[Compiled from Lesson Helper Quarterly, by per-mission of H. S. Hoffman, publisher, Philadel After healing the man or men of Gadara, who were so afflicted by the demons, He, at the urgent request of the people, left them and recrossed the sea to His own city, Capernaum (Matt. ix, 1), where Luke viii, 40, says that the people gladly received Him, for they were all waiting for Him. Let all Christian workers learn from this that whether teachers or preachers, if they speak the truth faithfully, and in some quarters it is not received. there are other places where they are waiting for it. The field is the world, and our orders are to preach the gospel to every creature, but we are not told that all will receive it: rather are we taught that some will believe and some will believe not (Acts xxviii, 24). There is but little poetry in a gas bill when the metre is out of order.—[New Orleans Picayune.
