

Comm. McGee Pleads For Carefulness In Driving: Registrations Down 16%

Every day since the beginning of the war, 175 motor vehicles, on the average, have disappeared from the New Jersey highway according to Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. McGee. McGee said that in 1941 the Department of Motor Vehicles had 1,188,686 vehicles of all types, the 1944 year of registration. At the close of 1944 total registrations dropped to 997,114, a 16.5 per cent decrease.

The report on Motor Vehicle Registrations, Commissioner McGee said that in 1941 there were 1,188,686 registrations. In 1944 there were 997,114 registrations. This shows a drop of 191,572 registrations, or 16.5 per cent.

With the war on, McGee said, the number of vehicles has decreased. McGee said that in 1941 there were 1,188,686 registrations. In 1944 there were 997,114 registrations. This shows a drop of 191,572 registrations, or 16.5 per cent.

Kiwians See Pictures of Old Williamsburg

Motion pictures of Old Williamsburg, a feature at the Kiwanis Club meeting last Wednesday. All the boys liked the clips as they watched "Mammy" roasting her ribs, and so real was the cooking of the piece of bacon and the freshness of the eggs, one could almost feel the pungent odor of the frying bacon. While the scenes were being shown, the guests were treated to a delicious lunch of cold meats and salads. The Kiwanis Club is a social organization for men, and the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Smith, 100 West Tuman.

SAFE AND SANE FOURTH OF JULY

Throughout the land safety directors, police and humane organizations, not omitting leading Army and Navy commanders, are all proclaiming a safe and sane Fourth of July. They are urging parents not to allow children to display fireworks and autoists to drive slowly and with care. To saloon and tavern keepers they put an eagle watch on to see that customers do not celebrate in a manner they are unable to take care of themselves.

Our home-owning commanders, having thousands of troops under their direction and seamen in their care, have but one thought in view in the heat of battle, be careful and see that no soldier or sailor is carelessly placed in danger. All is the question of safety of those under their care and direction.

At the time when the Declaration of Independence and the bells of Philadelphia sang out the cry of freedom, it is said that every one of Washington's soldiers would have fired a volley from their muskets, but powder was too scarce and precious, and was needed for their own protection. That was perhaps a good thing, it made the first Fourth of July a safe and sane one.

Today every grain of powder is needed far more in the war against Japan than the display of fireworks to celebrate a day that can be much better and more patriotically honored by staying close to home or going to some resort for a quiet holiday, is far more of a celebration than having a child injured by an exploding fire-cracker or a bursting Roman candle.

For children who cannot get away from Rahway over the 4th, the City Playgrounds make as much as an ideal place to celebrate the day. Youngsters can always find a way to celebrate among themselves, and very often get far more fun, making their own program.

In these days and times, when one reads of bombardments, bombing and the cattle of machine fire, carrying a message of death and injury, the home-quiet celebration of a safe and sane Fourth of July, is to be encouraged and insisted upon.

This message The Record gives to its citizens urging them every effort to protect and safeguard their children on an American's greatest and patriotic day, so spare the powder and save the children.

CITY PLAYGROUNDS OPEN

Now that the schools are closed for the summer the question arises—where to be done with these children whose parents who are not in a position to give them a vacation at some resort or send them to a summer camp.

In a measure it is unfortunate that all youngsters cannot get away from home during the hot weather. A change of scene, the contacting of other children from various parts of the country, where customs are different and children have different ideas and views. Variety is what every man, woman and child needs to broaden their views and teach tolerance.

Certainly Rahway has not deserted these youngsters. Her citizens have gone to great lengths to help these children as best they can, and it is hoped that parents realize this and show their appreciation by aiding the City Playgrounds and helping those in charge.

The Board of Recreation Commissioners, consisting of Chairman Leo Blitzer, Kenneth Farmer, Ralph L. Smith and Dennis Byrne are said to be quite a sporty set of men and do their job in a sportsmanlike manner. In that case, so much the better for all concerned—especially the youngsters. They like the men who can go out and take part in their games, and who know and observe the rules—not boys who hit below the belt and run.

Certainly the Board of Commissioners could not have placed the grounds program in better hands than Earl Hoagland, who is both an athlete and a sportsman. Mr. Hoagland is no stranger to any boy or girl making the Playgrounds their recreation center. He knows his sports, how to coach boys and girls in the rudiments of the games and how to extract the very best there is in their athletic system.

The summer program is certainly a full one, with plenty of interest and covering practically every sport children know and enjoy. The Hoagland director came from a part of the country known for its homelike surroundings, its healthy farmers, fine athletes and great writers. He has his program all cut out. He has his assistants, loyal and true, and he has his little folk with him, tools and nail, so those who do not get that vacation away from home, they can depend upon their friend and leader—Earl Hoagland to make the summer as pleasant and happy as possible.

HOME-PLACE ADORNMENT

It is a fine thing for people to spend some time on improving their home places. When they beautify their home grounds, they make an improvement in their neighborhood. Very likely some of their neighbors may be inspired to make similar changes, and thus the spirit of improvement spreads.

A place that is adorned and beautified seems like a real home, and people return to it from their work and errands with enthusiasm and happiness. Some neighborhoods would be improved by more trees. One of the greatest charms possessed by many communities is found in the abundant trees which were set out years ago, and which now furnish a setting of beauty. They give cool shade on hot days, and the birds nest in their branches and sing songs of gratitude.

Rahway 50 Years Ago

As an evidence of prosperity under the new tariff law the New York World of last week gives the names of 94 of some of the leading industries of the country that have increased the wages of 250,000 workmen—all the way from 10 to 33 1/3 per cent within the past 30 days. Besides this, it speaks of over 100 smaller industries that have done likewise.

Wheelmen from all parts of the United States will take part in the great bicycle parade at Asbury Park on Thursday. If you are one of those attending the Methodist Church excursion this week, you will see the great demonstration.

A few days ago—the veteran cherry picker, Ed Cook, was stripping the trees at a certain house on Broad street, when a freight train stopped in front of the place and several dozen "knights of the road" jumped off and swarming up the trees relieved Mr. Cook of any further trouble. As the train whistled down the track, the cherry picker, Ed Cook, was relieved of any further trouble. As the train whistled down the track, the cherry picker, Ed Cook, was relieved of any further trouble.

Rahway 25 Years Ago

Good fellowship reigned supreme last night at the banquet held by Franklin Hose Company, No. 2, in honor of the company's ex-servicemen and the installation of the up-town motor engine. Six of the eight service men were present—Walter and Philip Sullivan, Charles and Paul Ford, James O'Donnell and William Brannan. Frank Clark and J. C. Williams, former members, now reside out of the city.

Old Bull Ever True

If you like to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long long hike
You'll only find what you left behind.
For there's nothing that's really new
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town
It isn't the town—it's you.

Real towns aren't made by men afraid
Lest somebody else gets ahead
When everyone works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.
And if while you make your personal stake
Your neighbors can make one too,
Your town will be what you want it to be
It isn't the town—it's you.

Rahway 10 Years Ago

Seymour Williams, of Central avenue, received a signal honor this week when Governor Morgan F. Larsen appointed him a member of the State Board of Architects.
An attractive field house has been completed this week on Central avenue at Riverside Park at the cost of $15,000. It is expected the Board of Education will inspect the building and accept it at the regular session of the Board on Tuesday.

25 tables of Bridge, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rahway Hospital, were played on the lawn of the Frank Stillman home, 115 Elm avenue. The huge success of the affair will greatly increase the welfare fund.

Rahway 10 Years Ago

Frederick A. C. Brooks, Rahway's former mayor, led the action to have the county take over Midway avenue from Main street to Route 27. The action was taken yesterday and already plans are underway for the paving.

Clarence A. Ward, local attorney, was appointed County Attorney for a three year term. He has been assistant since March.

Catherine Reed, Kathleen Cone, Aisha M. Givran and Miss Minnie Sorensen are the Rahway June Brides of the week.

Miss Celia Osborn of 103 West Milton avenue, is retiring from the teaching profession after 50 years. She is a lifelong resident of Rahway, graduated from Rahway High School and Trenton Normal. She has taught in Elizabeth for a number of years previous to retirement.

At least 500 are planned for at the "Shipwreck Dance" at the Masonic Temple Saturday night under the joint auspices of the Rahway Republican Club and the Rahway Young Republicans. Governor Hoffman has donated a prize for the lucky number waltz to be known as the Governor's Cup.

OLD IDEAS IN MODERN TIMES

If some improvement is suggested for the home town, some people may say that it is too costly, and that such things were not expected formerly and hence are not needed now. The former objection that it is too expensive, may be correct, and communities have to consider whether they can reasonably pay for improvements.

It is a fact that such things were not considered necessary in former days, but is not usually a valid one. The towns that simply stand pat, and are satisfied with the old ways and old facilities, are likely to find themselves left behind by more progressive places. War-time of course has been a hard time to get such improvements made, but war-time will end some day and then there will be sharp competition by communities to improve their facilities. Those that keep up with the game will make the best progress.

UPHOLD WAGES

Employers who in 1914 and 1915 were able to work in working harder these days; moving faster during regular hours and putting in overtime pressure of war emergency.

The new anti-trust law, Streptomycin, was the subject of a conference of nearly a hundred regular churchmen and pharmacologists gathered together by Merck & Co., Inc., at Rahway, on June 20. The informal meeting was for the purpose of discussing preliminary work on this new anti-infective agent, which, it is hoped, will be effective against certain diseases as yet unknown.

The meeting was opened at 10:30 a. m. by Dr. Selman A. Waksman, Professor of Microbiology, Rutgers University, Microbiologist, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. The first paper, "Pharmacology and Toxicology of Streptomycin in Animals," was presented by Dr. Hans Mollath, Director of the Merck Institute for Therapeutic Research. This was followed by "Absorption and Excretion of Streptomycin in Animals," by Dr. H. W. Robinson and "Pharmacology of Streptomycin in Man," by Dr. C. W. Musher.

The closing papers of the morning session discussed the human pharmacology of streptomycin and its absorption and excretion in man. These papers were presented by Dr. H. C. Hinshaw of the Mayo Clinic, Dr. J. W. Hirschfeld of the Wayne University, Department of Surgery, Dr. M. A. Zinzel of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, and Dr. J. W. Adcock, University of Michigan Hospital.

During the afternoon sessions the following specialists discussed the use of streptomycin in local and systemic infections: Dr. Lee Foshay, Cincinnati General Hospital; Dr. H. Reimann, Jefferson Medical College Hospital; Dr. H. P. Phipps, University of Pennsylvania, Harrison Department, Surgical Research; and Dr. W. R. Cannon, Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester, New York. Papers on the applications of streptomycin in wound infections were presented by Dr. J. W. Hirschfeld, Wayne University, Department of Surgery; Dr. S. H. Jones, Columbia University; and Dr. W. L. White, U. S. Naval Hospital, Philadelphia.

A luncheon for the group was held at the Colonia Country Club at 1 p. m. and after the afternoon session, George W. Merck was host to the scientists at a dinner at the Essex Club in Newark.

The Girl Scouts have taken the Army Nurse Corps to their hearts. They are helping recruit members, so that wounded soldiers may have adequate care. In addition they are raising a special campaign for the Seventh War Loan through which the Scouts buy—and sell—War Bonds and Stamps to equip and train Army nurses.

POLICE COURT

Two colored men Thomas Howard, 27, of 88 Lewis street, and Joseph Williams, 40, of 815 Elizabeth street, were fined $15 and costs of $3 each, on a charge of stealing a wrist watch from Carl Birtum, a sailor of the Merchant Marine, Rahway, on May 8. The pair were arraigned before Judge George M. Ragan in the Rahway Police Court Monday night.

The men were discovered by Detectives Rizzo, Eisenberg and Walker following the arrest of Howard on a charge of disorderly conduct made by Mrs. Nellie Randolph, of 1201 Main street. Howard was arrested by Patrolman Charles Brandt.

Not having a driver's license for Harold Conger, of 184 Union place, Blummer Terrell, of 217 Charlton street, Newark, did not deny to Judge Ragan that he might have been speeding. He was arrested by Patrolman Brandt, his Honor let him go after paying a fine of $15 and costs.

Willie Manning, of 1117 Huxson street, Linden, willingly paid a fine of $5 for disorderly conduct. He was arrested by Patrolman Brandt, his Honor let him go after paying a fine of $5 and costs.

Papers on the applications of streptomycin in wound infections were presented by Dr. J. W. Hirschfeld, Wayne University, Department of Surgery; Dr. S. H. Jones, Columbia University; and Dr. W. L. White, U. S. Naval Hospital, Philadelphia.

A luncheon for the group was held at the Colonia Country Club at 1 p. m. and after the afternoon session, George W. Merck was host to the scientists at a dinner at the Essex Club in Newark.

The Girl Scouts have taken the Army Nurse Corps to their hearts. They are helping recruit members, so that wounded soldiers may have adequate care. In addition they are raising a special campaign for the Seventh War Loan through which the Scouts buy—and sell—War Bonds and Stamps to equip and train Army nurses.

able. Congress holds the key. Plenty of good jobs at good pay can develop after the war if new tax laws are prepared now and announced now to take effect the day Japan surrenders.

The new anti-trust law, Streptomycin, was the subject of a conference of nearly a hundred regular churchmen and pharmacologists gathered together by Merck & Co., Inc., at Rahway, on June 20. The informal meeting was for the purpose of discussing preliminary work on this new anti-infective agent, which, it is hoped, will be effective against certain diseases as yet unknown.

The meeting was opened at 10:30 a. m. by Dr. Selman A. Waksman, Professor of Microbiology, Rutgers University, Microbiologist, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. The first paper, "Pharmacology and Toxicology of Streptomycin in Animals," was presented by Dr. Hans Mollath, Director of the Merck Institute for Therapeutic Research. This was followed by "Absorption and Excretion of Streptomycin in Animals," by Dr. H. W. Robinson and "Pharmacology of Streptomycin in Man," by Dr. C. W. Musher.

The closing papers of the morning session discussed the human pharmacology of streptomycin and its absorption and excretion in man. These papers were presented by Dr. H. C. Hinshaw of the Mayo Clinic, Dr. J. W. Hirschfeld of the Wayne University, Department of Surgery, Dr. M. A. Zinzel of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, and Dr. J. W. Adcock, University of Michigan Hospital.

During the afternoon sessions the following specialists discussed the use of streptomycin in local and systemic infections: Dr. Lee Foshay, Cincinnati General Hospital; Dr. H. Reimann, Jefferson Medical College Hospital; Dr. H. P. Phipps, University of Pennsylvania, Harrison Department, Surgical Research; and Dr. W. R. Cannon, Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester, New York. STRETCH YOURSELF FOR THE MIGHTY 7TH WAR LOAN

PACIFIC FIELD, JUNE, 1945—It's still a mighty slugfest between the yellow Jap and Uncle Sam's Army and Navy Boys, as the struggle goes into the last half of the seventh with 136,000,000 Americans getting ready to stretch themselves for the crucial frame.

The Nips, experts in stealing bases, held the edge for the first three innings and it looked for a time like it was going to be a run-away. But Uncle Sam came back in the fourth with a barrage of hits that knocked Tojo out of the box.

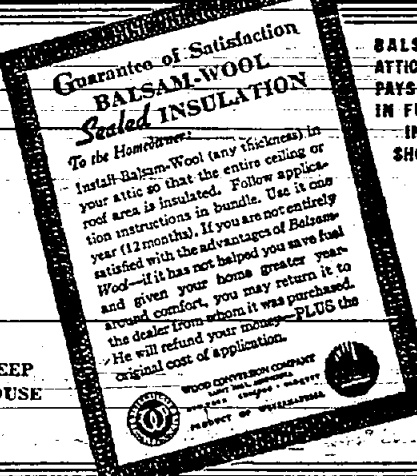

The uneven fight started with the Japs resorting to sneak plays with which they bagged PEARL HARBOR, BATAAN and the ALEUTIANS, in the first, second and third innings, while the Americans were held scoreless.

But Uncle Sam recovered by the first half of the fourth with brilliant work in the outfield, holding the Nips to a scoreless inning. Then in the second half of the fourth a broadside of hits at Midway forced the Japs to take Tojo out of the game.

Stay Close To Home Independence Day

Planning on having yourself a time over the Fourth of July, with more gas, V-E day and all? Don't do it, suggests the National Safety Council. Instead, stay close to home. "It's easy to get away from home," says the council, "and help prevent an avalanche of holiday accidents that would do the knockout blow to the day. With an appeal to 'stay close to home,' the council is asking every citizen to resist the urge to go out. It's a nationwide campaign to avert what won't be long now."

WILL U. WORRY SAYS...

"You'd better get scared!"

"That's right... scared about whether your car will really see you through. Already, it's probably the oldest car you ever owned... with a long way still to go..."

"And summer's extra hard on cars. Heat increases friction wear on moving parts. Batteries often run dry. Tires take a terrible beating..."

"So get a little scared... and see your Esso Dealer right now. Let him put in fresh summer-grade Esso Motor Oil. Let him give you correct summer-protective lubrication. Let him check your battery and tires. Don't risk wear that needs to happen. Protect yourself today..."

Msgr. Lawlor on College Trustees

Msgr. Lawlor Well Known In Education Circles For His Text Books

Election of Rt. Rev. Msgr. William F. Lawlor, superintendent of Newark diocesan schools, to the Board of Trustees of Union Junior College, Cranford, was announced last Friday by Dr. A. L. Johnson, chairman of the board. This expands the board of 12. Pointing out that the college here has provided further education for many graduates of parochial high schools, Dr. Johnson expressed gratification that Monsignor Lawlor has consented to serve. The new trustee has been school superintendent for the Newark archdiocese since 1931. Graduate of Seton Hall College where he also obtained his M.A. degree, Monsignor Lawlor was ordained to the priesthood in 1912. He holds U.S. degrees from both Seton Hall and Villanova College. Catholic School Superintendents for two years and is a member of the general executive committee of the National Catholic Educational Association. Author of geographical texts covering New Jersey and New York, he collaborated in editing textbooks of poetry for elementary school use. The other trustees, in addition to Dr. Johnson, include Dr. M. J. Crossley and Mrs. Anita S. Crossley. Plentifully, Arthur J. Philhower, Westfield; Arthur J. Perry, Rahway; Warren W. Halvey, Springfield; Joseph J. Bascard, Roselle; Dr. Howard P. Best, George S. Sauer, Thomas V. Albert and Henry W. Whipple, Cranford.

Did you ever picture Union County as a wild area where Indians, tribes, roamed—years ago? Many park names—Watkins, Unani, Romasagan, Mattano, Warramoo, and others—belong to tribes or chiefs of tribes that were native to Union County several hundred years ago.
