A WORD WITH THE WORKINGMEN

A FELLOW WORKMAN IN PLAINFIELD TALKS POLITICS.

Some Pretty Plain Talk on the Issues of the Present Day, and Some New Ideas Advanced Worth Everyone's Consideration.

TO THE WORKINGMEN OF PLAINFIELD:

The approaching election is of the most vital importance to every voter of New Jersey and it seems to me, especially so to those who, like myself, "earn their bread," while they have a chance to do so, "by the sweat of their face." We are brought face to face with "a condition, not a theory," a "condition" of commercial and industrial depression and domestic want and wretchedness; a "condition" more distressing than has been experienced for thirty years. The question very naturally presents itself to every man, especially to those who depend upon their labor for a livelihood, who, or what, is responsible for this state of affairs?

Two years ago the people of this country were in the enjoyment of prosperity beyond anything in the memory of the proverbial "oldest inhabitant" with plenty of work and good wages and reasonable prices for all kinds of goods. But the tempest came in the shape of the Democratic orator. He told us that we were the victims of the most gigantic scheme of robbery that ever cursed this or any other country. He presented to us a most startling array of figures (percentages) that showed that everything we ate, drank, wore or used was "taxed" to at least one-half its value; that Republican protection was enriching the robber barons, i. e., the manufacturers, and impoverishing the poor laboring people of the country; and that while we thought we were prosperous we really were on the way to ruin, to avert which it was only necessary to vote the Democratic ticket. Then we should have higher wages for less work, more goods for less money, especially blankets, "the poor man's blanket." (Indeed they shed so many tears over the poor man's blanket that they must have thought that blankets constituted the principal article of the "poor man's" diet. That he had fried blankets for breakfast, roast blankets for dinner and hashed blankets for supper, three times a day and seven days a week.) We were to have more happiness with less trouble. The mountains were to be brought low and the valleys lifted up; the rich and the poor were to change places and the voice of the turtle was to be heard in the land and the croaker should forthwith hasten to the wild mountains and the ring-tailed whang-doodle must cease day and night for its first born because it is not. These and a multitude of other blessings and things, even to the earth and the fullness thereof, were to be given us if we would only fall down and worship Grover Cleveland. "Elect Grover," said the tempter, "and you'll have four years more of clover." Well, Grover was elected, but we are looking for the clover yet.

Two years have passed since that memorable event and where are we at? What do we see, know, realize? Blasted hopes, broken promises, unredeemed pledges, silent factories, idle workmen, wretched homes, broken hearts, misery and wretchedness, in the place of contentment and happiness. In fact our troubles began only when it was possible to know that for the first time in thirty years the Democrats had obtained full control of the Government. We called the Democrats to account for it and they promptly rushed to their own rescue and washed their hands in innocence by declaring that the present deplorable state of affairs "is but the inevitable result of reckless legislation by the Republicans in the past." If they believe that now, they must have known two years ago what was coming to pass and if they knew it then, it was certainly the greatest act of self-sacrifice that was ever committed by any political party in all history. Is it possible that the Democratic party seeing what the inevitable result must be of Republican legislation, pleaded to be allowed to fall into the identical hole that the Republicans had dug for themselves, and to allow the latter to kindly push the dirt in on them? Of course had the Democrats been more selfish they would have allowed the Republicans to complete their own destruction by keeping them in power, so that by '96 there wouldn't be a Republican left

THE HOSPITAL'S NEW CHAIR.

THAT WHICH WAS NEEDED IS NOW UNDER WAY.

At the Meeting of the Board of Governors Last Night the Resolution Predicted by the Courier Months Ago, Was Passed Ordering a Department of Pathology and Bacteriology to be Established.

The Board of Governors of the Muhlenberg Hospital held a meeting last night and transacted a lot of routine business. Among the interesting and expected resolutions, which have been spoken of by the Courier before, was the one to establish a chair of Pathology and Bacteriology. This was passed and Dr. Ben. Van D. Hedden was chosen to take charge of this special department, as the Courier said some months ago he likely would be. The committee appointed to make some alterations in the heating apparatus at the hospital was authorized to continue its work and they will add some new apparatus. They are now busy getting estimates upon it. The committee to whom the matter of organizing a training school for nurses in the hospital was referred, reported progress. A very lengthy and valuable report upon this matter prepared by Dr. Boone in regard to the arrangement and management of such a school with the rules and regulations governing it, was read. It was so favorably received that in all probability it will be adopted when the school is ready for work. The school is bound to come for the Board of Governors are not content to let the hospital go on without it. They see the need of it plainly and are pushing the project forward with all consistent rapidity. The chairman of the committee which has in charge is Samuel Huntington, and it is in good hands. So the prospect for educating the Hospital's own nurses in the building is becoming more of a reality.

SONS OF VETS ALL THERE.

Their First Attempt to Hold a Fair Starts out With all Indications of a Successful Week.

The fair week for Captain Hand Sons of Veterans opened last night with a good crowd and plenty of fun in the Manning building on West Front street. The rooms looked attractive by the profusion of decorations of flags and bunting, with the name of the order prominently displayed on bunting stretched across the ceiling. Tables were arranged along the sides extending parallel to each other from either side of the door. These were laden with varieties of useful, ornamental and edible canopies, in the charge of pleasing attendants.

The committee was Bert Thatcher, C. E. Moore, Walter Dobbin, Edward Bowman, H. C. McVoy. They had studied up the needs for a successful fair and prepared, accordingly. The purpose of the enterprise was to raise the funds to buy uniforms for the members of this new order which was organized to perpetuate the memories of the deeds done by their fathers on tented beds and battle ground in the great Rebellion. It is an organization quite limited in its membership for it can be recruited only from the Sons of Veterans.

It was their first enterprise except the complimentary entertainment given a few weeks ago, and bids fair to accomplish all that is needed, for much interest was centered in the pretty sight at the tables and the buying was satisfactory for the first night. The first was the candy table in charge of Mrs. Chamberlain. The next the luncheon, in charge of Mrs. Cox. At the third were Mrs. Morse, Miss Hargrave, Miss Smith, Miss Nash, and Mrs. Walker, handling fancy articles. In the corner was Miss Thatcher, cosily ensconced in a tent telling fortunes for those who wanted a peep into the future. Then came the remedy for dry throats, the soda water and ice cream in charge of C. B. Stephens.

Besides the temptations to the taste and sight, the feet were looked after too. Floor manager Willard Sutphen had something for them in the shape of a few waltzes. So every body was busy. Pretty girls threaded their way through the crowd looking for friends who were anxious for them to have the watch, the ring, or the various other articles offered for their perseverance. One thing was lacking, the voting booth where the ballots are to be cast for the most popular member, but that will be up by tonight. During the week it is expected that the camps from New Brunswick, New Providence and Rahway will lend the cheer of their presence to the fair since they have accepted invitations to come.

North Plainfield Kickers Won.

Yesterday afternoon, a game of football was played between Leal's second team and the North Plainfield eleven, on the Harued Academy field. The game was well contested, Carroll and McGee each scoring two touch downs, two of which were kicked by the full back. The North Plainfield eleven won by a score of 20 to 0. Those who took part were:

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Reynolds Pharmacy, Park and North Avenues, T. S. Armstrong, Manager.

GOES TO THE LIBRARY.

The Question Abt the Disposition of the New Japanese Art Collection Settled and the Specimens Will Go to the Library Here.

The final disposition of the Male Art Collection was made yesterday and by Monday it is expected the collection will be put in the Library.

U. A. Marsh presented to Chancellor McGill in Jersey City the papers representing the cost and legal claims of the various lawyers, Marsh & Bedie, administrators of the estate, R. V. Lindbury, of Elizabeth, and the firm of Montagnani, Mallory & Elmendorf, of Albany, each representing the different heirs, and the allowances to each were designated. The claim made by Mr. Schoonmaker, who purchased many of the articles in the collection for Mr. Male, as a connoisseur in Japanese art, was disposed of, and the city takes the collection at the offer made by the heirs. The disposition shown by H. E. Cramer in this matter, insisting from the first that it ought to go to the city, played no small part in securing to the city this valuable acquisition.

A GERMAN ABENDUNTERHALTUNG.

The Dramatic Section of the Gesang und Turn Verein Give a Pleasant Entertainment.

Last evening in Sanger Hall, the dramatic and choral sections of the Gesang und Turn Verein gave an entertainment, consisting of a play, several songs, a recitation and two tableaux, which was well carried out and greatly pleased the large audience which had assembled. The programme opened with an overture by Prof. O'Reilly's orchestra, in which Mr. O'Reilly played the piano, instead of the violin as is his custom, on account of a recent injury to his arm. The choir followed, singing a selection entitled "Through Death" under the direction of Prof. R. Schroeder. George Richter and Charles Dressel sang a duet entitled "The playman and his child," and Mr. Schroeder gave an excellent recitation.

After another selection by the choir, the farce, "A room with two beds, or who owns the life," was given in a manner which won rounds of applause. In the play Henry Wedemeyer and Mr. Schoettlin, two commercial travellers, put up at the same hotel. Mr. Wedemeyer reaches the hotel first and retires to rest. After a while, Mr. Schoettlin comes in, engages a bed and also retires. Soon he is aroused by the snoring of the occupant of the other bed, whom he had not seen, and getting up tries to stop the noise. He finally succeeds in awaking him and a talk ensues in which he finds he has married his whilom partner's wife, who thought her husband had committed suicide. Threats follow and a row is eminent, when P. Postler, who takes the part of the porter, appears with a letter announcing the death of the wife. Reconciliations follow and the two widowers finally embrace and agree to equally divide the property between them.

The play abounded in ludicrous situations which the actors make the most of and their audience is kept in a continuous roar of laughter. Two tableaux followed. The first showing a singer leaving his friends, showed Henry Wedemeyer, the singer, surrounded by H. Bender, H. Meyer, G. Bremmer, J. Reitzer, P. Postler, C. Felbert, J. Schick, and Mrs. Meyer, while P. Conde, the landlord of the inn stood in the background. While the curtain was up C. Dressel sang a parting song. The second tableau had reference to false play at cards, in which the cheater was caught. F. Conde, J. Schick, J. Reitzer, P. Postler, and H. Meyer took part. The whole was under the direction of M. Schoettlin, and everything was well done. Dancing followed and it was late before the pleasant entertainment closed.

TEN YEARS MARRIED.

A pleasant surprise party was tendered last night to Mrs. Charles E. Steiner, of Jackson avenue, it being the tenth anniversary of her marriage. The party had been quietly arranged by her husband and was most complete in all its details. Just as she was about going to the rehearsal of the Choral Society, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Slater called to wish her many happy returns of the occasion. While they were talking, Mr. and Mrs. H. Moore, and Herbert Moore, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Winkler, Horace Martin, J. John and Miss Mamie Steiner came in, many of them bringing presents. The evening was passed in a pleasant manner, games and dancing being a feature of the evening, and refreshments were served before the guests departed.

A Passenger Started the Train.

Some young man from this city caused a disturbance Sunday night on the 6.35 train and endangered a number of lives by pulling the signal cord before the conductor was ready to go. A crowd of people was near the train, some getting off and some trying to get on. The conductor caught the rope in time to stop before going far. It was not known exactly whether the man pulled the cord in mischief or caught it by accident.

BAPTISTS COME TO TOWN.

ANNUAL STATE CONVENTION OF THE DENOMINATION.

A Large Number Attending the Opening Sessions at the First Baptist Church Today.—Interesting Business.

The New Jersey Baptist State Convention opened this morning in the First Baptist Church for its sixty-fifth annual meeting. The Church was filled with delegates who began to arrive on the early morning trains. Arrangements for their reception at the church were in the hands of the committee Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Leonard, Frank Marsh, Harold Serrell and C. H. Smith and reception committee, Mrs. Walter McGee, Mrs. John French, Miss Ida Yerkes, Miss Edith Harold and Miss Grace Yerkes. The parcel room and post office were in charge of Elston Leonard.

IS NOW THREE YEARS OLD.

Queen City Lodge Celebrates that Event With Much Rejoicing and a Interesting Programme.

The third anniversary of Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F. was celebrated last night with much enthusiasm by a good programme, literary and musical, and with a large attendance of members and their friends. The opening selection was the opening ode of the lodge, sung by the audience, and the next was the address of welcome by Noble Grand J. E. Mosher, who invited all to a hearty participation in the festivities of the evening. Then came music by Gutman's orchestra. A welcome to the Grand Master of the State, F. W. Tussey, of Camden, by the Noble Grand, who introduced the distinguished Odd Fellow in his urbane manner and causing him to blush modestly for the high compliments paid him. Mr. Tussey made a short address upon Odd Fellowship and touched upon the founding of Queen City Lodge, at which he was present as Grand Warden.

The rest of the programme was a piano solo by Prof. Conde, a song by Mr. Ellis, of Elizabethport, recitation by Miss Clum, music by the orchestra, recitation by Master Ford, solo by Prof. Conde, song by Mr. Ellis, recitation by Miss Clum, and a concluding solo by Prof. Conde. Refreshments followed the programme and every one was satisfied as well as gratified.

WHO THEY ARE AND WHERE THEY ARE

Miss Brain, of Brooklyn, daughter of Rear Admiral Brain, is the guest of Mrs. Galon, of Carlton avenue. John Green, of Somerset street, has received word from England stating that his brother in Norfolk is dead. Mr. Magnus and Miss Annie Stricker, of New Brunswick, are the guests of Mr. Schoettlin of Somerset street. Those who have never seen Bull Frog City can go to R. J. Shaw's Pharmacy and see it. Then if they begin to ask they can get a box of Frochman, and here it. William H. Zimmermann, of New Brunswick, and Mrs. William E. Barthele, of Martinville, delegates to the Baptist Convention, are guests of F. B. Long, of Summit avenue. An exchange says that an effort will be made to induce the next Legislature to repeal the Saturday half holiday law, which is of little good to the working people, but suits the salaried class who get paid whether they work or not.—New Brunswick Home News.

HAD NO ONE TO HEAR THEIR MUSIC.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bovey, of the Borough, returned yesterday from their wedding trip, and began house-keeping on Stone street. Last evening young men of the neighborhood tried to serenade them and only desisted when they found that their prey had gone to Music Hill for the evening.

In Judge Coddington's Court.

William Wilson, the former employee of the Union County Country Club, who was arraigned yesterday charged with stealing cigars and billiard balls from the place, was discharged for want of evidence.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

The News of Town and Country Condensed For Quick Reading.

The Loyal Temperance Legion will meet tomorrow afternoon in the W. O. T. U. rooms.

THE WORK ON THE SEWERS AT PATMAN AVENUE AND RICHMOND STREET, WAS BEGUN YESTERDAY.

In front of a house on West Fourth street, near Arlington avenue, the pavement is so badly displaced by the roots of a tree as to be a constant menace to passersby. When someone has broken a limb there possibly some one will do something about it.

SEVERAL HORSES OWNED AROUND LENOX AND THE OUTSKIRTS OF RAHWAY ARE SUFFERING WITH A DISEASE WHICH THE VETERINARY MEN CALL DIPHTHERIA.

Joseph Holland has already lost two horses with the disease and has others sick with it which he fears he will be compelled to kill. A Mr. Smith, who lives at Minsey Corners, has also lost a horse with the disease. It is claimed that the malady has been spread among the horses by the public watering troughs. The animals seem to suffer greatly and death comes in three or four days.

QUEEN CITY LODGE CELEBRATES THAT EVENT WITH MUCH REJOICING AND A INTERESTING PROGRAMME.

The actual date of the anniversary of the founding was last Friday, but the celebrations are always held on the last Friday night in October. The lodge was instituted October 25, 1891, in response to a petition by six persons, L. R. Blackford, J. G. Fields, William Chamberlain, L. S. Pocock and C. H. Rugg, who said that in growing Plainfield there was room for another lodge of Odd Fellows. It started with thirty five members and has grown rapidly since. It was instituted under Grand Master Howard Stephen, of Flemington, and Grand Officers F. W. Tussey, John Griffith, J. W. Treuchard and Supreme Representatives J. Barton Smith and August Grassman. The work was done that night by the celebrated team from Elizabethport Lodge, No. 116.

PROF. MAXSON ANNOUNCED THIS MORNING THAT A FRIEND HAD GIVEN TEN DOLLARS AS PRIZES FOR COMPOSITIONS ON THE SUBJECT "THE USE AND ABUSE OF TOBACCO, ESPECIALLY IN THE FORM OF CIGARETTES."

The money will be divided into three prizes, five dollars to the first, three dollars to the second and two dollars to the third. Several new players turned up at the foot ball practice yesterday. The team will average about 125 pounds.

MR. MARTINE DISCUSSING COUNTY AFFAIRS ONLY.

We understand that the report that Mr. Martine is to speak in Bayonne tonight with John T. Dunn is untrue. He will not go to Bayonne. Last night he spoke in Elizabethport for the county ticket only. John T. Dunn was not with him. Mr. Martine will limit his discussions to the county ticket and has nothing to say outside of that.

STOPPED BY THE POLICE. But Not Until Lavigne Had Practically Defeated Griffin.

A VERY GAME FIGHT THROUGHOUT. The Men Fought Fifteen Fiercely Contested Rounds, Griffin Gaining the Good-will of the Sports Present by His Goodness—The Police Roundly Blamed.

CONY ISLAND, Oct. 30.—What with throned police interference, a previous postponement and a very light card it was not to be wondered that last night's assemblage at the Seaside Athletic club was in no way representative and extremely meager numerically.

Then came the bout of the evening. It was between "Kid" Lavigne, of Saginaw, Mich., and Johnny Griffin, of Braintree, Mass., at 124 pounds, fifteen rounds. Lavigne's seconds were Sam Fitzpatrick, Jimmie Carroll, Jim Collins and Billy Lavigne.

"Dolly" Lyons, of New York, vs. "Kid" Hogan, of Brooklyn, at 115 pounds, ten rounds, was the next. They had fought twice before, and had one victory each. The police stopped this bout in the second round, and Hogan was declared the winner by the referee.

Lavigne led with the left and adopted the attack. They were both wide, although Lavigne got in a couple on the body. When time was called there was little to record. Griffin did not look well, and handled himself as though away off.

In the tenth Griffin improved considerably and got in a few good right hands, being cheered to the echo. The eleventh round gave Griffin's backers another ray of hope, as he freshened wonderfully, but he lost many opportunities and was very tired and weak at the close.

In the fourteenth round of this game fight Lavigne went at it wickedly and downed his man. Griffin was up before the limit expired, but was met with blows that fell like rain. Three times he was all but out, but the gong sent him to his corner amidst a tremendous ovation.

Smith Versus O'Brien. BOSTON, Oct. 30.—About 500 sports crowded into the rooms of the Lafayette and Social Athletic club last night to witness the meeting of "Mysterious" Billy Smith and Dick O'Brien.

Republican Nominations.

- List of Republican nominations for various offices including Congress, Assembly, County Clerk, and Coroner.

THE business improvement will be quicker after the Republican victory next week.

THE Democrats are tired of the one speech of McKieley's. The monotony of the enormous crowds it draws fatigues them.

THE Courier has used a newspaper folder to facilitate its work in its mechanical department for more than a year.

SAYS the editor of the Spoken Spokesman-Review regarding the Venno case in a personal letter to a friend in Plainfield:

"We sincerely regret that the east should furnish the west so many of this class of people. Occasionally we are able to make good citizens of them, but not often.

THAT little editorial brownie of the Press straited up to Mayor Gilbert last night and forgot his manners so far as to give the Mayor a little advice.

the Mayor's position, the Courier is able to state it definitely.

Mayor Gilbert is not now to be a candidate for re-nomination this Fall. Many people in the city have urged him to allow his name to be used.

A little comment which the Press made in reference to the Congressional nomination, should not be allowed to pass unnoticed.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Says the New Haven Courier of 'The Trolley System,' which appears in Music Hall on Thursday Evening.

Bronson Howard's ever popular war play 'Shenandoah,' which has now been presented over 400 times in New York city.

The young English actress, Miss Olga Nethersole, has achieved great popular success at Palmer's Theatre.

James T Powers is a very bouncing boy in 'The New Boy.' It is not often in these days of stern stage management that any other actor than a 'star' is permitted to have his own way in a role.

—Ask your physician about Geneva Mineral Water.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended as Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

That little editorial brownie of the Press straited up to Mayor Gilbert last night and forgot his manners so far as to give the Mayor a little advice.

The following is clipped from the Elizabeth Journal of yesterday: 'The Plainfield Daily Press of today, in speaking of the performance of Gorton's minstrels Saturday night, says: 'The performance was excellent and the large audience was delighted.'

Saturday the press agent of Gorton's minstrels furnished the editor of the Daily Press with two dead head tickets to the show, which he used.

REMARKABLE CURES OF RECENT DATE

A Statement from Ex-Mayor John Corson, Esq., of Clinton, N. J.

To the Public: I acknowledge with the utmost pleasure the wonderful cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in my case. I had been a sufferer from piles, which gave me constant pain and distress during twenty long years, attended with frequent loss of blood and with great and painful protrusion of the pile tumors and recta whenever my bowels moved.

I tried constantly to get relief from my sufferings, but to no purpose until Mr. Bryan, a friend of mine, who had been cured by Dr. Lighthill of the same trouble, recommended him to me, and he effected a complete and radical cure in my case also, and earned my lifelong gratitude.

JOHN CORSON.

THE CASE OF MR. PETER G. EYCK, OF BISSSELL, HUNTERDON CO., N. J.

Dr. Lighthill Effects a Complete Cure Where Ten Physicians Had Failed.

TO THE SICK SUFFERING AND AFFLICTED: For many years past I have been afflicted with bleeding piles. Every movement of the bowels was attended with loss of blood and with intense pain when lasted for hours and sometimes all day. My condition was aggravated by a prolapse of the rectum, which greatly increased my suffering and sometimes gave me most agonizing pains. So great was my distress and so bad my condition that I sold my farm, not being able to work it any longer. At one time the protruding pile tumors became so highly inflamed and swollen that they could not be replaced, and I had to go to bed, applying hot poultices for three months before I could get relief.

I had been under the treatment of ten different physicians, some of New York city, Boston, Washington and elsewhere, without any benefit whatever, and had given up my case as hopeless, when, luckily for me, I heard of Dr. Lighthill's skill and success in such cases, and went to him for treatment, with the happy result that he effected a radical and permanent cure in less than four weeks' time; and I am glad to say that the entire treatment gave me neither pain nor distress. I consider my cure perfectly wonderful, and so do all my friends and neighbors. I am confident that there is no case of piles which Dr. Lighthill cannot cure.

PETER G. EYCK, Bissell, Hunterdon Co., N. J.

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence, No. 144 RESCENT AVE.

Deafness, Catarrhs and Diseases of the Head, Throat and Lungs, successfully treated. Piles of the most aggravated nature radically and permanently cured in a few weeks, without pain or detention from business, and all other special diseases are treated with equal success. Mental and Nervous Derangements, Epilepsy, Diseases of the Skin and Blood, Rheumatic, Neuralgic and Scrofulous Affections. Diseases of the Heart, Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidney and Bladder are successfully treated, even when other medical skill has failed.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

The stage leaves Plainfield, near the Courier office week days at the following hours: 7:00 and 9:30 a. m. 12:45, 4:00, 6:00 and 9:00 o'clock p. m. Sundays 9:00 a. m. 12:30 and 5:00 p. m. Leaves Scotch Plains week days 8:15 and 10:30 a. m. 2:00, 5:00 and 7:00 p. m. Sundays 9:45 a. m. 2:00 and 5:00 p. m. Upon notice a special stage will be held for parties of six or more attending the theater or other attractions.

Frank Allen expects to go West soon on a visit to his uncle.

About twenty-five Italians went to Elizabeth last night to take out their papers.

Mrs. Bliss, of Cortland N. Y. is visiting her daughter Miss Bliss, the teacher in the school.

A Halloween party will be given by Miss Joseph Marsh to a number of her young friends tomorrow night.

A dove party will be given by Miss Isabel Hamlin at her home tomorrow night to celebrate Halloween.

Robert Jahn is finishing four more skylights for different customers. Two of them will go to Murray Hill.

Mr. Goodenough the former principal of the school returned from New York last night to finish his visit about town and will remain until Thursday.

Pictures of the school have been taken and are pretty good ones. The scholars by separate rooms are represented and in one of the buildings Mr. Cain is pictured.

The flag rope on the staff at the school house, got caught some way Friday and would not work. Bert Mackay tried to go up and release it, but could not make the ascent, so Joe Albert, by means of Mr. Jahn's ladder part way, "shinned" it the rest of the way and loosened it.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Schenck's stage leaves Plainfield from the Courier office week days at the following hours: 6:45, 9:15, a. m. 12:15, 3:30, 5:35 p. m. Sundays 8:00, 10:30 a. m. 2:30 and 5:00 p. m.

Leaves South Plainfield 8:10, 10:00 a. m. 1:30, 4:52 and 5:30 p. m. Sundays 9:15 a. m. 12 noon, 3:00 and 6:00 p. m. The stage connects with Lehigh Valley trains every trip.

Mr. Randolph at the mill began grinding buck wheat again yesterday.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Thompson visited friends in Summit yesterday by carriage.

Mrs. Eliza VanNess, of Alton, returned home Sunday after a visit with her son Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Meeker, of Piscataway, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Love, of Plainfield, were the guests Sunday, of Mrs. Love's cousin, Mrs. T. C. Laing.

Two forlorn fishermen spent yesterday afternoon in the rain fishing in the pond, but had poor luck on account of the strong East wind.

H. H. Kelly has begun work on some very durable window sash for the stage which will make the stage cherry and comfortable during the cold season.

Peter McDonough is having a building erected by George Teeple and Morris Haynes next to Mrs. Kane's house for a market. It is expected that John McDonough of this town and William Dolan, of Plainfield, will run it.

A number of citizens here saw a man rolling a wheel barrow Saturday night down the county road, in which was a man. It was thought that some serious accident had happened but on closer inspection the man was found to be only laboring with insomnia from breathing too much Park avenue atmosphere.

DUNELLEN.

Miss May Aggar is visiting out of town friends.

Mrs. Winfield Hetfield spent Friday in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Roush spent Sunday in Brooklyn.

Mrs. E. Teel, accompanied by her sister, is away on a visit.

Wheelwright Toins, of Green Valley, is working for Isaac J. Sutes.

Mrs. Thomas Jones has returned from her visit to out of town friends.

Today is the last chance to register. The board will be in session until nine o'clock.

The trustees of the Presbyterian Church will have a meeting on Thursday evening.

G. Sutterline and family, of North Plainfield, were the guests Sunday of John Breamer.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presby. Church and a business meeting last night.

William Webber, fireman at the Greenbrook tanks, has returned from his visit to the West.

Miss Emma Aggar who was taken sick when a child on Sunday was a little better last evening.

Mrs. Martin Dwyer with her daughter Miss Bauche have returned from a visit to Plainfield friends.

Mrs. Joseph Hunter and son, of Junction, are visiting Mrs. Hemier's brother, William W. Waters.

William Sturgeon, of High Bridge, moved to Dunellen today. He will take care of the signal lights between Fairwood and Plainfield.

The third quarterly conference of the Methodist Church will be held tonight, at which the Rev. Dr. Lyman, Presiding Elder of the Elizabeth District will preside.

The cases on contract of Trimmer vs. Heimerle and Trimmer vs. Ludvick, returnable next Monday, have been pronounced by Justice Hall on Thursday November 8.

The Methodist prayer meeting usually held on Wednesday evening will be held tonight on account of the absence of many of the members to the Epworth League Convention at Flemington.

Instead of returning home tonight, the Rev. Dr. Lyman, of Elizabeth, will remain in town and go tomorrow to the second semi-annual convention of the Elizabeth District Epworth League at Flemington, where he will preside.

At the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Owen's baby daughter yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Kinsey preached an excellent sermon. There were no pall bearers and the interment was made in the Samptown cemetery at the convenience of the family.

At the Methodist Church Sunday evening, the Rev. Mr. Kinsey tried to awaken the Law and Order League to a sense of its duties. He said the League might be dead, but he had not been invited to its funeral. There was plenty of work for it to do.

At the funeral of Charles Kuehlen, yesterday, Charles Snowden, George Vail and George Conover, together with three gentlemen from the Odd Fellow Lodge at Hoboken, acted as pall bearers. The floral offerings were numerous and there were many present from out of town.

Yesterday afternoon, John Tingley accompanied by Mrs. Garner, of North Plainfield, and Mrs. Clavson, of South Plainfield, attended the funeral of his brother Charles B. Tingley at Oak Tree. The death of this brother closely follows that of Mahlon Tingley, who lived in Zion, Ill. and who was buried there October 2.

NEW MARKET.

Abe Nelson attended the play in Plainfield last evening.

C. T. Rogers has been putting his buildings in trim for the winter.

The Kratzel Seader case will be tried over again before Justice Storms on Thursday morning.

A stage will leave the Dunellen depot Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock for those who wish to attend Mrs. Westcott's informal dance in the hall.

Geneva Mineral Water.

If you would know the opinion of physicians, and what they prescribe this natural water for, read the article entitled "What physicians say of Geneva Mineral Water". It will be mailed free, on application to John R. Willmarth, State agent, 932 Broad street, Newark.

To speak at all exhaustively of the merits of this water, within the limits of a newspaper article is impossible. But to any to whom rheumatism is an ever present pain and a hindrance to effective daily work, to any suffering from any of that class of ailments coming under the general heads of kidney troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, bladder diseases, insomnia, gout, nervous debility, liver difficulties, eczema, etc., the suggestion is made to at least try this water and confidently look for the happy results which has been the experience of thousands.

Owing to the fact that this is one of the purest of natural mineral waters, and that it is extremely palatable, and that it stimulates the digestive organs to a normal natural activity, it is highly recommended as a table water, both to the sick and well, but its chief merit lies in the fact that it is a remedial agent and a restorer of health.

Any person interested in the subject can get full information by correspondence, or call upon John R. Willmarth, the agent of the company, at No. 932 Broad State, Newark.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Branded Jackets Worn Again—White Stationery.

Toques, which are again in fashion, are usually trimmed with velvet, this being held in place by motifs of jet or numerous little gilded pins.

Tea gowns and tea jackets are still in high favor and are more and more as trimmed in France, to which they are no native. A pretty model of a tea jacket is of warrington serge, entirely accented, plaited. It is trimmed with bands of lace insertion across the bosom and has a bell of insertion. The neck, which is slightly cut down, has a wide lace collar. The accordion plaited elbow sleeves have plaited caps.

Extremely small stationery is appearing again, and Parisian taste permits it to be performed, although to English and American women this custom does not commend itself.

The darts and back seams of some of the new jackets are outlined with braid or galloon, not a pretty fashion, but a mode, which insures its being more or less followed.

There is a fancy for trimming coats and capes with motifs of velvet in applique. Sometimes they form bands and borders, and again they are employed in a detached form. They are usually combined with stitching.

The draped skirt is not so generally adopted as was anticipated. Skirts have more or less trimming, but it is heavily always flat and is of a character to add little to the weight of the garment. The panel and the tablier are the styles mainly favored. Perhaps as skirts become narrower drapery will advance to the front.

A sketch is given of an entirely new evening wrap. The body is of pale rose faille, while the fronts and yoke are of old blue plush. The pelorine is of rose brocade, plaited at the shoulders under knots of satin and motifs of pearl passementerie. The medall collar and the fronts are edged with fur.

Discord.

"Help, help!" cried the albino, with wildly staring eyes.

The candy butcher aroused himself with an effort.

"What is the matter?" he asked, considerably diverting a poor, ignorant fly from its purpose of partaking of his wares.

"The two headed girl."

"Well?"

"Each head has just discovered that the other has a full hat trimmed just like its own, and the language is something dreadful."—Detroit Tribune.

Of What Use.

Very absurd are the exclamations sometimes made by people from whose sails the wind has been temporarily taken, and we are often obliged to laugh while we mentally excuse the speaker by thinking that he "doesn't mean half he says." The following anecdote, from "Glimpses of the Nation's Struggle," is thus to be enjoyed—with a grain of salt:

Stringent orders had been issued in regard to foraging. The products of the country were to be drawn upon along the march by regularly organized parties of men under responsible officers, who were to give receipts for everything appropriated, the accounts to be afterward adjusted by the proper persons in authority.

One morning during a halt a tall, brawny soldier approached an officer and asked:

"Lieutenant, what is this order about foraging? Can't a man forage?"

"No; orders forbid private foraging."

"Well, lieutenant, can't I go into a house and help myself?"

"No."

"Can't I even take a chicken?"

"No."

"Can't I take anything?"

"No."

"Well, then," he exclaimed, with an expression of intense disgust, "I wish somebody would tell me the use in being a soldier!"—Youth's Companion.

A LOVER'S RUSE.

I was betrothed from my cradle to Justine le Mar, a planter's son, who was just three years my senior. The betrothal came about in this wise: Albert le Mar had stepped into the good graces of an old man who otherwise would have made my father his heir. It never made the two worse friends, and once they spoke together of the matter my father said: "I only care for wealth for my child's sake. If over I am rich, it will only be that I may not leave her poor."

"Set your heart at ease, my friend," Albert le Mar said. "My boy will be rich. They are of suitable age. Let us betroth them, and the property will belong, as it should, to both."

A compact was entered into, signed and sealed, and neither doubted that a wise thing had been done. Both are dead now, but the compact was not forgotten, and I for one felt it as binding as the Ten Commandments.

Once in a long while I wrote to Justine and got an answer. His guardian, an old Frenchman, thought the betrothal all very well, and directed the letters on the outside to "Miss Garnet Grey." Inside they began "My Little Wife."

At seventeen, however, I began to hear that to be quite happy one's match should be one's own making.

One evening the postman brought a letter to our house directed to my mother. When she opened it she gave a little cry.

"It is from Justine's guardian," she said. "Your little husband will be twenty-one in May, and is coming to see you. What do you say to that, Garnet?"

"That if he is a little husband I shan't be pleased," I said. "I like tall men."

I went to sit under the pear tree. There I cried without knowing why. I began to dread the coming of that betrothed. I sat there crying softly until a voice cried over the pallings:

"I beg your pardon—is there some one there?"

I looked up and saw a gentleman leaning over the gate. He was very young and very handsome—fair, too, as any girl. It was the kind of a face I most admired—my ideal face. Every girl has one. I arose and went to the gate. He lifted his hat.

"How near is the nearest hotel from this place, madam?" he asked.

"Two miles," said I. "Take the road to the right."

"The difficulty is I can't take any road," he said, laughing. "I've been stupid enough to sprain my ankle. What I am to do I don't know."

"Come in," I said, "and I will call my mother."

He sank upon the bench and I ran for my mother. She came and looked at once to the hurt ankle. It was a bad sprain, and certainly the sufferer could not walk much that night. There was nothing for it but to offer him a couch under our roof, and he accepted it with many apologies.

In the morning the ankle was better, and our guest seemed wondrously grateful. He told us that his name was William Arnold and he was a clerk on a small salary.

After he and mother had some talk she called me to her and said: "What do you say to this? Mr. Arnold wants to board with us."

The hour of our boarder's coming home was the happiest of the day and our cosy meal a feast. Often we sat under the old pear tree. Soon I used to let him keep my hand. At last he twined his arm about my waist. So my mother found us.

PROPER FASHION FADS.

HINTS FOR MEN WHO WOULD BE "IN STYLE."

Up-to-Date Social Maxims - How to Carry a Cane, Tip a Hat, Greet a Friend, Walk on the Street, Bow to a Lady, and Use Spoon and Fork.

Special New York Letter.
 Nothing is more surprising at the present time than the revolution in what is termed "good form" among fashionable men. The up-to-date man, in his polished high hat, long-tailed Prince Albert coat and pointed patent-leathers, is an object that would paralyze the "dude" of a year ago. "But styles must change, and 'chappies' change with them. The fellow who died a year ago in blissful ignorance of the proper society 'caper,' wouldn't even know how to carry his cane if he could be suddenly resurrected.

The cane of this year has a knob for a handle. It must be carried with the handle up, just a shade behind the left arm-pit. Bring the arm down firmly over the stick. Catch it carefully with the tips of the fingers about six inches above the ferrule. And don't carry your gloves. Never mind what you did last year. It is a gross breach of good form this.

Not to know the latest way to shake hands is an evidence that you and society are not on intimate terms. Stand about three and one-half feet from the person whose hand you are shaking. Place the left foot behind the right and incline the body slightly. Lower your arm on a line with your waist. Then take hold of the tips (merely the tips) of the other shaker's fingers. Give two or three gentle little shakes up and down—not sideways. Do be careful not to be energetic. If there is anything people of good form detest this season it is energy.

The proper walk of the street will be a springy sort of swagger. It is complicated. You must shake your entire body as well as suggest an automatic spring in each leg. While walking always appear absorbed. Try to look as though you were thinking. Seriousness and gravity is to be the role this year.

Speaking of walking suggests a growing fad. You must walk! Talk about walking everywhere. It doesn't in the least matter if you ride every time you have the price of a cartfare. It is proper to pose as a pedestrian. Great cordiality is "au fait" this year on the street. As always, a woman speaks first, but she does it as though she were really glad to see you. On being introduced it is good form to make people think you have been longing to know them. Especial cordiality should be observed in greeting acquaintances from your carriage, when it is quite proper to beam like a basket of chips. Backed by a carriage, be as effusive as you please.

Young man, be sure to tip the hat properly. This season's manner of doing so resembles the Beau Brummel style, except that you take it off from the right-side brim, not the left. We may come to that later. For the present catch your hat with your right hand daintily by the brim, a little to the right of the front. Lift it with dignity, but without effort, above the head, decidedly to the right. Incline your head profoundly and put your hat back.

Proper people serve a spoon and fork now with all pastries. In eating fish do not push a piece of bread as navigator. Two forks are the proper thing.

"Zulu" Potatoes.
 At Fyvie Castle a black potato called the "Zulu" has been grown. It gives a mauve stain when cut, but is black when boiled, and is very good to eat, though not nice to look at. It is said to be troublesome to dig, as it grows further down than other potatoes. The stalks are dark, the leaves green, and the flowers white.—Westminster Gazette.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW RIFLE.

The Best Magazine Gun for Fighting
 Prepared Now Made.

The new infantry rifle is similar to the arm now used by the Danish government, but so altered and improved as to make it the best magazine gun for army use now known.

The Krag-Jorgensen, or United States infantry rifle, is a magazine gun with a calibre of .30 of an inch, or .15 of an inch smaller than that of the Springfield rifle now in use. The new rifle is slightly shorter than the Springfield. The breech is opened and closed by a sliding bolt operated by a handle and a knob at its rear end. The magazine is a horizontal one, lying under the receiver of the barrel and closed by a gate at its right side. Part of the barrel, where it is grasped by the left hand in firing, is covered with wood. This is necessary, for the barrel becomes very hot from the extreme rapidity of fire. The handle at the rear end of the bolt, and a lug at its front end, fit into the grooves and lock the bolt when the breech is closed. On its exterior the bolt carries the extractor, while inside is the firing pin and spiral mainspring.

The magazine holds five cartridges, which are pressed forward by means of a follower acted upon by a spring, so that the cartridges are placed one by one in front of the bolt. The magazine can be instantly filled from a "quick-loading" box holding five cartridges. When the bolt is drawn to the rear the cartridge just fired is withdrawn by the hook of the extractor, and thrown clear of the gun by an ejector at the bottom of the receiver. At the same time a fresh cartridge from the magazine is placed in front of the bolt. The bolt is then shoved forward, placing the cartridge in the barrel, and at the same time cocking the firing pin so that the piece is ready for firing.

On the left side of the piece is a "cut-off" by means of which the cartridges in the magazine can be held in reserve until the proper moment, and in the meantime the piece can be used as a single-loader.

The cartridges are bottle-shaped. The bullet weighs only half as much as that of the Springfield, and is fired with nearly double the muzzle velocity, giving greater range and accuracy. The powder used is of the smokeless variety, so as not to obscure the view of the soldier and not to obstruct the small bore of the gun. The bayonet is simply a long knife, so that it is useful off as well as on the gun.

One important feature of the new rifle is that in one minute's time, without the assistance of any tools, it can be completely taken apart, any broken part replaced, and then it can be put together again.—Harper's Bazar.

Christian Unity.

Dr. Briggs has created a sensation before the Connecticut Valley Congregational Club by declaring that the Protestant church is more tolerant than the Catholic church, and asserting that the Protestants could well afford to "spare" 5,000 out of 9,000 clergymen in the interest of "Christian unity." Dr. Briggs urges that there is nothing in the New Testament that prevents all Christian denominations from coming together, and affirms that the statistics of the Protestant church show that there are many menaces of bankruptcy.

These sentiments are revolutionary, or at least will sound so to many ears. They are sentiments that will be received with disfavor in many quarters. Yet so far as they speak of the necessity for a certain form of unity among all Christian sects, they cannot be said to be otherwise than in keeping with a sentiment that has become very strong within the past half dozen years. What is called Christian tolerance has been held to prophesy the coming of this kind of unity, and the Congress of Religions at Chicago last summer, bitterly as it was denounced by the conservatives, was widely recognized as a still wider indication of the coming of a general ethical unity in the work of all religions.

When Dr. Briggs intimates that the Protestant clerical force is overrated he states a condition that must be discomforting in some quarters. The average number of communicants to each Roman Catholic clergyman in this country is placed at 685; to each Protestant clergyman at 142. The question as to a reasonable deduction from these facts is a very serious one. Dr. Briggs is certainly right in maintaining that the figures have a highly important relation to the financial situation in the two divisions of the Christian church. The heaviest financial strain naturally falls on the Protestants. But how the figures affect the general question of pulpit supply and demand, individual sects and individual communities must go on settling for themselves.—Brooklyn Times.

A Triple Valve for Air Brakes.
 A triple valve for air-brakes, which permits the recharging of the auxiliary reservoirs while the brake is applied, has been invented by Mr. John M. Hurst, master mechanic of the Great Salt and Hot Springs railway, and was tested on a passenger train on the Utah Central railway, on a special run made August 16, with successful results. The invention involves the use of a double line of train pipe, and is intended for use only for special service on steep grade mountain roads.

An Easy Way of Doing Good.
 As the cold weather approaches take any small change that you can spare and invest it in woolen gloves, mittens and stockings. Most poor children suffer severely for want of these and you can easily call in from the street both sexes and almost any size and find that your purchases will fit.—New York Recorder.

Some way or other always happens that the judicious advertiser succeeds.

Judicious means many things.

Some men better never advertise. Men who are not honest—who do not keep their promises—whose advertisements mislead and whose stores disappoint—they had better let advertising alone.

There is a man in New York—a furniture dealer—who says that he never expects to sell to the same man twice. He uses all means to get the best of the deal the first time. Makes all the profit he can on the one sale, because he knows that the buyer will never come back—that he will discover the cheat.

Now it wouldn't pay that man to advertise, and he knows it and he doesn't advertise.

But a fairly honest business, conducted by a man who keeps close to the letter of truth, it will always pay to advertise.

Some business men are careless in their statements. They have become so used to writing "biggest," "grandest," "greatest," "best," that they can only think in superlatives.

They mean to be honest—probably are. They are merely careless, and failure is the price of carelessness in advertising. May be not absolute failure, but something very short of success.

Every advertisement should have careful consideration. All the discrepancies should be eliminated—no careless statements allowed.

If you can't take time to attend to your advertising carefully, better cut it down. Cut off the parasites.

Cut off novelties—programmes. Cut off the paper to whom you "give a hundred just to get rid of it—to keep it quiet." Cut off the paper that is too cheap to be good, that is willing to take your ad. at any price.

A good advertisement in the best paper will do more good—more in proportion to price—than anything else you can do.

A good advertisement of good goods in a good paper will always pay. Always.

REV. Daniel F. Warren, D. D., Rector Holy Trinity Church, Jersey City Heights, says: "Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills" are unquestionably good. They are, in my opinion, all they claim to be. I have tried them and found in them what I needed. I believe they will cure Dyspepsia, and that is saying much for any medicine. I am glad, therefore, to give my testimony."

LATE NEWS.

Gored to Death by a Bull.

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 30.—Jacob Swartz, a farm laborer employed at the stock farm of C. H. Cook, at Belle Mead, was crushed and gored beyond all human semblance by an infuriated Holstein bull this afternoon. Swartz had entered the pen to care for the bull. The animal was fastened to a post by a ring through the nose. When Swartz's attention was attracted in another direction the bull made a plunge and broke the ring. The enraged beast plied the man against the side of the stable with a single thrust of his horns. Then backing off, he repeatedly attacked Swartz until he forced his body through a heavy board partition into the next stall. Swartz was dead when picked up by fellow-workmen a few minutes later.

The bull was formerly the property of Senator McPherson and is the largest one of his kind in this country. He weighs over 3,000 pounds. Swartz is the third man he has killed.

Cut Himself While Shaving.

ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 30.—Edward P. Curtis, of East Orange, died at 49 Burnett street, on Saturday night of blood poisoning. He had cut himself in the neck while shaving a few days before his death. He put some lime on the cut and thought nothing more of it until last Friday, when a large swelling appeared on his neck. The attending physician decided that Mr. Curtis was afflicted with blood poisoning caused by the razor cut.

SELLING GOODS BY PHOTOGRAPH.

Other Ways in Which Photographs are Indispensable to Trade. A leading dealer in photographic supplies is authority for the statement that there has been in late years a decided falling-off in the number of "alleries" throughout the country and a most marked decline in the picture-taking business. This decline is not felt, however, by the manufacturers of cameras and photographic supplies. This is without reference to the enormous and constantly increasing demand for amateur outfits, but rather to the introduction of photography into the commercial and manufacturing world.

"Over 60 per cent. of our business in the last year," said the dealer to a World reporter, "has been in supplying apparatus and supplies to other than persons who were going to enter or are already in the portrait-taking business. Photography has revolutionized the calling of the commercial traveler. Where formerly the druggist carried over the country enormous sample trunks the transporter of which was a most important job of expense, he now sells goods by photograph. Druggists are called to sell classes of goods now that were in the old days out of the question. Furniture, stores and bar fixtures, boots and shoes, hats and caps, millinery, saddlery, machinery, heavy hardware, queensware, silverware, and low goods, undertakers' supplies, in fact almost everything except articles of food, dry goods, wines and liquors, tobacco and cigars, are now sold by photograph, backed by the smallest possible quantity of samples, showing texture and color as in hats or shoes. "Real estate agents have long since learned the trick of having photographs taken of the houses they have to let or sell, thus saving prospective tenants or purchasers the labor of visiting something that is sure to prove altogether unsuitable.

"A photographic corps is connected with all public works, such as railroad, bridge or water works. No project is without his photographic outfit. Surgical operations in the great hospitals are now-a-days photographed at every stage, and thus preserved for students and the possible protection of the operators.

"It is but a matter of a short time before the details of all athletic events and horse races will be preserved by photographic process. Such evidence would be invaluable in case of a repetition of some of the close-finishes which have startled patrons of the turf in this vicinity recently.

"In fact, if every photograph gallery in the United States would go out of business to-morrow, the manufacture of cameras and supplies would keep right on, for every day develops some new use for the art, which has become a necessity of commercial life."—New York World.

A Lover's Stratagem.

What a prosperous word this would be if young men would apply their wit as industriously to affairs of business as they do in emergencies where the fair sex is concerned! This thought was suggested by the story of a young insurance man who went out for a moonlight drive one evening recently. At his side in the conveyance was a handsome young woman. They drove through the western part of the city, and concluded to go through the beautiful avenues of Western Park. But when they reached the gate the guard stopped them with the command that they must stay out or have lights in the lamps on their conveyances. There was no store near, and they were about to give up the idea of a delightful drive under the shady trees when in utter desperation the young man drew forth a silk handkerchief, rolled it up and lit one end after putting it in the lamp. The guard did not notice the trick, and they passed through the gate. The handkerchief quickly burned out, leaving them in the dark and in the park. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Exhibition of Petroleum Motors.

An exhibition of petroleum motors will take place at Berlin next June. The chief points of the programme issued by the Special Committee of the Union of German Mechanical Engineers are: (1) Those motors only are to be admitted which work with petroleum of at least 0.80 specific weight (which excludes benzine and other motors); (2) the motors will be tried in May, and the exact results will be communicated to the exhibitors and published; (3) the trials will be made as regards power developed, smoothness and ease of working and handling, accessibility, simplicity and solidity of construction, price, lubrication, safety, etc.

Alleged Consumption Cure.

Dr. Viquat, of Geneva, after a long study of tuberculosis, has, according to reports, reached some extraordinary results. Twenty-seven tuberculous patients of the second or third degree have undergone his treatment (subcutaneous injection of the serum of asses) and twenty-five, who had been given up their physicians as lost, are, it is recorded, to-day entirely cured. An authoritative report gives the names and addresses of twenty-five patients treated. As a result of this success a philanthropic Genevaan has founded in Geneva the Viquat Institute for the treatment of persons whose cases are looked upon as hopeless.—Invention.

Prizes for Smoke Suppression.

The Corporation of Paris are, it is announced, prepared to receive, until November 1, detailed designs for the suppression of the smoke nuisance, the prizes being 10,000, 5,000 and 2,000 francs. A similar competition has been determined upon for the purification of the River Seine. Tests are to be made by a specially-appointed commission and that result will be considered most successful which gives a clear, colorless water without disagreeable taste and free from microbes of a character dangerous to health. The prizes vary from 1,000 to 3,000 francs.—Invention.

THE HERMIT OF SAN CLEMENTE.

The Only Inhabitant of an Island 60 Miles Off the California Coast.

San Clemente Island, which lies sixty miles west, one-half south of Point Loma Light-house on the southern coast of California, is eighteen miles and a half long, with an average width of two and a half miles and an area of fifty-one and a half square miles. It is a lonesome spot, suggestive of Spanish buccannery and pirates generally. It rears its ugly head of black plutonic rock nearly 2,000 feet above the sea level, and in the deep gulches treasures a few sunny trees as a miser guards his gold. Cactus abounds. Natural water tanks in the rock are found on the edges of the plateau. They were worn by rocks whirled around in boats during heavy rain-falls. The water in these tanks has saved the lives of many a thirsty mariner who has put in there for a supply of the life-giving fluid. It was here that Cabrillo landed in October, 1542, after discovering San Diego harbor. He named the island La Victoria, after one of his smaller ships, the present name having been given a century later.

There is but one human being on San Clemente, the hermit herder, Tom Gallagher. Tom's character with a history. His shaggy head and beard and curious attire give him the look of a savage, but Tom is very much of a white man in his heart, even though he has lived alone with his sheep for over twenty years. Occasionally a straggling juk seeking abalone, or now and then a fisherman, stops in the cave of San Clemente, brings Tom the news, and furnishes him with supplies. To look on Tom's tongue the explorer must have handy a chew of tobacco and a drink of whiskey. He has a favorite water tank somewhere, but he never tells its location. Whiskey is a novelty to this hermit, but it never causes him to forget himself sufficiently to reveal the details of his mainland life. He was a fisherman somewhere between San Diego and Monterey Bay. He had good prospects but one day he took it into his head to live alone on San Clemente. That is about all that Tom will say of himself.

There are people who claim to know Tom's history, and it is a romantic story, they say, with a love affair in it, of course. The woman jilted him, and he sought the island cloister. Tom lives in a comfortable hut, with a vegetable patch, chickens, a goat and his sheep. His is a regular Robinson Crusoe outfit, except that there is no man Friday to serve him. This lord of San Clemente does not want servants. He simply wants to be let alone, with only his animals and his gun for companions.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Funny Little Story.

A funny little story, with a moral, comes from Esch, by way of a London exchange. Not long ago, a lady, who had just arrived from Roumania, took a stroll to Schloss Doppel Black, a celebrated point of view. There she met a young married lady, accompanied by her little girl. The smart, rather over-dressed stranger was much struck with the child's frock, which was exquisitely embroidered, with forget-me-nots, and advancing, calmly asked the youthful mother where the garment was bought. "I embroidered all her frocks myself; it gives me such pleasure," was the smiling answer. At this a shade of scorn came on the questioner's face, and she said, with ill-concealed contempt: "That is only possible with a very small household. People like myself, who have so many visitors, and move in the best society, have no time for such middle-class pleasures." The other lady laughed, but returned no answer, and the fair Roumanian continued boasting until at last her hearer said mildly: "I also have to play hostess occasionally. My father, the Emperor, favors us from time to time with a visit, and the Empress often comes to see her grandchildren, as well as many other members of the imperial family; but all the same, I have invariable leisure in the morning hours to do embroidery for my little girl." And before the stranger had recovered from her embarrassment the Archduchess Valerie and her small daughter were gone.

Self-Righting Boat.

An iron boat has recently been constructed by a Nottingham inventor, who proposes to cross the Atlantic in it. The vessel has a whaleback deck and is ten feet six inches long, with three feet beam and two feet six inches depth. The cabin, which is lighted by glass windows at the side, will be completely watertight when closed, fresh air being obtained by pipes. Should the vessel be overturned the inventor claims that it will automatically right itself. It will be fitted with a ten-foot mast from the fore deck, with jib and mainsail and additional motive power will be supplied by a geared hand screw. The inventor, says our informant, has spent about a year in the construction of this boat. He will launch from Nottingham and expects that his voyage will take him about four or five weeks to accomplish.—London Invention.

No Life in Tommy Wheat.

An experiment on Lord Winchelsea's "Cable" farm has just decided the oft-mooted question whether or not the mummy wheat found in the Egyptian tombs really possesses the germs of life. A few months ago Lord Sheffield, on his return from Egypt, gave Lord Winchelsea a handful of wheat which he had himself taken from a sarcophagus containing a mummy. One hundred of these grains were carefully planted under a glass frame. The result was awaited with interest by those who knew of the experiment but after some weeks the seed were discovered to have rotted away.—London Daily News.

Names of Japanese Ships of War.

It is the custom of the Japanese to add to the names of their ships of war the word Kan, a term which is of Chinese origin and means war vessel, and their war ships are always spoken of in this way, as: Naniwa Kan, Hashidate Kan, etc. In a similar manner the word Maru is added to the names of merchant vessels, as: Omi Maru, Yamashiro Maru. The word is of obscure origin. It is believed to be a corruption of Maro, an archaic term of endearment.—Harper's Weekly.

What is CASTORIA? Castoria is Dr. Samuel Fischer's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it secures a stock of superabundance to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS BAUTTE, D. D., New York City.

The Boy Knew.

The hands of the clock pointed to 2.45, and school would not be dismissed until 4, so the schoolmaster, who was a strict moralist, thought he would give the young ideas a short lecture on goodness and morality. After explaining to the little folks the various grades of punishment for infractions of the law she resolved to ask a few questions to ascertain if her words had been comprehended. "Now, children," said she, "I've told you what becomes of bad men and how good men get on by loitering about saloons and associating with bad men. Now let me see how many of you have profited by my talk. I wish some of you to tell me where your papas hope to go."

Nobody answered. It was plain the schoolmaster was in too deep water for the youngsters. She seemed to think, too, so she said: "I'll make that a little easier. Tell me where your papas don't want to go (expecting such answers as prison, penitentiary and jail)?"

There was a painful wait, but finally a little fellow in one of the rear seats slowly raised his hand.

"Ah, there's one boy that can answer that question! Tell us, Tommy, where your papa doesn't want to go."

"To church," replied Tommy. "I says so every Sunday morning."

No Freckles For Her.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed and advertised preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt the same. J. T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk, Plainfield, N. J., October 15, 1894.

AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING THE CONSTRUCTION, MAINTENANCE AND REPAIR OF SIDEWALKS.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows: Section 1. That all sidewalks shall have a width not less than one-fifth of the entire width of the street, and all sidewalks hereafter laid shall be raised, from the curbstone to the street, by a curbstone, and the proportion of five inches in ten feet, unless otherwise specially directed by resolution of the Common Council, provided that this section shall not apply to sidewalks which have been previously been established by ordinance.

Section 2. That all sidewalks in said city shall be well and sufficiently repaired and maintained at the expense of the abutting land owners, so as to be even on the surface and so laid and constructed as freely to shed water, and for the width of at least four feet free from grass, weeds, stubble and other foreign substances.

Section 3. That within that portion of said city described as follows, viz: beginning with the intersection of the northwesterly side line of Norwood avenue with Green Brook street, running thence along said northwesterly side line of Norwood avenue continuing along the northwesterly side line of Richmond street to its intersection with the center line of Watchung avenue; thence in a straight line to the intersection of the easterly side line of Ninth street with the southerly line of Third place; thence along said easterly side line of Ninth street to its intersection with the southerly side line of Green Brook street; and thence along Green Brook street to the intersection of said southerly side line of Watchung avenue with both sides of Watchung avenue; also on both sides of Watchung avenue from both sides of Watchung avenue to Woodland avenue; both sides of West Front street from Plainfield avenue to Grant avenue; and both sides of East Front street from Richmond street to Fairmount road, both sides of Central avenue from Ninth street to Randolph road, in all cases in which sidewalks are not already constructed of blue stone flagging, sidewalks shall be constructed at the expense of the abutting land-owners, and unless otherwise specially permitted by resolution of the Common Council, shall be composed of blue stone flagging, smooth and even on the surface, and properly laid in one course under the direction of and on such plans as shall be given by the Street Commissioner, and the flags shall not be less than four feet long and not less than two feet wide and not less than one and one-half inches thick in the thinnest part. And within that portion of the City of Plainfield described in this section, in all cases in which sidewalks are not already curbed with stone, cement, concrete, wood and durable substance, said sidewalks shall, when ordered by resolution of the Common Council, be curbed at the expense of the abutting land-owners, and unless otherwise specially permitted by resolution of the Common Council shall be curbed with blue stone or iron-thinset, not less than four inches thick in the thinnest part and sixteen inches in depth, smooth and even on the surface and laid in one course under the direction of and on such plans as shall be given by the Street Commissioner. That all returns curbs shall have a slant of six feet, so placed to be less than three feet two inches in length.

Section 4. That within that portion of the said city not embraced within the foregoing sections described in Sec. 3 in all cases in which sidewalks are not now constructed in the manner hereinafter provided in this section, sidewalks shall be constructed at the expense of the Common Council, and unless otherwise specially permitted by resolution of the Common Council, and unless otherwise specially permitted by resolution of the Common Council, shall be composed of blue stone flagging, smooth and even on the surface, and properly laid in one course under the direction of and on such plans as shall be given by the Street Commissioner, and the flags shall not be less than four feet long and not less than two feet wide and not less than one and one-half inches thick in the thinnest part. And within that portion of the City of Plainfield described in this section, in all cases in which sidewalks are not already curbed with stone, cement, concrete, wood and durable substance, said sidewalks shall, when ordered by resolution of the Common Council, be curbed at the expense of the abutting land-owners, and unless otherwise specially permitted by resolution of the Common Council shall be curbed with blue stone or iron-thinset, not less than four inches thick in the thinnest part and sixteen inches in depth, smooth and even on the surface and laid in one course under the direction of and on such plans as shall be given by the Street Commissioner. That all returns curbs shall have a slant of six feet, so placed to be less than three feet two inches in length.

Section 5. It is hereby made the duty of the owners of land abutting on the sidewalks of said city to comply with the preceding sections of this Ordinance, under the direction and supervision of the Street Commissioner. The Street Commissioner is hereby authorized to serve notices in writing upon the owners or occupants of such lands, requiring the necessary specified work to said sidewalks to be done by said owners and occupants within a period of thirty days from the date of such notice, and shall file with the City Clerk due proof of the names of parties on which notices have been served; if any of said lands are unoccupied the owner cannot be found within the city, the said notice shall be mailed, postage prepaid, to his or her post-office address if the same can be ascertained; in case such owner is a non-resident of the city and his or her post-office address cannot be ascertained, then the notice may be inserted for four weeks once a week, in the official newspapers of the city.

Section 6. That in case the owner or occupant of such lands shall not comply with the requirements of the notice specified in the preceding section, said Street Commissioner shall file in the office of the City Clerk due proof of the service or publication of the aforesaid notice and thereupon the Common Council may by resolution order the required work to be done and paid for, and the cost thereof to be a lien for the costs thereof and to enforce payment of the same pursuant to the statute in such cases made and provided.

Section 7. That Section 3 of an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance relating to streets and sidewalks and encroachments thereon," and the ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance concerning the Construction, Maintenance and Repair of Sidewalks," and an amendment of said last named ordinance approved August 4th, 1893, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 8. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances which were repealed or abrogated by any ordinance hereby repealed, shall continue to be so repealed and shall be deemed abrogated.
