O'Brien is so concerned with Sayreville's future, why has he missed 90% of the planning board meetings?

QUESTION:

Can Sayreville Residents Afford Another "Plan" by Mayor O'Brien?

Woman charged after party

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — As part of an effort to curb underage drinking, police said they arrested and will prosecute a woman for allegedly providing beer to teenagers.

Margaret Wcislo, 42, of Nottingham Drive, was arrested early Monday after police discovered nine teenagers drinking beer inside the home where she resides, police said.

Wcislo, who lives in but does not own the residence, was serving as the legal guardian of a 17-year-old boy who lives there with his mother, police said. The homeowner was reportedly vacationing in Florida at the time of the party, which began Sunday night.

Wcislo was arrested at 1:54 a.m. by Officer Brian Smalley, who was investigating a complaint of a loud party. Smalley detained Wcislo in his police cruiser and entered the home to find the teenager and eight other juveniles had reportedly been drinking beer from a keg, police reported.

Though it was not clear who purchased the beer, Wcislo was charged with letting underage persons consume it in her presence, a disorderly persons offense, Police Lt. Robert Weiss said.

As part of an ongoing campaign to curb underage drinking, township police said they will be watching for adults who serve or purchase alcohol for a minor or who allow anyone under 21 to consume alcohol in their presence.

"We're making an effort to curb underage drinking," Weiss said. "Anyone found guilty of serving alcohol to a minor will be prosecuted."

Wcislo was processed and released on her own recognizance.

Pornography

The Internet, rather than mail, is now the vehicle used by most child pornographers to distribute their goods, he added.

"[The Internet] is their weapon of choice," Manifase said. "It's the way they hide and sell this stuff."

Mason reportedly told federal authorities that he had forwarded the downloaded images to other individuals via e-mail as many as 15 to 20 times over the past two years, according to the complaint.

A project manager for the global investment firm Smith Barney, Mason was detained in a federal prison in Newark over the weekend, Manifase said.

By Monday night, Mason had returned to his Sayre Woods South home after posting $50,000 bail before a federal judge, Manifase said.

Mason was arrested as part of Operation Predator, a nationwide Department of Homeland Security initiative designed to prevent crimes against minors, Manifase explained.

Old Bridge police were very instrumental in leading the federal authorities to the suspect's home, Manifase stated.

A telephone call placed by Greater Media Newspapers to the Mason residence for comment had not been returned at press time.

Senior Chai schedules luncheon and tap show

The next meeting of Senior Chai, a program of Jewish Family Service (JFS) of Southern Middlesex County, will be held from 1-2:30 p.m. on Oct. 15 at the Jewish Congregation of Concordia, Concordia Shopping Center, Monroe.

The event will feature a kosher luncheon and a tap show presented by residents of the Greenbriar adult community, Monroe. Cost is $8 in advance.

Senior Chai is designed for active senior adults who are widowed, single or caregivers of a spouse. The program provides an opportunity to meet new friends in a social and educational environment.

For more information, call (609) 395-7979, Tuesdays-Thursdays.

Bondar-Thurman

Ilna and Leonid Bondar of the Parlin section of Sayreville announce the engagement of their daughter, Ilona Bondar, to Benjamin James Thurman, son of Kathy Thurman of Colorado Springs, Colo., and the late Stephen Thurman.

The future bride is a graduate of Rutgers College, New Brunswick, where she earned a bachelor of science degree in computer science and math, and New Jersey Institute of Technology, Newark, where she earned a master of science degree in computer science. She is a senior programmer with Checkfree Investment Services, Newark.

Her fiancé is a graduate of American University, Washington, D.C., where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in history. He is a project manager with Osprey Partners L.L.C., New York City.

A December wedding is planned.

Benjamin Thurman, Ilona Bondar

Epstein-Bevere

Jacquelyn Gabrielle Bevere, daughter of Camille and Raymond Bevere of East Brunswick, was married April 26 to Jay J. Epstein, son of Susan and David Epstein of Warwick, R.I.

Monsignor Michael Alliegro and Rabbi Alfred Landesberg performed the ceremony at The Chanticleer, Short Hills, where the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Valerie Lederman of New York City. Bridesmaids were Lauren Fennimore and Elit Kirschenbaum, both of New York City; Tiffany Field of Freehold; Jodi Greene of Manalapan; Ilene Hoffman of the Robbinsville section of Washington Township; and Lori Ruderman of Montville.

Best man was Jeff Kirschenbaum of New York City. Groomsmen were Mark Bevere of East Brunswick, brother of the bride; Richard Epstein of Rhode Island, brother of the bridegroom; Steve Eccles and Jeff Worley, both of Boston; and Heath Bloch and Jon Keidan, both of New York City.

The bride is a graduate of East Brunswick High School and the University of Maryland, College Park, where she earned a bachelor of science degree in mar-

Police Beat

All items in Police Beat are taken from police department records. All suspects are presumed innocent until found guilty in court.

Old Bridge

Police arrested and charged Jason Lynch, 26, of Edgar Road, with the burglary and theft of a neighbor's home on Sept. 24. Lynch, who was apprehended at home at 10:24 a.m. on Thursday, allegedly removed several compact discs from another Edgar Road residence and sold them to a vendor in the township. Police indicated that Lynch entered his neighbor's unoccupied home by breaking a window in the rear of the house. He was held in lieu of $25,000 bail at the Middlesex County Adult Correction Center, North Brunswick.

Police arrested and charged Brett S. Lewis, 26, of Manalapan, with driving while intoxicated at 1:19 a.m. on Oct. 4 during a motor vehicle stop at Route 516 and Bushnell Road. Lewis was later released on his own recognizance.

Police arrested and charged Stephen T. Bybel, 42, of Freehold, with driving while intoxicated at 2:10 a.m. on Oct. 5 during a motor vehicle stop at Route 9 north and Schulmeister Road. Reports indicate that police pulled Bybel over for a speeding violation. Bybel was released on his own recognizance.

Police arrested and charged Lawrence Dolin, 18, of Alpha Avenue, and Joseph Silva, 18, of the Mapleview Apartments, with possession of alcohol at 12:30 a.m. on Oct. 1 when an officer allegedly observed the pair receive a 12-pack of beer from a patron of the Browntown Inn on Route 516. Police also arrested James Bailey, 27, of Farless Avenue, and charged him with purchasing the beer to be given to Dolin and Silva. Reports indicate that Bailey entered the bar, purchased the beer and left it on a sidewalk outside to be picked up by Dolin and Silva. All three suspects were transported to headquarters, where they were processed and released.

Sayreville

Police were dispatched to the area of Eddie's Valve Grind near Val Street at 4:57 p.m. on Oct. 3, on a report of an injured person. Officers reported that they arrived to find that Timothy Rogalcheck, Main Street, was visibly intoxicated and laying alongside a white Chevrolet Blazer, near an opened driver-side door. Police determined that the vehicle did not belong to him, and Rogalcheck was placed under arrest and charged with burglary of the vehicle. Police found him to be in possession of several prescription drugs. Rogalcheck was taken to police headquarters for processing and transported to Raritan Bay Medical Center, Perth Amboy division.

A green Honda Civic was reported stolen from the ShopRite parking lot on Ernston Road between 4:10 and 4:25 p.m. on Oct. 1. The owner of the vehicle walked out of the store and observed the vehicle being driven out of the parking lot onto Ernston Road, according to report.

The garage of a residence on Hoffman Road was reportedly entered between 9 p.m. on Oct. 3 and 10:09 a.m. on Oct. 4, and items were removed, according to police. The resident reported that possessions valued at $900, including 200-500 foreign coins and several tools, had been taken. There was no sign of forced entry, although a screen on a basement window was open, police reported.

A theft and burglary were reported in the driveway of a residence on Deerfield Road between 4 p.m. on Oct. 5 and 8 a.m. on Oct. 6, according to police. The resident reported that golf clubs valued at $500 were taken from the rear of a parked motor vehicle. Police are investigating.

A burglary and theft were reported at a Dolan Avenue residence between 9 p.m. on Oct. 4 and 10 a.m. on Oct. 5, according to a report. Unknown person(s) entered the garage of the residence and removed $750 worth of power tools. Police found no sign of forced entry.

A head start

They certainly do start them young over in Spotswood and East Brunswick.

Every Sunday, 27 future gridiron stars assemble at Spotswood High School to take part in the Golden Bear Chargers Pop Warner instructional program. Kids as young as 4 years old strap on their pads and helmets and learn the finer points of the game, especially tackling.

Apparently, in football-crazed towns like Spotswood and East Brunswick, you're never too young to learn how to tackle.

"What we try to do with the instructional program is get as many young kids involved as possible," said head coach Kevin Fee. "It's a safe way to introduce them to the sport and get them interested."

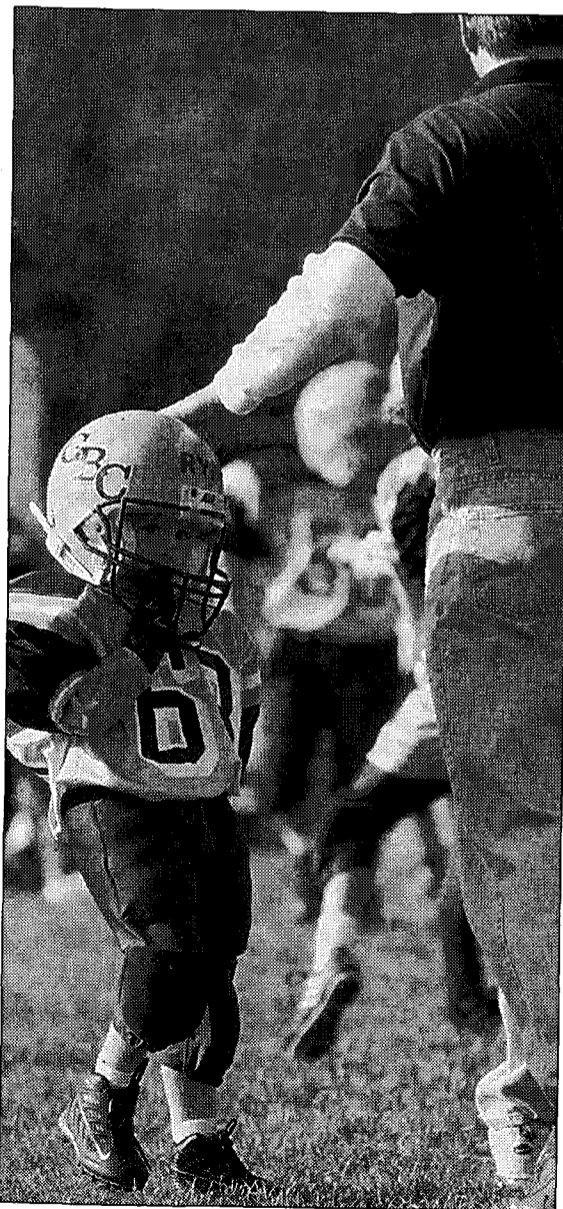

Fee said that while safety is the biggest concern, the program is also aimed at giving the local youngsters a leg up as they head to the next level as 8-year-olds, the Mitey Mites division.

"We have 27 kids in the program right now between 4 and 7 years old, and 14 of them will be moving up next year," he said. "These kids are more than ready to excel at the next level."

Believed to be the only instructional tackle program of its kind in the area, the GBC program gets more popular

"In the beginning of the season, we have to help most of them off the ground because of the weight of their helmets, like turtles."

with each passing season.

"You have to see them in full equipment," said GBC board member [and proud parent] Kim Szatkowski. "In the beginning of the season, we have to help most of them off the ground because of the weight of their helmets, like tur-gles. But by now they have no problems getting up.

"GBC is building its organization from the bottom up with this program. Most people don't know that we have this tackle program, because most towns only have flag football for this age — which is why we don't play real teams; we split the group up and they play each other. But you would never know that they were playing their buddies by the way they hit."

And, apparently, you're never too young to cheer, either.

While the miniature football stars are running around, their female counterparts are learning the finer points of cheerleading. This season's squad consists of 18 girls from ages 4-6, and has an array of 25-30 cheers that it features each week, including a half-time dance show.

"This organization is committed to educating the participants and building their self-esteem," Szatkowski.

In the meantime, they're grooming the gridiron stars of tomorrow.

Knights, Bombers ready for a battle tomorrow

BY WARREN RAPPLEYEA
Staff Writer

Vince Lombardi Field is the place to be on Friday night when Old Bridge hosts Sayreville in a battle of the unbeaten.

Both teams have been running roughshod over opponents and are rather stingy defensively.

Sayreville is coming off a 26-0 win over East Brunswick after demolishing Woodbridge, 33-0, the week before. The Bombers have become so proficient at dominating opponents that their fans (and even they) seemed genuinely upset that Sayreville led by just 13-0 at the half against East Brunswick.

"We were a little sloppy in the first half with some turnovers and a couple of dropped passes," Sayreville coach George Najjar said. "Our guys picked it up in the second half."

Coach Bob DeMarco's Knights, meanwhile, had the week off to prepare for the Bombers and their wing-T attack. Old Bridge last played on Sept. 25 when their wishbone attack piled up 35 points and the defense shut out Edison.

Friday's contest will be fought in the trenches. Sayreville's talented two-way linemen, Ron Connors and Nick Starace, will do battle against the Knights' Dennis Kennedy and Rick Stevens on both sides of scrimmage.

Each pair has plenty of support with the likes of Dan Krainsky, Don McCoid, Herbert Nieves and Carmen Serignese on the Sayreville side; and Rob Allen, Jamar Figueroa, Matt Fitzgerald, Frank Lillis and Aaron Owens lining up for Old Bridge.

Signal-caller Mark Poore leads the Sayreville offense.

A two-way threat, Poore can run and throw. He completed nine passes for 180 yards against East Brunswick and threw for a pair of touchdowns against Woodbridge.

Halfback Keith Simpkins has proven to be quite dangerous. He broke off a 58-yard touchdown run against East Brunswick on his way to a 112-yard evening. And the emergence of junior Vinnie Otero at fullback gives the Bombers another weapon.

Old Bridge, meanwhile, has a backfield of dangerous runners. Quarterback Dave DePalma runs the option as well as anyone and scored 11 touchdowns a year ago.

Joel Scarano, Bryant McCombs and fullback Danny Martin, who scored three times against Edison, are the runners.

"The wishbone is always a concern, and they run it well," Najjar said of Old Bridge. "But I think the game will be the usual chess match between two teams looking to establish their strengths. It will still come down to field position and turnovers."

Game time is 7 p.m in Old Bridge.

Locals fare well at E.B. 5K

The John Ragone 5K run was held at Crystal Springs Aquatic Center in East Brunswick on Sunday.

A number of local harriers secured top finishes, led by Milltown's Yannick Wood, 14, who was the first to cross the line in 17:53. He was followed by South Brunswick's Travis Graham, 23, who completed the course in 18:24.

Monroe's Dean Coffin, 39, took sixth in 20:26, with Monmouth Junction's Rich Britton, 44, in eighth (20:48), and East Brunswick's Vincent Leblon, 48, in ninth (21:07).

Freehold's Madelyn Noe-Schlentz was the top female runner, crossing the line in 18:26. The next female to finish was Milltown's Kimberly White, 16, in 21:43, who was followed closely by Spotswood's Sarah Kalendek, 24, (21:55), East Brunswick's Megan Donovan, 16, (22:19), and Monroe's Megan Allen, 15, (23:43).

East Brunswick's Marcie Mattis, 40, was the eighth female runner to cross (23:57), followed by East Brunswick's Lauren Feder, 40, (24:28), and Kendall Park's Pati Rosen, 44, (25:14).

East Brunswick's Bill Winch, 41, was the top Masters finisher, completing the course in 18:24, while Monmouth Junction's Rich Britton, 44, was not far behind in 20:48. After him were Leblon, Milltown's Mitchell Herman, 48, (21:43); Monmouth Junction's Bruce Hecht, 46, (21:59); and South River's Matthew Rutkowski, 53, (23:03).

While Noe-Schlentz was the top female Masters runner, Helmetta's Ginny Werner, 43, was not far behind in 18:26, followed by East Brunswick's

Old Bridge girls enjoy their successful season

BY WARREN RAPPLEYEA
Staff Writer

In a first-half filled with close matches, the Old Bridge High School girls tennis team came out with a 5-2 record and qualified for the NJSIAA Central Jersey Group IV tournament.

The fifth-seeded Lady Knights, who received a first-round bye, are scheduled to visit fourth-seeded East Brunswick this afternoon, and return to regular season action tomorrow at home against Piscataway.

"I can't ever remember having so many close matches, but I kind of like that because it's good experience for the girls," said coach Melanie Ogden. "We could easily be 2-5, and the reasons we're not is that the girls played to their ability and they don't quit."

That starts at the top of the lineup with Anna Mallepalle at first singles. The hard-hitting sophomore owns a 3-4 record and is improving with each match, Ogden said.

Senior Sam Mushnick has done well at second singles, posting a 5-2 mark. Ogden noted that Mushnick is frustrating to play against because of her patient style and ability to keep the ball in play.

Oppy Oyeniya, another patient player, holds down the third spot. Also a patient player, the junior is 4-3 after working hard over the summer to improve her game and earn a spot in the starting lineup.

Seniors Alexis Varela and Elizabeth Coopersmith, both of whom narrowly missed making the singles lineup, are 3-4 at first doubles. Sophomore Ann Bartoszewicz, a lefty, and junior Simi Aduayi comprise the surprising second doubles tandem. The pair are 5-2. Promising sophomore Vikki Deguzman will also see action throughout the year, the coach said.

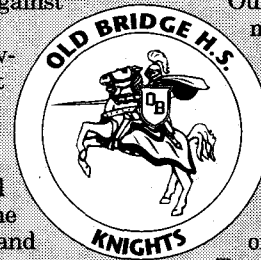

"Overall this is a young team, so I'm very pleased with our record," Ogden said.

"Our goal was to be a .500 team and make the state tournament. We've already made the tourney, now we want to exceed .500. It won't be easy, though; teams won't be taking us lightly."

Notes... The Bears will be taking on an East Brunswick team later today that is coming off a thrilling victory in the GMCT Tennis Tournament.

East Brunswick entered the tournament in the unfamiliar role of underdog, as J.P. Stevens had the top seed in all but one of the five flights and had beaten the Bears earlier this year, 3-2. That marked the Bears' first Red Division loss since 1991.

But the Bears persevered on Tuesday, winning their 13th straight GMCT title, thanks in large part to the efforts of freshman Luiza Kiyamova. The talented frosh won a thrilling match over the top-seeded defending champion at second singles, Stevens' Ryan Johnson, 1-6, 7-6 (7-5), 6-4, to clinch the win for the Bears.

Bears gearing up for their showdowns with Bombers

BY RICHARD JEROME
Staff Writer

With yesterday's game against South Brunswick, Friday's game against Old Bridge, and two matches with undefeated Sayreville next week, the 7-1 East Brunswick High School field hockey team has a stiff test if it's going to keep its excellent start on a roll.

Coach Cindi Todoroff has a lot of new faces this year, having graduated 13 seniors and seven starters from last fall's 14-7 club, which made it to the sectional finals before losing to Hunterdon Central.

"We have a mix of former JV and freshman players, but they're experienced, new to each other but not new to the game," said Todoroff. "They're a great group and they get along so well, supporting each other."

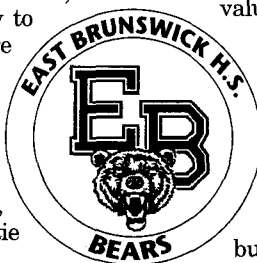

The Bears have four returning starters, including three seniors: tri-captain Ameer Chronowski at center-midfield, sweeper Julie Beck, and Katie McMillin at right midfield.

"Katie's being recruited by several colleges," said her coach. "She plays field hockey 24/7."

The other returnee is junior Erin Whalen, a basketball player and excellent athlete, who plays center-forward.

"She makes a lot of stuff happen," said Todoroff. "She usually has the dirtiest uniform after the game."

On the forward line, junior Pam Ezrachie is one of the team's top scorers, while sophomore Christine Buszczak is a fine open field player. The right wing, Katie Colchie, is quick and deceptive.

Also in front, Todoroff subs liberally with seniors Chrissy Leblon, a rover and center-forward, and left wing Sarah L'Heureux.

"Our forward line players are versatile," said Todoroff. "We'll rely heavily on the passing game."

In the midfield, Ceri Miller, a senior captain and lacrosse player, is coming into her own. Allison Weiser, a senior, is quick and a real motivator on the field. Junior left back Agata Rawkowski is "stepping up her play," the coach said.

In goal, EBHS has an outstanding athlete in Andrea Blonar, who has been impressive as she learns the skills of her position, and sophomore Lauren Sax, a valuable backup.

Rounding out the squad are seniors Marissa Lanza and Lauren Rossi, and sophomore Kathleen Leone.

"We graduated a talented group, but this is a nice blend," said Todoroff.

Notes... While the Bears were busy taking on winless South Brunswick last night, the top-ranked, and undefeated, Sayreville Bombers played host to second-ranked South Plainfield.

The match-up was being billed as the game of the year in the GMC, as the Bombers look to make it two-for-two against the Tigers, after winning the early-season match-up 3-2.

With another Sayreville win, that would make next week's matches with East Brunswick even more important, as the Bears would then have the opportunity to claim the conference's top spot with a pair of wins, and a win over Old Bridge (4-4) on Friday.

Old Bridge graduate Diana Nelson is off to a fast start as the goaltender for the Northeastern University women's field hockey team. Northeastern, currently ranked 11th in the nation in the 2003 STX/NFHCA Division I National Coaches Poll, improved to 8-4 with a 2-1 win over Dartmouth on Sept. 28. In that game Nelson, a junior, made four saves in net, including a game-saver with 6:35 left in regulation.

The Sayreville Little League will hold registration for the 2004 season at the clubhouse, located on the corner of Washington Road and Margaret Street, Oct. 15 and 22 from 7-9 p.m., and Nov. 22 from 10 a.m.-noon. Boys and girls ages 5-16 on or before July 31 are eligible. Two separate checks are required — registration and refundable work bond. Please bring a stamped, self-addressed envelope and original birth certificate. For more information, call (732) 727-4496.

The Old Bridge Rockets soccer team soared to a 5-0 victory Sunday in Manchester. Goaltender Alejandro Diaz, defenders Christian Llerena, Jordan Moretti, Init Patel and windscreen Sami Abdusubhan led the charge with a clean sheet. Shawn Orzechowski chipped in his first goal of the season in the first minute of the match. Nick Santurro powered his first and second by scoring one in each half. Nick Petruzzi and Charles Mantione both scored in the second half. Adam Eyerman, Sean Safari, Eric Medina and Harry Grewal provided spirited play in a total team effort.

The Old Bridge Cadet Corps, the Patriots, will be accepting new members for their Junior and Senior Corps every Friday at 6 p.m. at the William A. Miller School all-purpose room, 2 Old Matawan Road, Old Bridge. No previous training is needed, and the corps is opened to anyone ages 6-18. Decide on what you would like to play — drums, bells, fifes, bugles, twirling and color guard — and they will train you. If you want to try them all, you are free to do so. The Cadet Corps will be marching in parades, special events and competitions. If you have any questions or would like further information, please feel free to contact the Director, D.W. Gable at (732) 985-2586.

The Morgan Magic 12U girls travel softball team has several positions still available for the 2004 season. The Magic are a Class B ASA/NSA/PONY registered team. Tryouts are scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 11, at 10 a.m. at the Laurel Park upper field. Please contact Coach Gary at (732) 727-7506 or via e-mail at saamagic@aol.com for additional information and possible rain-out dates if needed.

The Sayrewoods South Little League will hold registration on Oct. 10 (7-8:30 p.m.) at the SWSLL Clubhouse on Fox Street (off Cindy Street). The fee is $65 for one child, $85 for two or more, and $50 for T-ball (5-year-olds). A work bond of $100 is due at registration. Upon completion of work hours, bond money is returned. The 2004 season includes all boys and girls born between Aug. 1, 1987, and July 31, 1999. A copy of his/her birth certificate is required at registration for all new players and will be retained for future reference. For more information, call (732) 679-6500 and leave a message.

Johnson & Johnson may close local plant

BY JENNIFER KOHLHEPP
Staff Writer

If Johnson & Johnson decides to cease manufacturing at its North Brunswick plant, 490 employees will lose their jobs.

The Johnson & Johnson Consumer Products Co. (CPC) informed employees Sept. 25 that it is seriously considering ceasing manufacturing at the Route 1 facility in order to remain competitive in the consumer products marketplace, according to a statement released by Executive Director of Corporate Communications Jeff Leebaw.

"A final decision about whether to cease manufacturing at the plant will be made within approximately 45 days, after a thorough review," Leebaw said.

The announcement followed an initial assessment of the company's manufacturing capabilities, which identified opportunities to streamline manufacturing operations to improve overall competitiveness, according to Leebaw.

"This review indicated that consolidating in-house manufacturing and making greater use of external (third-party) manufacturers would significantly improve efficiencies," Leebaw said.

He said the company is considering changes including relocating manufacturing to other company-owned sites and possibly outsourcing production.

"Decisions such as these are not taken lightly, and the company will take great care through this process to fairly assess all of the many considerations," Leebaw said.

The quality of work at the North Brunswick facility has never been in question, according to Leebaw.

"Recent technological advancements have improved the speed and efficiency of manufacturing, and enabled consumer products companies to operate fewer in-house facilities at a lower cost," Leebaw said.

"The Johnson & Johnson Consumer Products Co. has been working to make its manufacturing around the world more efficient and cost-effective, and this review is part of that continual process," Leebaw said.

North Brunswick Township Council President Francis "Mac" Womack said, "The council is looking to immediately step into the picture and work with Johnson &

Johnson and the North Brunswick community to help us find ways to keep Johnson & Johnson and its employees in North Brunswick."

Council Vice President Carlo Socio said the council may even call for a meeting with state officials to try to keep the Johnson & Johnson business in town.

The North Brunswick plant, located just a few miles from corporate headquarters in New Brunswick, opened in 1957 and manufactured adhesive tape and baby products.

The plant expanded in 1965 and again in 1974 to manufacture a variety of consumer products including the Band-Aid brand adhesive bandages and other Johnson's baby products.

Leebaw said approximately 600 people, mostly in administrative and managerial positions, who will not be affected by the layoffs.

"The majority are employees of other Johnson & Johnson companies and operations on that site," Leebaw said.

Both American Express and GAF lease space at the site.

Local 630, Union of Needletrades, Industrial and Textile Employees, represents the hourly production workers at the plant. Union officials released a statement Monday saying they plan to meet with corporate, and local and state government officials to try to keep the plant in operation.

ATTENTION: For Sale by Owners

SELLING YOUR HOME YOURSELF? No harm in that. Lots of people do, and lots of them do so successfully. In fact, I'm willing to help. Really. No cost, no obligation, no sales pitch.

I answer questions and give you tips on what you can do to increase your home's exposure, improve your visibility in the market, and hopefully sell your home for the most amount of money. Pretty cool idea, huh?

And, like I said, there's no cost! Now, (you ask), why would a real estate agent actually help me sell my own house? I know that while a lot of folks can use the information I provide to better market their home, some, maybe even you, will end up putting their home on the market. And should you make that decision, because I helped you in the past, you might let me help you in the future. How's that for fair?

So, all you do is call me today for your complementary "For Sale by Owner Kit", you'll be glad you did!

Monster madness on tap for track on Halloween

OLD BRIDGE — Everyone has been on hayrides, but few have experienced them Raceway Park-style.

That style, of course, means riding aboard custom-built monster trucks that dare to venture through the haunted Lost Speedway, an abandoned racetrack hidden in the forests of Old Bridge Township Raceway Park, Pension Road. The track is guarded by "the devilish Speed Demon, who tries to scare away anyone who attempts to visit the speedway."

The hayrides, for both kids and parents, are part of the Quick Chek Monster Madness and Halloween Family Fun Fest, which runs Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from Oct. 17 through Nov. 2.

The three-weekend event features carnival rides, a food court, pumpkin picking, fire truck rides, pony rides and trick or treating.

Admission and parking are free.

At 1 p.m. Oct. 26, the racetrack will host the Quick Chek Halloween Sunday Crunch, when monster trucks including Bulldozer, Maximum Destruction, Ramunition, the Hukster, Black Stallion, Eradicator, Raminator and Grave Digger will do battle in drag slalom races, the wild wheelie competition and the freestyle crush-off. There will also be a Freestyle Motocross, the 300 mph Jet Dragsters and other events. Gates open at 11 a.m.

For more information on Raceway Park events, visit www.racewaypark.com or call (732) 446-7800.

Women business owners slate Autumn Harvest

The Central Jersey Chapter of the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO) will hold an Autumn Harvest Get-together from 10 a.m. to noon at Wemrock Farms pumpkin patch, Gravel Hill Road, Freehold Township.

The event, which is open to members and nonmembers, will include a hayride, apple cider and doughnuts and a corn maze adventure.

Cost is $10 for adults, $5 for children ages 2-12; children under age 2 will be admitted free of charge.

Reservation deadline is Oct. 13.

For more information and to reserve, call Barbara Chick at (732) 295-3846, or e-mail bchick@monmouth.com.

Chambers of Commerce will hold card exchange

Dr. James C. Wolff, Perth Amboy Chiropractic Health Center and Perth Amboy Diagnostic Imaging, 613 Amboy Ave., Perth Amboy, will host an After-Hours Health Awareness Business Card Exchange from 5:30-7:30 p.m. on Oct. 9.

The event is sponsored by the chambers of commerce of Perth Amboy, East Brunswick, Metuchen, Old Bridge/Sayreville/South Amboy and Woodbridge.

All businesses are invited. Cost is $10 for members, $20 for nonmembers. Participants should bring a door prize and business cards.

For more information and to register, call the East Brunswick Chamber of Commerce at (732) 257-3009 or fax a reservation to (732) 257-0949.

TODAY'S REAL ESTATE

by Pat Dineen and Justine Dineen

OPEN FOR INSPECTION

Homebuyers are increasingly coming to regard a home inspection as an essential ingredient in the house purchasing experience. According to a recent survey commissioned by the American Society of Home Inspectors, nearly 85 percent of homebuyers insist upon a home inspection when transacting to purchase a home. Most include an inspection contingency provision in their sales contracts. While homebuyers would seem to best benefit from a home inspection, it proves to be advantageous for both parties and their agents. Because home inspection puts all aspects of the home's physical condition on the table for open discussion, many sellers' agents recommend that their clients have their homes inspected prior to putting them on the market.

Today's real estate transactions have come a long way since the "buyer beware" mentality of long ago. A knowledgeable real estate agent can help facilitate an outcome beneficial to all parties involved. At ERA DINEEN REALTY, located at 3 Parlin Drive, Parlin, we are happy to help our community in such a special way. As members of the Middlesex & Monmouth MLS, we assure you that when you list with us, you get the widest possible exposure. We will advertise your house in magazines and on the Internet every day until it sells! Contact any one of our real estate professionals at (732) 613-9300 for professional advice and friendly service.

HINT: When a house does not sell, agents usually advise addressing any perceived problems and dropping the price gradually to an attractive level.

Looking for motivated success oriented persons for a rewarding career in real estate. Call Pat Dineen at (732) 613-9300 for a confidential interview.

Business Briefs

Re/Max associates donate funds to CMN

Victor Picazio and Karleen Keiser, sales associates at Re/Max Across Town Realty, Spotswood, recently joined the national Re/Max Children's Miracle Network (CMN) Home Program. Under the program, the associates will donate a specified amount of money per sales transaction to CMN.

The associates will display the colorful "Miracle Home" riders on top of their Re/Max yard signs. Re/Max is the exclusive real estate sponsor for CMN, a national nonprofit organization dedicated to raising funds for children's hospitals. This year Re/Max associates made a record $7 million contribution to CMN.

The proceeds generated by the Spotswood office will benefit Children's Specialized Hospital, an affiliate of Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, New Brunswick, with locations in Mountainside, Fanwood, the Toms River section of Dover, Newark, Union and Elizabeth; and the Bristol-Myers Squibb Children's Hospital at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, New Brunswick.

The CMN-associated hospitals, which treat children with all types of afflictions including cancer, heart and muscular diseases, birth defects, AIDS and injuries resulting from accidents, pride themselves on treating the whole child and rendering service based on need, not on the ability to pay.

For purchase prices up to $400,000 monthly mortgage payments (principal+interest) quoted in our ads are to qualified buyers, based upon a 20% downpayment and a conventional 30-year fixed rate loan at 5.875% with 3 points, A.P.R. 5.926%. As an example, a $100,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $591.54. For purchase prices from $400,000 to $840,000, the monthly payments are to qualified buyers based upon a 20% downpayment and calculated at 6.00% with 3 points on a "jumbo" 30-year fixed rate mortgage with an A.P.R. of 6.017%. An example of a $500,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $2997.75. Figures herein are approximate and do not include property taxes, hazard insurance, or homeowners association dues for a condominium purchase. MIRACULOUS INVOCATION TO ST. THERESA O Glorious St. Theresa, whom Almighty God has raised up to aid and counsel mankind, I invite your miraculous intercession. So powerful are you in obtaining every need of body and soul, our Holy Mother Church proclaims you a "prodigy of miracles, the greatest Saint of modern times." Now I fervently beseech you to answer my petition (mention here) and carry out your promise of doing good upon earth of letting fall from heaven a shower of roses; henceforth, Dear Little Flower, I will fulfil your plea to be made known everywhere and I will never cease to lead others to Jesus through you. Amen.

Say prayer every day for 9 days. By the 4th day ask for a sign, if prayer is to be answered between 4th and 9th day you will see a rose in a magazine, TV picture, or receive roses, also can get a strange scent of roses in home even if no roses present. Must promise publication.

Prayer to St. Jude Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near Kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to inform God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. This Novena has never been known to fail. This Novena must be said for 9 consecutive days. Thanks! L.M.F.
