GETTING MARKED IN GERMANY This time I was bound to make sur work, and so with the best information I could procure, started off for the civil bureau (Standes Am) to ascertain precisely what was required.

"Upon what business do you come?"
demanded the pompous servant at the door.
"I am an American citizen, and want to know how to get married in Germany,"

He opened the door of the main office and shouted, "Ein Herr Amerikanner wishes to marry himself?" and then showed me into a large and well-filled waitingroom, to take my turn, every occupant of which gazed fixedly at me, without winking, for some minutes. One thin, dark wiry man, in soiled linen and bright yellow kid gloves, lisd dropped in to an nounce the death of his third wife. A rembling young mother was sharply reprimanded for letting the legal third day pass before announcing the death of her child. A somewhat seedy clerk had come, with a radiant face, to announce the birth of a boy fourteen hours old, and to be called Johannes Conrad Hermann Deg-enermeister. A servant girl and her lover were waiting in one corner, she red and giggling, he erect, disnitled and tacturn as a head waiter, to be made man and wife. I had plenty of time to observe, for nearly an hour passed before my turn came. A length I was shown into a long room, with half a dozen clerks at one end, who twisted their necks, adjusted their glasses, and gazed and listened with openmouthed

"I wish to get married in the very sim-plestand quickest way," I said, presenting my passport. "Will you please tell me "It is extremely simple, said the officer.
"We must have a certificate of your birth (Geourtsechein) signed by the burgomaster of the town in which you were born, and with its seal, and witnessed in due form. Your certificate of baptism (Taufschein should also be sent, to guard against all error, sealed and witnessed by the present pastor or the proper church officers. These must be presented here by each of the contracting parties, with their passports, as marriage. We must also be satisfied that there is no obstacle, legal, moral or otherwise, to it; whether either of you have been married before, and if so whether there are children, and if so their names and ages. The parent's names should be in full; also their residence, occupation, age and place of birth should, of course, be given for record here." I begged for another scrap of paper and made further notes.

"When we have these here in this desk," he continued, patting fondly that piece of furniture, "then either we can publish the bans (Aufgebol) by posting a notice of your intention in the Hathhaus for fourteen days, or else you can have it printed in the fournal of the place where you reside in marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients dorive marked and decided benefit from it." journal of the place where you reside in America, and bring us a copy here as eyi-America, and bring us a copy here as eyidence that it has actually appeared. After the expiration of this time you can be married in this office."

Physician to the Grand Duke of Sazony; Enight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

"Must it be here? I queried.
"Of course," he said. "This is the only place which the law now recognizes. Poor people are content with civil marriage only, but all who move in good society go from here to the church for a religious ceremony."

"Is it not possible to shorten the time?"

"Is it not possible to shorten the time?"

"The it not possible to shorten the time?" "Is it not possible to shorten the time?"

and yet I hardly know to explain. But there is really haste. We are pressed for 'Haste? Pressed for time?" he repeated. Perhaps I do not understand I am sorry, but it cannot possibly be sooner. You think we are slow in Germany. True, but we are sure. We require our people to take time to think over the matter before-band and divorce with us is far from being the easy matter I have heard it is in America."—January Atlantic. FROM THE TROY (N. Y.) TIMES. Letters pour in claily, sometimes by dozens, scores and hundreds, to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in grateful acknowledgement of the great benefits re-ceived from his 'Favorite Remedy.' And they illustrate the power of the medicin in some new and perhaps hitherto unteste phase of operation. But it is when a sufferer comes miles to tell the story of his deliverance in person, to grasp the doctor by the hand and greet him as a true and valued friend, that the interest in his case deepens and multiplies." DEACONS WHO "RUN" THE CHURCH. -An ex-deacon of a certain West Sid Church, a learned man, an able man, too is possessed with what we may call a dea-conal ambition—an ambition usually con fined to the owners of country groceries whose trade is increased by the honor. After having been deacon for a series o years, during which time he "ran" th church, he was suddenly ousted at a late election, and is now reported to be plotting to drive the pastor out of the church. "Either he or I will leave within six months, " he has said in effect to his follow ers. The pastor, though able and popular is not a discreet man. He is apt to talk This astate deacon, knowing this, is laying all sorts of traps for his minister, with the intention of mortifying him by exhibiting his catch at some future meeting of the church, thereby compelling him to resign If this ex-deacon cannot rule the church he intends to break it up and will very likely succeed. There was a certain personage who, according to John Milton, had such a design regarding heaven. There are a great many men with this small ambition in the churches. One gentleman with this tendency, who had broken up every church that he had over belonged to, folned a hith-erto harmonious church and commenced his machinations. This church was blessed with a genial and witty deacon, who ed with a genial and witty deacon, who roscone night at a prayer meeting at which his plotting brother D— was present, and commenced to lead in prayer:

"Oh, Lord, we priy that brother D—may die," he said, and the good brother and sisters opened their eyes wide with surprise.

"Oh Lord, we pray that brother D—may die and go to helt," he continued. Blocked beyond theature the nestor. ued. Shocked beyond measure, the pastor raised highead and was about to rebuke the deacon when he finished his petition with the words: For we know that if he goes to hell his will break hp that whole institu-tion in less than a year. " That church was not broken up - Chicago Alliance.

BURNING THE TOP RAILS .- When Vicks borg fell, Geo. A. J. Smith was sent to Columbia, Miss. and relieved Gen. Asboth. While upon an expedition soon after into Tennessee, the Federal soldiers, as was very often the case, made their camp-fires of fence raffa. One evening a native came to Gen. Smith's tent and complained in very forcible language that the soldiers were burning his fence rails. The General replied that he had given strict orders, that his soldiers should take no rails but the top ones, and if he could discover any of them disobeying orders he would have them pun ished, and told the man, to go and see if they were taking anything but the top rall. In a few minutes he returned, saying that they were taking everything on the fence. The General started with him to find the culprits. The fence was fast disappearing.

The complaining native said:
"Dot's you see?"
"Yes," replied the general, 'But I see they only take the top rail."
"Yes but they commence at the top and they go plear to the ground,"
"Exactly, but you can't point out one of my soldiers taking any rail but the one on top."

This was too much for the non-combat ant, and, with an indescribable look on his face, he purned and walked off. THE boy was sitting on the front doorst ap of a very fashionable looking house on Gaiveston avenue. Sitting alongside of him was a dog as hig as a church debt. A man looked over the gate and saked: "Sonny, will your dog biter" "Have you come for the rent. "Yes, I'd like to get it." "Then come right in. He won't bite at all. He will only awallow you whole.
