that raises the soul above the common level of so called 'society.' She is formed to adorn and humanize mankind, to sooth his cares, and strew his path with flowers. In the hour of distress she is the rock on which he leans for support, and when fate calls him from existence her tears bedew his grave. Can you look upon her tomb without emotion ?----Man has justice always done to his memory; woman never. The pages of history lie open to one, but the meek and unobtrusive excellencies of the other sleep with her, unnoticed in the grave In her may have shone the genius of the poet, with the vir-
