

THE NEWS
Clergymen Confer With Alma
Committee as to New Rules at Institution.

Mayor Fisk also present.
Dr. Chambliss and Dr. McCrea respond to invitation to talk Over Care of Aged Inmates.

For the purpose of getting suggestions which will help them in revising
the rules which govern the Industrial Home, and perhaps making new ones, the members of the Coun-cilman's Alma Committee invited the clergy of the city to confer with them in the office of Mayor C. J. Fisk
last night, and discuss the matter.

Although Dr. Chambliss and Dr.
McCrea had some previous knowledge concerning the Industrial Home,
they were further enlightened by the conduct of the Home and were given an invitation to visit the place
at any time and examine into the conditions there.

Dr. McCrea, proposed that all of the Young People's Societies of the city undertake to visit the Home from time to time, and conduct some services. He believed that this would give the young people a definite work and at the same time bring them into closer contact with the city endeavor, that of caring for the unfortunate.

Both Dr. Chambliss and Dr. McCrea offered their services to the Home from time to time, to speak there, when requested or to conduct funerals or in fact perform any kind of service that might benefit the inmates.

Dr. McCrea informed the committee that he had frequently visited the Home and had met the inmates.
He said that the Home is a well kept and abundantly, thoroughly sanitary and that the old folks are made comfortable as possible. He said that the work of Superintendent and Mrs. Arthur Wolverson, who he believed are doing all in their power to make the Home as comfortable as possible, and spoke of the apparently well-kept rooms and grounds.

The Alma Committee appreciated
the interest of the Clergy Council to approve them early in the new year. These rules will be intended to cover conditions that have arisen since the year and once adopted they will be put into effect. It was the wish of the committee to have the most of any kind will be tolerated
at the Home, but at the same time
the committee will insist that the rules be observed.

they have leased rooms at 515 E. 11th

Trolley car kills
HORSE IN COLLISION.
William Bragg, of Dunellen, lost a horse last night when it had a collision with a trolley car at that place. The dense fog hid the approaching car from his view, though
he was driving a team which was
when it came just before turning across the track at the alleyway leading to his barn off North avenue.
The driver was driving a team which was at the time.

Mr. Bragg himself escaped injury except for a few bruises, although
he was driving a team which was
having been thrown from his seat
and alighting in a spot out of danger. Both horses were bowled over but only the one sustained serious injury. His hip was broken and it died in half an hour.

Baptist church tendered the an-

bers and visiting friends were in at-

Flowers and ferns were in abundance and an orchestra of ten pieces played excellent music throughout the evening.

These annual social gatherings afford the best opportunity for the members of the church to become acquainted with each other and help to stimulate the feeling of good fellowship, as well as bring them in close social touch with the pastor.
Last night's reception was one of the most successful both in attendance and interest.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake
and coffee were served by the young men of the church as waiters, who deprived the girls of their customary duty.

"Election and Its Results" was the subject of the discourse by Rev. S.
Judson Westfall, at the opening service in the special series at Faith

expressed was that it is the duty of everyone to see that his election

FOURER CAREY
AT MEN'S CLUB BANQUET
FORMER POWERS' PROPERTY

The committee on arrangements for the dinner to be given by the Men's Club of the First Baptist church, tomorrow night, consider that they have made a "ten strike"
in the selection of speakers for the occasion. Through the influence of City Clerk James T. MacMurray,
the committee has been able to get Congressman Charles Newell Fowler
and Judge Amos G. Davis Circuit Court, Jersey City, to make the address.

Congressman Fowler is probably one of the most conspicuous men in public life in this part of the country, and his presence here at this time, classed falling election, will be of unusual interest. Judge Carey is also well known here. He is one of the strong champions of the New Jersey, and a man of considerable practical ability. These two speakers will be able to entertain the men with live topics of the day.

In view of the presence of two such noted speakers, the club has extended a general invitation to all Men's Clubs in the city to attend after the dinner, and the general response has been very liberal. The dinner is called promptly for 7 o'clock, and the speech-making will begin immediately at its conclusion.

pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church.

In the course of his remarks the clergyman took occasion to dwell upon the uncertainties of existence, emphasizing the fact that "in the middle of life we are all on a narrow service two runways were seen by Judge William N. Sutton. "Crossing the Bar" and "One Swifely Sober and simple there were numerous prayer tributes.

North Plainfield, while at her household work yesterday. The bullet struck through a window, issued in her ear and buried itself in the wall beyond. But a second shot did more than frighten, it filled her with con-house calling for help. The police responded hurriedly but were unable to locate the handier of the gun. Pre-

MOTORMAN KILLED AND PASSENGERS INJURED IN COLLISION BETWEEN CARS AT FINDERNE.

Victim of Crash Belonged in New Brunswick and Had Been Employed by a Short
Time.
One man was killed and a half-dozen passengers, three of them vehement, were more or less seriously injured in a head-on collision between two trolley cars near Finderne at 7:30 o'clock, this morning. The dead man in Motorman Ziever, who with Conductor Strayer, was running the car to Bound Brook. As a reof which he died an hour later in the Somerville Hospital.

McDonald, of Plainfield; and L. S.
Freyer, of Newark, and J. T. Miller,

jured as they were. The car was run by a motorman who was killed
later in the day.

Charles Froch, of Bound Brook, who was operating the westbound car, was also injured, but not seriously and he, together with Conductor Strayer, were also taken to the Somerville Hospital. The injuries to the passengers were largely in the nature of cuts from broken glass and flying pieces of wood. They were all thrown with great force about the cars
and were brought to a considerable extent. Both Conductor Strayer and Conductor Andrew Hoagland, the latter on the westbound car, escaped injury. The front ends of both cars were completely wrecked and traffic was tied up on the single track
road the best part of the morning.
The accident occurred at a crossing
in an effort to reach the turnout
at Finderne where the other car
should have been passing.

Immediately following the crash
all of the passengers in both cars
were thrown into a state of panic and confusion. The injured passengers were taken to the Somerville Hospital. The accident occurred at a crossing in an effort to reach the turnout at Finderne where the other

His illness dated from last August when his health became noticeably poor, yet in view of what he considered his bounden duty, he journeyed to the annual conference of the Seventh Day Baptist church, while in the western city, he was greatly bothered by the tooth which he had extracted and when it was extracted the complications followed.

Dr. Lewis was born at Scott, N. Y. He was the son of his parents being David Ensign and Lacey Maxson Lewis. He entered Alfred University in 1867, and three years later the university conferred upon him the degree of A. M. in 1870. He was ordained in 1873. Some time after his graduation he entered Union Theological seminary for a post graduate course in church history in 1875.

He was in charge of the local Seventh Day Baptist congregation until September, 1887, when he retired from his pastoral duties to become corresponding secretary of the American Sabbath Tract Society. He was editor of the Sabbath Recorder from 1882 until 1896, corresponding editor of the Philanthropist and also a member of the New York State Church Conference and the American Historical Association.

Among the association churches represented were: Plainfield, Rev. Charles L. Goodrich; Asbury Park, Rev. H. B. H. Dr. Lewis was a vigorous ministry and the present handsome edifice was erected under his direction. He frequently preached before other local congregations and he was greatly admired and respected by all with whom he came in contact.

He was married in 1853, Miss Augusta M. Johnson at Berlin, Wis., who survives. She has been an invalid for many years. There are also two daughters, Mrs. E. H. Lewis, of Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. William L. Russell, of Parkersburg, N. Y.; Mrs. J. H. Anderson, of B. B. Langworthy, of Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. J. E. Kimball, of Plainfield; and Mrs. B. W. Spencer, of Canaan, Sonoma, Mexico. His maiden name was Nettie Moffatt (First), the Rev. Theodore M. Shipherd (Bellevue Avenue), J. W. Holliday (Bethlehem), Natick, Mass.; Rev. G. H. Patterson, of the Rev. G. P. Eastman; Passaic, R. J. Goddard; Paterson, the Rev. Roger A. Dunlap; Perth Amboy, Theodore England; Rridgely Park, A.

L. Wilson; River Edge, the Rev. Charles N. Thomas; Rutherford, Henry Uterwick; Tronson, John H. C. (Ed. Mark's); Verona, the Rev. John H. Park; Trenton, the Rev. George Bowers.

Wife, where the family moved from Athens. She was a woman of unusual beauty and while a resident of Milwaukee was considered one of the most attractive women in that city. Following her marriage forty-one years ago, she lived in New York for twelve years, and for twenty-two years she resided in the home in which she died on Brook Avenue.

She was a woman of rare Christian character and thoroughly devoted to her family. Her noble and able charities as a friend to the poor and needy will never be known, so quietly did she render such assistance. Her loss in the home and in a large circle of friends and acquaintance will be severe.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Hillside cemetery.

MR. YOUNG'S BROTHERS CIGARETTES MOST SUCCESSFUL TEA. Albert H. Atterbury Appeals. OTHERS ARE PAYING NOTHING.

AMONG the several appeals from the alleged excessive prices on real property is one from Albert H. Atterbury, of West Hoboken, who has been made for the brick wall which partially encloses his handsome property. Mr. Atterbury made his appeal to the Urban County Board of Taxation this week, and it is expected that the Board will meet this evening to consider it.

IN speaking of the matter today, Mr. Atterbury declared that the assessment placed on his property in excess of the actual cost of the wall. The fact that Mr. Atterbury has protested against paying more than the actual cost of the wall is a fine point to be decided this year.

MR. ATTERBURY says that some of the other walls are comparatively new, while his is of brick. He will make a vigorous protest against paying this cost, but he is confident that the assessment will be levied on him.

L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, 15th Street. It was decided to make a change in the festival for next year.

WITH RAPID FLIGHT

FATHER TIME KEEPS STEADILY ON HIS WAY.

Too Slowly in Youth and Too Swiftly as Age Approaches, the Years Pass Unnoticed Until the Appointed End.

"The eagle and the condor can certainly fly, but," said the man in the suit, "they don't begin to be in it with steady going time. You see, the eagle and the condor start in a while, while the time keeps a-plugging right along—there's something uneasy about the flight of time."

"And not only does it keep going so, but as we grow older it seems all the time to be speeding up, going faster and faster. You know how when we were young the days seemed long and the seasons interminable and the years without end? While now the mornings come and go and the weeks fly by and the years are counted with little hall between us, so fast; and what with my increasing years, and the seeming quicker flight of time as we grow older I find myself now for the first time in my life, in sight of the end; and this is a new and serious 'wrecking' and an impressive sensation."

"You see, when we are young, still on the upward slope of life, not yet to the top of the hill, the whole world seems to us yet to come and we advance to greet it joyfully; and then when at midlife life is over the top of the hill it spreads out all around us, and of the end we never think; but as we go down the other slope there comes a time when we realize that we really do not know what our prospect is gradually but surely narrowing."

"To be sure we give ourselves every year we can; we are going to be long lived; not cut off at 70 or 80 or 90. We are going to live to be a hundred anyway, as we do not doubt; but even so we have passed the summit, we have lived the greater number of our years. We are drawing now on the steadily diminishing remainder; and when that idea once strikes you squarely so that you take it in it gives you a shuddering pain about the heart."

"But not to worry, over, the least little bit. You still have your work to do, haven't you? Why, sure, and you find it in it and in every breath you draw a greater joy than ever. Life is mellow and ripe and fuller of happiness. You don't waste time worrying over trifling things. You come to have wings of your own now, too, and you are content to take a wider and wider way, to see with a clearer vision, and you come back to your own corner with a contentment you never had before a kinder cheerfulness."

"Life is pleasant on this slope, very pleasant; but I do wish I could invent some sort of brake to check the flight of time. Talk about 'wrecking' and 'condors!' They are not in it for flying with time!"

Couldn't Scare Them. A Denver man who rents his motor car by the trip or hour was seated in the machine with a friend, waiting for a car to a downtown corner. The other afternoon, when a young couple from the country came up, it was plain to be seen they were bride and groom. The young man from the country said they had just arrived from central Kansas and wanted to see Denver. He asked the driver if the motor car man to take them for an hour's trip and paid the charges in advance. The country couple took the back seat. The driver's friend sat in the front seat with him.

"I'm going to have some fun," said the driver in a low tone to his neighbor. "I'm going to run fast and scare those hayseeds."

He ran to the east edge of town and then to the west, and then he hit the limit. It spiked and jumped till the driver's friend became alarmed.

"Say," he said, "your better case up on the roof or you'll kill us all."

"Look around and see if the bride and groom are scared," was the reply. Before the other man could turn and look the Kansas farmer touched the driver on the shoulder.

"Hey, fellow," he said, "here's another dollar. Make her run fast, will you?"—Denver Post.

Keeping Account. Congressman Champ Clark has a story of Kansas City lawyer, lately deceased, which illustrates the difficulties of achieving a saving sense of economy.

It had occurred to the lawyer shortly before his death to buy a memorandum book wherein he would jot down the items of his daily expenditure, thus enabling him to compare notes from day to day, and so learn to regulate his disbursements. He had succeeded to accomplish this, but his friend had been successful in regulating his expenses, opened the book, only to find themselves the sole tenants.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Kindness and Cheerfulness. Kindness is contagious. The spirit of harmony trickles down by a thousand secret channels into the inmost recesses of the household life. It is the best security in the presence of imperishable good nature. It is well-nigh impossible to be morose in the face of a cheerful and generous helpmate.—Henry Van Dyke.

MUSINGS OF THE PHILOSOPHER.

It costs a lot to be popular. The good die young, especially good resolutions. Only the rich have more friends than they need. Philanthropy generally draws the line at its poor relations. The appreciator of society depends on the dough underneath. The fellow with money to burn never has any insurance on it. It frequently happens that the Junior isn't the one who cleans out the bank. When a woman says "there's no use talking," it merely means that she wants to do it all herself. There are few times in a man's life when the feeling of importance is at its own wedding. When a young man believes in making the most of his opportunities, unfortunately regard every other man as an opportunity. WITH THE SAGES. Great minds have wills; feeble ones have wishes—Calvin. If thou prohibit a thing for others look to thyself first—Confucius. Glorious it is to wear the crown of deserved and pure success—Huxley. Great works are performed, not by great strength, but by perseverance—Cicero. If a man is to go higher he will show it by being faithful where he is—Beecher. It costs us more to be invariable than it would to be perfectly happy—Bunson. Learning without thought is a snare; thought without learning is a danger—Confucius. Without thought there can be nothing done that can be truly called work—Edison. He is never without dignity who avoids wounding the dignity of others.—Lord Lytton. The song of sympathy never comes until the singer has been to the school of sorrow—Ritchie. QUIPS. An excellent way to get rid of duns is to pay up. He makes a great mistake who believes he never makes one. Why does everybody call the bad part of the world "they" and the good part "we"? No husband is really well treated so long as he dares to say he is able that he hates to push a baby coach. Why is it that the only time the newspapers spoil man's name right again when he is arrested for street fighting? Some actors are so charitable that even when running down their rivals they don't believe what they say themselves. The superstitious claim that when you see a pretty girl peering a rich man's children it is a sign there is going to be a wedding in the neighborhood. SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY. Freedom is like blue roses; there is no such thing. The talk of a good many people sounds as if they had begun in the middle. Just because a man sometimes wants to do as he pleases there are those who think he wants to do something terrible. You are always hearing of the beauty of women; along with every word of praise, all it is the gentleness, patience and kindness of women that is most attractive. Every time things go wrong with us we think of the luck of the wolf. Although every man's hand is against him, a wolf will always get away. Think of the luck a wolf must have to merely live!—Aitchison (Kan.) Globe. STICK TO THE THING YOU KNOW Don't forget the talk, the thought, the plan; you have invested in the business you have mastered. Don't lose sight of the safety—the certainty—that the work in hand affords you. Don't let your visions of opportunity after the fact work to your own hurt; be sure of your ground. Don't forsake the duties of to-day for difficulties that may assuage you. Stick to the thing you know—Sigsbee.

Like a vine around the lattice You have been through varied fates, Clinging softly 'round my shoulders...

Laying Bare the Fact.

Nice Old Lady—Will you kindly tell me if the lady who writes "The Mother's Friend" in your paper is in? I want to tell her how much I have enjoyed reading her articles on "The Evening Hour in the Nursery."

Plate Dated 1737.

While making some repairs to an old-fashioned fireplace at Deegan's Hotel, San Francisco, on Monday, an iron bed plate bearing the date 1737 was found.

Not All Lost.

A young man had been out sailing with his sister and a friend of hers. He did not return for several days.

NEW USE FOR SATIN.

Satin has come into its own again. Satin is to be the favorite material of the season, and it is used for whole frocks, evening wraps and for trimmings.

Wide and narrow pipings will be used for the most part for dress and for evening. Even fur coats of black Persian lamb and caracul are shown with these immense pipings of heavy satin outlining the fronts, the sleeves and the wide pocket flaps.

One gown for a debutante has four inches of light green satin. The high collar is made of hallooed white liberty satin, the edge of which is bound with green.

It is also a good touch to bind the plaiting on a taffeta undersuit with two inches of light green satin.

BABY'S PRAYER.

Oh, God is near the cottage when The morning shadows creep, And baby lips are murmuring: "I lay me down to sleep!"

Oh, he who quotes the psalm: "He who notes the sparrow's fall and buoys the robin's flight, Shall he forget the hour of dusk when baby says good night?"

LOVE SONG.

Like a vine around the lattice You have been through varied fates, Clinging softly 'round my shoulders...

Laying Bare the Fact.

The Children in Heaven

17th of a Series on Heaven by REV. CHARLES E. HEARING

What about the children in the other world? Will they grow and develop in that world so as to be beyond all our recognition? Longfellow has written these verses regarding the children in the other life:

Not as a child shall we again behold her, For which our raptures wild, In our embraces, we again unfold her. She will not be a child, But a fair maiden, in her Father's mansion, Clothed with celestial grace.

Somehow, perhaps, at the junction of the spirit of the child with the spirit of the parent, yet we must allow for a relative perfection; a perfection of each in his own order, a perfection not extending to the other.

Though the spirits of the just are perfect, they are not yet perfect in their own order; yet we must allow for a relative perfection; a perfection of each in his own order, a perfection not extending to the other.

The Mayor touched upon the old subject of poor street numbering in the borough and recommended that the street committee be authorized to report that during the month of October the police had made twenty-eight arrests and that $22.50 in fines had been collected.

FOWLER'S APPEAL FOR SPEAKERSHIP SUPPORT.

Representative Fowler of the Fifth Congressional district, which embraces Union, Warren and Morris counties, has sent this letter to each member of the House of Representatives: "Believing, as I do, that there must be some change in the method of electing a Speaker of the House of Representatives to reflect the opinion of the whole country, I do conserve better the welfare of the country by asking that the election of a Republican House in 1910 in order that President Taft may be supported throughout his entire term of office, and that in harmony with him, I am writing you to ask your support of my candidacy for the Speakership of the Sixty-first Congress upon the following platform:

"The House of Representatives shall elect a Board of Managers, consisting of seven members, which shall be charged with that direction of legislation which is now assumed by the Speaker of the House. I agree with you that it is essential that this reform shall be effected now, remain, very respectfully yours, CHARLES N. FOWLER."

Ends His Life by Hanging Himself in His Room at Cousin's Home.

HAD PREMEDITATED THE ACT.

Brooding over Father's Sickness and Fear of Contracting a Palmonary Complaint Assigned as the Cause.

Made dependent by the critical illness of his father and believing that he himself had contracted the first stages of a lingering complaint, James Savord, one of the city's best known young men, committed suicide last Monday at the home of his cousin, Mrs. Thomas Strappe, of Richmond street. He ended his life by hanging himself with a rope that he had taken from Hedden's stable where he was employed as a farrier. One eye was wedged behind the hinge of a door and he had suspended himself by an improvised noose, slowly straining to death while his relatives were on the first floor below, totally unconscious of what was happening. The body was discovered shortly after 6 o'clock by Thomas Strappe, who went to the room to get a lamp. It was quickly taken down and physicians were hastily called but life had been extinct before they were summoned.

Savord was off duty at the Hedden stable Sunday night and returned to South Plainfield to see his father who is very low with pneumonia. He was in such a depressed state of mind Monday that he could not resist the visit that he worked but little throughout the morning and he left the premises at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. His employer, Mr. Frank Hedden, noticed him enter the harness room just before he went out and select one of the ordinary harnesses usually placed in a string but thought nothing of it at the time. He used this rope to make a noose with himself and a horse. He did not see the result of a sudden determination while at the house.

Although of a naturally jovial disposition, Savord had been more or less melancholy at times for several weeks because of a heavy cough he had contracted and which he thought would lead to something else. He had taken to a doctor two or three times and he would be greatly depressed after returning. Two relatives died of a pulmonary complaint in the family and he was always afraid to afflict the same way. This fact, coupled with his father's illness, brought him to the state of mind that caused him to commit suicide.

The young man was the son of Thomas Savord, of South Plainfield, whose wife had died about thirty-four years ago. He had always lived in this vicinity and from the time that he became of age had been a friend in the city and borough. He entered the employ of the late Al. Hedden nine years ago and had been in the position of head driver and foreman in the well known livery. His associates had the highest regard for him and he was very popular among the patrons of the establishment. He was a member of the Timbo Social Club and several other organizations in Plainfield and South Plainfield.

Behind his father, he is survived by his step-mother and one brother, Thomas Savord, Jr., a half-brother and two half-sisters.

HUSBAND OF GIRL WHO DIED

MAVED HARWAY, DIES.

Leon Lewis Potter, thirty-six years old, of Rahway, an expert ball player, died Sunday night in the General Hospital at Elizabeth, after a long illness from which he had been a few years ago. To do this she climbed the fire loft of a building. Mr. Potter was well known in Plainfield.

"Spot," the valuable coach dog owned by Floyd T. Woodhull, of West Front street, died a few days ago following a short but severe attack of heart trouble. The dog, which was a great pet with the family, and the neighbors, was ill but recovered. Herbert, the dog was called, but by the time he arrived the animal was dead. "Spot" was known all over the city as a consistent faithful companion. He was never known to display a mean trick and he had such a gentle disposition that the smallest child could play with him.

Robert Kirkland Given Mayor Flek Suggests to the Member Makes Inquiry as to the Oath of Office Tuesday Morning.

HELD INFORMAL RECEPTION, FIRE HOUSE CONTRACT LET.

APPOINTMENT OF WILLIAM H. WRIGHT, OF RAHWAY, AS HIS ASSISTANT.

HIS FIRST OFFICIAL ACT.

Captain Robert Kirkland, of Elizabeth, the successful Republican nominee, took the oath before Judge Atwater Tuesday and after filling the required bond assumed his duties as successor to Sheriff William B. Lawrence in Union county. The appointment of William H. Wright, of Rahway, as his assistant, was made Monday night.

Following the action of Samuel W. Stashmore, proprietor of the Rumsford Dynamo Works, who announced that his tax books would appear today, Mayor Charles Flek communicated with the Common Council Monday, suggesting similar action. He submitted an extract of the law on the subject which gave the city authority to publish in pamphlet form a copy of the tax duplicate and charge some price on the law on the governing body to determine. The mayor said he favored the publication of such a list annually, and he believed that it would do more than anything else to equalize the assessments in Plainfield. The matter was referred to the finance committee and they will report to the next meeting.

SHERIFF HERTZ HELD AN INFORMAL RECEPTION

The first tax undertaken by the Union County Board of Elections on Monday, for playing "hooky" from school and they were held before Judge Hunyon.

SEVERAL RESOLUTIONS WERE OFFERED

By Mr. Hibbard, chairman of the building committee, and they were adopted. One provided for the acceptance of Alexander Miller's bid of $10,000 for the construction of the house, and it was stated by way of explanation of this bid that the building committee would be sufficient, allowing $2,200 for a combination house and garage, and $7,800 for a pair of horses and the balance for horse grading, etc., and still leave a balance of $150. Mr. Hall further explained that the bid could be further reduced to $9,000 by making certain changes, which the board will be authorized to do, and which the contractor would be required to provide for.

SHERIFF KIRKLAND'S FIRST OFFICIAL ACT

was to appoint William H. Wright of Rahway, as his assistant. Wright had received a plurality of 4,599 over his Democratic opponent, Mr. Martine, of this city. Martine was handicapped by the Bryan electoral ticket and made a poor showing.

JOSEPH O'MARA MAKES INITIAL BOW IN AMERICA.

Joseph O'Mara, the famous Irish tenor, made his initial bow in the city Monday night in Patrick Bidwell's comedy, "Peggy Macree." The show was filled with the representative Irish people of Philadelphia, Mayor Ryan, Senator T. Murphy, Senator McNichols, James O'Sullivan, Mr. Daly, James O'Sullivan and many others, prominent in the business and social life of the city, occupying the front seats.

POGGY MACREE

"Peggy Macree" is a pure Irish comedy with music, and the several songs rendered by Mr. O'Mara brought out a storm of applause. Messrs. Brooks and Dingwall, who have provided him with a supporting cast of fifty players, besides a magnificent scenic production. It will be seen in Plainfield on a short tour.

POETIC FLIGHT

"It was a poetic flight," says the passenger who had been removed from the wreck of the experimental airship. "Like all poets, we felt ourselves apart from earthly things until all of a sudden we bumped into the realities."—Chicago Post.

Whereabouts of the Water Commission.

Tracing the evolution of currency from the early ages to the present day.

F. W. Potter, president of the Water Commission, addressed the Mayor's Club Monday at the First Baptist church, furnished an instructive lecture on the evolution of currency. He said that the desire for money had been manifested in all ages and believed it would endure through all time. The accumulation of precious metals, said he, and the first metallic medium of exchange was brass, bars and ingots being the form used for money.

Mr. Potter stated that the early process of striking or stamping of coins is the counterpart of what we see today, that no great progress had been made in that art, and that the same methods in vogue at present were used by the ancients seven hundred years before Christ.

Mr. Potter has long been a student of coins and has a valuable collection of them, many of which he had with him and exhibited to his hearers after the lecture. One of these coins was of the time of Alexander the Great, which bears the figure of Christ, and is said to be the first of silver coinage.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Smalley for Speaker.

For the first time in a great many years, the precedent of giving a Somerset Assemblyman but two terms has now been broken, and William Smalley has been re-elected to the Lower House, his majority for the third term being larger than has been secured by any member from that county in a long time. These facts indicate that he has a remarkable hold on the people, and that he has secured the confidence and respect of the people in the same high regard by those with whom he has been associated in Trenton, who look upon him as a man of high character.

ALREADY MR. SMALLEY IS BEING SPOKEN OF AS A PERSON HAVING ALL THE QUALIFICATIONS FOR SPEAKER, BEING A GOOD SPEAKER AND A CAPABLE MAN OF KEEPING HIS HEAD UNDER TRYING CIRCUMSTANCES.

By reason of what Somerset did for the whole of Trenton, he is surely entitled to recognition, as the honor of Speaker has not been accorded to this county in many years. It is believed that he will be elected to that position if he should cast his chances in the direction of Somerset.—Brook Brook Chronicle.

MARTINE'S LOST DEFEAT.

James E. Martine, the Farmer Orator, has been elected for the first time of the Fifth Congressional District, the first friend of William Jennings Bryan and the faithful but independent supporter of Bryan who has once more gone down to defeat. He seems to have contracted this habit and can't break away from it. Two years ago he was elected to the position of going to Congress in the place of Hon. Charles Newell Potter, but this time he is beaten for sheriff by a very nice man, who he does not know outside of Union county.

IT IS TO BE FEARED THAT THIS IS BEING A "BURNING" OF BRYAN, AS IT IS BRYAN'S HONOR THAT HAS BEEN SACRIFICED THAT HE WOULD BE DEFERRED FOR $100,000 A YEAR, AS HE DEFENDED THE WORK OF BRYAN IN HIS HONORABLE ACCEPTANCE OF THE NOMINATION TO HELP BRYAN.

His intentions were good; they always are; but just how much credit to Bryan will remain for future history to determine. Standing alone, and on his own merits, Mr. Martine carried Union county for Bryan by a plurality of 100, while Mr. Bryan's majority was taken up by the company in connection with other matters now pending.

LOCAL MEN'S COMPANY HAS EXTENSIVE CHARTER.

The Lebanon Milling and Produce Company, the incorporators of which are Messrs. W. H. Potter, J. H. Chase and J. H. Chase, has purchased a large farm near Flemington, and is planning to do some extensive work on the same, and has secured the services of a prominent local man to take up with the company in connection with other matters now pending.
