IT'S OVER BUT DON'T FORGET ABOUT IT
Fire Prevention Week is over. But it will be a major tragedy for the nation if we simply forget about it, as it has never been.

This year unprecedented effort was given to instructing the public on the hazards that breed fire and how they may be eliminated. Newspapers, magazines—all avenues of communication joined in the great work. And equally important, according to reports, the public showed an increased appetite for information.

So far as we are concerned, every week should be fire prevention week. You have learned of the importance of periodically repairing your heating plant—of the dangers inherent in improper storage of inflammable materials—of the accumulation of old newspapers, clothes and other stuff that should go to the junkman—of the chance you take when you amateurishly repair electric cords or put a penny behind a burned-out fuse. If you're wise, you eliminated these hazards in your home during the week. Now—make a note in your memorandum book—to keep up your own fire prevention campaign continuously.

Thousands of men gave their time to making Fire Prevention Week—a success—of thousands of dollars were spent—and the only hope of return is in the coinage of saved lives and property. All this was done in an attempt to protect you and your neighbors—to save your home from destruction, and your loved ones from the most horrible of deaths. Remember that—and determine to do your part to reduce avoidable fire waste in America.

STANDARD TRAFFIC REGULATIONS AS MEANS TO REDUCE ACCIDENTS

The nation-wide reduction in highway fatalities this year—challenges the mobilized forces of the traffic safety movement to go forward with a yet broader program to combat existing maladjustments, said Wallace S. Falvey, chairman of the advisory committee of the National Conservation Bureau, recently. Paying tribute to the part state authorities have taken in saving lives, sparing human suffering and protecting property on America's highways, he emphasized that greater uniformity of laws, regulations and administrative practices of motor vehicle departments would benefit not only the officials charged with motor vehicle control, but also legislators and the great body of motorists.

"The multiplicity of traffic control devices and regulations which confront the motorist when he ventures beyond his home territory, create confusion and irritation," he declared. "Any confusion and irritation breed accidents."

States and municipalities developed traffic control in a more or less haphazard fashion. No effort was made to achieve uniformity. The consequences are obvious. A motorist traveling in a strange territory is confused. He drives through overhead control lights, because in his town the lights are placed on sidewalks, or roadsides, or on the pavement itself. He looks in the wrong places for Stop and warning signs. He violates laws innocently, and unknowingly takes risks that lead to accidents.

The time for a change has arrived. We have managed to start the accident curve downward. And the inauguration of a movement to standardize traffic control devices and regulations would help keep it going down.

PLENTY OF MONEY BUT STILL RECOVERY LAGS

The Federal Reserve Board reports that there is 40 percent more money in circulation at the present time than in 1929 at the height of the boom; that we have 25 percent more money in bank accounts, and 200 percent more gold than we had in the most active financial year in history; that bank deposits are close to the all-time high.

Apparently we have plenty of money, but it is not working for the Reserve Board adds that the turnover of bank deposits is at the lowest rate in history.

It is pretty easy to understand why our money won't go to work when we consider that owners of money—yes, even those with a dollar or two in their pockets—hesitate to take a chance. Money will not take a chance in face of threats of more business regulations by government, mounting government debt and higher taxes. To properly work, money must have confidence.

As the Knoxville (Tenn.) Journal puts it: "Active business, prosperity and unemployment—all signs of the restoration of confidence in the minds of the people. What is needed is not more experimentation, planned economy, and more new fangled schemes from Professor Balderdash, but a return to American sanity and common sense."

However, the letter did not strike me as being threatening—no, no word. It was just the usual type of campaign letter that finds its way into the mail boxes of party members each year. I have received dozens of them from both the Democrats and the Republicans since I cast my first vote. Strangely enough, I've never been unduly alarmed. In fact, there have been times when I did not even bother to read further than "Dear Party Member."

How Long Can He Hold On?

That usually was enough for me. I knew right then and there that some fellow Democrat or Republican was about to put the "bee" on me for the good of the party.

It is no secret that money is required to carry out a campaign. The funds must come from someone and if the Democrats happen to have a better "sucker's list" than the Republicans; well, I'd say that indicated mighty good business sense. Not so many years ago, the Republicans were the boys who could go out and rustle up the dough. They scorned the penny trade. Instead of button-holing Jim Jones or Bill Smith and saying, "Listen friend, you kick in with a few bucks for the election fund and we will see that you keep resting on your laurels until next election day," they would corner the big shots. A member of the party would borrow a frock coat from an undertaker friend and call on Archie Gottrocks of the Skeenteenth National Bank.

Of course, Gottrocks would spurn a pick-and-shovel job, so he would have to be approached in an entirely different manner than one would use on a WPA worker. The chances are that the frock-coated emissary would drop a few hints to Archie to the effect that he would make a mighty nice-looking-ambassador-and-maybe if he would sort of make a little contribution of say twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars, the party might see fit to reward his loyalty with a diplomatic post of some sort.

But again, I have no proof that this method of raising campaign funds ever has been used. It's all supposition on my part. Perhaps my newspaper training has imbued me with an undue amount of suspicion. By the way, how are ambassadors selected anyway? Gosh, it seems to me that I am getting pretty far away from the local political scrap. This thing started out to be a scathing denunciation of cheap political chiseling and cheaper politicians, but the more I think about it, the less wrong I can see.

Suppose Kinnelmy is asking WPA workers and city employees to aid the Democrats, so what? If my boss asked me to help him, I am afraid that it would be hard for me to refuse. After all I need my job and if I don't co-operate, some one else darn soon will. I know that this is not the kind of stuff that they print in copy books, but it deals with cold blooded facts. The school of experience teaches many things that would shock the tender sensibilities of a Dick Merriwell. When the Republicans return to power, they'll do exactly the same as the Democrats are doing. It is about time that politicians realized that the men and women who vote are supposed to have minds of their own. Some of them do. I have a feeling that the American public as a whole has reached a point where it is not doing all of its thinking with its ears. My advice to both the Democrats and the Republicans is to give the voters issues not mud. That is a big order for politicians, but it can be done. That 57 point tax rate and the promise of an even greater increase next year is certainly an issue one could spend hours upon.

History of Rahway From Record Files

Rahway 55 Years Ago
From The Rahway Record, October 29, 1913
On Thursday night a gang of young men assembled in front of L. Koepfer's windows. He complained to them and ordered them away, as they were obstructing his show window. After he had done so and entered his store some one with a knife cut and hacked a coat hanging at the door in such a manner as to make it worthless.

Mrs. Susan Everett, M. D., proposes to lecture at the Second M. E. Church on Monday to the ladies as an opening to a course which she desires to deliver here.

Get a copy of the "Rahway Real Estate Journal," it contains R. R. timetables, editorial on Rahway and its prospects, list of houses, manufacturing property and farms for sale or rent. It is published by J. Stanley Ferguson.

Rahway 30 Years Ago
From The Union Democrat, October 20, 1908
The Rahway Elks have arranged to display the results as fast as received by wire on election night on canvas, by stereotyping in front of their club rooms on Main street. Between two and three hundred entertaining pictures will be interspersed. No need to go out of town to hear the returns.

The annual display of garments by the Needlework Guild took place on Tuesday and Wednesday, showing a successful year. 1774 garments were sent in.

Rahway High School, with a much shifted team, defeated the speedy Somerville High School at West End Park Saturday afternoon, 15 to 10.

Rahway 15 Years Ago
From The Rahway Record, October 20-23, 1923
After having awaited the arrival of the seats for the auditorium of the new Parish House of St. Paul's Church for many months when the consignment finally did arrive this morning misfortune, treated behind and through the agency of a fire in a waste paper basket and flying sparks eight sets of four chairs each were burned in a fire which threatened to destroy more than 200 of these chairs.

The veritable epidemic of robberies and attempts which has been going on in this city for the past ten years was increased Saturday night by a more enterprising, 12th and 13th; despite the fact that the police department took extra precautions following the seven breaks on Thursday morning.

The Rahway High School Alumni Association opened its campaign for three hundred new members Friday evening with a banquet at the high school.

How Long Can He Hold On?

Rahway 5 Years Ago
From The Rahway Record, October 31, 1933

The 20th annual conference of Women's Auxiliaries of the Y. M. C. A. of New Jersey will be held in the Community House of First Presbyterian Church Friday, November 10.

Gov. Moore and the members of his military staff were the principal guests at the "Twilight Musical Appreciation" held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Fred H. Albee, Colonia, Sunday evening.

A mass meeting of the representatives of all the industries, merchants and organizations in Rahway to plan for an NRA parade has been called by Mayor Brooks for tomorrow night. The parade will be staged November 10.

From Washington comes word that WPA workers will be given time off to vote election-day. They claim they aren't concerned how these folks vote but they certainly want them to vote. The man in private industry has to vote after work unless he is fortunate enough to have an employer who observes this holiday.

THANKS FROM ARAHWAY
Editor, The Record.
I want to thank you for the splendid publicity given to the man's Auxiliary for our donation day. Your kind words do much to make me feel that I am doing a real service.

BIGGER BILL
Richmond, N. J.
I have just received a bill for my telephone service. It is a bigger bill than I have ever received before. I am sure that the rate increase is due to the fact that the telephone company has increased the rate by 25 points while the other four points were due to the increased cost of the telephone service.

"THE LISTENING HOUSE"
By Mabel Seely
I agree with Mrs. Seely that this is a book of its kind. It is a story of a woman who, in the quietest of ways, has become a great power. The story is told in a simple, direct manner, and the character of the woman is so well drawn that one can almost see her. The book is a good one to read, and it is well worth the time and effort to read it.

Attention Voters and Taxpayers

Rahway's Tax Increase has not been forced upon you by the County and State, as Mr. Patten and Mr. Burger would have you believe.
Do not be fooled by such misrepresentations. Get out your 1937 and 1938 tax bills. Look at the schedules, and you will see the difference. You will notice the following items under amounts to be paid:

1. State School Tax $1,716.45 $1,716.45
2. Soldier's Bonus Tax 5,883.07 5,883.07
3. District Court Tax 673.31 673.31
4. County Tax 124,943.11 124,943.11
5. LOCAL SCHOOL TAX 251,284.91 251,284.91
6. NET LOCAL TAX 337,967.18 337,967.18

Candidates May Make Statements, But Figures Do Not Lie! These Figures Are Official And Cannot Be Contradicted!
They cushioned our 1938 tax bills by using $155,000 of our surplus revenues. By using this fund, they prevented the local tax rate from increasing 70 points more!

Having practically exhausted our surplus fund, we ask our Democratic opponents where they expect to find a "cushion" TO PREVENT OUR TAX RATE FROM INCREASING NEXT YEAR?
The Union County Board of Freeholders, realizing the plight of our local administration, have taken over several projects which were the sole obligation of Rahway. At the sole expense of the County, they have completed these projects:

1. Scott Avenue Paving cost $48,402.54
2. Milton Avenue Paving cost 35,678.62
3. St. George Avenue Storm Sewer cost 11,692.43
..... $95,773.59

Mr. Patten and Mr. Burger, the County has helped you, and is not responsible for Rahway's Tax increase on you either. Had your ad- ministration of the City of Rahway paid for these projects, Rahway's Tax Rate would have been 45 points HIGHER! For this the Democratic candidates SHOULD BE GRATEFUL RATHER THAN CRITICALLY.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM OPENS HOME STAND WITH UNION GAME HERE TOMORROW

short sport shots

By Woody

Bert Hasbroick of Rahway is getting the touchdown habit down, much to the approval of Rutgers fans. He paved the way for one and scored the other as Rutgers beat Lehigh last week after scoring the first touchdown in the Rutgers stadium the previous week. Bert gained 51 yards from scrimmage Saturday, a third of the yardage the Scarlet gained on the ground. . . . We may be wrong but from where we sat in the last row at the the Roselle game, it looked as if Highway High was foolish to attempt all those long passes, only one of which succeeded. We would like to see the Scarlet try some short ones for a change. . . . Highway made a net gain of 168 yards to 82 for Roselle yet Roselle won and made five first downs to one for Highway. . . . John Kobersky's play in the Highway backfield stamped him as one of the best defensive backs in these parts. What would a coach give to have 11 boys like him on a team? . . . Only a few more weeks and the basketball season will start when the Highway 'Y' swings into action with a squad that shapes up as a mighty strong one.

our man friday

picks the football Friday

Friday picked up a few points over the weekend by selecting 29 winners, losing nine and tying two games in his weekly predictions. Comes another busy weekend and Friday submits the following guesses:

RAYWAY-UNION. Two teams with poor records meet in a contest which somebody has to win. On paper, Highway is the favorite but the Scarlet has flopped many times before when it was favored. Union is the weakest team on Highway's schedule this year and a victory is certain.

RUTGERS-PRINCETON. These two old-state rivals should stage an interesting game. While a Rutgers victory is a possibility, Friday likes Princeton.

BROWN-YALE. Brown has the best record but Yale is our choice.

HARVARD-CHICAGO. A romp for Harvard.

COLUMBIA-VIRGINIA. Columbia breaks its losing streak and wins.

FORDHAM-ST. MARY'S. Not too much trouble for Fordham.

LEHIGH-N. Y. U. N. Y. U. should take this one.

NORDE DAME-NAVY. The Irish are favored although they don't figure to score as often as they did against Army.

DARTMOUTH-DICKSON. A breeze for Dartmouth.

COLGATE-SYRACUSE. A tossup. We take Syracuse.

ARMY-FRANKLIN MARSHALL. A workout for the Army.

NOR. CAR. STATE-MANHATTAN. Should be Manhattan.

LAFAYETTE-PENN STATE. After what State did to Syracuse, it must be picked as the favorite.

PITTSBURGH-CARNEGIE. Pitt by a couple touchdowns.

VILLANOVA-AUBURN. Villanova the victor.

HOLY CROSS-NAVY. Holy Cross the favorite.

WESLEYAN-WILLIAMS. Williams by a gnats' whisker.

INDIANA-BOSTON COLLEGE. Indiana to win.

PENNSYLVANIA-TRINITY. Ambush ambush.

ALBRIGHT-LASALLE. Albright on top.

PENN-MICHIGAN. Penn has a chance but on the basis of the season's showing, Michigan should win.

MINNESOTA-IOWA. Minnesota comes back with a vengeance to win.

WISCONSIN-NORTHWESTERN. The way they play in the Big Ten, a Wisconsin victory would not be surprising. Northwestern, after its conquest of Minnesota, is favored to win.

OHIO STATE-PURDUE. Ohio State cops.

MISSOURI-MISSOURI. State takes it.

NEBRASKA-KANSAS. Nebraska the winner.

IOWA STATE-DRAKE. Iowa State winning.

CATHOLIC-DE PAUL. Catholic to win.

OHIO U-MIAMI. Ohio has too much for little Miami.
