Party's team wins Sayreville primary

Democratic pair to

BY JOLENE HART

The Sayreville Democratic Party's candidates were victorious in Tuesday's primary election, edging out an incumbent challenger and predicting that a change may be in the future for the divided party. Daniel Buchanan and incumbent Sayreville Councilman Thomas Pollando, the pair who campaigned together with the support of the Democratic Organization Chairman John Wisniewski, won a narrow defeat over incumbent Councilman Thomas Marcinczyk.

After failing to gain the Democratic Party nomination in April, Marcinczyk filed a petition in a bid to win voters' support for the Democratic slot on the ballot in the primary and protect the council seat that he will now have to relinquish in January.

Buchanan, 29, earned the most votes in the primary — 1,544, according to the Borough Clerk's Office. He carries with him a family legacy in Sayreville politics, with his grandfather and great-grandfather having served as councilmen.

After a campaign that turned into a difficult battle, the winning candidates are hopeful for a smoother road to a successful November election. Current challengers are Republicans John Gluchowski and Martin Rooney, as well as Libertarians Jeff Pawlowski and Chris Koszalka.

"Tom and I won this primary election as a Democratic team," Buchanan said in a statement. "Now, it's time to win the general election as a team. I'm really hoping that this will bring the Beneath a backdrop of sunny skies Monday morning, drivers crossed over the new Victory Bridge for the very first time.

But it was quite a different scene two days earlier, when a few hundred faithful residents huddled under a tent at the peak of the bridge, waiting in a driving rain to witness the historic opening of the first span of the $109 million Route 35 bridge over the Raritan River between Sayreville and Perth Amboy.

"On the Perth Amboy side, it's sunny," joked Perth Amboy Mayor Joseph Vas as he addressed the patient crowd Saturday.

The most notable presence at the ceremony was that of a group of area war veterans, as the new bridge was rededicated in honor of our country's veterans.

Representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) and the American Legion from Sayreville, Woodbridge and Hopelawn, accompanied by ladies auxiliary members, were the true dignitaries of the occasion.

"For all those who ever wore a uniform for the United States of America, let us rededicate this extraordinary bridge," Gov. James E. McGreevey said at the ceremony.

The governor unveiled a plaque that will be affixed to the new bridge, alongside the original Victory Bridge dedication plaque and five smaller memorials that honor the Red Cross, Air Corps, Army, Marines and Navy.

The original Victory Bridge, the longest swing bridge in the state, opened in 1926 to a crowd of 200,000 people. At the time it Closing time for ladies' night? Perhaps not...

Ruling against discounts for women questioned by some

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

Ladies, take note: You can still sip cosmopolitans at a discounted rate at one local night spot, if its owner has his way.

Until state or local authorities officially tell him to cease and desist the practice, Old New York owner Frank Stella says he will continue allowing female patrons to enjoy the libations for $2 apiece on Thursday nights, known as ladies' night at the popular steak house and lounge on Route 516 in Old Bridge.

For Stella, it is a matter of accommodating his clientele, both male and female, in spite of last week's ruling by the state Division of Civil Rights that could effectively prohibit New Jersey restaurants, bars and nightclubs from offering such ladies' nights.

Stella said it is his way of protesting the controversial June 1 ruling, which raised the ire of restaurant and bar owners, patrons and even some state lawmakers.

Though he has kept up on news reports of the ruling, Stella is carrying on with business as usual. He noted that no one from the state Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) or any other government agency has come to bar owners such as Stella, at least not yet, to say they can't offer a ladies' night.

"I haven't gotten anything saying that it is officially illegal," Stella said on Friday. "If it's against the law, I'll stop [ladies night]. But I haven't heard anything from the ABC or anyone else."

Except for those nights when patrons are charged at the door for a live band, Stella does not impose a cover charge.

Such was not the case at the Coastline Restaurant, Cherry Hill, where the flak over ladies' night first originated in 1998. According to news reports, David R. Gillespie of Cherry Hill first sought the ruling after he — along with other males entering the bar — was charged a $5 cover to enter the Coastline on a Wednesday night, which was ladies' night at that spot.

Six years later, J. Frank Vespa-Papaleo, the director of the state Division of Civil Rights, decided that the imposition of the cover charge to males only was discriminatory. Vespa-Papaleo's decision upholds the earlier findings of an administrative law judge and has the impact of becoming the law.

In his decision, Papaleo said the state's discrimination laws prohibit a place of public accommodation not just from discriminating based on gender, but also from providing any advantages or privileges based on gender.

In a June 2 statement, Attorney General Peter C. Harvey said, "The issue of ladies' night promotions has generated a great deal of attention, in part because the practice has been invalidated in other states including California, Iowa and Florida. This case is a very small portion of the division's work and does not represent a key priority."

A press spokesman for the civil rights division said Tuesday the ban on ladies night — at least for the time being — relates only to the complaint filed.

"It is not a blanket ban," said Lee Moore. "Technically speaking it does not ban ladies' night promotions. But it could have a chilling effect because the civil rights division found in favor of the complainant," he acknowledged.

Moore said the case now goes back to the judge who could decide to extend the ban in the future.

Nonetheless, Gov. James E. McGreevey, described Vespa-Papaleo's ruling as "bureaucratic nonsense" in a June 2 press statement. "It is an overreaction that reflects a complete lack of common sense and good judgment," McGreevey said.

Stella agreed.

"It's a disgrace. It's a shame," he said.

On other nights, Stella offers discounted rates to senior citizens as well as a kids' night for families with small children.

"Are they going to take away discounts for senior citizens and kids next?" he asked.

Ladies' night, a staple at Old New York since its opening in September, has attracted both men and women to the bar on Thursdays, which is also karaoke night, Stella said. None of the men have ever complained about having to pay regular prices for their drinks, he said.

Lauren Jacobs, an Old New York customer from Metuchen, said the state should focus on more important issues.

"I just think that men have so many benefits. It's the one thing women have, and they're taking it away," she said. "Men in general get paid more than women. This is a way to bring women into the clubs."

Deborah Dowdell, president of the New Jersey Restaurant Association, also criticized the ruling.

"Discrimination is a serious charge. Our feeling is this is micro-managing," Dowdell said.

She said ladies' night events at bars across the country have "always been a harmless promotion" that helps businesses make money.

"This industry is like rocket science with a flair. You really have to slice and dice all kinds of variables to make a night work. You have a lot of competition and you're dealing with very low margins."

Dowdell indicated that the association will fight the ruling to whatever degree it can, but admitted there may not much that can be done.

Stella noted that independent restaurant and bar owners depend on such events to successfully compete against the chain restaurants.

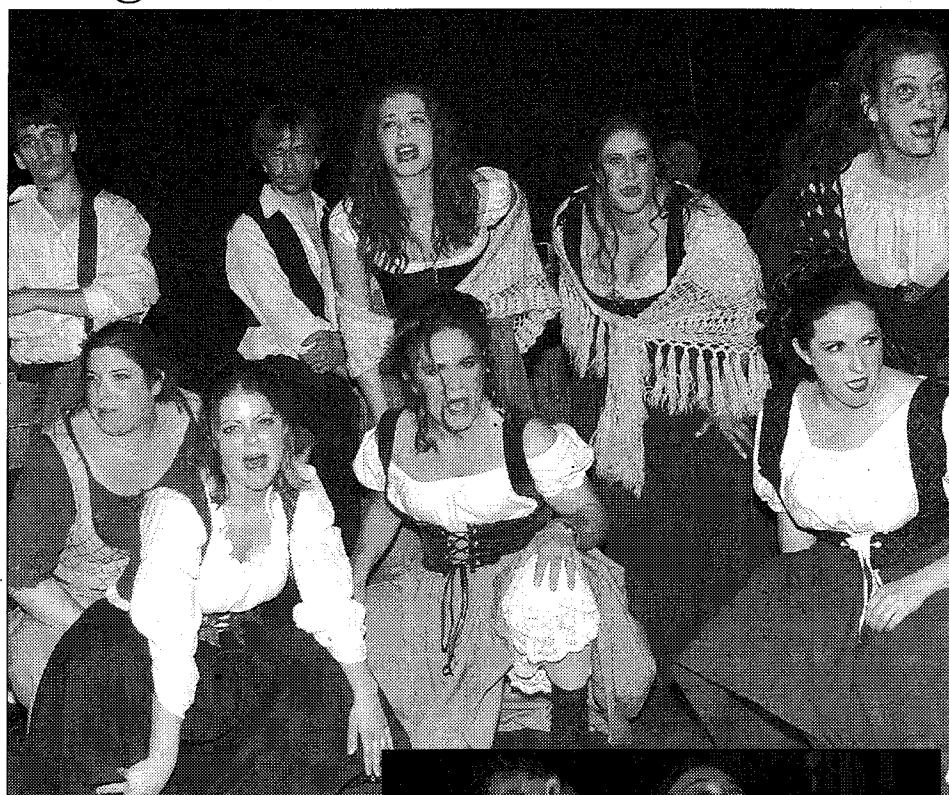

"This industry has taken a lot of hits. We've been hit with higher food prices and liquor prices," Stella said.

"These things are just going to leave the chains here," he continued. "The independent isn't going to be able to exist if they keep doing things of this nature."

Regardless, Stella will try to prevail. He said he plans to open a new outdoor seating area during seasonal weather. He also has begun catering private parties at the restaurant, which is on the former site of the Murphy Style Grill.

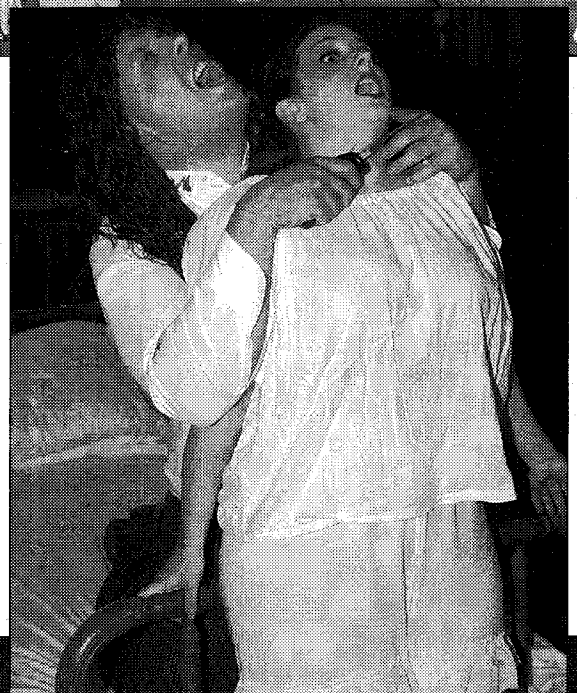

"I don't want to break the law," Stella said. "I'll just continue ladies' night till I'm told it's illegal."

Hospital's O.B. division celebrates first 25 years

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — Most people do not go to a hospital because they want to, but Saturday may be an exception.

That is when Raritan Bay Medical Center's Old Bridge division is inviting children, adults and staff to celebrate the hospital's 25th anniversary in the township.

So important is the celebration, that the medical center's administration is throwing not just one, but two, parties on the hospital's grounds at Route 18 and Ferry Road.

"Saturday will be a spectacular day for Raritan Bay Medical Center," said Donna Sellman, director of community relations for both its divisions, located in Old Bridge and Perth Amboy.

"The day's festivities not only celebrate the past 25 years of our Old Bridge campus, but they are an opportunity to renew our commitment to the community and continue a tradition of excellence well into the future," Sellman said.

Rides, clowns and musical acts are booked for "Family Day," a free event running from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and open to the general public, Sellman said.

While the kids are being entertained and working off their energy, adults can take advantage of free health screenings

Information from the medical center's various departments — including pharmacy, cardiology, physical therapy, sleep medicine, food and nutrition, the diabetes center and senior services — will also be available, Sellman noted.

Kids are encouraged to bring their bikes so they can participate in a free bicycle safety course to be held at 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Face paintings are $2 each.

Plenty of food will be also be available at Family Day, which will take place rain or shine.

Later in the day, the setup on the hospital grounds will undergo a drastic transformation in preparation for the second party, an evening dance, Sellman said.

"After Family Day, the front parking lot and tents will be transformed once more for the evening dance," she said.

A dance floor will be set up, as will a silent auction area for the adults-only dance, to be held between 6 and 10 p.m., Sellman said.

Dress is business casual for the event, featuring the live band New York Swing. The cocktail-style party will have carving stations set up under the tents, Sellman explained.

Tickets, at $100 each, are available until tomorrow and can be purchased by calling (732) 324-5374, she added. All proceeds will benefit the Radiation Oncology Center at the Old Bridge division.

"We invite the entire community to join us in this anniversary celebration," Sellman said.

The four-story hospital opened its doors on Jan. 2, 1979. That year, 1,400 patients were admitted.

Today, more than 5,200 patients are admitted annually to the 113-bed facility.

Last fall, the hospital's plans to construct a six-story addition to the rear of the existing building received the approval of the township's Zoning Board of Adjustment. The new addition will be adjacent to the present-day emergency room.

Hospital officials have stated that they expect to add another 120 patient beds after all three phases of the entire expansion project are completed.

A second phase of construction will connect the main hospital with the neighboring medical arts building. A parking garage and additional parking lots will be added.

Officials also hope to offer both obstetrics-gynecological and pediatric care services after all the additions are completed at the Old Bridge division.

Liquor license renewals opposed by neighbors

BY JOLENE HART
 Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — The Borough Council is scheduled to continue a hearing on the liquor license renewals for Club Abyss and Deko Lounge on Monday.

Neighbors of the clubs turned out for an initial hearing on May 24, led by Jill Poliny, whose 80-year-old mother resides next to the Deko Lounge and across from Club Abyss on Route 35.

Residents complained of intolerable noise, garbage, traffic and parking violations that they claim the clubs have brought into the neighborhood.

"This problem has been going on and on and on," Poliny said. "All the neighbors are getting together to put an end to this."

The council was not legally able to accept a petition that Poliny furnished, though members heard testimony from many of the agitated residents. Poliny said the petition comprised signatures of residents opposed to the renewal of the clubs' liquor licenses.

"People don't pay taxes to live where they can't open their windows," she said. "They have a poor quality of life from Wednesday to Sunday."

A resident of 9th Street, a one-way street near Club Abyss, told the council that patrons of the club pay no attention to traffic laws.

"On a Wednesday through Saturday evening, you can sit on the street and watch cars go the wrong way at high speeds," she said.

Club owners came before the council to counter the claims.

Kenneth Pape, attorney for the owners, said the Sayreville Police Department has not found excessive problems at the clubs.

"There are no violations with the police department, zoning or construction officials, or the ABC [state Alcoholic Beverage Control] by these businesses or owners. These businesses are model," Pape said.

The owners are examining options, such as the construction of an outside vestibule, that might reduce noise emission at the clubs. The construction of such a structure could be completed in 60 to 90 days.

The owners have hired a private security service to monitor the area from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m. in response to residents' complaints.

"Everything is a waiting game. We need some help and only you can do it," Poliny told the Borough Council.

The hearing will recommence at 6 p.m. in the council chambers at Borough Hall.

Does A Simple Weight-Loss Plan Really Exist? This Woman Says Yes!

"It was just POOF! Like fairy dust. Not a smoker anymore! Then the weight just melted off! It was painless!"

-Meegan VanderBurgh

Hi. My name is Meegan VanderBurgh. I was a pack-day smoker for 16 years and an overweight smoker for 8 long years. I was miserable. Today, I couldn't be happier. I lost 43 lbs. in 4 months and I'm smoke-free!

Headed Toward Obesity

I was overweight ever since I had my first child. I tried to lose weight through dieting and exercise. I did Tai Bo and gave myself a rotator cuff injury. I tried cutting back on foods and counting calories. I would fall off the weight-loss wagon and go back to eating junk food before I could lose any weight. I couldn't stay away from chocolate. I had to have it after every meal. I felt out of control.

I smoked at least a pack of cigarettes a day, often more. I didn't know what it was like to drive a car without smoking. I tried every gimmick on the market to quit. I took pills. Within 3 days, I was smoking again. I tried cold turkey. I got so stressed and crabby that my husband said it wasn't worth it. Nothing worked.

I was tired every day. I felt bad when I got up in the morning, and by mid-afternoon I had to take a nap. My morning sugar hangovers were so intense that eating a good breakfast was out of the question. Exercising was even more so. No doubt about it, I was headed down the path of obesity. I was miserable.

Nothing to Lose

A friend told me about Positive Changes Hypnosis. At first, I thought it was silly. I thought it would be like stage hypnosis and that they would make me cluck like a chicken. My friend convinced me to find out for myself. I had tried everything else. What did I have to lose?

The Positive Changes center was professional, something like a doctor's office, but more relaxing. My free screening was fun and fascinating. The entire program was explained to me, and I was able to make an educated decision. I felt the fee was reasonable. I signed up, quit smoking and melted off 43 lbs.!

Results Surpassed Expectations

I decided to tackle my smoking habit first. I was still skeptical of hypnosis. I didn't really believe anything would happen. Then, 9 hours after my first session, I realized I hadn't thought about cigarettes. If they hadn't fallen out of my jacket pocket, I probably wouldn't have thought about smoking again! Hypnosis made quitting painless. My husband didn't realize I'd quit smoking, because I wasn't crabby! In 14 months, I've never had another craving. I was a nonsmoker after my first session.

I lost 7 lbs. before I even started my weight-loss program. Once I started, I lost 3 lbs. my first week! Losing weight with hypnosis was far easier than counting calories or starving myself. My behaviors changed and my weight melted off. I went from an obese 18 to a slender 10! I far exceeded my goal of losing 25 lbs.

"The Picture of Health"

I couldn't be happier! Hypnosis made it easy to choose healthy foods and motivated me to exercise. It gets easier and easier every day. I used to drink cola like it was my job. I no longer drink soda at all. I have those things around me, but I simply don't want them. I used to hate vegetables. Now I can't get enough. I enjoy eating healthy foods much more than I ever enjoyed junk food. I eat less and enjoy the taste of food more.

When I was overweight and smoking, exercise was out of the question. I didn't have the energy. I am not tired anymore. My energy lasts all day! I walk on the treadmill and do Pilates almost every day and I have the energy to enjoy it. I am in shape and feel great!

My health has so improved that my doctor was shocked when he saw me. He tells me I am the picture of health. My cholesterol is normal and so is my blood pressure. I sleep better at night. I am more comfortable in my body. I no longer wake up with a sugar hangover!

"A Dream Come True"

Being in control of my life is a dream come true. I am a new person, full of self-confidence and energy. I am no longer embarrassed to be out with my thin friends.

There was a time in my life when I smoked and overate to procrastinate. Now I get things done. I enjoy time with my children without feeling guilty about the floor that didn't get cleaned because I was smoking or snacking.

"The Smartest Investment I Could Make"

Positive Changes was the smartest investment I could make. Between quitting smoking and not eating junk food, I save almost $300 a month! I wouldn't trade what I have for a million dollars. I give equal credit to myself and to Positive Changes Hypnosis. Even though I did it myself, I would never have made these changes without the help of Positive Changes. Thanks to them, I feel great about myself.

"Your New Beginning"

I recommend Positive Changes to people every day, for any change they want to make in their lives. If you're thinking of joining Positive Changes for any reason, I want to tell you to get there as soon as you can. Don't wait! If I can stop smoking in one session and then melt off 43 lbs. in 4 short months, I can accomplish anything, and so can you! It is amazing. The minute you start is your new beginning!

If you're overweight, want to quit smoking, or want to otherwise change your life, don't suffer through years of misery like I did. Call and schedule a free consultation with the staff at Positive Changes. If hypnosis isn't right for you, they'll tell you. If it is, they'll be there for you every step of the way. So don't wait. OPINION

Skewed priorities win again in Trenton

When Gov. James E. McGreevey condemns an action of the state that he leads as "bureaucratic nonsense," you know you are talking about something special.

New Jersey is a state in which "bureaucratic nonsense" is so typical, it barely generates more than a shrug from any resident, let alone the one in Drumthwacket.

What political lightning rod could have prompted this reaction from the state's top elected official? The decision by the state Division of Civil Rights in the Attorney General's Office to deem ladies' nights, which many bars use to boost business, discriminatory.

From Woodbridge to Wildwood, the announcement definitely elicited a lot more than a shrug. The reaction was not limited only to women in search of cheap drinks (and the men in search of those women), but prompted many non-barflies to ask, "Why?"

In all honesty, there's no getting around the logic of the Division of Civil Rights' decision — it's obvious that giving a discount based on gender is discrimination — but, as with other preference programs, there is also a sound argument for extending the discount.

It is well documented that women — on average — are paid less than men for comparable work.

Couldn't the bars and restaurants offering the ladies' night discounts say they are just trying to level the playing field?

Of course they really don't need to make any such argument because almost as quickly as the state made the decision, the embarrassment it has caused has state officials backing away from it.

Rather than waste time and money getting into and out of hot water over what is essentially a non-issue, maybe the civil rights division could spend a little more time trying to correct the real, egregious violations of the basic rights of New Jersey citizens.

If we had to hazard a guess, we'd bet there is no shortage of those.

Drivers urged to oppose auto insurance legislation

When it comes to purchasing automobile insurance, New Jersey drivers enjoy more choices than motorists in almost every other state.

This means New Jersey drivers have the opportunity to make informed decisions about the types of insurance coverage they desire and can craft a policy that best suits their needs.

One of the meaningful choices New Jersey drivers currently enjoy involves the selection of what is called the limitation on lawsuit option, also known as the verbal threshold. Very simply, New Jersey drivers can save hundreds of dollars on their premiums by selecting this option, which restricts their ability to file pain and suffering lawsuits for injuries that are not serious or permanent.

Currently, 92 percent of New Jersey drivers elect the limitation on lawsuit option in exchange for a savings on their premium. A driver also may reject this option and pay full premium in return for an unfettered ability to bring pain and suffering claims following an accident no matter how minor the injury.

Unfortunately, legislation currently pending in the state Senate (S-1191) would undermine this important choice. Its effect would increase premiums paid by those who choose the lower cost policy by opening the litigation floodgates for minor injury cases.

For approximately 4.5 million New Jersey drivers currently selecting this option, this could mean an average premium increase of $98-$163-per-vehicle per-year.

Quite simply the legislation would allow trial attorneys to profit at the expense of most New Jersey drivers. Consumers should not be denied the right to save substantially on their auto insurance premiums simply because New Jersey trial lawyers want to clog our courts with more pain and suffering lawsuits for minor injury cases.

Questions remain on true cost of drug bill

Many seniors were chagrined when the AARP, "their" organization, supported the passage of a seriously flawed Medicare drug bill.

Now, the chagrin has turned to open anger. On March 25, Medicare's chief actuary, Richard S. Foster, testified that he had been threatened last June by the then administrator of Medicare, who claimed to be "acting under direct White House orders."

Foster was threatened with "extremely severe consequences" if he responded to congressional inquiries on the "true" cost of the pending senior drug legislation.

The drug bill passed by one vote. The cost estimates have now gone from the White House claim of $400 billion to almost $600 billion — without a prescription being filled.

Seniors wonder if AARP knew the real costs when they endorsed this law.

If AARP leadership knew the real story and stood silent, they are — at best — knaves. If "our" leadership acted in ignorance, they are — at best — fools.

Seniors and the country deserve a better choice than between knaves and fools. It is a sad thing.

WORD ON THE STREET

How do you feel about the ruling against holding ladies' night at bars and clubs?

If they take [ladies' night] away, they need to take away clubs letting 18-year-old girls in and not letting guys in unless they are 21.

— Heather Blaker
Freehold

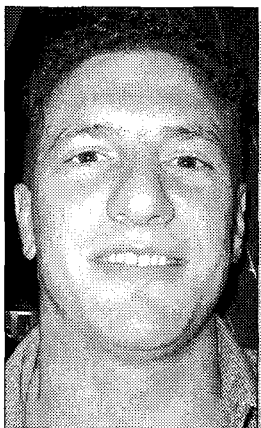

There is no reason to ban them. There is a reason to bring ladies into the clubs. It's a good night out for ladies at a low cost.

— John Spiegel

Guys aren't going to go somewhere where there are no girls, so ladies' night is definitely to the gentlemen's benefit, as crazy as that sounds. It's a paradox for the guy's benefit.

— Paul Pscolka

I agree with the governor. I think it's stupid. It could actually hurt some establishments because the guys [also] come out for ladies' night.

Irish eyes will be smiling on Saturday

Friendly Sons of Shillelagh will celebrate its 40th anniversary

BY SUE M. MORGAN
Staff Writer

OLD BRIDGE — Thanks to Ralph Kramden and Ed Norton, the iconic duo in the popular 1950s television show "The Honeymooners," the founders of a local Irish-American social club found a catchy name.

It was on that popular sitcom that Jackie Gleason, as the Brooklyn bus driver Kramden, often jokingly told Art Carney, who played his sewer-worker pal

Norton, to go to a meeting at "The Friendly Sons of the Shillelagh."

Though doubtful such a social club actually existed except in Gleason's imagination, the founders of an Irish-American organization loved the name and decided to use it when they set up shop in Old Bridge in 1964.

That is just one of the many stories about the early days of the Old Bridge's Friendly Sons' chapter, which will celebrate its 40th anniversary in the community this Saturday.

The Friendly Sons, with chapters in Old Bridge, West Orange and Belmar, is the largest Irish-American organization in the tristate area, according to its literature.

The literature also states that the 40 men who first formed the Old Bridge chapter were descendants of Irish immigrants who came to America following the great famine on the Emerald Isle that began in 1845.

"These immigrants and their offspring became the great-grandparents and grandparents of most of us who are today Friendly Sons of the Shillelagh," the group's literature states.

When the founders first met in January 1964 on Clover Street in Old Bridge, their goal was to organize a group of Irish-Americans to march in the St. Patrick's Day parade in Newark, which would be held two months later.

The group met again during the following month, this time at a Route 9 establishment called Fred's Turf, which later became the Dorian Manor. Those members agreed to become the first charter members of the Friendly Sons of the Shillelagh.

In September 1966, the organization purchased just more than 5 acres of land on Oak Street. The members themselves soon began to erect their club building, known as "The Miracle on Oak Street."

Today, the organization boasts more than 500 members and continues to meet at the Oak Street headquarters. Township officials including Mayor Jim Phillips, Council President William Baker and Councilmen Patrick Gillespie, Richard Greene and Dennis Maher, all current members, are expected to attend Saturday's festivities.

With bagpipe bands playing and step dancers hoofing on-stage, the day-long celebration at the club's building and grounds looks to be something akin to St. Patrick's Day in June, event organizers say.

More than 2,000 persons are expected to visit the Friendly Sons' headquarters and accompanying grounds between Friday night — when a precelebration cocktail party will be held — and Saturday night when the festivities end, according to Gerard D. Kennedy, the organization's special events coordinator.

Attendees will include members and their families from the three New Jersey chapters.

Also expected to attend are Rep. Rush Holt (D-12th District), Sen. Joseph Kyrillos and Assemblymen Joseph Azzolina and Samuel Thompson (all R-Monmouth, Middlesex), and Middlesex County Board of Freeholders Director David B. Crabel.

Gov. James E. McGreevey, who is a member of the Friendly Sons chapter in Belmar, Monmouth County, might attend but has not yet confirmed, Kennedy said. Police Chief Thomas Collow and two former mayors, William Flynn and Art Haney, are on the distinguished guest list as well, Kennedy said.

"We have two former mayors and the current mayor as members," he said.

Festivities will begin at 10 a.m. and a Mass will be offered at 11 a.m. The club's honorary chaplain, the Rev. Terry Loughran of Limerick, Ireland, will officiate at the Mass, Kennedy confirmed.

"He's flying in from Ireland to say Mass with us," he said.

At noon, the organization's building, which also includes a banquet hall, will be rededicated, according to the club's BACK PAIN?

East Brunswick, N.J.— According to a recently released back pain relief report, most back pain sufferers have no idea how to eliminate their pain. Some use heat, others ice. From sleeping on the floor, to pillows underneath the legs, back pain relief techniques vary. But thanks to a free report, local back pain sufferers finally know exactly what to do.

news release.

Music, song, food and fun will dominate the rest of the day both inside and outside of the building, Kennedy explained, with something that should appeal to everyone.

On the entertainment bill are bagpipe bands from the Old Bridge chapter as well as the Belmar and West Orange chapters.

Two different Emerald Society Pipe bands, one from Ocean County and another from Essex County, will play Irish tunes as will Willie Lynch's Show Band, a musical group specializing in Gaelic jigs and reels.

Troupes of children will perform traditional Irish step dances throughout the afternoon, Kennedy said.

Visitors will be able to view the various artifacts placed throughout the buildings and grounds that tell the history of the Friendly Sons.

One such item is a plaque at the clubhouse honoring the late Chuck Costello, a member and township resident who perished in the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center.

On a lighter note, a framed oil painting of Gleason hangs inside the club's barroom, a tribute to the Great One's inspiration for the organization's name.

As a means of recognizing "The Honeymooners" connection, Kennedy even invited Joyce Randolph, who played Trixie in the original series, to the anniversary party. Randolph, now 78 and residing in New York City, telephoned Kennedy with her regrets.

"She said that her son doesn't want her to drive all the way to New Jersey from the city," Kennedy said. "She's a very nice lady."

Kennedy even invited President George W. Bush. Bush's office also sent regrets due to this week's funeral for former President Ronald Reagan.

All festivities are free of charge to the public, Kennedy said.

Official pushes to keep last boro farm preserved

BY JOLENE HART
Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — If plans continue to progress, the borough's last operating farm will remain just that — operating.

Borough Council President Thomas Pollando brought a plea for the Dieker farm's preservation to the state Agriculture Development Committee May 27.

The 8-acre Dieker farm, located between Bordentown Avenue and the Garden State Parkway, was established in 1903 by Fred Dieker.

The farm was reduced in size in the 1950s, when 8 acres were taken for the Garden State Parkway through eminent domain.

One hundred years later, Fred's grandson, James Dieker, still farms the area. Flowers, peaches, tomatoes, peppers and corn are all grown on the land.

"While development has done much to improve the quality of life in Middlesex County, the loss of farmland means that we are also losing a part of our history. Once our farmland is gone, we cannot replace it," Pollando told the committee.

"The Dieker farm is a bridge for residents of Sayreville to an idyllic past, and a source of some of the best produce available," he said.

Under the state Farmland Preservation program, farmers still own their land but sell their right to develop it and can never use it for anything other than agricultural purposes. The sale price represents the difference between what a developer would pay for the land and its agricultural value, according to the state Agriculture Development Committee.

The committee must approve all farms that will be preserved and send the list of farms to the Garden State Preservation Trust for further approval. Funding is available for purchase of the land after it receives state Legislature approval and the signature of the governor.

Dieker and his wife, Jeanne, began to pursue farmland preservation in September 2003.

EYESITE

By Robert M. Scharfman, M.D., F.A.A.O.

LASIK

The summer is traditionally one of the most popular times for having LASIK - Laser Vision Correction. With the warm weather, vacations, and long days, the burden of glasses and contact lenses is more notable, and the lure of freedom more desirable. It is estimated that this year alone more than one million Americans will have LASIK. Imagine walking into the LASIK center wearing glasses and minutes later being able to see clearly without glasses or contacts. Imagine going to the Jersey Shore and not having to fumble for glasses or worry about sand on your contacts.

At Atlantic Medical Eye Care, we can assist you in making the right decision about your eye care. We will help you to acquire an understanding of the procedure and more importantly, your particular situation and treatment options. My office is located at 3 Hospital Plaza, off of Ferry Road, in Old Bridge. Please call (732) 607-0500 to schedule an appointment for a free Laser Vision consultation. As a member of the Board of Governors of the New Jersey Academy of Ophthalmology, I am committed to providing the highest quality of care.

Municipal tax hike likely in Sayreville

BY JOLENE HART
Staff Writer

SAYREVILLE — Although the 2004 municipal tax rate has not been finalized, residents may see an increase in their third-quarter tax bills.

The Borough Council expects to vote on an initial tax increase Monday in response to a recommendation made by the borough's chief financial officer, Wayne Kronowski.

Kronowski advised the council to vote on the increase at its next meeting so that the borough will not risk a shortage of funds in late summer.

"The school and county bills still need to be paid on time," Kronowski said. Residents' tax payments would not be expected until August, when the funds may be needed.

Kronowski said state aid figures are not likely to become available until the first week of July, with funding arriving even later. The council has waited on these figures to adopt its final 2004 budget.

Kronowski explained that he would rather that the council not be "pressured" into making a decision on the final tax rate before it receives notice of state aid.

At a meeting on Monday, the council initially proposed a 6.5-cent tax rate increase for the third-quarter bill, which would be adjusted when state funding is announced. If the rate is lowered, residents will see the difference in their next tax payment.

"Any reductions will be reflected in the fourth-quarter tax bill," Kronowski said.

"I would go with the lowest amount we can," said Council President Thomas Pollando, suggesting a 5.4-cent increase, to which the council showed favor.

The likely 5.4-cent increase would add about $75 to the tax bill of a home assessed at $139,500 — the average in Sayreville.

"We can't play guessing games with extraordinary aid," Councilman John Melillo said.

State aid in 2003 amounted to $250,000, and borough officials are hoping for similar assistance in the current year.

Playkids 22 schedules summer show auditions

Scheduled shows are "Candyland," "The Three Little Pigs — The True Story," "The Princess and the Peas" and "Once Upon a Time — What Really Happened." Performances are planned for 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. on selected Saturdays throughout the summer. Performance dates will be announced shortly.

St. Mary's in South Amboy welcomes inquiries

St. Mary's Parish in South Amboy is now accepting registration for any adult (age 14 or older) who is interested in preparing for baptism, first communion or confirmation.

The RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) begins with several weeks of inquiry sessions. Joined by team members and supported by the entire parish community, participants will journey through the scriptures and learn more about the Catholic faith and tradition. No prior knowledge of the Bible is necessary. Sessions will be held on Sundays. This will be the only preparation available for adults this year. Catholics must have celebrated all three sacraments in order to serve as godparents or sponsors.

The RCIA program is for anyone who has ever considered joining the Catholic Church or is already a Catholic but has not celebrated First Communion or Confirmation. Contact Susette Lucarello at (732) 525-0141 to register or for further information.

St. Ambrose Carnival planned for June 22-26

The St. Ambrose School Carnival will be held from 6-11 p.m. June 22-24, 6 p.m. to midnight on June 25, and 5-10 p.m. on June 26 on the school grounds, Throckmorton Lane, off Route 9, Old Bridge.

The event will feature rides, games, food, live nightly entertainment and super and nightly 50/50s.

The Old Bridge Idol contest preliminary rounds are set for June 22-24. The June 26 grand finale will feature celebrity judge Vini Lopez, a former member of Bruce Springsteen's E Street Band.

A fireworks display is planned for 9 p.m. on June 25; rain date is June 26. June 24 and 26 will be Bracelet Nights — participants will pay one price ($20) to ride all night.

For more information, call (732) 679-5990, ext. 7.

The inspiration behind our affiliation.

Saint Peter's University Hospital and The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia are now working as a team.

When it comes to your kids, nothing is more important than their health. That's why the affiliation of Saint Peter's and The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is such great news for New Jersey.

Saint Peter's established New Jersey's first center for critically ill newborns 24 years ago, and today treats more children than anyone else in the state. And The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia was ranked the number one pediatric hospital in the country by U.S. News & World Report in 2003. Now families across New Jersey will have access to a wide variety of America's top specialists and first-rate specialized care, including pediatric cardiology.

Saint Peter's University Hospital and The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. We're all about kids.

Democratic Party back together so we can be a united front in November and in the future."

Pollando, who garnered 1,367 votes, while noting he was disappointed with the way his opponent's campaign was run, remained optimistic that the party will rise above its difficulties.

"I hope, by this victory, that we'll bring the two sides together," Pollando said. "I'm very happy for the Democratic Party and I wish the best of luck to Mr. Marcinczyk."

Buchanan and Pollando said they plan to maintain their focus on stabilizing taxes, bringing in revenue through the National Lead site and securing open space as they continue their campaign.

"I'm going to continue to do what's right for the people of Sayreville — that is right for my party," Pollando added.

Marcinczyk is not quite as sure that unity is possible for the Democrats.

Marcinczyk said that his 1,159 voting supporters included a group of "die-hard, loyal Democrats" that are unlikely to waiver in their convictions.

"I had such a good feeling," said Marcinczyk, admitting that he thought the campaign had a more clear effect than his unsuccessful November 2003 bid as the party's candidate for mayor. He said that he was even approached by Republican voters who told him they would have supported his candidacy.

"I was outspent seven to one," Marcinczyk said, attributing part of his difficulty with the campaign to lack of resources. He noted that he spent $16,000 on his campaign, while election reports record that the Democratic Organization's candidates spent $45,000. Marcinczyk said he intends to pursue an investigation of the contributions made to his opponents' campaign to determine if they took money in violation of the borough's new "pay-to-play" law.

"Now I'm going to regroup, rethink, and take some time off this summer," Marcinczyk said. "It was a heck of a fight."

Girl Scouts to sponsor blood drive on June 12

Old Bridge Girl Scout Troop No. 1913 will sponsor a blood drive from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on June 12 in the conference room at the Old Bridge Public Library Main Branch, Route 516 and Cottrell Road.

A majority of the troop members are in the fourth grade at Carpenter School, Old Bridge. The blood drive, a service project that is part of the requirements for the Scouts' Bronze Award, will be conducted by New Jersey Blood Services.

Blood donors must be at least 17 years of age and weigh at least 110 pounds. Individuals may only donate blood every 56 days. Participants should know their Social Security number and have signature or photo identification. For more information on donating, call (800) 933-2566.

All donors will receive a "minimedical" including screenings for blood pressure, temperature and iron (hemoglobin) levels. After the donation, each participant will be mailed a donor card containing his or her blood type. Donors should expect to be at the blood drive for approximately one hour, which will include time for registration, medical history, the "minimedical," donation and refreshments.

For Kim Drako, opening a store is not just a way to make a living, but a way to help others.

Drako, the owner of Mommy's Memories, Washington Road in Sayreville, is a member of the Monroe Township First Aid Squad and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Spotswood Volunteer Fire Department, for which her husband is chief engineer. Up until last year, she was a familiar face at the Old Bridge post office, where she worked for 14 years.

one's community," Drako said.

Drako is also an avid scrapbooker who enjoys preserving photos of loved ones in albums that she decorates by hand. It is only natural that she would combine her desire to help others with her love of crafting and open up a scrapbook store.

Mommy's Memories opened in March. The store sells a wide variety of scrapbooking supplies, including scrapbooks, decorative paper, templates, stickers, paper cutters, adhesives and other embellishments. It also has a "make and take" area where customers can use die-cutting machines, templates, punches and a laminator to create embellishments for their scrapbook pages.

Drako puts a special emphasis on scrapbooking education. She is currently putting together a rental library of instructional books and videos about scrapbooking. She also offers beginning scrapbooking workshops for adults and children. In the coming months, she plans to offer additional workshops on specialized topics such as journal writing, organizing one's scrapbook workspace, and using scrapbooking as a teaching tool.

Drako believes it is especially important to expose children to scrapbooking. This week, for example, she is helping a "class mom" make personalized scrapbooks for her daughter's graduating eighth-grade class at the Corpus Christi School in South River.

"Kids love crafts," Drako said. "Scrapbooking teaches them the importance of preserving their memories."

In addition, Mommy's Memories helps support various community groups. Drako recently donated scrapbooking goody bags and raffle prizes to the Sayreville Main Street Theater Company's tricky tray. She is also donating tricky tray prizes to be used at the Union County Scrappers' "Spectacular Summer Crop Event" on June 19; proceeds from the tricky tray will be donated to the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Above all, Drako's goal is to help foster a sense of unity among scrapbookers.

"I am trying to make this a store for New Jersey scrapbookers," she said. "I want them to say that this is their scrapbook store. People can come here to have fun and make friendships."

Victory Bridge

was called "the greatest structure ever built," said Jack Lettiere, the current state Department of Transportation commissioner.

Large volumes of traffic, combined with the frequent opening of the bridge to accommodate river traffic, made the bridge obsolete only 10 years after its construction. In later years, the Route 9 Edison Bridge and the Garden State Parkway's Alfred E. Driscoll Bridge alleviated some of the area's traffic problems.

"We wanted to replace this structure with something even more magnificent," said Lettiere, who predicted that the finished structure will be the "prettiest bridge ever built in New Jersey."

According to Lettiere, the new Victory Bridge is the first of its kind. It is the nation's longest bridge to be built of precast segments of concrete, shipped from Virginia.

Since construction began on May 1, 2003, workers have been on site every weekend, from 10 p.m. on Sundays to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

The demolition of the original Victory Bridge will make room for the second span of the new structure.

When the entire project is complete in December 2005, the first span will carry southbound traffic while the second will support vehicles traveling north. Each will be a 3,970-foot-long span with a 120-foot vertical clearance above the tide.

Those who are familiar with the bridge's design noted that aesthetics were a key aspect of the plan. The final renderings of the bridge show an impressive structure that features dramatic lighting — tall, arching lamps will line the sides of the bridge and spotlights will illuminate the supporting columns.

The new Victory Bridge is also more pedestrian-friendly, with a sidewalk and railings.

"This is truly a bridge to the future. It will open up economic commerce and stand as a legacy of sacrifice and a reminder of service," said state Assemblyman John Wisniewski (D-19), who is Chairman of the Assembly's Transportation Committee and a resident of Sayreville.

Sayreville Mayor Kennedy O'Brien noted that the bridge will "ease the plight of the people of Sayreville who need to commute north."

"It will now accommodate a high volume of Shore and recreational travel. The new high-level bridge will permit river traffic to flow at any time, making it a safer crossing," said Middlesex County Freeholders Director David B. Crabel.

Father Thomas Ryan of Holy Trinity Parish, Perth Amboy, joked with the crowd that the only people who might be unhappy about the convenience of the new bridge are students from local high schools, as the traffic jams caused by the old swing bridge were often used as an excuse for late arrival to school.

Elephants are escorted up the new Victory Bridge span between Sayreville and Perth Amboy Saturday as a symbolic showing of the structure's strength. At right, veterans, including Ed Petraska of American Legion Post 211 in Sayreville, wait for the gun salute during the dedication of the new Victory Bridge span Saturday.

Rain subsided long enough for a motorcade to cross the bridge, led by McGreevey and other county officials in historic roadsters. Two elephants and a rooster — representing strength and victory — were also part of the symbolic crossing.

The entire Victory Bridge replacement project was federally funded. Figg Bridge Engineers Inc. and Vollmer Associates prepared the project design, and George Harms Construction Co. completed the construction work.

The bridge, which extends from Fayette Street in Perth Amboy to the north exit driveway of Amboy Cinemas in Sayreville, will be used by approximately 20,500 vehicles each day.

McGreevey also noted that the state is investing over a half-billion dollars in major projects to improve traffic congestion and upgrade Middlesex County's transportation infrastructure. The improvements include the expansion of the Driscoll Bridge, the construction of a new Route 9 Edison Bridge, the redesigning of New Jersey Turnpike Interchange 12 in Carteret, and the elimination of the Route 35/Route 9 Victory Circle in Sayreville.

application, he said.

"I didn't want to start Pennrose at that time," Desai said. "We put it on July 15, the next possible date."

However, delaying a hearing until then could adversely affect whether the authority and Pennrose get their application for the tax credits to NJHMFA before the August deadline, Gurliaccio said. If the authority and Pennrose do not meet that deadline, they would have to wait until March to apply for those tax credits, Gurliaccio added.

By that time, the authority and Pennrose might be competing with other municipalities in the state that chose to apply for tax credits to build similar projects, she pointed out.

"[Housing for the disabled] is relatively new in the state of New Jersey," Gurliaccio said. "The state is giving tax credits to people looking at this housing."

"What the Housing Authority fears is that we will miss this deadline," Gurliaccio continued.

Housing for independently disabled persons is urgently needed in the township, Gurliaccio said.

Public interest in the complex proposed for the site at Route 18 and Ferry Road is running high, she said. The authority first announced its intentions to build the housing during a Township Council meeting in February.

"I've had so many inquiries about this," she said. "People call me and ask me when this building is going to be completed."

While acknowledging his overall opposition to special meeting, Galante asked Desai and his colleagues to make an exception based on the nature of the project.

"I'm against special meetings in general," Galante said. "But this is an opportunity to do something good for this community."

"Rather than take the chance and put (the hearing) off to the last minute, let's put this on a special meeting," he added.

While no specific plans have yet been presented for the complex, it would be designed with amenities to assist disabled persons who are able to live on their own and maintain their independence, Gurliaccio said.

It is not a group home and units will not be leased to those needing round-the-clock care, she said.

"This is for independently disabled people," Gurliaccio said. "These are people who are going to be able to go to work and take care of themselves."

The complex would be located on land owned by the authority between Maher Manor, an affordable senior housing building now under construction, and Raritan Bay Medical Center's Old Bridge division.

Maher Manor is also a joint undertaking by the authority and Pennrose, which specializes in building housing for seniors and the disabled.

The NJHMFA is a program administered by the state Department of Community Affairs, Gurliaccio said.

Contingent upon final site plan approval, the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders has agreed to provide $1.5 million in funding toward the complex, Gurliaccio said.

Brilliant career comes to an end for Capra

BY WARREN RAPPLEYEA
Staff Writer

The recipient of 10 varsity letters, a six-time MVP, three-time Greater Middlesex Conference champion, the all-time leading scorer in basketball at Old Bridge, the female scholar athlete and the school's 2004 Athlete of the Year — all that, if you do the math, adds up to Jaime Capra.

During the past four years, the indefatigable Capra has seemingly done it all at Old Bridge, leading her basketball coach, Ken Fischer, to call her "arguably the best athlete to ever walk through the doors at Old Bridge High School."

Best-known for her exploits on the hardwood, Capra had her best year as a senior, averaging 20 points, despite being double- and sometimes triple-teamed, and pulling down 9.5 rebounds per game. She served as team captain for the second straight season and was outstanding from start to finish, hitting 83 percent of her free throws along the way. She will continue her career next year at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass.

When point guard Kathy Rutter suffered an injury, Capra moved from forward to point guard, where she averaged 27 points and helped the Lady Knights win three of five games.

She became a fixture for the Lady Knights as a freshman. She worked her way into the lineup and averaged 6.5 points.

Capra entered her senior season after averaging 15 and 18 points, respectively, as a sophomore and junior.

There would be no hiding. Every team in the GMC knew about her. In the season-opener, she scored just six points, but quickly adjusted.

"I was so disappointed after that game," she said. "I had a lot of trouble with the coverage and I wasn't used to it. We always had someone else that defenders paid attention to, so it was new to me. But I got used to it and my teammates helped a lot, setting picks and screens, and getting me the ball in good position."

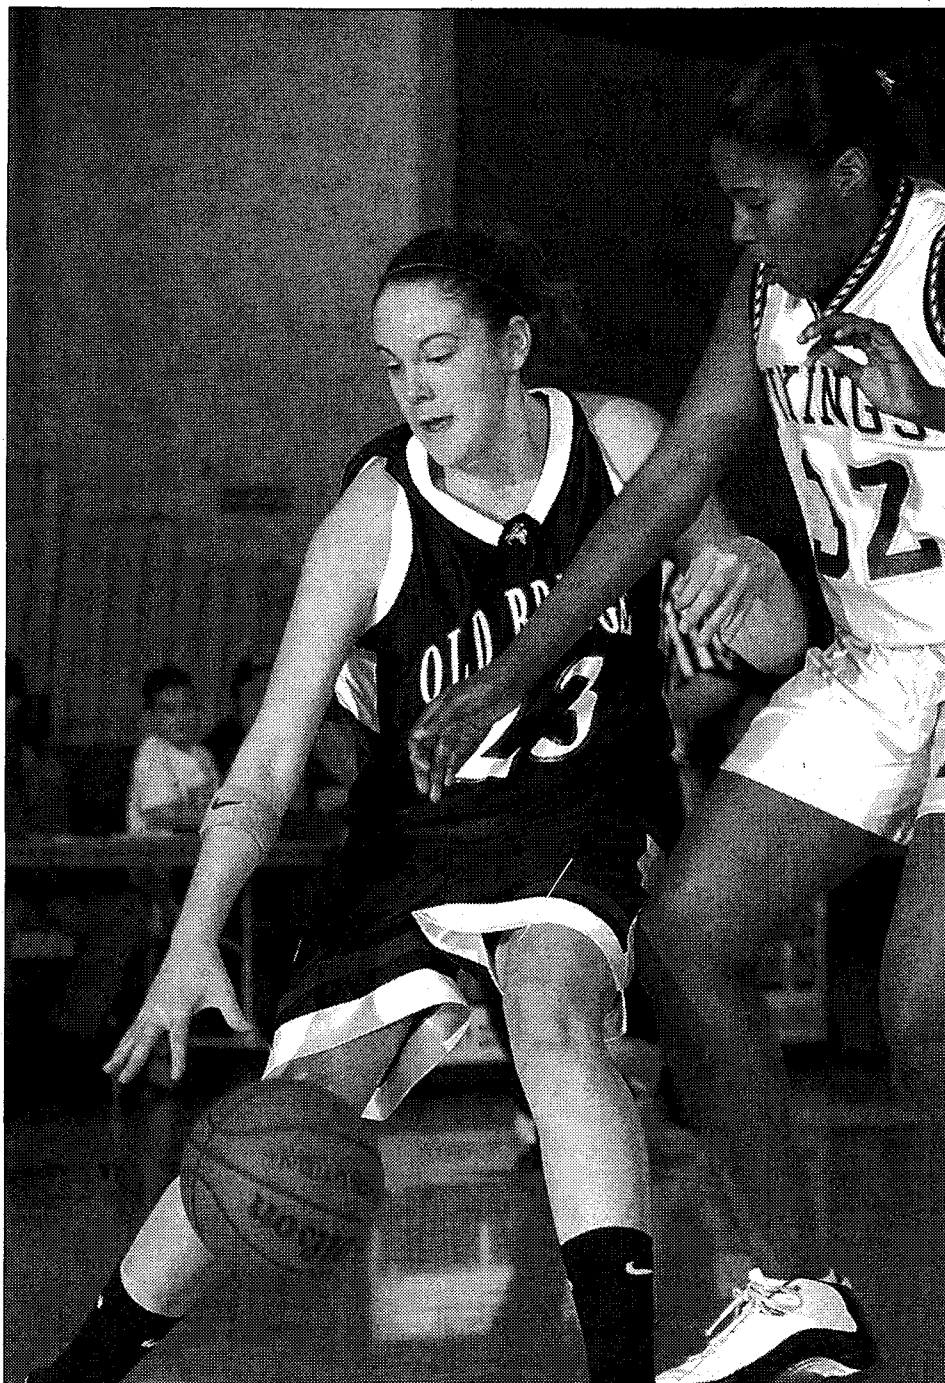

Capra recalled the evening when she scored her 1,000th point in front of a cheering, home crowd.

"I was so nervous," she said. "Everyone was yelling and rooting for me, and I only needed four points. I missed my first three shots and I didn't really calm down until I got to 1,000; then I was able to play my game."

Her career highlights included two trips to the GMC finals, 1,545 points and, as Fischer said, "untold contributions to so many wins." The most spectacular of which came when Capra took a shot from half-court against Woodbridge that turned a 1-point deficit into an Old Bridge victory. She was named the team MVP each of the last two years.

"Jaime has the uncanny ability to put a team on her shoulders," Fischer said. "We were never out of a game with her on the floor."

She began playing basketball in elementary school and later played at Salk

CHRIS KELLY staff

Old Bridge's Jaime Capra graduates as one of the most successful athletes in Old Bridge High School history, having starred on the varsity basketball, softball and volleyball teams over the course of her career.

Middle School, but played one season of recreational softball before returning to the game in seventh grade. Yet, she made the Old Bridge varsity softball team as a freshman, and coach Sue Klein made Capra the starting shortstop.

Despite an unorthodox throwing style, her excellent range and speed made Capra a solid defensive player. She batted just .205, but her 17 hits showed the potential of things to come.

As a sophomore, she batted .295 with three homers and 11 RBIs, and hit .287 as a junior with a pair of homers and 11 RBIs to help Old Bridge to its first GMC softball title.

Capra's stats are all the more impressive when one considers that many softball players are active year-round.

"My teammates kid me about that, and I tell them that I close my eyes and swing," she said. "Actually, it takes me a while to get going. I got off to a slow start this year until I got accustomed to the speed."

She ended her senior season with a .326 average, two homers and 15 RBIs, and led the Lady Knights to the GMC semifinals, where they lost a 9-8 heartbreaker to Middlesex. One of the homers came against Rancocas Valley — a team that allowed just three earned runs all year — in the state tournament. Capra keyed a 13th-inning rally that resulted in a win over J.P. Stevens in the GMC tourney, and her walk-off double scored the game-winner against Hunterdon Central. Her exploits earned Capra her second successive team MVP award.

"Jaime's greatest strength is her ability to bear down at the plate," Klein said. "Out of our 17 wins, she was directly involved by either batting in, or scoring the winning or tying run, in eight of them. She's just an excellent competitor. That, combined with her sense of humor, brings everybody up."

Her grace and athleticism extended to the volleyball court when, as a junior, Capra's friend, then-senior Amanda Meatto, a teammate on both basketball and softball, talked her into trying out for volleyball.

"She [Meatto] kept bugging me; she told me it would be fun," Capra said. "I didn't even like volleyball, and I wasn't going to play, but Amanda talked me into it."

At 5-foot-10, Capra's height proved a valuable advantage, and she and Meatto helped the Lady Knights win the GMC crown. With Capra back on board, Old Bridge successfully defended its crown last fall.

"When she went out for volleyball, I knew she would succeed," Klein said. "Jaime is such a talented athlete, I'd say the most accomplished athlete at Old Bridge High School. And a great kid with a good personality, too. Jaime loves to play the game, and teammates, opposing coaches and umpires could see it. They'd kid around with her and she'd joke with them. One other thing about Jaime, she never blames anyone for her mistakes. Jaime holds herself accountable; and she leaves her teammates and the school a great legacy."

Ranked 19 in a class of 676 students, Capra had several scholarship offers, and was close to accepting one from Fairleigh Dickinson. In the end, Capra turned down the scholarships and selected Brandeis, where she will study law and, of course, play basketball.

She credits her parents, Bob and Diane, as well as older brother Brian, with helping her hone her many skills.

"We had a hoop in the yard, and I played against my brother a lot," Capra said. "And my dad was a big help, but he never pressured me. He'd go out whenever I wanted. That made it easy."

As the days count down to her June 21 graduation, Capra has her eye on another date, Aug. 29, the day she leaves for Brandeis and starts a new chapter in her life.

"I'm looking forward to college, although I'm going to miss high school," she said. "I'll miss the atmosphere and recognition the most. Everyone knows me here, and I know them."

And, based on her athletic exploits of the over the last four years, that recognition spreads well beyond Old Bridge Township.

"Jaime has the uncanny ability to put a team on her shoulders."

Trio of Bears looks to put icing on the cake

Top-ranked Subramanian inching closer to individual title

BY RICHARD JEROME
Staff Writer

After finishing second to Newark Academy in the Tournament of Champions, the 27-2 East Brunswick High School boys tennis team still has some players alive in the individual tournament, starting, of course, with singles star Vivek Subramanian, the undefeated senior ranked tops in the state.

He played in the semifinals yesterday.

"He's getting better every day," said head coach Bill Pellagrino, a statement that should unnerve Subramanian's competition. "Hopefully, he'll be peaking this week."

Also in the hunt for the Bears, who own both the sectional and state Group IV titles, is the first doubles duo of seniors Jay Kaplan and David Liu, who have two losses all year and met with Bridgewater's team in the semis yesterday.

Although out of the TOC, the rest of the club had an outstanding season, starting with second singles entry Ross Cohn, a junior knocked out in the first round.

"It takes seven people to win 27 matches, and Ross was a major contributor," said Pellagrino.

Junior Ilya Kazakin-Kuteyer, who scored a key triumph in the sectional tourney, also had a standout campaign, along with the second doubles contingent of senior Bob Ren and junior Roger Wang.

"We also had a real contribution from junior Ron Udasin and senior Alex Roth," Pellagrino said.

But it was Subramanian who set the tone all year for the Bears, as he has throughout his brilliant career at East Brunswick. All that's missing for the standout is an individual state title, something he fully expects to capture later today.

Subramanian entered the tournament as the favorite to emerge with the title, which he understands is a difficult position to be in. He is the player everyone is gunning for — making anything short of a win a disappointment for the Bear.

On Tuesday, Subramanian survived a tough match from the eighth seed, Toms River East's Alex Zuck. Leading 5-4 in the first set, Subramanian had set point with Zuck serving but was unable to close it out.

However, he regrouped in time to win the next two games to close out the set. In the second set, with the score tied 3-3, Subramanian found his groove and reeled off three straight games to clinch the win.

That win earned him a spot in the semifinals against a familiar foe — Marlboro's Andrew Sharnov. Sharnov was the top player in the Shore Conference this year, and is a player who is certainly capable of surprising Subramanian.

However, the talented Bear entered yesterday's match confident that he would emerge the victor, having already knocked off Sharnov last month in the NJSIAA Team Tournament.

With a win yesterday, followed by a win in the championship match (to be held today at Mercer County Park), Subramanian could provide himself with the perfect ending to what has been a brilliant career for the Bears.

Meanwhile, the duo of Kaplan and Liu cruised through their quarterfinal match on Tuesday, knocking off Livingston's Jason Gelman and Alexi Kavourakis, 6-3, 6-1.

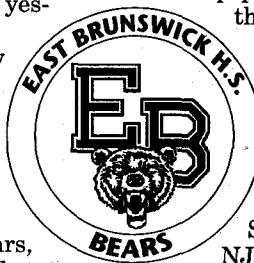

That earned them a shot at Bridgewater's David Lai and Billy Jiang yesterday, a tandem they have already beaten twice this season.

The hard-hitting Bears entered the doubles tournament as the second seed behind the top doubles pairing from Newark Academy, and were confident that, if given another shot at knocking off the top seeds, they could come through.

They appear to have peaked at the right time, and entered yesterday's match riding a six-match winning streak.

While high school tennis is often one of the more predictable sports in terms of the outcomes of matches, anything is still possible — which is something that Subramanian, as well as the tandem of Liu and Kaplan, know quite well.

Today's finals are set for 4 p.m.

Coach Scannapieco pleased with Brookdale's '04 softball season

Jersey Blues sixth at national championships

BY TIM MORRIS
Staff Writer

Brookdale will always have fond memories of the 2004 Brookdale Community College women's softball team.

The Jersey Blues completed the '04 campaign with a sixth-place finish at the National Junior College Athletic Association Division III fast-pitch softball tournament, in Joliet, Ill. Overall, the Blues were 41-13, winning their ninth straight Region XIX championship and fourth straight Garden State Athletic Conference crown during their run to the nationals.

"My expectations were filled," said Scannapieco. "We won the most exciting Region ever. I'll always remember that about this year."

The highlight of the Region was Brookdale's come-from-behind win in the final on the home field of archrival Gloucester. The Roadrunners had taken a 3-2 lead with two runs in the top of the seventh only to see their nemesis, Brookdale, answer with two in the last of the seventh to steal the victory and the championship.

The young Jersey Blues, who had just one player who had been to the nationals the previous year, carried that momentum to the nationals, where they went 1-3 and finished in sixth place.

"We did OK," Scannapieco said of his team's performance in Joliet. "It was a good season for us. I thought we played well. The effort was there, but not the execution."

"I felt things had to break right for us because we were a young team," he added.

Brookdale got out of the gate on the wrong foot, dropping its first game in Joliet to Rainy River (Minn.), 3-1.

"That was the toughest loss," noted Scannapieco. "I thought we were the superior team. We pitched well and played defense. We just didn't hit well. It was tough to accept."

The lack of run support for pitchers Elyse Papianni and Cherise Maltais would unfortunately be the theme of the tournament for the Blues. Outside of a 10-0 win over Suffolk, N.Y., that followed the loss to Rainy River, the Blues struggled to get runners across the plate.

"We just didn't score enough runs," Scannapieco remarked.

With the Suffolk win on May 20, the Blues were still in the championship hunt, but that ended the next day against Corning, N.Y., which beat Brookdale, 2-1, on two unearned runs. Papianni had been working on a perfect game through five innings when things went sour in the sixth and Corning scored two unearned runs.

"We left everything out on the field in that game," noted Scannapieco. "They had an All-American pitcher and we kept the pressure on her throughout the game. We got an RBI double from Leah Minnick, but we just couldn't tack on more. We had runners on second and third in the seventh and couldn't score."

"We were going to have to win a 2-1, 3-2 game somewhere," he said.

After falling out of the championship hunt, Brookdale fell 4-0 to Dawson (Mont.) in the fifth/sixth consolation game. Scannapieco used his entire roster in this game so that everyone on the team got to play in the nationals.

Papianni and Maltais both pitched superbly at the nationals. Papianni did not allow an earned run in her two starts and struck out 17 in 13 innings of work.

Minnick, who led the nation in RBIs this year with 82, had four hits and four RBIs to pace the offense. Deidre Trijilio also had four hits in Joliet.

Scannapieco is already looking forward to 2004. He knows he has a very solid returning cast, led by pitchers Pap and Maltais and short-stop Minnick. With some strong recruits to add to the mix, Brookdale figures to be back in the national championship picture.

Your #1 Tool to Protect Yourself After an Accident.

The accident happened with little or no warning, but the ringing in your head is your cue to act quickly. Your body could be sending out distress signals which should not be ignored.

'Racing's Greatest Night' set for Saturday at WTS

WALL TOWNSHIP — Steady morning and afternoon rain and the promise of more into the evening forced Wall Township Speedway officials to cancel the events scheduled for Saturday evening.

With this first rained-out event of the year now in the record books, all attention is turning to this Saturday evening's "Racing's Greatest Night of Champions," which features 10 nationally famous NASCAR drivers.

With tickets selling at a rapid pace, NASCAR Dodge Weekly Series officials are urging all fans who want to be a part of the "Racing's Greatest Night of Champions" event to purchase their tickets in advance.

"We want everyone who wants a ticket to get a ticket for this event," operations manager Sergio Benitez said. "That is why we have set up several locations, in addition to the speedway office, for fans to secure their tickets in advance."

Advance tickets for the June 12 "Racing's Greatest Night of Champions" are available at NAPA Auto Parts Stores in Freehold (732-462-1200), Point Pleasant (732-295-4800), Forked River (609-242-9331), and Spring Lake (732-449-0100). Tickets are also available at Victory Lane Racing Collectibles in Brick, (732-262-4500). Ticket prices are $50 for adults and $25 for children. VIP Meet and Greet tickets are sold only at Wall Township Speedway (732-681-6400) for $300 each or two tickets for $500.

Heading the list of champions on hand will be former NASCAR champion, Daytona 500 winner and multi-time NASCAR Most Popular Driver Bill Elliott. In addition to meeting with fans, Elliott will compete in a special match race against the celebrity drivers and will also compete against local competitors in Truck Series action.

FOX Network commentator Darrell Waltrip, a former Daytona 500 winner who currently competes in a limited number of Craftsman Truck Series races, jumped at the chance to visit Wall Township Speedway after his brother Michael was forced to cancel his appearance. Michael Waltrip will not be able to attend since his race team has decided to chase the NASCAR Busch Grand National title.

Representing the current-day stars will be Kevin Harvick, Sterling Marlin, Jimmy Spencer and Kerry Earnhardt. The list of NASCAR legends who will participate is just as impressive, with Cale Yarborough, Harry Gant, Ernie Irvan, Dave Marcis and Dick Trickle announcing their involvement.

For years, NASCAR fans have debated about the talents of the sport's legendary drivers compared to those of racing's current-day stars. Those fans will have the opportunity to settle that argument once and for all when the NASCAR stars, both retired and current, visit the speedway. The event will not only feature legendary and current-day NASCAR stars in interviews and autograph sessions, but also in racing action on the third-mile high-banked paved oval.

In addition to the on-track action for the legends and current-day NASCAR stars, Spencer said that he will also return to his racing roots during the evening and drive a Modified stock car during the regularly scheduled racing program. That program will consist of Modified, Street Stock and Truck Series racing.

The tournament players were Greg Belanger, Kerry Glynn, Christian Grillo, Christian Kauzljär, Shane Raymond, Nick Rojewski, Shekhar Shah, Joshua Stein-Ortiz, Michael Stetson, Joe Vazza, Rebecca Vazza, Danielle Colaprico, Yusef Elhousseini and Billy Majeski. Real Estate

Tip #31

Two mortgages are cheaper than one if you have only 5% to 10% to put down.

Private mortgage insurance (PMI) makes it possible to put less than 20% down, but adds to your monthly mortgage payment. An alternative that will actually cost you less each month is to take out two mortgages — a 1st mortgage for 80% and a 2nd mortgage for the rest of the amount you need to finance (certain qualifications apply). An added bonus is that the interest payments on the 2nd mortgage may be tax-deductible, while PMI payments are not.
