NATIONAL DEMOCRAT
RAHWAY, N. J., DECEMBER 10, 1915

A singular case is said to have occurred in the City of Rahway, N. J., on a recent Sunday. The Rev. J. P. Walker, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was called to the residence of a woman who was suffering from a severe case of insanity. The woman, who was known to the pastor, had been confined in a lunatic asylum for several years. She was found in a state of extreme excitement, and was screaming and shouting in a most unusual manner. The pastor, who was called to her residence by a neighbor, found her in a state of such excitement that he was unable to do anything for her. He called for the police, and they took her to the lunatic asylum. The woman was found in a state of such excitement that she was unable to do anything for her. She was found in a state of such excitement that she was unable to do anything for her.

It is a singular case, and one that is not often met with. The woman, who was known to the pastor, had been confined in a lunatic asylum for several years.
