The station, under Sergeant Ahear, who has been in charge here, will be replaced by a commissioned officer and four privates ever opened in this city which will, it is hoped, result in obtaining the necessary number.

Plainfielders Will Command a "Sub-Sea Chaser" in War

The $25,000 necessary for the building of the craft and its equipment already subscribed and announced by the building committee has been fully completed between July 1 and July 15, Warren Ackerman and Rowland are making final preparations for the "sub-sea chaser" in the Government yard. The naval authorities have accepted the proposition of the two patriotic local young men to build the vessel. It is a prospect that will be added to the patrol fleet of the coast of England by next September. Mr. Ackerman has received his full honors as ensign's examiners, which give him that rank and the command of the vessel. Rowland is in command with the rank of chief quartermaster, first class. The crew, including Ackerman and Rowland, will be made up of thirteen men, Thomas Franer, proprietor of a local garage, who has had ten years' experience in the English navy, Logan, chief engineer, will be the cook, first of the crew will be commander, second engineer, an assistant quartermaster, two gunners,

MAYOR'S REGISTRATION DAY PROCLAMATION

The President has named Tuesday, June 5th, to be observed throughout the land as a day set apart not merely for the performance of a duty by men of the prescribed military age, but generally by the people for the thoughtful consideration of what this means to them and to the nation. We are at war, as we believe, to serve mankind and not ourselves alone; if our young men are answering their country's call not so much in defense of a separate and selfish liberty as in the apt words of the President to fight not for the sake of human liberty the world over, then, indeed, is their response honorable and their service privileged, and it is fitting that the day be held by all the people in sacred regard.

To this end it would seem more in keeping with the spirit of the occasion if the day be marked by simple and devotional observance, rather than by the more elaborate programs which usually mark the events of a public character.

I therefore suggest that mention be made of the day and of its significance be made by the principal of each of our schools at the opening exercises; and that a short half-hour service of devotional patriotism be held in all our churches at half past eight o'clock in the evening, when the young men of America are completing their enrollment in behalf of all that American manhood and womanhood holds dear. Let the church bells begin ringing at a quarter after eight o'clock, so that all the people forego their usual pursuits at that hour and gather at their places of worship, to seek a blessing for the men who go to the front and guidance that whatever they do, we shall do, professing love for country and for the cause of Liberty and humanity, shall be a service which is honorable in His sight.

Bad Tangle Over Small Elk Troupe "Vets" Parade Land Strip for Big Show

A mistake made by the late George A. Pound in deeding two separate pieces of property on Watchung avenue in 1914 has caused a legal tangle already involving three separate contestants, and may include more before the courts decide the ownership of a triangular piece of ground having a frontage of but 4.5 feet. The offending parcel is situated between the property of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mason, Jr., at 127 Watchung, and the corner place directly next door belonging to many years to John Stevens and now held by the Home Real Estate Company. Both owners claim it as a part of their property. The matter is now before the courts, and the case is being argued by the attorney for the Home Real Estate Company, who started by buying the Mason place and has made a part payment, wants to know whether he gets it or whether he does not. The Masons have already made a part payment to settle the legal dispute for them and the realty company has retained Walter L. Hofford, Jr., and Mr. Woodruff has retained the lawyer in the care of John H. Van Winkle, Jr. For this array of legal talent the Plainfield Trust Company and the State Trust Company, who have not yet made up their minds as to whether they will contribute Ass F. Randolph as their share of counsel. The "tangle" drama will probably be staged at the next sitting of the United States Circuit Court. Which ever side loses will have to back the former owners who gave warranty deeds to get rid of the matter in many more litigations.

The defect in the two titles was discovered a short time ago by John Hoff, who has been acting as the search for W. A. Woodruff after the latter had signed up to purchase the Mason place. The lawyer found that the deed was made to the name of Charles Johnson, which called for a frontage on Watchung avenue of thirty-four feet three inches. Later he found the deed made to James Park and the frontage specified over that of Johnson by the developer.

LOCAL GIRL PICKED FOR NURSING DUTY IN FRANCE

Mrs. Anna Callahan, daughter of Thomas Callahan, of East Second street, has been selected as nurse in the Cross nurse and will sail from New York for foreign service about June 10. She is to be a member of the Red Cross hospital unit of the American Red Cross, which she was graduated from this hospital last spring. She has since been practicing her profession in Brooklyn. Mrs. Callahan is the daughter of a prominent family in Plainfield and is a graduate of the High School in the class of 1912. She has been unusually successful in her hospital work and regularly met all the requirements for the difficult nursing in a field hospital.

Miss Helen Callahan, another daughter of Thomas Callahan, has also offered her services to one of the New York Red Cross contingents to be sent to France. She is also a graduate from St. Mary's School and took her nursing course in the Brooklyn City Hospital. She has been graduated several years ago. She, too, has been practicing nursing in Brooklyn.

SEEKS CHAPLAINCY.

Rev. Father Joseph S. McDonald, formerly assistant rector of St. Patrick's church, is in line to be one of the priests from the Newark diocese to do chaplain service with the American army abroad. Every clergyman of the diocese responded to the call for volunteers and after eliminations had been made because of age and other causes, nineteen are now available. Fourteen of these are to be appointed. Father O'Connell and Father McDonald stand well forward on the list. He is now assistant rector of St. Patrick's church, Jersey City.

Liberty Loan Appeal to be Launched Here

Plainfield has been thrown directly in the path of the huge Liberty Loan campaign which is sweeping the country and the coming week should result in the writing of a page in the city's financial history such as has never been equaled before. Plans have been laid during the past few days for a systematizing of the movement and within the next week it will be under full swing with the municipal government, the banking institutions and numerous business men lending their efforts for the success of the idea. Thus far the city has made a fairly good showing in the matter of contributing to the Liberty Loan, but it is now to be made possible for every person, rich or poor, to become the owner of at least one bond issued by their government.

Here are the main features of the city's Liberty Loan campaign: Over half a million dollars has already been subscribed. The citizens' committee meets tonight to discuss plans. Clubs are to be started on the installment plan for the benefit of those of moderate means. The Plainfield Trust, State Trust, City National and First National banks are cooperating in the movement.

At a meeting of the citizens' committee appointed recently by Mayor Calkins and representatives of the local banks to be held in the Council chamber in the City Building tonight, plans will be completed for the adopting of a systematic distribution of Liberty Bonds in this city. At a meeting of the local banks held earlier in the week it was agreed that the Plainfield Trust Company, State Trust Company, City National Bank and First National Bank should co-operate in the movement and the committee of prominent business men, who are all residents of this city, will aid in whatever way possible.

The general course of action agreed upon by the banks and the details of which will be completed at tonight's meeting is to start a Liberty Loan club at each of the four institutions somewhat similar to the Christmas Clubs. According to the denouement of the bond, the plan is to let each member of the clubs buy so much each week for fifty weeks. If the bond is of the $50 size the installments will be a $1 week and if a $100 will be $2 a week. At the end of the fifty weeks the bank to which the payments were made will turn over the bond to each individual. This plan has been introduced so

Big "Americanization" Mass Meeting to be Held Tonight

A monster mass meeting to spread the idea of Americanism among the people of Plainfield, both foreigners and citizens, and sponsored by every organization in the city, will be held in the auditorium of the Washington school. The meeting, which was originally scheduled to be held on Monday night, but owing to the fact that several who were to speak were out of town, the affair was postponed to the late date. Every one in the city is urged to help along the idea which will eventually, it is hoped, make Plainfield an entirely representative center of Americanism.

The meeting will be presided over by City Judge William G. DeMeza, who is chairman of the committee, and the principal speaker will be Assemblyman William H. Murray. Other speakers who will make addresses include Judge William Newcorn, speaking on behalf of the Jewish population; Rev. Arthur Mangione, pastor of the Italian mission; the Rev. Frederick W. Prebysterian church; Carl Herrmann, who is a fluent German of Plainfield, and Boleslaw Dukacz, a Polish resident of the city but formerly a resident of Chicago. Calkins, other city officials and members of the Board of Education are also expected to be present. The audience has been estimated to be one of the largest of patriotic nature for the occasion. Flags, red, white and blue hunting and other trinkets have been scattered profusely over the hall and there will be plenty of patriotic music in addition to everything else of a similar nature, as the Dutch Arms Band has offered to be present and contribute a program of national airs.

Tonight's meeting is only another event in the drive launched at the organization of the committee a month ago. At that time the committee conducted a naturalization bureau in the East End and West End and the organization of the committee a month ago. At that time the committee was so great that it was decided to hold the mass meeting and give those who wished a change to American citizenship a special Americanization. Plainfield has a population of foreign born of approximately 1,300

To Sentence Dewey Today; Other Cases

Sitting in the Court of General Sessions this afternoon, Judge Connolly will impose sentence upon Ronald Dewey, of East Orange, who has been out under heavy bail since he was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Hilda Hodgson at Scotch Plains last fall. Dewey was driving the auto that ran down the Hodgson girl and several companions on Springfield road one stormy night as they were returning from church.

One of the cases that will be tried this afternoon is that of Mabel Mills, who has pleaded not guilty to committing a serious offense with a National Guardsman on duty in this city. Mrs. Florence Williams will be arraigned on a similar charge, to which she also pleaded not guilty. Charles Gitting is being held for trial, also following a plea of guilty to the charge of stealing a horse blanket from John W. Snyder, of this city.

Other cases having a local interest that will be tried in the near future are as follows: John Doyle and James Vitell, charged with assault, trial June 8; Brooks Carson, defendant, trial June 8; and Robert John Smith, assault and battery, trial June 11.

Dr. Hudson Left Today for Maine Pastorate

Dr. Birney S. Hudson, Mrs. Hudson and daughter left for Portland, Maine, today where Dr. Hudson will preach his initial sermon on Sunday as pastor of the First Baptist church of that place. Following the resignation of Rev. Gabriel Reed McGuire as pastor, Dr. Hudson became pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church about two years ago and until May 1 had done much to build up the parish. On that date he notified the congregation that he had received a call from the Portland church and asked that his resignation be accepted. He was given the month of May as a vacation by the church and after the vacation left Plainfield ready to enter his new field of endeavor.

Dr. Hudson gained many friends during his stay in this city and was one of those most active during the Belvidere campaign of last spring. During the past month his place in the local church has been filled by supplies; but it is probable a call for a new pastor will be issued in the near future.

Certain to Locate Prison Farm Near Plainfield

Farm Near Plainfield

Prosholders Marsh, Applegate and Brook, together with Augustus J. Hutchon, warden of the county jail, made a careful inspection of the proposed prison farm site near Bonanza Burn this week. The officials spent hours on the tract and went over the ground with a view to ascertaining how adaptable it is for the purpose, commencing upon it this morning. Warden Hutchon declared that it fits the natural resources necessary for a county farm.

The feeholders have been going into the prison farm matter with a great deal of thoroughness and a number of different tracts have been examined. With the idea of making the institution a permanent one, every precaution is being taken to acquire a suitable site. Thus far there has been no attempt to settle on any one place and it is likely that several other places will be visited before any decision is reached. Warden Hutchon, after the trip, said that he could not believe that if as passed through the county district, how desirable it is that there is so much idle land and so many idle men, when they could all be producing something.

To Hold Exhibition in Harrison School

Shortly after North Plainfield began to realize the seriousness of the food situation plans were made to develop unused land in the borough to increase local production, and now the problem of preserving the food supply has been turned over practically entirely to the Parent-Teacher Association. At a meeting that organization yesterday afternoon Mrs. Matthew Christ was appointed chairman of a committee of fifteen and already plans have been started to take matters up.

The committee has announced that as the start of its activities it would hold a demonstration of cooking and preserving according to government standards in the auditorium of the Harrison Avenue School tonight. Everyone is welcome to attend, and a small admission to be spent in purchasing equipment will be sold. After the demonstration a social hour with games and dancing will be enjoyed. Other announcements concerning steps to be taken will be forthcoming at intervals.

Lightning Turns Stranger Around and Stuns Occupants of Park Avenue Hotel

In the midst of the violent thunderstorm which passed over Plainfield Monday night, lightning played an effort has been made to about Thomas Brantingham's hotel on lower Park avenue in a most spectacular manner, during which one particular bolt performed numerous tricks. As far as can be determined it first struck a pole in front of the building which supports an electric sign directly on the street and somehow or other got to the roof and entered the hotel itself. A part of the bolt came in contact with Henry Van Nels, an employe, in a semi-conscious condition for he knocked him from his chair, several minutes after the electrical where he sat quietly watching the progress of the storm. A clear trace which he held to his mouth was pulled out by him and landed against the wall fifteen feet away. Mr. Brantingham and other occupants of the building were partially stunned for the time being and had disappeared he was 100 feet away from the hotel when it was struck. It is the general belief of the watchers that he was lifted completely off his feet and turned around as it was impossible for him to have made his getaway so quick. Mrs. Michael Quinn, who lives in his identity but without any of the same bolt which played about the Brantingham hotel evidently carried about the old Dutch residence in a direct line to the north. The flash burned off the telephone wires and seemed to penetrate every room in the house. Mrs. Michael Quinn and her husband were the most directly concerned, receiving a severe shock which left her in a semi-conscious condition for several minutes after the electrical storm. The lightning also struck the roof of the hotel and was ripped down by the wind. It is believed that no one was killed or badly injured. The lightning struck the front porch of the building. He had reached the landing as the bolt descended and when the bolt reached the front porch of the building, it was 100 feet away from the hotel when it was struck. It is the general belief of the watchers that he was lifted completely off his feet and turned

ALIENS MUST GET PERMITS IN WAR ZONES.
 United States Marshal Bollschweiler is finding it difficult to handle the mass of applications for permits to enter forbidden war zones proclaimed by the President. Bollschweiler's headquarters are in the Federal building in Newark and aliens from nearby sections, including this city, apply there for permits. As the President's proclamation enjoins almost every kind of military or industrial visit a barred zone, an alien can hardly travel anywhere at present without a permit. Plainfield residents who are alien enemies are expected to report to Marshal Bollschweiler for permits. It is probable that many Germans have been traveling about the town without observing the law, but in a very short time it is expected that steps will be taken by the authorities to enforce the barred zone restrictions.

GOOD RESULTS FROM COAL CONTROVERSY.

Whether or not there is to be an early reduction in the price of coal in Plainfield, Leslie R. Fort's recent controversy with the local dealers has been a great benefit to the community. It has shown plain that this city has been paying more money for the commodity than is asked in the nearby towns of Westfield, Bound Brook, Somerville, Elizabeth and Newark.

AN APPEAL TO PATRIOTIC YOUTHS.

Probably there is no place where the main-springs of human actions are laid bare so clearly as in a recruiting office. As men are gathered for the service, the workings of the human mind are visible as the idea of duty is born, as it grows and as it culminates in action.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT A LIBERTY BOND?

The fact that you, Mr. Plainfielder, have not been selected to go to the front as a fighting unit for the defense of your country does not exempt you from patriotic service.

What they did for right—what they did for Christ, what they did for their country, we are now also called upon to do. It should spur us to give of our best, that their one great regret in these days of stress is that they cannot offer their lives all over again for the country, they have already served so well.

Colleges to Honor Many From Here

Fifty thousand dollars worth of United States Liberty bonds have been purchased by the Maxwell Motor Co., Inc. to be given as prizes in another nationwide Maxwell-sponsored one-gallon gasoline economy competition, similar to the one conducted on May 22. Troop D Will Train in the Southland

New Jersey's National Guardsmen will be trained in the south under Major General Leonard Wood. Recently transferred from the command of the Eastern Department to the Southern Department, part of the state's duty is at present on duty and the remainder will be mobilized on July 25. Troop D of this city will be one of the units called on to report and now that the date is known every effort will be concentrated so as to be ready to move. The troop is already up to peace strength and if the order comes to increase its strength there will be enough in the waiting list to fill the ranks.

When the troop goes into active service it will be as an artillery unit. Because cavalry is of little use on the battlefields of Europe, the cavalry will be formed into field artillery companies, according to unofficial dispatches coming from Washington.

Personal Mention of Plainfielders and Others Who Have Heeded the Summons of Death During the Past Week.

HENRY FOSBER.
Henry Fosber, a resident of Plainfield for the past forty-seven years, died Sunday morning at his home on West sixth street, following an illness of about one month from a complication of troubles. He was a native of Ireland, but came to this city when he was a young man. He worked for various contracting builders, his last employers being Tallamy Brothers, with whom he had been for fourteen years. He was a member of St. Mary's church and was widely known, especially in the West End, where he had always made his home. Beside his wife Mrs. Fosber is survived by four daughters and two sons, as follows: Mrs. Hugh Kelly, of Elizabeth; Mrs. Thomas Parquette, of Lee Place; Mrs. William Nichols, of Union street; and Miss Anna Fosber and Thomas Fosber, living in the parental home, and George Fosber, of Somerset street.

The funeral was held in St. Mary's church, Tuesday morning, where a high mass was said by Rev. Father B. M. Moran in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. There were numerous floral tributes which included a large set of flowers from the employees of the Woolworth store, where Miss Anna Fosber is bookkeeper. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, the pall-bearers being: John Newman, Maurice O'Connor, Frederic Ehrhardt, George Nicol, John Stinson and Peter Kane.

ANDREW JUDGE.
Andrew Judge, a resident of the city of borough for nearly thirty years, died Wednesday morning in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, where he had been undergoing treatment. He was born in Ireland in 1868 and on making his home here secured employment with building contractors. Recently he had been employed at the Singer plant in South Plainfield. Beside his wife he leaves six children: Thomas, Andrew, Catherine, Anna, John and Nora. He also leaves the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. William McCarthy, of Plainfield; Patrick, of Ireland; Maurice, of France; Maria, of Australia; Mrs. Kate Brown, of Ireland; and Miss Anna Judge, of Ireland.

The funeral was held in St. Joseph's church, Thursday morning, where Mr. Judge was a communicant, the mass being offered by Rev. Father P. J. Hart. The service was attended by many relatives and friends and there were numerous floral tributes. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Following the Plainfield Boys at Ft. Meyer Learning Rudiments of Modern Warfare

Plainfield has a large delegation of "campers" in the making at Fort Meyer, Va., where for the past two weeks they have been undergoing rigid training with 2,500 other young men from all over the East. There are many more local men who have passed their examinations, but they were not lucky enough to be called for the first camp and will have to wait until the present contingent has been mobilized into efficient officers. A spirit of grim earnestness has developed in the camp, and every thought of frolic and recreation has been set aside in the drive of sixteen hours, from 5:30 in the morning until 9:30 at night. When the evening officers get through with their extensive study they readily turn to their double-decked cot fit as a fiddle for that refreshing sleep that comes only with wholesome physical and mental fatigue.

The daily schedule of a soldier in camp runs something like this: In the morning at 5:30 he is roused out of his bunk and makes a hasty toilet, straightens out his bed, arranges his equipment in its proper place and then hustles out to mess. After the mess there comes a half hour of physical exercises under Captain Keeler who mounts a platform and put 250 men through a series of snappy drill movements. The exercises give them breathing exercises to help their chest development and they do a batch of other things to make them hard and strong.

Immediately following this drill the men are taken out in companies of 125 each and given a marching drill, including the various movements in the manual of arms of the Infantry and the various phases of firing and sighting rifles. In the afternoon the men are given a march drill on the parade grounds, but for half an hour before this takes place they dress and make up of soldiers get together and help each other brush up on the face and arms.

Following the somewhat drill a bayonet exercise. In which the men are taught how to fix the bayonet quickly in hand-to-hand combat. The afternoon program frequently contains a short hike through the Virginia hills or recreational drill on the parade grounds. The return to the camp is followed by a short wash-up period and then evening

Special Arrangements for Buying Liberty Bonds

10 PER CENT. UPON APPLICATION BALANCE IN CONVENIENT INSTALLMENTS

We want every Man, Woman and Child to subscribe to these bonds. It is not only your duty, but a privilege. They are an excellent investment, free from Income Tax, and will probably sell above par in the coming months. To those who are unable to pay for them according to the Government plan, we will ADVANCE THE MONEY, AT AN UNUSUALLY LOW RATE OF INTEREST, to buy them.

You will pay us 10 per cent. down and the balance in weekly or monthly installments preferably monthly, and when you have paid the full amount, the bond, with interest due, will be yours. This is entirely separate and different from our usual loan and discount account, and we will not loan money in our regular business at such a low rate.

The Government plan for payment is as follows:

- Two per centum on application;
- Eighteen per centum on June 28, 1917;
- Twenty per centum on July 30, 1917;
- Thirty per centum on August 15, 1917;
- Thirty per centum on August 30, 1917.

and we recommend for convenience that this be adopted, but there are those who, perhaps, are not in a position to pay this way, and we do not want anyone to feel that they will not take a bond because they can not afford it or pay for it promptly.

Subscriptions should be made at once, and we will handle the entire matter for you without charge, taking care of the bonds and doing all of the necessary work.

Get More Mileage

If one railroad sold mileage books good for 5000 miles, and another road gave but 3500 miles for about the same price, which road would you patronize?

Then, why be satisfied with tires adjusted on a 3500-mile basis when you can get Quakers backed with a 5000-mile adjustment guarantee?

Records show that Quaker Tires give careful drivers 7000, 9000, 11,000 and more miles. Temporarily the rubber does that.

Nearly every car owner who tries one Quaker comes back for three more.

You need to know the things we can tell you about Quaker Tires. Will you let us tell you?

Tires wear down as evenly and smoothly as a piece of steel.

They show great wear resistance and are practically immune to road cutting and chipping.

The Prodium Process does prolong the life of the tire.
