An October devotion to the Blessed Mother is being held daily as 12:15 p.m. at Sr. Mary's R.C. Church in The parish's "Outreach" program was formally opened by the congregation's pastor, The Rev. Joseph M. Quinlan, on Sept. 19.

"Outreach" was inaugurated in support of the Archdiocese of Newark's "Renew" program, planned for all parishes from 1978 to 1980.

"Renew" is a spiritual activity for the renewal of personal faith and devotion to Christ through parishaponaored activities.

The prime function of "Outreach" will be to develop personal contact with present church members, inactive parishoners and interested non-Roman Catholics at their neighborhood residences.

Volunteer "Outreach" participants will be known as "Good Neighbor" ministers. They will serve the block on which they reside.

The ministers will first conduct a census ofmembers within their block and develop contacts for distribution of church liberature on a regular basis to Roman Catholic and interested non-Roman Catholic neighbors.

They will also act as linisons between their neighbors and the parish for questions and problems.

The following "Good Neighbors" have drawn the listed block assignments: Mrs. Joan Sonatore -- 382-422 Koesig Pl., even numbers; 2148-2200 Whittier St., even numbers; 407-461 Linden Ave., odd numbers, and 2227-2251 Knapp Dr., odd numbers; Sister Stelle -- 1447-1457 Esterbrook Ave., odd numbers; 232-250 Central Ave., even numbers, and Mrs. Martin Sieben -- 462-538 Sycamore St., even numbers; 43-537 Grove St., odd numbers, and 465-475 Madison Ave., odd numbers, and Thomas Diamond -- 64-158 Russell Ave., even numbers, and 53-135 Richmond Terr., odd numbers. He was uncertain as to when the employes would receive their back pay, however, he noted they will have a priority claim on funds remaining after Gibraltar's secured claim of $1,300,000 is astisfied.

When Quinn & Boden filed in February to reorganize under the protection of Chapter 11, it listed assets of $2,500,000 and liabilities of $3,255,000, of which $1,700,000 was secured.

There are approximately 300 creditors, including many companies in the printing and paper industries. Some of them entered claims in excess of $25,000.

According to court testimony, the equipment at the continue operations.

The plant, which employs some 270 workers, was closed Oct. 13, and preparations were to commence for the immediate insidetion of the lustness.

Attorneys involved in the case said it is unclear when the employes, who are ownion estimated $110,000 in back wages, will receive their pay.

The company had been promised an infusion of money, but the offer was wishdrawn at the last minute, leaving officials without a plan to offer the creditors.

An intra-family smalble and court suit over control of the family-owned husiness appeared to be the primary reason why the company was unable to arrange for a loss.

Quinn & Boden, which ran into financial trouble earlier this year was in the process of reorganizing under Chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act and appeared to be on the road to recovery until last week when the Gibraltar Corp. of America, the company's principal creditor, demanded repayment of $1,300,000 in secured losss.

Gibraltar recalled the note after 12 or so stockholders of the 72-year-old family-owned business ounted the top management, clouding the future of the company. According to court testimony, the equipment at the plant has been appraised at $1,500,000 and the real estate for about $1,000,000.

Howard Diamond of Union, who appraised the equipment, said the plant "is very desirable and has the finest equipment."

He said it is possible as out-of-state company looking for a New York area plant may purchase the company intact and resume operations.

A New York attorney representing Quinn & Boden, John J. Preffer, said arrangements had been made with Herbert Casper, a New York financier, to underwrite continued operations of the company.

However, Mr. Casper withdrew his offer Oct. 12 in court, explaining he was backing out of the deal because of the lawsuit pending in New Jersey Superior Court over the legality of the stockholders' ouster of John and Michael Quinn as directors and officers of the company. starts today The Morristown Antiques Fair, a fall and spring event in Morristown, is due at the National Guard Armory on Western Ave., starting today, for four days under Nuttall-Bostick-Wendy managethe company's outstanding common and preferred stock.

Lets's stop the sale of technology to Russia

President Carter's recent action cancelling the sale of computer equipment to the Soviet News Agency reflects an on-again, off-again pressure campaign against the Soviet Union over human rights.

One week of White House orders the sale of oil technology to the Russians must first be approved by the President. A few weeks later, it grants the sale of technology for a $144 million plant to make oil drill bits. There is no coherent national policy controlling the technology transfers to the Soviet Union and its satellite states in Eastern Europe. The original theory behind detente with the Russians was to link both sides in trade to reduce tensions and the threat of war. The hope was that as Moscow became more dependent on the West economically, it would be inclinded to reform its totalitarian structure and moderate its military or political objectives in the world. But Soviet trials of dissidents, repression of human rights, violations of the Helsinki accord, harrassment of American newsmen, expanded military growth and ventures in Africa dispel that theory. Soviet block countries are using trade with the West mainly to acquire needed technology to bolster their deficient economies. The Soviet Union in particular has used this imported technology to continue its massive buildup of strategic and conventional forces to the point where rough equivalency is giving way to Soviet military superiority. It seems to me Congress must establish an effective mechanism of oversight and control of technology

Mr. fixit's duties left

There's a reason why women slow down, and their work piles up. It's been clear as glass since she lived with that man, but just occurred to me today. It starts when something other than the car falls apart.
I've tagged it, "I'll take care of the condition -- under my conditions."
In fact, there are no special techniques used, no over-time pay -- just patience on the part of the "conditionee." I has to quote anyone to win an argument -- but men are swift to ask at the mention of a flood under the utility, sink, "Why didn't you tell me when it started to leak? I could've done something about it then." The irritated Susy Homemaker will reply, "I did." The defensive Mr. Fixit thinks back, seems to recall something -- but quicly says further, "I thought I told you not to use the machine until I checked it out." That was three weeks ago."

"Okay, I'll take care of it, looking at the calendar, a week from next Wednesday. Try to hold back on the wash til then." Of course, I've never seen him "hold back" when the car coughs, stalls or leaks.

Funny he doesn't "hold back" the rag from cleaning the motor when he does the car. "That's part of it, too, When the scheduled day comes, and he hits the repair job -- the "conditionee" is not allowed to move from he immediate disaster zone. He does the work -- she becomes the apprentice. "Okay, let's see, I'll need the wrench, pliers, special filler adhesive, two sticks to stir it and turn off the main on your way back with the tools. I'll get on the floor and decide where to start." Then again, being an apprentice has it's advantages.
He was removing a sick battery once from his car.
Now when I lift it up, you run and open the trunk. I'll get it to the gas station for a charge. One, two, three, --go!
I immediately opened the trunk of his car.

The winterization program, formulated by the Rahway Community Development Office and designed to help city residents prepare their homes for the cold months, was praised recently by Democratic mayor, Daniel L. Martin, and his runningmates, Councilmen-at-Large Wilson D. Besuregard, Francie R. Swakowsky and Wilson D. Besuregard, Francis R. Switowsky and Vincing Actions.

"Homeowners who qualify may horrow up to $3,500 to intuitee, repair heating units, install storm doors and windows and make other improvements," Mayor Martin explained.

The candidates pointed out the loans are offered on a no-interest basis to those who can repay them within two years and with low-interest to those who require more time.

Councilman Beauregard commended the development office for their efforts at saving residents money, while Controllman Sentowsky praised the Martin administration for enabling Rahway citizens to avail themselves of federal and state programs which don't coat the tax-payers anything. of federal and state programs which don't coet the taxpayers anything.

Mr. Addona concluded, "The mayor is interested in the welfare of all citizens of the city, and he works closely with his staff to see residents are informed and get the henefit of every program there is to offer."

The candidates praised the administration for the research it did in seeking out state and federal programs such as winterization.

Councilment Research also remeated the detailer.

Councilman Besuregard also revealed the development office, encouraged by the mayor, became a member of Neighborhood Housing Services, a county program designed to provide residents of older, descripting neighborhoods with financing assistance to upgrade their properties.

The Democratic hopefuls explained the program is geared toward those residents with incomes which prohibit home improvements because of the costs of hiring contractors and builders.

Councilman Senkowsky commented, "If a homeowner qualifies he may receive a loan to fix up his home at a very low rate of interest by applying to the development office." ment office."

Mr. Addona added, "Many times people don't fix up their homes because they simply don't know how so get a loan. In other cases they may have been had risks at

A bill introduced by Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco, who represents Rahway and Clark, prescribing penalties for the conviction of anyone operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of marijuana passed the Assembly with unanimous approval.

Assemblyman DiFrancesco's legislation extends the current law providing penalties for driving while under the influence of alcohol and certain other drugs to include marijuana.

"Most studies show marijuana, while neither a hallucinogenic or habit-forming drug, can slow motor co-ordination and affect judgement," said the assemblyman.

"No one should be permitted to operate a motor val.

Go easy: Never wring, just squeeze sweaters

Simplied by the Union County
Cooperative Extension Service The new popularity of 100% wool in our wardrobes s visible in wool yarn sweaters, states Mrs. Carolyn Y. Healey, extension home economist.

The warmth they provide as well as their light, airy feeling makes a wool sweater a real addition.

However, for the generation or so who do not know about the care of wool, some new learning is necessary.

Wool sweaters need special handling. When they need to be cleaned, the decision has to be made either for drycleaning or hand washing. Caution is necessary with hand washing to prevent excessive shrinkage.

The first step is to draw the outline of the sweater on brown paper. Next, make a lukewarm solution of water with cold water soap or other mild detergent and mix thoroughly.

Submerge the sweater in the water and gently squeeze the suds through the garment several times. Always squeeze — never wring a wool garment.

Rinse the garment several times in clear lukewarm water. Roll the sweater in a Turkish towel and squeeze to absorb excess moisture. Healey, extension bome economist. to absorb excess moisture.

Unroll and place on the original diagram of the sweater and gently pat and push the sweater to fit the luttine. Allow to dry away from sun or excess heat. A white wool sweater that is placed in the sun to dry

Disabled veterans plan Forget-Me-Not drive

Oct. 21 to 31 were selected as the dates of the Annual Forget-Me-Not Campaign of the Chi. George H. Keller Chapter No. 14 of the Disabled American Veterans. On these days. Forget-Me-Nots, small blue flowers of remembrance, will be applied directly to the assistance of local distressed disabled Veterans and their, families during the coming year. All such funds are so dedicated and allotted by the Chapter No. 14 commander, James Heinbach, reports Marvin Brown, chairman of the Forget-Me-Not Committee.

The anti-senior citizens record of Second Ward-Councilman John C. Marsh and the Marsh-Daniel L.

Martin tax policies are "outrages against senior citizens," charged mayoral candidate John Costello in unveiling his senior citizen program.
"Councilman Marsh's repeated votes against senior citizens, if succeedil, would have caused the Senior Citizens, Center to be unlik for decent human use and the base country Marsh. "Councilman Marsh's repeated votes against senior citizens," Genter to be unfit for decent human use and the high taxation policies of buth former Mayor Marsh and Mayor Martin have driven hundreds of senior citizens out of their hunes," added Mr. Costello.

Councilman Marsh is the Republican mayoral candidate and Democratic Mayor Martin is the incumbent.

To help senior citizens keep their homes and to make senior citizens programs more responsive, the independent candidate pledged to: Urge the State Legislamics to take steps to exempt senior citizens with annual incomes below $10,000 from paying school taxes and reimburse Rabway schools for the lost taxes with income tax money. citizen representatives to advise the mayor and run the Senior Citizens' Center. -- Keep taxes low so senior citizens can afford to keep their homea.

The Countries started out like they were going to run the Country off the field.

Early in the first period, a Comet pune went out of hounds on their 29-yard line, and Clark marched down and sont Mark Francious over from the one, only to have one of many 15-yard penalties called against them. Rich Kirkland scored two touchdowns in the second half, both on short runs, and backfield mate, Dennis Da Bois, rushed for more than 100 yards.

The Comets pierced Clark's tough defense late in the third quarter when Kirkland went nine-yards up the middle for the first tally.

Da Bois highlighted the nine-play, 56-yard march with a 17-yard run.

"Why this author outery for the relief? A book at the statistics provides some valid surveys," explains Mr., Colongolo. Property uses have increased 10% on a national average in the last year.

The average local property tak barden per man, testen or child per year in met $166, compared with about $163 in 1970.

Some homeowers in Los Angeles County who are in the $10,000 to $15,000-income bracket are paying $2,500 in property tenes.

In Buston, there a $20,000 home is about $3,500 or $291.66 a month.

With these stationics, it's no wonder thy a recent pall, conducted by the Advisory Commission on interpretamental Relations, aboved property taxes to be even less popular than inderal income tenes.

About $2% of the usuale polled named property tax as the "lenst fair" of all taxes.

Where these property tax revenue go?

About $2% goes to advention, with the remainder divided between welfare, police and fire departments, highways and local roads, hospitals and other public services. recent sharp increases attientily are due to wage and benefit increases for teachers, sen and firemen and to added services for the The Sammit Bancorpuration, the parent company for Summit and Elizabeth Trust Co., reported record earnings for the nine-month period ended Sept. 30.

Chairman and president of the firm, Thomas D. Seyles, Jr., attend income before securities transfer term increased 31% to $2,0721,000 over the previous year's $2,083,000.

Higher loan volume and improved yields were the major contributing factors to this performance, which on an adjusted per share hasis represents $2.46 What is particularly disturbing, however, is many communities rely almost entirely on property taxes for the revenue they need. As alternative to projectly taxes the National Assn. of Realters and the New Jersey Assn. of Realters orderses is the Matthian and expansion of user charges.

This means humanitaries would be taked for the amount of some services they used rather than being assessed a set amount. Sever use and public busyitals would be just to such examples.

Another alternative would be greater sharing of revenue from the state and federal level.

Income times, the source of most of this revenue, do not discriminate against one particular group of people as property times do with homeowners.

When it comes to getting your car ready for winter, know-how makes the big difference -- your know-how and that of a dependable mechanic.

TIRES —Good tires with good treads are important all year long, but especially so on snowy and icy pavemeans. Snow tires provide additional pulling power in loosely packed snow. Radial tires may or may not improve traction on snow, depending on their tread configuration — that is, a snow tread will perform as a snow tire, and a regular trend will perform as a regular highway tire. Studded tires, in states where their use is permitted, improve both stopping and pulling ability on ice.

TUNE-UP -- Important for dependable starts on cold. mornings. Also, erratic engine behavior can cause skidding or wheel-spins on winter slick roads.

In addition to timing and plugs, have the mechanic check your battery, the entire electrical and heater-defroster systems. Anti-freeze and windshield washer fluid must offer adequate protection for the coldest temperatures you'll encounter.
