Why does it pay mother to bring son to our stores for Spring clothes?
Because she finds exactly what she wants at prices well within reason and knows the clothes will last as long — longer, in fact, than she expects.

Because she knows, too, that because everything the boy wears is grouped on high of our stores she can buy his suit, overcoat, hat, shoes and furnishings in an hour or so and then have the rest of the day to shop for herself.

Baseballs.
Bats, gloves, mitts.
All the Outdoors Department of our Fifth Street Store, handy to mother and son, because right in the heart of the shopping district.

VACCINATED. HE MAY LOSE ARM

Ship's Surgeon Performed Operation. Youth Seriously Ill.

WAS COMPELLED TO SUBMIT TO THE LANCET

Vaccination performed by the ship's surgeon of the Louisiana on a young Swedish immigrant, Carl Gustafson, about two weeks ago, may cause the loss of the young man's arm, or may proceed to set out, trim and spray real trees. Then what? One member resigned. Another member resigned.

The real trees set out and paid for by property owners died. The spray was used to kill the trees. The only man who could be secured to climb and spray the trees were those provided with climbing by their employers, the Public Service Co., or the Telephone Co. and the city.

Such a law has been in operation in Indiana, Connecticut and California for some time. It is a law which has operated on inmates as constant for want of care. Mr. Peterson did what he could to relieve the lad's sufferings, but in spite of all he could do the pain and swelling increased to such an extent that he called a physician. On Friday last one week after his arrival in this country, Gustafson was taken to the hospital.

In speaking of his nephew's illness this morning, Rev. Mr. Peterson said that the lad had been vaccinated when a small child in Sweden. He considered that sufficient, according to Mr. Peterson, but the surgeon, who was performing the operation, the minister had been considered the compulsory vaccination of his nephew to have been an outrage.

The only other relative besides his uncle's family that Gustafson has in America is a sister, Miss Ruth Gustafson, who came from Sweden to America two years ago, and is also a resident of Montclair.

There has been an anti-compulsory vaccination society formed in Montclair. The members of the organization recently made a fight to prevent the compulsory vaccination of the pupils in the public schools, and they gained the victory. It is claimed that the leaders of the society that more deaths occur from vaccination than from smallpox, and of those who die from the dread disease that the larger proportion are those who have been vaccinated.

Under the present rules a limit of 25 miles an hour is allowed where houses are 100 feet apart and such is the case nearly the whole length of the Rahway avenue from edge of edge of Rahway, and on village streets where the houses are closer together and streets were gone over where the limit is fixed at 12 miles per hour and not a person was found violating the law.

Chief Wright says the experiment conducted by him and the other officers of the police department is "that the eye is not to be trusted alone, on speed matters, as the eye can not gauge accurately for those matters."

Charles Drake, aged 73 years, last October, a veteran, belonging to the Thirtieth New Jersey Volunteers Infantry in the late Civil war, died Friday morning at his home on Fulton street, following a long, painful illness. The deceased was born in Pennsylvania, and had been a resident in this city most of his life. He leaves a wife and two children, Robert A. of Newark, and Theodore A. Drake, of Rahway. There is also one brother James, residing in Newark, and one sister, Mrs. John B. Moore, Rahway. The funeral was held at his late home, Sunday night, Rev. G. Q. Woodford officiating, assisted by Rev. B. O. Parvin, a former pastor.
