Rose of Cashmere Hair Tonic.

I This preparation is made from the roses of the Vailey of Cashmere, and is entirely free from Sulphur, Lead, and other poisonons and hiritating substances. It is richly perfumed and renders the use of powders, hair oils, &c., unnecessary. It preserves, softens and beautifies the hair and gives it a rich justre. It is excellent for an irritating or infamed realp. It hever turns rancid. Deaggists self it. ASCHEN-BACH & MILLER, Proprietors, 3d and Callowhill for their De.

B. J. Exematic & Co., Cente:—1 am so overjoyed in view lof the result of an application of your Kendalt's Spal in Care that I feel that I ought for humanithes' scale publish it to the world. About 35 years sail while riding a young myly horse. I was migrach to neight my testicles, and from that time to three weeks ago a slow but constant enlargement has been filler rightly fiving in a great knount of trouble, simode entirely preventing me from horse. Lock triding which as my usual way of taveling. I saw a notice of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, never once thought of it for anything except for horses, but after freedying the medicine and reading over what it is as good for, feeling terribly exercised about my difficulty for I had consulted many physicians and tudes gave me any specific, but when it could be under my one half the slee was poainful in its application that I cafeluided not to repeat it and thought to more abbut it publishers as polinful in its application that I cafeluided not to topeat it and thought to more abbut it publishers as polinful in its application that I cafeluided not to topeat it and thought to more about it publishers as polinful in its application that I cafeluided not to topeat it and thought to more affected in the publication running over a sistee of two weeks and the terrible enlargement is kiness curiety gone, in view of which I cannot dyness my feelings of delight. It has been a God-selid to me, may be send to others with like troubles.
