DECISION DUE SOON ON NEW RAHWAY HIGH SCHOOL

Within another two weeks, Rahway will decide whether to appropriate $400,000 as the city's share of the cost of the proposed $764,000 high school building.

Before this decision is made by Common Council September 14, the public will be given another opportunity to be heard upon the question when a public meeting is held next Wednesday evening at 8 P. M. in the high school auditorium.

Although two public meetings have already been held on the subject and the public has indicated its approval of plans for the new structure, another session has been ordered. Since the public will pay for the school, it is only right that the opportunities to be heard should be presented to those who will pay the bill.

There is no doubt that Rahway needs a new high school. Neither is there any doubt that the cost will not be an easy one for the taxpayers of Rahway to bear. This year the number of tax appeals filed by dissatisfied taxpayers reached 61, the greatest number filed here in 10 years. This is a clear indication that the public is far from pleased with its tax bills.

However, the majority of Rahway taxpayers realize that the city cannot progress without a new high school. The present structure, built in 1909, has long ago become outmoded. Older students will argue, "Why spend all this money for a fancy building? We went to the little red school house and the same should be good enough for the youngsters today."

But times have changed and the little red school house is as much out of date today as the horse and buggy. If we are going to have a new school, we must have a modern one, complete in every detail. A makeshift educational plant will solve the school problem only for a few years and then we will have to consider school extension all over again.

The present high school situation does not reflect a pleasant picture. Only three high school classes are now attending the Campbell street building and this "student body" has to meet in six other buildings in addition to the main high school structure. Sanitary facilities in the old buildings are deplorable. "The structure cannot be kept clean. It is crowded, poorly ventilated and the lighting has long since outlived its usefulness."

It has been proven that this inadequate school is one reason why so many Rahway youngsters have moved out of the city. And also, many prospective residents from outlying areas have been deterred from coming to live here because of the inadequate school facilities.

We are firm in our belief that Rahway needs a new school and if we are to have one, we should have the best. It will have to be built on a site that will be available to the city and it will have to be built on a site that will be available to the city and it will have to be built on a site that will be available to the city.

We have yet to hear of a municipality which went bankrupt because it built new and modern schools. We know of many instances where new schools have resulted in a healthy growth of a community through residential development. We think a new high school will result in an increase in residential development here.

It has been proven that the city's financial status is such that the extra indebtedness which a new school would create will not jeopardize Rahway's financial position. The $242,000 contribution which the government is willing to make would pay for 45 percent of the cost of the school. If this grant is not accepted now, there is a possibility that the city won't be able to get it several years hence when construction of a new school will become mandatory.

Another argument being advanced by proponents of the new school is that unless Rahway maintains accepted state standards, the school will lose its accredited standing. This would mean that high school graduates would have difficulty getting into colleges and that the city would lose its state apportionment of funds.

The proposed school site is being discussed freely. In the selection of a site at the end of Central avenue, the Board of Education is being criticized because the location is so far from the center of the city. Regardless of where the school is located, there will be complaints. We know that the Board of Education, in temporarily selecting this site, has done so solely because there is no other site which would be available without incurring great expense and destroying valuable real estate.

While the official decision regarding the school won't be made until September 14, next Wednesday's public meeting will undoubtedly result in a decision whether or not the school should be built. Once again, we urge Rahway residents to attend this meeting.

Questions will be answered and information will be provided. This question is not one for the property owners alone to decide. Renters will share the cost along with the owners and any tenant who thinks the school won't cost him a cent will find himself badly fooled.

We feel that Rahway has waited long enough for a decent high school. The problem is one of the most vital faced here in years and unless the school is built now, we can't see how the city can continue to be classed as a progressive municipality.

Thrill measures are rarely initiated by legislators. Because of constant pressure of political job seekers and work-by-lobbyists-of-minority-interests, the line of least resistance is in spending measures.

WATCH THE SCHOOLS FOR COMMUNIST TEACHINGS

A call to Americans to be on their guard against "revolutionary propaganda" from Communists was made in Boston recently by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, one of the Democratic leaders of the Senate.

The Senator warned that Communists were working particularly within the schools of the nation. If this is so, and the head of the Communist Party recently admitted it, then it is the duty of every parent to inspect closely material of a radical nature which is infiltrated ever so skillfully into the public school system.

There are three types of Communists that must be watched, the Senator said—one, "a group of keen-minded college graduates and university professors—the most dangerous, for their philosophy is destroying the sanity of countless students; two, 'the numerically insignificant but vocally strenuous' active party members, and three, the 'commonplace' between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000, borderline Communists."

Not only in schools is this propaganda being directed, the Senator said, "but it is carried into colleges, labor societies, civic and fraternal units, business martyr centers, and, sad to relate, some religious bodies as well."

Senator Walsh has served in Congress for years. As chairman of the important Senate Committee on Labor and Education he has been in a position to know whereof he speaks. He words, therefore, are more than idle comment. They become a significant message of warning to Americans who believe in America.

History of Rahway From Record Files

Rahway 65 Years Ago
From The Advocate and Times, September 3, 1973

We visited the Water Works recently and found everything in good order. The engines are running about four strokes a minute and supply the city with about 200,000 gallons of water daily.

A number of boys playing under the railroad bridge on Saturday found a box which contained jewelry. The Chief of Police took charge of it and it was later claimed by S. Doolittle of New Brunswick as part of the proceeds of a robbery of his house.

The Second Presbyterian Church will be reopened September 14th. The church has been greatly enlarged and improved by the introduction of a handsome gallery.

Rahway 30 Years Ago
From The Union Democrat, September 3, 1908

It is hard to beat Rahway in the way of novelties for pretty nearly everything modern strikes this place. The latest being an immense aeroplane or flying machine which came down St. George avenue Friday on Mr. Howard's long truck. On Saturday morning he conveyed it to the Bronx where an ascension was to be made.

Miss Florence L. Tucker has resigned as assistant kindergarten teacher in Washington Street school; Newark intends to enter the field of missionary work.

The many friends of Frank E. Boland of this city have been wondering why he dropped of a lucrative automobile business in Newark recently. It is now known that Frank has sought the aerial navigation fever and is determined to work out some ideas of his own as applied to "flying machines." Mr. Boland anticipates making a trip with his machine on St. George avenue.

Rahway 15 Years Ago
From The Rahway Record, August 26, 1923

Infant mortality statistics made public by the American Child Health Association shows that Rahway stands seventh in a list of 30 New Jersey cities for the year 1922. One of the most delightful social functions of the summer season in this city was a surprise party given Saturday night in honor of Miss Ella Snedden of Barnet street.

Frederick William H. Randolph, who is spending the summer at the shore, came up yesterday to file his petition for nomination at the September primary.

When the public schools open for the 1923-24 session next Wednesday it is expected that the enrollment will greatly exceed the record mark of 2,399 reached last year, according to Superintendent W. F. Little.

Another argument being advanced by proponents of the new school is that unless Rahway maintains accepted state standards, the school will lose its accredited standing. This would mean that high school graduates would have difficulty getting into colleges and that the city would lose its state apportionment of funds.

The proposed school site is being discussed freely. ## Know Your Government

TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATIONS
To know your government it is important to understand how it operates. The National Taxpayers' Association has developed a manual which is a detailed study of every department of local government, and acting as a central research bureau, the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association has accumulated comprehensive information on the workings of the government.

Another section of the manual gives a proposed budget procedure. The manual will be in special use to high school students, and will be of great value to all citizens who are interested in the government.

Council Action On New School Fund Is Scheduled Monday

Ordinance Raising $420,200 Set For Introduction; Citizens Again Vote For $764,000 Proposal

Introduction of an ordinance which would provide for a $420,200 appropriation as the city's share of the cost of the new high school is scheduled for a special meeting of Common Council Monday night. Given a mandate to provide funds by a crowd of about 300 persons at the public hearing in the high school this week the governing body is expected to introduce the ordinance which will be up for voting at the Monday night session.

Twenty citizens who attended the public hearing last week left no doubt in the minds of Councilmen as they gathered in favor of the new structure.

Not a single voice was raised in opposition to the proposal and the end of the session, the citizens' vote was a resounding endorsement of the plan.
