Princeton Day School
Princeton, New Jersey

Jim Gramentine, Headmaster

Welcome,

We, the Senior class, welcome you to PDS and congratulate you on such a successful year. Next year when we are starting over, we will remember your "starting over" with gratitude for setting such a fine example. Good luck in the years to come.

— The Class of '84 —

Dedication

Janet Stoltzfus

We think of you as an old friend, and our thanks for your time, effort, and devotion are long overdue. You have stuck with us as class adviser, collective mother, and personal friend from our first days in the Upper School, and for many of us, as far back as we can remember. Your effect on the school as a whole has been as profound as the modesty and selflessness with which you communicate your real concern for the welfare of others. The countless hours you have devoted to founding the Community Service Organization have made it a success, and transformed the image, and the philosophy of Princeton Day School. Your hardwork and deep seated devotion to your fellow human beings will continue to stand as an inspiration for our class and the entire school. Thank you.

Are you not ashamed that you give your attention to acquiring as much money as possible, and similarly with reputation and honor, and give no attention or thought to truth and understanding and the perfection of your soul?

The Wandering Ego

His ego wandered onto paper
Where he knew that it would be seen.
His ego existed for the people.
People loved him in a magazine.

He dedicated his life to that paper
He knew in his heart that words were real.
Words are like a broken television
You can't get the picture and you don't know how to feel.

So put the word — seller in the dungeon
Our crocodile will enjoy him.
Crocodiles talk! Isn't that what he came for?
Now he can finally speak his mind.

Heavenly father, teach me that life is full of hazards, sandtraps and water holes, and that only by overcoming evil and enduring tribulations do we enter the Kingdom of Heaven. When I drive into the rough, let me not blame the club — maybe I am the sinner and need more discipline. If, by pure luck, I make a hole-in-one, let me not boast, but think of all the exercise I missed. And finally, teach me that the way I play golf, I would be better off in church on Sunday.

In each of us two powers preside, one male, one female; and in the man's brain, the man predominates over the woman, and in the woman's brain, the woman predominates over the man. The normal and comfortable state of being is that when two live in harmony together, spiritually cooperating.

Those whom heaven helps we call the sons of heaven. They do not learn this by learning. They do not work it by working. They do not reason it by using reason. To let understanding stop at what cannot be understood is a high attainment. Those who cannot do it will be destroyed on the lathe of heaven.

Chuang Tse XXIII

For there is nothing important except people. A person is defined solely by the extent of his influence over other people, by the sphere of his interrelationships; and morality is an utterly meaningless term unless defined as the good one does to others, the fulfilling of one's function in the sociopolitical whole.

Of all the good byes I have heard, the Japanese Sayonara
"Since it must be so" — is the most beautiful.

To laugh is to risk appearing the fool,
 To weep is to risk appearing sentimental,
 To reach out for another is to risk involvement,
 To expose feelings is to risk exposing the self,
 To place ideas and dreams before the crowd
 is to risk loss,
 To love is to risk rejection,
 To live is to risk dying,
 To try at all is to risk failure,
 But risk we must,
 Because the greatest hazard of all
 is to risk nothing,
 For those who risk nothing
 do nothing, have nothing, are nothing.

For I have known them all already, known them all —
Have known the evenings, mornings, afternoons,
I have measured out my life with coffee spoons;
I know the voices dying with a dying fall
Beneath the music from a farther room.
So how should I presume?

And I have known the eyes already, known them all —
The eyes that fix you in a formulated phrase,
And when I am formulated, sprawling on a pin,
When I am pinned and wriggling on the wall,
Then how should I begin
To spit out all the butt-ends of my days and ways?
And how should I presume?

But it was still needful to expiate that ancient sin, the theft of fire by Prometheus. As it happened, Chiron, the noblest of the Centaurs, had been wounded by a poisoned arrow. Ever tormented by the pain, and never to be healed, the immortal Centaur begged that he be accepted as redemption for Prometheus. The gods heard his prayer, and he died like any wearied man. Zeus remembered his friend, and set him as a shining archer amongst the stars.

Man strives for glory, honor, fame,
That all the world may know his name.

He find that happiness depends
On one of these but love of friends.

For W. C. W.

It is nothing for inspection, implication,
infection, subtlety, symbols,
meaning or motive;
it is woven words,
clean lines
not sacrificing detail,
merely handling the image
to a hankering eye —
painting it
in a few strokes
handling texture
by suggestion

random circles

"Walk randomly 'round the stage,"
The teacher said,
(Who professed to be an actress.)
"Often change your direction
And avoid walking into anyone"
It seemed easier to me
To walk around the center huddle,
Occasionally digging into it
But not too often.
"You all stayed close together."
And I thought of myself
Walking on the fringe of society
Avoiding the crowd,
Their parties of drinking and noise,
Quite often I sit in on conversations
But are never really part of them
Though these words aren't written with melancholy
For I walk circles inside myself first
And despite my faults and idiosyncracies
When walking randomly
I followed no one.

Moderato Non Troppo

I am truly an exceptional genius;
A Renaissance man, if you will,
With silken hose and an embroidered doublet
And a hat from the Bruegel painting I saw in Vienna once
With my brother Jim.
I have a house on the grand canal,
And a villa in Genoa.
Long rolls of spring sausage
Hang in my kitchen.
I have an obese maid servant from Tunisia,
And a fondness for swords and poison.
My imagination runs wild on nights like this,
Filled with Chianti in straw-covered bottles.
Candle wax dripping colors — red, green, blue, yellow,
Thick molten colors.
Etruscan coins rain from a leather pouch,
The golden profiles of ancient kings.

It will be hard, when the bell rings an hour,
And the stylus reaches its last groove,
To watch the mist of Tuscany fade into a chalkboard
And rotate parabolic curves, X squared and Y
Like a trusty old prisoner, a broken horse,
Safe in the claws of my peers.

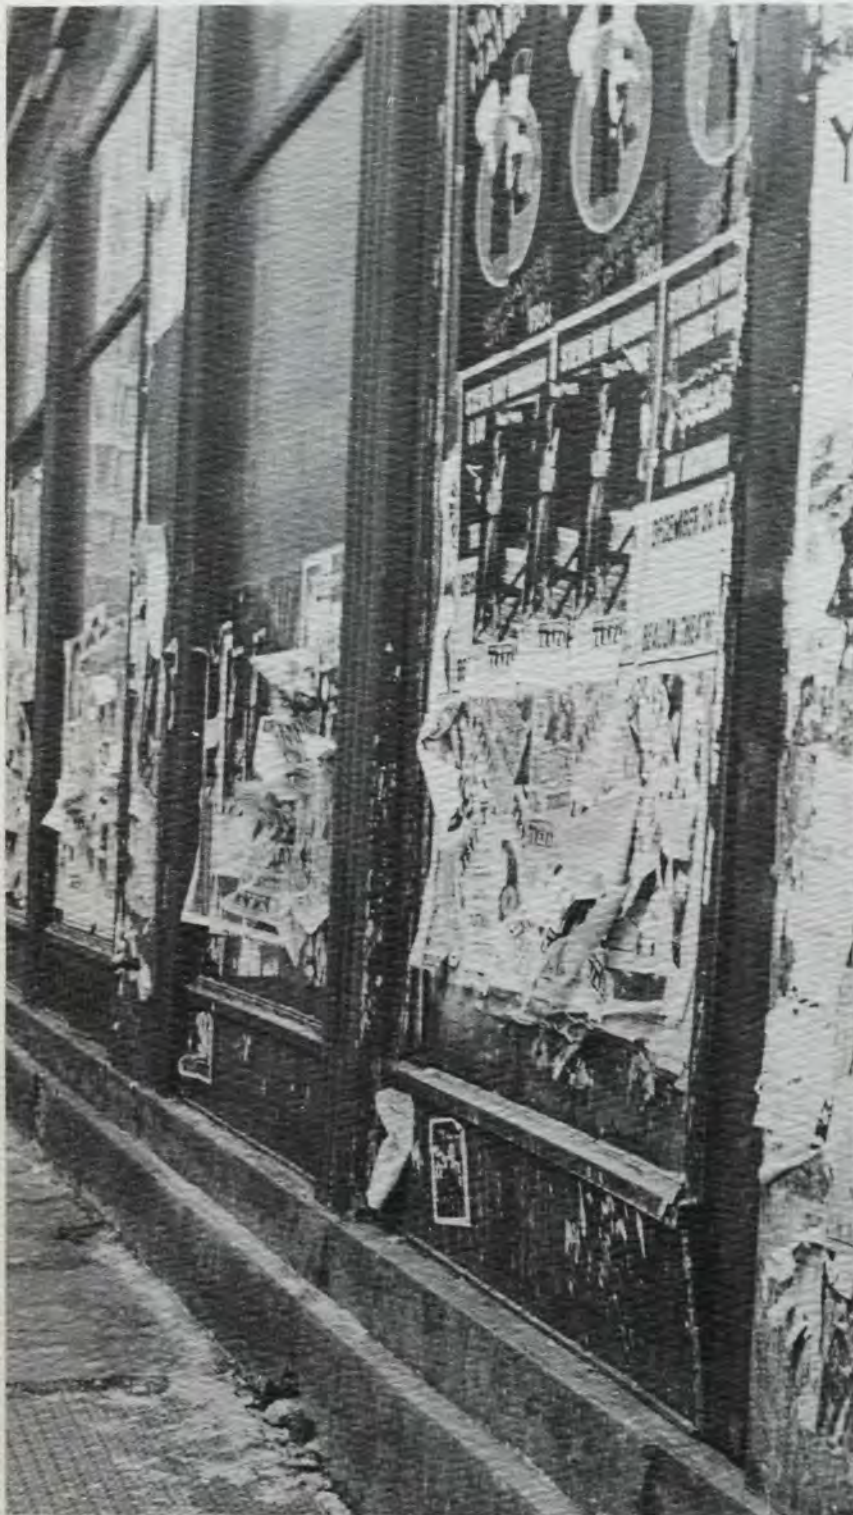

William Blechman XII

Mirrors

Distortions in the water of sky, branches and green ripped and torn apart
by wind and rapids.
And a face,
beyond recognition,
wrinkled by ripples
in the current,
Leaves float over top
breaking an illusion
that was never quite there
But that returns
when the water has calmed.
Rock after Rock attempts to banish the reflections
unreal and untrue
but they come back time after time
as the sun goes down.

Wheat fields,
Like thousands of clones
or prisoners
stare at the endless sky,
waiting,
whispering as the evening wind
changes over.
Never quite still,
their performance is never over.
I didn't come here to watch you!
I plead,
I came to watch myself
in the mirror placed in the sky
as the blue recede
and the dark moves in unseen and cold,
to erase the image
of floating white clouds and mirrors
on blue.

For Popi

Your Paws is too short to type with god,
And your mouth is too small to carry a ball.
Your ears is too big, and bounce when you run,
And sometimes, when you run in the grass, you trip over yourself, and tumble.
But you can always sleep on my desk,
In a little ring from tail to nose,
When I type.

Between orange and green on the spectrum

Like flowering sundrops
From the warm golden globe
That lovingly gives them life;
Sunflowers
Bursting bright yellow
Tempting to touch
An unreachable sky.
Giants
Graced golden; like the buttercups and daisies
Forsythia and lillies,
And a sweet ripened pear
The warm living color
A young child's ball
Which soars through air
rivaling the sun
And fallen is lost
Melded one
with golden rod
Swaying in the redolent-pollened wind.

Soon

Over the sand the waves will crash.
Soon they'll sweep above the land.
Arriving with a quiet splash,
The waves will spread upon the sand.

A child cries out of bad times past.
Mother says good times will come,
And show themselves to us at last.
She yells that they will soon have some.

Shells are washing up the beach;
They sway atop the churning foam.
The child puts out her hands to reach;
But creatures in the shells must roam.

The moon stands where the sun had been.
The mother takes her daughter's hand.
And now they speak of times to win,
While waves do spread upon the sand.

Dear Lynne,
 From the time you were three years old and climbed up on the table to keep up with the six-year-olds — only they all jumped off, while you fell and broke your leg — you have been a determined explorer. This spirit of discovery has stayed with you as you matured, and with your independence, creativity, and intelligence, it will bring you success in your life's goals. Just remember, as we did when you were three, we will always be here to cushion your fall, should you momentarily lose your footing.

With all our love,
 Mother, Dad & Henry

Janet, Sharon, Dale: Your patience is boundless, your assistance endless and selfless.

"It is the province of knowledge to speak. It is the privilege of wisdom to listen" (Oliver Wendell Holmes). We have a special girl. Care. Stay Sweet. We love you.

Mom and Dad

Dear Megan,

Your twelve years at PDS have left us with memories of you growing and maturing — becoming the very special person you are. Your warm and loving personality makes you a "one-in-a-million" daughter. The peer group experience has let you know you are your own person, genuinely sensitive and honest. You have set your own goals and are ready now to go for them. We will miss you very much, and miss seeing your friends as well. (Our laundry room will never be the same!) We know you will love being at South Carolina — take with you all the love, support, and respect we have for you.

Love, Mom & Dad

Dear Meg,

I know that you will be very successful in college. I will miss you very much, because you mean a lot to me, I can't wait until I get the first invitation to visit you in South Carolina. I'm counting on you to come home to see me play against PDS.

Love Always, Steven

Wend: "Can't you read?" That's how it all started. There are so many times I'll never forget. What will I do without your advice? What will I do without you? You have always been there when I needed you, you never let me down. I'll never forget you! I love you — Shmegs

A: Well allright. My God what we've been through. The frank soap opera, peanut butter twix, carlos, wanna go to Somerset?, "we have to talk", let's skip arch, OK? I could go on and on. I know we won't forget each other, and we'll never lose our friendship. I'll always love ya! — Megan

Steven: They couldn't have given me a better brother. You always make me laugh, "oops, cramped up, atts OK. I can make it to the car" Led Zeppelin and Genesis. "I've got sunshine", "Thanks to you, I'm much obliged, for such a pleasant stay." That's the truth! I wouldn't have made it without you — Love, Megan

Mom & Dad: We made it. The relationship that we've built makes me secure and proud. I love you very much. — Megan David: At times it was hard, but always worth the extra effort. You are so special to me, and I love you. So it's not good-bye, just good luck. Don't forget ... — M

TO '84's CLASS OF CHAMPIONS

A black and white photograph of a man with dark, curly hair and aviator-style glasses. He is wearing a dark jacket with a large white letter 'A' on the left chest over a light-colored collared shirt. He is holding a tennis racket in front of him. The racket has a dark frame and a light-colored head with a grid pattern. On the racket head, there is a handwritten signature that reads 'Chuck' and 'Arthur' below it. The racket's frame has 'HEAD' and 'COMpetition Edge' printed on it. In the bottom right corner, the text 'HEAD' is in large, bold, sans-serif capital letters, and 'CQUET SPORTS' is in smaller, sans-serif capital letters below it.

Marge: My favorite gossip, Champ, all our talks, Thomas Sweets. "Typical Marge" — New Years Eve, Skiing (yea right), Safe Rides — Eric Rapp's jokes . . . "uh, we'd better go", pig on a black Puch moped, . . . enough rambling. The years have been fun, but I don't know how I could have survived this past one without your trust and understanding. Thanks. I love you. Your best buddy.

Pete: "Hey hoser", tailgating, captain leading the way, split level quarters, tequila and the Flash, stealing bases with Ted, Bruce and Tom, swimming in the fountain. . . too many memories. Ever since Mrs. Shepherd's English class and our Kinks craze. I'll miss your drunken face next year. Dave.

Jon: Those tricky turns on Provinceline Rd., night skiing, the cabin, Lea-Lea and Agree, "sweet as hell", table dancing, Nina's belly-button, Smurfs in the morning, "Jon, you want my English muffins?". Hey, have a great senior year Capn . . . Visit me next year. Dave.

Haynserdoo: Naming the "Flash", the first B-town run, dropping the Rolling Rocks in front of my house, Buzz — in Russian, Latin, Thai and English, making Benjamin, trying to sleep in your freezing house, "Do you need a ride?" (need I say more), Dave, it's been real and good luck next year. Dave.

Nina: "Fartin-A", good times in Bio, sniff — sniff (just kidding), notes in chem, your mom's poor bed, Junior Prom, damn-it-al. The times have been great fun and I will miss you next year. Good luck. Love, David.

Sarah: Security Council? — what?, the kiddies, Spokesman, Monday lunches, photography — "I'm gonna fail!", Sorry about the selection process, I hope you'll forgive me. We've become closer this year, and excellent co-leaders I might add. Good luck with your future and remember — God Bless America. Love, David.

Lars: I know it's been a hard year, but we all pulled through it. You've helped me to look at myself and the others I love in a different way. I don't know what my life would be without a sister as special as you. Thanks. I love you!

David

Mom and Dad: What can I say? You've been behind me from day one. Without your continuous support and love I would be nowhere. Even with our disagreements, I still love you and will miss you next year. Love, David

Madzy — We've been through so much together that listing memories could never compare to the feelings and great impressions that are left in my mind. I love you, I love you and know that all the special times will be remembered, shared and cherished between us. Only we can share them and that's why our friendship is so precious. Lord am I going to miss you next year. "I'll reach out my hand to you, I'll have faith in all you do, just call out my name and I'll be there." J5. Whitney: What would I have done without you? You've always been there, so loving and understanding. Thanks for making things interesting, fun, and bearable. I love you and have learned so much from you. Never ever change the way you are. Frits: my second brother, I think we drank enough beer to detriment our health. Oh my God. You made everything so fun and I love you. Lynne: From playing caps at Jack's to love / lust at first sight at the Jerry show, to DM and numerous other infatuations Karen: Remember singing Xmas carols to your Mom and Dad, sneaking cigarettes in 4th grade and getting caught, eating doughnuts, laughing and spraying them all over the floor in NH, going to the bathroom behind a store and the owner walking out and catching me, many wasted times, and of course our most recent obscene talks. There are so many good memories I love you. Jack, Dave and Mike: I think it's about time we all put on some clothes and started acting our age don't you? Nah, I don't either. Thanks for all the fun! To the dinner party crew: same time, same place, every year. Mr. Gilpin: I thank you so much for all the help and your sincere encouragement. John N.: Thanks for being a friend and being there. I love you. Family: To all of you, this is not goodbye, but an exciting step towards the future. (that's what I've been trying to tell myself) Mom & Dad, I thank you so much for loving me, being so giving, making life bearable, putting up with me and giving me a center upon which I shall broaden myself. I love you dearly. Love, Meredith

Nidge: It all started in Jamaica with cakehunting — since then we've been laughing all the way. Dingleberries in the library, Angle food cakes, gossip, "Mom, call the doctor 'I'm having a baby!'", our unique dancing techniques, radio music, and laughing at f.h. practice . . . "Why do we always have our eye on the same guy?" . . . I will never forget the many memories Nidge — let's keep laughing while we make some more — I'll miss you. Love, Wadge. Chilly: Picking out Zeke, Bowling, watching Stripes at 4 AM, waiting for a dropped keg on the highway, Washington weekends, "wait is the quarter in there?", Phil, Jimmy Buffet, and Bruce, "the screen door slams, Mary's dress waves . . .", — The talk at the Bowens' meant so much to me, I hope you know I'll always listen. Melinda: Lusting on Mark Murphy, Nantucket summers, the prom in 10th grade, giggling all night, trips to Colgate and Washington, "bye-bye Miss American pie" and being buddies since 6th grade — Though there have been times when we've drifted you've always been there when I've needed you — Thank you for that. Laura: 5 AM at my house, hidden saxes in garages, gossip-y car rides home, "don't take my picture off your wall" and being neighbors — "What is the deal with you and . . .?" Always keep them guessing Laura, that's what makes it interesting — I'll miss you. David: How can I say goodbye to the dirty doaug? We have shared so much from your jokes, to your abuse, and to our many talks which I will miss so much . . . Going to your house was probably the real beginning of it all — New Year's Eves, 1-1 quarters, tailgates, Monday lunches, dancing at the Model UN . . . I love you best buddy and will never forget our special times together. Love, Champ. Frank, the Staff Infection, and all of PG: I love you all. Thanks. Mom and Dad: For saying yes when it could have been no and for being there together all the way — I love you. M.

Mere: Years of love & smiles, Champagne, erotic dreams, midnight mopedding, Duncan, Bobby look alike, 1 on 1 caps, from crying with N. Young to dead shows — what a long strange trip it's been! Most of all, I love you! Amy: Dead shows, in between, yipping in my bathroom, "Bobby came to see me in the form of Jesus Christ", St Louis, "superman", my co-ardvark! I love you. Whit: Special friend, Pachysandra, Mrs. Cowiggens, golf tee & toe fights, pp. letters, hockey, I love you! Karen: Playing house by your stream, N. H., William's broken foot, singing you to sleep, 7th grade slaps, Don't you ever land! I love you. Madz: Chris talks, dancing in your pool, singing you to sleep, Clapton, quarters & clean up, soccer, smiles & crying, a long way, I love you. Wendy: Alan, Apple Saucel, Bolten V., Mr. Bufu, Need I say more? yup — 9 yrs. of "buddies" & I love you. Gals: Thanks for making Andy ask me out in 6th grade! Save me a home made b.day! I wuv you! Chill & Melinda: Nyoda, Williams, Lax, gigs, hockey & cocktails, Rt. 97 bathroom. For lots of laughs, much love, Lynne. Ninus, Laura, Marge: Senioritis (beautiful) I'll miss the gigs and laughs with you all, much love. Liza, Sherry, Megan, Caroline: I'll miss you all! much love. Adrienne & Suzanne: From religion to soccer, thanks for all the laughs! love & smiles. Scott: Well we survived it! All nighters, New Years, Karri & Mac talks, college trip, Featherstone, ripped times, I'll miss you! Love you. Jamie, Haynser, Peley, Pete, Jack, Mike, Supple, Stifel, Jon: Thanks for adding to my delinquency! I'll miss you guys! Margot, Mr. Bing, Mrs. Smith: Thank you for your guidance & humor! Take good care! much love. Mom, Dad, Leigh, Kerry: Beeba is pulling up the rear! I love you all very much — Lynne

KAREN — What would I do without you?! — So many memories I will always cherish . . . Tennis players, JEM, SJM, DPC, DWK, P.U. library, Chuck & Harolds, Fridays, vacations, uncontrollable laughter . . . gas stations, Rusty Scupper, dirty jokes; parts, but also serious talks and sad times. No matter what the experience . . . it was memorable because it was with you. I love you sweetie and no matter what happens, I always will, Friends forever! MEREDITH — You are truly a love! . . . so very special I will always be here for you if you need me . . . DM, MH, JC (oh such infatuations!) fantasizing, high hopes with skirts?! PHS, streaking, clubbing, "oh my God!" — We will keep in touch — I promise. All my love. MADZY — "Oh my God!" — so many wonderful memories to hold on to . . . streaking, quarters in your kitchen, watch out . . . he bites! Simon & Garfunkel, JT, backrubs, Boca . . . The Pink, pool, bingo(!), Bermuda . . . MW (Oh my God), Natural Arches, "Can you please start my moped?!!" I care about you immensely, Please keep in touch. XOXOXOXO LYNNE — We have shared good times and bad times — let's remember the good ones . . . skating! Trinity Pauling (what a nightmare!), ice hockey, Fiddler, Trader Vic's, roomservice, room re-arranging, peg fights, PHS, etc. Love ya hon, keep in touch! PAUL — so cute! What am I going to do without my co-leader? You and P.G. are a very big part of my year, and you will always be very special. Thanks for all your support and enthusiasm. P.S . . . Please give me that orange! — Love ya. REGAN — "What are we going to do? . . . such a predicament!" P² (oh Lord!), come and visit next year — you better. Love ya! GALA — Just as we are formulating a new friendship we must say "goodbye". I would like to stay in touch with you next year — you're a real sweetheart, and I enjoy your company a great deal. Love ya. CAROLINE — You are very special person — I hope you know that. I wish you all the best — please keep in touch. JOHN — These past two years would have been dull without you! Your sense of humor and spontaneity helped me through so much. Thanks. Good luck next year — please write. PEER GROUP — I love you all . . . seniors, staff and freshman — you have made my year so special! Please keep in touch. MRS. STOLTZFUS — You are so wonderful! I cherish our friendship and I want it to last forever. Thank you for everything. All my love. DENNY & HILLARY — My baby brother and sister — I love you both more than you could ever imagine — you are both very special. XOXOXOXO DAD — Without you I would never have been able to accomplish what I have. You mean a great deal to me and I love you very, very much — please know that. MOM — I am getting weepy and the year is only half over; I will miss you desperately next year. Please know how much you mean to me — you have helped me, loved me, and supported me through so much. Even though I will be away, I will not be far. Please always remember this above all else . . . I love you very much.

GOOD LUCK EVERYONE . . . I WILL MISS YOU ALL

Wendy — Whoeee wars, Alfie, pushing you down the stairs, poor little men, littler money, a smile and a paper clip, OWD and PSM, a LOT, Helen Hyperbole, Pandora — R.I.P., Cop Cade, a late night in St. Thomas, our unspoken friendship — there are no words to describe the random weirdness that we share. Love, luck, hugs, kisses, and a tear — Cath

Mrs. Stoltzfus: You guided me and counseled me over the years and a simple sentence could hardly give you the credit you rightfully deserve. I don't think I could ever repay you. You really made my high school years memorable. Thank you. Ted.
Suzanne: The Gold and Silver! The Police! The Balsams! Peer Group! These memories I'll always hold true. Thanks for sharing them with me. If I had to choose someone I admired the most it would be you, hand's down. Keep up the golf lessons! Let's play in 20 years. Okay? Keep in touch. Love, Ted.
Karen: At first I had some misgivings about us as Peer Group Leaders but after a great year together, I couldn't have picked a better person. Thanks for being you.
Charles: Thanks for everything.
Peer Group: Good Luck! Thanks. Have fun!
Finally I'd like to thank all the little people who made my high school years most memorable.
D.A., G.B., A.B., M.B., L.B., A.C., M.E., G.G., M.G., E.H., C.H., D.H., F.L., D.L., D.M., M.N., J.N., W.R., D.S., D.S., R.V.H., L.V.S., L.W., M.W., J.W., D.Z.

Giggs — We started out on the wrong foot, but I'm glad things worked out (must have been the Bazooka — who says you can't buy friends?!). Thankx for all you've done and for being there when I needed a little levity.

Bow-wow — "Mmmm . . . yeeah!" Who will I share my calzones with next year? We've had many memorable moments, but somehow it's the weirder ones I remember!

Megan — "Hi! What's your name?" Well, okay! What can I possibly say to my longest and closest friend? You've meant more to me than you know, and although the list would be too long to write, I'll never forget all the adventures, laughs, and all around good times we've had. I couldn't have made it without you and I will miss you next year, so keep in touch!!! Remember, we have a Genesis date!

Cath — There are many advantages to having an older sister, but at this point in my life when things are looking a little scary out there, the most helpful one is knowing that you've been through it all and come out on top, and I do mean top. Thank you for being an "older sister" and putting up with more than you should have.

Fiz — You've been a good friend to me this past year; after fifteen years I'm glad I finally got to know you! You're a great kid — I'll miss you (no more messy sink!). Keep an eye on Mom and Dad and take care of Tony while I'm gone!

OWD & PSM — I haven't said it often, but it's always been there: I love you very much. Thank you for your patience, encouragement, and most of all, your weirdness!

I love you all and will miss you very much.
Wendy

To my parents — I'll miss your liberal love. To those who've gone before me, Thanks for showing me high school does end;

To those I'm leaving with . . . well, good!
To those I'm leaving behind, keep in touch (you know who you are).

For the inspiration — God bless the English department (especially Mrs. Michaels)

Jeff, Claire, Henry, Cleis, Dean, and the others whose names don't fit, Congratulations! We're still safely insane,

Love,
Nome

Karen — You were always there willing to talk and listen. Thank you, I love you. Lynne — I fill a book with memories! It's hard to find someone who could make you laugh when you had to cry! If you need anything, I'm here — through college, till we're married with kids, till we're old and gray, till . . . I love you. Suz — How much closer can co-captains be? Playpens?! Thank you for sharing so much with me. I love, beautiful! Wendy — Letting my aggression was never that much fun! I love you. Frank, Donald, David — GA, Grenada, who can pick someone up first, Oh, Frank!, My three bodyguards. Thank you for keeping me smiling. I love you guys! Frank — What can I say? You're special. VERY! Meg — "When you're down and troubled . . ." One song, a thousand tears, and a friendship that'll last forever. You mean so much to me! I love you, Carlos — Hey, sweetheart! I'll miss you. Everyone — Our time here is only a moment in our lifetime's. But, oh, how precious is that moment. A. S. Mom, Dad, Jon, Bob, Suz, Matt, Chrissy — What can I say but "thank-you"? You all mean the world to me! No matter how bad things were, they always got better! All my love,

Adrienne

Dear David,
A true friend.
Vivid memories remain
In our hearts and minds —
Death cannot destroy them.
Never to reach
Old age —
Young in our thoughts for Ever,
Stay.

To laugh often and much; to win respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics, and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others, to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition, to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded.
