It's not all had news these days! We just heard of another sensior, it addition to Republican William Scott of Virginia, who acts --mere talk being cheap -- as a friend of the taxpayers. If is Sen. Edward Zorinnky, Democrat from Nebras-ica, who managed to save $300,000 is unspent salary and office expense allouments. He returned the money to the United States Treasury. As the frugal legislator explaine it: "I receive $460,000 per year for office funds and, due to my past business experience, I always look for the cost-henefic ratio, particularly since the expenditure of hard-earned taxpayers' money is involved. I don't believe in spending tax dollars simply because they're there. I believe one must spend only what is needed to get the job done. We must spend only what is needed to get the job done. We also returned some $35,000 in unused office funds allocated for postage, travel, stationery_etc."

Form subsidies huri

concomers and fund some rich growers

The tractor caravan that recently tied up Washington and other cities to protest declining farm income pre-sented one of the more amazing paradoxes of American Many of the firmers driving the tractors were land rich millionaires who had run short of cash because of rich millionaires who had run short of Cash because of plunging world grain prices. In 1973, they reaped a financial bonanza as grain prices shot up to a record $5 a hushel. Farmers went on a hinge of purchasing new equipment and plowing up marginal rangeland in order to reap higger harvests and profits. Fortunately for everyone else, world grain production increased and the shortage that had swelled the bank accounts of the grain program anished accounts of the grain growers vanished. Demands by these same farmers for a new system of farm price supports, that would cover their production costs, represent the most revolutionary step in farm policy since the New Deal Days. It would guarantee them a profit in an industry that produces $200 billion worth of commodities a year. They are not satisfied with the price support and farm subsidies package that Congress passed last year, even though it will cost the taxpayers more than $7 billion this year, up from only $347 million in 1974. Addi-nonaily, the President has the authority to pay farmers another $3.5 billion for not planting part of their acreage. I have opposed the concept of subsidizing millionaire farmers and the wealthy agricorporations, including cotton and tobacco farmers. The boom and bust years in the grain belt are no reason to panic and establish a new subsidy program. Available statistics do not tell the full story of family farm income. They do not include the considerable income earned by farm families off the farm, nor stock dividends and other sources of income. While grain farmers have no doubt financially suffered because of over-controlization and declining origon
