Scotch Plains Board of Adjustment to vote on townhouses, see page 3

The Scotch Plains Board of Adjustment is scheduled to vote tonight on a variance which would permit construction of townhouse condominiums on the south side of Scotch Plains near the Clark line.

The application has occupied the hoard for eight sessions.

The townhouses, if approved, would occupy a 42-acre site which is currently zoned industrial.

The site had long been referred to as the Valley Park Industrial area, It is located adjacent to the Lehligh Valley Railroad, just east of Lake Ave., bounded by the Robinson's Branch of the Rahway River.

As envisioned by developer Robert Newman of Westfield, the 403 condominiums would be groups in 40 principal residential buildings, with a density of 7.6 units per acre.

A minimum age level of 48 years is anticinated for wanting the variance, the applicants indicate the nremises are unsuitable in 40 principal residential buildings, with a density of 7.6 units per acre.

A minimum age level of 48 years is anticipated for prospective owners, with an estimated price per unit of $65,000.

The muck line and cry over unemployment is being used to justify practically unlimited deficit spending. Yet, even in The New York Times is found an article altoring unemployment figures are highly misleading. Many of the "unemployed" are so classified only to quality for some handout, and the last thing many would do is to go to work -- unless, perchance, as chairman of the hoard of AT&T at an appropriate six-figure malary. Marginal businesses will be unable to stand This brings us to consideration of House Resolution No. 50, the Humphrey-Hawkins bill, which made its debut some years back as the Full Employment and Balanced rowth Act, a fearsome blueprint for national planning of our once-free enterprise system. During revisions, some provisions to regiment the United States economy were softened or eliminated. But H.R. 50 is still a bad

The only countries in the world which have full employment are the Communist countries, where being out of work is a crime for which one may be incarcerated Bill would committhis country to a rigid and historically unrealistic numerical target for joblessness — namely 3% after five years. It would establish as a national goal "right of all Americans able, willing and seeking work to full opportunities for useful paidemployment at fair rates of compensation," regardless of the state of the job market or the ability of employers to compete in world markets. Thus it would incredibly expand the ranks of public service job-holders. At heavy cost to the taxpayers, estimated at $30 billion, it would vir-mally make the federal government the employer of last resort. It would even permit the taxpayers to pay the salaries of workers in private business, thus inviting corruption, declining productivity and subsidization of firms which do not deserve to survive.

Despite the glamorizing of the late Sen. Hubert A. Humphrey in his last days of the late death, the fact remains he was dedicated to socialist legislation and hig spending of taxpayers' money for this, that and everything else.

As to Rep. Augustus Hawkins of California, his is not an enviable record. He has been identified under outh as a Communist and has a long history of partici-pation in Communist fronts. This can be readily docu-A hill sponsored by Sen, Humphrey and Rep. Hawkins is as close to a fraud as ever served as a campaign document. It is full of pious promises but contains no measures canable of fulfilling those promises. It would ot reduce unemployment but simply add to government employment and reduce private employment, in the process of making us all poorer and very likely igniting a new inflationary binge.

The bill expands the Job Guarantee Office, local training community job boards, a reservoir of public service and private employment projects, the Standby Job Corps and Community Public Service Work Reservoirs, all rithin each community.

This would be achieved by covering one-third of Social Security funds out of general revenues. The balance would be shared equally by employer and employe.

Escalating payroll taxes which currently threaten massive financial burdens for middle- and higher-income Americans would be replaced with individual cuts of up to $1,013 a year, shared equally by employer and employe. The change would reduce payroll taxes for Social Security by $30 billion, rolling them back to

E program, and should include an assessment of bureaucratic requirements in the school systems.

It would relieve the rising pressures of inflation on the nation's economy.

Lower payroll deductions would reduce production costs, and employers would have an incentive to cut prices in the marketplace and to hire more workers.
Studies by the Congressional Budget Office show this kind of tax cut would do more to combat inflation than President Carter's income tax revision plan.

Unless there is a major revision of the Social Security finding approximation of the funding program, many Americans will find taxes on wages tripling over the next 15 years to levels exceeding what they pay in income taxes.

There is no question in my mind Social Security needs the extra billions of dollars earmarked by Congress. Without these extra funds, the whole system would be indangerof financial collapse, with disastrous consequences for millions of elderly Americans who rely on Social Security for their survival. rely on Social Security for their survival.

The proposal I made is not the only choice available. o federal legislators in their anticipated move to roll of Representatives would approach the same goal by removing some components of the Social Security system One proposal wouldremove Medicare health insurance from Social Security and have these benefits paid from The measure would reduce payroll taxes by $22 billion. Other possibilities include the use of income tax credits to help offset the cost of rising payroll taxes. A major advantage of the change I recommended is it offers straight-forward funding through a policy which was tested and proven effective in scores of other Countries.

Developed countries throughout the world have used general revenues for a portion of their social insurance programs for many years -- Austria, Belgium, Canada, Finland, Great Britain, Ireland, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Swizzerland, West Germany and The use of general revenues to pay for Social Security is not a new concept in the United States. The Federal Advisory Council of 1939 recommended a tripertite approach with equal contributions by employers, employees and the government. There is certainly nothing sacrosance about the Social Security trust fund whi prohibits the use of general revenues. The whole issue of payroll tax burdens created by the new Social Security funding program is expected to come under Congressional review when the House and Senare Budget Committees prepare the first concurrent budget resolutions later this month. It is also expected to be a major topic when the House Ways and Means

A coalition of business, educational, religious and civic groups re-ceived publicity lately by charging there seem to be disparities between the mandates of the law and the namer in which the statute was applied.

Specifically, the group, called Schoolwatch, asked the joint committee to investigate State Education Commissioner Fred G. For years the federal government has enected one program

That may be true. But when you set a goal unemployment by so much in such and such a year, you have and that means more programs, more money and, if that duesn't work, still more mattey.

The catch in all this is inflation—inflation that cats up savngs, grades carnings, says business confidence and leads, altimately, to economic slowdown and still more unemployment. Any temporary sport in dead-end jobs at public expense will agver be worth that kind of misery. Frankly, we wish Congress and the administration would lower the rhetoric and come up with a workable "small goverament" plan-like the right kind of tax cuts to trigger job creation in the private sector, or elimination of those couly regulations that drag down the economy. Jeffrey Bell accused the Senate of "betraying consumers" by passing a farm subsidy hill which, Mr. Bell said, "threatens to be state, would be especially hurt if this hill becomes law," Mr. Bell stated.

"The bill hits us New Jerseyans twice: As consumptions of the state, would be especially hurt if this hill becomes law," Mr. Bell stated.

"The bill hits us New Jerseyans twice: As consumptions of the state, would be especially hurt if this hill becomes law," Mr. Bell stated. sumers" by passing a farm subsidy bill which, Mr. Bell said, "threatens to bring back double-digit inflation in New Jersey supermarket prices."

The conservative, who is challenging Sen. Clifford P. Case of Rahway in the June 6New Jersey Republican Primary, called the bill, "a test of President Carter's leadership."

He added, "If the president is willing to take the heat from special interests in order to serve the national interest, he will promise to veto this disastrous legislation."

The farm bill, passed by the Senate recently, would increase "target" prices and make additional payments averaging 575 an acre in order to reduce the annual food crop by 10 to 20%.

According to the Congressional Budget Office, the bill would add $200 to $300 to the annual food hill of a family of four.

"Obviously New Jersey, as a big food-consuming"

"The bill hits us New Jerseyans twice: As consumers and as taxpayers," he added.

"According to Sen. Edmund Muskie, one amendment alone, the one ever knows how much the total package will cost because it was rushed through the Senate before the Budget Office could give it thorough study," the candidate revealed.

Mr. Bell pledged to, "take the lead in fighting this kind of boondoggle if I'm elected to the Senate. Except for Sen. Muskie, the northeastern senators, like Sens. Case and Harrison A. Williams, Jr. of New Jersey, were strangely passive in last week's debate. Sen. Case voted no, but his mere vote obviously wasn't enough. If I go to Washington, I'll be an aggressive in committee and on the floor——more than just a vote," he concluded.
