We've gotten a lot of complaints about a commen last week's "Middle of Things" which said that in ord to lower our taxes "the place to do our cutting is C Hott -- nor the classroom.

We want to make clear that we feel that the place cut down on costs is in Municipal spending -- not ex cational spending. We used "City Hall" as a term cover municipal expenses as opposed to "Classroor expenses

Economies in Rahway must be established in eve area: not only in City Hall but every place else taxpayers' money is being spent. ------

At the end of the copy for all newspaper stories jo nalists always use the -- 30 -- sign. This means it's "the end" of the story. At the end of some "grade movies about crusading reporters, -- 30 -- will be flas ed on the screen instead of "The End" to signify that picture is over.

Well, we used the -- 30 -- sign at the end of sample press releases at our recent Press Breakfast Workshop —— and one of our more astute guests asked us to admit we didn't know. Seeing our dilemma, the Director of the Clark Public Library, Edward Temkin, volunteered to hunt down the history of the -- 30 -- sign.

He promptly came up with the answer -- and here's the reason. The term —— 30 —— originated back in the early days of the telegraph. At the time, operators, writing longhand, IF you have any questions about Rahway -- here's translated itself into the now familar -- 30 ---.

The Superintendents' ''Bathroom'

The people of Rahway have voted budget twice in a row. the people of a town want to vote against a school budget -- they're going to do so. They usually pick one item, most times an insignificant item; and put-all the blame on that. This time it was the superintendent's Ne've heard a lot about "Mr. Nash's $5,000 bathroom.

Well, we inspected that "bathroom" -- and let's look at the facts: If you went to visit the Superintendent of Rahway Schools you'd find a small office with a leak in the ceiling and rusted, leaky pipes overhead. If you were a teacher applying for a job, what kind of an impression do you think this would make? If you were a parent who wanted to discuss a serious problem, you'd besitting in a make-shift room where conversations could be easily overheard. If you wanted to wash your hands while you were there, you'd probably have to travel half the distance of the school -the way to the basement -- and wash them amid the dozens of little boys in the rest room. This area, which was also used for the Board of Educaion offices, was needed to house workers in the business artment. There was a seldom-used storage area and storage closet on the second floor of Roosevelt School. It was decided, with the money saved by summer Rahway, N.J.

school operation, to use this area to create an office for the Superintendent, his secretary, and the Board of Educa-tion. The area includes the Superintendent's office, which also serves as the Board of Education meeting room and ing area, a receptionist's area for the secretary -- and The area serves as an office for those who wish to see

The people of Rahway have voted down the school budget twice in a row. When the people of a town want to vote against a school budget -- they're going to do so. They usually pick one item; most times an insignificant item; and put all the blame on that. This time it was the superintendent's

We've heard a lot about "Mr. Nash's $5,000 bathroom." Well, we inspected that "bathroom" -- and let's look at If you went to visit the Superintendent of Rahway Schools you'd find a small office with a leak in the ceiling and rusted, leaky pipes overhead. If you were a teacher and rusted, leavy pipes overhead. If you were a teacher applying for a job, what kind of an impression do you think this would make? If you were a parent who wanted to discuss a serious problem, you'd be sitting in a make-shift room where conversations could be easily overheard. If you wanted to wash your hands while you were there, you'd probably have to travel half the distance of the school the way to the basement -- and wash them amid the dozena of little boys in the rest room. This area, which was also used for the Board of Education offices, was needed to house workers in the business

There was a seldom-used storage area and storage_ closet on the second floor of Roosevelt School. It was decided, with the money saved by summer school operation, to use this area to create an office for Superintendent, his secretary, and the Board of Education. The area includes the Superintendent's office, which also serves as the Board of Education meeting room and filing area, a receptionist's area for the secretary -- and he area serves as an office for those who wish to see the Superintendent, provides filing space and a clerical area, and is the meeting room for the Board of Education neets several times each month. But the total cost for all the rooms was $4,700.

Both the office space -- and "the bathroom" -- are nicely finished and are a credit to Rahway. There's no sense in doing a half-way job that would have to be re-
