Ill-Health Leads Man To Suicide

Frank Van Nest Takes Life, as Did His Sister in 1940

Frank A. Van Nest, 59 years of age, was reported by the Rahway police to have committed suicide Monday forenoon, by the use of illuminating gas, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gaffney, 830 Jacques avenue, where he made his home, Mrs. Gaffney being his sister. It was in this same house, on July 11, 1940, where Van Nest's sister, Nellie Van Nest, also committed suicide by taking poison.

Because of his ill-health, Van Nest had been given his breakfast by his sister, in bed that morning. Soon afterward Mr. and Mrs. Gaffney, and Mrs. Sarah Lee, of Bloomfield, left the house to attend a funeral. They returned at 12:45, when Mrs. Gaffney tried the back door, and being unable to open it, went to the front door and there saw her brother lying on the floor, face downward.

Mr. Gaffney entered the room and detecting gas, went to the stove, where he found two burners turned on full, the metal covers being found back of the stove. The burners he turned off and asked a neighbor to notify the police. Sgt. Arthur Welding and Patrolman Lawrence Coman attempted to resuscitate the man by artificial respiration. They were assisted by Drs. R. B. Casey and M. T. Weissman, but were unable to revive the man, and he was pronounced dead at 1:45 p. m.

Mr. Gaffney reported to Detective Robert J. Walker that Van Nest was quite deaf and that he was afflicted with arthritis and a stomach ailment.

A native of South Plainfield, Van Nest had been a resident of Rahway for 25 years, living a number of years on Elm avenue before going to live with his sister, Mrs. Gaffney, 18 years ago. A member of the Carpenter's Union he had followed the carpenter's trade for years. He was also identified with the Somerset Council, Junior O. U. A. M.

He was unmarried and Mrs. Gaffney was his only surviving near relative. He was the son of the late Thomas and Mary Van Nest.

EAST ORANGE—Youths in this city are taking into their own hands the problem of finding adequate recreation facilities to eliminate "street-corner hangouts" about which adults have been complaining and police taking action.

A group of East Orange High School students have formed a "youth canteen" organization and are awaiting approval of city officials for use of the basement of the Franklin Branch Library.

Here is a situation that is rare. Seldom do boys ever attempt to work out their own salvation. They are usually too ready to follow the lines of least resistance that generally leads them into trouble.

Be Sure to Fill Out Certificate

The Bureau of Internal Revenue at Washington, is reminding all income tax payers of the importance of filling out the new withholding exemption certificate and turning it in to employer or to the Government before December 1. This new individual income tax law was passed by Congress last spring and requires a filing of the exemption certificate by the first of the coming month. This certificate enables the employer to give full credit to withholding exemptions when he figures the income tax he must withhold from wages.

The certificate is based on the new law and differs from any previous certificate that may have been filed. The new law contains a new set of wage brackets, designed to withhold the full tax liability on wages up to at least $5,000. Under the new law the tax withheld will be much closer to the tax due on the annual return. This is done through the use of more precise tables. For example, in the case of a single person with no dependents, the tax withheld on a weekly wage of $30 was formerly the same as on $39, while under the new tables the tax withheld on weekly wages, up to $60, changes with each dollar of wages.

Coast Guards Guests of Vets

Host to the members of the Rahway Coast Guard Barracks, the Rahway Veterans' Central Committee observed a belated celebration of Armistice Day, at a week-end gathering at John L. Bachmann's White House Inn, at St. George and West-Lincoln avenues.

Peter Keller provided instrumental music, assisted by his son, William, the latter being home from service in the U. S. Navy, stationed in Italian waters. James Smith furnished a number of songs.

Resolutions were adopted, expressing appreciation for the use of the Marple lot on Armistice Day, and to Mrs. Louis J. Sisto and William Schmidt for assistance given.

An appeal is being made by the committee to find someone who will assume responsibility of seeing that the American flag is flown daily from the staff at World War memorial, Pierpont street and St. George avenue.

The next regular meeting of the Veterans' Central Committee will be held December 11, when nominations for officers for the ensuing year will be made.

Seek Playground For Inman Section

A special committee was appointed Monday night by the Inman Heights Association, consisting of John Gallo, Michael Petraitis and William Jordan, to assist David W. Davis in efforts to obtain a playground for the West Inman section, as a probable post-war project. Members of the association own property in the rear of their premises between West Inman avenue and Orchard street, where various picnics and outdoor gatherings are held and efforts will be made to have a playground with proper equipment established there to benefit a widespread neighborhood.

Plans were advanced for the New Year's Eve banquet and celebration, to be held at Union Square Club, Elizabeth. Joseph Caplano is general chairman. His co-workers are George Miller, William Rick, Otto Muller, Reginald Timbrook, William Jordan, Allen Weyand, John Gallo, George Fox, Emil Helley, Fred Agard, Alex Christensen, Michael Petraitis, Omer Lucier, Patsy Sisto and President Rudolph J. Bartz.

Bruno Polico, reported a successful war bond contest. Patsy Sisto and George Miller were appointed to represent the association at the next two meetings of the Common Council. David W. Davis reported a recent meeting held in opposition to the proposed location of State Highway 4 and the agitation for an alternate route, which would prevent the destruction of a part of the fine residential sections on West Inman avenue and at Milton Lake. R. J. Bartz presided.

Rahway Man To Realize Aspirations

Dr. Merlub-Sobel to Leave For Palestine Soon to Develop Chemicals

The dream and lifetime aspiration of a chemist and research investigator, who resided in obscurity, and almost unknown fame, in Rahway, will become a reality the first of the year, when Dr. Menahem Merlub-Sobel, of 180 West Milton avenue, director of the research laboratory of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, located in Carteret, leaves for Palestine. Dr. Merlub-Sobel will go as the technical manager of the Palestine Potash Company, Ltd., a firm engaged in the recovery of potassium chloride from the Dead Sea.

His mission, in particular, is to expand the output of this company in Palestine, into one more nearly approaching its known potentialities. Concessions secured from the British and Transjordanian governments require it to produce minimum amounts of potash each year.

These requirements have met, but they barely tap the almost endless resources of the region. In addition to its large quantity of potash, the Dead Sea (a lake of course, despite its misleading name) is known to be rich in bromine and also the largest source of magnesium in the world. Both are minerals highly valuable and necessary in modern industrial processes, and the recovery of only potash and bromine has been undertaken so far. So this young scientist will set up a new project in Palestine in addition to enlarging the one already under way.

These tasks ahead of Dr. Merlub-Sobel would gratify anyone from a material standpoint, and they do him. But beyond this he has a soul-rewarding satisfaction which is his dream come true.

Since his school days he has been an ardent believer in and supporter of Zionism, that movement which would restore to the Jewish peoples the homeland taken from them in 70 A.D. and from which they have wandered the face of the earth ever since.

His devotion has been no mere zealot's enthusiasm. When still a youth he considered carefully the ways in which he could develop himself to further this movement. He decided on a career in science. He holds the three degrees of Bachelor and Master of Arts, and Chemical Engineer from Columbia University; a Doctorate of Philosophy in Chemistry from Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

By strange coincidence he started his scientific work in Carteret, the point from which he now takes off for the Old World. Years ago he went to Carteret as a technician in the laboratory of the Warner Chemical Company. Later periods of work were with the Baryllium Corporation, producers of a special light metal, in Cleveland; in the same city with the Union Carbide Corporation, as chemical engineer, and as head of the Department of Chemistry and Metallurgy for the Adressograph-Multigraph Corporation. From that post he came back to Carteret in 1940 and supervised setting up the research laboratory he has run ever since. The small white building in which it is housed was constructed after his arrival in April, 1941.

While Dr. Merlub-Sobel never has been in the Holy Land, he knows what he will find on his arrival there. He is familiar with the workings of the concern in which he will be a part, having served as its American consultant for the past 12 years. This company is operated on British and American capital, and by directors representing both nations, along with one Arab. It was founded in 1929 and began delivering its products five years later. Now its expansion will come into the hands of the serious-minded youth who determined long ago to add a cause to which he felt passionate devotion, and who starts the first of the year realizing that ambition.

Eleven New Subscriptions

Since the Rahway Record went to press last week, eleven new subscriptions have been received at this office. A number of these are from the boys in the service, who have requested the paper, and indicate the value placed on the Record in furnishing the hometown news.

Thanksgiving Day School Programs

The Thanksgiving programs of the Rahway public schools are being held today, both at the High School and the grammar schools. A special assembly of the High School, is being conducted by the Victory Service Organization of the Home Economics Club. Nancy Moulton called the roll for the Thanksgiving baskets, that the various classes have filled for the needy and deserving. The Rev. John M. Jaqueth was the guest speaker.

Two plays were given at the Roosevelt school assembly; one by the third grade, entitled "Thanksgiving Eve in the Cornfield"; the other by the fifth grade, entitled, "The Pilgrim Fathers." Recitations, readings and songs were also given.

The sixth grade conducted the Franklin school Thanksgiving program, with Carol Evans the announcer. A play, "Thankful Hearts," was given, and a piano solo by Carol Evans and a guitar duet by Ronald Woolley and Richard Mintel was rendered. The fifth grade furnished a recitation and a play, "Mr. Thanks Has His Day."

"A Thanksgiving Story," was the title of the play given at the Grover Cleveland school by the third, fourth and sixth grades, with a very large cast.

All grades participated in the Thanksgiving program at the Lincoln school, with recitations, singing and two plays.

The first, second, third, fourth and fifth grades of the Columbian school, joined in a varied program of recitations, Bible readings and songs. The opening exercises were led by Bobby Burke.

The reception committee consists of Councilmen Raymond Young, Harry Colvin, Ross DiCorno, Clifford Corey and John Leonard; Samuel Morton, David Needell and Eugene Malnizer, city officials; George Goodwill, Martin Gettings, Joseph Feinberg, Dr. E. Carlin, Dr. Robert B. Casey, Dr. L. Garfield, Harry Rudorfer and William Gurkin.

The guard of honor will consist of Past Presidents Edward Cliff, William Janek, Charles Forgie, William Preplak, Clarence Egolf, John Nicholson and Joseph Tam-Burina, and aerial officers Francis Kenna, worthy president; Charles Enz, vice president; James Egolf, treasurer; Edward Eisenberg, chaplain; Clarence Titus, Percy Robinson, Charles Rommel, Harry Simpson and Harry Alexander.

Thanksgiving Day, Festive Occasion

Church Service, Football Game and Basketball Makes Full Day

Thanksgiving Day is to be a full day in Rahway this year, with scarcely an opportunity or time to eat the festive-Thanksgiving dinner.

Union Thanksgiving services in the forenoon, with the final season's Thanksgiving football game of the Rahway High school team, playing its annual rival at 11 o'clock, and the evening filled with basketball games at the Y. M. C. A., makes it look as if athletic fans would have to eat their Thanksgiving dinner on the run this year.

We can scarcely call this occasion Turkey Day, because of the very few turkeys available this year for the ordinary family. However, when we stop to consider the fact that there were more turkeys than ever raised this year, but that most of them went to give our boys a real Thanksgiving dinner, with turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce and all the other appurtenances to a good meal, the people are not going to complain in the least, for the most of them prefer chicken to turkey after all.

People with thankful hearts will gather Thursday morning, for the union service of the Rahway Federation of Churches, at the First Baptist Church at 9:30 o'clock, when the Rev. H. Hauser, president of the Federation, will bring the Thanksgiving message, his subject being, "The Object of Our Thanks." The Rev. Gilbert F. van Bever will be in charge of the service, with two special anthems by the choir of the Baptist Church, led by Miss Margaret Collier, and special organ music by William E. Cook. Other ministers of Rahway will participate in the service.

Masses, appropriate to Thanksgiving, will be held in the morning, at both the St. Mary's and the St. Mark's Roman Catholic Churches.

For the young people and football fans of Rahway, Thanksgiving would not be a perfect day without a football game with the Regional High school team. With the magnificent showing the local team has made in its recent games, it appears there is very little to fear from the outcome of the Thanksgiving Day game at Riverside Park. There is every reason to believe that Rahway will win the game without difficulty, and the way it handled Plainfield last Saturday, it would not surprise many if Rahway shut out the visitors.

The game will be called at 11 o'clock, and should be over by 2, so that dinner at 2:30 may be prepared in Rahway, ready for serving. And with what appetites will those boys, who will be over their training, go after it.

The opening of the basketball season will take place Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A., when a big crowd is expected to witness two games in which all-star men and all-star women will participate.

The WACS of Camp Kilmer will furnish a team to play an all-star girls' team of Rahway, which attraction will take the floor at 7:30 p. m. At 8:30, Camp Kilmer will furnish a fast-stepping basketball team to meet an all-star men's team from Rahway. There is certain to be plenty of action in both these games.

As an added attraction for the evening, The Aces will furnish the music for a dance, with which to end a full, but perfect day.

Rev. Jaqueth Talks At Club Meeting

Monday, at the Thanksgiving luncheon program, held by the Rahway Rotary Club, at Greven's Hotel, the theme of the Rev. John M. Jaqueth, of Trinity Methodist Church and secretary of the club, was, "Altruistic Men Feeding a Starving World." Robert A. Coan, president, introduced the program and made timely reference to the significance of the season to America in wartime. The war stamps award went to Walter C. Jackson. Visiting Rotarians were: Frank Scott, Jr., of Elizabeth; John J. Moore, Linden; Fred C. Zink, Westfield, and Wallace Higgins, of Roselle-Roselle Park Club.

Co-Chairman in Effort

Miss Bessie Hinds, linked with many civic causes, is now inspiring Rahway women to make certain that the latest War Loan Drive is a success.

Navy Coxswain Orders a Scroll

A coxswain in the U. S. Navy, whose home is in Kokomo, Ind., saw a copy of the Rahway Record, containing the announcement and picture of the "Honor Scroll," that is being sent out from this office, and sent a request to his mother, asking her to order one and have it filled out in his name. The letter from the mother reads as follows:

"The Rahway Record:
"Dear Sir—I received the enclosed coupon from my son who is overseas. Please find enclosed dollar bill to pay for one of the Honor Rolls. He is a coxswain in the U. S. Navy. The name to be attached is Russell LeRoy Huston. Thank you.
"Mrs. Bernard Kerby, 626 East Sycamore, Kokomo, Ind."

Christmas Bazaar December the 9th

Extensive plans are being worked out under the direction of Mrs. Gilbert F. van Bever and Mrs. W. E. Robertson, co-chairmen, for the annual Christmas Bazaar of the Junior Service League, that is to be held at the Ilderan Outing Club the afternoon of December 9. The booths are to be especially attractive and the gifts offered for sale are to be most appealing to Christmas buyers.

C. Terry Replaces Mitchell On Stand

After serving the public for more than 14 years, William G. Mitchell, of 1569 Church street, has retired as manager of the Union News Company at the Pennsylvania Railroad station. His place has been taken by Clarence W. Terry, of 1734 Church street, who was in charge of the stand at the Linden station for the past eight years.

While in charge of the stand, Mr. Mitchell made many friends, who have sent congratulations and best wishes. Prior to taking charge of the news stand at the station, Mr. Mitchell was a skilled auto painter, succeeding to the business of the late former Mayor David H. Trembley, after the latter's death. Before coming to Rahway, Mr. Mitchell was engaged in business in Brooklyn.

Musicians Hold Annual Election

George Shuster was elected fifteenth sergeant, at a meeting of the St. Mark's Pipe and Drum Corps, at a week-end meeting. Other officers elected in the corps are: Lawrence Shuster, drum sergeant, and Michael Gonzales, business manager. The latter, who is also vice president, presided at the meeting.

Sixth War Loan Drive Began Monday

Citizens Asked to be Ready to Fill Out Application Blanks for Amount Desired, on Workers' First Visit

The Sixth War Loan Drive is now on. In Rahway it is for the sale of $1,550,000-worth of bonds. We have caught the sound of words several times lately, to the effect that "it is going to be more difficult to meet this drive." Why? Because it is the "sixth drive."

So what? Well, ask those 50 captains of the women's organizations under Mrs. J. W. Costello and Miss Bessie Hinds, and the dozen lieutenants of the industrial plants, under George C. Laberheim, and see what comeback you get. It will be:

Pedestrian Protective Contest Next

Safety Council to Make the People Safety-Conscious During Year of 1945

Two projects for the coming year, to further safety conditions in Rahway, were planned at the meeting of the Rahway Safety Council, last night at the City Hall. The first of the year, in accordance with the recommendation of Mayor David Armstrong, a National Pedestrian Protective Contest will be set up, to enlist every body in Rahway to become more careful and safety conscious. This is sponsored by the American Automobile Association, and was given endorsement by President Raymond F. Eggers of the local council. Rahway will enter this contest the first of the year.

Safety Week was also planned for some time in early spring, probably in March. A special program is to be arranged, with the Police and Fire departments assisting, manufacturers of safety devices being invited to have their wares on display. An interesting speaker will be present.

A letter from Joseph Reider, president of the Grover Cleveland Men's Club, also to be placed before the Common Council, protesting the crowding of the High school buses, was read. President Eggers said that he had investigated and found as high as 80 pupils riding on one of the two morning buses, while the other bus would have very few pupils on it.

Ray O'Donnell, of the Public Service, was asked if the company had taken any action on the letter the council had sent to them? To which he replied the company had not, since they had investigated and found the bus service ample, if the pupils would take the first bus that came along, instead of waiting for the last bus, as most of the pupils did.

President Eggers gave as his opinion that the council was "not a disciplinarian." That was the work of the teachers in the public schools." He said, "the only way seems to be to limit the capacity of the buses and force the pupils to take the first bus, or suffer the consequences."

It was decided to write Principal Ralph Kocher and ask for his cooperation in getting the pupils to take the first bus that came along, instead of crowding the last bus. Mr. O'Donnell stated the average capacity of a bus was 60 adults, or about 55 pupils.

A budget of $847 was provided for next year, about twice that of the past year.

Mr. Reider, reporting for the Motor-Vehicle and Traffic committee, was opposed to the police tagging cars, since, he said, "they are not enforcing parking anyhow. Have the police look after cars with only one light and those that make a wrong turn." He also recommended doing away with some of the angle marks on Irving street, for the parking of cars, that leave cars parked almost on crosswalks, making it necessary for them to back over the crosswalks in getting away.

Raymond F. Eggers was re-nominated for president, the election to be held at the December meeting. The other officers nominated were: George Riley, vice president; Ray O'Donnell, secretary; James Kinnearly and Charles Drake, assistant secretary, and John Geyer, treasurer.

"Don't you know the war is still going on? Don't you know that James P. Byrnes, director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, declared on Armistice Day that 'the general advance of the Allies on the western front and in the Pacific, has been held up by shortages of supplies?'"

"Don't you know that production has been slowed down, because everybody has thought the war would soon be over, and it isn't over yet, and won't be for some time; and we must have $90,000,000,000 a year to carry on the war?"

"The sum of $14,000,000,000, that is, to be raised throughout the United States, is less than one-sixth the actual cost of the war for this year. Some way should have been found to have made this war pay its way, but none was found, therefore, we must pay, at least a portion of its cost as we go along, and certainly one-sixth is the very smallest portion we could think of trying to raise. Of this Rahway is asked to take $1,550,000."

This is a business proposition. Every citizen is a stockholder in Rahway, as a municipality. He lives here; he pays taxes here; he must support the Government at Washington here in Rahway. Uncle Sam asks him a loan to the Government of $1,550,000. Therefore, as a member of the stock company, he agrees that Rahway must take care of its quota, and that means that each citizen will buy his share of the bonds.

Why should it be difficult to sell the quota this time? It shouldn't. We all know that. Everybody knows that. And if everybody decides to do a little better than in the last drive, it will be easily raised.

The instructions are:

First, be sure that the members of the family know how much you are going to invest in this drive, so that the worker who knocks at your door can fill out the application blank for the amount desired, so she won't need to call back the second or third time." The application can be made out to the Rahway postoffice, to the Rahway National Bank, to the Rahway Savings Institution, the Axa Federal Savings and Loan Association or to the Citizens' Building and Loan Association.

Then, "give the workers a cordial reception. They are not paid for doing this work. They are simply doing it to accommodate you, so you will not need to go

Anything People Buy Time After Time Must Be Good

This is particularly true of Rahway Record want ads. You will notice as you read over the Want Ad page each week, that in addition to the many "one time" ads, there are also many for advertisers who use these small, inexpensive ads consistently. Since The Rahway Record does not make a charge for it, doesn't it seem reasonable that these regular advertisers would stop their advertising and save the money it costs if they did not find the ads profitable to use? There's no question about it: these small, inexpensive Record want ads get results because almost everybody in Rahway and vicinity reads them.

Mrs. Madge MacClary Feted On Birthday

Women Prominent In The Founding of N. J. C. Attend Luncheon

Mrs. Frank Ambler Pattison, of Colonia, entertained Mrs. Madge MacClary, of 179 West Milton avenue, at a postponed luncheon, planned for Halloween, at the Colonia Country Club on Wednesday, November 8. The luncheon was in celebration of the 83rd birthday of Mrs. MacClary.

Mrs. Ada Jeanette English, librarian and historian of the New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, was also a guest. Following the luncheon a conference was held at which time Mrs. Pattison, past president of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, presented a report on the college's administration, contributed data and material relating to the founding of the college, in which both were active principals.

Mrs. Pattison's original effort toward forming a household economics department, as part of the Agricultural College in New Brunswick, resulted itself into a plan of having a woman's college where household economics and housekeeping engineering might become active departments. In this effort,

Music Department Of Woman's Club Meets

Thursday, the Music department of the Railway Woman's Club met with Mrs. Joseph A. Kenna, 238 Elm avenue, and enjoyed a review of the book, "Music on My Beat," by Tallman, given by Mrs. Gilbert F. van Bever. A Christmas luncheon will be held Friday, December 15, at the residence of chairman Mrs. George Orton 196 Elm avenue. Others taking part yesterday were: Mrs. Charles F. Card, Mrs. J. B. Zimmerman, Mrs. William E. Kulp, Mrs. David Taylor, Mrs. Thomas H. Roberts, Mrs. John J. Hoffman, Mrs. George Weinheimer and others.

the cooperation of Mrs. Howard Crosby Warren, wife of the professor of psychology, at Princeton University, was secured. While these plans were being carried out, Mrs. MacClary was chosen to make appeals to the club women of New Jersey and to speak before the spring and autumn conventions. Every support was given the efforts of Mabel Smith Douglas, the inspiration for the building of the college and later its dean for many years. Mrs. Margaret Oman Gardener, the first president of the New Jersey State Federation, and known as the "Mother of the State Federation," became a most enthusiastic sponsor, and by her efforts and contributions, greatly aided the endowment fund.

Mrs. English will incorporate all historical facts available, concerning the college, while the gift of data and manuals by members of the Past Officers Club, of which Mrs. Pattison, Mrs. MacClary and Mrs. Douglas were members, will add a rich amount of information. Mrs. English will entertain Mrs. Pattison and Mrs. MacClary at the college early in the new year. The name of the Home Reading Club, of this city, has been placed on the steps of the main building of the New Jersey College for Women, as a result of numerous contributions, which indicates its unflagging interest in the college.

LAST THANKSGIVING DAY I ate my dinner in an Army camp. No, not far from here, but even a mile from home is a long way on Thanksgiving Day. We had a good dinner, lots of food, but not like ma's. There were about 250 of us in the mess hall. I guess it was a new experience for most of us.

Our company commander gave us a little speech then our chaplain said a prayer. It was a prayer I will never forget. Never forget, because of the feeling I had deep inside when he said it. I guess we all had the same feeling.

He gave thanks for the food that we were about to eat, and for our fellow countrymen who made it possible. He prayed that the following Thanksgiving would find us home with our families, laughing and enjoying ourselves with our loved ones. He prayed as we all did, that our buddies fighting all over the world would be kept from harm. He prayed that our boys would keep the enemy's hands from ever harming our love.

Our safe keeping while we were away.

When we lifted our heads, we had a lump in our throats, tears in our eyes, and hope in our hearts. A hope that our prayers would be answered.

Thanksgiving Day will find a lot of boys with a lot of prayers.

Let's help answer their prayers by buying another bond today — It means so much for so many.

Fredric, your hairdresser.

By Mrs. Gilbert van Bever Selling Blood Plasma

Red Cross Chairman Basil O'Connor has categorically denied the rumors that Red Cross blood plasma is being sold to the armed forces. He declared: "It has been called to our attention that rumors are being circulated throughout the United States, alleging that Red Cross blood plasma is being sold to soldiers and sailors."

"These rumors are viciously false, and apparently circulated by persons who wish to deprive our fighting men of life-saving plasma. The blood, which each week, more than 100,000 patriotic Americans give to the Red Cross, is turned over to the Army and Navy and processed by them into blood plasma, or flown as refrigerated whole blood to Europe and the Pacific. Full possession and control of the blood plasma is the property of the United States Government."

YMCA Notes

By Robert Breza

The Rahway Hi-Y Club will be represented at the State Older Boys' Conference by Roy Soppas and James Boyle. On Saturday evening, December 2, the feature of the program will be Dr. Henry Gerald, who gave his mystifying demonstration of mental telepathy and hypnosis at the Montclair Conference in 1942. He made such a deep impression on the delegates that he has been invited back for a "repeat" performance. The delegates and leaders who were in attendance at the Montclair Conference will recall the apparently supernatural powers he exhibited in reading the minds of many persons in his audience. Those persons who have been listening in on Dunninger's radio performance will find Dr. Gerald an equally proficient performer.

There also will be the installation of the conference officers. The 1944 officers are as follows: President, Thomas Jenkins, Westfield; first vice president, John Pohl, Red Bank; second vice president, Peter Smith, Plainfield.

The Hi-Y and Blue-Tri will be represented at the Women's Association supper Tuesday, November 28. The representatives will give accounts of their clubs to familiarize the churches with the clubs' activities. The theme is: "What is the Community?"

As usual, the Friday-Nights will go for a swim at 7 this Friday night, because of the absence of a Boys' Work secretary.

There will be a meeting of the officers and committee chairmen of the Dry-Nite Club this evening, to discuss the plans regarding the basketball games which start Saturday, November 25.

A few people have been getting out of hand lately because of the lack of chaperones. The Dry-Nite Club was formed to create entertainment for the people who had nothing to do on Saturday evenings. If these activities are hampered or disturbed by thoughtless persons, it is certain to affect the club.

WEATHER BAD

One of the longest rainy spells Rahway has had for years, visited the city Monday morning. When it began to rain about 9 o'clock and continued without letup until Tuesday night about 8 o'clock. The most of Monday night the rain poured down, but eased up somewhat towards morning, continuing however, throughout the entire day. A little snow fell about noon on Tuesday, but it melted as fast as it hit the ground.

Nationwide Program For Concerted Reading of The Bible

Most Helpful Chapters Selected To be Read over Thirty-Three Days

A nationwide program to secure concerted reading of 33 chapters of the Old and New Testament of the Bible, is being put on by the National Council of Churches. All churches are cooperating in this. In accordance with the proclamation of President Roosevelt that the Bible should be read, as well as prayers offered on Thanksgiving Day.

There was a triumphant note in the sermon of the Rev. Gilbert van Beyer Sunday morning, speaking on the subject: "Praise God, from Whom all Blessings Flow." The choir, under the direction of Miss Elsie Garretson Stryker, who was also the organist, sang an anthem, with Miss Elaine Penrose furnishing a solo.

The minister announced that he would preach a Thanksgiving sermon next Sunday. Taking as his text the words of Ps. 148: 1, 2: "Praise ye the Lord. Praise the Lord, O my soul. While I live will I praise the Lord: I will sing praises unto my God while I have being," he said, in part:

"The words of our text are the words of David and he meant what he said. He had 'tasted' the Lord and knew He was good. The latter Psalms are of praise, but his earlier Psalms are depressing. They are of petition; for help; they are intercessory prayers, where he pleads with God. Yet reading them you know that the doxology is going to come at the end."

"David was a man of faith; a man of prayer and expectation. He knew that 'sorrow may endure, but that joy cometh in the morning.' Finally, he is not ashamed. He cries out: 'I shall not be ashamed; I shall not be deceived,' and so the doxology comes."

"Thanksgiving Day comes on Thursday. For some it will be an opportune time to give thanks. As the President stated in his proclamation, for them it will be 'a day of thanksgiving'; it will be a day when people will go to church. But for many it will not be a day they would choose, for the purpose of giving thanks. In any year, the day, as a day for giving thanks, is not right for some; for Thanksgiving Day finds us in many states of grace."

"I have chosen this morning to speak of some of the things, because of which we all may gather on Thanksgiving and praise God. First, we can praise God that we are Christians. Thank God for His unpeppable grace that we are Christians. Is there any other people so qualified to endure loss or suffering as people of the Christian faith? 'Beloved, and now are we the Sons of God,' said Paul. We are in His keeping. No man can pluck us out of His hand."

"Again he says: 'Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts and be ye thankful.' Let that assurance of peace, with His word, dwell in your hearts so you can say: 'It is well with my soul.' Let us encourage one another in the Lord. Let us sing hymns of praise and thanksgiving."

"We should learn to talk simply. So many people are sophisticated in their language and actions. We know too much to be thankful. We have got to live childlike, if we are to enjoy His grace, for, 'except ye become as little children, ye shall in nowise enter the Kingdom of Heaven.'"

"In the second place, we can always thank God for the open door to Christian service. There is no happier experience of joy and gladness that can possess us than that of a person being used for some good purpose. We need no special excellence for service. Simply to be clean; fit for the Master's use. God hath chosen the weak things of this earth to put to flight the mighty."

"We see over and over, again and again, that the things which make for better circumstances in life comes from the common activities of men. The little part each plays contribute to bigness. Rahway is not especially beautiful, as a city, neither is it laid out according to a plan; but there are no better people anywhere than here. People like those of Rahway do more for the community than any chamber of commerce or real estate board. One person here and there doing his part, builds up the city, eliminates the Black Market and adds to the church."

"Finally," let us thank God for the hope of salvation. The gospel of Christ is going out with glorious results.

"We are walking over a volcano. I don't know when or how, but I feel that something is going to break out. I have been reading a book in which the writer quoted a prominent man as advising Protestant ministers not to be permitted to preach the gospel in South America. To find out what the actual situation was the author took the trouble to inquire widely concerning the work of the missionaries there, and, almost without exception, he was told they were doing a wonderful work in South America. He was assured that a revival of religion was on its way."

"It is the glorious circumstances of men of faith doing the work God has laid upon their hearts. The hope of today, the hope of tomorrow, is in the faith of these men who do God's will among men."

Organization of Trinity Church Men

Friday night, at the Trinity Methodist Church, the Trinity Men's Organization was launched under auspicious circumstances to replace and enlarge upon the activities of the former Bible class group. Officers of the new unit will be named at a meeting and Christmas party to be held Friday night, December 8. A nominating committee was chosen, consisting of Randolph L. Gilman, chairman, John Hopkins, Earl B. Wishart, Robert Nichols and I. F. Bartlett.

A talk on organization plans was given by Edmund G. Bartlett. Other speeches on the scope of the new organization were given by the Rev. John M. Jaqueth, pastor, C. B. Mosher, Charles H. Harding, Robert Nichols, Earl Wishart, Sgt. Charles H. Harding, Jr., who is home from more than two years in the armed forces on the island of Trinidad, gave a talk on the attendance at services on the island and features of life there. A. V. Carls served as toastmaster.

The principal address, "The Challenge to the Men of God," was given by the Rev. Aubrey H. Gryn, of Caldwell. The smorgasbord supper was in charge of Charles H. Harding and Jesse F. Wright, with Mr. Harding, general chairman of the organization plans. After the meeting, various games were played.

National Anniversary Of W. C. T. U. Celebrated

Thursday night, the 70th anniversary of the National W. C. T. U., and also of the Rahway W. C. T. U., which antedated the national organization by several months, was celebrated by the local union with a dinner and program at the Trinity Methodist Church. Reminiscences revealing the thrills of the early battles for temperance and the logic of modern educational warfare were conspicuous features of the program.

Recitals of the early days went back to the time when the local union had its inception in the Second Presbyterian Church, when a praying band was organized for the promotion of temperance. They followed their church meetings with visits to local taverns, where prayers were also offered. When they made their second visit to one tavern, the enraged owner let loose two ugly watch dogs. No more than Daniel in the lion's den was disturbed by the king of beasts, were the praying women, upset by the act of the tavern owner. They continued to pray and the leader put a hand on each of the dog's heads and poured forth such an ardent appeal for Divine help that even the tavern keeper was impressed and subsequently went into another business, it was said.

A Prayer

Across the world the sound of shells has ceased . . .

And quiet shrouds the battle-rubbed West . . .

The enemy has laid away his arms, and Death and Pain are done in France.

But I go on . . . for I must fight and kill . . .

And work and sweat . . . and hide and run . . .

For here the enemy is very much alive . . .

His bullets still are made of lead . . .

Their angry whispers still foretell of sudden death

For me and others crouched in slime and mud . . .

The end for us is yet to come . . .

And so we pray to God to give us strength

To fight and win . . . without the waste of Time . . .

And with His Will . . . to see our homes again.

Thanksgiving Game with Regional High, Called at 11 O'clock

Westfield Team
Now in Group 2
Advantage Secured By a
Drop of 7 in School
Enrollment
The Westfield High school has just announced, a rather unusual move, in connection with the grouping of the district scholastic football teams for this season. It has abandoned Group 3 and will seek sectional honors in lower Group 2 this year. A drop in the male enrollment of the school, from 305 to 298—two under the dividing line—has enabled Westfield to get its lower classification. Because of this numerical situation, the Blue Devils, unbeaten in eight starts to date, find themselves holding a big advantage in the Group 2 race, mainly because of their 7-0 victory over Roselle Park, defending champion.

Robert L. Duncan, Westfield High athletic director, said the school desired to be placed in Group 2 since it had but a slim chance of winning Group 3 sectional honors. The school had been in Group 3 since the group classifications went into effect.

Duncan pointed out that Hillside High, Westfield's chief competitor for the Group 3 laurels, held a decided advantage over his school in the State Interscholastic Athletic Association's Collier ratings. Hillside, he said, plays six Group 4 opponents and gets extra credits every time it wins one of these games. On the other hand, if it loses one of these games, comparatively few points are taken off its rating.

Duncan also explained that, even if Westfield were to win its remaining two games with West Orange and Plainfield, and Hillside were to lose to Irvington and Weehawken, the Westfielders still would have little chance of winning the Group 3 title. Westfield plays only two Group 4 teams, Columbia and West Orange, and its remaining eight opponents have either Group 2 or 3 listings—and carry fewer points.

Because it has been able to conquer its Group 4 foes, Hillside has captured the Group 3 title the last two years and appears a sure winner again this season. If Hillside were to meet schools of its own size, its race with Westfield would be considerably tighter.

Walter E. Short, executive secretary of the N. J. S. J. A. A., threw new light on the Hillside situation today by indicating the Collier rating committee soon may insist that Hillside obtain a Group 4 classification if it continues to book a large number of schools in that bracket. If that should happen, Westfield probably would apply for a return to Group 3.

Westfield's last appearance in the championship circle was in 1941, when it tied with Rahway for Group 3 sectional honors.

Rahway Bewilders Plainfield Team

Upsets Dope on Game By Outplaying Them and Winning, 13 to 0

Playing stellar football, and using tactics that so bewildered the Plainfield team that it was petrified, Rahway's rocket team smothered the opposition Saturday, with a 13 to 0 score, completely upsetting the pregame dope and surprising even the team itself, with the ease in which the defeat was accomplished.

Without using signals, and snapping the ball back as soon as the whistle sounded, action on the part of the Rahway boys was so sudden and so unexpected that in the first period, Quarterback Lou DeLoretto got away with the ball for 22 yards and a touchdown, following a heave of 18 yards from DeLoretto.

The extra point was made when Duane Rutter place kicked safely. The second score was made similarly, after the team had marched slowly down the field and Wilson given the ball, without signals, who ran 32 yards to Plainfield's two-yard line, where Andy Ingram moved it forward one yard in a line plunge and Bob Madison carried it over in a second attack that punctured the front line.

The team played an offensive game throughout, using their heads, as well as feet and hands, to triumph over a team considered much superior in playing ability to the local eleven.

Presbyterians and Baptists Winners

In the Rahway Federation Girls' Basketball League, the girls of the Second Presbyterian Church had a slight edge on the team from the Ebenezer Church, the score being 18 to 16. In the game between the girls of the First Baptist Church and a team from the Methodist Churches, the Baptists were slightly the better and finished up with a 23 to 20 score. Though on the losing side, Rosemarie Brustle, of the Methodists, with ten points, was the highest scorer in the second game while Margaret Ransom, on the winning team of the first game, was high scorer with 11 points. The games were played Monday night.

Parkers Keep Up Winning Streak

A 40 to 6 score was the result of the drubbing Roselle Park gave Union Saturday at Roselle Park. Herm Hering and Dick Van Benschoten each made two touchdowns, and Frank Burns and Bob Kent the other two, for the Parkers, while Bill Holzlohner, getting away for a 90-yard dash, after intercepting a pass in the second period, made the sole touchdown for Union.

The winners used the air considerably, but made most of their gains by bucking the line and end runs. Union also contributed to the winning score, when several of its passes were intercepted for good gains by the Parkers. Union's score was made in the second period, while the Parkers scored 14 points in the first quarter, 6 in the second, 6 in the third and 14 in the fourth.

Football Schedule

The following is the schedule of the football games. Rahway will play this fall, the dates on which they will be played, whether they will be played at home or away from home and the scores of games already played:

November 4—Roselle, 7; Rahway, 25.
November 11—Union, 0; Rahway, 19.
November 18 — Plainfield, 0; Rahway 13.
November 23 — Regional, at home.

Rahway Team Surprises Fans

Last Saturday was a big day for the Rahway High School football team and also for its ardent crowd of rooters. In defeating Plainfield by the score of 13-0 the team registered a complete upset. The Rahway boys were greatly outweighed but they certainly were not out-played. They showed very smart football all the way. It was "heads up" from the start to the final whistle and it was their best game of the season. The loyal Rahway rooters that traveled to Plainfield to see the game, came away knowing they had seen a good team and a swell game.

It is quite apparent that the team has excellent coaching. Moreover, their coach sees to it that the boys are in good physical shape. That is one reason why they made such a good showing against Plainfield. Another reason is that Coach Hoagland gets the best of the material he has. This team may be different than some previous teams but the coach has utilized what he had to work with to the very best advantage. The boys certainly have come a long way since the first game of the season. This Thursday Rahway plays its traditional Thanksgiving Day game with Regional. This is a game "at home" and should bring out a very large attendance. There isn't any better way of working up the appetite for turkey (if you are lucky enough to have one.) This 1944 team has earned its pat on the back, so get up early and get down to see some good football.

"I'll see you at the game on Thursday."

THE RAHWAY BOOSTERS.

Camp Kilmer to Play All-Stars

Lieut. Bob Weeks, coach of the Camp Kilmer basketball team, which clashes with the Rahway All-Stars—Thursday night on the Y. M. C. A. court, states he is out to spoil the record of Rahway and be the first service team to walk the locals since the war began. "We have a strong squad of players and a long schedule of 25 games, including colleges and service teams," Lieut. Weeks said. "We opened our season Monday night against Fort Hamilton and are not taking on the Rahway quintet as any soft touch but I think we'll be able to give them a busy evening." The team will include Ed Denton, Howard Riley, Al Aquino, Verne Chavos and Wilbur Jackson.

Charley Mauren, coach of the Rahway All-Stars, was undecided as to his starting line-up. However he stated that he was sure that Frank Shupper, Lou Dubino, Jeff Innocent, Frank Charniga, Frank Yarnell, Jake Close, Frank Rumpelton, Pat Infantino, Al Koehler and Tom Abbott would see action during the evening.

John P. Decker Heads Gun Club

John P. Decker has been elected temporary president of the new Rahway Rod and Gun Club, that met at the home of Mr. Decker, Jaques and West Inman avenue, Friday night.

Other officers elected temporarily, were: E. J. Mitchell, secretary, and William T. Flanagan, treasurer. Seventeen members were enrolled. A deer hunt has been planned when the season opens next month.

Meetings are to be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. The next meeting will also be held at the residence of Mr. Decker. The other members are Anthony Buonocore, John Iorio, John Roettinger, Fred Gahner, Hugh Rone James Anderson, William J. Rowan, Sr., John Rowan, Frank Fritz, Howard Haberle, Joseph Miller and Joseph Staunton.

Regional Romps Over Harrison

Successful in Air, but Stays
On Ground for Most of Gains Saturday

Regional, that plays Rahway Thursday, in the Thanksgiving game, romped over Harrison Saturday at Springfield, to the tune of 35 to 0, and then taking out almost the entire first team in the second half, gave the entire squad an excellent workout. Harrison's only threat was in the second quarter, when Harrison intercepted a Regional pass, but it was on Regional's 23-yard line, and forced to kick the ball was blocked by Bob Williams.

Regional made its first touchdown by sharing a fumble of Harrison, then bucking the line for good gains, until the ball was to "Sonny" Hanzel to take over the line on a 20-yard run. The point was made by Hanzel, who made the entire five that were attempted.

Taking to the air in the second, Davis passed to Hanzel, and on Harrison's eight-yard line, Jim Collins was given the ball and carried it over on a reverse. Again, in the third period, Hanzel made an end run of 20 yards, then Davis carried the ball for eight and Paul Matera scored on a reverse.

The two scores made in the last quarter resulted from a 45-yard march down the field by Regional, when Davis, the ball around the end for the first score, followed by line plunges made by Blair Murphy and Dickie Danneman, the former taking the ball over for the last score.

Stiff Resistance Expected From Strong Regional Team

Amazing Progress Has Been Made by Local Eleven
Under Coach Hoagland's Direction; But
Victory for the Home Team Expected

The Thanksgiving game of football, with Rahway's arch rival, Regional High, is expected, by Coach Earl Hoagland, to be one of the closest in years. For six years Rahway has called the plays on Regional, with a trimming last year of 27 to 7, that has irked the Regional aggregation considerably.

Tired of getting beat every year, Coach Hoagland believes a desperate effort will be made this year, upon the part of the visitors, to turn the tide. He looks for a tough game. But no team has responded better or shown the results of a coach's training than the team this year. The progress made has been marvelous, and the showing the past few weeks, with a 13 to 0 score Saturday at Springfield, has been like a shot of adrenaline.

There can be no possibility that the boys are going to let down on the last game of the season, with such a splendid record as this "green team" has made. The fact that Regional trounced Harrison last Saturday to the tune of 35 to 0, with Harrison considered a fairly strong team, makes it appear that Regional is going to present an exceedingly strong front in Thursday's game. But a good game is what the boys want. They are ready for some strong opposition. They would not care to end up the season with a pushover. So that it appears that the fans will see a fine game, with both teams determined to win the game.

The lineup of the two teams for Thursday, subject to last-minute changes, will be:

Rahway	Regional
G. Ruddy	L.E. Smith
Howard	L.T. Williams

Roselle Upsets Academy Record

Roselle created an upset Saturday, when it shut out Newark Academy, with a 14 to 0 score. This victory has been labeled the "new Roselle fighting spirit," just recently developed. However, the first touchdown was the result of an intercepted pass, while a blocked kick aided in making the second. The air was used by both sides for gains, though the academy boys suffered the most in not completing theirs, attempting eight without a finish, two being intercepted. Roselle completed six out of 14 aeriels. Roselle's scores were made in the second and fourth periods, with Don Pitman and Bill Seal getting foremost honors.

Rate of 4 Per Cent on Loans, with 20 Years to Pay

What appears to be the basis for a good-sized boom in home and farm ownership after the war, is seen by many men in the benefits offered to war veterans under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, known as the GI Bill of Rights.

The liberal terms made available for loans and mortgages to men in uniform when they return from the battlefields around Germany and Japan, and the other benefits extended to them under the new statute will make property purchases feasible for hundreds of thousands who never before found it possible to settle down in a home of their own or to try "five acres and independence."

Brokers in the New York district already are making plans to act as intermediaries in this prospective buying spree, and to give the returning men and women the benefit of their advice and experience in selecting or repairing a house or planning and building one according to their whims and needs.

While portions of the measure naturally will need amplification and clarification before the machinery is set in motion to make the whole measure effective, the general intent is clear. The veterans will be able to buy homes or farms with little or no down payment and they will be able to buy and start their own businesses virtually "from scratch."

On mortgages and loans they will have the benefit of the lowest rates of interest ever made available to so large a group of individuals. The mortgage interest cannot exceed 4 per cent and amortization payments may be spread over twenty years. The Veterans Administration will guarantee as much as $2,000 of some loans.

The terms are so attractive in fact that elaborate precautions should be set up at the outset to prevent the boys, many of whom are inexperienced in business and financing, from going overboard hastily; entering some lines of

Sigmond W. Toth Wounded In Action

According to telegrams received Thursday by Mary Hryhorka Toth, of Linden, and her parents, Philip and Anna Hryhorka, of 1446 Main street, this city, her husband, Sigmond William Toth, fireman, first class, N.S.N.A., has been wounded in action.

The telegram from Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs gives no details of when or where Toth was wounded, and said: "The department appreciates your great anxiety, but the extent of wounds not now available and delay in receipt of details must necessarily be expected, but will be forwarded to you promptly if received." Toth has been in service 11 months and received his preliminary training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

B. & L. Declares Annual Dividend

The Industrial Building and Loan Association declared a dividend of 3 per cent per annum for the six months ending October 31, Tuesday night, November 14. Three loans were granted amounting to $5,200. The G. I. Bill for veterans' loans was discussed. Victor C. Stephens presided.

trade which does not suit them, just because the way has been made easy for them; or saddling themselves with some debt largely because eager hands thrust the money upon them.

Really men believe they will be able to help the veterans not only with purchase of farms, homes and homesteads, and with home plans properly under the guidance of an architect, but also with the purchase of a small business such as is embraced in the terms of the Servicemen's Act.

Lending agencies are studying the potentialities of the "no down payment" idea embodied in the statute for financing homes, says Leon Fleischmann, president of the Ninth Federal Savings and Loan Association, who estimates that perhaps a million veterans will be ready to build or buy soon after the war ends. This activity alone will provide a great market stimulus, he adds.

Editorial

There will be many vacant chairs around the table this Thanksgiving, and the traditional "turkey" dinners with all the "trimmings" will be missing, due to the war. However, we in America, have much for which to be thankful.

Let us give thanks that we are living in a country where we may go to the polls or Election Day and vote for whomever we desire, not for whom someone else forces us to vote; that we can go to sporting events and cheer loudly if we wish; that we can read whatever paper and listen to whatever program we choose.

If we were living in Germany today, we would be able to do none of these things. We would read what we were told to read, say what we were instructed to say. In other words, we would be doing not the things we thought were right, but the things the Nazis ordered us to do.

As we sit down at the table on Thanksgiving Day, let's give thanks that we live in such a great country as the United States. Let's also say a prayer for our men in the armed services wherever they are, and resolve to do all we can to speed victory and to have an enduring peace.

Inquiring Reporter

By Marjorie Osborne

Question—What do you think the score will be at the Thanksgiving Day game when Rahway High plays Regional High School?

Answer—Senior: "I think the score will be 12-0 in favor of Rahway High, because the boys are in good spirits and will try to make the last game, the best one of the year."

Lorraine Paulson, junior: "I'll say 12-6 in favor of Rahway High because I think our team is still the best. We have to have faith in our boys if we expect them to win."

Marion Bower, sophomore: "26-6 in Regional's favor is my opinion. Regional has a better team than Rahway this year, and has played better teams than our school."

Virginia Matthews, freshman: "I have seen Regional High School play this year, and my prediction is Regional 26, Rahway 0."

Harriet Lehman, senior: "We'll win with a score of 25-0 over Regional, because we have got the best team in the whole county. How about it?"

Eleanor Mauser, freshman: "I think the score will be 18-6 in favor of Rahway because our boys are out to win, and they still have plenty of fight left."

Clara Anselme, freshman: "I'll predict a score of 0-0. The teams are about of equal strength and will not let each other get ahead."

Anna Crawford, sophomore: "I'll say 12-0 in favor of Rahway. If we give our boys a strong backing, they'll win."

Camille Gargem, senior: "19-0 in favor of Rahway High is my choice. Our team is steadily improving, and since it is their last game they will be at their best."

Martha Derkack, senior: "14-13 in Rahway's favor. Our team is tops."

Rita Dippie, senior: "Both teams are on about equal status, so I'll say it will be a tie 12-12."

Adel Simola, senior: "Our team has had enough practice now to win the game with a score of 12-0."

Joyce Vanderhoven, senior: "I'll say we will win with a score of 14-0. This last game will prove to be the best I am sure."

Miss Lucille Carhart, English teacher: "I am sure we will win because we have a good team and I hope we will have good luck. Thanksgiving Day."

Prize Winning Junior Essay

Educating All-People

By Ted Hoffman

In the past war period, all the people in the world will have to be educated in the ways of the new age. The people of the totalitarian countries, as well as our own, will have to be taught racial equality.

The Nazi leaders are notorious for their abuse and torture of people of certain races and religions. Here at home, too, we must quell all uprisings of racial prejudice. This can be done by the whole-hearted cooperation of newspaper editors, magazine writers, and radio speakers.

Radio, alone, or with the assistance of its post war companion, television, will reach the majority of the people. New radio technicians must be trained to meet the demand for more stations, more programs, and more news interpretation.

The radio industry may contribute a large part to the winning of the peace. The motion picture industry, using mobile units, may tour the liberated countries and lead the way to an everlasting world peace. Our diplomats must understand the people of foreign countries and must help the people of Germany to understand the democratic way of government.

All people must be educated in the use and the maintenance of all the new devices which will supposedly come into use within a few years after the end of the war. Modernistic houses will become popular. Every home will be equipped with efficient gadgets of every type. Frequency-modulation sets equipped with television will be standard equipment, if we are to believe some of our more famous postwar prophets.

The poor nations of some of our South American neighbors will have to be educated in the use of machines. Brazil, for instance, has all the necessary equipment to become a nation of wealth and power, except complete and proper education. Most of the large South American cities and industries have been built with the financial and economic help of the United States or various European countries.

South America must be developed into the industrial giant which she has the resources to be. Our gallant friends, the Chinese, must not be forgotten. Although most of them are poor and ignorant, the gallant fight which they have fought for over ten years has earned something. American and European countries may send teachers to China to establish teachers' colleges, where the seed of education may be planted.

The Chinese will emerge as one of the greatest powers of the earth. We owe it to them to help them on their war as they have helped us.

These are the people who must be educated: our allies, our enemies, our neighbors, and, most important, ourselves.

French Class Publishes First Edition of Paper

Every year the French classes publish "Le Petit Parisien," a monthly newspaper written in French. For the last two years the proceeds from the sale of the paper have gone to the Coordinating Council of French Relief Society.

Last Tuesday, the French III-IV classes published the November issue with the festival of Saint Catherine as its theme.

The paper contains editorials, letters to the editor, gossip, a story composed in parts by students of the class, a horoscope, jokes, a cartoon and a wishing well.

Mrs. Mathilda Knecht, Josephine Dunphy, Nancy Rushmore, Noma Hampton, Mary Anderson, Joan Ryan, Robert Waechter, August Pirgan, Charles Oxman, and Michael Regent composed the November issue.

Mrs. Sibley Becomes New Study Supervisor

By Joyce Garber

Mrs. Katherine Sibley, the new study hall teacher at Rahway High School, is a graduate of Hartford High School in Hartford, Conn., and of the New Britain State Teachers' College in Connecticut.

Before coming to Rahway High School, Mrs. Sibley taught in grammar schools in Connecticut. She was also the Director of Nursery Schools in Hartford.

When asked how she liked Rahway High School, Mrs. Sibley said, "I think the boys and girls in Rahway are very lucky to have such a beautiful building, pleasant environment, and excellent teachers. I feel I'm going to enjoy this year at Rahway High School very much."

Aroundabout

By Jordan Vogel

Thanksgiving Day is here again. When we gather around our turkey (?) with all its trimmings, our mouths watering and our stomachs empty, don't you think that we should stop a minute and really give thanks for all our blessings?

Fresh One—"I heard that you got thrown out of school for calling dear a fish."

Fresh Two—"I didn't call him a fish, I just said, 'That's our dean,' real fast."

Now raise your hands for the food you want to bring! Did you say five pounds of potatoes? When shall we bring in the butter? Will the milk spoil if I bring it tomorrow? These are typical of only a few of the questions asked by the students of the high school last Monday. This is all in conjunction with the annual making of Thanksgiving Day baskets. This is a project of which we in Rahway High School are justly proud—helping those who are less fortunate to enjoy the holiday also.

When the woman motorist was called upon to stop, she asked indignantly, "What do you want with me?"

"You were traveling at forty miles an hour," answered the police officer.

"Forty miles an hour?" Why I haven't been out an hour," said the woman.

"Go ahead," said the officer, in despair.

Now we have something to cheer about! The football team has made a wonderful comeback by winning three games in a row. It just took a little time for most of our inexperienced players to get a start—they have that start now.

Manager: "Can I help you?" Guest: "Hello, do you have A. C. or D. C. current here?" Manager: "One moment, sir." (After a moment or two, the manager returned to the phone.) Manager: "Hello, sir." Guest: "Yes."

Manager: "I am sorry, sir, but we don't have a Mr. Current registered here at all, neither A. C. or D. C."

Did you buy your War Stamp for the month of November? If you didn't, don't forget to buy it next Tuesday which is the last stamp-purchasing day of the month. If we are to regain the Minute Man flag, we must have 90 per cent of the students buy at least one ten cent stamp. Last month we lost the privilege of flying the flag by less than 3 per cent. Are you going to be the one who will hinder us from regaining it?

Watch for an item which will be of interest to almost every high school student in the next edition of the Aroundabout.

Dr. A. H. Kamm Addresses Club

Fellowship Club Told that Russian Communism Not What It Is Here

That German teachers introduced the philosophy of Marx, the philosopher, into Russia, that has affected their government, was information that was presented to the members of the Fellowship Club by Dr. A. H. Kamm, as guest speaker, at their dinner gathering Thursday night.

Dick Erickson led the mass singing, with President John Cramer at the keys. Alex Hamilton furnished a solo. William Harrison was introduced as a new member, and Edward Zady and Bailey Gee as visitors. The Rev. Edwin A. Goldworthy, who will be the leader in the discussions after January 1, was present, and acknowledged the honor the club had bestowed on him. Thomas Southwick introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Kamm, who gave a brief history of Russia, and then spoke to the subject, "How far can we trust Russia?"

In speaking of the history of Russia, Dr. Kamm said that Russia adopted the Christian religion about 600 A. D., and the country was invaded by the Tartars under Genghis Khan in 1240, but were stopped by the Russians who absorbed them. They remained for 300 years and were then driven out. The capital of Russia was first located at Kiev, then at Moscow in the fifteenth century. Peter the Great went to Holland in the seventeenth century to learn ship-building. He attempted to westernize Russia and built the city of Stalingrad.

He established himself as a czar. Those who agreed with him in his government, he favored, giving to them land, but the rest of the people had to work the land, and thus serfdom was born. This lasted until 1862 when Alexander I freed them. Russia warred against Napoleon in 1812, after which reforms were introduced. The better class of the Russians went to France for education. The Czar of all the Russias was not strong intellectually, said the speaker. He had no vision.

"With the introduction of the teachings of Marx, an unrest was created, ending finally in the overthrow of the czaristic regime," Dr. Kamm stated. "Today, that which favors the rapid adoption of democracy is the eagerness of the Russians to learn. They have confidence in their leaders, and are satisfied that Marshal Stalin is desirous only of their best welfare. Less than 15 per cent of the Russian people are illiterate. Russia has the grammar school, high school and university in its school system, which is free, up until the age of 24."

"In 1896 Russia adopted the constitutional form of government that is similar to that of the United States. Before the last revolution in Russia, religion was identified with the government. The church in Russia was very rich, the priests owning vast tracts of land. The people distrusted the priests, because of their great wealth, and the difference in their stations in life. But after the revolution they demanded that the church and State be separated."

"The Russian people are governed largely by proverbs, most of which are very old. The establishment of the Soviet Union is a promise to the world, not a menace. Russia needs great amounts of raw materials, and this must come largely from the United States, for which nation the Russians generally have the highest admiration."

Following the address of Dr. Kamm, a general discussion ensued. Delmer Everett wanted to know about the efforts of Russia to spread Communism in the United States. Dr. Kamm disclaimed for Russia any responsibility in this. The speaker did say that the followers of Trotsky believed in a world revolution, and the followers of Lenin in the Third Internationale, representatives of which were sent to this country to spread its doctrine.

Concerning Russia's disposition of the countries it has overcome during the present war, Edward S. Ayers wanted to know if the speaker thought Russia would want to retain all the territory conquered. Hedging on this question somewhat, Dr. Kamm said that the governments of Poland and Finland were dictatorial and could not be trusted, and therefore, would have to be dealt with accordingly.

Answering a question of Edward C. Sibley, as to why Communism is permitted to exist in Russia, the speaker said that the Communism of Russia was not like the Communism we know of here. There it is in accord with the government. "In 20 years after this war, when Russia is well supplied with machinery as the result of German mechanics, is there danger of Germany and Russia combining to become the dominant world empires?" was asked by Joe Skarda. Again Dr. Kamm was careful not to give a definite answer, but felt that the spirit of self-contentment would be such that there would be no danger of Russia seeking any such imperial power.

Rev. Goldworthy made inquiry of the future religious condition in Russia, and was told that in the past year the Russian government has permitted religion to be taught publicly, which had not been permitted before. Even though restricted in religious worship, Dr. Kamm said the people accepted implicitly such orders, as being both wise and good.

Speaking with reference to the forthcoming peace conference, Thomas Wilson wanted to know if Russia would not desire to control the actions of the conference? Dr. Kamm admitted that Russia was suspicious of Great Britain, but not of the United States. "Why did Russia trust Germany sufficiently to make a treaty with her?" inquired Alexander Hamilton. The answer to this was that the treaty with Germany was only a non-aggression pact, such as any nation would want to make.

In answering a question of Mr. Harrison, as to "how can other nations trust Russia, when she demands more and more territory of the different nations?" the speaker, indirectly, said those countries, such as the Baltic states and Poland, were peasant countries and had to be considered as such in determining their boundaries. Wilfred L. Baldwin, of Westfield, declared "the American people are not well read. Not many know nor have they read the works of Machiavelli. His works are the basis of all European diplomacy." Dr. Kamm closed the discussion by saying: "In Europe the people are influenced by tradition, but not in the United States. We have much space here, which is not true of most of the European countries. There nations have been developed by wars, here by peaceful pursuit.

We need to try to help Europe live normally. There is no need for secret diplomacy, for this, in the past, has been accompanied by murders and intrigues."

IT WILL TAKE MOUNTAINS OF EQUIPMENT TO LICK THE JAPS . . .

YOU saw your War Bonds in action in France. You saw how American leadership and courage, backed by a never-ending stream of equipment, won France in record time.

But we've still got a fight on our hands! We've still got to put the finishing touches on the Nazis and go all-out on the tough, brutal enemy in the Pacific. More and more of every kind of equipment is needed. We need B-29 bombers. We need a flood of them. And every B-29 bomber costs $600,000 in War Bonds. We need millions of gallons of high octane gasoline. We need ambulance planes that cost $125,000 each. We need amphibious tanks, airplane carriers and a never-ending stream of special costly equipment to win the final victory.

It costs billions of dollars a month to fight Japan

Our job at home is clear and unmistakable. Just so long as an American faces a Japanese gun, we must keep on buying War Bonds. Each and every one of us must invest in at least one extra $100 bond. We're out to finish the guy who started the fight. Let's go! Sign up for extra bonds on the payroll plan. Welcome the Victory Volunteer when he, or she calls at your home. Go to your bank, or wherever you buy War Bonds—and back the Sixth for final Victory!

And here are 6 more reasons for $100 WAR BOND in the 6th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 at maturity.
3. War Bonds are as convenient as cash—and increase in value to boot!
4. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, a nest-egg to fall back on, come what may.
5. War Bonds help keep down the cost of living.
6. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.

If you think Japan is a pushover—you're fooling yourself, mister. Millions of fanatical Japanese are prepared to die for their country. Every American soldier, marine and sailor in the Pacific knows that he has a tough fight on his hands. You can't tell them their war is over! Even as you read these words, American men are dying in the fight against Japan.

Look into your heart and ask yourself honestly: "Have I stopped fighting? Have I stopped buying War Bonds because I think the war is about over?" You're not a quitter; your answer is "No!"

It costs billions of dollars a month to fight Japan

The fight in the Pacific calls for a highly specialized type of equipment. B-29 bombers that cost $600,000 in war bonds; M-4 tanks with bulldozer blades that cost $67,417; "alligators" that cost $30,000; millions of gallons of gas. We need more and costlier equipment than any war has ever called for. And that's the reason for the 6th War Loan Drive. Just as long as a single Japanese aims a gun at our men—we must continue to buy War Bonds.

Once again you are asked to buy at least one extra $100 War Bond. Buy more if you possibly can. Not only is it for the final Victory—it's for your future. Sign up for extra War Bonds on the Payroll Plan. Welcome the Victory Volunteer when he or she calls at your home. Remember—the job in the Pacific is still terrific. We're out to get Japan in the 6th War Loan Drive!

YOUR COUNTRY IS STILL AT WAR—ARE YOU?

Rahway Lodge, Knights of Pythias. The degree work was performed by Hygira Temple, Newark. Grand Chancellor Commander Frank E. Burd, of Bound Brook, head of the State organization; Grand Keeper of Records and Seal William Quick, of Trenton; and Past District Deputy Herman Snyder, of Newark, were prominent guests. There were also delegations from Linden, Newark, Perth Amboy, Jersey City, Bayonne and elsewhere. The second degree will be administered December 7.

Preliminary plans were made for organization of a junior group known as Princes of Syracuse, by Grand Regent Snyder. The lodge assumed a quota of 2,000 in war bonds for the Sixth War Loan drive and over 50 per cent was subscribed at once. The committee in charge includes Al Lewis and Irving Brown. Chancellor Commander Joseph Kagan presided, with Lester Oxman, keeper of records and seal. Harold Miller was in charge of refreshments and social features.

Crane To Attend Medical College

The first of 100 students to be selected from the more than 700 applying for entrance at the Essex College of Medicine and Surgery, at Newark, is Josiah W. Crane. A graduate of Georgetown University, with B. S. and M. A. degrees, Crane filed his application for the medical course to aid him in his future work in the field of pathology. He is a former resident of Trenton, where his family has been located for many years. Mr. Crane, who is affiliated with the Rahway Reformatory, decided upon this course after conferring with a number of professional leaders in this field. "It was their opinion," he declared, "that the background of medicine would be a prime asset to the furtherance of more constructive methods in penology, and a better health program in institutions."

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Rahway College
Sears, Arkansas

SEIZURE

Wars result from thirst for power. Men try to gain sway over other men. Progressively they seek to widen their dominion as strength permits. They take resources by violence so they can hold what authority they have obtained without force. The rapid rise of Adolf and Benito from obscure political bosses to dictatorship illustrates how totalitarianism grows.

Tyrants rise to power by dominating other men. At first the process is peaceful. Always there is a preliminary period of building up influence without the use of strong-arm tactics. Those are the days when a man's foresight, violence can be forestalled. World peace, when it comes, could be preserved by keeping too much power in the hands of too few men; simple but hard to do.

We Build Wrong

Thirst for power is not confined to the eastern hemisphere; people in America have it. All of us know such men personally. The United States' tower-of-centralized government built in late years is following a well known but dangerous pattern. I do not charge that the structure was begun with the aim to create a dictatorship but we are erecting what dictators use for climbing to absolute monarchy.

Not to care who else gets hurt, so long as "Big I" gets more and more power, is the hall-mark of the House of Tyranny. Somebody wants to boss the public schools and hatches a plan to put all teachers on one pay-roll for all or a part of their incomes, thus to grab their allegiance. It would ruin the schools. Parents would have no voice in their children's education... one-man rule.

Big Medicine Man

Somebody else covets a private domain of doctors and hospitals, and promptly paints a pretty picture of so-called socialized medicine. It would restrict the surgeon's knife to the precision of a drill-press. Picture a medical association affiliated with the international union of barbers and bar-tenders: daily pay-scale, 40-hour week, time-and-a-half on Sundays and Debbies' birthday.

Doctors are men and those with ambition would surely quit the profession. Theorists, paperwork doctors and nurses with hookworm would remain for the short hours and sure pay. The medical profession would be a joke; a grim zeal for service to humanity, there could be no clinics like Mayo and Johns Hopkins, of which we will need so many, and soon.

A Lethal Atmosphere

Imagine a ruptured appendix in your house with your trusted surgeon deer hunting, off duty until tomorrow. Imagine a union nurse walking out on a pneumonia crisis while you wait for Miss No. 72 of the graveyard shift to saunter in and take over. Think of 200,000 new doctors, likely required by the shortened hours, educated at $1,500 a year from taxes, 300 million dollars the first year.

Politicians maybe can console themselves that everybody has to die sooner or later anyhow. Socialized medicine, like military aggression, is a tragic quest for dominion. Only Congress has power to protect American institutions from foreign influence. It is my prayer that America may never rankle from resentment enough to foment a Black Shirt rally or a Beer Hall putsch. Wars result from thirst for power.

Rahway Women in Business

Minnie Bernhard
Gries Brothers
By L. Rollinson

Truly, much tribute must be paid to women who have made a success of themselves in business. The obstacles a woman has to meet and overcome start even before she actually goes into business, as a woman is brought up in the feminine world, and taught to think of domesticity as her forte and the making of a home the job she will be called upon to fulfill. As a result, she must overcome a psychological barrier before she starts out. She then encounters the same problems a man has to face, with the difference that she has been trained to it, whereas he has adapted himself to it. There are not too many women who have been able to do it successfully. However, one woman who has notably achieved this is Miss Minnie Bernhard, owner of Gries Brothers department store, who has long been in business.

She was born in New York City, it wasn't long after that her family moved to Brooklyn. She lived in the Stuyvesant Heights district. When she came to Rahway to visit her sister, Mrs. Ida B.

P. B. A. Honors Two Retiring Policemen

The Rahway Branch, Patrolmen's Benevolent Association specially honored two retired members of the Rahway police force:

Cornelius J. Crowley, who served 21 years, and George W. Stewart, who served 14 years on the force, and other years in the fire department, on Thursday. They were presented silver life membership cards in ceremonies and a social gathering, held at Joseph Nozante's, 169 West Main street. The presentation was made in behalf of the association by State Vice President Henry J. Miller, who presided after President Percy Paulsen went on duty. Tribute was paid to the efficient service rendered by both men before retirement, Crowley on years of service, and Stewart by disability.

Mrs. Garretson Seeks Divorce

In Chancery Court in Elizabeth, November 7, Mrs. Lillian Garretson, of 534 West Grand avenue,

Rahway, alleged that her husband punched her on two occasions. This, however, did not cause her to leave him in April, 1944, which followed, after he had thrown cold water on her while she was asleep. Clayton D. Garretson, of 1070 Broad street, a war worker, is not contesting her suit for divorce.

The average municipal tax rate in New Jersey last year was $4.67 per $100 of valuation, says the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

American boys are still giving their lives for you... you can help to save many of them

6 more reasons for buying at least an extra $100 War Bond in the 6th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world.
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 at maturity.
3. War Bonds are as convenient as cash—and increase in value to boot!
4. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, a nest egg to fall back on, come what may.
5. War Bonds help keep down the cost of living.
6. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.

THE job is a long way from over yet. The toughest part for our fighting men may be just beginning. Surely the easiest part of the whole war effort is lending money. Have you done your share? The more and better equipment they have, the fewer lives will be lost.

War in the Pacific will probably be the costliest in history. Distances are vast; supplies and equipment must travel thousands of miles, in huge quantities, to many places. One battleship costs 108 million dollars. One B-29 to bomb Tokyo costs $600,000. Even one torpedo to sink a Jap ship costs $12,000.

Your dollars are needed now more than ever. Japan is fighting on fanatically for only one reason—they think our home-front is soft and will quit. They know they can't win, but they expect us to lose. Let's give them America's answer—in the 6th War Loan!

Buy the biggest War Bonds you can, NOW! It is a privilege you are lucky to have... and it will save lives.

BONDS TO "WARD OFF DISASTER"

Those red-blooded, fighting Americans, who want America to succeed in everything it undertakes, and are now anxious—yes, really and truly anxious—that the Sixth War Loan Drive shall go over gloriously, should read the article "Spend, Sucker, Spend," by Ralph De Castro, originally printed in the Waterville (N. Y.) Times and reprinted in many other papers and magazines. It is estimated to have already had 10,000,000 readers, and recognized as perhaps the most outstanding article ever written on the importance of saving money.

It recalls the World War, with silk stockings for the women and tailored suits for the men; the prosperity of 1923 to 1929, followed by the crash, bank failures, unemployment, bread lines. The article continues:

"Since then we have said: 'It can't happen again.' This time the chances are we won't bounce back again? Hold on. Must we come down with another crash? Must we ignore the dozens of lessons taught us by history? Must we head straight along the road-to-ruin we took the last time?"

"It's what's beginning to happen, right here—now—in our country. People are making more money than they ever did before and spending it faster than they ever did before.

"Win, lose or draw, the war will end some day. Then what? Those same war-factory wheels will again slow down and stop. Men will walk out of factories and hear the gates closed behind them—many of them to stay closed.

"Conditions will be even worse than they were before—unless we use our commonsense now. Don't fool yourself. The time's going to come when you'll need those dollars you're throwing around now. When your pockets are empty, it won't be because you'll be taking money out of them, but because no money will be going into them.

"So look. When you want to spend money or buy something new, just imagine you are spending your next-to-the-last dollar. Don't ask how happy you'd be with what you get for your money, but whether you'd be miserable without it. That's the only test. Otherwise you're just kidding yourself.

"What? Oh, you're making more money? Then save more—don't spend more. Because the money we all save now will play a tremendous part in the afterwar economy of our country. The money we save now will be a cushion of buying power—those sorely needed dollars to 'start things up again,' in our civilized economy—to keep us from national bankruptcy until the wheels start moving again. The dollars you waste now, may be the dollars you'll need then—yes, perhaps even for such matter-of-fact things as bread and milk and meat.

"Why do you suppose your government urges you to save? It's perfectly simple—to ward off disaster. To make sure that the crash that 'couldn't happen here' doesn't happen here.

"Remember we're at war. Dollars are needed just now, as much as men—to back up those men. Money wasted on foolish luxuries won't do this. Once spent, it is gone, and neither you nor the boys fighting for you are any better off for the spending.

"But the dollars you save in War Bonds will help Uncle Sam buy the guns, the tanks, the ships and the planes we must have to survive and win. And those savings will guarantee your future—the financial future of you, your family, and the boys who are fighting for us all."

The above paragraphs are but excerpts from this gripping article, and should lead to but one thing—the investment of every cent that can possibly be spared, in Government bonds, that will help to win the war, to prevent a breadline after the war, and to give you and your family fullest economic security when these "boom war days" are over.

NEVER ANOTHER WAR

There is one thing that stands out clearly before the American people in connection with this war and its peace, which overshadows everything else, and that is, that while everybody thought World War I was a war to end all wars, they now know that the peace of World War I actually set the stage for World War II. And while there appears to be every indication that the present war is being conducted in a manner that will inevitably bring on another war, that eventuality is the one thing that, at all costs, they feel must be avoided.

If the voice of the people had been heard in the U. S. Senate at the close of the first World War, the present war could have been avoided, but the people were not given consideration, just as at the Dumbarton Conference, but four men, representing four nations, were alone given consideration.

For five weeks only three men, representing but three nations, were closeted together to lay the groundwork for permanent peace, and settle questions, many of which should have been determined before the war began, but finding that the three men could not get anywhere in their bickerings and wranglings, it was decided that a representative from China should be called in, to see what he thought about the war and peace afterwards. It only took four days for the three men of the previous conference to convince the representative from China that there was nothing for him to do but accept whatever the other three nations had decided upon.

And what was accomplished at this conference? If anything at all, no one but those present know anything about it. More and more is it becoming clearer that Russia is going to direct, in its own way, the peace of the world. The past week brought this out in a most revealing manner, when France was admitted to the company of the supposedly closed international combine to govern the world, after a visit of Prime Minister Churchill to Paris to see General DeGaulle. No, the United States was not represented; neither was China, and Russia had no representative there, but Marshal Stalin had imparted this bit of information through a Russian newspaper that speaks for the Government, and that was all that was necessary. No Dumbarton conference was needed to take action, for the United States or for China's consent, Stalin had spoken, which was law.

In view of these incidents, the purpose of the Dumbarton Oaks conference seems to have been merely to fool the people again into thinking steps were being taken and progress being made to perfect peace decrees that would be issued the moment Germany and Japan surrendered or were overwhelmed.

Nothing could have been accomplished at the Dumbarton conference that could not have been reached at a conference of all the Allied Nations, which is the thing that should have been arranged. Since the Senate must approve the decisions of international conferences, the same as all government must approve the action of their international representatives, and approve all treaties, and not Secretary Hull, the Allies should now be in conference formulating terms of peace, so that they may be submitted to the various Allied governments, and especially to Marshal Stalin, to see what is wanted and what may be enforced when peace does come.

Just at present there is every indication that the United States, Great Britain, China, and now France, are merely marking time until the war is over, when they can learn the terms of peace that will be outlined by Marshal Stalin.

Furthermore, the rumblings in Poland, Greece, Yugoslavia, Roumania, Bulgaria and the Netherlands, as well as in Italy, seem to indicate that the declaration of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt, at the beginning of this war, in the Atlantic Charter, of an equality of all nations, and not of any group, will be insisted upon when the real conference of nations is called to go into the subject of a lasting peace.

Not a Gestapo group, but a committee of men to help boys have fun, and to find them something more to do than building a shack in the branches of some dead deserted tree, or a cave hideout in the ground, covered with old sheet metal taken from the city dump.

The boys not found in the Boy Scouts or in Sunday schools, are the ones that sometimes need attention. It is probable that the boys who have formed the "youth cauteen" organization at East Orange are from this class.

About all that is needed is a basement room somewhere, that can be heated in the winter, and a genial "soul" willing to gather the boys in and suggest to them what the boys could do in the way of organizing a club, a junior city government, or some self-improvement order that has a real program, to occupy the thought and the idle time of those boys and actually give them something to do in which they are really interested.

Our boys are the biggest asset in the community. Our doctors, educators, lawyers, ministers, mayors, councilmen, policemen, firemen and business men of tomorrow will be the boys of today. No investment of time, effort or money is going to be lost by anyone, if zealously used in directing the lives of our youth into channels of industry, purposeful endeavor, wholesome recreation and faith in their fellowmen.

"That sacred spot," is a term that can be applied to Central avenue, near the Gas house, where, on directly opposite sides of the street, stands St. Mary's R. C. Church and Ebenezer A. M. E. Church. Members of these churches not only find it profitable to attend the services, but a few Sunday's ago, a black cat belonging to a Methodist family entered and was put out of St. Mary's church; and the following Sunday, a gray cat belonging to a Catholic family entered and was put out of the Bethel church. This is another proof of the Darwinian theory and shows that even the lower animals recognize the day is not far distant when all Christian churches will have broader views, and sectarianism will not be so rigid.

There was a lively discussion of local school problems at the meeting of the Athenian Club held on Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Robert E. Morse, of 156 Hamilton street. In a paper presented by Miss Ada Woodruff, on "Teachers' Salaries," it was pointed out that the salaries paid to teachers in this city are lower than in many other places, while Linden, the adjoining township, is far ahead. What is being done in neighboring cities and towns to raise the teachers' salaries was also outlined. This matter created a warm discussion.

What New Deal Did For a Boy

Distorted Facts Warped His Mind as it Has Hundreds of Others

During the heat of the election campaign the New York World-Telegram received a letter from a 15-year-old Brooklyn boy which read in part as follows:

"Your repeated attacks on our President, your publishing of distorted facts is sickening me. Yours is a newspaper owned by rich men who no doubt have many huge stocks. You have no feeling for the common workingman. That's why you are for Governor Dewey. He is only interested in giving men like you more money and more power and taking it away from said workingmen. You know that President Roosevelt has helped in every way the common man, that's why you don't want him. Governor Dewey's charges of a depression are a bunch of malicious falsehoods.

"You deplore the death of Wendell Louis Willkie when you know it was you and your dirty Republicans who killed him. . . . You know what I say is true, yet you still go on attacking the PAC which is the pioneer of a new thought sweeping the country. You know all too well that a large vote will defeat Dewey, and the PAC is getting out a large vote, so 'attack the PAC with every barrel' has become your motto.

The World-Telegram printed the boy's letter in full and made editorial comment, part of which I quote: "As a sadly significant sign of what the New Deal and some of its Communist and other class-conscious supporters have been doing to the minds of American youth, we call attention to a letter, printed on the next page, from a 15-year-old Brooklyn boy, whose identity and age we have verified.

"This 15-year-old boy was only three years old when President Roosevelt and the New Deal came into power. It will be another six years before this boy can even vote. Yet his letter shows him to have been already filled to the brim with bitterness, the class-hatred, the warped-minded intolerance which the New Deal and its sly exploiters have encouraged and intensified.

For the benefit of all teen-age boys and girls, yes, and for many adults as well, I would like to pass on some observations and comment which appeared in "Sphere," a weekly pictorial newspaper published in London, England.

The United States, the "Sphere" finds, contains 6 per cent of the world's area and 7 per cent of its population. It normally consumes 48 per cent of the world's coffee, 53 per cent of its tin, 56 per cent of its rubber, 21 per cent of its sugar, 72 per cent of its silk, 35 per cent of its wool, 42 per cent of its copper, 69 per cent of its crude petroleum; it operates 60 per cent of the world's telegraph and telephone facilities, owns 80 per cent of the world's motor cars, operates 33 per cent of the world's railroads. It produces 70 per cent of the oil, 60 per cent of the wheat and cotton, 50 per cent of the copper and pig iron and 40 per cent of the lead and coal output of the entire terrestrial globe.

The United States possesses, according to this English paper, almost 11 billion dollars in gold or nearly half of the world's supply of monetary metal. It has two-thirds of civilization's banking resources. The purchasing power of its population is greater than that of the 500,000,000 people in Europe and very much greater than that of more than 1,000,000,000 Asiatics. After presenting this data, the "Sphere" arrives at the following conclusion:

"Responsible leadership which cannot translate such a bulging economy into assured prosperity is destitute of capacity. But pompous statesmen, looking over the estate, solemnly declare that the methods by which it was created are all wrong, ought to be abandoned, must be discarded, and that the time has come to substitute political management for individual initiative and supervision."

Testimonial Dinner For Jos. Feinberg

A testimonial dinner was given by prominent members of the Rahway Hebrew Congregation Wednesday night, at Ann Gordon's, Newark, for Joseph M. Feinberg, of 469 Sycamore street, who recently retired as president of the congregation, after four years of service as its head. In behalf of the gathering, Herman Distler, attorney, of Newark, who served as toastmaster, presented a war bond to Mr. Feinberg, while various officers and members paid tribute to his administrative ability, leadership and good fellowship. His administration made new records in achievement by the congregation.

Lester Oxman, the new presdent, and Mr. Feinberg made the principal speeches. Seated with them and the toastmaster at the table of honor were: Rabbi Abraham Schwartz, Samuel Greenberg, father-in-law of Mr. Feinberg; Max Golub, financial secretary; Joseph Rotter, head of the Hebrew school board; Mort Kamins, recording secretary; Harry Mandel, vice president; and Samuel Robinson, treasurer, who had worked with Feinberg during his successful administration. Many others participated.

The total amount spent during the year 1942-43 for highway purposes in New Jersey was over 20 million dollars, says the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association. Of this, nearly 10 millions were distributed to the counties and towns-
