to happen, that all the women were very hard on poor Mary, while all the men defended her. As there were more women than men, the men had to stand well to their guns.

"Tunderstand the president very well," said Edith firmly. "I meant to do justice to his argument before. But it seems to me to mean this—that because this woman was pretty she is to be excused for being wicked and that because he. She had several courses before her.

First, she could telegraph to her father in London: "I am disgraped and without money. What shall I do?" Second and of this she thought seriously—she could go to Dr. Witherspoon, who had thristened her twenty years ago, and had received her into the church six years ago, and loved her as her father was not the center of his position; that mary certainly had been very badly edu: woman was pretty she is to be excused for being wicked and that because she was a woman it is to be expected that she will act like a fool.?

They all laughed heartily at this, and the president hastened to say that this, was not the center of his. position; that Mary certainly had been very badly edu. cated, etc., etc., and that John Knox had, etc., etc., and so on; and that John Knox had, etc., etc., etc., and so on; and so on; as may be imagined.

"Still, I cannot see, that this changes our opinion on the question whether she did right or wrong."

This was the unfillnching reply of the stary Edith. "It shows why she did rest to make the case of the chattangue circle. Yery truly yours."

Si poor Edith actually saw her way clear to beg all her debts by lineuring this, one stary pleasant debt to this offerway guttlemanty man. She asked the servant lif the bearer were waiting and was told he had gone.

As will be seen by the official announcement in suither place, the managers of Ranway Savings Institution have declared snother ten per cent. dividend or he old account payable on the 2d day his will make a total of seventy-five per cent, that will have been paid to the depositors, leaving the $181,000 of water bonds and probably some belances, to pay the other 25 per cent., or about $110,000 —which will leave quite a nice little surplus dividend; even if the new issue counts is disposed of at a discount.

NICARAGUA CANAL. The Passaic Item of last week give coniderable space to the subject of the Nicaragua Canal. The writer evidently knows what he is talking about as he was on the premises"-in the memorable days 56, with Gen. Walker and Col. Potter. Referring to the request of the Canal Co., that the government andorse its bonds to the extent of one hundred millions of dollas, he says:

route, and footed it, from San Juan del Sud to Virgin Bay, a hundred millions would seem ample to consummate the entire project. To those who know the greed of promoters speculators and considered william possible that it might ost four or even five hundred millions

It is to be hoped that the representatives of New Jersey in Congress, especially our own member, will set their faces squarely against this scheme. While our Governor is advocating economy, our people have no stomach for taxation to pay their pro-rate towards the individual or corporate wealth of the Nicarsgua Canal Co." Estimating the dost, he figures that i would be about $15,000 annually for each Congressional district, and $6,000 for Union county, or $60,000 in ten years. citizens should at once protest
