Almost everyone, except the professional welfareites, is in favor of more, not less, private sector jobs for Americane. So how does it really comes for the intermitational frade Commission down in Washington to be sentencing to death one American industry after snother?

A recent example is the clothespin industry of Maine and Vermont. This has been ruised by the importation of cheap clothespins made by slave labor in Red China and the Soviet satellites. The Trade Reform Act contains a clause which was inserted by patriotic congression to prevent Communist countries from flooding our markets with cut-rate goods manufactured in their state-owned factories under conditions with which American labor and management cannot possibly commission. And the ITC ruled against blocking the importation of Communist clothespins. Not one of the commissioners were willing to speak up for American jobs by insisting on enforcement of the conditions placed by the U. S. Congress on violations of our law by Commissioners. munist nations.

So now Americans, no matter how reluctantly, must buy Communist clothespins, just as they must buy Communist hand tools, nails, screws, bolts, glass, blue jeans and shoes made by government-owned plants in Romania, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, the Soviet Union and Communist China. These are sold below even their actual cost with the political purpose of weakening America's industrial power and ndermining her morale by putting more workers on The ITC, aided and abetted by the U. S. Treasury

The ITC, aided and abetted by the U. S. Treasury Dept., is also acting against the best interests of the United States in another way, by failing to oversee and abolish dishonest trade shenanigans on the part of the Communists. During the past two or three years, the Soviets and their East European puppets have been established plants in our island dependencies as well as in the continental U. S.A. These plants are simply blinds to circumvent U. S. tariff and import laws governing products from the Soviet bloc.

Bactories have been built on American Samoa, Guam and in the Virgin Islands to produce so-called "American" watches. All their parts are, however, made in Eastern Europe and brought to the islands on Russian Eastern Europe and brought to the islands on Russian ships for "assembly." In many cases, fully-assembled wasches are smuggled past the customs officials. If this practice is permitted to continue, the Communists will capture the U. S. spring-wound watch market, and another segment of American workers will be out of Thus far the ITC and Treasury have shown no interest in this under-handed practice, which brings Com-munist watches into the United States as bona fide American products.

Another trade shenanigan of the Communists is exemplified by the Tungsram light bulb "plant" right here in the Garden State. Tungsram, a Hungarian firm, has gone into business with Phillips of Holland supposedly to manufacture light bulbs hiring American workers. But there is a joker. The Treasury has, incredibly, given the Hungarians the right to import their bulbs until the plant becomes operative. And a careful study of the plant by experts reveals it has seither the equipment nor the space ever to become functional. In other words, it is just a blind to cover the dumping of Communist light bulbs on the American market. it is had enough those who scream the loudest about the unemployment rate should be the first to buy Swedish and West German cars, since every such purchase means penalizing American workers. But how much worse it is when our own government, allegedly operating in the interests of all its citizens, either through stupidity or collusion, facilitates the destruction of whole industries in favor of foreign slave labor products.

At the same time, major programs of President Jimmy Carter which bogged down in his first two years of office will come under fresh study with renewed efforts orchestrated by the White House to maneuver them through a new Congress. . During the Revolution, the Continental Congress proclaimed occasional Thankagiving abservances. President George Washington issued the first presidential Thankagiving Day proclaimation for Nov. 25, 1799.

President Thomas Jefferson, apparently more sensitive to conflicts of church and state, didn't care for the idea of a federal Thankagiving holiday, and more was decreed again until 1815.

Observances were left thereafter to the states. By 1859 many states were proclaiming the fourth Thursday in November as Thankagiving.

That, perhaps, is attributable in large measures to Mrs. Sarah Hale. As editor of the Ladies Magazine in Boston and later of Godey's Lady's Book of Philadelphia, she pushed for a standard observance.

She lobbled in letters to presidents, governors and other men of influence.

She lobbled in letters to presidents, governors and other men of influence.

Mrs. Hale wrote her crowning Thanksgiving editorial in September, 1863. On Oct. 3, a national proclamation, echoing much the same sentiment as her editorial, was issued by President Abraham Lincoln.

Almost every president and governor has since followed President Lincoln's lead, proclaiming the fourth Thursday as Thanksgiving.

Just one man had tried to alter the tradition. In 1939, attempting to help merchans by lengthming the Christmas shopping season, Pranklin Rossevelt moved Thanksgiving alread one week.

The change was protected, and in 1941 Congress issued a resolution moving the holiday back to the fourth Thursday.

Hospital self-insurance may cut patient costs

Two years ago when hospitals were being asked to pay excessive rates for professional liability insurance, Rahway Hospital joined with several others in the state to form a self-insurance company called the Health Care insurance Exchange (HCIE).

Today the exchange is receiving government recognition for its cost controls efforts through the refinding of montes paid on premiums during the past two ing of monies paid on premiums during the past two years.

As it was assounced to the media, insurance Commissioner James Sheeran approved a request from HCIE to lower its premiums and return the excess monies to member hospitals in the form of relamins.

According to Gary Out, assistant director of finance at Rahway Hospital, "As one of the founding hospitals of HCIE, we can probably expect to receive a $85,000 to $100,000 refund."

He explained each of the founding hospitals was required to help with capital start-up costs and other hospitals, which later joined HCIE, will also receive refunds depending on their size and premiums paid.

The reduced premiums and refunded monies to he received by Rahway Hospital will be reflected in patient care costs, says Mr. Ost, who believes the henefits are already legisming to be felt.

"The refund will be directly reflected in a reduced rate of increased costs. It is another step in trying The refund will be directly reflected in a reduced rate of increased costs. It is another step in trying to keep costs at a minimum and on a state-wide basis shows hospitals are and have been committed to the voluntary cost-containment effort," he added.

"The concept of the exchange has been so successful member hospitals are investigating the feasibility of underwriting additional coverage through the exchange for hospital property insurance," the finance aide concluded.

the debt will continue to pyramid if the consumer continues to make credit account purchases and make use of credit cards. Eventually, he may have to face repossession of the family car, salary attachment or even the loss of the home.

The first thing to do when you realize you are overextended is to stop yourself from aliding any further into the credit-debt quagmire. Stop making credit purchases. If you have built up an unmaageable debt with your credit accounts don't charge your purchases. Cut jour credit cards in half and send them back to the issuer if you sincerely feel you cannot avoid the temptation of making even more credit purchases.

Don't default on your debt obligations, if it appears you will not be able to make payments, talk to your creditors first. If your situation is not too serious, you may be able to renegotiate the renayment terms of your for incoming Congress may be able to renegotiate the repayment terms of your loons and other debts. ### New SETCO system eids checking trensfer

A Summit and Elizabeth Trust spokesman amounced the introduction of the firm's newest service, Transfer II, enabling customers to pre-authorize the transfer of funds automatically or by telephone from savings to checking.
Transfer II allows customers to earn interest on their checking funds, until needed, and provides automatic overdraft protection. This new concept, which will allow SETCO to offer an interest rate equal to that of any financial institution, is as close as any New Jersey bank can legally come to paying interest on checking accounts.

The new service, according to Robert G. Cox, executive vice president of the Summit-based bank, "is a logical expansion of our popular telephone transfer service introduced early last year. The combination of automatic and telephone transfers gives customers management over their banking relationships which few other banks can offer and eliminates the need for frequent trips to the bank. Additionally, it is an encuptional package of services and conveniences designed to enable our customers to maximize earnings on their checking funds while maintaining complete restants and flexibility." fransfer II features include a built-in cash reserve when the customer qualifies, free traveler's checks and notary service, and 25% off the Bank's installment loan rate. The charges for Transfer II are based on com-bined balances held in both checking and savings accounts. For customers maintaining a combined hal-ance of more than $2,500, the service is free. Monthly fees range from $2 to $5, depending on combined balances, up to $2,500, with a 25¢ charge for each day transfers are made.

Museum underwhelms housework Rembrands EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was submitted by Mrs. Georgette Leoutsakos of 2297 Church St., Rahway, to The Rahway News-Record and The Clark Patriot.

It is four o'clock, and I am still sitting here in this museum. Who am I trying to kid? Me, the great authority? I can't even distinguish between Greek and Roman art. Ruins? The Greeks think they invented everyman art. Ruins? The Greeks think they invented everything. They should have seen my house after my daughter's pajama party last month. That was ruins. I still don't know why I selected to visit this place. I complained about the house and the routine of the kids. My husband said go out. So here I am, awaiting the great conjunction between housewife and culture.

The thing is, when I look at these paintings my eyes settle first on the dusty frames, and I get a wild impulse to clean them. And truthfully, the closest thing I ever had to an art experience was finger painting with my five-year-old last week. Some day this is turning out to be. I wonder why those people are staring at me? Ha, they must really think I'm into this painting. Fact is, I can't get my feet back into my shoes. Thank goodness those tourists didn't question me on famous Italian—creators. The only one I could name is Chef Boy-R-Dee.

What the heck do I know? To me a masterpeice is a self-cleaning oven. I may as well go home. Rembrandt and Michelangelo have failed to enlighten me. I belong in my own world where art and sculpture is created with Dutch Boy Paint and Play Doh.

Affected with Down's Syndrome (mongolism), Miss Spencer, a 30-year-old county resident, has been in the center program since 1971. For five years she participated as a Candy Stripe Volunteer at Runnells Hospital, helping with light hospital duries, such as making beds. She is enrolled in a program of personal hygiene, grooming and leisure training.

Contributions to the United Way help make successes like Miss Spencer's possible. Instead of hiding, suppressing and confining mentally-handicapped or retarded persons, specialized United Way agencies are available to those who need them. With the proper guidance and education, retarded persons are encouraged to strive towards living at their greatest potential. Clark and Rahway residents will soon receive a letter from the United Way, and Miss Spencer's picture will be on it. Without contributions, the opportunities at the Independent Living Center, as well as the services of the other agencies who benefit from United Way support, might be curtailed.

The Gaels opened the game on the third play of the game when Mark Ruddy ran 62 yards for a touchdown and Mark Kojak kicked the extra point.

The indians took the next kickoff and reached the 17yard line, where they lost the ball. A Hugger-to-Bodnar pass for 29 yards was a big play in the drive.

Rahway then marched 67 yards in 10 plays which saw Hugger pass to the sideline to Powell, who grabbed a short pass and changed direction and outran his defenders for the touchdown with only 56 seconds left in the second period.

In the third period the Indians' defense held the Gaels on the 17-yard line.

Riding Hood holding a little basket and bringing it to her grandmother's house. I would like to pick lots of pretty flowers for her grandmother because she is very sick and always had to stay in bed. One day the hig wolf comes to grandmother's house and eats her up. Then Little Red Riding Hood comes through the door and the wolf eats her. The woodsman hears her acresm and runs right into the house and cuts the wolf right in two and Little Red Riding Hood and her grand-mother both jump out and are saved. That is the end of the wolf.
