Common Council City Attorney Bergen tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and Hon. Fred. C. Marsh was ap. pointed in his place. Mr. Bergen is now a resident of Orange, though he still re tains his connection with his law firm in Elizabeth. He has been a capable and faithful official during the critical financial difficulties of that city, and much of the credit is due to him for the favorable out. come. We congratulate the people of that city upon the appointment of such a worthy and able successor, in the person of Assemblyman Marsh.

The members of the water board were anxious to arrange the payment of the interest on the water bonds held by the Sav. ings Bank, in a business like way, so as to have each year take care of itself, leaving all the back interest to be fairly adjusted. But as will be seen by the proceedings of the board published in another place, the management of the bank has insisted that the surplus receipts should be paid over on back interest, which will necessi tate a smaller payment on the current year's mails and otherwise, is in about the same
