Princeton Day School

Princeton, New Jersey

DEDICATION

"Hullo there gents!"

With this, and many other charming and cheery aphorisms, Mr. McCaughan has warmly greeted passing students for 31 years. Under his tutelage, the facts and fictions of Ancient History breathed with excitement. More than 1800 students were quizzed on their way to knowledge by his dot and x system over the years, and names like Mes Anni Padda, Tutankhamon, and Assurbanipol will forever be enshrined in every student's memory.

But Mr. McCaughan's love for his work is not his only attribute; indeed, in the eyes of his students and colleagues, his warmth and sincerity overshadow his educating prowess. He is loved and respected by all who know him.

Whether it is a picture of him standing outside, hands in pockets, dark glasses on, and pipe in mouth, or of him snoozing by the end of one of his taped lectures, we will all, at one time or another during the many years ahead of us, think of Wesley McCaughan.

We, the class of 1987, dedicate this yearbook to Wes McCaughan. Thank you, Mr. McCaughan, for all you have done for Princeton Day School.

Wesley McCaughan

A vast move on our road to matriculation is at an end, and soon we will leave the shade of a world we know for a universe of options and uncertainties that we have only dreamed about. But we are not graduating alone. With us graduates a man who has meant more to PDS than words can describe. Sandy Bing, Head of Upper School and close personal friend of all students, moves on with us. Mr. Bing has been more than just an integral part of PDS. In a sense he is PDS, an embodiment of the ideals and beliefs that our school has pursued over the decades. His daily walks through the halls, shaking hands, greeting friends, and his down to earth speeches in assembly always exhibited his willingness to help. His was the role of a confidante, always ready to assist. Mr. Bing, we appreciate all your generous work and wish you the best in your future.

Message From The Headmaster

November 20, 1986

Dear Class of 1987,

By publication time for the Link, you will have completed your final year at Princeton Day School, while I will have completed only my first year. Little time for us to come to know each other. But, as I write this letter just before Thanksgiving, my knowledge and appreciation of your talents have grown considerably since September.

I attribute this development primarily to the HM Seminar, which has allowed me to learn more about each participant, and I expect this to go on until each senior has attended. The seminar lets me test your thinking, sense your dreams, and discern your character. For your willing openness in the seminar, I say thank you.

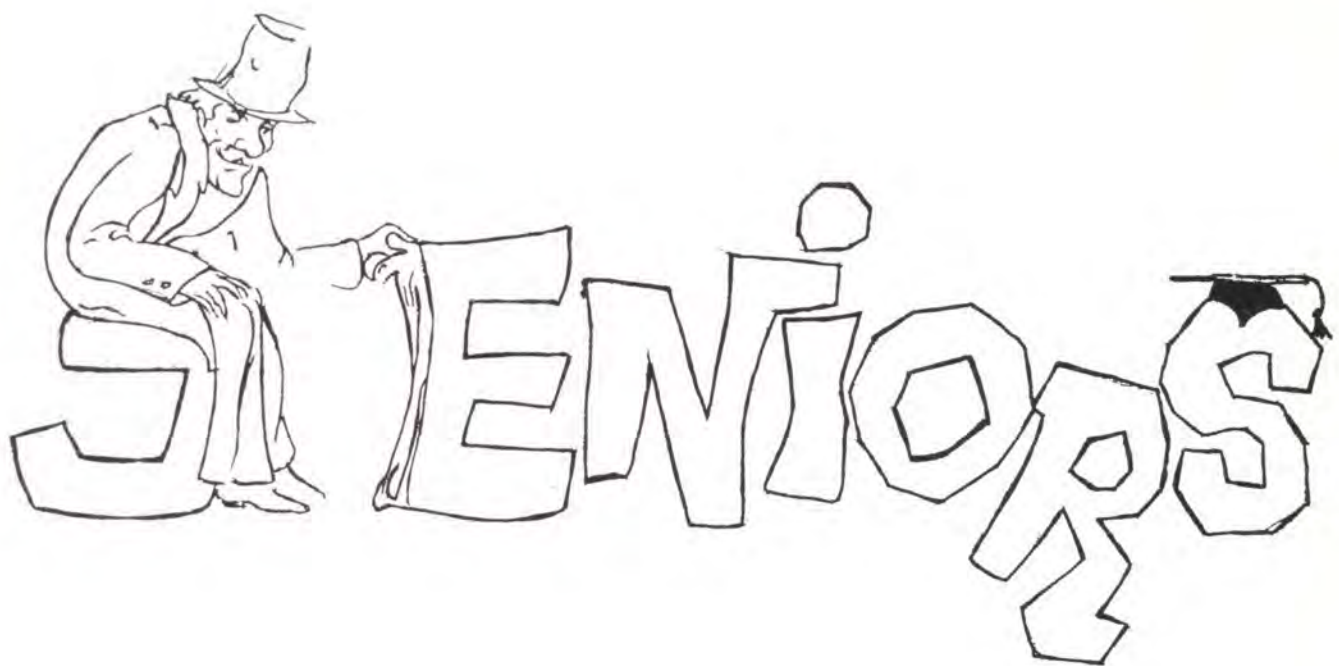

Now, what can I say about you, despite our brief acquaintance. As a class you seem diverse. Your interests, both academic and extracurricular, suggest great range in talent. Perhaps this is why you can be so electric, feisty, and caring when together in groups of 30, as I usually see you, or when I see all of you in my office!

It is my hope that we maintain our acquaintance in years to come, that we have only begun to share an appreciation of each other, and that real friendship will evolve from our beginnings in the HM seminar.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Duncan W. Alling". The signature is fluid and elegant, with a long, sweeping underline that extends to the right.

When I was a kid I said to my father one afternoon,
 "Daddy, will you take me to the zoo?" He answered,
 "If the zoo wants you, let them come and get you."

One final paragraph of advice: Do not burn yourselves out. Be as I am — a reluctant enthusiast . . . a part-time crusader, a half-hearted fanatic. Save the other half of yourselves and your lives for pleasure and adventure. It is not enough to fight for the land; it is even more important to enjoy it, while you can, while it's still here. So get out there and hunt and fish and mess around with your friends, ramble out yonder and explore the forests, encounter the grizz, climb the mountains, bag the peaks, run the rivers, breathe deep of that yet sweet and lucid air, sit quietly for a while and contemplate the precious stillness, that lovely, mysterious and awesome space. Enjoy yourselves, keep your brain in your head and your head firmly attached to the body, the body active and alive, and I promise you this much: I promise you this one sweet victory over our enemies, over those desk-bound people with their hearts in a safe-deposit box and their eyes hypnotized by desk calculators. I promise you this: you will outlive the bastards.

On a day in November the hill calls to her and she goes. Not to discover — because it is something she has always known. When she is back she will look what she feels. Kipper Large

"Never laugh at live dragons, Bilbo you fool!" he said to himself, and it became a favorite saying of his later, and passed into a proverb. "You aren't nearly through this adventure yet," he added, and that was pretty true as well.

J.R.R. Tolkien
The Hobbit

Michele Lo

Bury magnets. Swallow the rapture.

R.E.M.

John Taylor

Let the rumpus begin.

From Where the Wild Things Are

Got to keep the loonies on the path.

Pink Floyd

I think I need a soma.

Aldous Huxley

Lucy DeJames

Time is like a handful of sand. The tighter you grasp it, the faster it runs through your fingers. But if you caress it, it will leave in its wake memories of its gentle flow, rather than the roughness of its stones.

Dead Head Letter

I wish they'd get the trial done
... and hand round the refreshments.

Alice in Wonderland

On the day I was born
The nurses all gathered 'round
And they gazed in wide wonder
At the Joy they had found.

George Thoroughgood

Give me silver, blue and gold
The colour of the sky I am told
My rainbow is overdue.

Bad Company

Joy R. Glover

Everyone's a hero . . . if you want to be Everyone's a prisoner . . . holding their own key
And every step I take
And every move I make Always one step closer . . .
I don't mind running alone.

Steve Perry

14th st dis (because my tears are full of eyes) appears. Because only the truest things always are true because they can't be true

Lisa Herbert

Giles Lever

What you own is your own kingdom
What you do is your own glory
What you love is your own power
What you live is your own story.

Rush
Something for Nothing

There are two paths you can go by
But in the long run
There's still time to change the road you're on.

Led Zeppelin
Stairway to Heaven

If you haven't got the guts to kick a man when he's down, you sure as hell won't be able to kick him when he's standing up.

Thirteen Year Veterans

Thirteen years of PDS — “Impossible,” you say, “unbelievable. Nobody could survive that long!” Not so! Five members of the graduating class have indeed been at PDS for over 21,560 hours of their lives. They’ve been through it all — four headmasters, hundreds of teachers, new buildings, they’ve been here for all the changes, they know the school for what it is, and, well, after all that, guys, was it really that bad?

SPORTS

It was a frosty fall afternoon, and streams of flashing gold from the low November sun glinted randomly off the metal bleachers. From the west, a cool breeze wafted tirelessly past our fighting field hockey team and off across the rolling Mercer County Community College fields.

This was the scene of a now famous PDS victory, the field hockey Mercer County tournament. But the conquering field hockey team was not content with just this one major victory. A week later, they went on to win the Prep League tournament.

Not to be outdone, the girls' varsity tennis team took, for the second time in a row, their Mercer County tournament. As if this was not enough victory for one medium sized high school, the varsity boys' soccer team destroyed all competition and took the Prep-B tournament.

After seeing these tremendous accomplishments, it is comical to note that we, the students of Princeton Day and more specifically the senior class have been called, time and time again, apathetic, lethargic, and almost every other word you can think of that ends in -ic. This sports section is definite proof that we are in fact energetic, active, and alive. Not only were our field hockey, boys' soccer and tennis teams victorious, but all our other teams, such as girls' soccer and varsity cross country, did magnificently over the fall season. Nearly every student is involved in some area of the PDS athletic spectrum, be it on our swashbuckling fencing team, on our unbeatable ice hockey team, or on any other of our countless crews. PDS students everywhere can rest assured that our excellent teams will always bring home athletic glory.

The sun was shining, the air was clear — it was a beautiful day, the kind that brings a song to the heart and a tear to the eye. It is no wonder that the fine young men of the senior and junior classes were out enjoying the crisp weather, basking in the mid-morning sun. No matter that it was early February, or that there was snow on the ground. Nothing could keep these outdoorsmen from their favorite pasttime. As it turned out, this February day was the Middle School Parents Visiting Day and these sunbathers made for a more than vibrant welcoming committee.

had a nice chat with his youth why did you leave when I was beginning to enjoy your company

if you'll remember, you did not want me around although you had plenty of time to play in my sunshine

you instead wanted a cloudy day of

Adulthood

The old old man was much upset and jumped up and grabbed at his youth

but he quickly disappeared
just as he had three hundred years ago.

MUGGED

Enormous cold hands clamped down around my throat. Through the haze of the dimly lit alley, I could barely make out the thick pale arms of my assailant.

Suddenly the hands squeezed shut, and I was lifted up into the air. The ground below me was lost in the foggy night. I choked, and tried desperately to tear the crushing hands from my windpipe.

"Give me your wallet, kid!" boomed a deadly voice all around me. The ground suddenly reappeared below me and crashed against my bent legs.

My mind went entirely blank, as I fumbled through my pockets. Adrenalin was working marvels on my respiratory system, and my gasping lungs seemed to tango their way up my esophagus.

My tan wallet fluttered through the air into the receding monster hand, and I nervously awaited the death blow that had to be coming. No matter how many times I had heard of this scenario, I could think of absolutely no action to take. Nothing could have prepared me for the total numbness of a crime victim.

"Just kidding kid! I'm uh, like, uh, a vigilante! Trying to teach people not to get mugged. Take your wallet back and next time kick me in the balls or something!"

My wallet dropped to the ground next to me, and the 'vigilante' hulk stomped off into the night.

A cool breeze wafted into my face, and I sat on the ground staring at my wallet. I could feel the motion of the world beneath me.

I had been dragged, kicking and screaming, into reality. A moment before I had been living in my own world, where nothing goes wrong, and nothing is ever irrational. In short, I had previously believed, as every teenager does, that the world was made for me, and my own reality was enough for everyone.

I am not immortal. Indeed, my death almost came a few minutes ago at the hands of a total stranger. His tight grip could have easily choked the life from my body, and then my reality would have abruptly come to an end.

The mugging was a warning shot. My assailant tossed my wallet back with the understood message that life is frail and a wasted moment is a horrible thing.

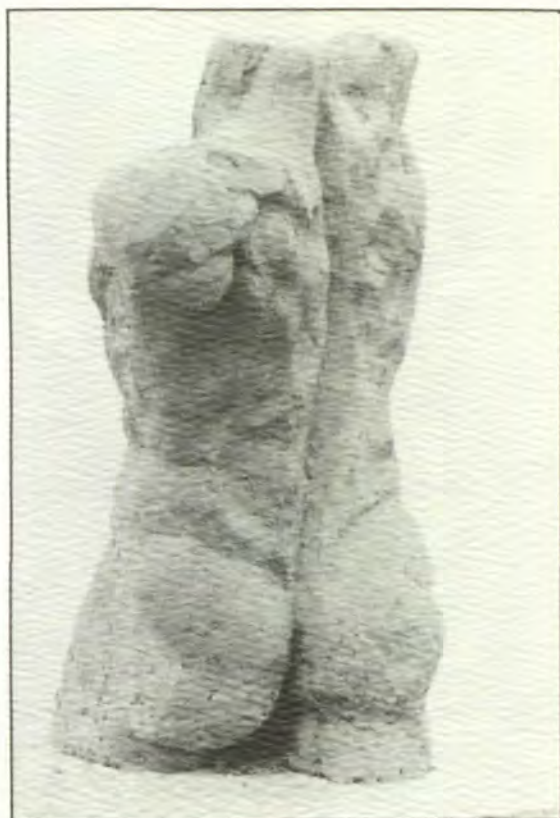

I must accomplish. As much as I possibly can, for as long as I am able. I must work to do my best until the rug is pulled out from under me, or else I will fall silently and unnoticed.

The frailty of life, and the certainty of death are two facts which can never be ignored. A wasted moment is an utter abomination, a lost opportunity where opportunities are horribly limited. Life must be lived for each fleeting second, every chance must be taken, every opening must be widened.

The next mugger may not toss my wallet back.

Self Contained

Why won't you come out
and talk to me?

Out from that inner self
The mysterious realm of your soul with wonders hidden away.

Is it a gloomy, sunken, forgotten treasure ship or radiant like the priceless jewels discovered in a sturdy trunk which had been slyly put away and locked up?

If only I could locate the key to unlock the forbidden foyer which would lead me
to the crowded container
where you hoard away,
all your anxieties, hopes, beliefs, opinions . . .
Your emotions; where are they engaged?

Ocasionally a few silver tears will slither down your cheeks.
Or perhaps a high trill of laughter might escape from your lips.
But all too soon, the thick fog creeps back in behind your eyes.

How I long to venture into the territory of your heart.
But only you can be the guide which I so desperately need to show me the boundaries and contours of this inaccessible empire.

I call out, trying to reach the spirit that is trapped beyond those deep blank eyes
yet I make no noise.
I will wait for the thick fog to lift.
But still I wonder:
Why won't you come out
and talk to me?

I realized we were getting old one day
staring at my feet
A callous on this toe or that toe that wasn't there when I was younger six or seven or so

Wrinkles vertically lining my heel but most of all the thickening skin almost caked on, dead and cracking protection for walking on sand or pavement dry and rough

Sometimes I see small children tiptoe hop picking out paths carefully small faces tightened frowning full of boastful courage and concentration contests to see who will cross over the blacktop first or fastest

When they're gone I will follow their footfalls
I think of the sting the surface with my palm first but I've played this game before and I remember
once they said it would be cheating

So I hop on the sun-soaked pavement expecting remembering that first scalding sweetness and

Nothing

No longer soft and fragile and pink the soles of my feet

Of all things the soles of my feet remind me that we you and I are on our way

Becca and Betsy — I can't imagine next year without the two of you. There are too many memories to write down, but I'm sure that we won't forget any of them anyway. Our friendship means so much to me. I love both of you. Let's not forget our pact!

Lisa — I am going to miss you next year — but I know that we will never be too far away — after all we live right next to each other.

Jennifer — you deserve a lot of happiness and I hope that you get it! I also hope that we will always be friends. I love you!

Michele — I can't believe that we made it through four years of basketball. I don't know what I would have done without you to talk to. You are a true friend. I love you.

Jeff — I will always remember our group and all that we have been through. I am grateful that I got to know you this year. You are special to me.

Cheryl — Thanks for everything. I'm not sure what I am going to do without you next year. I'll miss you!

Grandmom, Mommom, Aunt Susan and Uncle John — Thank you for all that you have done for me. Your love and support will always be very important in my life. I love you!

Alexa — You are the greatest sister! This last year wasn't the same without you, but I know that you will always be my best friend. I love you.

Mom and Dad — I'm going to miss you both so much next year! Thank you for everything. I know I don't say it often enough! I love you!

Stephanie

To Stephanie
Our love and congratulations — we are so proud of you!

Yea! Here's to the future. I know you'll make it bright!

All my love,
Alexa

Abby, Michelle, Melanie, and Rachel — Thanks for everything: Joan Baez ... Peter Gabriel ... my house summer '86 ... Diners ... precious green yarn ... Boston ... proverbs composed during Spanish ... dimples ... Rachel's house (always) ... village collector ... Oriental methods of pronouncing my name ... lipstick on pictures ... belly buttons and Kit Kat stories ... yeah, right, sure, right ... screaming out of car windows ... Let it Be ... evening customer of the week ... fearsome threesome ... Gansy ... Europe plans ... bringing a Walkman to thrilling jazz concerts ... 10 Jefferson St. — need I say more? I love you all. Tracy — Roscoe rules, romances, understanding SK, It's been great. I'm going to miss you. Sandy — Good luck! I'll miss your squeaks and tans. Sofia — Dave who? Peter — Get some bread. Now sit down. Get a knife ... R.S., E.C., J.R., A.R., A.Z., B.M., and M.P. — Good luck next year. Mom — this last year has been incredible and I probably would never have been able to make it without your support. I love you! You know you'll miss me next year. Dad — I miss you. Daniel — so when are you coming down to Baltimore? You've been great. Thanks from Benedict. Mrs. Rothrock and Mr. McCaughan — PDS could never be the same without you.

Sheara deara pumpkin pie . . .

My little mischief night baby . . . my volcanic iceberg, my passionate princess, my beautiful young woman . . . but wasn't it twenty minutes ago that I changed your diaper?

Your first words . . . "Mommy's shoes are pretty." A complete grammatical sentence . . . of course. With uncanny perception, you always knew about people, about feelings, about families . . . Mommy's Scorpio could rage, but that inner serenity you possess always kept you . . . and us . . . sane.

David and I grieve when we realize that you won't be with us for our "dinner parties." Did you have fun today? . . . our favorite companion, friend, sister, daughter . . . how exhilarating it is for me to discuss literature, art and ideas with you . . . I am always delighted with your intelligence, your logic, your thoughtfulness, your wit.

Thank you, Sheara deara, for making me a success . . . you have become a young adult woman without peer, my young adult of integrity, sensitivity, compassion, honesty, destined to contribute. Pride is not a big enough word for the feelings of joy I have because of you. Thank you, special child.

THE SPOKESMAN

Vol. XXII No. 8 Princeton Day School June, 1987

Letters From The Editor

Thank You...

The Spokesman would like to thank many people without whom this past year could not have been the success that it was. We thank Michael Hart who started us off in the right direction last year with encouragement, and Hope Costin who took over as our adviser this September and did an admirable job of adapting to an independent editor while simultaneously pushing him to strive for more. And thanks to Chris Page and Lauren Muller, our other two advisers who helped edit and proofread.

Mr Bogle deserves thanks for his guidance and suggestions and also his willingness to let the staff invade Colross on layout weekends. A thank-you also goes to the Development office who allowed us to use the typesetter when we needed to, and helped us with the mailings. And of course, we thank the Parent's Association for providing the funds to print the paper. Thank you also to the parents of the staff members, for allowing you kids to disappear for many hours on layout weekends.

Thanks also to all of the many writers, and to the readers whose compliments reassured us that we were doing something for a purpose. Although, even if there was no purpose, I feel certain that we would have had fun anyway.

To The Staff...

I know that I couldn't have found a better group to work on the paper. I think we turned out some of the best Spokesman issues ever, and any college newspaper should be honored to have your assistance next year.

There was plenty to laugh at as we put together each issue, chaotic meetings without progress, the poet, who won't go and get the pizza, certain bylines, speedwax!?, 12 pages?, correcting the history posters, The Cure, the Link. Sometimes I think that we spent as much time at Colross ignoring the paper as we did concentrating on it. But it was always enjoyable.

Quickly, Thanks Kerry, for insuring that Scott came to layout and the meetings. Thanks Scott for working hard when you had to. Peter I'll never fully trust you. Rachel, I'm not completely sure what a managing editor does, but you were always helpful. Andrea, I wish that I always had something for you to do, but alas, there isn't always something. Jane, superb work if I ever saw it. Marc, your motivation never waned, but through everything, I always appreciated it.

To those who are not seniors, good luck next year and remember that the work is tremendous but so are the rewards. To everyone, keep reading newspapers. You'll never regret it.

Kiki Heyus — It's been a long time — our locker — the 5th dimension — Chuck's — driving — NDT's — Stephen & Scott — 2 1/2's make 1 whole — Dave — the Chinese restaurant — punch — Trivial Pursuit — the Hellpen gang — Need I say more — Florida — Kai — let's get a key — shopping — San Francisco — and times to come. Years from now we'll all look back at PDS and laugh and reminisce about friends and classes and teachers. Or will we? Words seem so futile in the face of all that has happened throughout our careers, what can I say in this short space to say just how I feel? Craig-o, Egg-o, Spokesman dictator, how long have I known you? A hundred years? Seems like it, and growing up with you has been a blast. I still think you should have been a hockey player, you were the best of all of us. Jeff, just think back to all those days we spent preparing ourselves for football, only to miss most of our seasons with injuries. At least we got prepared for life. Together. A word of advice for college — no Wham shirts on your first day of classes. Ker-bear, I figure we spent about two weeks on the phone if you put all the hours together. I love you. Jen Bones, you are my moral, my conscience. I wonder where I'd be without you. Probably in a porn shop, right? Things won't be the same without you, and I promise I won't forget. Roach, the sum of our relationship can be summed up in one word — Demented. The trio; you, me, Rob, fighting and working at the same time. Pete, you big stud, how many times have we hated each other and then made up a year later, and ended up having a great time? Working out with you, and knowing you has been a pleasure, big guy. Let's do some B's sometime, right? Eliiii, the hunting fool. Man I hope that goofy grin never leaves your face. Just think back to Lax, caving, football-soccer rivalry. Becca, Kari, Hillary, Ani, I hate to lump you all together, but I love you all immensely. You've helped to keep my life sane, and have been a refuge for me when things started to crack up around me. Kelberg, I have to say that I hold the deepest respect for you. You've grown up a lot since 8th grade science. You've got a heart of steel. Scott. Markus, my man, how much money have you loaned me over the past few years? And why don't you ever collect it? Jamie K-nill, just keep on plugging away with the hockey blade and it will take you places, but remember, if it doesn't, then you sure as Hell can make it on your own. Angie, for all those times that I've been rude to you, I'd like to say that I would do it all over again, because I like you so much. I know you understand. Lastly, Debbie. You must be the brightest person ever. And I had the enormous good fortune to hook up with you. We sure made a Hell of a team: beauty and the beast; brains and brawn. You, my dear, are my shining star. Now I know that I've left a million people out, and don't be sore if your name isn't above. I just don't have the space to write down the way I feel. Rest assured, I appreciate all my friends deeply. I don't think I could have said that last year, because you've all forced me to understand how much you mean to me by being so terrific. THANKS!

FOREVER YOUNG

May God bless and keep you always.
May your wishes all come true.
May you always do for others
And let others do for you.
May you always be courageous;
Stand upright and be strong,
May you grow up to be righteous;
May you grow up to be strong.
May you always know the truth
And see the light surrounding you.
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung
And may you stay forever young.
May your hands always be busy.
May your feet always be swift.
May you have a strong foundation
When the winds of changes shift
May your heart always be joyful
May your song always be sung
And may you stay forever young.

A Jewish prayer - Joan Baez

Scott - You are a joy!

Good Luck and stay yourself

I know, John, it is corny, but sometimes it just has to be! Scott, maybe we'll work out our "past" someday. Good Luck at Brown! Shana, when I think of the left side of the field, I remember us. Keep that smile going! Craig, what could I possibly say in writing to you? You're something else! Send me a post card from Central America. Jeff, you're something special. Thanks for trying. By the way, I'm working on getting my weight down to 150. Tracy, I'll see you at Cambridge, or just in England. Lavo, I'll see you when I'm in goal and you're the first home. Betsy, it has been a lot of years. Good luck with college, and have fun (as if I have to tell you to have fun). Michele, keep working on those vocab words. You're a fun roommate. Steph, "we'll always be friends," even if it's impossible to get out of your car without having had at least an hour of discussion. Let's go to a movie. Becca, it has been fun, I hope I'll never have to say goodbye, but if I did, would you mind terribly if I said Bucca? Yea, I know, you would. To our Peer Group

— Enjoy the next three years and keep in touch. You're all very special. And remember, it was fun! To my coaches — thanks for supporting me. I never could have made it without you! To the teachers at PDS — You made learning easy, because you made it fun. Thanks for all the understanding and support. Thanks for putting up with me. Thanks for caring!

NOW, CLASS, WHO CAN TELL ME THE PURPOSE OF WHAT WE HAVE LEARNED TODAY?

ANYONE?

TO BE DULL LITTLE OBEDIENT SHEEP.

TO KNUCKLE UNDER
TO PETTY AUTHORITIES.

TO AVOID ALL FUNDAMENTAL CRITICISM OF
THE POWERS THAT BE.

TO REGARD THOSE WHO ARE DIFFERENT
WITH SUSPICION
AND CONTEMPT.

TO GO ALONG WITH EVERY PREVAILING BELIEF.

I'M WAITING.

TO FILL OUR BRAINS
WITH FACTS
WITHOUT STIMULATING MENTAL ACTIVITIES.

TO MAKE US GET USED TO MEANINGLESS BUSYWORK IN PREPARATION FOR OUR BORING
ADULT JOBS.

TO KEEP US OFF
THE STREETS
TILL WE'RE EIGHTEEN.

WELL, HERE GOES!

YES-- YOU THERE
IN THE BACK.

TODAY WE LEARNED
THE IMPORTANCE OF
GOOD CITIZENSHIP,
CIVIC PRIDE, AND KEEPING
OUR DESKS
TIDY.

THANK YOU,
THAT WAS VERY GOOD.

AND TO BE DEVIOUS
LITTLE WEASELS.

Mrs. Hohmuth,

Thank you for your support, advice, and patience. We greatly appreciate all the work you have done for us.

The Link Staff

Mrs. Rothrock,

It is largely because of your efforts that we have completed such a spectacular Link. If it hadn't been for your help, your (sometimes nagging) insistence on excellence, and your dedication to the yearbook, we would never have lifted this project off the ground. You have been more than an inspiration. You have been a guiding force throughout this year as an advisor, we say "manifique" and salute you. Holy schnook, thanks for being there!

The Link Staff

Miriam "Good luck! You'll need it!" Pollard (Layout Asst.), Tracy "My life is over" Hofmann (Layout Editor), Janie Hwang (Business Asst.), Dafna "Boss Lady" (Co-editor), Michelle "The Efficient" Gans (Business Manager), Ashley "Thousand Candids" Thompson (Candids Editor), Keith "What deadline?" Griffie (Sports Editor), Stephen Kent "Go to Hell, everybody!" Jusick (Copy Editor), Sofia "I love you S.K." Xethalis (Photo Editor), Ben "I'm here everyday . . ." Mezrich (Co-editor), David "I'm never doing this again" Fox, (Photo Editor), Randy "Why didn't anybody tell me?" Walter (Business Manager), Judy "My book bag..!" Smith (Art Editor). Missing Mascots: Allan Kyle and David Roach.

It's a wild, wild life.

SPRING '87

This year we say goodbye to Ellen Clark, Jane Fremon, T. Manning, Tom Malsbury, Liz Castro, Kate Winton, Graham and Barbara Cragg, Virginia Reynolds, and Chris Rothwell. We will miss them very much, but hope that they, as well as the senior class, will make the most of their graduation from P.D.S. However, it is hard to imagine P.D.S. without their continuing contributions, both individually and collectively. The lasting impressions they have made on the P.D.S. community will never disappear; and although they will be sorely missed, we wish them the best of luck in the future.
