Columbian School Pupils Put Studies to Good Use

Pupils in Miss Diann Sica's third grade class at Columbian school, Rahway, believe in doing something to improve the ecology.

The 25 children in the class studied about the problems of ecology during Earth Week last month. Then each of the pupils made a poster, using the ecology theme, under the direction of Miss Sica, a resident of 942 W. Lake Ave., Rahway, who is in first year of teaching. Efforts of the youngsters for Earth Week were topped when they went to the vacant lot at W. Emerson and New Brunswick Avenues, a short distance from the school, and collected the Thoughts of the pupils on Earth Week were expressed in a letter they wrote to The Rahway News-Record. The letter "We would like you to know that it seems very silly to have Farth Week for just one week out of the year.
"It does not make sense to us that just one week, April 19lace for us to live in. We should work for a beautiful world all year around.

Clark Needs Ethics Ordinance

Council has been considering an ethics code for cownship officials and employees which would make it illegal generally for officials and employees to gram available to the public at large.

The ordinance which sets forth a code of othics was drawn by Councilman-at-large John Pisansky, an attorney with a Linden-based law firm. The ordinance clearly makes it illegal under pain censure, suspension or removal from office for a lark official or employee to place himself in any of the following situations: No financial transactions between the township and officials or employees shall be permitted without making full public disclosure; public disclosure and disqualification from deliberations and votin private employment or render services for persons transacting business with the township unless full disclosure is made; no officials or employees shall appear before public bodies for private parties; gifts and or favors of any kind are outlawed, and confidential infor-mation shall not be disclosed which would aid the financial status of the public official or employee or any position in Cranford.

Mr. Stone has been an able administrator and has Mr. Stone has been an able administrator and us worked diligently in behalf of the city and its residents during the four years he has held the position.

We wish Mr. Stone good luck, good health and great success In his Cranford administrative job. We are happy that the Municipal Council saw fit to adopt a resolution praising Mr. Stone for his devotion to dury and expressing the city's graduade.

A Supreme Court Justice once remarked, "I always turn to the sports page first. The sports page records people's accomplishments; the front page has nothing but man's failures."

but man's failures."

It was a very appropriate remark until of late when it becomes more difficult each day to distinguish between the sports page and front page. With each passing day, more and more negative, legal and political matters find their way into the sports page headlines. Many wonder whether there is a difference.

In the last few years, those who really cherish sports and are interested in sports have seen a creat interested.
