FALLING GIRDER

Fatally Crushes John Kennedy, of Dunellen, in Accident at Newark.

TWO OTHERS HURT

Charles Whynekey Battling for Life in Hospital, and Walter Blair Suffering From Cuts and Bruises—Employee of Jersey Central.

One Dunellen man was killed and two others hurt, one dangerously, as the result of the fall of a fifteen-ton girder at a bridge the Central railroad is constructing over a branch line in Newark, at midnight yesterday. The dead man is John Kennedy, fifty-two years old. The injured are Charles Whynekey, who had an arm and a leg broken, and Walter Blair, who was bruised and cut. Whynekey is in St. James' Hospital, Newark, and the doctors are not sure that he escaped internal injuries of serious character. Blair was not badly hurt, and was able to return to his home early this morning, a couple of hours after the accident.

The accident occurred at one of a string of bridges the road is building on what is known as the "merchandise" or "Freight" branch, a spur that runs to the Palisades Brewery, Newark. The bridge crosses South Street. It is located between the old Plank Road and the canal, a little north of the West Ferry street station on the Elizabethport-Newark branch.

Kennedy, Whynekey and Blair were all members of the gang constructing the bridge. Just before noon orders were given to lower one of the big spans. As the chain, held taut by a steam derrick, was fastened around the steel girder, and the three men went in among the false work beneath the span to knock down the temporary wooden structure on the west side of the pier for which there was no further use.

Without any warning the chain that held the span broke suddenly, and the steel girder, seventy feet long and ten feet wide, crashed down on the false work. Kennedy was pinned by one corner of the girder, and Whynekey was caught by the flying chunks of wood and debris.

Kennedy was so badly hurt that there was never any hope for him after the girder caught him. The corner of the steel mass went through his ribs, and laid open the stomach and abdomen in a ghastly manner. He died three hours later in St. James' Hospital, Newark, to where the three men were carried with all speed.

Whynekey's left arm and left leg were broken, and it is feared that he sustained internal injuries that may make his recovery doubtful. The fractures are compound.

Blair was taken to the hospital with a compound fracture of the right hand. He was not so seriously injured in his case as the other two. He was hurt in the chest and on the torso, slipping in Dunellen's central section long enough to kill of the accident. Blair was brought to Dunellen last night.

He is survived by a widow, and three children. The latter are Stephen, William and Lily, all grown up. The mother of the boy who was highly respected citizen, and his tragic death has spread a tinge of sadness over the whole place. He was a member of the Methodist church of Newark, and of the Junior Order United American Mechanics.

West Palace Law. The constitutionality of the bill passed at the last session of the Legislature, under which commissioners to govern the public department of water of less than 100,000 population have been appointed in Bayonne, Orange, Passaic, Paterson and Camden, similar appointments being in contemplation in other places, is to be attacked in the courts by the local Democratic organization.

Knight of the Key. "Fritz" Harding, chief junior partner at Olivet's restaurant, has resigned to become a telegrapher in the employ of the central railroad. He is doing his more time, and took the test at the railroad office in Jersey City last week. He passed with honors, and was placed on the staff at once.

DEALS DEATH

PREPARING TO RETURN TO CHILDREN'S HOME

IMPROVEMENTS TO THE INSTITUTION PRACTICALLY COMPLETED.

The improvements at the Children's Home practically being completed, it is the purpose of the association to move back to the commodious quarters about May 1. The handsome and well-appointed dormitory which has been made possible through the beneficence of friends, will be practically completed. It will accommodate many more children and provide separate quarters for the treatment of the children when ill, as well as comfortable rooms for the matron and her assistants.

The many improvements made at the Home on Jackson avenue establish the institution as one of the best in the State and will be sufficient to enable the association to carry on its work with greater success than ever.

Mrs. Kimball, as president of the association, is planning for an informal opening of the Home after renovation is taken and at that time all friends will be invited to inspect the new and improved quarters. While the changes have been underway the Home has been kept open as usual in the old Nurses' Home on Hudson place and the work has been allowed to continue with good success.

JURY NOW CONSIDERING BOXING INVESTIGATION

MATTER RESTS WHILE TESTIMONY IS BEING SIFTED.

After examining twenty or more witnesses, the Federal Circuit Grand Jury adjourned hearing in the North Plainfield boxing investigation, yesterday afternoon, and probably nothing further will be heard from it until the usual report to the court is made at the end of the week. It is whether indictments will be returned but there was nothing in the questioning by the jurors to verify opinion either way. There were still ten or more of those subpoenaed, waiting until adjournment was taken. The witness fee paid in all by Sheriff Cooper amounted to about $30.

This morning the jury began considering the names of witnesses who appeared at Coroner Thomas' inquest have been called and the testimony of each will be taken. Several alibis will also testify to the condition of George Wood, the man accused of the crime, as the claim has been advanced that he is mentally irresponsible. If an indictment is found, his case will probably be the first to come before the court at this term.

Begins His Pastorate. Rev. F. W. Williams, formerly of the East Norwich, L. I. M. E. church, to which he was appointed by the recent meeting of the New York East M. E. Conference at Westbury, Coney Island, Sunday. The East Norwich is a suburb of Oyster Bay, where President Roosevelt's home is situated. It is, like most of the Long Island towns and villages a summer resort to a great extent. The appointment is regarded as a good one in the Conference.

Building Five Houses. William Jeffrey, the local real estate specialist, has begun the erection of five houses in the vicinity of the Fourth street, Rock and Washburne streets for clients. Building operations are booming in that section and in the event of the proposed Plank Road township school being located there, many more houses will be extended there within a short time.

Acknowledge Donations. The furnishing committee of the Children's Home acknowledges the receipt of twenty dollars from the Sabbath school of the Newark-Day Baptist church for the establishment of a bed at the Home, and ten dollars from the infant department of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church towards another bed to be completed later.

Prizes at the Key. The Plainfield High School will compete with "The Mirvils" as the Casino on Saturday night, May 13.

BOLD DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

Thieves Ransack T. R. VanZandt's Home This Morning. FAMILY ALL AWAY

Discovery Made at Noon—The Chief and Force Now Making Investigation.

Thieves gained entrance to the home of T. R. VanZandt on Madison avenue, this morning, and ransacked nearly every room, getting away with a large amount of jewelry, silverware and other valuables. The members of the family had been absent since 8:30 and the robbery was not discovered until Mr. VanZandt went home for lunch early this afternoon. He was alarmed by a hole in the front glass door and on entering the hall found everything topsy-turvy. A hurried examination showed the same condition of affairs in the rooms on both upper and lower floors.

The police were apprised of the affair and Chief Klaty and Detective McCarthy are now conducting a personal investigation. As yet they have failed to detect any persons, not including strangers about the place during the morning.

The VanZandt residence is located near many others and the thieves had to stand in plain view in order to get the glass out.

FEAST OF PASSOVER BEGINS AT SUNSET

SERVICES IN THE SYNAGOGUE OF THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL.

Today at sunset the Hebrew feast of Passover, or Pesach, will begin. In the local synagogues, the Congregation of the Children of Israel, will observe the feast as usual. The festival lasts seven days, during which unleavened bread (matzo) is eaten. The orthodox Jews celebrate an extra day. The festival is to commemorate the deliverance of the children of Israel from Egyptian bondage under Pharaoh.

The orthodox Jews will celebrate the first, second, seventh and eighth days as holidays, although there will be special services every day during the feast.

The orthodox Jews will at different periods of each day hold services in their homes. Those who keep the Passover do not take anything but bread (matzo) for seven days. This includes beer, candy, bread, cake and spirituous liquors.

Today the head of the house gathers together his children, writes to begin the telling of the story. It is also customary for a stranger to fast on the day before Passover, in memory of the miraculous redemption of the Hebrew children of the Israelites and the destruction of the towers of the Egyptians.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH RAISED $20,000 IN YEAR

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CONGREGATION LAST NIGHT.

Encouraging reports of the past year's work from a financial point of view and the election of trustees, occupied the attention of the congregation at the First Baptist church at the annual parish meeting, held last night. L. V. F. Randolph presided at the meeting.

The report of Alex Gilbert, treasurer, showed that the total receipts for the year amounted to about $20,000, and in addition the board of trustees presented a very full and comprehensive report in detail of the financial and congregational work. The church is now under way to increase the revenue from members of the church and congregation.

L. V. F. Randolph and G. E. Leonard were re-elected trustees to succeed themselves. The election was unanimous. Their terms are for three years.

LIMOGES STRIKE IS WATCHED HERE

Edwin Haviland, of East Second Street, for 80 Years Agent of China Factory.

PLAINFIELDER CONSULTS American Government at That City for Many Years.

The French government at an Cabinet meeting held at the Elysee Palace yesterday was occupied with the Limoges strike and received to accept the interpellations in the Chamber for immediate discussion.

The condition at Limoges has a local interest inasmuch as Edwin Haviland, of East Second street, was the American agent of the Haviland factory for fifty years, and, like Walter T. Griffin, of Washington avenue, is the American consul at Limoges. Haviland recently retired as agent for the firm owing to advanced age, but still takes a deep interest in its business.

The strike riots at Limoges are developing international features, as the Haviland factory, employing six thousand persons, of which Theodore and Obasie Haviland, Americans, are the chief proprietors, is the centre of the disorder.

PLAINFIELD TEAM READY FOR STARS

ELIZABETH NINE SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY AT OVAL.

The Elizabeth Stars, one of the best baseball teams in the State, will have its first clash with the Plainfield team at the Elizabeth Oval Saturday afternoon, and a hostile rivalry is expected. Manager Frank Burke has heard all about Saturday's game on the oval and he proposes to prepare himself for a hard fight. "It will mean a 'plink' and either one can be depended upon to deliver the goods, while with Poole behind the bat that position will be well taken care of. Holdings will be a light contest. How the local feud-horn has had the opportunity to see the locals against an Eastern League attraction, it has a good idea of their ability and has confidence in the team to win."

The Stars will be accompanied by a large crowd of rooters and they will make things lively at one end or the other. The local fans are anxious for the contest and their indications are that with warm day the attendance will far exceed that of last Saturday. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock. In providing more bleachers some better accommodations will be made for the horses, carriage and automobiles.

The lineup for Saturday's game will be as follows: Plainfield—Carpenter, cf; Olding, 2b; Kieran, 1b; Leonard, 3b; Dill, 1b; O'Connell, if; Lerner, c; Lieberman or Baisel, p; Stars—Berthelme, cf; Foster, 2b; Flynn, 1b; Curley, 3b; Stallins, 1b; Sims, 1b; Middleton, if; Poole, c; Layner or Duka, p.

Series of Lecture Meetings. A series of interesting meetings will be given at the First Baptist church, 100 of Cambridge, Mass., as follows: Monday, April 24, "Pippa Passes," at Mrs. D. H. Howland's; Thursday, April 27, "Pompilia," at Mrs. J. Kirkland Myers; Friday, April 28, "A Diet in the South-east," at Mrs. George P. Mallik's. The lectures will be given at 11 o'clock in the morning. Referring to Mrs. Weil, the lecturer, Mrs. Poole says: "The Rev. Dr. Kinnear was through yesterday morning with prominent residents from official and private circles to listen to a reading by Mrs. Helen Weil, of Cambridge, Mass. The subject was Stephen Phillips' 'Pippa Passes,' the story of whose tragic love was told with a depth of expression and artistic conception that marks Mrs. Weil first among her profession."

Free Oratorio. A musical Lenten service will be given at the First Baptist church on Tuesday night when the choir will render Darius' "Crucifixion" and other suitable selections. No cards of admission will be required. E. J. Kirkland, Myer, of East Second street, and Howard Chase will preside at the organ.

HOME FOR ORPHANS AT MOUNTAINSIDE

Alterations Being Made and Bidding Will Be Ready for Occupancy June 1.

Having purchased the property known as the Fowler farm, at Newark, Dr. J. A. Sherman, of Scotch Plains, has ordered the building of a large addition to the former orphan asylum, which is large enough for the Newark Orphan Home. The well known philanthropist will give the place to the Home officials to enable them to carry on their good work. He received possession of it nearly a year ago but he has made known his intentions it was found that numerous alterations would have to be made which would entail an expense the Home believed it could not meet. The plan of the new building has been drawn and is now bearing the cost, the work to be completed by June 1.

The property until recently has been occupied by St. George Bathhouse, the writer, and is an ideal place for an institution of this nature. It is situated upon a knoll, surrounded by large and spacious lawns, shade trees in abundance and spring water.

TO STAY AS HEAD OF COUNTY COMMITTEE

JACOB SHURTS' CHANGE OF MIND MAY STOP FACTIONAL FIGHT IN SOMERSET.

After three unsuccessful attempts to have his resignation as chairman of the Somerset County Democratic Committee accepted, Jacob Shurts announced last night at Somerville that he would remain in the position at different sections of the county, among whom Senator Childs, of the State committee, was the most prominent. He has decided to reconsider his resignation and continue as chairman of the county committee.

Mr. Shurts explained that he was in ill health several months ago, when he resigned, but that he was much better now and in compliance with the request of county leaders would continue as the party's head.

Three meetings of the committee have been called since Shurts resigned on January 14 last, for the purpose of discussing the resignation and electing his successor. At each of these meetings bitter factional controversies arose, and at the last meeting, held two weeks ago, the remarks of members of factionist groups, the election of Major Helenus V. Dunger, Jr. as Freech became so personal that some members of the committee abruptly left the meeting declaring they would have nothing more to do with the party.

Mr. Shurts' decision to retain the chairmanship is considered by those in a position to know the situation as the only means of preventing the party from having a factional fight on its hands next fall.

PLAINFIELD TWINS ARE GRIVING

MISSIONARY TEA AT MRS. F. A. WEEKS'

REV. DR. CHAMBERS TALKS TO CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Under the auspices of the Women's Association, of the Congregational church, a missionary tea was held at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Weeks, of West Seventh street, yesterday afternoon. In addition to an interesting address by Rev. Dr. Robert Chambers, of Taylor, there were some songs by Miss Etta Hagberg; contralto solos by Mrs. Stephen H. Tagwell and piano solos by Miss Abigail Waterbury.

Dr. Chambers talked in a general way of the progress being made along missionary lines in Turkey. The Congregational church has special interest in Aleppo, Turkey, and Dr. Chambers related incidents of that work.

CENTRAL FOREMAN ACCUSED OF "GRAFT"

LABORER DECLARES IT COST HIM MONEY TO KEEP HIS JOB.

Charles Tilson, a former well known Dunellen resident, now foreman of the Jersey Central working force at the Elizabethport shops, secured a seat in the District Court, yesterday, in a suit brought by Alexander Thoburn to recover money which he claimed was paid over a "graft" to Tilson.

Thoburn, who was getting $1.35 a day in the shop, testified that he paid $3 and $3 each month last summer to Tilson for securing him the job. He was threatened with discharge if he failed to "divvy up," he declared. Tilson denied the charges, and insisted that he was the victim of a blackmailing scheme. He said he had been discharged Thoburn last March because he had refused to work at nights without an advance in wages.

The two summons have been issued and the case will be re-opened Monday.

EXEMPTS ELIOT

Former Newark Plainfield Freeman Complete Their First Year as Organization.

The Newark Plainfield Exempt Freeman's Association held its first annual meeting last night at the Hotel Hamilton. The following officers were elected: President, Charles Keller; first vice president, A. J. Stahl; second vice president, J. D. Papp; secretary, David E. Kinnear; treasurer, J. M. Higgins; trustees, William Miketite and William Mills. In its one year of existence, the association has prospered in many ways and at the present time is occupying the premises at No. 100 of Somerset street and Manning avenue are finely fitted up and the social features are the means of keeping the members interested at all times.

Postoffice Case. The United States Grand Jury, sitting at Trenton yesterday, examined Postmaster Bird, Chief of Police Kiely and Postoffice Inspector Corley in relation to the charge of abstracting money from the mails pending the case of Postmaster Bird.

In the abstract proceedings of Corrin G. Conover, grocer, of Somerset street, against Charles S. Wheeler, the house and lot owned by the latter on West Third street, near Lee place, Trenton, the case was heard yesterday afternoon. I. P. Hays is counsel for the grocer and G. M. Doherty is attorney.

Miss Baybert Osterhout, of Newark, was one of the members of the choir from Trinity Reformed church, which will sing at the formal programme of vocal and instrumental music, after which refreshments were served.

THEIR PRETTY FRENCH NURSE IN PRISON FOR GRAND LARCENY.

DRINK, HER RUIN

DOWNTOWN OF BOTTLED YOUNG WOMAN EMPLOYED AS A NURSE BY W. B. SMITH, OF WASHINGTON AVENUE.

Defining to be comforted, their chubby faces stained with tears, William Benjamin and Wilmina Benjamin Smith, twins, of two years, born in North Plainfield, are mourning in their saddest mood at No. 88 Sixty-ninth street, New York, for the French nurse who has been their constant companion almost since their birth, and whom they have not seen for two weeks.

On the verge of collapse in a Tombs prison cell, awaiting sentence today on an indictment for grand larceny, to which she pleaded guilty, is Emily Leontine. She is a refined and accomplished young woman, born and educated in Paris, and speaks three languages. She had been three years in one home for nine years before she entered the employ of William B. Smith, who formerly lived on Washington avenue, in the borough, president of a half dozen companies, with a downtown office at No. 14 Church street, soon after the birth of the twins in the borough. After being visited to Central Park around the West Seventy-second street entrance have seen Emily Leontine and her remarkably pretty young charges, who, dressed exactly alike, have been much admired. She has been her attendance upon them that their first words were lisped in French and their English has a piquant accent.

Five months ago, when Mrs. Smith found a black flask hidden in the nursery, the nurse was instantly dismissed, but was reinstated before she had left the house, upon her promise never to drink again and because her devotion to the twins and their love for her.

The case came two weeks ago, when Mrs. Smith, her suspicions again aroused, searched Emily's belongings in the fear of finding a bottle. Instead she found a pearl-necklace of a pearl-and-looker belonging to one of the children. It had been pawned for $5. Fowler, the broker, was dispatched to recover the necklace, and Emily was arrested. She confessed that she had previously pawned two pins. Arraigned in the West Side Court, she was held for the Grand Jury, indicted for grand larceny in General Sessions and will be sentenced by Judge Foster today.

"I know I did wrong and that I should be punished," sobbed the young nurse, as she pleaded guilty to the theft of finding a bottle. "But I am not a thief. I did not mean to steal. My wages would have been due in a few days, and then I meant to take the things out."

"When I pawned the pins the nursery was moved upstairs, and I could not find the things, and did not dare tell. If I were a thief, there were Mrs. Smith's diamonds on the dresser, there was a $5,000 pearl necklace. It was a great deal of money, and I got the things from the drugstore, so it would not be so my breath."

For several days last week the prisoner was under the care of the nurse, who had been placed in the hospital, and she had a complete nervous prostration. An effort will be made today to save her from a prison term and a suspended sentence, under conditions which will involve a complete recovery of the drink habit. She had performed fairly for a visit to her home in France next June.

Attachment on House. In the abstract proceedings of Corrin G. Conover, grocer, of Somerset street, against Charles S. Wheeler, the house and lot owned by the latter on West Third street, near Lee place, Trenton, the case was heard yesterday afternoon. I. P. Hays is counsel for the grocer and G. M. Doherty is attorney.

MODES OF SPRING.

A New skirt Model—Some Leading Ideas in Waist.

The newest spring skirt is a resurrection of one that was a novelty a dozen years ago—the bell or umbrella skirt.

In waist there are three leading ideas—the carefully draped bodice which is tucked across the upper part of the figure.

The crossover blouse bodice above a well boned high corset belt and the jacket, by which the Frenchwoman means any of the highly decorative variations of the Louis XV. coat.

These Louis coats are very useful, as they permit the wearing of one jacket after another, provided there is an affinity between the two.

The Louis coat may be of brocade, voile, taffeta or lace. It may be close fitting, with shaped basque, or it may be blouse, with a deep belt and full basque.

Sleeves have reversed the order of arrangement. The puff has mounted from wrist to shoulder, all fullness coming once more from the armhole.

This fullness in some instances is so great that whalebone epaulets are used to support the fullness.

Elbow sleeves are used for all except tail made and morning gowns.

The gown in the picture is of china silk of a pale mode color, flowered over with flutings.

About the neck and down the front the giraffe and buff, both of which are fastened with large jade buttons.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

Pericles Are Among the Novelty Flowers of the Season.

Flowered pericles are among the new offerings and are a nice innovation.

Any girl handy with her needle can make a Dr. Barry hood. This hood is the furore now and is made of gauze lined with soft silk.

On many of the dressy green spring gowns will be applied a band of iron leaves. These leaves are made of felt and formed into bands, each leaf having around it a delicate tracery of braid.

Fountain silk is not the top notch of fashion, but so serviceable and dainty is a gown of this material that few women will be without at least one dress of this kind for summer wear.

Madras for shirt waist material will take the place of the heavy chevrons of last year. The new tailor made shirt waists have sleeves quite full at the top, but at the bottom they fit into the cuff perfectly plain.

A lovely tea gown is of tomato colored chiffon taffeta. A high draped band of taffeta in a paler shade passes under an overcoat of lace.

A Parisian model gown is here illustrated. It is made of a new shade of cloth called coral pastel, which is a somber shade of coral pink.

The long reduplicate of plain cloth is of this color, while the plaited skirt is of dull coral and white check.

Black taffeta cuffs and deep waist bands reverse the color.

The New Modish Hats Till of an Alarming Angle.

The new hats are such a striking change from anything we have been accustomed to of late.

Most prettier is the wattlewig design, with its saucy angles and curves and its dainty bouquets of flowers.

SUMMER MATERIALS.

Flowered Net a Pretty Fabric—China-Linen in Fashion.

Nothing is prettier for a summer frock than a flowered net which in most of the shops is selling for 50 cents a yard.

A dress of this kind is charming when a net sprinkled with apple blossoms is selected and made over a foundation of apple green.

The bodice would be lovely made with a quilling of narrow lace.

CHIC STYLES.

Pale Shades of Blossoms to Be Worn—White, Blue, Green, Red.

Some of the most charming dresses of the season will be made of collene in pale colors as well as in the rich, deep shades of red and golden brown.

Collene is nothing more than another name for light silk poplin.

Collene makes a lovely gown for restaurant wear built in accordance with the waist.

A pretty white handkerchief linen skirt is made in three pieces.

The top is skirted several rows deep about the waist and is gathered at the lower edge into a band of insertion.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

Embroidered Muslin Frocks Are Popular—Black, Deep Blue.

Heavy limes are in the shops for those who want them, but the daintiest white dresses will be of embroidered muslin.

The muslin foundation is as sheer as a pocket handkerchief, and eyelid frockery is the kind preferred for ruffling these gowns.

This summer the embroidered muslin gown will be considered smarter than any other.

Concerning Women

Feminine "Savers" and False Economy—Success For Men and Women

"Oh, no; I never throw away a thing" remarked Mrs. Savell, earnestly. "I think it is a sin. It might come in useful in some days?"

And she put another broken chair in the already overcrowded parlor.

"Excuse me, ma'am, but has you any old clothes you wants to get rid of?" asked her colored laundress.

"Let me see," remarked Mrs. Savell, going into the closet with difficulty and returning with an overworked condition.

"Dear me, Judy, I'm afraid we'll have to take larger quarters next year. We haven't enough closet room. Why, year here are three old suits. This brown one—oh, but I might want to wear this in the mountains this summer. With a yard or two of new cloth it would be all right."

No, I guess I won't give you this one, Judy. It's too good. Now, this blue one, oh, well, I mustn't part with that. It will go with a blue hat that I may buy myself soon. And this old purple one? Oh, it will be just the thing for some awfully wet day next winter, you know, to wear instead of my real rainy day suit. No, I'm sorry, Judy, but there is nothing there. Oh, here; take these old gloves."

And the next year Mrs. Savell added another hundred to their rental because they hadn't room in the old house.

False Economy. "Oh, no," remarked Miss False Economy. "I can't say more writing just now. I must make my summer clothes; and I've saved for forty days and forty nights all this time to get the doctor in, and she charged her $10."

"Why didn't you have less and earn the money to have them made proper?" remarked her sister, who would be bedded one botched garment after another.

The hats looked painfully homemade, that is, like the rest of the one of expensive material was cut on the wrong

The lace frock. It is not mounted on silk, but on fine muslin trimmed with all lace and ribbon.

Muslin gowns do not need a lining, as they can be worn over a pretty lawn petticoat and corset cover. The newest corset covers are made of vertical strips of bending every two inches apart, through which is run colored ribbon matching the girdle worn with the dress.

In hats there are many delightful new ideas. The ruffled lingerie affairs made of rows of quilled lace on a net foundation are very chic. This foundation is mounted on any becoming shape one may fancy.

The charming toque shown in the picture is of pale blue crin denté into an attractive little shape. The trimming consists of bunches of forget-me-nots and pale tea roses. It tilts at the back, as do all the modish spring models.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Ribbon Ruffling Thought by the Trend. Modish in Modish.

Ribbon for ruffling this summer gowns and for quilling on hats has a thread run through it so that it can be shifted by pulling.

Modish for morning and traveling suits will be very popular, not in plain colors, but in tiny checks of blue and white, green and white and black and white. Often this material has a hairline of another color in the check.

These suits are usually made with a bolero jacket. The skirt has a deep hem, which is turned up on the right side and stitched or hemmed on three-fourths of bias plain cloth, toning

THE OVERCROWDED GALLERY.

There was hardly a thing that could be worn the next season.

"You are a writer, not a dressmaker," the friend went on. "Why didn't you have less, earn enough to have it made proper and leave to the dressmaker her trade? Why didn't you really know how to do?"

The Causes of Failure. "What is the secret of most of the failures in this world?" I asked the successful business man.

"Lack of originality and lack of initiative." "And originality?"

"Well, our training is somewhat responsible for that. When we are very young we are more or less taught to be 'copy cats,' and I suppose it is good for us to a certain point, but after that—and the point is reached very early in life—it is individuality, and the stronger the better, which counts. The man who feels that the world is his opponent, and he is going to cut out a pattern of his own in the peeling is the man who is going to succeed, and no one will be able to get more than him in the same way."

So wear with the silk shirt waist suits, which will again be in evidence, there are elaborate blouses of net trimmed with hand work and two or three different kinds of lace.

Blouses made of gray lace and net are smart to wear with the new gray suits.

Blue in rather bright shades promises to be a popular color for spring. The shops are filled with beautiful gowns and hats made up in this becoming tone.

The gown illustrated is of old rose cashmere. Around the full skirt is a trimming formed of bouillottes of the edge edged with a narrow band of the silk embroidered in dots. This trimming adorns the waist, extending the yoke and vest and making beetle-like pieces over the shoulders. The sleeves have small puffs above a deep cuff.

fitted, with shaped basque, or it may be blouse, with a deep belt and full basque.

Sleeves have reversed the order of arrangement. The puff has mounted from wrist to shoulder, all fullness coming once more from the armhole.

This fullness in some instances is so great that whalebone epaulets are used to support the fullness.

Elbow sleeves are used for all except tail made and morning gowns.

The gown in the picture is of china silk of a pale mode color, flowered over with flutings.

The skirt is gathered three times down its length and falls full at the feet in a deep ruffle.

The attractive little coat is laid in folds about the figure and skirts across the shoulders, forming a ruffle over the tucked sleeves.

About the neck and down the front the giraffe and buff, both of which are fastened with large jade buttons.

waists have sleeves quite full at the top, but at the bottom they fit into the cuff perfectly plain.

A Parisian model gown is here illustrated. It is made of a new shade of cloth called coral pastel, which is a somber shade of coral pink.

The long reduplicate of plain cloth is of this color, while the plaited skirt is of dull coral and white check.

Black taffeta cuffs and deep waist bands reverse the color.

GIRL'S LINGERIE HAIR.

Bear in mind, whether hat or toque, if it is not fitted, better not use it.

Situated at the side. Fashion abhors any thing in the millinery line on the straight at present.

Elbow, green and lavender roses may wound one's artistic sense, but they are lovely just the same.

Dead roses were never so pretty as the artistically crumpled and withered brown roses on the new hats.

In the spring modish disposition of things artificial ribbons are to be allowed full play. They riot over frocks and hats alike as artful bows, as stiff cockades, as meandering ruffles or styling streamers.

Creamy pink and white carnations are new in millinery.

The girl's hat illustrated is a French model. It is composed of fancy crin bordered with a ruching of gathered mousseline de sole, beyond which are set in on the brim motifs of embroidery. About the crown is a wreath of small roses fastening at the side with a satin chain.

P. B. A. TROUBLES JERSEY CITY

"Bob" Davis Sees Local Team Walloped the Visitors in Good Shape, Score Being 7 to 1.

BIG CROWD AT OVAL

Team Work a Feature of Plainfield's Play—Mayor Buckle Fitches First Ball—The Story by Inaug.

(By the official scorer, Charley Dixon.)

The opening of the local baseball season on Saturday under the auspices of the Plainfield Baseball Association, was a great success. Plaudits from the smallest boy, who likes to view the game from the branch of a tree, to the more experienced ones who prefer a particular seat on the grandstand, gave nothing but praise for the management and the strong team that will represent the city this season. Despite the chilly air, tinged with frost, the crowd was estimated at 1,000. Included in the crowd were to be found a number of city and borough officials, while all the way from Hudson county, came the "chiefs," "Bob" Davis, and his cohorts of friends.

Just before the game started Mayor James F. Buckle walked to the pitcher's box, from which position he threw the first ball, amid the applause of the crowd. The ball did not go over the plate, but "Pete" Lamar was there to catch it. After His Honor's performance, Lew Johnson stepped out to bat, and on behalf of the Tinbe Social Club presented Mr. Buckle with a handsome bouquet of flowers, which he accepted graciously.

Manager Daab selected the Jersey City Club for the opening attraction with a view to making his team play the best ball and that his hopes were realized is shown by the score of 7 to 1. It was a narrow escape from a rout, most of which was for the Hudson County leaguers, and there was nothing but gloom in their camp. Every member of the local team played gut-gut ball and they received the support of the crowd, which was unusually large for such a cold day.

Linderman cleverly fooled his opponents, allowing them but four hits, while Plannier was touched for eleven singles and a double. But an error was charged each team. Helms' "Pete" Lamar worked like the veteran that he is behind the rubber, and he was a terror to base-runners. Captain Driscoll on first sustained his reputation by taking care of every thing coming his way, while "Hubb" Oidring, as second, "Happy" Kierman as short and "Mike" Leonard as third showed up in mid summer form, both as the bat and in the field.

The old favorite, "Pete" Oregan, received a warm welcome and he with Oogrove and Connolly, took the lead in the performance of every one. The Jersey City Club had its strongest lineup, but was unable to overcome the mastery pitching of Linderman and the fine support given by the rest of the team.

Following is the detailed score and the game by innings:

Orescent Avenue Presbyterians Review Year's Remarkable Work.

IN OTHER CHURCHES First Presbyterians and Park Avenue Baptists Also Hold Their Annual Meetings.

The meeting of the Orescent Avenue church congregation was held in the church chapel and was very largely attended. The reports presented included reports of the home church and Sunday-school and those of Hope, Warren and Bethel chapels.

Each of the chapels was represented by the pastor and superintendent of whom detailed the work in his care. For Hope chapel the speakers were Henry O. Squires and Rev. L. H. Roward.

Very complete reports showing a gratifying condition financially were presented at the annual meeting of the Park Ave. church.

The financial statement of the church was presented by Frank T. Ostrom, treasurer. This showed the receipts to be nearly $4,000 and the expenditures have been made so as to show balance this year.

objecta, including foreign and missions. The new year is started with bright prospects.

The reports presented at the annual meetings of the First Presbyterian church and congregation, April 15, gave evidence of a successful year in all departments.

The financial reports presented by the church showed that during the year $1,500 was raised for benevolent purposes and $4,500 for congregational purposes.

Following the church meeting the congregation meeting was held. Mr. Ostrom acted as chairman, and Mr. Pope as secretary.

Among the post-tenure affairs of interest to horsemen in this part of the State will be the annual horse show under the auspices of the Riding Club.

The committee in charge comprise Ira Klipp, Jr., Secy., chairman; G. H. Betts, treasurer; W. S. Mitts, secretary; J. W. Baldwin, W. D. Grand, Charles Hillman, Charles Hopkinson, John Sullivan, Charles F. Blund, Tomso Hutton, W. Anderson Walker.

David Frazeeon Hall, of the New York Bar Association, will give a lecture on "The Origin and Mission of the Federal Constitution."

Mrs. J. F. Simmons' niece Wed. The many friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Sugas, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Sugas, who were confidants of Mrs. John F. Simmons, of France, plan to visit her in the latter part of the year.

Reading of John H. Reagan, of Texas, O.M.-Time Democrat—Wearers of Gray in Public Life—Progress in Philippines.

WASHINGTON.—The United States senate is acquiring a reputation as a "hotbed" of small states.

HE recent death of John H. Reagan, of Texas, removes an old resident of Fort Worth, a time democrat who made an impression on public affairs.

Mr. Reagan will be remembered particularly because he was the last member of the confederate cabinet, and his death all but wiped away.

Wearers of the Gray HILE the death of Reagan wiped out the members of the cabinet and the office of the archbishop, who shall have full police authority to make arrests for violations of the laws enacted for the prevention of cruelty to animals in islands.

DEER WITH THE LIFE AS A BOY

GIRL REVIEWS REMARKABLE STORY OF DEATH-REB.

Went to Boys' School. Was a Jockey and a Father in a Barroom—Confesses Strange Tale to Hospital Nurse.

Cincinnati.—By the death of Miss Frances Lamouche in a hospital here a strange story of adventure is brought to light—a story that must have gone to the grave with her had she not confided it to her nurse.

While she was still a mere child her parents came to America. Her father, who was born in a little village near Paris, France, was a comedian and her mother a Parisian dancer and singer.

HE progress of American civilization is well exhibited by the enactment of laws for the protection of animals in islands.

Only One Outside Association Team at Y.M.C.A. Last Night

SEVEN WOULDN'T COME

Between Plainfield and Newark—Locals Swamped.

Of the nine organizations represented in the organization, only two showed up for the match at the Y. M. C. A. last night. When the match was decided upon at a meeting of the Physical Directors' Association of Northern New Jersey it was expected that Newark, Jersey City, Manhattan, Orange, Newark, New Brunswick, Passaic and Summit would join with Plainfield in a contest for the State championship.

Considerable disappointment, to describe his feelings mildly, is felt by physical directors of Newark over the failure of the match.

DEATH FOR KALEIEFF

Assassin of Grand Duke Sergius Secretly Condemned.

PRINCESS SHOT AT GENERAL TRIAL

Smolna Women of High Rank, Convicted of Murder, Executed For Death of St. Petersburg's Governor, but Design Failed.

MOSCOW, April 19.—The assassin of the Grand Duke Sergius has been sentenced to death. The trial was secret.

The only persons present through the trial were members of the entourage of the late Grand Duke Sergius and counsel, of whom two were assigned the accused assassin, Kaleieff.

Twelve witnesses were examined. Prior to passing sentence the president asked Kaleieff if he would repeat the crime if he were given his liberty.

When sentence of death was passed Kaleieff said he would repeat the crime as often as he had acted before the eyes of all.

The date of execution has not been specified.

The identity of Kaleieff was established through the discovery of a photograph belonging to Savinkoff, who was his comrade both at the university and in exile.

The police later thought they had captured Savinkoff, and so announced that he had been arrested.

GOVERNOR STOKES WILL HEAD JUNIORS

AND PLAYFIELDERS WILL BE IN LINE AT ELIZABETH CELEBRATION.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics will endeavor to have division of their own in the parade on the occasion of the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle of Elizabethton...

A committee of five has been appointed from each of the five Elizabeth councils—Orient, Elizabeth, Scott, Unity and Mack—and they are busy engaged in making preparations for the event.

The combined membership of the Elizabeth councils numbers over 1,000 and they are all affiliated with one or two councils.

The councils at Rahway, Roselle, Cranford, Westfield, Scotch Plains, New Providence and Summit will also be largely represented, while the combined membership of Newark is over several hundred.

The biggest they ever made in this section.

ICE TO BE ADVANCED TO 40 CENTS PER 100

PLAINFIELDERS MAY HAVE TO TRY IT AS A LUXURY.

Notwithstanding the fact that last winter yielded a large crop of ice and that every ice-house in the city and vicinity is well stocked with frozen water of good quality...

There is every indication that the price will be increased this summer from thirty to forty cents a hundred for family use...

Many of the dealers say that they fear money last summer selling ice at thirty cents a hundred, that it did not begin to pay them for their time and labor...

Two years ago the retail price was twenty cents a hundred and then followed the jump to forty cents a hundred...
