MINUTE BODIES AFFECT WATER
It was the opinion of the inspectors that it would be impossible to use copper sulphate in combatting the algae growth in the river. The report further stated: "Only a partial remedy is available. That is, the water before entering the sedimentation basin, where S. Collier bacteriologist, employed by the city, has recommended that the water be treated with chlorine. It is considered that periodical treatment with chlorine will be practically a trouble expediting measure. It is considered that difficulty in that direction is liable to occur in the future and orders were given for the installation of a chlorinator on the present water supply."

"Although in the past there has been practically no trouble experienced with algae growth in the highway, it is considered that periodical treatment with chlorine will be practically a trouble expediting measure. It is considered that difficulty in that direction is liable to occur in the future and orders were given for the installation of a chlorinator on the present water supply."

The protozoa themselves are interested by the filters but the oil from the filters and dead organisms passing through to consumers and cause the odor. A very minute quantity of oil is sufficient to create a very pronounced odor. The odor is not so much due to the oil but to the fact that the oil is carried along with the water. Attention is called in report to the fact that the increasing population of the city has caused a corresponding increase in the amount of refuse dumped in the city. The report further stated: "The amount of refuse dumped in the city has increased to such an extent that it is necessary to provide for its disposal. Lazy Money Earns Poor Pay!

Bill Jones was a good man but never made much money! -he was lazy.

His brother was no smarter but he always earned good pay! -he was a worker.

Now your money is just as good as any money, but--don't let it be lazy, for lazy money is paid no better than a lazy man.
