ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOV. 8TH.
Polls Open at . . . 7 A. M.
" Close . . . 7 P. M.

Voters of Rahway! can you vote for a man who allows a bill to pass the Legislature to take from us our valuable water privileges and give them to the city of Elizabeth? That is what A. A. Drake, the Republican candidate for Assembly, did last winter. Vote for Joseph W. Yates, and thus assist in keeping Mr. Drake from doing the district further damage.

◆

The Republicans have nominated for Mayor, F. B. Chetwood, and for Freeholders, C. E. Moore, James Gaig, T. A. Little and I. O. Reeves.

◆

Robert Rusling, the radical candidate for Congress was in town this week. He doubtless "saw" some of his friends and left some of his profits out of the Revenue bureau. Of course he does not expect it to do him any good in advancing his chances for Congress, but hopes to help some other part of the ticket. Mr. Bird should get almost the unanimous vote of the district, if competence is the standard.

◆

The Advocate of [illegible] that Joseph W. Yates, [illegible] for Assembly, [illegible] will disburse [illegible] his election. This is a great mistake. [illegible] ken, and against Mr. Drake's [illegible] state-capability. Mr. Drake is the [illegible] to spend the money, and [illegible] republicans to vote for money and [illegible] ness, will vote for Drake. [illegible] want a representative that is [illegible] conscientious, capable, [illegible] a friend [illegible] Joseph W. Yates the people's [illegible]

◆

There seems to be [illegible] the parties who generally [illegible] purchasing for the Republican party. The trade has [illegible] merchants [illegible] estate amount of money [illegible] up in business, [illegible] of them are [illegible] the cold," and there is [illegible] contention as to who will be the [illegible] ones to "gobble up" Drake's [illegible] Probably he will [illegible] satisfy all hands. [illegible] dollar strikes [illegible] said that is the price [illegible] some of the [illegible]

◆

The Republicans [illegible] igently [illegible] and getting [illegible] next Tuesday, [illegible] give in the [illegible] not be [illegible] polls. The Republicans [illegible] only hope is in [illegible] we mistake [illegible] enough voters in the district [illegible] before acting [illegible] Republican [illegible] party and [illegible] Assembly, and [illegible] vote for the white [illegible] party [illegible] a capable representative.

◆

Since the love feast [illegible] black and white Republicans in the M. E. [illegible] Church, considerable activity has been noticed among the colored [illegible] Gen. Butler has been dilating on the street corners to his black and white friends, and says that "Ebery colled man dat wotes de Demercratic ticket ought to be hung, sar!" He is considerably troubled about the poll tax on the colored voters, and says he would "like to know for sartin bout dat [illegible] tax-um." Why, bless you, General, there's where you darkeys have the best of us poor white trash; you can vote, according to the United States law, but we can't make you pay poll tax, according to the laws of New Jersey. Who says the negroes are not better than white folks?

◆

Drake went against the interests and wishes of his own [illegible] last winter in many cases, after [illegible] otherwise. He voted against a [illegible] railroad; he voted for the Elizabeth water bill—taking the water from the Rahway river; he is the author of the great dog law, which requires every owner of a dog to pay from two to three dollars state tax, and also to have a dollar with the [illegible] and the dog to be registered in the clerk's office, thus making great cost and trouble to owners of dogs. As some have not fully complied with this law during the past year, he will most likely get a supplement to it, if elected, to make a heavy fine upon all who do not comply with the law, for he says the law is one of the best ever passed. Vote for Joseph W. Yates if you want a man capable of legislating for the interests of his constituents.

MORE VICTORIES!

The Democratic victory in West Virginia is overwhelming. An extra of the Wheeling Register gives returns from 23 counties, showing a Democratic majority of 5000. There are twenty-nine counties to be heard from, which the Register says will give 5000 more on the same side. The whole Democratic ticket is elected, a result which marks an extraordinary revolution in public sentiment. In 1868 Grant had over eight thousand majority, and his party had a majority of 14 in the Senate and 8 in the House. Now this is swept away, the Democratic majority in the State is between five and ten thousand, and the Legislature is two-thirds Democratic. And this result is achieved, despite the voting of all the negroes, and the disfranchisement, by radical laws, of thousands of white men. A more emphatic rebuke to the administration could hardly be conceived. The first result of the Democratic victory will be to let in some 40,000 now disfranchised citizens, who will hold the State Democratic ten years by a sweeping majority, and next this comes the election of a Democratic United States Senator in the Forty-second Congress, in the place of W[illegible] the present Republican member. This is truly a disappointment, though an agreeable one, to the Democracy, as we had no idea of doing so well in that state.

Dakotah Territory has been carried by the Democracy, Armstrong, Democrat, having been elected Delegate to Congress. Another gain.

◆

A TERRIBLE MAN.—The Advocate labored hard and brought forth a mouse in its last issue, by announcing the awful intelligence that Joseph W. Yates, the Democratic candidate for [illegible] in this district, had employed workmen from another state in building a house, and ends by enquiring "How about the Coolie system?" Exactly where the point is we don't see. [illegible] means [illegible] between intelligent [illegible] and the [illegible] we answer Yes [illegible]

◆

The Republicans [illegible] had [illegible] meeting at the [illegible] on Tuesday night, a number [illegible] publican office holders [illegible] being present, among whom we noticed City Attorney, Street Surveyor [illegible] Overs and Chandler [illegible] Justice [illegible] others. Speeches were made [illegible] white [illegible] spent a very pleasant evening [illegible] "men and brethren." We learn that after the principal speaker had [illegible] of his colored brethren arose and [illegible] last spring he was promised [illegible] by the gentleman who just spoke, but after election the work was given to a Dutchman, and said "I [illegible] public [illegible] de work [illegible] money [illegible]" Of course [illegible] Drake's [illegible] case.

When Democratic journals [illegible] that the law passed by Congress [illegible] the enforcement of the fifteenth amendment would be followed by the appearance of military forces at [illegible] the statement was denied by the radical papers. Now mark the event! While the people of Philadelphia are voting, federal troops with fixed bayonets are marched into the city, and the official who orders it points to the law of Congress for his authority. Were Democrats mistaken as to the meaning of that law?—True American.

It is reported that the reason a quorum could not be obtained in Council on Tuesday evening was that nearly all of the Republican members had to attend to a darkey "prayer meeting"—we mean praying the darkies for their votes next Tuesday.

ADDRESS OF THE NEW JERSEY STATE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

To the Democrats and Conservative men of the State of New Jersey:—In view of the near approach of an election for members of Congress, members of the Legislature and County officers, the Democratic State Executive Committee deem it their duty to address you, and to invoke your most earnest exertions to prevent the Radicals from acquiring power in this hitherto Democratic and Conservative State.

The experience of the past ten years has given innumerable proofs of the length to which the radical party will go for the retention of power in their hands.

The frequent violations of the constitution, its fraudulent amendments [illegible] the negro [illegible] suffrage, and [illegible] States, a preponderance in their government over the whites, the extravagant [illegible] of the public funds [illegible] system of taxation, the maintenance of [illegible] industry of the people [illegible] of the public lands [illegible] yet growing [illegible] the hard working farmers [illegible] standing army [illegible] [illegible]

The Republican party [illegible] and manner [illegible] the people and [illegible] from power as [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] A New York Republican of [illegible] prominence [illegible] Grant [illegible] Governor Hoffman [illegible] majority.

◆

C. T. W. [illegible] is out in a letter in the National Standard [illegible] the New York hotels—the Astor House among others—for excluding colored people. He announces also that the St. Denis, which took in colored boarders last winter, has now taken the back track "in reference to the prejudices of a snobbish, conscienceless and indifferent people."

A Java grandee is coming to this country with his eighty one children, and desires to secure board in some quiet family.

RAHWAY, Oct. 29, 1870.

MR. EDITOR:—"From the fullness of the heart the mouth speaketh." My heart is overflowing with gratitude towards the Democratic party of this Assembly district for the wisdom they have displayed in the selection of their candidate for the Legislature. My desire to become acquainted with his views upon matters relative to the interests of the people of the district has been gratified, and have learned, from his liberal and intelligent views candidly expressed that he has an integrity of purpose and possesses with a species of magnetism that must, of necessity, draw to him numerous friends, and which accounts for his having so many admirers irrespective of party. [illegible] intoxicated policeman. The chase was continued up River street to Bridge and there he stopped and conversed with some lookers on. The janitor of the station house, headed by the chief, after consultation, in which they were heard to remark that he must not be offended, proceeded across the bridge, and in a short time returned with their drunken comrade, well guarded by them on both sides. He was taken into the police station and, we suppose, stowed away to sober off, after which, it is to be presumed they told him of the dreadful consequences that might come to their party if he continued thus to insult their colored voters. I would suggest that they keep him for a worker in the first ward to get colored votes as he may be more successful than the first ward Freeholder, because he could beat the color of voters [illegible] the polls if moral suasion would not answer, and tickets [illegible]

NEW STYLE OF PICTURES.—Mr. James O. Stacy, photographer of this city, has secured the right to use a new process for making pictures, called the Stacy Photo-Crayon Process. The beautiful results obtained in using this process speak for themselves. We have before us a specimen executed by Mr. Stacy, the subject being a child, and the picture most life-like. It is handsomely worked up and it would be hard to make any one except those fully posted in the art, to believe that it is anything else but a finely worked up crayon picture. One great advantage is that old negatives can be used, presenting a new style of picture without a new sitting, and also that the picture can be delivered complete on the same day it is ordered.

LITERARY.—Again the hall occupied by the Young Men's Literary Society has been filled to overflowing. On Tuesday evening of this week, notice having been given that a question of general interest would be discussed, a numerous and fashionable audience convened at the hall, and awaited with impatience the opening exercises. At the hour of opening the seats were found to be all occupied, and the immense number who came in immediately after rendered it difficult for many to obtain standing room. The president, Mr. Jackson, called the meeting to order promptly at the hour designated. The regular opening exercises being over, Mr. Stanton read a well prepared essay which was generally appreciated. Much regret was experienced at the absence of Mr. A. L. Miller, who was expected to declaim, but did not arrive till later in the evening.

The question for debate, "Ought females to be admitted to the learned professions, Law, Medicine, and Divinity?" was handled in a splendid manner by the disputants, Messrs. J. W. Savage, Jr. and L. F. Stanton in the affirmative, and Messrs. L. C. Hinman and [illegible] Oakey in the negative. The eloquent remarks of Mr. Oakey who, not being a regular [illegible] was unexpectedly called [illegible] of the negative, were received [illegible] as were also those of Mr. Savage in the affirmative.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Impressive Ceremonies Will Be Held Here; Line of March Announced

G. A. R. TO PARADE

Every military, fraternal and civic organization in Rahway has been invited to participate in the Memorial Day parade in this city, according to the final plans made for the celebration here on May 30 by the Central Committee at the City Hall last evening. The line of march was announced by Grand Marshall Samuel L. Morton, whose chief of staff was announced as John J. [illegible] of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, while Commander Edward N. Andrews, of the United Spanish War Veterans, will be the Grand marshall's aide.

The program and line of march will be similar to that of last year, the Grand Marshall stated. The units will form at Main and Commerce streets, the parade will proceed up Irving street to Grand street, to Church street, to Union street, to the Rahway Cemetery where services will be held, from the cemetery the line of march will go down High street to Westfield avenue, back down Grand street to Church street, to New Church street, to Central avenue, to Maple terrace, to Elm avenue, to Bryant street, to West Milton avenue, to Main and Cherry streets, where it will be reviewed by the Grand Marshall, Mayor and Common Council.

It is expected that the parade will be led by the two G. A. R. veterans in Rahway, and the Mayor and Council and then the military units of the city. The second division will consist of patriotic and fraternal organizations such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, lodges, [illegible]. The third division will be the police and fire departments and the auto division for the disabled veterans and members of the auxiliaries.

The program will consist of the placing of wreaths on the Soldiers and Sailors Monument at Central avenue and Main street and the World War Memorial at Pierpont street and the Lincoln Highway by the three active military organizations, while the Central Committee will stand the cost of the G. A. R. wreaths to go on these monuments.

The services will be held over the Grave of Corporal John Mulvey, a member of the local V. F. W. post. Commander Andrews of the United Spanish War Veterans will have charge of the service and will give the ritual of that organization with the V. F. W. and American Legion providing members for the firing squad. Following a discussion at last night's meeting about the adding of a part of the V. F. W. and Legion ritual, Chairman John T. [illegible] asked the commanders of these organizations to get together in the near future to decide just what portion of each service will be used by their group. It is the plan of the Central Committee to have only one service as last year. Mayor Adolph [illegible] will be asked to speak a few appropriate words, while a local minister will also be invited to give a brief address.

The parade will be preceded by an early morning service [illegible] the Ladies Auxiliary who will hold an impressive service [illegible] in the Empire Theatre. [illegible] tending to form for the parade.

The committee in charge of decorating the graves will do this work on Sunday, May [illegible] evening of that day the veterans have been invited to attend a special service to be given at the Holy Comforter Church by Rev. R. W. Elliott. The veterans will meet at the V. F. W. rooms in the Roberts building and march to the church in a body. This service will take the place of separate services held each year at the [illegible] and St. Mary's cemeteries.

Fifty letters have been sent out to citizens asking for contributions to the general fund for the celebration, Treasurer Harry Newman reported. To date but [illegible] have been received, while the P. O. S. of A. have sent in their contribution. He said the Elks and Carpenters' Union have also contributed and these checks should be received shortly. At the present time a band and drum corps have been engaged for the parade, but another band will be added if the contributions received warrant it.

Mr. Newman also [illegible] about the dilapidated [illegible] of the War Memorial on Pierpont street. He said it was a regular [illegible] the bus terminal there had [illegible] a dumping ground for papers, etc., and old boxes were tossed behind some of the shrubbery. Chairman [illegible] would interview Councilman William H. Armstrong, [illegible] street committee, [illegible] could be done to [illegible].

The Grand Marshall was authorized to draw up a [illegible] the Central Committee [illegible] name of the veterans [illegible] giving a full program [illegible] rial Day exercises [illegible].

The committee also [illegible] for the G. A. R. as [illegible] graves.

Spanish War Vets Name Andrews for State Office

Commander Edward N. Andrews, of Gilmore Post, No. 16, United Spanish War Veterans, has been put forward for the office of Junior Vice-department Commander by the members of the local post. This election will be made at the annual encampment on June 13 and 14 at Asbury Park. The local post has taken a page in the souvenir program and in this space has endorsed their commander for the high position.

The Memorial Day committee reported all arrangements made for the service at the Rahway Cemetery. Chris Paulson, chairman of the graves committee, has secured 500 small flags from the Freeholders and he and Adjutant Michael Ryan will place these on all veterans graves on May 29.

Visitors were present from Dewey Camp, Newark, including Commander F. W. Witt, Quartermaster H. E. Coughlin and Quartermaster Sergeant C. B. Tagert, all of whom spoke. Past Judge Advocate Hughs, of Trenton Camp, No. 42, was present. He is now a resident of this city. Comrades Collins, Tompkins, Russell and McCann, of Keyport Post, were also present. The Army Mule Prize was won by Quartermaster George Rowley.

FAMILY HEIRLOOMS IN ANTIQUE SHOW

Exhibition of Famous Old Rahway Antiques Opens Friday Evening

Plans are nearly complete for the Antique Show to be held at 613 St. George avenue, beginning Friday evening, for the benefit of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Rahway Memorial Hospital. A large number of old heirlooms will be on exhibition.

Mrs. W. H. Little has loaned the curtains which hung in the house of her great-great-great-uncle Barnabas Webb of Scituate, Massachusetts, who served in the Revolution in Captain Nathaniel Winslow's company of Colonel Thomas' Regiment of Massachusetts troops. The curtains are of homespun linen and quaintly painted with a scene of a mill and a waterfall. Mrs. Little is also lending an ancient whale-oil bullseye sewing lamp by the light of which thousands of tiny stitches have been set.

Miss M. H. Macann is lending a tall grandfather's clock which was built by Isaac Brokaw in the [illegible] days when Rahway was Bridgetown, and also a framed copy of the Ulster County Gazette of January 4, 1800. The columns have mourning borders for the death of General George Washington. There is also a headdress worn by one of Miss Macann's ancestresses about the time of the War of 1812.

The committee expects to have a bedroom, living room and kitchen furnished in the style of a hundred years ago and there will be a treasure room, where small, valuable objects will be kept under glass. The lawn about the building is being beautified under the supervision of Mrs. William H. Rollinson and Mr. Kenneth Baumann, landscape architect, and every effort is being made to make the show attractive as well as historically interesting.

VETERAN DRUG ADDICT

A telegram has been received by Acting Chief of Police George W. Stewart from the Bureau of Navigation informing him that the unknown World War veteran who was found wandering in this city [illegible] was found to be Jerome Franklin alias James Joseph Buckley, a navy deserter, gave his home address as 226 West 142nd street, New York city, and his father Louis Franklin, same address, as next of kin when he first enlisted. His second enlistment papers gave his name as Buckley and his address as [illegible] West 145th street, New York city, and an aunt, Mary [illegible], as next of kin. He was also a drug addict the report stated.

SCOTT AVE. STATION DAMAGED BY FIRE

110 Feet of Platform Destroyed; Haydock St. Building Damaged

HALF HOUR APART

Sparks from a passing locomotive is believed to have caused a fire which destroyed 110 feet of the westbound platform at the Scott Avenue station of the Pennsylvania Railroad at 4:29 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The blaze had licked its way under the creosote-covered pine boards of the platform and gave the firemen a sixty-five minute fight before the fire was extinguished.

The entire department answered the alarm from Box 37, Elizabeth and Jackson avenues, and when the firemen arrived they found the western end of the wooden platform enveloped in flames. An 800-foot line of hose was laid and 89 gallons of chemicals were played on the fire. The fire-fighters were forced to rip up much of the platform to get at the blaze.

When called out to fight the platform fire, Engine Company No. 1 had just returned from a stubborn blaze in the rear of the building at 32 Haydock street, owned and occupied by Joseph Mancuso. Several bundles of baled linoleum had become ignited from sparks from the city incinerator, and one line of hose 200 feet long was used to put out the fire. The call was received at 3:55 o'clock and the company was out thirty-seven minutes.

UNCLE CORY NAMES JACK RABBIT WINNERS

Two Girls Submit Best Drawings In Record Picture Contest

With Little Jack Rabbit safe at home in the Old Bramble Patch, the Record's youthful readers seemed to be inspired for this week's pictures appeared to be more carefully colored and a better selection of colors used than at any time since David Cory, The Jack Rabbit Man has been in Rahway. Then again, this might be due to spring which has brought out the beautiful coloring of all the bits of nature around us and has helped the little artists to color their drawings more delicately than when the March blasts and April showers made the landscape gray and barren.

Today's Record contains a story by Uncle David Cory with a picture for all the Record juvenile readers to color and submit for the two delightful David Cory books which are given each week to those two artists who submit the best drawing. The Jack Rabbit Man wants as many pictures for him to look at as possible, so if you have already won a book keep on sending in your drawings and possibly you might win another. As for those who have faithfully sent in their drawings each week, Uncle Cory asks them to have faith for their prize might be just around the corner.

The Jack Rabbit Man received a letter this week which said, "Do we have to buy these books. I've tried and tried and haven't got one yet." Don't give up little girl, your drawings are showing constant improvement, and let us hope that you will be among the winners during the next few months.

A unique drawing was submitted by Adelaide Appelmann, 9 years old, of 290 Hamilton street, and this earned for her one of the prizes offered this week. She outlined the trees, boat and water and neatly garbed the Billygoat and Little Jack Rabbit in garments like Joseph's coat of many colors. The other winner of Uncle Cory's beautiful Jack Rabbit books is Irene Warga, 10, of 274 Jaques avenue, whose crayon work was especially neat.

THREE KILLED, 13 INJURED, WHEN BUS AND SEDAN HIT

DRIVER RELEASED ON $1500 BAIL

With Daniel F. Wookey, the only survivor in the Ford sedan which was hit by a Public Service bus at Lawrence street and the new highway late Saturday night, believed to be recovering, the toll of this accident stood today at three dead and thirteen injured. The bodies of John L. Johnson, Miss Lillian Gray and Mrs. Mary Goodrich, who were riding with Wookey in Johnson's machine were removed to their homes for burial yesterday, while Milford A. Long, of Lawrence and Milford streets, Vineland, driver of the bus, was released by Prosecutor Abe J. David yesterday in Elizabeth on a technical charge of manslaughter, after he had given bail of $1,500 to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The accident, the most serious of the many crashes at this point since Route 25 was opened some months ago, occurred at 11:45 o'clock when a Penn-Jersey bus carrying members of Company L, 114th Infantry, New Jersey National Guard, returning from a review before Governor Morgan F. Larson at the Elizabeth Armory Saturday night, crashed head-on into the new sedan owned and operated by Johnson. The engine was ripped completely out of the Ford and tossed on the highway, while the bus careened across the road, jumped the curb and went into the former city dumps where it turned over but miraculously righted itself, which saved the thirty-odd soldiers in it from serious injury.

The list of dead and injured are:

COUNCIL TO RECEIVE TRUNK SEWER REPORT

Citizens' Committee Inspected 3,000 Feet of Section Two

Between 2,000 and 3,000 feet of Section 2 of the Rahway Valley Trunk Sewer was inspected Saturday afternoon by the special citizens' committee appointed by the Common Council to supervise the construction work of that project in this city. The committee met at the office of Chairman John J. Quinn following the inspection and drew up a report which will be submitted to the Council at tomorrow night's meeting.

Chairman Quinn would not state whether or not his committee found the work up to specifications but, it is understood that they found parts where the work was not done as directed. The committee not only went over the 1,400 feet of sewer laid by the Mountainside Construction Company but also that done by the bonding company.

The Mountainside Construction Company began the work on the sewer but this company failed before the work was completed and it is now being carried on by the bonding company who are said to be doing the work in a very satisfactory manner.

Because the committee was appointed by the Council and the members feel the municipal body should be the ones to divulge the findings of the committee, Mr. Quinn said he did not feel free to release the report before the meeting tomorrow night. It is known that a comprehensive report has been prepared and that the committee has made recommendations to be carried out. The committee will meet again shortly at the call of Mr. Quinn.

Those participating in the inspection were: Chairman Quinn, Secretary William H. Armstrong, Councilman C. G. Saal, Paul T. Kline, J. H. Maget and Bernard Engelman. B. L. Murray and Councilman S. D. Love were unable to be present.

Besides the report of this special sewer committee, the Council tomorrow evening will again act on the Zoning Ordinance and take up twenty-one street assessments for their first reading.

FESTIVAL OF SONG HELD AT 2ND CHURCH

Special Mother's Day Programs Held Sunday in Local Churches

A service of unusual effectiveness was held at Second Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, when all the musical organizations of the church united in a festival of song, under the direction of Miss Elsie G. Stryker, organist and director. In addition to the quartet and Senior Choir, there were numbers by the Church Orchestra, of which Mrs. George L. Orton has charge, and by the Junior, Intermediate and High School Choirs, directed by Mrs. Robert Hoppock.

Mr. Laurie brought an appropriate message on the theme "God's Harmonies," emphasizing the fact that "until the whole of life is brought in tune with God, life is inharmonious and unhappy."

Three numbers were presented by the combined choirs, with special effectiveness, while the Juniors sang one special anthem. A quartet consisting of Louis Turner, Franklin LeCompte, David Edwards and John Burden, sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and another quartet of which Miss Olga and Evelyn Hrudka, Ruby Hardenburg and Hazel McEwen are members, also sang. The offertory was a cornet and saxophone duet, played by Thomas M. Roberts and Stuart Orton.

Other members of the High School Choir present included Catherine Rankine and Vivian Baird; of the Intermediate Choir: Hope Marhold, Doris Ryan, Frances Dohrman, Dorothea Somerville, Eleanor Marhold, Adelaide Gassaway, Irene Glagola, Eloise Baker, Madeline Harris, Jean Black and Vanetta Alden. Of the Junior Choir: Clara Mershon, Joyce Schweiger, Virginia McLean, Helen Black, Ethel Henson, Margaret Mount, Eleanor Morse, Gladys Brooks, Virginia Gassaway and Olga Simpson.

At the morning service, Mr. Laurie brought an effective message on "Pentecost and Motherhood." Special music was provided by the chorus choir, and by Mrs. DuRie in a soprano solo or merit.

The Sacrament of Baptism was administered to Joyce Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Leepard, recently moved to Philadelphia; Jeffrey Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Pearson; John Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McClure; and Gloria Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris S. Cannon.

The Session of the church will hold a dinner in honor of the retiring and incoming members at the River View Tea Room this evening at 6:45.

The fellowship meeting will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m., at which time accounts of the Briarcliff house party will be heard.
