

NATIONAL DEMOCRAT

RAILWAY & JOURNAL

OUR NEW YORK LETTER

New York, Sept. 12, 1915

THE STRONG & KEEL

Interlocking of railways

crowded the streets of a city which had been a quiet

town for many years

long time. It was one of the most

curious scenes

which I have ever witnessed

in my life.

The scene was

repeated in many other places. It was one of the most interesting

scenes

which I

have

ever

witnessed

in my life.
