Dear Mr. Gudgel,

First, we would like to thank you for taking such an active part in the last four years of our lives. Some of us first met you in a middle school music room, with most of the students wondering, “Why is this large bearded man talking to us in Latin?” Then we realized you were not only our dean, but that we, in turn, would be the first class to which you were ever dean. This was both exciting and oddly calming; you would be growing up with us through the Upper School.

The road to our senior year has been long, though now looking back, most of us would probably say it was more like the Autobahn than Pretty Brook. We grew to know each other, especially in that first year. It was all interesting: whether we were trying to keep Shepherd clean, learn that 50 ideas for the Halloween Challenge did not necessarily mean 50 good ideas, or show students that spending more time outdoors did not include sledding through the administrative office window during Mr. Stellato’s first visit to the school.

Yet we made it through freshman year alive and tried to learn from our experiences. You fought with us through sophomore year while we looked for a place in the school to call our own. You supported us, as juniors, when we were worrying about grades and college for the first time. You calmed us down and built us up as seniors; you did everything a great dean possibly could do. Now as we move on to the next step of our lives, we want to take a moment to truly thank you for all the things you did for us. Through all the broken windows, continuous theme-related polls, the drama of prom and fund-raising, the storming of the field after powderpuff, and the endless looks of disapproval, we knew that you were always there for us.

Thank you for everything you have done. We hope you have learned as much about being a class dean as we have learned about life from you. You have been a teacher to some of us, an advisor to others, but a dean and friend to all. We will miss you next year but will make sure to “check-in.”

The Class of 2011
To Our Seniors,

On this cold November morning, as I write this brief introduction to this outstanding summary of a year in the life of Princeton Day School, we have just celebrated Halloween (isn’t it funny that the senior class again captured the top prize in that annual parade?), witnessed a marvelous production of Almost, Maine, and bested a worthy rival to capture the Mercer County Boys’ Soccer Championship. Most members of the class have completed at least one college application, and those who have found other duties to occupy them will surely have done so by the time we return from Thanksgiving break. In short, the senior class – the Class of 2011 – has led from the front by setting clear, compelling personal standards and beckoning the rest of the school to follow its lead. And follow we have: in classrooms, on the stage and fields, in community service and Community Council, and through the hallways and campus center.

Your finest qualities are many: responsibility, curiosity, friendship, and achievement; your enduring legacy will be the confidence you have given all of us to carry on, when you have left to seek and find your truest callings.

Though any senior class is given so little time to shape a school community, you have used your time wisely. We wish you had stayed just a little longer; yet we know, through the power of your example, we will succeed in anything we try, as you have done.

Thank you and good luck; and remember: Wherever you may roam, The Great Road will always be part of that journey.

With respect and fondness,

Paul J. Stellato
Head of School
Seniors,

PDS tradition expects that seniors sit in the front of the theater and be dismissed first. Your adherence to this tradition has often been spirited. You are a class that likes traditions such as these but you also want to change others and are, in fact, beginning to form some new traditions. This is what makes you special - you are helping to put your spirited stamp on some new traditions at PDS. You have embraced the Zoo with great enthusiasm and have led them well. It is exciting to see how well the varsity teams, of which you are leaders, have been doing this fall. You have been outstanding leaders in Community Council, Peer Group, Spokesman, as captains of our athletic teams, club activities, and in many other areas. You have set the tone for the Upper School, came in record numbers to the fall weekend dance, and will undoubtedly have a strong showing for the Halloween Parade.

I am writing this as we begin the 2010-2011 school year. I wish you the best year possible at PDS, and with your college selection process. On the eve of your graduation, I wish you continued success, happiness, and fulfillment in all of your pursuits. PDS's motto, semper luceat - may the light always shine on you - is apt for your class. You have shone at PDS over your time here and have truly made a difference.

On the eve of your graduation, I wish you continued success, happiness, and fulfillment in all of your pursuits. PDS's motto, semper luceat - may the light always shine on you - is apt for your class. You have shone at PDS over your time here and have truly made a difference.

Thank you Class of 2011 for all that you have done for and at PDS. We will miss you, but know that you will return as proud alumni of PDS.

The 2010 field hockey season was nothing short of incredible. We grew so much from last year, ending with a record of 11-4-1, as opposed to our 3-win record the previous year. We welcomed Coach MC Heller as our new bubbly and encouraging coach. Both our varsity and junior varsity teams were extremely successful. Our team bonded doing various community service projects together, such as Amanda Mae’s juvenile diabetes walk. Most notably, we earned the first seed in the Prep B tournament and second seed in the Mercer County Tournament. One of our most exciting games was against Hun, where we won in double overtime. Our psyches were...distracting...everyone knew when we had a game! The season was amazing, and we, the senior captains, hope that the team maintains success and a fun-loving attitude in years to come.

xoxoxo,

Boys Soccer

I've been asked a lot recently: "What was the best part of the soccer season?" Whether it is in the hallways of PDS, or on the streets of Princeton, it seems that people want to understand what made our team so special. They want to hear about the excitement of beating a three-time defending county champion in Princeton. They want me to describe the emotions associated with being the first boys' soccer team in PDS history to win both the county and state titles in the same year.

But, as every player on the team can attest, there was no one defining moment for our team. Unseen to the fans who came to our games and cheered us on so enthusiastically, were the endless drills and weekend runs in which we took part. Optional workouts were mandatory, and we learned to love running.

Then there was also the camaraderie we had. That was our X factor. Teams can game plan for elite players and unusual tactics, but our strength lay in the relationships our players shared. Using this teamwork, we learned that as long as we never gave up on each other, we could reach heights we had only dreamed of.

So, I may tell these observers about the incredible feeling of joy and accomplishment I felt as I ran to Hugo after his shot settled into the back of the net during the Mercer County finals. Or I may describe the pride I felt after winning our school's first double championship for boys' soccer against Gill St. Bernard. But as every one of my teammates knows, our season was so much more than these couple of highlights. It was truly an amazing season, one that none of us will ever forget.

Girls Soccer

The 2010 girls' varsity soccer team had an unforgettable season with nine seniors leading the squad to the Prep B State Championship. This group of senior girls, Ali Frieder, Laila Razzaghi, Katie Gibson, Kerry Dillon, Emily Jaeckel, Carly O'Brien, Carly Kliment, and Captains Jacqui Stevens and Jess Frieder, have been in the program together for all four years, and we knew that this season was going to be tremendous. The expectations were high, and every player stepped up and contributed to the success of this season.

We bonded as a team through team dinners, breakfasts, psyches, and locker room dance parties to get ourselves mentally prepared for games. We were truly a team, always supporting one another during practice and encouraging everyone to keep playing hard to win games.

We focused a lot on our possession game, a simple soccer fundamental, which largely contributed to the success we had in the postseason. Finishing the season with a very respectable 13-5-1 record shows the hard work we put in during preseason and throughout the fall. Our biggest wins this season were against Hun and The Hill School, along with beating our Prep B tournament rivals, MKA, 4-0 in the semi-finals, to go on to beat Wardlaw Hartridge, 4-0, for the title.

With Janie Smukler leading the team next year as the only senior, we have confidence that the team's success will continue in the 2011 season. We will miss this team and our coaches, Pat Trombetta and Howie Powers very much. Thanks for everything, girls!

Cross Country

Throughout the years that your captains have been here at PDS, the 2010 season was perhaps the greatest and most successful one of all. For many of the seniors, it marked the culmination of a strong four years of running, as we came in as small freshmen to spark the team to a 2007 Patriot Conference title, and then finally cruised to a second straight Prep B championship as seniors in 2010.

For the entire team, it was a special year. In the end we all worked hard, and you should all be proud of the times you found yourself out there in Princeton running: running in the rain or in the heat, running when you didn’t feel like it, or even running on one of those rare days when you loved it and felt great. Even if you are not winning races, every single member of the team is a victor by just coming out every day. The unique thing about cross-country is that when you’re a competitive runner in training, you are constantly in a process of ascending. It is something special to consider that you are better today than you were yesterday or a year ago, and that you will be better yet tomorrow or next year.

So, as your captains, we thank you and our coaches for the great season that you all made possible for us, and we advise you for the last time to just keep on running and keep on racing.

How fast can you run?
As fast as a leopard.
How fast are you going to run?
As fast as a leopard!
Then let’s see you do it!

Good luck next year!

Your captains,
-Adam Fisch and Meade Atkeson, XII
This year, the Girls' Cross-Country team consisted of nine members, which is an accomplishment in itself considering the team had only three runners two years ago. We worked hard together and encouraged each other, whether we were struggling through seemingly endless runs alongside the canal during preseason or sprinting up hills at Greenway Park. I am so proud of the team for winning third place at Prep B State Championships and achieving victories against Stuart, Rutgers Prep, Pennington and Hun. Each individual runner on the team also had personal accomplishments this season. I am so proud of the girls who ran an entire 5K for the first time and the girls who surprised themselves with personal records. I am happy to have shared this wonderful, memorable season with such a supportive group of girls. I have no doubt that the team will continue to grow and flourish next year, and I wish the girls the best of luck in the future.

Girl's Tennis
Panthers Girls’ Tennis enjoyed a fantastic 2010 season! It was exciting to lead a team of players who are so passionate about the game. The girls always showed up for practice ready to work hard and play beautiful tennis. We were a close-knit group and were truly a team both on and off the court; we were not just teammates, but best friends as well. We were always supportive of each other during matches, cheerleading when our teammates needed it most. The sense of humor we have in common lent itself to numerous shared stories and laughs throughout our season. We can’t imagine a better group to have spent every afternoon with during the fall!

Ashley Hudson and Alexandra Sherman were invaluable additions to the team this season. With four seniors in the line-up, our team was deep through second doubles. The team is especially proud of our victories over rivals Peddie and Lawrenceville. We placed 3rd in the Mercer County Tournament, sending three positions to the semi-finals and winning at first singles with Samantha Asch’s victory in the finals. Five of our players were named to the Trenton Times All Prep All Star Teams. This season was was all about bearing our claws and showing our opponents what Panthers are all about - fighting to the end. We were pitted against strong opponents and faced numerous close matches, but we always played with determination and confidence. Our efforts were well worth it, as we closed with an impressive 9 - 2 record.

The Varsity Squash Team had a great year. Our top four players were influential in our very successful season. Encouraged by the depth of our underclassmen, we are all looking forward to next season. However, our seniors, Hugo Meggitt, Ashley Hudson and Patrick Lapera, will surely be missed.

The fencing team had a great season this year. We may not have won every match, but we worked hard to improve our fencing skills on an individual basis and also strengthened our relationship as a team. Every fencer, new or returning, demonstrated dedication throughout our many practices and matches, and every fencer was supportive of his or her teammates. Our coach, Mr. Epply-Schmidt, was unfailing in his helpfulness and patience. He found the time to work with everyone individually and always knew what to say to bring out the best in us. Many seniors will be graduating this year, but we are leaving behind a solid team of strong fencers and generally awesome people.

The Girls Varsity Ice Hockey team kicked off the season by winning a second place trophy in the PDS Invitational Tournament. As we overcame injuries, the team stayed strong, resulting in a memorable season. We had the privilege of great bonding experiences with our weekend trips to Pittsburgh and Rye. This season, the team finished with a strong record of 11-5-5. Ending on a high note, we won the B-Bracket of the WIHLMA league tournament. We had strong contributions from every grade level to make this the best season in recent years.

For the volleyball team, this year was all about rising beyond expectation. Throughout the season, we proved both to our opponents and to ourselves that we are a challenging team to beat.

Though we were a very small team compared to the others in our league, our roster proved to be very talented. With a solid back row and increasingly powerful offense, we won twice as many games as our previous two seasons. Our final matches were the most memorable and intense, as we beat our rival Shipley on Senior Day and lost by only 2 points to ANC (the defending champs) in our league’s semifinals.

But more important than our record was our desire to fight. Coach Joe, Coach Carolyn, and Coach Craig pushed us to surpass our own expectations. Our practices were usually tough, sometimes ridiculous, and always fun. We definitely fostered a love-hate relationship with the gymateria.

As graduating seniors, we will smile when we think back to our PDS volleyball years. We laughed at Coach Joe’s dorky jokes, made fun of JB, and put volleyballs under our shirts way too much. But more importantly, we loved playing volleyball. To the rest of the team: we will be sure to stop back and cheer on your games with a FSU!

How would you describe the freshmen class in one word?

"Social"  Charlotte Hayden
"Brave"  Obi Ferguson
"Fresh"  Culver Duquette
The freedom. Sure, 9th graders are stuck in study hall for half the year. But there are no teachers trailing you in the hallways like they did in middle school, and you are allowed to leave the lunchroom during lunch whenever you want. It's a lot more responsibility, but if you know what to do with the freedom, it pays off.

Class of 2011
To my Seniors,

I write this reflection in the after-glow of a remarkable fall trimester. The Class of 2011 managed to take on the increasingly demanding college application process and at the same time win as many prep and county championships as PDS fall teams ever have, produce a brilliant ensemble piece in Almost, Maine, snag a second straight powder-puff championship from a worthy rival, and sing, play, dance, paint, photograph, sculpt, sketch, write, calculate, and debate themselves into the fond memories of their admiring teachers.

We also forged special bonds of affection. It is easy to offer friendship to those closest to you, those who love what you love and do what you do. It is another thing to open yourself up to the new, the different, the other. What I see this senior year at class meetings is a group of one hundred and one individuals comfortable in sub-groups but with mutual respect, curiosity and interest in one another’s lives- a real community.

When you read this short piece, and flip through these glossy pages in later life, I hope it is not in an indulgent act of nostalgia or sentimentality, which are just prettier cousins to boredom. I hope these pages help you to recall your time here as life altering, because of what you have learned. What every serious educator desires is to pass on capacities, agency, or abilities. If an individual is ever to acquire a skill set, it usually happens in the first two decades of life. If you play an instrument, speak or read a second language, paint, write persuasively, if you have attained a curiosity for the natural world, if you love to read, analyze, or quantify; if you have a decent back hand, jump shot or slap shot, if you’re not afraid to stand up and make a speech, defend an unpopular point-of-view, or question authority, you probably owe it to an adult here at PDS. Honor them by honoring the skill, or craft they passed on to you.

Sincerely,

Todd Gudgel

Max,

I have to say that these two pictures perfectly illustrate your personality. On the one hand, you are a very innocent, caring, and empathetic person. On the other hand, you are an adventurous maniac. It is the combination of these two sides that makes you a fantastic friend. Most of all, I appreciate your consistent effort to help me. A friend is someone who accepts me; a true friend is someone who improves me. Max, you are a true friend. For that, I am truly grateful.

Sincerely,

Best Friends Forever <3
Ricardo Pozos has just come to a crossroads. As the game of LIFE has taught us all, you must choose, "College" or "Career". This is quite an overwhelming choice as he just overcame another big decision, which color van he should pick (he picked orange... he would... I WANTED ORANGE!!!!!!).

He decides before he can make this choice, he must "find himself". He sought out the wise advise of his great friend, Evan Seto. "You must find the meaning of life," I say. "Go on a spiritual journey." So he travels to China-(what the heck? just because I'm Chinese?). In China, he decides to take a tour bus (a spiritual tour bus). On the bus, he meets Johnny Depp. Mr. Depp introduces Ricardo to Tim Burton. Tim Burton loves Ricardo so much, he decides to cast him in his next movie.

After convincing Ricardo that eyeliner will, in fact, make him a star, Ricardo plays a supporting role in Tim Burton's next movie, Die Hard 5: Revenge of the Zombies. Ricardo and his well defined eyes end up eclipsing Mr. Depp's performance, leading to Ricardo actually killing Mr. Depp in the final shot of the movie. The dramatic and touching ending pleases critics everywhere and get many movie offers. He proceeds to make a series of terrible, but high paying movies. Reclining on a beach in the Caribbean, he realizes that he should choose college. He loses the paparazzi by calling his dolphin minions who create a raft for him. Ricardo returns to New Jersey, where I have been waiting for him to make a decision. He tells me he chooses college and, after 5 months, we finally start playing the game of LIFE. We can only wonder what will happen when we reaches "Choose a career".
The Story of the Rest of Evan Seto’s Life
by Ricardo Pozos

After finishing his epic quest of massive proportions (aka college) Evan Seto is found standing in front of a mysterious man holding a red pill, a blue pill, and a button. The mysterious man explains to Evan his choices. Taking the red pill would make life a whole lot easier for our hero. He would have a mansion large enough to fit the entire population of China (hopefully he gets to see some relatives) and he would have his own army of cute zombie babies (now that’s a deadly combination!). Evan would not have to lift a finger to live out his life. His telekinesis is so strong that whatever he thinks in his mind will come true. However, Evan Seto would become mad with power, his friends will abandon him, and he would resort to making soap figures to comfort him.

The blue pill has a much more difficult yet satisfying outcome. Our adventurer becomes extremely skilled in playing the bagpipes, but, as you may know, the public extremely hates the bagpipes. Evan plays his bagpipes every day at the same street corner in LA, but nobody appreciates his music talent. In terms of living styles Evan lives in the basement with his uncle Wong (what? It could happen!). His uncle Wong has faith in Evan and pushes him to strive for success! Eventually the public has a change of heart towards the bagpipes. He has a record deal, tag teams with his partner Senor Wasser, and rises to the top billboard of 2037.

The red button has a mystery outcome since not Evan nor the mysterious man would know what would happen. But if Evan were to press it, nothing would happen. He would live his normal life and the decisions he makes would be of his own. Which one would he pick? Tune in next time for another episode of Secret Agent/Asian Man!!! (btw by pressing the button Evan would get a $10 gift card to B&N, now THATS an unbeatable deal!)

“but please, remember me, fondly, i heard from someone you're still pretty,
and then, they went on to say, that the pearly gates,
had some eloquent graffiti,
like, 'we'll meet again,' and 'the man,'
and 'tell my mother not to worry,'
and angels with their great handshakes, but always done in such a hurry.”

Everything that happens is from now on.

There isn't much I feel I need, a solid soul and the blood I bleed. Don't mean to seem like I care about material things. I just want four walls and adobe slats for my girls.
"Another turning point a fork stuck in the road. Time grabs you by the wrist directs you where to go."
Ashley Hudson
Like us, each individual tree is genetically distinct in ways we do not normally see. However, much more noticeably, a tree is shaped by its experiences. Like us, the longer it lives the more different and independent it becomes from other trees. A record of what has happened to it becomes inscribed on its body. Wrinkles in the bark reflect age. Branch thickness indicate the loads it has carried and the directions from which it has experienced light. Scars remain where overloaded branches broke off and where moose and caterpillars attacked. The width of growth rings may reflect droughts, crowding, temperature, and prolonged tilt or lean. The tree's general shape and pattern of branch growth result from the competition it has experienced in its struggle for light. There is a local explanation for the heft and warp of every twiglet."
"How many roads must a man walk down
Before you call him a man?
Yes, 'n' how many seas must a white dove sail
Before she sleeps in the sand?
Yes, 'n' how many times must the cannon balls fly
Before they're forever banned?
The answer, my friend, is blowin' in the wind,
The answer is blowin' in the wind."
- Bob Dylan

"General opinion's starting to make out that we live in a world of hatred and greed, but I don't see that. It seems to me that love is everywhere. Often, it's not particularly dignified or newsworthy, but it's always there - fathers and sons, mothers and daughters, husbands and wives, boyfriends, girlfriends, old friends. When the planes hit the Twin Towers, as far as I know, none of the phone calls from the people on board were messages of hate or revenge - they were all messages of love. If you look for it, I've got a sneaking suspicion... love actually is all around. "
"Do what makes you happy,
Be with those who make you smile,
Laugh as much as you breathe,
And love as long as you live."

"Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have imagined." Henry David Thoreau
Leah, you are the butter to my bread and the breath to my life. I will always love you for who you are. You are my very best friend, my alter ego, and my greatest supporter. As we venture off to college I will miss you so much, but I know that we will always be connected. Leah, I don't know what I would do without you. Thank you for always being there.

Love,

Much love and many thanks to all of those who have helped me come this far: My family, my Church Family (Hi Bro. Woods!), Bus Family, Misfits and friends.

Love flew South by West in this week’s wind and planted itself in the field. This is Cornfield Country. Ever fertile, this field can set free the world’s prisoners of war. Chase that wind down the way, now, I remember: this is the part where I get to keep the glass slippers. It is not winter here, despite what you say—despite the stop-loss and the scar tissue, tulle rises. All those years of cleaning, singing to comfort myself, waiting for you all over the earth—are over. Raise your glass, a toast is in order. Fairy Tales have never been my cup of tea, but I feel a good one coming. Believe you me.

Psalm 27

Congratulations to Courtney and the whole Class of 2011!

Now you understand
Just why my head's not bowed.
I don't jump or shout about
Or have to talk real loud.
When you see me passing
It ought to make you proud.
I say,
It's in the click of my heels,
The bend of my hair,
The palm of my hand,
The need of my care,
'Cause I'm a woman
Phenomenally.

Phenomenal woman,
That's me.

In late August, President Obama announced that Operation Iraqi Freedom had officially ended. While the last combat brigade had already vacated, some U.S. troops remained in Iraq through the end of the year to help with training new Iraqi military forces.

HEALTH-CARE REFORM
The Affordable Care Act was signed into law in March 2010, with the hope of enhancing accessibility and quality of health care for all Americans. Prospects for a potential repeal continued for months.

TAX CUT
Amid concerns about stimulating the economy by increasing take-home pay, these cuts saved workers earning $50,000 an estimated $1,000.

Some opponents worried about the decrease the cuts would cause in Social Security funding.

IN RECOVERY

CYBER-BULLYING
Bullying didn't always happen at school or even in person. Some of the most severe attacks happened over the internet on social networking sites or via instant messages. Many worried that internet bullying was becoming more prominent because of the relative anonymity afforded by phantom screen names.

A REAL ISSUE: BULLYING

Though bullies had been feared in schools and neighborhoods for centuries, the changing landscape of peer teasing and torture took several visible turns in recent years.

In the past, intimidation and verbal or physical abuse may have been the most common forms of bullying. Another form of bullying, social alienation, became more powerful as a result of cyber bullying, where a victim's reputation may have been destroyed via emails, blogs, forum posts or text messages.

After what seemed to be an increase in teen and tween suicides due to bullying, many schools, communities and other organizations moved to provide programs and information for affected students and their parents/teachers.

ITGETSBETTER.ORG
This movement, inspired by a 10,000 user-created videos and more than 30 million views, was started in 2010 by author Dan Savage. Among the celebrities, politicians and businesses submitting videos were President Obama, Hillary Clinton and employees of both Facebook and Google. It was a place where people could share their stories. Take the It Gets Better Project pledge and watch videos of love and support.

NATIONAL SUICIDE PREVENTION LIFELINE
By calling 1-800-273-TALK, anyone feeling the extreme effects of bullying could get the support they might need from trained volunteers who were ready to help.

CARTOON NETWORK'S "STOP BULLYING, SPEAK UP" CAMPAIGN
Kid-centric television channels such as Cartoon Network stepped up to the plate in the fight against bullying. They launched their own campaign to encourage kids to speak up and to ultimately get their schools involved in anti-bullying programs.

THE TREvor PROJECT AND LIFELINE
The Trevor Project was established to end suicide among young people by providing life-saving and life-affirming resources including a nationwide, 24/7 crisis intervention hotline (1-866-4-U-TREVOR), digital community and advocacy/educational programs that created a safe, supportive and positive environment for everyone.

EGG RECALL
Nearly half a billion eggs were recalled from nearly 20 states after a salmonella outbreak sickened thousands. All of the eggs came from a single egg-producing company in Iowa.

SNOWPOCALYPSE
Winter yielded record snow levels. Many areas of the country saw multiple school delays and closings due to snow. On Jan. 12, 2011, 49 of the 50 states reported snow on the ground.

IN LIVING COLOR
Scientists revealed the discovery of the biological structure that gives feathers their color in the journal, Nature. The report provided evidence that dinosaurs had a coat of downy feathers.

CAR BOMB ATTEMPT
An observant sidewalk vendor who noticed a smoking car and alerted police helped avoid a potentially dangerous situation in Times Square.

HOW BIZARRE
In a matter of a couple of days in January, hundreds of birds and fish died mysteriously in several states. WV MINING TRAGEDY A devastating April 2010 explosion killed 29 miners and injured others; the mining company had a history of safety and environmental infractions. NEANDERTHAL DNA German scientists partially reconstructed the Neanderthal genome and proved the survival of the genome in modern humans.

AND THEN
Nearly 100 tons of dead fish, mostly sardines, washed up on a Brazilian beach and reports of other mass deaths came from Italy and France.

While theories about the mass deaths included everything from cold stress and fireworks to hail, many scientists suggested that the various occurrences were merely coincidental.
NATURE

THE 'HOLE' STORY
A massive sinkhole in Guatemala City opened up and swallowed a 3-story building after Tropical Storm Agatha flooded the area with more than three feet of rain in May and June.

UNRELENTING RAIN
Nashville suffered its worst flood in more than 80 years after storms dumped more than 13 inches of rain on the region in two days. Buildings were flooded and more than 30 died.

LA NIÑA MONSOONS
Nearly 2,000 were killed and an estimated one quarter of the land in Pakistan was flooded in July. Miles of highway and railways and acres of farmland were ruined.

For months, controlled burns were conducted at sea to help prevent any further spreading of the oil to the shoreline. Coastline in four states was affected.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

BP station boycotts and anti-BP social media groups as well as traditional protests, like this one in Vienna, Austria, allowed people to make their feelings about the oil spill known.

BOUND TO HAPPEN

The follow-up report by the National Commission on the BP Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill and Offshore Drilling said 'systemic' problems caused the blowout/oil spill and only 'significant reform' could prevent future spills.

THE STATS

APRIL 20, 2010

BP oil rig Deepwater Horizon exploded in the Gulf of Mexico, killing 11 men and injuring 17 workers. In late April, BP estimated the resulting leak at about 5,000 barrels (210,000 gallons) a day.

A NEW ESTIMATE

In June, the government produced other figures, estimating that 30,000 - 65,000 barrels (as much as 2.7 million gallons) of crude was pumping into the gulf each day.

OBAMA SPEAKS

The President addressed the nation after traveling to the gulf to survey the damage made to the Louisiana coastline.

ORGANIZED CHAOS

For months, controlled burns were conducted at sea to help prevent any further spreading of the oil to the shoreline. Coastline in four states was affected.

LIVE FEED

The nation was able to survey the oil escaping from the leak site via BP's live video feed, assuring the public that the leak would be taken care of.

MONEY WHERE THEIR MOUTH IS

BP projected that they had already spent $2 billion on clean-up efforts by June. The budget totaled $20 billion over three years.
HOW TO PROPERLY WASH OIL-COVERED BIRDS

STEP 1
Gently flush eyes with warm saline solution. Swab oil from nostrils and bill. Remove any oil from stomach with tube.

STEP 2
Wash oil from body and wings with a dishwashing solution. Make sure to wipe the feathers in the direction they are growing.

STEP 3
Repeat 3-4 times until oil is completely washed away, then gently towel dry bird. Bird will be ready for release in 2-4 days.

DEAD SERIOUS
Oil contamination is often deadly for birds if they are not properly washed and cared for. Oil reverses birds' water resistant feathers, making them vulnerable to temperature change. Oily feathers also make it impossible for birds to fly and can even drag them underwater to drown. The oil can also cause internal harm when birds try to preen the oil from their feathers. It can cause kidney, liver, and reproductive damage among other things.

CLEANING EFFORTS
Scientists and other volunteers worked on all kinds of wildlife affected by the spill. The processes for cleaning birds, turtles, and dolphins varied, as did survivors' chances for recovery. Thousands of birds and dozens of turtles and dolphins perished.

LASTING EFFECTS
In addition to the casualties and the damage to wildlife, there are numerous other long-term effects. Human health issues included increased risk of cancer and other ailments, as well as escalated stress.

Two of the region's other major industries (tourism and seafood) were shut down immediately and suffered lasting losses. Louisiana traditionally contributed a third of the nation's shrimp, oysters, crab, and crawdads and, despite massive marketing campaigns, hotels and resorts on the gulf shore suffered decreased occupancy throughout the summer.

STRENGTH IN NUMBERS
By June, 558,000 barrels had been collected from the water's surface and nearly 1,240 miles worth of boom had been set up to prevent oil from reaching the shoreline.

HELPLESS
While four wildlife rehabilitation centers were established in response to the oil spill, 36 national wildlife sanctuaries were threatened.

OTHERS JOINED IN
Mexico, Norway, Canada and the Netherlands all donated equipment (such as the water-skimming system on the right) to aid in the clean-up efforts.

NO LONGER ASEA
It was estimated that more than 125 miles of Louisiana shoreline was contaminated with the washed up crude oil.

OIL CAPTURE RIG
Discoverer Enterprise, a deepwater drilling vessel, aided in recovering the spilled oil gushing from the leak site after a cap was placed in June.

JULY 15, 2010
After nearly three months, the leak was finally capped, but not before the effects of the spill could be seen in photos that were taken from space.
TIGERS EDGE DUCKS
The top-ranked Auburn Tigers defeated the No. 2 Oregon Ducks 22-19 in the BCS Championship game in Glendale, AZ as the 2010-11 season wrapped up. Auburn quarterback and Heisman Trophy winner Cam Newton threw for 256 yards and rushed for another 64, accounting for two touchdowns. Freshman running back Michael Dyer was named MVP. Senior Wes Byrum kicked his sixth career game-winning field goal on the last play of the game to save the Tigers' perfect season. This was the fifth consecutive national championship for the SEC.

FAST AND FURIOUS X 5
Jimmie Johnson came in second to Carl Edwards at the Ford 400 at Homestead-Miami, but that was enough to vault him over Denny Hamlin in the points race to win his fifth consecutive NASCAR Sprint Cup Championship. Hamlin's car was damaged early in the race and never challenged for the lead. Only Richard Petty and Dale Earnhardt, with seven championships each, had more titles than Johnson. Between 2002 (when he joined Hendrick Motorsports) and 2010, Johnson recorded 53 wins, 203 top-ten finishes and 25 pole positions.

DUKE DOES IT AGAIN
