Fifth Ward Democrate will decide at Tuesday's primary election whether Mrs. Stephanie Cedervall of 521 Central Avenue or John De-Largy of 853 Hamilton Street will be their candidate for councilman in November. The contest between Mrs. Cedervall, who has the backing of the city Democratic organization, and Mr. Deargy is the only one for Democratic or Republican councilmanic nominations. The unopposed GOP candidate in the Fifth Ward is Councilman Peter M. Donovan of 688 Stone Street who won election to an unexpired term last year after having been appointed earlier in the vear The Rahway Democrats have contests for seats on the City Democratic Committee in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Wards. The GOP has a contest for committee posts in the Second Ward. The unopposed Democratic candidates for their party's nomination for councilmen are: First Ward, Councilman J. Milton Crans of 323 Morton Avenue: Second Ward. Joseph Cerchiaro of 2253 Evans Street; Third Ward, Keith Stinger of 452 Cornell Avenue; Fourth Ward, Walter McLeod of 856 Thorn Street, and Sixth Ward, Joseph H. Salay of 131 Walters Street.

The other Republican candidates for councilmanic nominations are: First Ward. Eugene D. Gentsch of 735 E. Milton Avenue; Second Ward, John C. Marsh of 924 Maurice Avenue; Third Ward,

Clay, promoted to sergeant; Mayor Daniel L. Martin, Director of Police John J. Hummel, who-was-promoted-from-captain; Ronald McKoon and Barry Henderson, also promoted to sergeant, and Patrolman John Stefanick, president of the PBA local. The dinner also honored three men retired. They were Carl Rich, who was a detective; Herbert T. Kinch, who-waspolice chief and director of police, and Charles Brandt, who was a patrolman. ## Cut in Service

Residents along Prerpost Fransport of New Jersey's to reduce the number

The once-a-day line began operation Tuesday after months of no service due to the strike against TNJ. Prior to the strike, buses went from the Rahway business center, to Inman Avenue and then into Colonia. Since the strike, service terminates in downtown Rahway, with the exception of the one bus taking the prestrike route which began service two days ago Route 132 was the subject of a similar tussle with residents last August when service was reduced from 13 to seven runs daily. The company is claiming the line loses money, and says it will substantiate its claim before members of the Public Utilities Commis-Residents say the line is patronized, and that without service many people will be forced to walk long distances. Duke Road residents for instance, are more than two miles from an alternate bus route.

The service that began Tuesday is supposed to have one bus leaving Potters -Grossing in Golonia for Eli-zabeth at 7:39 a.m. and another coming from Newark to leave Broad and Jersey Streets, Elizabeth, at 5:07 p.m. The route will be in operation Monday through Friday, it was stated.

Votes were taken in the junior and senior high schools and talies were announced by Dr. prowls Thursday night.

Mr. McDowell stated that f the votes were taken then hey should have a bearing on the deliberations of the board. Mr. Boch felt that student voices should be heard, but that other factors should be used in making the final determination also. The lack of consulting parents on the calendars was brought to the fore by Mr. LoRocco. He also said student opinion was not sampled in the elementary schools. He stated further that when parents are consulted, the board would be able to create olidays at times when famlies could take trips togethe and when supervision for children out of school would e more readily available In other action, the board set June 16 as the final day of school for next year. The senior class next year was authorized to have its prom at the Westmount Country Club on May 17. Miss Otila Fonseca was named psychologist for the school system for 1972-73 at $13,950 a year. The summer school program of Title I was authorized to run from June 26 to July 28 and 21 teachers were hired at $36 a day. A nurse was approved at $30 a day. The program will be conducted from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Judge Upholds One-Year Moratorium

Council last June 10 was unconstitutional. In his ruling, Judge Feller stated that an ordinance of the type enacted by Rahway is not unconstitutional and that a moratorium on such construction is within the -police power-of-a-munici-

"A municipality may adopt a stopgap ordinance which, if not temporary, might be considered unconstitutional," Judge Feller said. He added that a municipality must be careful to exercise subcommittees to work in areas of enrollment and school population trends, classroom requirements, other space requirements, building and space options, finance and publicity and information gathering.

VOLUME 150, NO. 2

A study written by Dr.

Jan Chaiken, a former Rahway resident, and Dr. Bernard Cohen of the New York City-Rand Institute states that New York City police officers who perform either effectively or ineffectively can be accurately identified during their first months of the force.

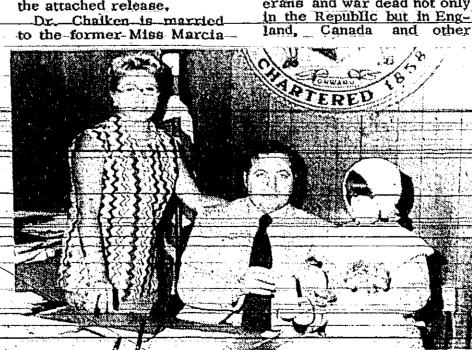

The study received wide oublicity in New York newspapers. Findings of the study. "Police Background Characteristics and Performance." were developed from personnel files of nearly 2. 000-policemon-appointed-to the force in 1957. Their performance records were collected 11 years later. Two key criteria used by

Dr. Chaiken and Dr. Cohen in for-ecasting a policeman sjob performance are his Police Academy grades and the evaluation made of him by his superiors when he is a probationary patrolman. Dr. Chaiken resided in Rahway from 1945 until he was graduated from college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chaiken of Scotch Plains, formerly of 2406 St. George Avenue, Rahway. Dr. Chalken attended Franklin School and Rahway High School. He was graduated from high school in 1956 at the top of his class. Dr. Chaiken received a Westinghouse Scholarship to attend Carnegie Institute of Technology (now Carnegie-Mellon University) in Pittsburgh, Pa., where he was awarded a bachelor of science degree in physics in 1960. He then was awarded a National Science Foundation-to-attend-Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass. He was given a doctor of philosophy_degree in mathematics in 1966. Dr. Chaiken was an assistant professor of mathematics at Cornell University and a research associate at-MIT, prior to joining the New York City-Rand Institute in 1968. At the Rand Institute he has conducted research on allocating police and fire units to match the needs for emergency vehicles to respond to calls from the public. He also worked on the study of po-
