IN GREEN

In 1872 I again went out in one of the ships of the Royal Greenland Trade, and this time traveled with a boat of a rather novel description—a screw-propelled cance, which was driven by slides worked by the feet. In 1867 we had often been embarrassed by the reludtance of the natives to go where and when we wanted, and our choice lay between paddling our own kayaks (skin canoes) at considerable risk of drowning ourselves, or between being rowed about in a whale-boat by natives, for whom it was necessary to wait until they were in the mood to wait until they were in the mood to travel. I took out the screw propeller to render myself less dependent on their whims, and it answereld the purpose very well, and also proved a great treat to the natives, who are as fond of novelties as any In 1872 I again went out in one o

After a tedious voyage around Disco Island, I was landed with my two natives and two boats at Noursoak, a small settlement which is about 130 miles northwest of Jakobshavn; and, having engaged a sufficient number of people, we made various small journeys round about, and down the Waigat Strait, ascending several mountains on Disco Island and on the mainland, in search of some lofty and isolated summit which should give a commanding view of the interior. But although the mountains on both sides of the strait were considerably loftier than those

MESSES. C. I. HOOD & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
The 6th day of last June I was taken sick with a swelling on my right foot, and with an awful pain. The swelling went all over me. My face was swelled so that I could with difficulty see out of my eyes, and I broke out over the whole surface of my hody; my right foot up to my knee was one raw, itching mass, and my ankle and foot so lame and sore I could not step on it, and it would run so as to wet a handage through in an hour. In this condition Mr. W. F. Hood (of the firm of A. R. Hood & Son, druggists, of this town), handed me a bottle of Hood's SARSAPARILIA, and told me to take it. I did so, and by the time I had taken one bottle I found that it was doing me good. I have since taken five bottles my soreness began to leave me, and I have been growing better every day, so that to-day I can walk without going lame. I have no soreness in my ankle and it has bealed all up, and does not run at all. I owe my recovery to your Sarsaparilia. I write this to let you know that I think it deserves the confidence of the public, especially those who are troubled with humors.

Yours most truly,

Yours most truly,

P. S. Every person that saw me said that never would get over my lameness without having a running sore on my ankle; but thank God I have.

Mr. Frazee said he would like to vote for a resolution covering the ground if he could see his way clear under the law. Mr. McKenzie said he thought Council was a little hasty in passing such a resolution, unless they had intended to pay the interest out of their contingent fund. "I can't vote to pay it, because we haven't the money to pay it with, and I have no inclination to go down to Trenton and keep company with some of the distinguished gentlemen down there." that they have given themselves to Christ.

Haverly's minstrels were at the Opera House Monday night, and being their first appearance in Rahway, were not greeted by a very large audience. The performance was a good one throughout and there are certainly no troupes on the road that are their equals. Their jokes were not the usual old threadbare ones that minstrels are in the habit of getting off, but much of their mirth was well put witticisms on city business, and incidents that have recently occurred in and around Rahway. Haverly's minstrels have made a reputation for themselves here, that should they revisit Rahway, it would be difficult to seat their auditors.

Mr. H. C. Wilson gave the sum of $30

Mr. Cook offered the following.

Rahway, it would be difficult to seat their auditors.

Mr. H. C. Wilson gave the sum of $30 with which to buy an instrument for the member of the Hahway Musical Union who should receive the greatest number of votes, between January 1st and March 1st of the prosent year. The votes were counted last night at the Board room, Terropic Hail by Mr. George Friese, assisted by Joseph Van Pelt, and resulted as follows: Thurst High W.
