The affair was in charge of the Misses Gladys Woodard and Mary Sammons.

THE CROSS. - I

"For while we were yet weak, Christ died for the ungodly."—Romans 5:6.

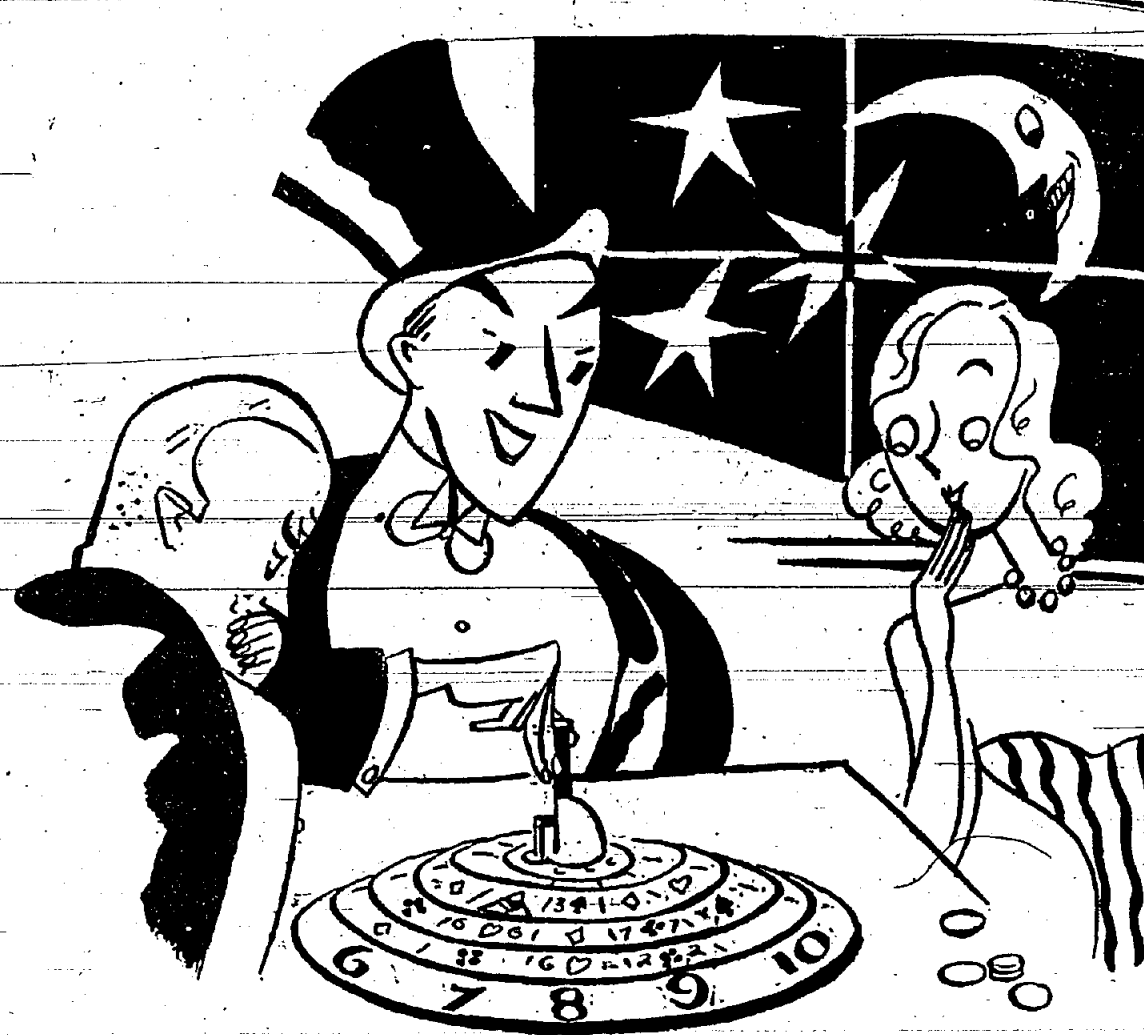

I have been thinking a lot about the Cross lately. There are plenty of crosses on churches, and in pictures; it is a familiar symbol to Christian and non-Christian alike, but what does the Cross mean to the modern world? What has the Cross to do with the depression, our worship of reason and our self-reliance, the moral degeneration which overlays even some of our greatest intellectual centers? Is the Cross out of place in this Twentieth Century, a superstition perpetuated by unreasoning, emotional credulity, a social interference which should be dismantled and chopped to kindling wood?

To some such a suggestion would be shocking; others would applaud it; still others would not be so sure. For the Cross of Jesus Christ has had tremendous moral value. Possibly most of us are in this latter class. I say "possibly" for it is not for me to judge, but rather for each of us to classify himself. What does the cross mean to me?

Without doubt the Cross is a puzzle, rather let me say, a mystery. People have mocked it, they have cursed it, but they could not ignore it. Twentieth Century America has come closest to doing that of any, but now we are beginning to wonder about it again, as I am wondering about it. We have been able to ignore things because we haven't needed anything. But now we need something—we need something badly, something to get us out of the financial, social and moral mess into which we have gotten ourselves. I am not an economist or financial expert, but I suspect that religion and moral duty were the parents of the present economic crisis. Be that as it may, in many hearts today there is a deep sense of personal need, an emptiness that sound financial counsel and general good advice does not fill. Many today, who before have felt no need, are lifting their eyes to the hills in search of help. On one of these hills stands a Cross. What does it mean? Is there really an answer there?

That depends on you, and me. How badly do I need help? Am I still cocky enough to want to size up every offer of aid and accept it or reject it according to whether or not the conditions suit me? Do I still believe that in myself there is the power to win out in the struggle against poverty and sickness and social conditions? Am I still confident that by the power of my will I can overcome my selfishness, my lack of love, my impure desires, my dishonesties, my pride? Then I really don't need help. The Cross has nothing for me. Or am I beaten, absolutely certain that of myself I can really do nothing about these things? Am I finally convinced that in my nature there is not the ability to live as I know I really ought to live? In my heart is there the admission that I need someone greater than I am to do for me the things I cannot do for myself? That I am not equal to what I hold to be best and right? Is alibi of self-dependence gone? Then there is an answer in that Cross for me.

Look on that Cross with me this week. And you who have no sense of need, look on that Cross with me. Think about it. Read the closing chapters of Mark and John's gospels. Think about life. Think—and perhaps we will have a new vision of life and the Cross, and ourselves.

Jersey life is a Game life!

People got the game idea in a big way last winter. New Jersey caught it and soon there was a regular epidemic of games, leaving a trail of jig-sawmania, chess-itis, backgammonitis, and what have you. There was a lull in the summer, of course. But September saw it rearing its head again. Now New Jersey bids fair to be the game-lover's State in the Union. It's going to be a game life and a game winter, however you look at it. So arm yourself to the teeth, immediately, in Bamberger's Adult Game Department.

With pokerevue, even though you win nothing else, you'll win the name of a good host. $2.95

We recommend Chess heartily if you take your game life seriously. We don't advise sleeping, however (75¢ to $3.95).

If you tire after three strenuous hours of backgammon, turn it over and play checkers, with equipment, 95¢.

We'll recruit you for the navy if you can keep your opponents from sinking your ship in Salvo, 95¢.

Your guests will be too likely to leave with half your chips, if a rick is handy. Rack, $3. Chips, 95¢.

Here's how a perfectly good family gets the pieces in 1931. We lend the helping hand with many puzzles, $1 to $10.

A good set up of that horsey favorite, Derby Day, is $3.95.

We never could understand cribbage. If you can, happy days! 75¢ to $4.95.

Did we hear you thinking Anagrams? They're yours for 95¢.

How about a fast game of Club Parchesi, some night, $2.95 and $4.95.

Remember the good old game, Jack Straw? Still good, 25¢ to 95¢.

Another "Eso" game with a following, Pokere, $1.75.

If you run to cards: Runway is 95¢. Pit is 75¢. Rook is 75¢.

If you're Roulette minded: 8 in. wheels, $4.95. 10 in. wheels, 7.50. 12 in. wheels, 10.95. 14 in. wheels, 12.95.

Rahway Community BOOST RAHWAY CAMPAIGN

Beginning Saturday, November 28

COMING—November 28... a mammoth community sale... planned and presented as the greatest merchandising event, we believe, ever held in Rahway. Only through the enthusiastic co-operation of the merchants has it been possible to prepare for such a carnival of value-giving. Through radical reductions, through special purchases for this most unusual occasion, the merchants have entered this event wholeheartedly confident that the response will be worthy of their efforts and the values presented.

Why a Value-Giving Sale

Because the merchants of Rahway as well as those selling their services are determined to make the people of Rahway and surrounding towns Rahway Conscious—conscious of the shopping facilities right here at home; conscious of the type of merchandise in the stores and shops; conscious of the length to which any and all of the town's business men have gone to please those with whom they do business or whom they desire to serve.

They feel, and are backing their opinion financially, that if the people of Rahway get out, shop in town, see the offerings, meet the merchants, they will better appreciate Rahway's facilities with resulting benefits to all.

Coming right at the opening of the holiday season, when everyone has shopping to do, the campaign also offers an excellent opportunity for wise early Christmas shopping.

You have nothing to lose. Accept the invitation of the town's business men—visit their shops—buy—take your share of the savings and, incidentally, you will better appreciate Rahway's business men.

The two who accosted the youth first stayed with him and drove into the Clinton street car of Newark, in the west part of the town, where they left the retelling Holderrider to "get out of the car giving him "the 100 offered him.

In his second tale of the affair, the youth made no mention of the robbery, but only of waiting and waiting outside the bank until the robbery was in progress.

The four or five bandits entered the bank at 8:20 a. m. just after the morning rush had begun the day, and only a few minutes after the money was received from the Federal Reserve Bank of New York City. The money, $20,000 in all, was guarded by the Newark Armored Car Service, escorted by the Railway city Police and the Newark Police.

"That the men were well acquainted with the situation at the bank on Friday, when the Gibraltar Hill payroll is brought in, was indicated by their actions before, and during the robbery. Just a few minutes after the payroll money was taken into the bank, the men entered and ordered all in the bank to place their hands on the counter."

G. H. Bartell, who was standing talking with another man, recalled one of the writing counters was one of the writing counters when the man in was shoved in by the man in this, a movie thriller?" The man answered that if he did not heed the command, he'd be blown his head off." Bartell said shortly before drawn his weekly payroll from the bank and

Would Recognize Bandits
Speaking after the robbery, Tarrell stated that he had a good idea of the appearance of the two men who had robbed him. He said he would be glad to help the police in their search for the bandits.

At 9:20 this morning, officials of the Citizens National Bank announced that funds had been secured from the other banks.

Those in the bank at the time of the robbery were M. C. Bradford, cashier; Martin F. Get-

May Prosecute Men Who Tried To Flee

May officials and guards after the men had overpowered Officer F. C. Ketterer and locked him in the jail. The six were rounded up before they could get off the grounds and were put in close confinement, with time to be added to their sentences because of their actions.

The prisoner attempting the escape was George Fumman, Frank Malesio and John Green, sentenced from Passaic County, William Males, Morris County; Ralph Sanderson, Essex County; Joseph Wood, Atlantic County. All had terms of from three to five years. Their ages range from 21 to 25 years and the men are some transferred from the State Prison at Trenton.

The six men, making up the kitchen detail, were free only about 15 minutes. They suddenly overpowered Officer Ketterer and after locking him in the cell, forced a door and made their way to the roof of the kitchen, where they hid. The men were seen by the officers and guards on the roof of the kitchen. They immediately replied to demands to come down and had no response or mislead when searched. Major Kimbrell, light night was high in his praise of the officers and guards for their alertness and quick action. He said it was only another demonstration of the fact that the officers and guards are on their toes and immediately ready for any emergencies that may arise.

After leaving the roof, the six men proceeded across the institu-

Committee To Plan Women's Pin League

With the naming of a committee of seven, efforts will be made to form a women's bowling league or tournament at the Railway Y. M. C. A., according to reports today. The Y. M. C. A. is reserved for the women Tuesday nights and any women wishing to enter the proposed bowling league are asked to express their wishes to members of the committee.

Members of the bowling committee, of which Mrs. Floyd Borden is chairman, are Mrs. T. H. Roberts, Jr., Mrs. O. B. Garthwaite, Mrs. G. M. Howard, Mrs. William Nickau, Miss Cecelia Answorth and Miss Eva Martin.

The headquarters were turned on and guards rushed to points of vantage. When the lights went out, the six men left the wall when they were attempting to climb over and were shortly located by the officers and guards on the roof of the kitchen. They immediately replied to demands to come down and had no response or mislead when searched.

Locust Gun Club Well Stocked For Hunters

With more than 3,000 acres of excellent game cover in Union and Middlesex counties, members of the Locust Grove Gunning Club are looking forward to a fine hunting season which opened Tuesday. The grounds of the club were well stocked last spring with pheasants and quail, and indications are that most of the game has remained on the premises. The entire acreage has been posted during the past few weeks.

City, $18.00; total, $398.35. Board of children's Guardians received $184.45. Two men were committed to the Elizabeth-Ann House and one boy sent to the State House of Children's Guardians.

Mr. Mason also reported that 10 truck loads of wood were received during the month and distributed to 38 families. The wood was distributed as follows: Gibbs & Hill, 4 loads, given in 14 families; Direct Saving Furniture Co., 4 loads, given to 19 families; Walcott, 1 load to 3 families; C. W. Nichols, 1 load to 3 families. The report stated that the wood could have all the wood it wanted by sending men and trucks to the Union County Park, St. George avenue.

Mr. Mason also informed the Council that the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., Cherry street, had donated 400 pounds of fish to the Poor Department during the past two Saturdays and this was distributed to 55 needy families. The Kew-Bakery and Dugan's made good donations of bread for distribution to the needy.

The Council also received a letter from the Warden of the State Prison, John Baumgartner, city dog warder, reported that 41 live unlicensed dogs were taken off the streets during October, 8 cats taken with owners' consent, 8 dogs taken with owners' consent, 12 dead dogs removed and 8 dead cats removed.

Young Driver Of Bandit Car Caught
bookkeeper, Theodore Rehak, school teacher, Mr. Parrell, Mr. Bartell and the other man whose name could not be learned.

"I was standing in the bank when I noticed your nice-looking young chap come in," Mr. Bartell told a record representative a few minutes after the stick-up. "One came up to me and said 'hands up.' I looked at him and said 'put 'em up or I'll blow your head off.' I heard one of them say 'put your hands on the desk' and then he made us turn round to the wall. After that they marched up all into the vault, then they picked up the money and got out."

"Details of the robbery were told after the collection had been taken by Martin Gettings. He stated he was of his window, looking out onto the street, when he saw a car stop in front of the bank. One of the men in the car got out, ordered him to put his hands on the desk, while another walked around through the office of Cashier Bradford and into the bank, where he placed two guns against Gettings' back. Other bandits covered the customers and employees, while the one in front drove around in the car after his pal had those in the cage well

Put Money in Vault Basket. Mr. Parrell, Gettings, Mrs. Stephens and Miss Phillips were in the cage, when the second bandit entered, picked up a nearby waste basket, and scooped all the available money into it. In the meantime, other members of the band were in the vault, while Bradford, the cashier, was being held. A little girl was covered in Bradford's office.

Chastler Bradford made a statement around 9:30 that all bandits and securities of the bank were untouched as they were at the National Bank in New York City.

Scout Leader To Speak
Miss Billie Rusk of the national field staff of the Girl Scout movement will be in Rahway on Monday and will talk on the benefits of the older woman.

The hold-up revealed the robbery staged here at 8:30 a. m. on November 23, 1928, when $20,000 in cash and securities was stolen from a mail messenger at the P. R. B. station.

The Women of Moose will hold their autumn dance at the Moose Home, 25 Fulton street, Monday evening with music by a popular orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

Why It Pays to Buy Foods at This Quality First Store
It is always wise to buy where the quality is best, but when that best quality is obtainable at inferior quality prices, then you have the doubly sound reason for buying at a quality first store.

Good Afternoon
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1931
An Important Election
Next Tuesday the voters of this Congressional District will visit the polls to participate in a special primary election for the purpose of nominating candidates for Congress to fill the unexpired term of the Honorable Ernest R. Ackerman, who resigned from the House of Representatives, and Morris counties in the House of Representatives. A special election to decide the issue will be held on December 1.

Because of the almost even balance of both parties in the Lower House of Congress, the political eyes of the nation will be focused on the election in the First District. As this district is normally Republican, with Mr. Ackerman as its representative during the past 12 years, many believe that another Republican will be sent to Washington from this district. But with the growing strength of the Democrats, especially in Union County, and the fact that four C. O. P. candidates are in the Congressional race, while the Democrats are giving solid support to a single candidate, will make the primary election one of more than ordinary interest.

The Democrats are supporting former Mayor Percy H. Stewart of Plainfield, while the Republicans are backing the nomination of Donald M. McLean of Hillsdale, former county committee chairman; John E. Nicol of Plainfield, secretary to Ackerman; Wesley A. Stanger of Cranford, who ran against Ackerman in the 1930 primary, and Kenneth C. Hand of Elizabeth, now retiring from the Assembly, and primary candidate for surrogate against George H. Johnston. At the recent meeting of the Republican County Central Committee a "heads-off" policy in regard to the race for Congress was adopted, which means that the Republican leaders are not attempting to point the way for the voters, who must make their own choice, undecided.

New Title Needed
Pride has been responsible for the failure of many needy persons in Rahway to make known their needs to the Overseers of the Poor. The title of the law which the name "Poor Department" holds for these persons. This condition is not confined to Rahway but to practically every other community. The Town Commission of Montclair has taken action on the matter by changing the name of its Poor Department to the "Department of Public Welfare."

Such a change of name might be welcome in this city, as Rahway like Montclair has transferred its relief headquarters from the City Hall to a more central point. The re-naming of this department and its removal from the office of the Overseer of the Poor would have a pleasing psychological effect on the public and would enable those in charge of emergency relief work here to more accurately classify all of the unemployed in Rahway.

The recommendation made by the City Unemployment Relief Committee at its meeting Tuesday night to have the Common Council appoint Paris R. Forman, chairman of the committee, as local municipal director of emergency relief, is a suggestion well worthy of consideration. This committee has already done a most creditable work in Rahway under the direction of Mr. Forman and he is probably the one best qualified to direct a program of emergency relief for this city.

The opening of the new George Washington Bridge from New York across the Hudson River to the New Jersey shore, will be the achievement of another of the imposing structures of our age. Rahway has a direct interest in this bridge as Rahway Camp, No. 172, Patriotic Order Sons of America, was one of the first groups to petition the Port of New York Authority to name the structure the "George Washington Memorial Bridge" in commemoration of the coming bicentennial of the birth of our first president and also because of the significance of Fort Lee in Washington's campaign around New York during the Revolution.

At a cost of $60,000,000 and four and a half years of construction, this bridge has provided a whole new set of statistics. Between two towers 685 feet high at either bank of the river, the span stretches over 3,500 feet across the stream, at a height of 250 feet above the water. A block of masonry weighing 260,000 tons forms the anchorage on the New York side and the New Jersey pilings provide a rock base at the other. Four lanes for vehicular traffic and two side walks for pedestrians compose the 120 foot roadway.

Community Meets Plan "Talent Market"

The plans emerging from the community meetings on Tuesday afternoon and Thursday night at the home of the general director, Mrs. Patterson, in regard to the "Talent Market" exhibition and sale to be held in the Putnam "Art Loft" Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening, November 20 and 21, are varied and interesting.

"Mrs. Blackwood, community employment and relief head, advises that she has on her record exactly 67 cases of need for help."

"The desire of the management of the 'Talent Market' exhibition and sale is not to be content with the answer, 'no matter how kindly' to just the need of the moment, but rather to build a community structure for Colonia, permanent in plan and on the principle of self-support and a profit." To this end the 12 sections of the community are mobilizing in producing through the activities of their sections a "market of values" in the present conditions of Colonia.

The directors are amazed at what they are unearthing in the way of valuable products and talents, things for sale, things for which there is already a local demand. The exhibition of the 20 and 21 is the first display. The present unemployment need in Colonia is the spur for action. Shoulder to shoulder, its citizens are working for a successful result in the belief that "every man is entitled to a chance to earn a living."

Under this new field of activity are giving their best efforts and enthusiasm and the people are beginning to realize the blessing of both that the exhibition and opportunity in this national crisis to complete each community plan, with funds in hand, by November 25.

Rev. Charles M. Davis and Mrs. Davis called on some of their parishioners in Colonia Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Blackwood, Fairview avenue, is the district Red Cross chairman for Colonia, appointed by the president of the Woodbridge Chapter, Mrs. Randolph. A house-to-house canvass is being planned.

Court of Honor By Scouts Tomorrow

The Colonia Boy Scouts, Troop 61, have completed plans to hold a Court of Honor in the Colonia School tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Mr. Currid, scoutmaster, advises that the troop will have the pleasure of seeing two of its members who have completed the necessary requirements to become Eagle Scouts awarded this honor.

The scoutmaster, Mr. Currid, visited Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Pipes this week.

Mr. Henry St. Clair Lavin, secretary of the St. James Parish Teacher Association in Woodbridge, attended a meeting of that body on Monday night.

Armistice Day found a large group on the Colonia golf links. Although the day had been officially closing last Saturday night, the fine weather lured the devotees of the ball to use the links as long as possible.

The Board of Directors of the Colonia Building and Loan Association met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Patterson.

The next Tuesday meeting of the Colonia P. T. A. will be a program devoted to "Book Month" and will be addressed by Miss Ruth E. Peters of the Rahway Library and Miss Hester Chushing, head of the Kindergarten school of the First Presbyterian Church of Rahway. Mrs. Saywell, president, Mrs. McAndrews and Mrs. Bancroft Livingston will give a short play. There will be a report by the welfare committee appointed at the last meeting as well as a report from the magazine sale conducted during October.

Mr. Frank Patterson, McFarlane road, and his infant son returned home Sunday from the Newark Presbyterian Hospital. Mr. Patterson, who is at present in the Elizabeth General Hospital, where he underwent an operation a week ago, is steadily improving.

Mr. C. Mitchell, West Hill road, attended the premiere of "Schwanda," a Czech Folk Opera by Weinberger, last Saturday afternoon at the Metropolitan Opera House. Miss Alla Wiggin, New York City, accompanied Mrs. Mitchell home, being her guest over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Knauer, Rahway avenue, entertained friends over the week-end.

Mrs. Godson, Old Lincoln road, visited her sister, Mrs. Pearce and twin babies of Red bank, last Saturday.

Health Lecture At School Tonight

The lecture by Dr. Frederick W. Collins, dean, First National University of Naturopathy, Newark, on the "Wonders of the Human Body" in the auditorium of the Avenel School tonight at 8 o'clock, is not a Christian Science address, as inadvertently stated in this column on Tuesday.

Belonging Dr. Collins "There will be an address by Mr. V. Leas Shingley, on the Mendenhall physical culture methods and the great success he had in conducting a class of 3,000 persons at Miami, Fla. An entertainment program will also be given including sections by an orchestra and vocal soloists and instrumental musicians. The speakers will be introduced by Rev. Robert MacBride, pastor of the Avenel Presbyterian church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. McAndrews, West Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McAndrews and Mrs. Henry St. Clair Lavin attended the bridge given by the Woodbridge Chapter of the Avenel Railway Auxiliary Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Patterson.

Miss Mildred Ludlow of the Colonia School took 40 of the pupils of the school to the Newark Museum Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Beatrice Billings entertained friends from New York City last Sunday.

The Colonia School gave a short Armistice Day program Tuesday afternoon. School was closed on Wednesday.

Among the recent publications to be found at the Rahway Library is "Baptists in Burma," by Dr. Randolph L. Howard, of 107 Madison Avenue, New York City. Dr. Howard has been many years of service in Burma, as professor of theology in London College and later served for three years as president of the London College. At present he is on the administrative staff of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in New York.

As its title suggests, "Baptists in Burma" was intended for mission study, but it should have a wider public. Beginning with a short sketch of Buddhism, Dr. Howard describes the land and its people, compares Buddhism and Christianity, and gives an excellent resume of the progress made and present day problems.

This being Girl Scout Week a special invitation is given them and their parents to visit the library and see the display of books of particular interest to Scouts, all of which may be borrowed.

Other new titles are as follows: "Guide to Literature for Character Training," by Starbuck & Shuteworth. Three Owls: Contemporary Criticism of Children's Books, 3rd book, by Moore. The Normal Mind, by Burnham. Psychology for Students of Education, by Gates. Outlines of Economics, by Elv. Costume Throughout the Ages, by Evans. Folk Costume Book, by Haire. Historic Costume, by Lester. Shattered Youth, by Yeomans. Radio Fundamentals. Selected Furniture Drawings, by Skene. Good Times for All Times, by Lankin. Washington Anniversary Plays, ed. by Johnson. Columbus, by Adams (P. P. A.). Best Plays of 1920-1931, ed. by Mantle. Trial of Mary Dugan, by Vellier. East South East, by Morley. Up the Years from Bloombury, by Arian. Francois Villon, by Lewis. The Red Way, by Williamson. A Buried Treasure, by Roberts. Cindy, by Lane. First Person Singular, by Maughan. The Haunted House, by Belloc. It's What You Are, by Luther. Jeds of Deedly, by Fanny. The Matilda Murder, by Keeler. Pleased to Meet You, by Morley. The Revolt of Ann Boyle, by Martin. Sparks Fly Upward, by La Farge. The Treasure of Ho, by Burlington.

First to Achieve Honors. The first prize was won by the naval officer to receive the thanks of congress and a gold medal.

Among the recent publications to be found at the Rahway Library is "Baptists in Burma," by Dr. Randolph L. Howard, of 107 Madison Avenue, New York City. Dr. Howard has been many years of service in Burma, as professor of theology in London College and later served for three years as president of the London College. At present he is on the administrative staff of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in New York.

As its title suggests, "Baptists in Burma" was intended for mission study, but it should have a wider public. Beginning with a short sketch of Buddhism, Dr. Howard describes the land and its people, compares Buddhism and Christianity, and gives an excellent resume of the progress made and present day problems.

This being Girl Scout Week a special invitation is given them and their parents to visit the library and see the display of books of particular interest to Scouts, all of which may be borrowed.
